The limitation on payments from the state legal expense fund or any policy of insurance procured pursuant to section 105.721 as provided in subsection 7 of this section shall not apply to any claim or judgment arising under subdivision (5) of subsection 2 of this section. Any claim or judgment arising under subdivision (5) of subsection 2 of this section shall be paid by the state legal expense fund or any policy of insurance procured pursuant to section 105.721 to the extent damages are allowed under sections 538.205 to 538.235. Liability or malpractice insurance otherwise obtained and maintained in force shall not be considered available under subsection 7 of this section to pay that portion of a judgment or claim for which the state legal expense fund is liable under subdivision (5) of subsection 2 of this section. However, an attorney may obtain liability or malpractice insurance for coverage of liability claims or judgments based upon legal practice rendered under subdivision (5) of subsection 2 of this section that exceed the amount of liability coverage provided by the state legal expense fund under subdivision (5) of subsection 2 of this section. Even if subdivision (5) of subsection 2 of this section is repealed or amended, the state legal expense fund shall be available for damages that occur while the pertinent subdivision (5) of subsection 2 of this section is in effect.

5. All payments shall be made from the state legal expense fund by the commissioner of administration with the approval of the attorney general. In the case of any claim or judgment against an officer or employee of the state or any agency of the state based upon conduct of such officer or employee arising out of and performed in connection with his or her official duties on behalf of the state or any agency of the state that would give rise to a cause of action under section 537.600, the state legal expense fund shall be liable, excluding punitive damages, for:

- (1) Economic damages to any one claimant; and
- (2) Up to three hundred fifty thousand dollars for noneconomic damages.

The state legal expense fund shall be the exclusive remedy and shall preclude any other civil actions or proceedings for money damages arising out of or relating to the same subject matter against the state officer or employee, or the officer s or employee s estate. No officer or employee of the state or any agency of the state shall be individually liable in his or her personal capacity for conduct of such officer or employee arising out of and performed in connection with his or her official duties on behalf of the state or any agency of the state. 6. The limitation on awards for noneconomic damages provided for in this subsection shall be increased or decreased on an annual basis effective January first of each year in accordance with the Implicit Price Deflator for Personal Consumption Expenditures as published by the Bureau of Economic Analysis of the United States Department of Commerce. The current value of the limitation shall be calculated by the director of the department of insurance, financial institutions and professional registration, who shall furnish that value to the secretary of state, who shall publish such value in the Missouri Register as soon after each January first as practicable, but it shall otherwise be exempt from the provisions of section 536.021.

7. Except as provided in subsection 3 of this section, in the case of any claim or judgment that arises under sections 537.600 and 537.610 against the state of Missouri, or an agency of the state, the aggregate of payments from the state legal expense fund and from any policy of insurance procured pursuant to the provisions of section 105.721 shall not exceed the limits of liability as provided in sections 537.600 to 537.610. No payment shall be made from the state legal expense fund or any policy of insurance procured with state funds pursuant to section 105.721 unless and until the benefits provided to pay the claim by any other policy of liability insurance have been exhausted.

8. The provisions of section 33.080 notwithstanding, any moneys remaining to the credit of the state legal expense fund at the end of an appropriation period shall not be transferred to general revenue.

9. Any rule or portion of a rule, as that term is defined in section 536.010, that is promulgated under the authority delegated in sections 105.711 to 105.726 shall become effective only if it has been promulgated pursuant to the provisions of chapter 536. Nothing in this section shall be interpreted to repeal or affect the validity of any rule filed or adopted prior to August 28, 1999, if it fully complied with the provisions of chapter 536. This section and chapter 536 are nonseverable and if any of the powers vested with the general assembly pursuant to chapter 536 to review, to delay the effective date, or to disapprove and annul a rule are subsequently held unconstitutional, then the grant of rulemaking authority and any rule proposed or adopted after August 28, 1999, shall be invalid and void.”; and

Further amend said bill, Page 2, Section 191.1140, Line 14, by inserting after all of said line the following:

“192.769. 1. On completion of a mammogram, a mammography facility certified by the United States Food and Drug Administration (FDA) or by a certification agency approved by the FDA shall provide to the patient the following notice:

“If your mammogram demonstrates that you have dense breast tissue, which could hide abnormalities, and you have other risk factors for breast cancer that have been identified, you might benefit from supplemental screening tests that may be suggested by your ordering physician. Dense breast tissue, in and of itself, is a relatively common condition. Therefore, this information is not provided to cause undue concern, but rather to raise your awareness and to promote discussion with your physician regarding the presence of other risk factors, in addition to dense breast tissue. A report of your mammography results will be sent to you and your physician. You should contact your physician if you have any questions or concerns regarding this report.”

2. Nothing in this section shall be construed to create a duty of care beyond the duty to provide notice as set forth in this section.

3. The information required by this section or evidence that a person violated this section is not admissible in a civil, judicial, or administrative proceeding.

4. A mammography facility is not required to comply with the requirements of this section until January 1, 2015.”; and

- (7) The milk is obtained from a donor human milk bank that meets the quality guidelines established by the department.

2. An electronic web-based prior authorization system using the best medical evidence and care and treatment guidelines consistent with national standards shall be used to verify medical need.

3. The department shall promulgate rules for the implementation of this section, including setting forth rules for the required documentation by the physician and the informed consent to be provided to and signed by the parent or guardian of the participant. Any rule or portion of a rule, as that term is defined in section 536.010, that is created under the authority delegated in this section shall become effective only if it complies with and is subject to all of the provisions of chapter 536, and, if applicable, section 536.028. This section and chapter 536, are nonseverable, and if any of the powers vested with the general assembly under chapter 536, to review, to delay the effective date, or to disapprove and annul a rule are subsequently held unconstitutional, then the grant of rulemaking authority and any rule proposed or adopted after August 28, 2014, shall be invalid and void.”; and Further amend said title, enacting clause and intersectional references accordingly.

In which the concurrence of the Senate is respectfully requested.

The railroad or railroad corporation shall have thirty days from the receipt of the notice to review and approve or reject the proposed crossing. The railroad or railroad corporation shall reject a proposed crossing only if special circumstances exist. If the railroad or railroad corporation rejects a proposed crossing, the utility may submit an amended proposal for a crossing. The railroad or railroad corporation shall have an additional thirty days from receipt of the amended proposal to review and approve or reject the amended crossing proposal. The railroad or railroad corporation shall not unreasonably withhold approval. Once the railroad or railroad corporation grants such approval, and upon payment of the fee and any other payments authorized pursuant to sections 389.586 or 389.587, the utility shall be deemed to have authorization to commence the crossing activity. The utility shall provide the railroad or railroad corporation with written notification of the commencement of the crossing activity before beginning such activity.

2. The land management company and the utility shall maintain and repair its own property within the land management corridor and each shall bear responsibility for its own acts and omissions, except that the utility shall be responsible for any bodily injury or property damage arising from the installation, maintenance, repair and its use of the crossing. The railroad or railroad corporation may require the utility and the land management company to obtain reasonable amounts of comprehensive general liability insurance and railroad protective liability insurance coverage for a crossing, and that this insurance coverage name the railroad or railroad corporation as an insured. Further, the land management company and the utility shall provide the railroad or railroad corporation with proof that they have liability insurance coverage which meets such requirements, if any.

3. A utility shall have immediate access to a crossing for repair and maintenance of existing facilities in case of an immediate threat to life and upon notification to the applicable railroad or railroad corporation. Before commencing any such work, the utility must first contact the railroad or railroad corporation's dispatch center, command center or other facility which is designated to receive emergency communications.

The engineering specifications shall comply with the clearance requirements as established by the National Electrical Safety Code, the American Railway Engineering and Maintenance of Way Association and the standards of the applicable railroad or railroad corporation which are in effect and which apply to conditions at a particular crossing. The land management company and utility shall further be responsible for any modifications, upgrades or other changes which may be needed to comply with changes in said standards.

5. The utility, the railroad or railroad corporation, and the land management company shall agree to such other terms and conditions as may be necessary to provide for reasonable use of a land management corridor by a utility.]

that locates its facilities within the railroad right-of-way for a crossing, other than a crossing along a state highway or other public road, shall pay the land management company a one-time standard crossing fee of one thousand five hundred dollars for each crossing plus the costs associated with modifications to existing insurance contracts of the land management company. The standard crossing fee shall be in lieu of any license, permit, application, plan review, or any other fees or charges to reimburse the land management company for the direct expenses incurred by the land management company as a result of the crossing. The utility shall also reimburse the land management company for any actual flagging expenses associated with a crossing in addition to the standard crossing fee. The railroad or railroad corporation has the right to halt work at the crossing if the flagging does not meet the standards of the railroad or railroad corporation. Nothing in this section is intended to otherwise restrict or limit any authority or right a utility may have to locate facilities at a crossing along a state highway or any other public road or to otherwise enter upon lands where authorized by law.]

[389.588. 1. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 389.586, nothing shall prevent a land management company and a utility from otherwise negotiating the terms and conditions applicable to a crossing or the resolution of any disputes relating to the crossing so long as they do not interfere with the rights of a railroad or railroad corporation. No agreement between a land management company and a utility shall affect the rights, interests or operations of a railroad or railroad corporation.

2. Notwithstanding subsection 1 of this section, the provisions of this section shall not impair the authority of a utility to secure crossing rights by easement pursuant to the exercise of the power of eminent domain.]

[389.589. 1. If the parties cannot agree that special circumstances exist, the dispute shall be submitted to binding arbitration.

2. Either party may give written notice to the other party of the commencement of a binding arbitration proceeding in accordance with the commercial rules of arbitration in the American Arbitration Association. Any decision by the board of arbitration shall be final, binding and conclusive as to the parties. Nothing provided in this section shall prevent either party from submission of disputes to the courts. Land management companies and utilities may seek enforcement of sections 389.586 through 389.591 in a court of proper jurisdiction and shall be entitled to reasonable attorney fees if they prevail.

3. If the dispute over special circumstances concerns only the compensation associated with a crossing, then the utility may proceed with installation of the crossing during the pendency of the arbitration.]

[389.591. 1. Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, sections 389.585 to 389.591 shall apply in all crossings of land management corridors involving a land management company and a utility and shall govern in the event of any conflict with any other provision of law, except that sections 389.585 to 389.591 shall not override or nullify the condemnation laws of this state nor confer the power of eminent domain on any entity not granted such power prior to August 28, 2013.

2. The provisions of sections 389.585 to 389.591 shall apply to a crossing commenced after August 28, 2013. These provisions shall also apply to a crossing commenced before August 28, 2013, but only upon the expiration or termination of the agreement for such crossing.]"; and Further amend the title and enacting clause accordingly.

(1) “Affordability”, with respect to payment of a utility bill, a measure of whether an individual customer or household with an income equal to the lower of the median household income for their community or the state of Missouri can pay the bill without undue hardship or unreasonable sacrifice in the essential lifestyle or spending patterns of the individual or household, taking into consideration the criteria described in subsection 4 of this section;

(2) “Financial capability”, the financial capability of a community to make investments necessary to make water quality-related improvements;

(3) “Finding of affordability”, a department statement as to whether an individual or a household receiving as income an amount equal to the lower of the median household income for the applicant community or the state of Missouri would be required to make unreasonable sacrifices in their essential lifestyle or spending patterns or undergo hardships in order to make the projected monthly payments for sewer services. The department shall make a statement that the proposed changes meet the definition of affordable, or fail to meet the definition of affordable, or are implemented as a federal mandate regardless of affordability.

4. The department of natural resources shall adopt procedures by which it will make affordability findings that evaluate the affordability of permit requirements and enforcement actions described in subsection 1 of this section, and may begin implementing such procedures prior to promulgating implementing regulations. The commission shall have the authority to promulgate rules to implement this section pursuant to chapters 536 and 644, and shall promulgate such rules as soon as practicable. Affordability findings shall be based upon reasonably verifiable data and shall include an assessment of affordability with respect to persons or entities affected.

The department shall offer the permittee an opportunity to review a draft affordability finding, and the permittee may suggest changes and provide additional supporting information, subject to subsection 6 of this section. The finding shall be based upon the following criteria:

(1) A community's financial capability and ability to raise or secure necessary funding;

(2) Affordability of pollution control options for the individuals or households at or below the median household income level of the community;

(3) An evaluation of the overall costs and environmental benefits of the control technologies;

(4) Inclusion of ongoing costs of operating and maintaining the existing wastewater collection and treatment system, including payments on outstanding debts for wastewater collection and treatment systems when calculating projected rates;

(5) An inclusion of ways to reduce economic impacts on distressed populations in the community, including but not limited to low- and fixed-income populations. This requirement includes but is not limited to:

(a) Allowing adequate time in implementation schedules to mitigate potential adverse impacts on distressed populations resulting from the costs of the improvements and taking into consideration local community economic considerations; and

(b) Allowing for reasonable accommodations for regulated entities when inflexible standards and fines would impose a disproportionate financial hardship in light of the environmental benefits to be gained;

[(5)] (6) An assessment of other community investments and operating costs relating to environmental improvements and public health protection;

[(6)] (7) An assessment of factors set forth in the United States Environmental Protection Agency's guidance, including but not limited to the "Combined Sewer Overflow Guidance for Financial Capability Assessment and Schedule Development" that may ease the cost burdens of implementing wet weather control plans, including but not limited to small system considerations, the attainability of water quality standards, and the development of wet weather standards; and [(7)] (8) An assessment of any other relevant local community economic condition.

5. Prescriptive formulas and measures used in determining financial capability, affordability, and thresholds for expenditure, such as median household income, should not be considered to be the only indicator of a community's ability to implement control technology and shall be viewed in the context of other economic conditions rather than as a threshold to be achieved.

6. Reasonable time spent preparing draft affordability findings, allowing permittees to review draft affordability findings or draft permits, or revising draft affordability findings, shall be allowed in addition to the department's deadlines for making permitting decisions pursuant to section 644.051.

7. If the department of natural resources fails to make a finding of affordability where required by this section, then the resulting permit or decision shall be null, void and unenforceable.

8. The department of natural resources' findings under this section may be appealed to the commission pursuant to subsection 6 of section 644.051.

9. The department shall file an annual report by the beginning of the fiscal year with the governor, the speaker of the house of representatives, the president pro tempore of the senate, and the chairs of the committees in both houses having primary jurisdiction over natural resource issues showing at least the following information on the findings of affordability completed in the previous calendar year:

(1) The total number of findings of affordability issued by the department, those categorized as affordable, those categorized as not meeting the definition of affordable, and those implemented as a federal mandate regardless of affordability;

(2) The average increase in sewer rates both in dollars and percentage for all findings found to be affordable;

(3) The average increase in sewer rates as a percentage of median house income in the communities for those findings determined to be affordable and a separate calculation of average increases in sewer rates for those found not to meet the definition of affordable;

(4) A list of all the permit holders receiving findings, and for each permittee the following data taken from the finding of affordability shall be listed:

(a) Current and projected monthly residential sewer rates in dollars;

(b) Projected monthly residential sewer rates as a percentage of median house income;

(c) Percentage of households at or below the state poverty rate.”; and

Further amend said bill by amending the title, enacting clause, and intersectional references accordingly. Emergency clause defeated.

In which the concurrence of the Senate is respectfully requested.

“143.451. 1. Missouri taxable income of a corporation shall include all income derived from sources within this state.

2. A corporation described in subdivision (1) of subsection 1 of section 143.441 shall include in its Missouri taxable income all income from sources within this state, including that from the transaction of business in this state and that from the transaction of business partly done in this state and partly done in another state or states. However:

(1) Where income results from a transaction partially in this state and partially in another state or states, and income and deductions of the portion in the state cannot be segregated, then such portions of income and deductions shall be allocated in this state and the other state or states as will distribute to this state a portion based upon the portion of the transaction in this state and the portion in such other state or states.

(2) The taxpayer may elect to compute the portion of income from all sources in this state in the following manner, or the manner set forth in subdivision (3) of this subsection:

(a) The income from all sources shall be determined as provided, excluding therefrom the figures for the operation of any bridge connecting this state with another state.

(b) The amount of sales which are transactions wholly in this state shall be added to one-half of the amount of sales which are transactions partly within this state and partly without this state, and the amount thus obtained shall be divided by the total sales or in cases where sales do not express the volume of business, the amount of business transacted wholly in this state shall be added to one-half of the amount of business transacted partly in this state and partly outside this state and the amount thus obtained shall be divided by the total amount of business transacted, and the net income shall be multiplied by the fraction thus obtained, to determine the proportion of income to be used to arrive at the amount of Missouri taxable income. The investment or reinvestment of its own funds, or sale of any such investment or reinvestment, shall not be considered as sales or other business transacted for the determination of said fraction.

(c) For the purposes of this subdivision, a transaction involving the sale of tangible property is:

a. “Wholly in this state” if both the seller’s shipping point and the purchaser’s destination point are in this state;

b. “Partly within this state and partly without this state” if the seller’s shipping point is in this state and the purchaser’s destination point is outside this state, or the seller’s shipping point is outside this state and the purchaser’s destination point is in this state;

c. Not “wholly in this state” or not “partly within this state and partly without this state” only if both the seller’s shipping point and the purchaser’s destination point are outside this state.

(d) For purposes of this subdivision:

a. The purchaser’s destination point shall be determined without regard to the FOB point or other conditions of the sale; and

b. The seller’s shipping point is determined without regard to the location of the seller’s principle office or place of business.

(3) The taxpayer may elect to compute the portion of income from all sources in this state in the following manner:

(a) The income from all sources shall be determined as provided, excluding therefrom the figures for the operation of any bridge connecting this state with another state;

(b) The amount of sales which are transactions in this state shall be divided by the total sales, and the net income shall be multiplied by the fraction thus obtained, to determine the proportion of income to be used to arrive at the amount of Missouri taxable income. The investment or reinvestment of its own funds, or sale of any such investment or reinvestment, shall not be considered as sales or other business transacted for the determination of said fraction;

(c) For the purposes of this subdivision, a transaction involving the sale of tangible property is:

a. “In this state” if the purchaser’s destination point is in this state;

b. Not “in this state” if the purchaser’s destination point is outside this state;

(d) For purposes of this subdivision, the purchaser’s destination point shall be determined without regard to the FOB point or other conditions of the sale and shall not be in this state if the purchaser received the tangible personal property from the seller in this state for delivery to the purchaser’s location outside this state;

(e) For the purposes of this subdivision, a transaction involving the sale other than the sale of tangible property is “in this state” if the taxpayer’s market for the sales is in this state. The taxpayer’s market for sales is in this state:

a. In the case of sale, rental, lease, or license of real property, if and to the extent the property is located in this state;

b. In the case of rental, lease, or license of tangible personal property, if and to the extent the property is located in this state;

c. In the case of sale of a service, if and to the extent the benefit of the service is delivered to a purchaser location in this state; and

In the case of an open end company, such service of underwriting or selling shares must be performed pursuant to a contract entered into pursuant to 15 U.S.C. Section 80a-15(b), as from time to time amended;

(d) “Investment company”, any person registered under the federal Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended from time to time, (the act) or a company which would be required to register as an investment company under the act except that such person is exempt to such registration pursuant to Section 80a-3(c)(1) of the act;

(e) “Investment funds service corporation” includes any corporation or S corporation doing business in the state which derives more than fifty percent of its gross income in the ordinary course of business from the provision directly or indirectly of management, distribution or administration services to or on behalf of an investment company or from trustees, sponsors and participants of employee benefit plans which have accounts in an investment company. An investment funds service corporation shall include any corporation or S corporation providing management services as an investment advisory firm registered under Section 203 of the Investment Advisors Act of 1940, as amended from time to time, regardless of the percentage of gross revenues consisting of fees from management services provided to or on behalf of an investment company; are to be made on behalf of the investment company, or the selling or purchasing of securities constituting assets of an investment company, and related activities, but only where such activity or activities are performed:

For purposes of this section, “gross income” is defined as that amount of income earned from qualifying sources without deduction of expenses related to the generation of such income;

(h) “Residence”, presumptively the fund shareholder’s mailing address on the records of the investment company. If, however, the investment company or the investment funds service corporation has actual knowledge that the fund shareholder’s primary residence or principal place of business is different than the fund shareholder’s mailing address such presumption shall not control. To the extent an investment funds service corporation does not have access to the records of the investment company, the investment funds service corporation may employ reasonable methods to determine the investment company fund shareholder’s residence.

(5) Notwithstanding other provisions of law to the contrary, qualifying sales of an investment funds service corporation, or S corporation, shall be considered wholly in this state only to the extent that the fund shareholders of the investment companies, to which the investment funds service corporation, or S corporation, provide services, are resided in this state. Wholly in this state qualifying sales of an investment funds service corporation, or S corporation, shall be determined as follows:

(a) By multiplying the investment funds service corporation’s total dollar amount of qualifying sales from services provided to each investment company by a fraction, the numerator of which shall be the average of the number of shares owned by the investment company’s fund shareholders resided in this state at the beginning of and at the end of the investment company’s taxable year that ends with or within the investment funds service corporation’s taxable year, and the denominator of which shall be the average of the number of shares owned by the investment company’s fund shareholders everywhere at the beginning of and at the end of the investment company’s taxable year that ends with or within the investment funds service corporation’s taxable year;

(b) A separate computation shall be made to determine the wholly in this state qualifying sales from each investment company. The qualifying sales for each investment company shall be multiplied by the respective percentage of each fund, as calculated pursuant to paragraph (a) of this subdivision. The product of this equation shall result in the wholly in this state qualifying sales. The qualifying sales for each investment company which are not wholly in this state will be considered wholly without this state;

(c) To the extent an investment funds service corporation has sales which are not qualifying sales, those nonqualified sales shall be apportioned to this state based on the methodology utilized by the investment funds service corporation without regard to this subdivision.

3. Any corporation described in subdivision (1) of subsection 1 of section 143.441 organized in this state or granted a permit to operate in this state for the transportation or care of passengers shall report its gross earnings within the state on intrastate business and shall also report its gross earnings on all interstate business done in this state which report shall be subject to inquiry for the purpose of determining the amount of income to be included in Missouri taxable income. The previous sentence shall not apply to a railroad.

4. A corporation described in subdivision (2) of subsection 1 of section 143.441 shall include in its Missouri taxable income all income arising from all sources in this state and all income from each transportation service wholly within this state, from each service where the only lines of such corporation used are those in this state, and such proportion of revenue from each service where the facilities of such corporation in this state and in another state or states are used, as the mileage used over the lines of such corporation in the state shall bear to the total mileage used over the lines of such corporation. The taxpayer may elect to compute the portion of income from all sources within this state in the following manner:

(1) The income from all sources shall be determined as provided;

(2) The amount of investment of such corporation on December thirty-first of each year in this state in fixed transportation facilities, real estate and improvements, plus the value on December thirty-first of each year of any fixed transportation facilities, real estate and improvements in this state leased from any other railroad shall be divided by the sum of the total amount of investment of such corporation on December thirty-first of each year in fixed transportation facilities, real estate and improvements, plus the value on December thirty-first of each year, of any fixed transportation facilities, real estate and improvements leased from any other railroad. Where any fixed transportation facilities, real estate or improvements are leased by more than one railroad, such portion of the value shall be used by each railroad as the rental paid by each shall bear to the rental paid by all lessees. The income shall be multiplied by the fraction thus obtained to determine the proportion to be used to arrive at the amount of Missouri taxable income.

5. A corporation described in subdivision (3) of subsection 1 of section 143.441 shall include in its Missouri taxable income one-half of the net income from the operation of a bridge between this and another state. If any such bridge is owned or operated by a railroad corporation or corporations, or by a corporation owning a railroad corporation using such bridge, then the figures for operation of such bridge may be included in the return of such railroad or railroads; or if such bridge is owned or operated by any other corporation which may now or hereafter be required to file an income tax return, one-half of the income or loss to such corporation from such bridge may be included in such return by adding or subtracting same to or from another net income or loss shown by the return.

6. A corporation described in subdivision (4) of subsection 1 of section 143.441 shall include in its Missouri taxable income all income arising from all sources within this state. Income shall include revenue from each telephonic or telegraphic service rendered wholly within this state; from each service rendered for which the only facilities of such corporation used are those in this state; and from each service rendered over the facilities of such corporation in this state and in other state or states, such proportion of such revenue as the mileage involved in this state shall bear to the total mileage involved over the lines of said company in all states. The taxpayer may elect to compute the portion of income from all sources within this state in the following manner:

(1) The income from all sources shall be determined as provided;

(2) The amount of investment of such corporation on December thirty-first of each year in this state in telephonic or telegraphic facilities, real estate and improvements thereon, shall be divided by the amount of the total investment of such corporation on December thirty-first of each year in telephonic or telegraphic facilities, real estate and improvements. The income of the taxpayer shall be multiplied by fraction thus obtained to determine the proportion to be used to arrive at the amount of Missouri taxable income.

7. From the income determined in subsections 2, 3, 4, 5 and 6 of this section to be from all sources within this state shall be deducted such of the deductions for expenses in determining Missouri taxable income as were incurred in this state to produce such income and all losses actually sustained in this state in the business of the corporation.

8. If a corporation derives only part of its income from sources within Missouri, its Missouri taxable income shall only reflect the effect of the following listed deductions to the extent applicable to Missouri. The deductions are: (a) its deduction for federal income taxes pursuant to section 143.171, and (b) the effect on Missouri taxable income of the deduction for net operating loss allowed by Section 172 of the Internal Revenue Code. The extent applicable to Missouri shall be determined by multiplying the amount that would otherwise affect Missouri taxable income by the ratio for the year of the Missouri taxable income of the corporation for the year divided by the Missouri taxable income for the year as though the corporation had derived all of its income from sources within Missouri. For the purpose of the preceding sentence, Missouri taxable income shall not reflect the listed deductions.

9. Any investment funds service corporation organized as a corporation or S corporation which has any shareholders resided in this state shall be subject to Missouri income tax as provided in this chapter.”; and

If the proposal receives less than the required majority, the commission shall have no power to impose the sales tax authorized pursuant to this section unless and until the commission shall again have submitted another proposal to authorize the commission to impose the sales tax authorized by this section and such proposal is approved by the required majority of the qualified voters of the district voting on such proposal; however, in no event shall a proposal pursuant to this section be submitted to the voters sooner than twelve months from the date of the last submission of a proposal pursuant to this section.

SECOND REGULAR SESSION

SEVENTIETH DAY—FRIDAY, MAY 16, 2014

The Senate met pursuant to adjournment.

“I expect to pass through this world but once. Any good, therefore, that I can do or any kindness that I can show to any fellow creature let me do it now. Let me not defer it nor neglect it, for I shall not pass this way again.” (French saying)

Wondrous God, we have been motivated this week, this whole session, to do what is required of us, realizing it must be done now. We acknowledge that our efforts, whether completed or not, come to an end this day. So as we complete this final day grant us wisdom and perseverance, energy and caring in our final eight hours together. For our work this session, we give You thanks for walking with us and guiding our efforts. We give You thanks for those who have served with us and those who have worked so faithfully for us to accomplish all that has been done here. For this we give You thanks and praise. In Your Holy Name we pray. Amen.

HOUSE AMENDMENT NO. 1

Amend House Committee Substitute for Senate Substitute for Senate Bill No. 869, Pages 4 through 5, Section 210.027, Lines 1 through 38, by deleting all of said lines and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

“210.027. 1. For child-care providers who receive state or federal funds for providing child-care [services in the home] fee assistance, either by direct payment or through reimbursement to a child-care beneficiary, the department of social services shall:

(1) Establish publicly available website access to provider-specific information about any health and safety licensing or regulatory requirements for the providers, and including dates of inspections, history of violations, and compliance actions taken, as well as the consumer education information required under subdivision (12) of this section;

(2) Establish or designate one hotline for parents to submit complaints about child care providers;

(3) Be authorized to revoke the registration of a registered provider for due cause;

[2] (4) Require providers to be at least eighteen years of age;

[3] (5) Establish minimum requirements for building and physical premises to include:

(a) Compliance with state and local fire, health, and building codes, which shall include the ability to evacuate children in the case of an emergency; and

(b) Emergency preparedness and response planning.

Child care providers shall meet these minimum requirements prior to receiving federal assistance. Where there are no local ordinances or regulations regarding smoke detectors, the department shall require providers, by rule, to install and maintain an adequate number of smoke detectors in the residence or other building where child care is provided;

[(4)] (6) Require providers to be tested for tuberculosis on the schedule required for employees in licensed facilities;

[(5)] (7) Require providers to notify parents if the provider does not have immediate access to a telephone;

[(6)] (8) Make providers aware of local opportunities for training in first aid and child care;

(9) Promulgate rules and regulations to define pre-service training requirements for child care providers and employees pursuant to applicable federal laws and regulations;

(10) Establish procedures for conducting unscheduled onsite monitoring of child care providers prior to receiving state or federal funds for providing child care services either by direct payment or through reimbursement to a child care beneficiary, and annually thereafter;

(11) Require child care providers who receive assistance under applicable federal laws and regulations to report to the department any serious injuries or death of children occurring in child care; and

(12) With input from statewide stakeholders such as parents, child care providers or administrators, and system advocate group, establish a transparent system of quality indicators appropriate to the provider setting that shall provide parents with a way to differentiate between child care providers available in their communities as required by federal rules. The system shall describe the standards used to assess the quality of child care providers. The system shall indicate whether the provider meets Missouri's registration or licensing standards, is in compliance with applicable health and safety requirements, and the nature of any violations related to registration or licensing requirements. The system shall also indicate if the provider utilizes curricula and if the provider is in compliance with staff educational requirements. Such system of quality indicators established under this subdivision with the input from stakeholders shall be promulgated by rules. Any rule or portion of a rule, as that term is defined in section 536.010 that is created under the authority delegated in this section shall become effective only if it complies with and is subject to all of the provisions of chapter 536, and, if applicable, section 536.028. This section and chapter 536 are nonseverable and if any of the powers vested with the general assembly pursuant to chapter 536, to review, to delay the effective date, or to disapprove and annul a rule are subsequently held unconstitutional, then the grant of rulemaking authority and any rule proposed or adopted after August 28, 2014, shall be invalid and void. This subdivision shall not be construed as authorizing the operation, establishment, maintenance, or mandating or offering of incentives to participate in a quality rating system under section 161.216.

2. No state agency shall enforce the provisions of this section until October 1, 2015, or six months after the implementation of federal regulations mandating such provisions, whichever is later.”; and

Further amend said bill, Page 16, Section 210.183, Line 42, by inserting after all of said line the following:

“210.211. 1. It shall be unlawful for any person to establish, maintain or operate a child-care facility for children, or to advertise or hold himself or herself out as being able to perform any of the services as defined in section 210.201, without having in effect a written license granted by the department of health and senior services; except that nothing in sections 210.203 to 210.245 shall apply to:

(1) Any person who is caring for four or fewer children. For purposes of this subdivision, children who are related by blood, marriage or adoption to such person within the third degree shall not be considered in the total number of children being cared for;

(2) Any person who has been duly appointed by a court of competent jurisdiction the guardian of the person of the child or children, or the person who has legal custody of the child or children;

(3) Any person who receives free of charge, and not as a business, for periods not exceeding ninety consecutive days, as bona fide, occasional and personal guests the child or children of personal friends of such person, and who receives custody of no other unrelated child or children;

(4) Any graded boarding school, summer camp, hospital, sanitarium or home which is conducted in good faith primarily to provide education, recreation, medical treatment, or nursing or convalescent care for children;

(5) Any child-care facility maintained or operated under the exclusive control of a religious organization. When a nonreligious organization, having as its principal purpose the provision of child-care services, enters into an arrangement with a religious organization for the maintenance or operation of a child-care facility, the facility is not under the exclusive control of the religious organization;

(6) Any residential facility or day program licensed by the department of mental health pursuant to sections 630.705 to 630.760 which provides care, treatment and habilitation exclusively to children who have a primary diagnosis of mental disorder, mental illness, mental retardation or developmental disability, as defined in section 630.005; and

(7) Any nursery school.

2. Notwithstanding the provisions of subsection 1 of this section, no child-care facility shall be exempt from licensure if such facility receives any state or federal funds for providing care for children, except for federal funds for those programs which meet the requirements for participation in the Child and Adult Care Food Program pursuant to 42 U.S.C. 1766. Grants to parents for child care pursuant to sections 210.201 to 210.257 shall not be construed to be funds received by a person or facility listed in subdivisions (1) and (5) of subsection 1 of this section.

3. Any child care facility not exempt from licensure shall disclose the licensure status of the facility to the parents or guardians of children for which the facility provides care. No child care facility exempt from licensure shall represent to any parent or guardian of children for which the facility provides care that the facility is licensed when such facility is in fact not licensed.

4. Any in-home licensed child care facility that is organized as a corporation, association, firm, partnership, proprietorship, limited liability company, or any other type of business entity in this state shall qualify for the exemption for related children for children who are related to the member of the corporation, association, firm, partnership, proprietorship, limited liability company, or other type of business entity who is responsible for the daily operation of the child care facility and who meets the requirements of the child care provider. If more than one member of the corporation, association, firm, partnership, proprietorship, limited liability company, or other type of business entity is responsible for the daily operation of the child care facility, the exemption for related children shall only be granted for children who are related to one of the members. All child care facilities under this subsection shall disclose the licensure status of the facility to the parents or guardians of children for which the facility provides care. A parent or guardian shall sign a written notice indicating he or she is aware of the licensure status of the facility. The facility shall keep a copy of this signed written notice on file. All child care facilities shall provide the parent or guardian enrolling a child in the facility with a written explanation of the disciplinary philosophy and policies of the child care facility.

211.171. 1. The procedure to be followed at the hearing shall be determined by the juvenile court judge and may be as formal or informal as he or she considers desirable, consistent with constitutional and statutory requirements. The judge may take testimony and inquire into the habits, surroundings, conditions and tendencies of the child and the family to enable the court to render such order or judgment as will best promote the welfare of the child and carry out the objectives of this chapter.

2. The hearing may, in the discretion of the court, proceed in the absence of the child and may be adjourned from time to time.

3. The current foster parents of a child, or any preadoptive parent or relative currently providing care for the child, shall be provided with notice of, and an opportunity to be heard in, any hearing to be held with respect to the child, and a foster parent shall have standing to participate in all court hearings pertaining to a child in their care. [This subsection shall not be construed to require that any such foster parent, preadoptive parent or relative providing care for a child be made a party to the case solely on the basis of such notice and opportunity to be heard.]

4. All cases of children shall be heard separately from the trial of cases against adults.

5. Stenographic notes or an authorized recording of the hearing shall be required if the court so orders or, if requested by any party interested in the proceeding.

6. The general public shall be excluded and only such persons admitted as have a direct interest in the case or in the work of the court except in cases where the child is accused of conduct which, if committed by an adult, would be considered a class A or B felony; or for conduct which would be considered a class C felony, if the child has previously been formally adjudicated for the commission of two or more unrelated acts which would have been class A, B or C felonies, if committed by an adult.

7. The practice and procedure customary in proceedings in equity shall govern all proceedings in the juvenile court; except that, the court shall not grant a continuance in such proceedings absent compelling extenuating circumstances, and in such cases, the court shall make written findings on the record detailing the specific reasons for granting a continuance.

8. The court shall allow the victim of any offense to submit a written statement to the court. The court shall allow the victim to appear before the court personally or by counsel for the purpose of making a statement, unless the court finds that the presence of the victim would not serve justice. The statement shall relate solely to the facts of the case and any personal injuries or financial loss incurred by the victim. A member of the immediate family of the victim may appear personally or by counsel to make a statement if the victim has died or is otherwise unable to appear as a result of the offense committed by the child.”; and

Further amend said bill, Page 19, Section 453.074, Line 19, by inserting after all of said line the following:

“Section B. The repeal and reenactment of section 210.027 shall become effective upon the department of health and senior services providing notice to the revisor of statutes that the implementation of federal regulations mandating such provisions has occurred.”; and

Further amend said bill by amending the title, enacting clause, and intersectional references accordingly.

HOUSE AMENDMENT NO. 2

Amend House Committee Substitute for Senate Substitute for Senate Bill No. 869, Page 4, Section 37.710, Line 45, by inserting after all of said section and line the following:

“105.271. 1. [An] A foster or adoptive parent who is employed by the state of Missouri, its departments, agencies, or political subdivisions, may use his or her accrued sick leave, annual leave, or the same leave without pay granted to biological parents to take time off for purposes of arranging for the foster or adopted child’s placement or caring for the child after placement. The employer shall not penalize an employee for requesting or obtaining time off according to this section.

2. The state of Missouri, its departments, and agencies shall, and political subdivisions may, provide for a leave sharing program to permit its employees to donate annual leave, overtime, or compensatory time to an employee who is arranging for a foster or adopted child’s placement or caring for the child after placement, which has caused or is likely to cause such employee to take leave without pay or to terminate employment. Such donated annual leave, overtime, or compensatory time may be transferable between employees in different departments, agencies, or political subdivisions of the state, with the agreement of the chief administrative officers of such departments, agencies, or political subdivisions.

3. Any donated annual leave, overtime, or compensatory time authorized under this section shall only be used by the recipient employee for purposes of arranging for the foster or adopted child’s placement or caring for the child after placement. Nothing in this section shall be construed as prohibiting a leave sharing program for other purposes.

4. All forms of paid leave available for use by the recipient employee shall be used prior to using donated annual leave, overtime, or compensatory time.

5. All donated annual leave, overtime, or compensatory time shall be given voluntarily. No employee shall be coerced, threatened, intimidated, or financially induced into donating annual leave, overtime, or compensatory time for purposes of the leave sharing program.

6. For purposes of this section, the phrase “foster or adoptive parent” refers to both those pursuing to foster or adopt a child and those who have a foster or adopted child placed in the home. The phrase “for purposes of arranging for the foster or adopted child’s placement or caring for the child after placement” includes, but is not limited to:

(1) Appointments with state officials, child placing agencies, social workers, health professionals, or attorneys;

(2) Court proceedings;

(3) Required travel;

(4) Training and licensure as a foster parent;

(5) Any periods of time during which foster or adoptive parents are ordered or required by the state, a child placing agency, or by a court to take time off from work to care for the foster or adopted child; or

(6) Any other activities necessary to allow the foster care or adoption to proceed.

7. A stepparent, as defined in section 453.015, who is employed by the state of Missouri, its departments, agencies, or political subdivisions, may use his or her accrued sick leave, annual leave or the same leave without pay granted to biological parents to take time off to care for his or her stepchild. The employer shall not penalize an employee for requesting or obtaining time off according to this section.

[3.] 8. The leave authorized by this section may be requested by the employee only if the employee is the person who is primarily responsible for furnishing the care and nurture of the child.

9. The commissioner of administration may promulgate rules as necessary to implement the provisions of this section. Any rule or portion of a rule, as that term is defined in section 536.010, that is created under the authority delegated in this section shall become effective only if it complies with and is subject to all of the provisions of chapter 536 and, if applicable, section 536.028. This section and chapter 536 are nonseverable and if any of the powers vested with the general assembly under chapter 536 to review, to delay the effective date, or to disapprove and annul a rule are subsequently held unconstitutional, then the grant of rulemaking authority and any rule proposed or adopted after August 28, 2014, shall be invalid and void.”; and

Further amend said bill by amending the title, enacting clause, and intersectional references accordingly.

HOUSE AMENDMENT NO. 3

Amend House Committee Substitute for Senate Substitute for Senate Bill No. 869, Page 17, Section 334.950, Line 43, by inserting after all of said line the following:

“6. The department shall establish maximum reimbursement rates for charges submitted under this section, which shall reflect the reasonable cost of providing the forensic exam.

7. The department shall only reimburse providers for forensic evaluations and case reviews. The department shall not reimburse providers for medical procedures, facility fees, supplies or laboratory/radiology tests.

8. In order for the department to provide reimbursement, the child shall be the subject of a child abuse investigation or reported to the children’s division as a result of the examination.

9. A minor may consent to examination under this section. Such consent is not subject to disaffirmance because of the individual’s status as a minor, and the consent of a parent or guardian of the minor is not required for such examination.”; and

Further amend said bill by amending the title, enacting clause, and intersectional references accordingly.

HOUSE AMENDMENT NO. 4

Amend House Committee Substitute for Senate Substitute for Senate Bill No. 869, Page 4, Section 37.710, Line 45, by inserting after all of said section and line the following:

“208.631. 1. Notwithstanding any other provision of law to the contrary, the MO HealthNet division shall establish a program to pay for health care for uninsured children. Coverage pursuant to sections 208.631 to [208.659] 208.658 is subject to appropriation. The provisions of sections 208.631 to [208.569] 208.658, health care for uninsured children, shall be void and of no effect if there are no funds of the United States appropriated by Congress to be provided to the state on the basis of a state plan approved by the federal government under the federal Social Security Act. If funds are appropriated by the United States Congress, the department of social services is authorized to manage the state children’s health insurance program (CHIP) allotment in order to ensure that the state receives maximum federal financial participation. Children in households with incomes up to one hundred fifty percent of the federal poverty level may meet all Title XIX program guidelines as required by the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services. Children in households with incomes of one hundred fifty percent to three hundred percent of the federal poverty level shall continue to be eligible as they were and receive services as they did on June 30, 2007, unless changed by the Missouri general assembly.

2. For the purposes of sections 208.631 to [208.659] 208.658, “children” are persons up to nineteen years of age. “Uninsured children” are persons up to nineteen years of age who are emancipated and do not have access to affordable employer-subsidized health care insurance or other health care coverage or persons whose parent or guardian have not had access to affordable employer-subsidized health care insurance or other health care coverage for their children [for six months] prior to application, are residents of the state of Missouri, and have parents or guardians who meet the requirements in section 208.636. A child who is eligible for MO HealthNet benefits as authorized in section 208.151 is not uninsured for the purposes of sections 208.631 to [208.659] 208.658.

208.636. Parents and guardians of uninsured children eligible for the program established in sections 208.631 to [208.657] 208.658 shall:

(1) Furnish to the department of social services the uninsured child’s Social Security number or numbers, if the uninsured child has more than one such number;

(2) Cooperate with the department of social services in identifying and providing information to assist the state in pursuing any third-party insurance carrier who may be liable to pay for health care;

(3) Cooperate with the department of social services, division of child support enforcement in establishing paternity and in obtaining support payments, including medical support; and

(4) Demonstrate upon request their child’s participation in wellness programs including immunizations and a periodic physical examination. This subdivision shall not apply to any child whose parent or legal guardian objects in writing to such wellness programs including immunizations and an annual physical examination because of religious beliefs or medical contraindications[; and

(5) Demonstrate annually that their total net worth does not exceed two hundred fifty thousand dollars in total value].

208.640. 1. Parents and guardians of uninsured children with incomes of more than one hundred fifty but less than three hundred percent of the federal poverty level who do not have access to affordable employer-sponsored health care insurance or other affordable health care coverage may obtain coverage for their children under this section. Health insurance plans that do not cover an eligible child's preexisting condition shall not be considered affordable employer-sponsored health care insurance or other affordable health care coverage. For the purposes of sections 208.631 to [208.659] 208.658, "affordable employer-sponsored health care insurance or other affordable health care coverage" refers to health insurance requiring a monthly premium of:

(1) Three percent of one hundred fifty percent of the federal poverty level for a family of three for families with a gross income of more than one hundred fifty and up to one hundred eighty-five percent of the federal poverty level for a family of three;

(2) Four percent of one hundred eighty-five percent of the federal poverty level for a family of three for a family with a gross income of more than one hundred eighty-five and up to two hundred twenty-five percent of the federal poverty level;

(3) Five percent of two hundred twenty-five percent of the federal poverty level for a family of three for a family with a gross income of more than two hundred twenty-five but less than three hundred percent of the federal poverty level.

The parents and guardians of eligible uninsured children pursuant to this section are responsible for a monthly premium as required by annual state appropriation; provided that the total aggregate cost sharing for a family covered by these sections shall not exceed five percent of such family's income for the years involved. No co-payments or other cost sharing is permitted with respect to benefits for well-baby and well-child care including age-appropriate immunizations. Cost-sharing provisions for their children under sections 208.631 to [208.659] 208.658 shall not exceed the limits established by 42 U.S.C. Section 1397cc(e). If a child has exceeded the annual coverage limits for all health care services, the child is not considered insured and does not have access to affordable health insurance within the meaning of this section.

2. The department of social services shall study the expansion of a presumptive eligibility process for children for medical assistance benefits.

208.643. 1. The department of social services shall implement policies establishing a program to pay for health care for uninsured children by rules promulgated pursuant to chapter 536, either statewide or in certain geographic areas, subject to obtaining necessary federal approval and appropriation authority. The rules may provide for a health care services package that includes all medical services covered by section 208.152, except nonemergency transportation.

2. Available income shall be determined by the department of social services by rule, which shall comply with federal laws and regulations relating to the state's eligibility to receive federal funds to implement the insurance program established in sections 208.631 to [208.657] 208.658.

208.646. There shall be a thirty-day waiting period after enrollment for uninsured children in families with an income of more than two hundred twenty-five percent of the federal poverty level before the child becomes eligible for insurance under the provisions of sections 208.631 to [208.660] 208.658. If the parent or guardian with an income of more than two hundred twenty-five percent of the federal poverty level fails to meet the co-payment or premium requirements, the child shall not be eligible for coverage under sections 208.631 to [208.660] 208.658 for [six months] ninety days after the department provides notice of such failure to the parent or guardian.”; and

Further amend said bill by amending the title, enacting clause, and intersectional references accordingly.

MESSAGES FROM THE HOUSE

The following messages were received from the House of Representatives through its Chief Clerk:

Mr. President: I am instructed by the House of Representatives to inform the Senate that the House has taken up and passed SCS for SB 642.

With House Amendment No. 1.

HOUSE AMENDMENT NO. 1

Amend Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 642, Page 1, in the Title, Line 3, by deleting the words “surface mining” and inserting in lieu thereof the words “natural resources”; and Further amend said bill and page, Section A, Line 3, by inserting after all of said section and line the following:

“260.273. 1. Any person purchasing a new tire may present to the seller the used tire or remains of such used tire for which the new tire purchased is to replace.

2. A fee for each new tire sold at retail shall be imposed on any person engaging in the business of making retail sales of new tires within this state. The fee shall be charged by the retailer to the person who purchases a tire for use and not for resale. Such fee shall be imposed at the rate of fifty cents for each new tire sold. Such fee shall be added to the total cost to the purchaser at retail after all applicable sales taxes on the tires have been computed. The fee imposed, less six percent of fees collected, which shall be retained by the tire retailer as collection costs, shall be paid to the department of revenue in the form and manner required by the department of revenue and shall include the total number of new tires sold during the preceding month. The department of revenue shall promulgate rules and regulations necessary to administer the fee collection and enforcement. The terms “sold at retail” and “retail sales” do not include the sale of new tires to a person solely for the purpose of resale, if the subsequent retail sale in this state is to the ultimate consumer and is subject to the fee.

3. The department of revenue shall administer, collect and enforce the fee authorized pursuant to this section pursuant to the same procedures used in the administration, collection and enforcement of the general state sales and use tax imposed pursuant to chapter 144 except as provided in this section. The proceeds of the new tire fee, less four percent of the proceeds, which shall be retained by the department of revenue as collection costs, shall be transferred by the department of revenue into an appropriate subaccount of the solid waste management fund, created pursuant to section 260.330.

4. Up to five percent of the revenue available may be allocated, upon appropriation, to the department of natural resources to be used cooperatively with the department of elementary and secondary education for the purposes of developing environmental educational materials, programs, and curriculum that assist in the department's implementation of sections 260.200 to 260.345.

5. Up to fifty percent of the moneys received pursuant to this section may, upon appropriation, be used to administer the programs imposed by this section. Up to forty-five percent of the moneys received under this section may, upon appropriation, be used for the grants authorized in subdivision (2) of subsection 6 of this section. All remaining moneys shall be allocated, upon appropriation, for the projects authorized in section 260.276, except that any unencumbered moneys may be used for public health, environmental, and safety projects in response to environmental or public health emergencies and threats as determined by the director.

6. The department shall promulgate, by rule, a statewide plan for the use of moneys received pursuant to this section to accomplish the following:

(1) Removal of [waste] scrap tires from illegal tire dumps;

(2) Providing grants to persons that will use products derived from [waste] scrap tires, or [used waste] use scrap tires as a fuel or fuel supplement; and

(3) Resource recovery activities conducted by the department pursuant to section 260.276.

7. The fee imposed in subsection 2 of this section shall begin the first day of the month which falls at least thirty days but no more than sixty days immediately following August 28, 2005, and shall terminate January 1, [2015] 2020.

260.279. In letting contracts for the performance of any job or service for the removal or clean up of [waste] scrap tires under this chapter, the department of natural resources shall, in addition to the requirements of sections 34.073 and 34.076 and any other points awarded during the evaluation process, give to any vendor that meets one or more of the following factors a five percent preference and ten bonus points for each factor met:

(1) The bid is submitted by a vendor that has resided or maintained its headquarters or principal place of business in Missouri continuously for the two years immediately preceding the date on which the bid is submitted;

(2) The bid is submitted by a nonresident corporation vendor that has an affiliate or subsidiary that employs at least twenty state residents and has maintained its headquarters or principal place of business in Missouri continuously for the two years immediately preceding the date on which the bid is submitted;

(3) The bid is submitted by a vendor that resides or maintains its headquarters or principal place of business in Missouri and, for the purposes of completing the bid project and continuously over the entire term of the project, an average of at least seventy-five percent of such vendor's employees are Missouri residents who have resided in the state continuously for at least two years immediately preceding the date on which the bid is submitted. Such vendor must certify the residency requirements of this subdivision and submit a written claim for preference at the time the bid is submitted;

(4) The bid is submitted by a nonresident vendor that has an affiliate or subsidiary that employs at least twenty state residents and has maintained its headquarters or principal place of business in Missouri and, for the purposes of completing the bid project and continuously over the entire term of the project, an average of at least seventy-five percent of such vendor's employees are Missouri residents who have resided in the state continuously for at least two years immediately preceding the date on which the bid is submitted. Such vendor must certify the residency requirements of this section and submit a written claim for preference at the time the bid is submitted;

(5) The bid is submitted by any vendor that provides written certification that the end use of the tires collected during the project will be for fuel purposes or for the manufacture of a useable good or product. For the purposes of this section, the landfilling of [waste] scrap tires, [waste] scrap tire chips, or [waste] scrap tire shreds in any manner, including landfill cover, shall not permit the vendor a preference.

260.355. Exempted from the provisions of sections 260.350 to 260.480 are:

(1) Radioactive wastes regulated under section 2011, et seq., of title 42 of United States Code;

(2) Emissions to the air subject to regulation of and which are regulated by the Missouri air conservation commission pursuant to chapter 643;

(1) Promptly file and maintain with the department, on registration forms it provides for this purpose, information on hazardous waste generation and management as specified by rules and regulations. Hazardous waste generators shall pay a one hundred dollar registration fee upon initial registration, and a one hundred dollar registration renewal fee annually thereafter to maintain an active registration. Such fees shall be deposited in the hazardous waste fund created in section 260.391;

(2) Containerize and label all hazardous wastes as specified by standards, rules and regulations;

(3) Segregate all hazardous wastes from all nonhazardous wastes and from noncompatible wastes, materials and other potential hazards as specified by standards, rules and regulations;

(4) Provide safe storage and handling, including spill protection, as specified by standards, rules and regulations, for all hazardous wastes from the time of their generation to the time of their removal from the site of generation;

(5) Unless provided otherwise in the rules and regulations, utilize only a hazardous waste transporter holding a license pursuant to sections 260.350 to 260.430 for the removal of all hazardous wastes from the premises where they were generated;

(6) Unless provided otherwise in the rules and regulations, provide a separate manifest to the transporter for each load of hazardous waste transported from the premises where it was generated. The generator shall specify the destination of such load on the manifest. The manner in which the manifest shall be completed, signed and filed with the department shall be in accordance with rules and regulations;

(7) Utilize for treatment, resource recovery, disposal or storage of all hazardous wastes, only a hazardous waste facility authorized to operate pursuant to sections 260.350 to 260.430 or the federal Resource Conservation and Recovery Act, or a state hazardous waste management program authorized pursuant to the federal Resource Conservation and Recovery Act, or any facility exempted from the permit required pursuant to section 260.395;

(8) Collect and maintain such records, perform such monitoring or analyses, and submit such reports on any hazardous waste generated, its transportation and final disposition, as specified in sections 260.350 to 260.430 and rules and regulations adopted pursuant to sections 260.350 to 260.430;

(9) Make available to the department upon request samples of waste and all records relating to hazardous waste generation and management for inspection and copying and allow the department to make unhampered inspections at any reasonable time of hazardous waste generation and management facilities located on the generator's property and hazardous waste generation and management practices carried out on the generator's property;

(10) (a) Pay annually, on or before January first of each year, effective January 1, 1982, a fee to the state of Missouri to be placed in the hazardous waste fund. The fee shall be five dollars per ton or portion thereof of hazardous waste registered with the department as specified in subdivision (1) of this subsection for the twelve-month period ending June thirtieth of the previous year. However, the fee shall not exceed fifty-two thousand dollars per generator site per year nor be less than one hundred fifty dollars per generator site per year.

(b) All moneys payable pursuant to the provisions of this subdivision shall be promptly transmitted to the department of revenue, which shall deposit the same in the state treasury to the credit of the hazardous waste fund created in section 260.391.

(c) The hazardous waste management commission shall establish and submit to the department of revenue procedures relating to the collection of the fees authorized by this subdivision. Such procedures shall include, but not be limited to, necessary records identifying the quantities of hazardous waste registered, the form and submission of reports to accompany the payment of fees, the time and manner of payment of fees, which shall not be more often than quarterly.

(d) Notwithstanding any statutory fee amounts or maximums to the contrary, the director of the department of natural resources may conduct a comprehensive review [of] and propose changes to the fee structure set forth in this section. The comprehensive review shall include stakeholder meetings in order to solicit stakeholder input from each of the following groups: cement kiln representatives, chemical companies, large and small hazardous waste generators, and any other interested parties. Upon completion of the comprehensive review, the department shall submit a proposed [changes to the] fee structure with stakeholder agreement to the hazardous waste management commission. The commission shall[, upon receiving the department's recommendations,] review such recommendations at the forthcoming regular or special meeting, but shall not vote on the fee structure until a subsequent meeting. [The commission shall not take a vote on the fee structure until the following regular meeting.] If the commission approves, by vote of two-thirds majority or five of seven commissioners, the [hazardous waste] fee structure recommendations, the commission shall [promulgate by regulation and publish the recommended fee structure no later than October first of the same year. The commission shall] authorize the department to file a notice of proposed rulemaking containing the recommended fee structure, and after considering public comments may authorize the department to file the order of rulemaking for such rule with the joint committee on administrative rules pursuant to sections 536.021 and 536.024 no later than December first of the same year. If such rules are not disapproved by the general assembly in the manner set out below, they shall take effect on January first of the [next odd-numbered] following calendar year and the fee structure set out in this section shall expire upon the effective date of the commission-adopted fee structure, contrary to subsection 4 of this section. Any regulation promulgated under this subsection shall be deemed to be beyond the scope and authority provided in this subsection, or detrimental to permit applicants, if the general assembly, within the first sixty calendar days of the regular session immediately following the [promulgation] filing of such regulation[, by concurrent resolution, shall disapprove the fee structure contained in such regulation] disapproves the regulation by concurrent resolution. If the general assembly so disapproves any regulation [promulgated] filed under this subsection, [the hazardous waste management commission shall continue to use the fee structure set forth in the most recent preceding regulation promulgated under this subsection.] the department and the commission shall not implement the proposed fee structure and shall continue to use the previous fee structure. The authority of the commission to further revise the fee structure as provided by this subsection shall expire on August 28, [2023] 2024.

2. Missouri treatment, storage, or disposal facilities shall pay annually, on or before January first of each year, a fee to the department equal to two dollars per ton or portion thereof for all hazardous waste received from outside the state. This fee shall be based on the hazardous waste received for the twelve-month period ending June thirtieth of the previous year.

3. Exempted from the requirements of this section are individual householders and farmers who generate only small quantities of hazardous waste and any person the commission determines generates only small quantities of hazardous waste on an infrequent basis, except that:

(1) Householders, farmers and exempted persons shall manage all hazardous wastes they may generate in a manner so as not to adversely affect the health of humans, or pose a threat to the environment, or create a public nuisance; and

(2) The department may determine that a specific quantity of a specific hazardous waste requires special management. Upon such determination and after public notice by press release or advertisement thereof, including instructions for handling and delivery, generators exempted pursuant to this subsection shall deliver, but without a manifest or the requirement to use a licensed hazardous waste transporter, such waste to:

(a) Any storage, treatment or disposal site authorized to operate pursuant to sections 260.350 to 260.430 or the federal Resource Conservation and Recovery Act, or a state hazardous waste management program authorized pursuant to the federal Resource Conservation and Recovery Act which the department designates for this purpose; or

(b) A collection station or vehicle which the department may arrange for and designate for this purpose.

4. Failure to pay the fee, or any portion thereof, prescribed in this section by the due date shall result in the imposition of a penalty equal to fifteen percent of the original fee. The fee prescribed in this section shall expire December 31, 2018, except that the department shall levy and collect this fee for any hazardous waste generated prior to such date and reported to the department.

260.392. 1. As used in sections 260.392 to 260.399, the following terms mean:

(1) “Cask”, all the components and systems associated with the container in which spent fuel, high-level radioactive waste, highway route controlled quantity, or transuranic radioactive waste are stored;

(2) “High-level radioactive waste”, the highly radioactive material resulting from the reprocessing of spent nuclear fuel including liquid waste produced directly in reprocessing and any solid material derived from such liquid waste that contains fission products in sufficient concentrations, and other highly radioactive material that the United States Nuclear Regulatory Commission has determined to be high-level radioactive waste requiring permanent isolation;

(3) “Highway route controlled quantity”, as defined in 49 CFR Part 173.403, as amended, a quantity of radioactive material within a single package. Highway route controlled quantity shipments of thirty miles or less within the state are exempt from the provisions of this section;

(4) “Low-level radioactive waste”, any radioactive waste not classified as high-level radioactive waste, transuranic radioactive waste, or spent nuclear fuel by the United States Nuclear Regulatory Commission, consistent with existing law. Shipment of all sealed sources meeting the definition of low-level radioactive waste, shipments of low-level radioactive waste that are within a radius of no more than fifty miles from the point of origin, and all naturally occurring radioactive material given written approval for landfill disposal by the Missouri department of natural resources under 10 CSR 80-3.010 are exempt from the provisions of this section. Any low-level radioactive waste that has a radioactive half-life equal to or less than one hundred twenty days is exempt from the provisions of this section;

(5) “Shipper”, the generator, owner, or company contracting for transportation by truck or rail of the spent fuel, high-level radioactive waste, highway route controlled quantity shipments, transuranic radioactive waste, or low-level radioactive waste;

(6) “Spent nuclear fuel”, fuel that has been withdrawn from a nuclear reactor following irradiation, the constituent elements of which have not been separated by reprocessing;

(7) “State-funded institutions of higher education”, any campus of any university within the state of Missouri that receives state funding and has a nuclear research reactor;

(8) “Transuranic radioactive waste”, defined in 40 CFR Part 191.02, as amended, as waste containing more than one hundred nanocuries of alpha-emitting transuranic isotopes with half-lives greater than twenty years, per gram of waste. For the purposes of this section, transuranic waste shall not include:

(a) High-level radioactive wastes;

(b) Any waste determined by the Environmental Protection Agency with the concurrence of the Environmental Protection Agency administrator that does not need the degree of isolation required by this section; or

(c) Any waste that the United States Nuclear Regulatory Commission has approved for disposal on a case-by-case basis in accordance with 10 CFR Part 61, as amended.

2. Any shipper that ships high-level radioactive waste, transuranic radioactive waste, highway route controlled quantity shipments, spent nuclear fuel, or low-level radioactive waste through or within the state shall be subject to the fees established in this subsection, provided that no state-funded institution of higher education that ships nuclear waste shall pay any such fee. These higher education institutions shall reimburse the Missouri state highway patrol directly for all costs related to shipment escorts. The fees for all other shipments shall be:

(1) One thousand eight hundred dollars for each truck transporting through or within the state high-level radioactive waste, transuranic radioactive waste, spent nuclear fuel or highway route controlled quantity shipments. All truck shipments of high-level radioactive waste, transuranic radioactive waste, spent nuclear fuel, or highway route controlled quantity shipments are subject to a surcharge of twenty-five dollars per mile for every mile over two hundred miles traveled within the state;

(2) One thousand three hundred dollars for the first cask and one hundred twenty-five dollars for each additional cask for each rail shipment through or within the state of high-level radioactive waste, transuranic radioactive waste, or spent nuclear fuel;

(3) One hundred twenty-five dollars for each truck or train transporting low-level radioactive waste through or within the state.

444.768. 1. Notwithstanding any statutory fee amounts or maximums to the contrary, the director of the department of natural resources may conduct a comprehensive review and propose changes to the fee, bond, or assessment structure as set forth in chapter 444. The comprehensive review shall include stakeholder meetings in order to solicit stakeholder input from regulated entities and any other interested parties. Upon completion of the comprehensive review, the department shall submit a proposed fee, bond, or assessment structure with stakeholder agreement to the Missouri mining commission. Any order issued by the department under chapter 444 may require payment of such amounts. The department may bring an action in the appropriate circuit court to collect any unpaid fee, late fee, interest, or attorney's fees and costs incurred directly in fee collection. Such action may be brought in the circuit court of the county in which the facility is located, or in the circuit court of Cole County.

Such gravel removal shall be conducted solely on the property owner's or political subdivision's property and shall be in accordance with department guidelines, rules, and regulations. The property owner shall notify the department before any person or operator conducts gravel removal from the property owner's property if the gravel is sold. Notification shall include the nature of the activity, name of the county and stream in which the site is located and the property owner's name. The property owner shall not be required to notify the department regarding any gravel removal at each site location for up to one year from the original notification regarding that site. The property owner shall renotify the department before any person or operator conducts gravel removal at any site after the expiration of one year from the previous notification regarding that site. At the time of each notification to the department, the department shall provide the property owner with a copy of the department's guidelines, rules, and regulations relevant to the activity reported. Said guidelines, rules and regulations may be transmitted either by mail or via the internet.

Any operator conducting gravel removal at the request of a property owner that has removed two thousand tons of sand and gravel material within one calendar year shall have a watershed management practice plan approved by the commission in order to remove any future sand or gravel material the remainder of the calendar year. The application for approval shall be accompanied by an application fee equivalent to the fee paid under section 444.772 and shall contain the name of the watershed from which the operator will be conducting sand and gravel removal, the location within the watershed district that the sand and gravel will be removed, and the description of the vehicles and equipment used for removal. Upon approval of the watershed management practice plan, the department shall provide a copy of the relevant commission regulations to the operator.

(3) No property owner or operator conducting gravel removal at the request of a property owner for the primary purpose of managing seasonal gravel accretion on property not used primarily for gravel mining shall conduct gravel removal from any site located within a distance, to be determined by the commission and included in the guidelines, rules, and regulations given to the property owner at the time of notification, of any building, structure, highway, road, bridge, viaduct, water or sewer line, and pipeline or utility line.

3. Sections 444.760 to 444.790 shall apply only to those areas which are opened on or after January 1, 1972, or to the extended portion of affected areas extended after that date. 4. All surface mining operations where land is affected after September 28, 1971, which are under the control of any government agency whose regulations are equal to or greater than those imposed by section 444.774, are not subject to the further provisions of sections 444.760 to 444.790, except that such operations shall be registered with the [land reclamation] Missouri mining commission.

5. Any portion of a surface mining operation which is subject to the provisions of sections 260.200 to 260.245 and the regulations promulgated thereunder, shall not be subject to the provisions of sections 444.760 to 444.790, and any bonds or portions thereof applicable to such operations shall be promptly released by the commission, and the associated permits cancelled by the commission upon presentation to it of satisfactory evidence that the operator has received a permit pursuant to section 260.205 and the regulations promulgated thereunder. Any land reclamation bond associated with such released permits shall be retained by the commission until presentation to the commission of satisfactory evidence that:

(1) The operator has complied with sections 260.226 and 260.227, and the regulations promulgated thereunder, pertaining to closure and postclosure plans and financial assurance instruments; and

(2) The operator has commenced operation of the solid waste disposal area or sanitary landfill as those terms are defined in chapter 260.

6. Notwithstanding the provisions of subsection 1 of this section, any political subdivision which uses its own personnel and equipment or any private individual for personal use may conduct in-stream gravel operations without obtaining from the commission a permit to conduct such an activity.

7. Any person filing a complaint of an alleged violation of this section with the department shall identify themselves by name and telephone number, provide the date and location of the violation, and provide adequate information, as determined by the department, that there has been a violation.

Any records, statements, or communications submitted by any person to the department relevant to the complaint shall remain confidential and used solely by the department to investigate such alleged violation.”; and 640.015. 1. All provisions of the law to the contrary notwithstanding, all rules that prescribe environmental conditions or standards promulgated by the department of natural resources, a board or a commission, pursuant to authorities granted in this chapter and chapters 260, 278, 319, 444, 643, and 644, the hazardous waste management commission in chapter 260, the state soil and water districts commission in chapter 278, the [land reclamation] Missouri mining commission in chapter 444, the safe drinking water commission in this chapter, the air conservation commission in chapter 643, and the clean water commission in chapter 644 shall cite the specific section of law or legal authority. The rule shall also be based on the regulatory impact report provided in this section.

2. The regulatory impact report required by this section shall include:

- (1) A report on the peer-reviewed scientific data used to commence the rulemaking process;
- (2) A description of persons who will most likely be affected by the proposed rule, including persons that will bear the costs of the proposed rule and persons that will benefit from the proposed rule;
- (3) A description of the environmental and economic costs and benefits of the proposed rule;
- (4) The probable costs to the agency and to any other agency of the implementation and enforcement of the proposed rule and any anticipated effect on state revenue;
- (5) A comparison of the probable costs and benefits of the proposed rule to the probable costs and benefits of inaction, which includes both economic and environmental costs and benefits;
- (6) A determination of whether there are less costly or less intrusive methods for achieving the proposed rule;
- (7) A description of any alternative method for achieving the purpose of the proposed rule that were seriously considered by the department and the reasons why they were rejected in favor of the proposed rule;
- (8) An analysis of both short-term and long-term consequences of the proposed rule;
- (9) An explanation of the risks to human health, public welfare, or the environment addressed by the proposed rule;
- (10) The identification of the sources of scientific information used in evaluating the risk and a summary of such information;
- (11) A description and impact statement of any uncertainties and assumptions made in conducting the analysis on the resulting risk estimate;
- (12) A description of any significant countervailing risks that may be caused by the proposed rule; and
- (13) The identification of at least one, if any, alternative regulatory approaches that will produce comparable human health, public welfare, or environmental outcomes.

3. The department, board, or commission shall develop the regulatory impact report required by this section using peer-reviewed and published data or when the peer-reviewed data is not reasonably available, a written explanation shall be filed at the time of the rule promulgation notice explaining why the peer-reviewed data was not available to support the regulation. If the peer-reviewed data is not available, the department must provide all scientific references and the types, amount, and sources of scientific information that was used to develop the rule at the time of the rule promulgation notice.

4. The department, board, or commission shall publish in at least one newspaper of general circulation, qualified pursuant to chapter 493, with an average circulation of twenty thousand or more and on the department, board, or commission website a notice of availability of any regulatory impact report conducted pursuant to this section and shall make such assessments and analyses available to the public by posting them on the department, board, or commission website. The department, board, or commission shall allow at least sixty days for the public to submit comments and shall post all comments and respond to all significant comments prior to promulgating the rule.

5. The department, board, or commission shall file a copy of the regulatory impact report with the joint committee on administrative rules concurrently with the filing of the proposed rule pursuant to section 536.024.

6. If the department, board, or commission fails to conduct the regulatory impact report as required for each proposed rule pursuant to this section, such rule shall be void unless the written explanation delineating why the peer-reviewed data was not available has been filed at the time of the rule promulgation notice.

7. Any other provision of this section to the contrary notwithstanding, the department, board, or commission referenced in subsection 1 of this section may adopt a rule without conducting a regulatory impact report if the director of the department determines that immediate action is necessary to protect human health, public welfare, or the environment; provided, however, in doing so, the department, board, or commission shall be required to provide written justification as to why it deviated from conducting a regulatory impact report and shall complete the regulatory impact report within one hundred eighty days of the adoption of the rule.

8. The provisions of this section shall not apply if the department adopts environmental protection agency rules and rules from other applicable federal agencies without variance.

640.016. 1. The department of natural resources shall not place in any permit any requirement, provision, stipulation, or any other restriction which is not prescribed or authorized by regulation or statute, unless the requirement, provision, stipulation, or other restriction is pursuant to the authority addressed in statute.

2. Prior to submitting a permit to public comment the department of natural resources shall deliver such permit to the permit applicant at the contact address on the permit application for final review. In the interest of expediting permit issuance, permit applicants may waive the opportunity to review draft permits prior to public notice. The permit applicant shall have ten days to review the permit for errors. Upon receipt of the applicant's review of the permit, the department of natural resources shall correct the permit where nonsubstantive drafting errors exist. The department of natural resources shall make such changes within ten days and submit the permit for public comment. If the permit applicant is not provided the opportunity to review permits prior to submission for public comment, the permit applicant shall have the authority to correct drafting errors in their permits after they are issued without paying any fee for such changes or modifications.

3. In any matter where a permit is denied by the department of natural resources pursuant to authorities granted in this chapter and chapters 260, 278, 319, 444, 643, and 644, the hazardous waste management commission in chapter 260, the state soil and water districts commission in chapter 278, the [land reclamation] Missouri mining commission in chapter 444, the safe drinking water commission in this chapter, the air conservation commission in chapter 643, and the clean water commission in chapter 644, such denial shall clearly state the basis for such denial.

4. Once a permit or action has been approved by the department, the department shall not revoke or change, without written permission from the permittee, the decision for a period of one year or unless the department determines that immediate action is necessary to protect human health, public welfare, or the environment.

640.100. 1. The safe drinking water commission created in section 640.105 shall promulgate rules necessary for the implementation, administration and enforcement of sections 640.100 to 640.140 and the federal Safe Drinking Water Act as amended.

2. No standard, rule or regulation or any amendment or repeal thereof shall be adopted except after a public hearing to be held by the commission after at least thirty days' prior notice in the manner prescribed by the rulemaking provisions of chapter 536 and an opportunity given to the public to be heard; the commission may solicit the views, in writing, of persons who may be affected by, knowledgeable about, or interested in proposed rules and regulations, or standards. Any person heard or registered at the hearing, or making written request for notice, shall be given written notice of the action of the commission with respect to the subject thereof. Any rule or portion of a rule, as that term is defined in section 536.010, that is promulgated to administer and enforce sections 640.100 to 640.140 shall become effective only if the agency has fully complied with all of the requirements of chapter 536, including but not limited to section 536.028, if applicable, after June 9, 1998. All rulemaking authority delegated prior to June 9, 1998, is of no force and effect and repealed as of June 9, 1998, however, nothing in this section shall be interpreted to repeal or affect the validity of any rule adopted or promulgated prior to June 9, 1998. If the provisions of section 536.028 apply, the provisions of this section are nonseverable and if any of the powers vested with the general assembly pursuant to section 536.028 to review, to delay the effective date, or to disapprove and annul a rule or portion of a rule are held unconstitutional or invalid, the purported grant of rulemaking authority and any rule so proposed and contained in the order of rulemaking shall be invalid and void, except that nothing in this chapter or chapter 644 shall affect the validity of any rule adopted and promulgated prior to June 9, 1998.

3. The commission shall promulgate rules and regulations for the certification of public water system operators, backflow prevention assembly testers and laboratories conducting tests pursuant to sections 640.100 to 640.140. Any person seeking to be a certified backflow prevention assembly tester shall satisfactorily complete standard, nationally recognized written and performance examinations designed to ensure that the person is competent to determine if the assembly is functioning within its design specifications. Any such state certification shall satisfy any need for local certification as a backflow prevention assembly tester. However, political subdivisions may set additional testing standards for individuals who are seeking to be certified as backflow prevention assembly testers. Notwithstanding any other provision of law to the contrary, agencies of the state or its political subdivisions shall only require carbonated beverage dispensers to conform to the backflow protection requirements established in the National Sanitation Foundation standard eighteen, and the dispensers shall be so listed by an independent testing laboratory. The commission shall promulgate rules and regulations for collection of samples and analysis of water furnished by municipalities, corporations, companies, state establishments, federal establishments or individuals to the public. The department of natural resources or the department of health and senior services shall, at the request of any supplier, make any analyses or tests required pursuant to the terms of section 192.320 and sections 640.100 to 640.140. The department shall collect fees to cover the reasonable cost of laboratory services, both within the department of natural resources and the department of health and senior services, laboratory certification and program administration as required by sections 640.100 to 640.140. The laboratory services and program administration fees pursuant to this subsection shall not exceed two hundred dollars for a supplier supplying less than four thousand one hundred service connections, three hundred dollars for supplying less than seven thousand six hundred service connections, five hundred dollars for supplying seven thousand six hundred or more service connections, and five hundred dollars for testing surface water. Such fees shall be deposited in the safe drinking water fund as specified in section 640.110. The analysis of all drinking water required by section 192.320 and sections 640.100 to 640.140 shall be made by the department of natural resources laboratories, department of health and senior services laboratories or laboratories certified by the department of natural resources.

4. The department of natural resources shall establish and maintain an inventory of public water supplies and conduct sanitary surveys of public water systems. Such records shall be available for public inspection during regular business hours.

5. (1) For the purpose of complying with federal requirements for maintaining the primacy of state enforcement of the federal Safe Drinking Water Act, the department is hereby directed to request appropriations from the general revenue fund and all other appropriate sources to fund the activities of the public drinking water program and in addition to the fees authorized pursuant to subsection 3 of this section, an annual fee for each customer service connection with a public water system is hereby authorized to be imposed upon all customers of public water systems in this state. [The fees collected shall not exceed the amounts specified in this subsection and the commission may set the fees, by rule, in a lower amount by proportionally reducing all fees charged pursuant to this subsection from the specified maximum amounts. Reductions shall be roughly proportional but in each case shall be divisible by twelve.] Each customer of a public water system shall pay an annual fee for each customer service connection.

(2) The annual fee per customer service connection for unmetered customers and customers with meters not greater than one inch in size shall be based upon the number of service connections in the water system serving that customer, and shall not exceed:

1,001 to 4,000 connections.	3.00
4,001 to 7,000 connections.	2.76
7,001 to 10,000 connections.	2.40
10,001 to 20,000 connections.	2.16
20,001 to 35,000 connections.	1.92
35,001 to 50,000 connections.	1.56
50,001 to 100,000 connections.	1.32
More than 100,000 connections.	1.08.

(3) The annual user fee for customers having meters greater than one inch but less than or equal to two inches in size shall not exceed seven dollars and forty-four cents; for customers with meters greater than two inches but less than or equal to four inches in size shall not exceed forty-one dollars and sixteen cents; and for customers with meters greater than four inches in size shall not exceed eighty-two dollars and forty-four cents.

(4) Customers served by multiple connections shall pay an annual user fee based on the above rates for each connection, except that no single facility served by multiple connections shall pay a total of more than five hundred dollars per year.

6. Fees imposed pursuant to subsection 5 of this section shall become effective on August 28, 2006, and shall be collected by the public water system serving the customer beginning September 1, 2006, and continuing until such time that the safe drinking water commission, at its discretion, specifies a [lower] different amount under [subdivision (1) of] subsection [5] 8 of this section. The commission shall promulgate rules and regulations on the procedures for billing, collection and delinquent payment. Fees collected by a public water system pursuant to subsection 5 of this section and fees established by the commission pursuant to subsection 8 of this section are state fees. The annual fee shall be enumerated separately from all other charges, and shall be collected in monthly, quarterly or annual increments. Such fees shall be transferred to the director of the department of revenue at frequencies not less than quarterly. Two percent of the revenue arising from the fees shall be retained by the public water system for the purpose of reimbursing its expenses for billing and collection of such fees.

7. Imposition and collection of the fees authorized in subsection 5 and fees established by the commission pursuant to subsection 8 of this section shall be suspended on the first day of a calendar quarter if, during the preceding calendar quarter, the federally delegated authority granted to the safe drinking water program within the department of natural resources to administer the Safe Drinking Water Act, 42 U.S.C. 300g-2, is withdrawn. The fee shall not be reinstated until the first day of the calendar quarter following the quarter during which such delegated authority is reinstated.

8. [Fees imposed pursuant to subsection 5 of this section shall expire on September 1, 2017.] Notwithstanding any statutory fee amounts or maximums to the contrary, the department of natural resources may conduct a comprehensive review and propose changes to the fee structure set forth in this section. The comprehensive review shall include stakeholder meetings in order to solicit stakeholder input from public and private water suppliers, and any other interested parties. Upon completion of the comprehensive review, the department shall submit a proposed fee structure with stakeholder agreement to the safe drinking water commission. The commission shall review such recommendations at a forthcoming regular or special meeting, but shall not vote on the fee structure until a subsequent meeting. If the commission approves, by vote of two-thirds majority or six of nine commissioners, the fee structure recommendations, the commission shall authorize the department to file a notice of proposed rulemaking containing the recommended fee structure, and after considering public comments may authorize the department to file the final order of rulemaking for such rule with the joint committee on administrative rules pursuant to sections 536.021 and 536.024 no later than December first of the same year. If such rules are not disapproved by the general assembly in the manner set out below, they shall take effect on January first of the following calendar year, at which point the existing fee structure shall expire. Any regulation promulgated under this subsection shall be deemed to be beyond the scope and authority provided in this subsection, or detrimental to permit applicants, if the general assembly within the first sixty calendar days of the regular session immediately following the filing of such regulation, disapproves the regulation by concurrent resolution. If the general assembly so disapproves any regulation filed under this subsection, the department and the commission shall not implement the proposed fee structure and shall continue to use the previous fee structure. The authority of the commission to further revise the fee structure as provided by this subsection shall expire on August 28, 2024.

643.055. 1. Other provisions of law notwithstanding, the Missouri air conservation commission shall have the authority to promulgate rules and regulations, pursuant to chapter 536, to establish standards and guidelines to ensure that the state of Missouri is in compliance with the provisions of the federal Clean Air Act, as amended (42 U.S.C. Section 7401, et seq.). The standards and guidelines so established shall not be any stricter than those required under the provisions of the federal Clean Air Act, as amended; nor shall those standards and guidelines be enforced in any area of the state prior to the time required by the federal Clean Air Act, as amended. The restrictions of this section shall not apply to the parts of a state implementation plan developed by the commission to bring a nonattainment area into compliance and to maintain compliance when needed to have a United States Environmental Protection Agency approved state implementation plan. The determination of which parts of a state implementation plan are not subject to the restrictions of this section shall be based upon specific findings of fact by the air conservation commission as to the rules, regulations and criteria that are needed to have a United States Environmental Protection Agency approved plan.

2. The Missouri air conservation commission shall also have the authority to grant exceptions and variances from the rules set under subsection 1 of this section when the person applying for the exception or variance can show that compliance with such rules:

- (1) Would cause economic hardship; or
- (2) Is physically impossible; or
- (3) Is more detrimental to the environment than the variance would be; or
- (4) Is impractical or of insignificant value under the existing conditions.

3. The department shall not regulate the manufacture, performance, or use of residential wood burning heaters or appliances through a state implementation plan or otherwise, unless first specifically authorized to do so by the general assembly. No rule or regulation respecting the establishment or the enforcement of performance standards for residential wood burning heaters or appliances shall become effective unless and until first approved by the joint committee on administrative rules.

4. New rules or regulations shall not be applied to existing wood burning furnaces, stoves, fireplaces, or heaters that individuals are currently using as their source of heat for their homes or businesses. All wood burning furnaces, stoves, fireplaces, and heaters existing on August 28, 2014 shall be not subject to any rules or regulations enacted after such date. No employee of the state or state agency shall enforce any new rules or regulations against such existing wood burning furnaces, stoves, fireplaces, and heaters.

643.079. 1. Any air contaminant source required to obtain a permit issued under sections 643.010 to 643.355 shall pay annually beginning April 1, 1993, a fee as provided herein. For the first year the fee shall be twenty-five dollars per ton of each regulated air contaminant emitted. Thereafter, the fee shall be set every three years by the commission by rule and shall be at least twenty-five dollars per ton of regulated air contaminant emitted but not more than forty dollars per ton of regulated air contaminant emitted in the previous calendar year. If necessary, the commission may make annual adjustments to the fee by rule. The fee shall be set at an amount consistent with the need to fund the reasonable cost of administering sections 643.010 to 643.355, taking into account other moneys received pursuant to sections 643.010 to 643.355. For the purpose of determining the amount of air contaminant emissions on which the fees authorized under this section are assessed, a facility shall be considered one source under the definition of subsection 2 of section 643.078, except that a facility with multiple operating permits shall pay the emission fees authorized under this section separately for air contaminants emitted under each individual permit.

2. A source which produces charcoal from wood shall pay an annual emission fee under this subsection in lieu of the fee established in subsection 1 of this section. The fee shall be based upon a maximum fee of twenty-five dollars per ton and applied upon each ton of regulated air contaminant emitted for the first four thousand tons of each contaminant emitted in the amount established by the commission pursuant to subsection 1 of this section, reduced according to the following schedule:

(1) For fees payable under this subsection in the years 1993 and 1994, the fee shall be reduced by one hundred percent;

(2) For fees payable under this subsection in the years 1995, 1996 and 1997, the fee shall be reduced by eighty percent;

(3) For fees payable under this subsection in the years 1998, 1999 and 2000, the fee shall be reduced by sixty percent.

3. The fees imposed in subsection 2 of this section shall not be imposed or collected after the year 2000 unless the general assembly reimposes the fee.

4. Each air contaminant source with a permit issued under sections 643.010 to 643.355 shall pay the fee for the first four thousand tons of each regulated air contaminant emitted each year but no air contaminant source shall pay fees on total emissions of regulated air contaminants in excess of twelve thousand tons in any calendar year. A permitted air contaminant source which emitted less than one ton of all regulated pollutants shall pay a fee equal to the amount per ton set by the commission. An air contaminant source which pays emission fees to a holder of a certificate of authority issued pursuant to section 643.140 may deduct such fees from any amount due under this section. The fees imposed in this section shall not be applied to carbon oxide emissions. The fees imposed in subsection 1 and this subsection shall not be applied to sulfur dioxide emissions from any Phase I affected unit subject to the requirements of Title IV, Section 404, of the federal Clean Air Act, as amended, 42 U.S.C. 7651, et seq., any sooner than January 1, 2000. The fees imposed on emissions from Phase I affected units shall be consistent with and shall not exceed the provisions of the federal Clean Air Act, as amended, and the regulations promulgated thereunder. Any such fee on emissions from any Phase I affected unit shall be reduced by the amount of the service fee paid by that Phase I affected unit pursuant to subsection 8 of this section in that year. Any fees that may be imposed on Phase I sources shall follow the procedures set forth in subsection 1 and this subsection and shall not be applied retroactively.

5. Moneys collected under this section shall be transmitted to the director of revenue for deposit in appropriate subaccounts of the natural resources protection fund created in section 640.220. A subaccount shall be maintained for fees paid by air contaminant sources which are required to be permitted under Title V of the federal Clean Air Act, as amended, 42 U.S.C. Section 7661, et seq., and used, upon appropriation, to fund activities by the department to implement the operating permits program authorized by Title V of the federal Clean Air Act, as amended. Another subaccount shall be maintained for fees paid by air contaminant sources which are not required to be permitted under Title V of the federal Clean Air Act as amended, and used, upon appropriation, to fund other air pollution control program activities. Another subaccount shall be maintained for service fees paid under subsection 8 of this section by Phase I affected units which are subject to the requirements of Title IV, Section 404, of the federal Clean Air Act Amendments of 1990, as amended, 42 U.S.C. 7651, and used, upon appropriation, to fund air pollution control program activities. The provisions of section 33.080 to the contrary notwithstanding, moneys in the fund shall not revert to general revenue at the end of each biennium. Interest earned by moneys in the subaccounts shall be retained in the subaccounts. The per-ton fees established under subsection 1 of this section may be adjusted annually, consistent with the need to fund the reasonable costs of the program, but shall not be less than twenty-five dollars per ton of regulated air contaminant nor more than forty dollars per ton of regulated air contaminant. The first adjustment shall apply to moneys payable on April 1, 1994, and shall be based upon the general price level for the twelve-month period ending on August thirty-first of the previous calendar year.

6. The department may initiate a civil action in circuit court against any air contaminant source which has not remitted the appropriate fees within thirty days. In any judgment against the source, the department shall be awarded interest at a rate determined pursuant to section 408.030 and reasonable attorney's fees. In any judgment against the department, the source shall be awarded reasonable attorney's fees.

7. The department shall not suspend or revoke a permit for an air contaminant source solely because the source has not submitted the fees pursuant to this section.

8. Any Phase I affected unit which is subject to the requirements of Title IV, Section 404, of the federal Clean Air Act, as amended, 42 U.S.C. 7651, shall pay annually beginning April 1, 1993, and terminating December 31, 1999, a service fee for the previous calendar year as provided herein. For the first year, the service fee shall be twenty-five thousand dollars for each Phase I affected generating unit to help fund the administration of sections 643.010 to 643.355. Thereafter, the service fee shall be annually set by the commission by rule, following public hearing, based on an annual allocation prepared by the department showing the details of all costs and expenses upon which such fees are based consistent with the department's reasonable needs to administer and implement sections 643.010 to 643.355 and to fulfill its responsibilities with respect to Phase I affected units, but such service fee shall not exceed twenty-five thousand dollars per generating unit. Any such Phase I affected unit which is located on one or more contiguous tracts of land with any Phase II generating unit that pays fees under subsection 1 or subsection 2 of this section shall be exempt from paying service fees under this subsection. A "contiguous tract of land" shall be defined to mean adjacent land, excluding public roads, highways and railroads, which is under the control of or owned by the permit holder and operated as a single enterprise.

9. The department of natural resources shall determine the fees due pursuant to this section by the state of Missouri and its departments, agencies and institutions, including two- and four-year institutions of higher education. The director of the department of natural resources shall forward the various totals due to the joint committee on capital improvements and the directors of the individual departments, agencies and institutions. The departments, as part of the budget process, shall annually request by specific line item appropriation funds to pay said fees and capital funding for projects determined to significantly improve air quality. If the general assembly fails to appropriate funds for emissions fees as specifically requested, the departments, agencies and institutions shall pay said fees from other sources of revenue or funds available. The state of Missouri and its departments, agencies and institutions may receive assistance from the small business technical assistance program established pursuant to section 643.173.

10. Notwithstanding any statutory fee amounts or maximums to the contrary, the [director of the] department of natural resources may conduct a comprehensive review [of] and propose changes to the fee structure [set forth in this section. The comprehensive review shall include] authorized by sections 643.073, 643.075, 643.079, 643.225, 643.228, 643.232, 643.237, and 643.242 after holding stakeholder meetings in order to solicit stakeholder input from each of the following groups: the asbestos industry, electric utilities, mineral and metallic mining and processing facilities, cement kiln representatives, and any other interested industrial or business entities or interested parties. [Upon completion of the comprehensive review,] The department shall submit a proposed [changes to the] fee structure with stakeholder agreement to the air conservation commission. The commission shall[, upon receiving the department's recommendations,] review such recommendations at the forthcoming regular or special meeting, but shall not vote on the fee structure until a subsequent meeting. [The commission shall review fee structure recommendations from the department. The commission shall not take a vote on the fee structure recommendations until the following regular or special meeting.] If the commission approves, by vote of two-thirds majority or five of seven commissioners, the fee structure recommendations, the commission shall [promulgate by regulation and publish the recommended fee structure no later than October first of the same year. The commission shall] authorize the department to file a notice of proposed rulemaking containing the recommended fee structure, and after considering public comments, may authorize the department to file the order of rulemaking for such rule with the joint committee on administrative rules pursuant to sections 536.021 and 536.024 no later than December first of the same year. If such rules are not disapproved by the general assembly in the manner set out below, they shall take effect on January first of the [next odd-numbered] following calendar year and the previous fee structure [set out in this section] shall expire upon the effective date of the commission-adopted fee structure. Any regulation promulgated under this subsection shall be deemed to be beyond the scope and authority provided in this subsection, or detrimental to permit applicants, if the general assembly, within the first sixty calendar days of the regular session immediately following the [promulgation] filing of such regulation, by concurrent resolution[, shall disapprove the fee structure contained in such regulation] disapproves the regulation by concurrent resolution. If the general assembly so disapproves any regulation [promulgated] filed under this subsection, the [air conservation] commission shall continue to use the previous fee structure [set forth in the most recent preceding regulation promulgated under this subsection]. The authority of the commission to further revise the fee structure as provided by this subsection shall expire on August 28, [2023] 2024.*

644.026. 1. The commission shall:

- (1) Exercise general supervision of the administration and enforcement of sections 644.006 to 644.141 and all rules and regulations and orders promulgated thereunder;
- (2) Develop comprehensive plans and programs for the prevention, control and abatement of new or existing pollution of the waters of the state;
- (3) Advise, consult, and cooperate with other agencies of the state, the federal government, other states and interstate agencies, and with affected groups, political subdivisions and industries in furtherance of the purposes of sections 644.006 to 644.141;
- (4) Accept gifts, contributions, donations, loans and grants from the federal government and from other sources, public or private, for carrying out any of its functions, which funds shall not be expended for other than the purposes for which provided;
- (5) Encourage, participate in, or conduct studies, investigations, and research and demonstrations relating to water pollution and causes, prevention, control and abatement thereof as it may deem advisable and necessary for the discharge of its duties pursuant to sections 644.006 to 644.141;
- (6) Collect and disseminate information relating to water pollution and the prevention, control and abatement thereof;
- (7) After holding public hearings, identify waters of the state and prescribe water quality standards for them, giving due recognition to variations, if any, and the characteristics of different waters of the state which may be deemed by the commission to be relevant insofar as possible pursuant to any federal water pollution control act. These shall be reevaluated and modified as required by any federal water pollution control act;

(8) Adopt, amend, promulgate, or repeal after due notice and hearing rules and regulations to enforce, implement, and effectuate the powers and duties of sections 644.006 to 644.141 and any required of this state by any federal water pollution control act, and as the commission may deem necessary to prevent, control and abate existing or potential pollution. In addition to opportunities to submit written statements or provide testimony at public hearings in support of or in opposition to proposed rulemakings as required by section 536.021, any person who submits written comments or oral testimony on a proposed rule shall, at any public meeting to vote on an order of rulemaking or other commission policy, have the opportunity to respond to the proposed order of rulemaking or department of natural resources' response to comments to the extent that such response is limited to issues raised in oral or written comments made during the public notice comment period or public hearing on the proposed rule;

(9) Issue, modify or revoke orders prohibiting or abating discharges of water contaminants into the waters of the state or adopting other remedial measures to prevent, control or abate pollution;

(10) Administer state and federal grants and loans to municipalities and political subdivisions for the planning and construction of sewage treatment works;

(11) Hold such hearings, issue such notices of hearings and subpoenas requiring the attendance of such witnesses and the production of such evidence, administer such oaths, and take such testimony as the commission deems necessary or as required by any federal water pollution control act. Any of these powers may be exercised on behalf of the commission by any members thereof or a hearing officer designated by it;

(12) Require the prior submission of plans and specifications, or other data including the quantity and types of water contaminants, and inspect the construction of treatment facilities and sewer systems or any part thereof in connection with the issuance of such permits or approval as are required by sections 644.006 to 644.141, except that manholes and polyvinyl chloride (PVC) pipe used for gravity sewers and with a diameter no greater than twenty-seven inches shall not be required to be tested for leakage;

(13) Issue, continue in effect, revoke, modify or deny, under such conditions as it may prescribe, to prevent, control or abate pollution or any violations of sections 644.006 to 644.141 or any federal water pollution control act, permits for the discharge of water contaminants into the waters of this state, and for the installation, modification or operation of treatment facilities, sewer systems or any parts thereof. Such permit conditions, in addition to all other requirements of this subdivision, shall ensure compliance with all effluent regulations or limitations, water quality related effluent limitations, national standards of performance and toxic and pretreatment effluent standards, and all requirements and time schedules thereunder as established by sections 644.006 to 644.141 and any federal water pollution control act; however, no permit shall be required of any person for any emission into publicly owned treatment facilities or into publicly owned sewer systems tributary to publicly owned treatment works;

(14) Establish permits by rule. Such permits shall only be available for those facilities or classes of facilities that control potential water contaminants that pose a reduced threat to public health or the environment and that are in compliance with commission water quality standards rules, effluent rules or rules establishing permits by rule. Such permits by rule shall have the same legal standing as other permits issued pursuant to this chapter. Nothing in this section shall prohibit the commission from requiring a site-specific permit or a general permit for individual facilities;

(15) Require proper maintenance and operation of treatment facilities and sewer systems and proper disposal of residual waste from all such facilities and systems;

(16) Exercise all incidental powers necessary to carry out the purposes of sections 644.006 to 644.141, assure that the state of Missouri complies with any federal water pollution control act, retains maximum control thereunder and receives all desired federal grants, aid and benefits;

(17) Establish effluent and pretreatment and toxic material control regulations to further the purposes of sections 644.006 to 644.141 and as required to ensure compliance with all effluent limitations, water quality-related effluent limitations, national standards of performance and toxic and pretreatment effluent standards, and all requirements and any time schedules thereunder, as established by any federal water pollution control act for point sources in this state, and where necessary to prevent violation of water quality standards of this state;

(18) Prohibit all discharges of radiological, chemical, or biological warfare agent or high-level radioactive waste into waters of this state;

(19) Require that all publicly owned treatment works or facilities which receive or have received grants or loans from the state or the federal government for construction or improvement make all charges required by sections 644.006 to 644.141 or any federal water pollution control act for use and recovery of capital costs, and the operating authority for such works or facility is hereby authorized to make any such charges;

(20) Represent the state of Missouri in all matters pertaining to interstate water pollution including the negotiation of interstate compacts or agreements;

(21) Develop such facts and make such investigations as are consistent with the purposes of sections 644.006 to 644.141, and, in connection therewith, to enter or authorize any representative of the commission to enter at all reasonable times and upon reasonable notice in or upon any private or public property for any purpose required by any federal water pollution control act or sections 644.006 to 644.141 for the purpose of developing rules, regulations, limitations, standards, or permit conditions, or inspecting or investigating any records required to be kept by sections 644.006 to 644.141 or any permit issued pursuant to sections 644.006 to 644.141, any condition which the commission or director has probable cause to believe to be a water contaminant source or the site of any suspected violation of sections 644.006 to 644.141, regulations, standards, or limitations, or permits issued pursuant to sections 644.006 to 644.141. The results of any such investigation shall be reduced to writing, and shall be furnished to the owner or operator of the property. No person shall refuse entry or access, requested for the purposes of inspection pursuant to this subdivision, to an authorized representative in carrying out the inspection. A suitably restricted search warrant, upon a showing of probable cause in writing and upon oath, shall be issued by any judge or associate circuit judge having jurisdiction to any representative for the purpose of enabling him or her to make such inspection. Information obtained pursuant to this section shall be available to the public unless it constitutes trade secrets or confidential information, other than effluent data, of the person from whom it is obtained, except when disclosure is required pursuant to any federal water pollution control act;

(22) Retain, employ, provide for, and compensate, within appropriations available therefor, such consultants, assistants, deputies, clerks and other employees on a full- or part-time basis as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of sections 644.006 to 644.141 and prescribe the times at which they shall be appointed and their powers and duties;

(23) Secure necessary scientific, technical, administrative and operation services, including laboratory facilities, by contract or otherwise, with any educational institution, experiment station, or any board, department, or other agency of any political subdivision of the state or the federal government;

(24) Require persons owning or engaged in operations which do or could discharge water contaminants, or introduce water contaminants or pollutants of a quality and quantity to be established by the commission, into any publicly owned treatment works or facility, to provide and maintain any facilities and conduct any tests and monitoring necessary to establish and maintain records and to file reports containing information relating to measures to prevent, lessen or render any discharge less harmful or relating to rate, period, composition, temperature, and quality and quantity of the effluent, and any other information required by any federal water pollution control act or the director, and to make them public, except as provided in subdivision (21) of this section. The commission shall develop and adopt such procedures for inspection, investigation, testing, sampling, monitoring and entry respecting water contaminant and point sources as may be required for approval of such a program pursuant to any federal water pollution control act;

(25) Take any action necessary to implement continuing planning processes and areawide waste treatment management as established pursuant to any federal water pollution control act or sections 644.006 to 644.141;

(26) Exercise general supervision of the department as the sole designated state agency with authority to administer the federal Clean Water Act in the state of Missouri, which shall include authority to approve any stream or wetland mitigation used in connection with any section 401 water quality certification.

2. No rule or portion of a rule promulgated pursuant to this chapter shall become effective unless it has been promulgated pursuant to chapter 536.

644.051. 1. It is unlawful for any person:

(1) To cause pollution of any waters of the state or to place or cause or permit to be placed any water contaminant in a location where it is reasonably certain to cause pollution of any waters of the state;

(2) To discharge any water contaminants into any waters of the state which reduce the quality of such waters below the water quality standards established by the commission;

(3) To violate any pretreatment and toxic material control regulations, or to discharge any water contaminants into any waters of the state which exceed effluent regulations or permit provisions as established by the commission or required by any federal water pollution control act;

(4) To discharge any radiological, chemical, or biological warfare agent or high-level radioactive waste into the waters of the state.

2. It shall be unlawful for any person to operate, use or maintain any water contaminant or point source in this state that is subject to standards, rules or regulations promulgated pursuant to the provisions of sections 644.006 to 644.141 unless such person holds an operating permit from the commission, subject to such exceptions as the commission may prescribe by rule or regulation. However, no operating permit shall be required of any person for any emission into publicly owned treatment facilities or into publicly owned sewer systems tributary to publicly owned treatment works.

3. It shall be unlawful for any person to construct, build, replace or make major modification to any point source or collection system that is principally designed to convey or discharge human sewage to waters of the state, unless such person obtains a construction permit from the commission, except as provided in this section. The following activities shall be excluded from construction permit requirements:

- (1) Facilities greater than one million gallons per day that are authorized through a local supervised program, and are not receiving any department financial assistance;
- (2) All sewer extensions or collection projects that are one thousand feet in length or less with fewer than two lift stations;
- (3) All sewer collection projects that are authorized through a local supervised program; and
- (4) Any other exclusions the commission may promulgate by rule.

[However, nothing shall prevent the department from taking action to assure protection of the environment and human health.] A construction permit may be required [where necessary as determined by the department, including] by the department in the following circumstances:

- (a) Substantial deviation from the commission's design standards;
- (b) To [correct] address noncompliance;
- (c) When an unauthorized discharge has occurred or has the potential to occur; or
- (d) To correct a violation of water quality standards.

In addition, any point source that proposes to construct an earthen storage structure to hold, convey, contain, store or treat domestic, agricultural, or industrial process wastewater also shall be subject to the construction permit provisions of this subsection. All other construction-related activities at point sources shall be exempt from the construction permit requirements. All activities that are exempted from the construction permit requirement are subject to the following conditions:

- a. Any point source system designed to hold, convey, contain, store or treat domestic, agricultural or industrial process wastewater shall be designed by a professional engineer registered in Missouri in accordance with the commission's design rules;
- b. Such point source system shall be constructed in accordance with the registered professional engineer's design and plans; and
- c. Such point source system may receive a post-construction site inspection by the department prior to receiving operating permit approval. A site inspection may be performed by the department, upon receipt of a complete operating permit application or submission of an engineer's statement of work complete.

A governmental unit may apply to the department for authorization to operate a local supervised program, and the department may authorize such a program. A local supervised program would recognize the governmental unit's engineering capacity and ability to conduct engineering work, supervise construction and maintain compliance with relevant operating permit requirements.

4. Before issuing any permit required by this section, the director shall issue such notices, conduct such hearings, and consider such factors, comments and recommendations as required by sections 644.006 to 644.141 or any federal water pollution control act. The director shall determine if any state or any provisions of any federal water pollution control act the state is required to enforce, any state or federal effluent limitations or regulations, water quality-related effluent limitations, national standards of performance, toxic and pretreatment standards, or water quality standards which apply to the source, or any such standards in the vicinity of the source, are being exceeded, and shall determine the impact on such water quality standards from the source. The director, in order to effectuate the purposes of sections 644.006 to 644.141, shall deny a permit if the source will violate any such acts, regulations, limitations or standards or will appreciably affect the water quality standards or the water quality standards are being substantially exceeded, unless the permit is issued with such conditions as to make the source comply with such requirements within an acceptable time schedule.

5. The director shall grant or deny the permit within sixty days after all requirements of the Federal Water Pollution Control Act concerning issuance of permits have been satisfied unless the application does not require any permit pursuant to any federal water pollution control act. The director or the commission may require the applicant to provide and maintain such facilities or to conduct such tests and monitor effluents as necessary to determine the nature, extent, quantity or degree of water contaminant discharged or released from the source, establish and maintain records and make reports regarding such determination.

6. The director shall promptly notify the applicant in writing of his or her action and if the permit is denied state the reasons therefor. The applicant may appeal to the commission from the denial of a permit or from any condition in any permit by filing notice of appeal with the commission within thirty days of the notice of denial or issuance of the permit. After a final action is taken on a new or reissued general permit, a potential applicant for the general permit who can demonstrate that he or she is or may be adversely affected by any permit term or condition may appeal the terms and conditions of the general permit within thirty days of the department's issuance of the general permit. In no event shall a permit constitute permission to violate the law or any standard, rule or regulation promulgated pursuant thereto.

7. In any hearing held pursuant to this section that involves a permit, license, or registration, the burden of proof is on the party specified in section 640.012. Any decision of the commission made pursuant to a hearing held pursuant to this section is subject to judicial review as provided in section 644.071.

8. In any event, no permit issued pursuant to this section shall be issued if properly objected to by the federal government or any agency authorized to object pursuant to any federal water pollution control act unless the application does not require any permit pursuant to any federal water pollution control act.

9. Permits may be modified, reissued, or terminated at the request of the permittee. All requests shall be in writing and shall contain facts or reasons supporting the request.

10. No manufacturing or processing plant or operating location shall be required to pay more than one operating fee. Operating permits shall be issued for a period not to exceed five years after date of issuance, except that general permits shall be issued for a five-year period, and also except that neither a construction nor an annual permit shall be required for a single residence's waste treatment facilities. Applications for renewal of a site-specific operating permit shall be filed at least one hundred eighty days prior to the expiration of the existing permit. Applications seeking to renew coverage under a general permit shall be submitted at least thirty days prior to the expiration of the general permit, unless the permittee has been notified by the director that an earlier application must be made. General permits may be applied for and issued electronically once made available by the director.

11. Every permit issued to municipal or any publicly owned treatment works or facility shall require the permittee to provide the clean water commission with adequate notice of any substantial new introductions of water contaminants or pollutants into such works or facility from any source for which such notice is required by sections 644.006 to 644.141 or any federal water pollution control act. Such permit shall also require the permittee to notify the clean water commission of any substantial change in volume or character of water contaminants or pollutants being introduced into its treatment works or facility by a source which was introducing water contaminants or pollutants into its works at the time of issuance of the permit. Notice must describe the quality and quantity of effluent being introduced or to be introduced into such works or facility by a source which was introducing water contaminants or pollutants into its works at the time of issuance of the permit. Notice must describe the quality and quantity of effluent being introduced or to be introduced into such works or facility and the anticipated impact of such introduction on the quality or quantity of effluent to be released from such works or facility into waters of the state.

12. The director or the commission may require the filing or posting of a bond as a condition for the issuance of permits for construction of temporary or future water treatment facilities or facilities that utilize innovative technology for wastewater treatment in an amount determined by the commission to be sufficient to ensure compliance with all provisions of sections 644.006 to 644.141, and any rules or regulations of the commission and any condition as to such construction in the permit. For the purposes of this section, “innovative technology for wastewater treatment” shall mean a completely new and generally unproven technology in the type or method of its application that bench testing or theory suggest has environmental, efficiency, and cost benefits beyond the standard technologies. No bond shall be required for designs approved by any federal agency or environmental regulatory agency of another state. The bond shall be signed by the applicant as principal, and by a corporate surety licensed to do business in the state of Missouri and approved by the commission. The bond shall remain in effect until the terms and conditions of the permit are met and the provisions of sections 644.006 to 644.141 and rules and regulations promulgated pursuant thereto are complied with.

13. (1) The department shall issue or deny applications for construction and site-specific operating permits received after January 1, 2001, within one hundred eighty days of the department’s receipt of an application. For general construction and operating permit applications received after January 1, 2001, that do not require a public participation process, the department shall issue or deny the permits within sixty days of the department’s receipt of an application. For an application seeking coverage under a renewed general permit that does not require an individual public participation process, the director shall issue or deny the permit within sixty days of the director’s receipt of the application, or upon issuance of the general permit, whichever is later. In regard to an application seeking coverage under an initial general permit that does not require an individual public participation process, the director shall issue or deny the permit within sixty days of the department’s receipt of the application. For an application seeking coverage under a renewed general permit that requires an individual public participation process, the director shall issue or deny the permit within ninety days of the director’s receipt of the application, or upon issuance of the general permit, whichever is later. In regard to an application for an initial general permit that requires an individual public participation process, the director shall issue or deny the permit within ninety days of the director’s receipt of the application.

(2) If the department fails to issue or deny with good cause a construction or operating permit application within the time frames established in subdivision (1) of this subsection, the department shall refund the full amount of the initial application fee within forty-five days of failure to meet the established time frame. If the department fails to refund the application fee within forty-five days, the refund amount shall accrue interest at a rate established pursuant to section 32.065.

(3) Permit fee disputes may be appealed to the commission within thirty days of the date established in subdivision (2) of this subsection. If the applicant prevails in a permit fee dispute appealed to the commission, the commission may order the director to refund the applicant’s permit fee plus interest and reasonable attorney’s fees as provided in sections 536.085 and 536.087. A refund of the initial application or annual fee does not waive the applicant's responsibility to pay any annual fees due each year following issuance of a permit.

(4) No later than December 31, 2001, the commission shall promulgate regulations defining shorter review time periods than the time frames established in subdivision (1) of this subsection, when appropriate, for different classes of construction and operating permits. In no case shall commission regulations adopt permit review times that exceed the time frames established in subdivision (1) of this subsection. The department's failure to comply with the commission's permit review time periods shall result in a refund of said permit fees as set forth in subdivision (2) of this subsection. On a semiannual basis, the department shall submit to the commission a report which describes the different classes of permits and reports on the number of days it took the department to issue each permit from the date of receipt of the application and show averages for each different class of permits.

(5) During the department's technical review of the application, the department may request the applicant submit supplemental or additional information necessary for adequate permit review. The department's technical review letter shall contain a sufficient description of the type of additional information needed to comply with the application requirements.

(6) Nothing in this subsection shall be interpreted to mean that inaction on a permit application shall be grounds to violate any provisions of sections 644.006 to 644.141 or any rules promulgated pursuant to sections 644.006 to 644.141.

14. The department shall respond to all requests for individual certification under Section 401 of the Federal Clean Water Act within the lesser of sixty days or the allowed response period established pursuant to applicable federal regulations without request for an extension period unless such extension is determined by the commission to be necessary to evaluate significant impacts on water quality standards and the commission establishes a timetable for completion of such evaluation in a period of no more than one hundred eighty days.

15. All permit fees generated pursuant to this chapter shall not be used for the development or expansion of total maximum daily loads studies on either the Missouri or Mississippi rivers.

16. The department shall implement permit shield provisions equivalent to the permit shield provisions implemented by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency pursuant to the Clean Water Act, Section 402(k), 33 U.S.C. 1342(k), and its implementing regulations, for permits issued pursuant to chapter 644.

17. Prior to the development of a new general permit or reissuance of a general permit for aquaculture, land disturbance requiring a storm water permit, or reissuance of a general permit under which fifty or more permits were issued under a general permit during the immediately preceding five-year period for a designated category of water contaminant sources, the director shall implement a public participation process complying with the following minimum requirements:

(1) For a new general permit or reissuance of a general permit, a general permit template shall be developed for which comments shall be sought from permittees and other interested persons prior to issuance of the general permit;

(2) The director shall publish notice of his intent to issue a new general permit or reissue a general permit by posting notice on the department's website at least one hundred eighty days before the proposed effective date of the general permit;

(3) The director shall hold a public informational meeting to provide information on anticipated permit conditions and requirements and to receive informal comments from permittees and other interested persons. The director shall include notice of the public informational meeting with the notice of intent to issue a new general permit or reissue a general permit under subdivision (2) of this subsection. The notice of the public informational meeting, including the date, time and location, shall be posted on the department's website at least thirty days in advance of the public meeting. If the meeting is being held for reissuance of a general permit, notice shall also be made by electronic mail to all permittees holding the current general permit which is expiring. Notice to current permittees shall be made at least twenty days prior to the public meeting;

(4) The director shall hold a thirty-day public comment period to receive comments on the general permit template with the thirty-day comment period expiring at least sixty days prior to the effective date of the general permit. Scanned copies of the comments received during the public comment period shall be posted on the department's website within five business days after close of the public comment period;

(5) A revised draft of a general permit template and the director's response to comments submitted during the public comment period shall be posted on the department's website at least forty-five days prior to issuance of the general permit. At least forty-five days prior to issuance of the general permit the department shall notify all persons who submitted comments to the department that these documents have been posted to the department's website;

(6) Upon issuance of a new or renewed general permit, the general permit shall be posted to the department's website.

18. Notices required to be made by the department pursuant to subsection 17 of this section may be made by electronic mail. The department shall not be required to make notice to any permittee or other person who has not provided a current electronic mail address to the department. In the event the department chooses to make material modifications to the general permit before its expiration, the department shall follow the public participation process described in subsection 17 of this section.

19. The provisions of subsection 17 of this section shall become effective beginning January 1, 2013.

644.057. Notwithstanding any statutory fee amounts or maximums to the contrary, the director of the department of natural resources may conduct a comprehensive review [of] and propose changes to the clean water fee structure set forth in sections 644.052 [and], 644.053, and 644.061. The comprehensive review shall include stakeholder meetings in order to solicit stakeholder input from each of the following groups: agriculture, industry, municipalities, public and private wastewater facilities, and the development community. Upon completion of the comprehensive review, the department shall submit a proposed [changes to the] fee structure with stakeholder agreement to the clean water commission. The commission shall[, upon receiving the department's recommendations,] review such recommendations at the forthcoming regular or special meeting [under subsection 3 of section 644.021], but shall not vote on the fee structure until a subsequent meeting. [The commission shall not take a vote on the clean water fee structure recommendations until the following regular or special meeting.] In no case shall the clean water commission adopt or recommend any clean water fee in excess of five thousand dollars. If the commission approves, by vote of two-thirds majority or five of seven commissioners, the [clean water] fee structure recommendations, the commission shall [promulgate by regulation and publish the recommended clean water fee structure no later than October first of the same year. The commission shall] authorize the department to file a notice of proposed rulemaking containing the recommended fee structure, and after considering public comments, may authorize the department to file the order of rulemaking for such rule with the joint committee on administrative rules pursuant to sections 536.021 and 536.024 no later than December first of the same year. If such rules are not disapproved by the general assembly in the manner set out below, they shall take effect on January first of the [next odd-numbered] following calendar year and the fee structures set forth in sections 644.052 [and], 644.053, and 644.061 shall expire upon the effective date of the commission-adopted fee structure, contrary to section 644.054. Any regulation promulgated under this subsection shall be deemed to be beyond the scope and authority provided in this subsection, or detrimental to permit applicants, if the general assembly, within the first sixty calendar days of the regular session immediately following the [promulgation] filing of such regulation[, by concurrent resolution, shall disapprove the fee structure contained in such regulation] disapproves the regulation by concurrent resolution. If the general assembly so disapproves any regulation [promulgated] filed under this subsection, the [clean water commission shall continue to use the fee structure set forth in the most recent preceding regulation promulgated under this subsection.] department and the commission shall not implement the proposed fee structure and shall continue to use the previous fee structure. The authority of the commission to further revise the fee structure provided by this section shall expire on August 28, [2023] 2024.

644.058. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 644.026 to the contrary, in promulgating water quality standards, the commission shall only revise water quality standards upon the completion of an assessment by the department finding that there is an environmental need for such revision. As part of the implementation of any revised water quality standards modifications of twenty-five percent or more, the department shall conduct an evaluation which shall include the environmental and economic impacts of the revised water quality standards on a subbasin basis. This evaluation shall be conducted at the eight-digit hydrologic unit code level. The department shall document these evaluations and use them in making individual site-specific permit decisions.

644.145. 1. When issuing permits under this chapter that incorporate a new requirement for discharges from publicly owned combined or separate sanitary or storm sewer systems or treatment works, or when enforcing provisions of this chapter or the Federal Water Pollution Control Act, 33 U.S.C. 1251, et seq., pertaining to any portion of a publicly owned combined or separate sanitary or storm sewer system or treatment works, the department of natural resources shall make a finding of affordability on the costs to be incurred and the impact of any rate changes on ratepayers upon which to base such permits and decisions, to the extent allowable under this chapter and the Federal Water Pollution Control Act.

2. (1) The department of natural resources shall not be required under this section to make a finding of affordability when:

(a) Issuing collection system extension permits;

(b) Issuing National Pollution Discharge Elimination System operating permit renewals which include no new environmental requirements; or

(c) The permit applicant certifies that the applicable requirements are affordable to implement or otherwise waives the requirement for an affordability finding; however, at no time shall the department require that any applicant certify, as a condition to approving any permit, administrative or civil action, that a requirement, condition, or penalty is affordable.

(2) The exceptions provided under paragraph (c) of subdivision (1) of this subsection do not apply when the community being served has less than three thousand three hundred residents.

3. When used in this chapter and in standards, rules and regulations promulgated pursuant to this chapter, the following words and phrases mean:

(1) “Affordability”, with respect to payment of a utility bill, a measure of whether an individual customer or household with an income equal to the lower of the median household income for their community or the state of Missouri can pay the bill without undue hardship or unreasonable sacrifice in the essential lifestyle or spending patterns of the individual or household, taking into consideration the criteria described in subsection 4 of this section;

(2) “Financial capability”, the financial capability of a community to make investments necessary to make water quality-related improvements;

(3) “Finding of affordability”, a department statement as to whether an individual or a household receiving as income an amount equal to the lower of the median household income for the applicant community or the state of Missouri would be required to make unreasonable sacrifices in their essential lifestyle or spending patterns or undergo hardships in order to make the projected monthly payments for sewer services. The department shall make a statement that the proposed changes meet the definition of affordable, or fail to meet the definition of affordable, or are implemented as a federal mandate regardless of affordability.

4. The department of natural resources shall adopt procedures by which it will make affordability findings that evaluate the affordability of permit requirements and enforcement actions described in subsection 1 of this section, and may begin implementing such procedures prior to promulgating implementing regulations. The commission shall have the authority to promulgate rules to implement this section pursuant to chapters 536 and 644, and shall promulgate such rules as soon as practicable. Affordability findings shall be based upon reasonably verifiable data and shall include an assessment of affordability with respect to persons or entities affected. The department shall offer the permittee an opportunity to review a draft affordability finding, and the permittee may suggest changes and provide additional supporting information, subject to subsection 6 of this section. The finding shall be based upon the following criteria:

(1) A community’s financial capability and ability to raise or secure necessary funding;

(2) Affordability of pollution control options for the individuals or households at or below the median household income level of the community;

(3) An evaluation of the overall costs and environmental benefits of the control technologies;

(4) Inclusion of ongoing costs of operating and maintaining the existing wastewater collection and treatment system, including payments on outstanding debts for wastewater collection and treatment systems when calculating projected rates;

(5) An inclusion of ways to reduce economic impacts on distressed populations in the community, including but not limited to low- and fixed-income populations. This requirement includes but is not limited to:

(a) Allowing adequate time in implementation schedules to mitigate potential adverse impacts on distressed populations resulting from the costs of the improvements and taking into consideration local community economic considerations; and

(b) Allowing for reasonable accommodations for regulated entities when inflexible standards and fines would impose a disproportionate financial hardship in light of the environmental benefits to be gained;

There is hereby created the “Amber Alert System Oversight Committee”, whose primary duty shall be to develop criteria and procedures for the Amber alert system and shall be housed within the department of public safety. The committee shall regularly review the function of the Amber alert system and revise its criteria and procedures in cooperation with the department of public safety to provide for efficient and effective public notification and meet at least annually to discuss potential improvements to the Amber alert system. As soon as practicable, the committee shall adopt criteria and procedures to expand the Amber alert system to provide urgent public alerts related to homeland security, criminal acts, health emergencies, and other imminent dangers to the public health and welfare.

2. The Amber alert system oversight committee shall consist of ten members of which seven members shall be appointed by the governor with the advice and consent of the senate. Further amend said bill by amending the title, enacting clause, and intersectional references accordingly.

Also,

Mr. President: I am instructed by the House of Representatives to inform the Senate that the House has taken up and passed HCS for SB 696, entitled:

An Act to repeal sections 302.535, 304.351, and 578.120, RSMo, and to enact in lieu thereof four new sections relating to motor vehicles, with penalty provisions.

With House Amendment No. 1.

HOUSE AMENDMENT NO. 1

Amend House Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 696, Page 1, Section A, Line 3, by inserting immediately after said line the following:

“301.067. 1. For each trailer or semitrailer there shall be paid an annual fee of seven dollars fifty cents, and in addition thereto such permit fee authorized by law against trailers used in combination with tractors operated under the supervision of the motor carrier and railroad safety division of the department of economic development. The fees for tractors used in any combination with trailers or semitrailers or both trailers and semitrailers (other than on passenger-carrying trailers or semitrailers) shall be computed on the total gross weight of the vehicles in the combination with load.

2. Any trailer or semitrailer may at the option of the registrant be registered for a period of three years upon payment of a registration fee of twenty-two dollars and fifty cents.

3. Any trailer as defined in section 301.010 or semitrailer [which is operated coupled to a towing vehicle by a fifth wheel and kingpin assembly or by a trailer converter dolly] may, at the option of the registrant, be registered permanently upon the payment of a registration fee of fifty-two dollars and fifty cents. The permanent plate and registration fee is vehicle specific. The plate and the registration fee paid is nontransferable and nonrefundable, except those covered under the provisions of section 301.442.

301.227. 1. Whenever a vehicle is sold for salvage, dismantling or rebuilding, the purchaser shall forward to the director of revenue within ten days the certificate of ownership or salvage certificate of title and the proper application and fee of eight dollars and fifty cents, and the director shall issue a negotiable salvage certificate of title to the purchaser of the salvaged vehicle. On vehicles purchased during a year that is no more than six years after the manufacturer's model year designation for such vehicle, it shall be mandatory that the purchaser apply for a salvage title. On vehicles purchased during a year that is more than six years after the manufacturer's model year designation for such vehicle, then application for a salvage title shall be optional on the part of the purchaser. Whenever a vehicle is sold for destruction and a salvage certificate of title, junking certificate, or certificate of ownership exists, the seller, if licensed under sections 301.217 to 301.221, shall forward the certificate to the director of revenue within ten days, with the notation of the date sold for destruction and the name of the purchaser clearly shown on the face of the certificate.

2. Whenever a vehicle is classified as "junk", as defined in section 301.010, the purchaser may forward to the director of revenue the salvage certificate of title or certificate of ownership and the director shall issue a negotiable junking certificate [to the purchaser of the vehicle] which shall authorize the holder to possess, transport, or, by assignment, transfer ownership in such parts, scrap, or junk. The director may also issue a junking certificate to a possessor of a vehicle manufactured twenty-six years or more prior to the current model year who has a bill of sale for said vehicle but does not possess a certificate of ownership, provided no claim of theft has been made on the vehicle and the highway patrol has by letter stated the vehicle is not listed as stolen after checking the registration number through its nationwide computer system. Such certificate may be granted within thirty days of the submission of a request.

3. [Upon receipt of a properly completed application for a junking certificate, the director of revenue shall issue to the applicant a junking certificate which shall authorize the holder to possess, transport, or, by assignment, transfer ownership in such parts, scrap or junk, and a certificate of title shall not again be issued for such vehicle; except that, the initial purchaser] Notwithstanding any other provision of law, for any vehicle with a junk or substantially equivalent designation, whether so designated in Missouri or any other state, regardless of whether such designation has been subsequently changed erroneously or by law in this or any other state, the department shall only issue a junking certificate, and a salvage or original certificate of title shall not thereafter be issued for such vehicle. If the vehicle has not previously been designated as junk or any other substantially equivalent designation from this state or any other state, the applicant making the original junking certification application shall, within ninety days, be allowed to rescind [his] the application for a junking certificate by surrendering the junking certificate and apply for a salvage certificate of title in [his] the applicant's name. The seller of a vehicle for which a junking certificate has been applied for or issued shall disclose such fact in writing to any prospective buyers before sale of such vehicle; otherwise the sale shall be voidable at the option of the buyer.

4. No scrap metal operator shall acquire or purchase a motor vehicle or parts thereof without, at the time of such acquisition, receiving the original certificate of title or salvage certificate of title or junking certificate from the seller of the vehicle or parts, unless the seller is a licensee under sections 301.219 to 301.221.

5. All titles and certificates required to be received by scrap metal operators from nonlicensees shall be forwarded by the operator to the director of revenue within ten days of the receipt of the vehicle or parts.

6. The scrap metal operator shall keep a record, for three years, of the seller's name and address, the salvage business license number of the licensee, date of purchase, and any vehicle or parts identification numbers open for inspection as provided in section 301.225.

7. Notwithstanding any other provision of this section, a motor vehicle dealer as defined in section 301.550 and licensed under the provisions of sections 301.550 to 301.572 may negotiate one reassignment of a salvage certificate of title on the back thereof.

8. Notwithstanding the provisions of subsection 1 of this section, an insurance company which settles a claim for a stolen vehicle may apply for and shall be issued a negotiable salvage certificate of title without the payment of any fee upon proper application within thirty days after settlement of the claim for such stolen vehicle. However, if the insurance company upon recovery of a stolen vehicle determines that the stolen vehicle has not sustained damage to the extent that the vehicle would have otherwise been declared a salvage vehicle pursuant to subdivision (51) of section 301.010, then the insurance company may have the vehicle inspected by the Missouri state highway patrol, or other law enforcement agency authorized by the director of revenue, in accordance with the inspection provisions of subsection 9 of section 301.190. Upon receipt of title application, applicable fee, the completed inspection, and the return of any previously issued negotiable salvage certificate, the director shall issue an original title with no salvage or prior salvage designation. Upon the issuance of an original title the director shall remove any indication of the negotiable salvage title previously issued to the insurance company from the department's electronic records.

9. Notwithstanding subsection 4 of this section or any other provision of the law to the contrary, if a motor vehicle is inoperable and is at least ten model years old, or the parts are from a motor vehicle that is inoperable and is at least ten model years old, a scrap metal operator may purchase or acquire such motor vehicle or parts without receiving the original certificate of title, salvage certificate of title, or junking certificate from the seller of the vehicle or parts, provided the scrap metal operator verifies with the department of revenue, via the department's online record access, that the motor vehicle is not subject to any recorded security interest or lien and the scrap metal operator complies with the requirements of this subsection. In lieu of forwarding certificates of titles for such motor vehicles as required by subsection 5 of this section, the scrap metal operator shall forward a copy of the seller's state identification along with a bill of sale to the department of revenue. The bill of sale form shall be designed by the director and such form shall include, but not be limited to, a certification that the motor vehicle is at least ten model years old, is inoperable, is not subject to any recorded security interest or lien, and a certification by the seller that the seller has the legal authority to sell or otherwise transfer the seller's interest in the motor vehicle or parts. Upon receipt of the information required by this subsection, the department of revenue shall cancel any certificate of title and registration for the motor vehicle. If the motor vehicle is inoperable and at least twenty model years old, then the scrap metal operator shall not be required to verify with the department of revenue whether the motor vehicle is subject to any recorded security interests or liens. As used in this subsection, the term “inoperable” means a motor vehicle that is in a rusted, wrecked, discarded, worn out, extensively damaged, dismantled, and mechanically inoperative condition and the vehicle’s highest and best use is for scrap purposes. The director of the department of revenue is directed to promulgate rules and regulations to implement and administer the provisions of this section, including but not limited to, the development of a uniform bill of sale. Any rule or portion of a rule, as that term is defined in section 536.010, that is created under the authority delegated in this section shall become effective only if it complies with and is subject to all of the provisions of chapter 536 and, if applicable, section 536.028. This section and chapter 536 are nonseverable and if any of the powers vested with the general assembly pursuant to chapter 536 to review, to delay the effective date, or to disapprove and annul a rule are subsequently held unconstitutional, then the grant of rulemaking authority and any rule proposed or adopted after August 28, 2012, shall be invalid and void.”; and

Further amend said bill by amending the title, enacting clause, and intersectional references accordingly.

In which the concurrence of the Senate is respectfully requested.

COMMUNICATIONS FROM THE GOVERNOR

The following communications, regarding vetoed Senate Bills were received by the Secretary of State, reading of which was waived:

GOVERNOR OF MISSOURI

TO THE SECRETARY OF STATE OF THE STATE OF MISSOURI

Herewith I return to you Conference Committee Substitute for House Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 662 entitled:

AN ACT

To repeal sections 143.451, 144.021, and 144.080, RSMo, and to enact in lieu thereof four new sections relating to taxation, with existing penalty provisions.

I disapprove of Conference Committee Substitute for House Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 662. My reasons for disapproval are as follows:

Conference Committee Substitute for House Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 662 would continue a damaging trend by the General Assembly to enact special tax exemptions and credits that pick winners and losers through the tax code and shift a greater proportion of the tax burden to the majority of Missourians unable to utilize such loopholes. Not a penny of the special breaks in this bill or in the others that I am vetoing today¹ was taken into account in the Fiscal Year 2015 budget passed by the General Assembly, leaving it significantly out of balance and requiring swift action to protect the State's fiscal well-being. This is fiscally irresponsible and cannot receive my support.

In enacting Conference Committee Substitute for House Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 662 and its brethren in the final hours of the legislative session, the General Assembly disregarded the normal legislative process, slipping in costly provisions without public hearings and without fiscal notes reflecting the impact on the state budget. And just as legislators ignored the legislative process, so too did they disregard the budget process by passing a budget just a week earlier that failed to account for this final day spending spree. Unlike the fiscal impact of Senate Substitute No. 3 for Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill Nos. 509 & 496, which today's lawmakers have conveniently foisted off on future budgets for education, public safety and other vital public services, the fiscal impact of the special breaks I am vetoing today would begin impacting budgets in the fiscal year starting in less than 30 days. There are no delays, triggers, or other gimmicks that could be touted as shielding education, public safety, and other vital public services, at both the state and local level,² from the projected $776 million in state and local revenue legislators voted to send to narrow special interests on the last day of session. While the General Assembly may have abdicated its fiscal responsibilities in failing to account for this budgetary impact, the resulting imbalance cannot be ignored and will have to be corrected through dramatic spending reductions.

Conference Committee Substitute for House Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 662 and the other measures I am vetoing today would add to the more than 260 sales tax exemptions and tax credits that litter Missouri's tax code without requiring the creation of a single new job. The continued erosion of the tax base through such individualized exemptions and credits violates well-established principles of sound tax policy calling for a broad tax base so that tax rates can remain low. The General Assembly has ignored repeated calls to reduce these costly and inefficient carve-outs and has instead rushed through many more, leaving Missouri families to pick up the tab for education and vital public services.

The unabated growth of such special carve-outs and the fiscal irresponsibility of failing to budget for them are all the more troubling when the General Assembly is simultaneously seeking to raise taxes on all Missourians with what could be the largest tax hike in Missouri history. While the benefits of the more than one billion dollars in annual tax breaks passed by the legislature over the past two months will go disproportionately to the wealthy, the burden of this multi-billion dollar tax increase for transportation would fall disproportionately on Missouri's working families and seniors.

The special breaks in Conference Committee Substitute for House Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 662 and the other bills that I am vetoing today are not the mere clarifications that their supporters claim. Instead, they seek to overrule no fewer than twenty Missouri Supreme Court decisions going back to 1977 that have been followed by the department of revenue over the course previous and current administrations. In nearly every one of the cases sought to be overturned, the court ruled that the law enacted by the General Assembly required a tax to be collected, notwithstanding that a particular businesses had hoped to be excused from the legal obligations we all share. While it is well within the rights of a losing litigant to petition their elected representatives, it is wholly disingenuous to call doing so here anything other than what it is—seeking a special exemption from the law, as currently written and as confirmed by the courts.

Throughout my time as Governor, I have worked with legislators on fiscally responsible ways to improve our tax code while protecting our state's fiscal health, including the four tax cuts that I have signed into law. Even during this legislative session, I worked directly with legislators to put forward a specific, concrete proposal that would have lowered taxes for Missourians and reined in costly and inefficient tax credits for special interests, broadened the overall tax base and reduced tax rates, while protecting our ability to invest in education and other vital public services. Unfortunately, the General Assembly refused to enact this broad tax relief in favor of narrow giveaways like those contained in Conference Committee Substitute for House Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 662 and the other bills I am vetoing today. For the reasons stated herein, this is an endeavor I cannot support.

Retroactive Immunity

Conference Committee Substitute for House Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 662 would mandate governmental notification before a business is under any legal obligation to collect and remit sales tax under an administrative or judicial decision that modifies the items subject to tax. As with the various other tax measures the General Assembly rushed through on the last day of session, the Fiscal Year 2015 budget they enacted fails to account for the reduction in revenue that would result from this provision.³

Mandatory governmental notification before a law applies would turn on its head the long-standing principle of our democracy that individuals are presumed to know the law. It is one thing to require the government to provide information about recent developments in the law so that those affected can adjust their prospective conduct accordingly, but it is quite another to condition whether that law even applies on whether someone has received a personal notification of the law's existence. This kind of governmental paternalism is unprecedented. This legislative session alone the General Assembly passed nearly 200 bills modifying thousands of pages of Missouri law that apply to all manner of conduct. The General Assembly should not have to send a letter to every Missourian no power before this legion of new laws takes effect. Similarly, every potential criminal should not have to receive a notice describing this year's revisions to the state's criminal code before they can be prosecuted under it.

² In addition to impacting the general local sales tax imposed under Section 32.085, exemptions from local sales tax would reduce revenue collected through numerous voter-approved local sales taxes that are targeted to specific, community supported needs. Examples include the County Anti-Drug Sales Tax, Sections 67.391, 67.392, RSMo; County Construction Sales Tax, Sections 67.550, 67.590, RSMo; Museums and Festivals Sales Tax, Sections 67.571, 67.578, RSMo; Law Enforcement Services Sales Tax, Sections 67.582, 67.584, 92.500, RSMo; Capital Improvements Sales Tax, Sections 67.700, 67.730, 94.577, 94.578, 94.890, RSMo; Storm Water Control and Public Works Sales Tax, Sections 67.701, 67.729, 94.413, RSMo; Public Recreation Projects and Programs Sales Tax, Sections 67.745, 67.782, RSMo; Regional Recreation Districts Sales Tax, Section 67.799, RSMo; Perry County Senior Services and Youth Programs Sales Tax, Section 67.997, RSMo; Economic Development Sales Tax, Sections 67.1300, 67.1303, 67.1305, 94.1008, 94.1010, 94.1012, RSMo; Community Improvement Districts Sales Tax, Section 67.1545, RSMo; Metropolitan Parks and Recreation Districts Sales Tax, Section 67.1712, RSMo; Children's Services Sales Tax, Section 67.1775, RSMo; Water Quality, Tourism, and Infrastructure Sales Tax, Section 67.1922, RSMo; Tourism Community Enhancement Districts Sales Tax, Section 67.1959, RSMo; Exhibition Center and Recreational Facility Districts Sales Tax, Section 67.2000, RSMo; Tourism Promotion Sales Tax, Section 67.2030, RSMo; Construction of Women's and Children's Shelter Sales Tax, Section 67.2040, RSMo; Theater, Cultural Arts, and Entertainment Districts Sales Tax, Section 67.2530, RSMo; Parks, Trails, and Greenways Districts Sales Tax, Section 67.5012, RSMo; Mass Transit Sales Tax, Section 92.402, RSMo; Public Safety Sales Tax, Sections 94.579, 94.581, 94.900, 94.902, RSMo; Community Center Sales Tax, Section 94.585, RSMo; Transportation Sales Tax, Sections 94.605, 94.660, 94.705, RSMo; Historical Locations and Museums Sales Tax, Section 94.950, RSMo; Medical Care for the Medically Indigent Sales Tax, Section 94.1000, RSMo; Kansas City Zoological District Sales Tax, Sections 94.1000, 184.503, RSMo; Transportation Development District Sales Tax, Section 238.235, RSMo; County Transit Authority Sales Tax, Section 238.410, RSMo; and Storm Water Control and Parks Sales Tax, Section 644.032, RSMo.

³ Conference Committee Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 612, which I am also vetoing today, contains a similar provision, but it does not prohibit a business that was properly collecting tax from claiming a refund for taxes paid prior to receiving the notice confirming their obligation to continue doing so. By expressly prohibiting refunds in such situations, Conference Committee Substitute for House Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 662 would have a significantly lower fiscal impact than the similar provision in Conference Committee Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 612.

This provision in Conference Committee Substitute for House Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 662 also misunderstands the tax law. Although a decision of the director of revenue is listed as an example of a "modification" triggering notification under the bill, the director has no power to finally determine whether an item is taxable or not; that authority lies solely with those who write the tax laws—the General Assembly—and those that finally interpret them—the Missouri Supreme Court. See Mo. Const. Art. V, Sec. 3 (giving the Missouri Supreme Court exclusive appellate jurisdiction over the construction of the revenue laws of this state). Similarly, a decision of the administrative hearing commission is listed as something that can trigger notification under the bill. However, while the administrative hearing commission has the power to hear individual disputes, a decision of that body is not binding beyond the parties, and therefore it cannot finally "modify" what is or is not taxable for other affected sellers.

Although a decision of the Missouri Supreme Court might "change[] which items of tangible personal property or services are taxable" within the meaning of the bill, the decisions that purportedly prompted this provision and many of the new exemptions passed on the final day of the legislative session did not. In each of those cases, the Missouri Supreme Court found that the current law, as enacted by the General Assembly, required a tax to be paid, notwithstanding that a particular business had tried to get out of this legal obligation.⁴ The decisions did not newly subject some item to tax; instead, they simply confirmed that such items were and are taxable. However, there is nothing in the bill preventing a business from arguing that court decisions like these are "modifications" triggering notification to all affected sellers that the Missouri Supreme Court has confirmed that what was always taxable continues to be taxable.

The bill provides far-reaching consequences for such a notification. Under the bill, a failure to notify an affected seller "shall relieve such seller of liability for taxes that would be due under the modification." See Section 144.021.2. Accordingly, receiving a notification gives any business that was not collecting taxes prior to the notice retroactive immunity for taxes that the Missouri Supreme Court has confirmed should have been collected. Under this bill, even the specific business that sought to avoid paying taxes, hired a lawyer to litigate the issue, and lost in court, could argue that it has no tax liability for the taxes the court ordered it to pay prior to being notified about the decision in its own case.

The problems with this provision extend beyond retroactive immunity to the additional governmental intrusion and burden on taxpayers resulting from the requirement to provide a personal notification to each and every affected seller. Such individualized notification will require the department of revenue to more closely and more frequently scrutinize sales data and other business information it obtains and to potentially require additional information in order to determine precisely which businesses might be affected by a given decision. In addition, because addresses, ownership and personal contact information change over time, the department would need to gather updated information more frequently and perhaps maintain a database of such information to ensure cost-effective compliance with the personalized notification requirement of the bill. The need to continually maintain up-to-date information would result in additional burdens for taxpayers that could be avoided with a less onerous, and likely more effective, method of providing generalized notice of updates in the law than the personal notification mandated by Conference Committee Substitute for House Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 662.

If it were to become law, Conference Committee Substitute for House Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 662 would create no shortage of work for tax attorneys and consultants. It provides a clear incentive for businesses to engage in otherwise unnecessary litigation in the hopes of obtaining a "decision" arguably constituting a "modification" in order to trigger individual notification and then retroactive immunity if they were violating the law. Moreover, it will require all taxpayers to bear the cost of staffing and postage to comply with the personal notification mandate, while putting additional burdens on businesses through additional government intrusion into their affairs. While providing up-to-date information to taxpayers is a laudable policy, Conference Committee Substitute for House Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 662 fails to accomplish it and instead puts additional burden on taxpayers and significantly reduces state and local revenue. Accordingly, this measure does not receive my support.

Special Exemption for Personal Seat Licenses

Conference Committee Substitute for House Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 662 would exempt from tax a right of first refusal for tickets sold at the Sprint Center in Kansas City. As with the other new exemptions enacted in this and similar bills, the General Assembly failed to account for the fiscal impact of this exemption in the Fiscal Year 2015 budget they enacted. It is unclear why this activity should receive a new special tax exemption, and it is even more unclear why the General Assembly would pass a special law, potentially violating the Missouri Constitution, in order to effectuate it. Unfortunately, because this provision never received a public hearing, the answer remains as elusive as my support.

Corporate Income Allocation

⁴ This is true whether it was the court reaffirming this year that the tax a laundry first sought to avoid had been in place since at least 1989, see AAA Laundry & Linen Supply Co. v. Director of Revenue, 425 S.W.3d 126, 127 (Mo. banc 2014) (discussing Unitog Rental Services, Inc. v. Director of Revenue, 779 S.W.2d 568 (Mo. banc 1989)), affirming that the General Assembly's laws did not exempt the purchases claimed as tax free by convenience stores, restaurants, or grocery stores, see Aquila Foreign Qualifications Corp. v. Director of Revenue, 362 S.W.3d 1, 2 (Mo. banc 2012); Brinker Missouri, Inc. v. Director of Revenue, 319 S.W.3d 433, 435 (Mo. banc 2010); Union Elec. Co. v. Director of Revenue, 425 S.W.3d 118, 120 (Mo. banc 2014), or clarifying in 2008 that "tax is due for 'fees paid to, or in any place of amusement, entertainment or recreation,'" see Michael Jaudes Fitness Edge, Inc. v. Director of Revenue, 248 S.W.3d 606 (Mo. banc 2008) (affirming denial of refund claim for taxes paid at fitness center based on Wilson's Total Fitness Center, Inc. v. Director of Revenue, 38 S.W.3d 424 (Mo. banc 2001)).

Conference Committee Substitute for House Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 662 would enable additional businesses to reduce their corporate income taxes by utilizing an alternative method of calculating the amount of their income that is derived in Missouri. Legislation enacted last year authorized this alternative allocation method for manufacturers and other businesses selling tangible personal property. This provision would expand this alternative method to sellers of intangible personal property and service providers such as law firms, accounting firms, stock brokers, bond traders, real estate holding companies, and consultants.

Like many of the tax measures enacted during the final hours of the legislative session, this provision was never the subject of a public hearing and was not accounted for in the Fiscal Year 2015 budget passed by the General Assembly. A change to Missouri's tax policy that would reduce state revenues by up to $15 million annually according to the legislature's own estimate should be the subject of open debate, and the foregone revenue must be accounted for in the budget in order to receive my support.

In accordance with the above-stated reasons, I am returning Conference Committee Substitute for House Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 662 without my approval.

TO THE SECRETARY OF STATE OF THE STATE OF MISSOURI

Herewith I return to you Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 829 entitled:

AN ACT

To repeal section 136.300, RSMo, and to enact in lieu thereof one new section relating to tax liability disputes.

I disapprove of Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 829. My reasons for disapproval are as follows:

Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 829 would continue a damaging trend by the General Assembly to enact special tax exemptions and credits that pick winners and losers through the tax code and shift a greater proportion of the tax burden to the majority of Missourians unable to utilize such loopholes. Not a penny of the special breaks that I am vetoing today¹ or the provisions of this bill making such special breaks far easier to exploit was taken into account in the Fiscal Year 2015 budget passed by the General Assembly, leaving it significantly out of balance and requiring swift action to protect the State's fiscal well-being. This is fiscally irresponsible and cannot receive my support.

In enacting Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 829 and its brethren in the final hours of the legislative session, the General Assembly disregarded the normal legislative process, slipping in costly provisions without public hearings and without fiscal notes reflecting the impact on the state budget. And just as legislators ignored the legislative process, so too did they disregard the budget process by passing a budget just a week earlier that failed to account for this final day spending spree. Unlike the fiscal impact of Senate Substitute No. 3 for Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill Nos. 509 & 496, which today's lawmakers have conveniently foisted off on future budgets for education, public safety and vital public services, the fiscal impact of the special breaks I am vetoing today would begin impacting budgets in the fiscal year starting in less than 30 days. There are no delays, triggers, or other gimmicks that could be touted as shielding education, public safety, and other vital public services, at both the state and local level, from the projected $776 million in state and local revenue legislators voted to send to narrow special interests on the last day of session. While the General Assembly may have abdicated its fiscal responsibilities in failing to account for this budgetary impact, the resulting imbalance cannot be ignored and will have to be corrected through dramatic spending reductions.

Throughout my time as Governor, I have worked with legislators on fiscally responsible ways to improve our tax code while protecting our state's fiscal health, including the four tax cuts that I have signed into law. Even during this legislative session, I worked directly with legislators to put forward a specific, concrete proposal that would have lowered taxes for Missourians and reined in costly and inefficient tax credits for special interests, broadened the overall tax base and reduced tax rates, while protecting our ability to invest in education and other vital public services. Unfortunately, the General Assembly refused to enact this broad tax relief in favor of narrow giveaways like those contained in the bills that I am vetoing today and which would be facilitated by Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 829. For the reasons stated herein, this is an endeavor I cannot support.

Proving Eligibility for Tax Exemptions

While the other bills that I am vetoing today create broad new tax exemptions, Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 829 would make these new exemptions, as well as the more than 200 sales tax exemptions in current law, far easier to exploit by no longer requiring a business claiming a tax exemption to prove it is actually eligible for the claimed exemption.

While I support eliminating the arbitrary limitation in current law that puts the burden of proof on some businesses but not others in determining tax liability, when it comes to someone trying to claim a tax exemption, they should at a minimum be required to show that they are entitled to it. Claiming a special carve-out or loophole without evidence to support it is unfair to the vast majority of Missouri taxpayers who lack the influence to get special tax exemptions crafted for them by the General Assembly. With the help of the legislature and the best accounting and legal advice, those fortunate enough to take advantage of special exemptions would now be given every incentive to push the outer boundaries of any exemptions that could conceivably apply, further eroding the tax base and shifting an even greater tax burden to the majority of taxpayers. Not content with merely showering the fortunate with a cavalcade of new tax breaks, the General Assembly has gone further to stack the deck in their favor and to provide an added incentive to try on an exemption just to see if it fits. This is not a tax policy that I can support.

In accordance with the above-stated reasons for disapproval and for the reasons stated in the other veto messages issued this day, I am returning Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 829 without my approval.

Sincerely,
Jeremiah W. (Jay) Nixon

balance and requiring swift action to protect the state's fiscal well-being. This is fiscally irresponsible and cannot receive my support.

In enacting Conference Committee Substitute for House Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 584 and its brethren in the final hours of the legislative session, the General Assembly disregarded the normal legislative process, slipping in costly provisions without public hearings and without fiscal notes reflecting the impact on the state budget. And just as legislators ignored the legislative process, so too did they disregard the budget process by passing a budget just a week earlier that failed to account for this final day spending spree. Unlike the fiscal impact of Senate Substitute No. 3 for Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill Nos. 509 & 496, which today's lawmakers have conveniently foisted off on future budgets for education, public safety and other vital public services, the fiscal impact of the special breaks I am vetoing today would begin impacting budgets in the fiscal year starting in less than 30 days. There are no delays, triggers, or other gimmicks that could be touted as shielding education, public safety, and other vital public services, at both the state and local level,² from the projected $776 million in state and local revenue legislators voted to send to narrow special interests on the last day of session. While the General Assembly may have abdicated its fiscal responsibilities in failing to account for this budgetary impact, the resulting imbalance cannot be ignored and will have to be corrected through dramatic spending reductions.

Conference Committee Substitute for House Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 584 and the other measures I am vetoing today would add to the more than 260 sales tax exemptions and tax credits that litter Missouri's tax code without requiring the creation of a single new job. The continued erosion of the tax base through such individualized exemptions and credits violates well-established principles of sound tax policy calling for a broad tax base so that tax rates can remain low. The General Assembly has ignored repeated calls to reduce these costly and inefficient carve-outs and has instead rushed through many more, leaving Missouri families to pick up the tab for education and other vital public services.

The unabated growth of such special carve-outs and the fiscal irresponsibility of failing to budget for them are all the more troubling when the General Assembly is simultaneously seeking to raise taxes on all Missourians with what could be the largest tax hike in Missouri history. While the benefits of the more than one billion dollars in annual tax breaks passed by the legislature over the past two months will go disproportionately to the wealthy, the burden of this multi-billion dollar tax increase for transportation would fall disproportionately on Missouri's working families and seniors.

The special breaks in Conference Committee Substitute for House Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 584 and the other bills that I am vetoing today are not the mere clarifications that their supporters claim. Instead, they seek to overrule no fewer than twenty Missouri Supreme Court decisions going back to 1977 that have been followed by the department of revenue over the course of previous and current administrations. In nearly every one of the cases sought to be overturned, the court ruled that the law enacted by the General Assembly required a tax to be collected, notwithstanding that a particular business had hoped to be excused from the legal obligations we all share. While it is well within the rights of a losing litigant to petition their elected representatives, it is wholly disingenuous to call doing so here anything other than what it is—seeking a special exemption from the law, as currently written and as confirmed by the courts.

² In addition to impacting the general local sales tax imposed under Section 32.085, exemptions from local sales tax would reduce revenue collected through numerous voter-approved local sales taxes that are targeted to specific, community supported needs. Throughout my time as Governor, I have worked with legislators on fiscally responsible ways to improve our tax code while protecting our state's fiscal health, including the four tax cuts that I have signed into law. Even during this legislative session, I worked directly with legislators to put forward a specific, concrete proposal that would have lowered taxes for Missourians and reined in costly and inefficient tax credits for special interests, broadened the overall tax base and reduced tax rates, while protecting our ability to invest in education and other vital public services. Unfortunately, the General Assembly refused to enact this broad tax relief in favor of narrow giveaways like those contained in Conference Committee Substitute for House Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 584 and the other bills I am vetoing today. For the reasons stated herein, this is an endeavor I cannot support.

Special Exemptions for the Storage and Processing of Data in Any Form

Conference Committee Substitute for House Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 584 would exempt from state and local sales tax electrical energy, machinery, equipment, parts and materials used or consumed in connection with or to facilitate the storage or processing of data in any form in a facility or a part of a facility. These exceedingly broad and completely new state and local sales tax exemptions are not the thoroughly vetted, widely-supported, revenue-neutral incentive for new and expanding data centers that has been introduced in the General Assembly for the past several years.

Although this provision is projected to reduce state and local revenues by an estimated $300 million annually, because it was slipped into the bill in the final hours of the legislative session without a public hearing and without a fiscal note reflecting its cost, it is unlikely legislators were aware of this significant fiscal impact when they voted to enact it. And as with the other new exemptions enacted in Conference Committee Substitute for House Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 584 and the other bills I am vetoing today, the General Assembly failed to account for the resulting reduction in state revenue in the budget they enacted for the fiscal year starting July 1, necessitating spending cuts in order to maintain a balanced a budget.

These new exemptions in Conference Committee Substitute for House Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 584 have been characterized by some as applying only to "data centers." However, such is not the case. The legislation itself does not use the term "data center." Instead, the language is far broader, applying to "any facility or part of a facility that is used primarily for such data storage or processing," which means that any business with a computer could attempt to claim these broad new exemptions. The term "data storage" is undefined, and the term "processing" is broadly defined to encompass "any action or process performed upon or using data in any form." As this definition indicates, it is not merely electronic or other forms of "high tech" data that would be subject to these new exemptions, but rather data "in any form," whether stored in a computer or in a file cabinet.

This broad subsidy stands in stark contrast to legislation that I have supported in the past to provide a revenue-neutral incentive for new and expanding data centers that create new jobs and make new capital investments.³ Such legislation has been introduced in the Missouri General Assembly for the past several years and has been thoroughly debated and vetted through the legislative process. See, e.g. Senate Bill No. 8 (1st Ex. Session 2011); Senate Bill No. 584 (2012); House Bill No. 1311 (2012); Senate Bill No. 46 (2013); Senate Bill No. 394 (2013); House Bill No. 222 (2013); Senate Bill No. 633 (2014); Senate Bill No. 1502 (2014). Indeed, during the past legislative session there was a public hearing on House Bill No. 1444 (2014), which would have enacted this fiscally responsible data center incentive.

Unfortunately, that is not what was inserted into Conference Committee Substitute for House Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 584 in the final hours of the legislative session. Inserted instead was a broad government subsidy without any of the taxpayer protections present in previous legislation and without any requirement to create even a single new job. Specifically, previous data center legislation contained the following protections, none of which is present here:

- Job creation – Required a minimum number of jobs paying at least the county average wage to be created in order for a new or expanding data center to obtain the exemption;
- Capital investment – Required a minimum amount of new capital investment in order for a new or expanding data center to obtain the exemption;
- Revenue neutral – Limited the amount of the sales tax exemption to the amount that would result in a positive general revenue return to the state, thereby ensuring that the exemption would be revenue neutral;

³ Even without a specific data center incentive, Missouri has been successful in recruiting and growing such operations in the state. For example, in April I was pleased to announce the opening of a mission critical data center for a premier cloud computing company in the underground business complex in Northeast Kansas City owned and operated by Hunt Midwest, which will result in the creation of 21 new jobs and $58 million in new capital investment. With the continued growth of high-tech companies like these, it is no wonder that Missouri was the fastest-growing state for technology employment in 2013, even without a dedicated data center incentive.

- New and expanding data centers only – Limited the availability of the sales tax exemption to solely new or expanding data centers, as defined by NAICS classification, to provide an incentive for such facilities to locate or expand in Missouri, not merely a subsidy for all facilities, regardless of whether they are already operating in Missouri; and
- Rigorous oversight – Previous data center legislation required random audits of recipients to ensure that the recipient was actually eligible for the exemption.

In addition to failing to include any of the above taxpayer protections found in previous data center legislation, these broad new exemptions would play favorites with the tax code by providing more generous tax benefits for data storage and processing than is currently available to numerous other types of businesses. First, while the current sales tax exemptions for manufacturers in Section 144.054, RSMo, only apply to state sales taxes, this bill would exempt the same type of purchases for data storage and processing activities from local sales taxes as well. Second, while the current manufacturing sales tax exemptions require the tax-exempt items to be actually used in the manufacturing process, these new exemptions for data storage and processing would apply even if the items are used simply “in connection with” or “to facilitate” the storage and processing of data. This could result in purchases only very loosely connected, if at all, to the actual storage and processing of data being claimed as tax-exempt. Offering these broad new exemptions from state and local tax would treat those who manipulate data better than those who manufacture goods, without a clearly articulated economic justification for doing so, without requiring the creation of a single new job, and without accounting for the impact on state and local budgets. Accordingly, this provision does not receive my support.

Special Exemption for Power Companies

Conference Committee Substitute for House Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 584 would also provide a special carve-out from state and local taxes for purchases of a variety of items used in the generation, transmission, distribution, sale or furnishing of electricity by power companies. This provision is written so broadly that these entities could avoid paying any sales and use tax whatsoever, although there is nothing in the bill that would require them to create any new jobs or to pass the savings along to consumers in the form of reduced electricity rates. These new exemptions would abrogate a 2001 Missouri Supreme Court case, which held that the law enacted by the General Assembly did not authorize such tax exemptions for power companies. See Utilicorp United, Inc. v. Director of Revenue, 75 S.W.3d 725 (Mo. banc 2001) (machinery and equipment used in transmission of electricity not exempt under Section 144.030, RSMo).

Like other tailor-made exemptions in Conference Committee Substitute for House Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 584, these new tax exemptions for power companies were inserted during the final hours of the legislative session without a public hearing in any Senate committee. Although not included in any fiscal note for Conference Committee Substitute for House Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 584, this provision could reduce state revenue by more than $30 million annually, none of which was accounted for by the legislature in the budget they enacted just a week earlier.

Furthermore, there is nothing in this provision to prevent the power companies from claiming exemptions from local sales taxes on top of their exemptions from state taxes, which would result in an additional $30 million annual impact to local revenues. Following its passage, proponents have suggested a narrow interpretation⁴ of the provision to apply only to state taxes because the language is silent as to whether local taxes are also exempted. However, in order to exempt state sales tax and not also exempt the local tax, the legislature must expressly make the exemption inapplicable to local sales tax, as it did in the only current exemption from the state sales taxes that does not also apply to the local sales tax. See Section 155.054.2, RSMo (“The exemptions granted in this subsection shall not apply to local sales taxes as defined in section 32.085 . . .”). It is necessary to expressly exclude the local sales tax because Section 32.087, RSMo, incorporates all state sales tax exemptions to the local sales tax.⁵ The General Assembly acknowledged this in Senate Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute for House Bill No. 1865, which I am also vetoing today, and which sought to provide state-only tax exemptions for certain purchases by fast food restaurants, convenience stores, and grocery stores, by expressly stating that the exemptions do not apply to the local sales tax. See Section 144.055.3 (“The exemptions granted in this section shall not apply to the local sales tax law as defined in section 32.085”). Mere silence as to whether a state sales tax exemption applies to the local sales tax is insufficient to exempt local taxes, as indicated by other state and local sales tax exemptions that only expressly reference an exemption from the state tax. See, e.g., Section 144.030.1, RSMo; Section 144.062, RSMo. Accordingly, there is nothing in the bill to prevent the power companies from one day seeking a refund of local taxes paid after the effective date of the law, significantly impacting the budgets of local communities.

Special Exemptions for Certain Recreation Activities

Conference Committee Substitute for House Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 584 contains a provision that its proponents contend

⁴ There is some irony in urging a narrow interpretation of the new exemptions provided by this bill when in the Missouri Supreme Court case sought to be abrogated the power company argued for an expansive interpretation of the tax exemptions at issue. See Utilicorp United, Inc., 75 S.W.3d at 725-30.

⁵ Section 32.087.8, RSMo, provides:

"All exemptions granted to agencies of government, organizations, persons and to the sale of certain articles and items of tangible personal property and taxable services under the provisions of sections 144.010 to 144.525, as these sections now read and as they may hereafter be amended, it being the intent of this general assembly to ensure that the same sales tax exemptions granted from the state sales tax law also be granted under the local sales tax law, are hereby made applicable to the imposition and collection of all local sales taxes imposed under the local sales tax law."

See also President Casino, Inc. v. Director of Revenue, 219 S.W.3d 235, 241-42 (mo.banc 2007)(highlighting Section 32.087.8 as an example of where, "[t]he legislature has specifically and directly incorporated sales tax exemptions into a number of other tax statutes. . ."). Notably the 97th General Assembly reenacted Section 32.087.8 last year in Senate Bill 99 (2013), Senate Bill 23 (2013), and House Bill 184 (2013), and each time continued the reference to all state sales tax exemptions applying equally to the local tax.

would simply clarify the current sales tax on fitness activities. Instead, this provision seeks to overturn more than a dozen Missouri Supreme Court cases going back to 1977 followed by the department of revenue over the course of previous and current administrations by fundamentally transforming the current sales tax on “amusement, entertainment, and recreation” into a tax solely on tickets and fees for admission.⁶ Such a dramatic change in the law would make far more than just gym memberships and yoga classes tax free. It would also exempt fees paid at bowling alleys, golf courses, pool halls, country clubs, and arcades, as well as encouraging any business that currently charges an admission fee to convert it into a newly tax-exempt fee for a specific activity. Enacting this sweeping new exemption would further erode the tax base without requiring the creation of even a single new job, in addition to reducing state and local revenue for education, public safety and other vital public services by more than $70 million annually. The Fiscal Year 2015 budget passed by the General Assembly fails to account for the cost of these new carve-outs, putting the budget out of balance and necessitating spending reductions in order to balance it.

Tax Refunds to Delinquent Taxpayers

Conference Committee Substitute for House Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 584 would modify the established process for obtaining a sales tax refund by allowing a refund even if a taxpayer currently has overdue taxes. This provision is projected to reduce state and local revenue by up to $10 million annually, although the General Assembly failed to account for any of this fiscal impact in the Fiscal Year 2015 budget they passed. As with many of the tax measures passed by the legislature on the last day of session, this provision was not the subject of a public hearing in any Senate committee.

This provision would enable a business with significant tax delinquencies to get a tax refund for an unrelated overpayment of tax, where under current law the refund could be offset by the amount of tax delinquency. For example, under this provision even a business that owes $100,000 in back taxes would be able to get a refund check from the state for a $100,000 unintentional overpayment, so long as the $100,000 tax delinquency is subject to appeal. Under current law, the $100,000 refund would be offset by the entire $100,000 tax delinquency, thereby eliminating the need to later engage in costly and inefficient collection efforts to recover the $100,000 in overdue taxes. Such a change to the established refund process would unfairly reward those who fail to pay their taxes and would result in costly inefficiencies borne by all law-abiding taxpayers. Accordingly, this provision does not receive my support.

Corporate Income Allocation

Conference Committee Substitute for House Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 584 would enable additional businesses to reduce their corporate income taxes by utilizing an alternative method of calculating the amount of their income that is derived in Missouri. Legislation enacted last year authorized this alternative allocation method for manufacturers and other businesses selling tangible personal property. This provision would expand this alternative method to sellers of intangible personal property and service providers such as law firms, accounting firms, stock brokers, bond traders, real estate holding companies, and consultants.

Like many of the tax measures enacted during the final hours of the legislative session, this provision was never the subject of a public hearing and was not accounted for in the Fiscal Year 2015 budget passed by the General Assembly. A change to Missouri’s tax policy that would reduce state revenues by up to $15 million annually according to the legislature’s own estimate should be the subject of open debate, and the foregone revenue must be accounted for in the budget in order to receive my support.

Proving Eligibility for Tax Exemptions

⁶ The cases abrogated or called into question by this provision include: Michael Jaudes Fitness Edge, Inc. v. Director of Revenue, 248 S.W.3d 606 (Mo. banc 2008) (fees paid for personal training subject to tax as fees paid in or to a place of amusement); Surrey's on the Plaza, Inc. v. Director of Revenue, 128 S.W.3d 508 (Mo. banc 2004) (operation of horse-drawn carriage tours was place of amusement for sales tax purposes); Eighty Hundred Clayton Corp. v. Director of Revenue, 111 S.W.3d 409 (Mo. banc 2003) (fees paid for bowling shoe rental subject to tax when paid in or to a place of amusement); Wilson's Total Fitness Center, Inc. v. Director of Revenue, 38 S.W.3d 424 (Mo. banc 2001) (athletic and fitness clubs are places of amusement for sales tax purposes); Kanakuk-Kanakomo Kamps, Inc. v. Director of Revenue, 8 S.W.3d 94 (Mo. banc 1999) (summer camps are place of amusement for sales tax purposes); Old Warson Country Club v. Director of Revenue, 933 S.W.2d 400 (Mo. banc 1996) (country club is a place of amusement for sales tax purposes); High Adventure Game Ranch, Inc. v. Director of Revenue, 824 S.W.2d 905 (Mo. banc 1992) (wild game ranch is a place of amusement for sales tax purposes); Bally's LeMan's Family Fun Centers, Inc. v. Director of Revenue, 745 S.W.2d 683 (Mo. banc 1988) (video arcade is a place of amusement for sales tax purposes); Spudich v. Director of Revenue, 745 S.W.2d 677 (Mo. banc 1988) (billiards parlor is a place of amusement for sales tax purposes); Lynn v. Director of Revenue, 689 S.W.2d 45 (Mo. banc 1985) (nautical excursion vessel is a place of amusement for sales tax purposes); Fostaire Harbor, Inc. v. Director of Revenue, 679 S.W.2d 272 (Mo. banc 1984) (helicopter tours are a place of amusement for sales tax purposes); City of Springfield v. Director of Revenue, 659 S.W.2d 782 (Mo. banc 1983) (city recreational facilities are a place of amusement for sales tax purposes); St. Louis Country Club v. Administrative Hearing Com'n of Missouri, 657 S.W.2d 614 (Mo. banc 1983) (private country clubs are a place of amusement for sales tax purposes); Blue Springs Bowl v. Spradling, 551 S.W.2d 596 (Mo. banc 1977) (commercial bowling establishment is a place of amusement for sales tax purposes).

Not only would Conference Committee Substitute for House Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 584 create broad new tax exemptions, it would also excuse a business trying to claim these or any of the other 200 sales tax exemptions in current law from having to prove that it is actually eligible for the claimed exemption.

While I support eliminating the arbitrary limitation in current law that puts the burden of proof on some businesses but not others in determining tax liability, when it comes to someone trying to claim a tax exemption, they should at a minimum be required to show that they are entitled to it. Claiming a special carve-out or loophole without evidence to support it is unfair to the vast majority of Missouri taxpayers who lack the influence to get special tax exemptions crafted for them by the General Assembly. With the help of the legislature and the best accounting and legal advice, those fortunate enough to take advantage of special exemptions would now be given every incentive to push the outer boundaries of any exemptions that could conceivably apply, further eroding the tax base and shifting an even greater tax burden to the majority of taxpayers. Not content with merely showering the fortunate with a cavalcade of new tax breaks, the General Assembly has gone further to stack the deck in their favor by providing an added incentive to try on an exemption just to see if it fits. This is not a tax policy that I can support.

In accordance with the above-stated reasons for disapproval, I am returning Conference Committee Substitute for House Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 584 without my approval.

Herewith I return to you Senate Substitute for Senate Bill No. 673 entitled:

AN ACT

To repeal sections 288.060, 288.122, and 288.330, RSMo, and to enact in lieu thereof three new sections relating to employment security.

I disapprove of Senate Substitute for Senate Bill No. 673. My reasons for disapproval are as follows:

Senate Substitute for Senate Bill No. 673 would reduce the benefits that an eligible claimant may receive under our state's unemployment benefits system. It would do so by replacing the maximum number of weeks of unemployment benefits that an eligible claimant can receive, which is currently 20 weeks, through a calculation indexed to the average statewide unemployment rate. Under this new calculation, claimants eligible for unemployment benefits would be limited to no more than 13 weeks of benefits if the average statewide unemployment rate were below 6%. Claimants could only receive the current maximum of 20 weeks of benefits if the statewide average unemployment rate were 9% or higher. This reduction in benefits would unfairly impact eligible claimants, have a disparate impact on regions of the state experiencing slower economic growth and impede economic recovery. This legislation is particularly unnecessary given that the state retired its unemployment trust fund obligations to the federal government last month.

The reduction to 13 weeks mandated under Senate Substitute for Senate Bill No. 673 would occur in a system that is hardly lucrative when measured against the rest of the country. Missouri's average weekly unemployment benefit amount is currently the 46th lowest in the nation. Missouri, at 20 weeks, is one of only eight states that pay less than the national norm of 26 weeks of benefits. If this legislation became law, Missouri, at 13 weeks, would have the third lowest benefit duration in the country, behind only Florida and North Carolina. Missouri's current unemployment benefits system is already among the most restrictive in the country. Measured against the status quo, therefore, the additional limitations mandated by Senate Substitute for Senate Bill No. 673 are clearly unnecessary.

Supporters of Senate Substitute for Senate Bill No. 673 claim the legislation is an attempt to address the solvency of the unemployment trust fund, and cite the state's debt to the federal government incurred to provide benefits during the most recent recession. The need underpinning their purported solution, however, no longer exists. As noted above, last month, the state repaid its obligations to the federal government, and this legislation would do little to curtail the need to borrow during future economic downturns.

Senate Substitute for Senate Bill No. 673 also fails to take into account regional disparities in unemployment rates with a one size fits all approach that would reduce the duration of benefits based on a statewide average rate, while ignoring unique local economic conditions. For example, in February 2014, the unemployment rate for the state was 6.4%, while at the same time ten Missouri counties had an unemployment rate of 10% or higher. Indexing the duration of unemployment benefits to a statewide rate would result in significant reductions in benefits for unemployed individuals in areas of the state with much higher unemployment rates, and would dramatically slow the recovery in those regions. If a large local employer had massive layoffs or ceased operations, the impact to the county or region's unemployment rate could be profound without materially increasing the statewide rate. In such a situation, the number of unemployed in the affected county or region could far exceed the number of jobs available in the area. Those unemployed individuals would be faced with less time for benefits to assist them while searching for gainful employment in an extremely competitive market saturated with more unemployed individuals than available jobs. Lastly, Senate Substitute for Senate Bill No. 673 would render Missouri's unemployment benefits system unable to respond to sudden spikes in unemployment often accompanying economic downturns. The bill would base current benefits on previous economic conditions. The duration of benefits reduced under Senate Substitute for Senate Bill No. 673 would apply to all unemployed individuals in the state for an entire year based upon a snapshot of the statewide average unemployment rate taken during the third quarter of the previous calendar year. This would minimize the ability of the unemployment system to help stabilize the economy in instances where dramatic increases in unemployment occur in the first or second quarter of the calendar year. Under such circumstances, the duration of benefits, pegged at the previous year's calculated rate, would remain unchanged and artificially low despite the increase in unemployment.

In accordance with the above stated reasons for disapproval, I am returning Senate Substitute for Senate Bill No. 673 without my approval.

TO THE SECRETARY OF STATE OF THE STATE OF MISSOURI

Herewith I return to you Senate Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 841 entitled:

AN ACT

To repeal sections 407.925, 407.926, 407.927, 407.929, 407.931, 407.933, and 407.934, RSMo, and to enact in lieu thereof seven new sections relating to alternative nicotine or vapor products, with penalty provisions.

I disapprove of Senate Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 841. My reasons for disapproval are as follows:

Senate Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 841 would exclude "alternative nicotine products" and "vapor products" – including "electronic cigarettes" – from the definition of "tobacco products" and prohibit them from being regulated or taxed as "tobacco products" under Missouri law. This bill, which is supported by sellers of such products and at least one major tobacco manufacturer but is opposed by leading health organizations, creates a façade of regulation and is actually harmful to Missourians because of the special exemptions it provides for these dangerous products. As a result, it does not meet with my approval.

"Electronic cigarettes" are nicotine delivery devices that resemble traditional tobacco cigarettes in appearance, use and function, and share a signature ingredient – the highly addictive chemical nicotine, which is derived from tobacco. Electronic cigarettes typically consist of a cartridge and battery that deliver nicotine to users by heating a liquid solution containing propylene glycol (which can cause eye and respiratory irritation), glycerine, flavoring agents, and nicotine. This process creates a nicotine-infused aerosol that, similar to tobacco smoke from traditional tobacco cigarettes, the smoker inhales and exhales. Studies have also noted the presence of formaldehyde (a known carcinogen) and acetaldehyde (a possible carcinogen) in the aerosol. Electronic cigarettes are frequently marketed and branded with names reflecting flavors added to the nicotine aerosol. Though electronic cigarettes are relatively new, having been patented in 2003 by a Chinese pharmacist and sold in the United States only since 2007, they are growing in popularity with sales projected to top $1.5 billion in the United States this year. These electronic cigarettes are increasingly manufactured by big tobacco companies.¹

Because Senate Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 841 would limit any additional state regulation of these products and would contravene pending federal regulations, it does not receive my approval.

First, Missouri law should not limit the regulation of products derived from tobacco that contain a highly addictive chemical and carcinogenic, noxious chemicals. Not unlike traditional tobacco cigarettes, these products may carry significant health risks to users and others through direct and secondhand inhalation in a manner not unlike traditional tobacco cigarettes. Leading health organizations oppose Senate Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 841, including the American Cancer Society; the American Lung Association; the American Heart Association; the Missouri State Medical Association; the Missouri Association of Osteopathic Physicians; the Missouri Academy of Family Physicians; the Campaign for Tobacco-Free Kids; and Tobacco Free Missouri, and for good reasons. Through direct and secondhand exposure, e-cigarette smokers inhale an aerosol containing nicotine, which is addictive and derived from tobacco; propylene glycol, which can cause eye and respiratory irritation; and also likely formaldehyde, a known carcinogen, and acetaldehyde, a possible carcinogen. Studies have also found the presence of heavy metal particles such as tin, nickel, copper, lead and chromium in the aerosol, which can deposit in smokers' lungs and cause respiratory problems. A 2009 FDA study also detected the presence of diethylene glycol, a toxic chemical commonly used in antifreeze, in e-cigarette samples. These products are barely a decade old, and their sales are skyrocketing. We should not enact an outright ban on regulating and taxing as "tobacco products" these tobacco-derived products that contain harmful substances, including carcinogens, particularly when the short and long-term health risks of these products are still being evaluated. The special treatment for these tobacco-derived products provided in Senate Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 841 would validate the as yet unproven claim that they are safer than traditional tobacco products.

Second, Senate Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 841 would harm the health of Missourians because it would contravene and undermine more comprehensive proposed federal regulation. Unlike Senate Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill 841, federal FDA regulations proposed earlier this year would classify electronic cigarettes and similar nicotine products as "tobacco products." The proposed FDA rules would prohibit sales to minors (as would this bill), but, unlike Senate Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 841, would also require electronic cigarette manufacturers to provide health warnings; register with the FDA and report product and ingredient listings; market new products only after FDA review; make claims of reduced risk only if the FDA concludes that there is supporting scientific evidence and that marketing the product will benefit public health; not distribute free samples; and not sell in vending machines, unless in locations off limits to youths. Considering that these products contain the tobacco derivative and highly addictive chemical compound nicotine, mimic traditional tobacco cigarettes in use, appearance, and function, pose significant health risks that are still being evaluated, and are increasingly manufactured by big tobacco companies, regulating them as traditional tobacco products, as the FDA is proposing, does not seem unreasonable.

Proponents of Senate Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 841 tout its ban on sales to minors, but the proposed FDA regulations also ban sales to minors. In light of this ban in the FDA regulations, the primary and more significant consequence of Senate Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 841 is its limitation on additional regulations. I would support legislation banning sales to minors and classifying these products as "tobacco products" as appropriate first steps in state regulation without impeding additional federal regulation, but I will not support the false pretense of reform and circumvention of more stringent federal regulation that would result from Senate Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 841.

As noted above, leading health organizations uniformly oppose this bill. By contrast, manufacturers of alternative nicotine products, sellers of such products, and at least one major tobacco manufacturer are supporters of the bill. At a minimum, prohibiting the regulation and taxation as "tobacco products" of products that are derived from tobacco is premature and would create uncertainty around the proposed FDA regulations. At worst, this prohibition may be part of a larger strategy by the tobacco industry to stop the implementation of the FDA regulations or ensnare them in protracted litigation. Whether Senate Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 841 is merely premature or instead motivated by more insidious reasons, the bill is harmful to the health of Missourians.

In accordance with the above stated reasons for disapproval, I am returning Senate Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 841 without my approval.

TO THE SECRETARY OF STATE OF THE STATE OF MISSOURI

Herewith I return to you Conference Committee Substitute for House Committee Substitute for Senate Substitute for Senate Bill No. 860 entitled:

AN ACT

To repeal sections 143.221, 144.044, 144.049, 144.080, and 144.190, RSMo, and to enact in lieu thereof six new sections relating to taxation, with an existing penalty provision.

I disapprove of Conference Committee Substitute for House Committee Substitute for Senate Substitute for Senate Bill No. 860. My reasons for disapproval are as follows:

Conference Committee Substitute for House Committee Substitute for Senate Substitute for Senate Bill No. 860 would continue a damaging trend by the General Assembly to enact special tax exemptions and credits that pick winners and losers through the tax code and shift a greater proportion of the tax burden to the majority of Missourians unable to utilize such loopholes. Not a penny of the special breaks in this bill or in the others that I am vetoing today¹ was taken into account in the Fiscal Year 2015 budget passed by the General Assembly, leaving it significantly out of balance and requiring swift action to protect the State's fiscal well-being. This is fiscally irresponsible and cannot receive my support.

In enacting Conference Committee Substitute for House Committee Substitute for Senate Substitute for Senate Bill No. 860 and its brethren in the final hours of the legislative session, the General Assembly disregarded the normal legislative process, slipping in costly provisions without public hearings and without fiscal notes reflecting the impact on the state budget. And just as legislators ignored the legislative process, so too did they disregard the budget process by passing a budget just a week earlier that failed to account for this final day spending spree. Unlike the fiscal impact of Senate Substitute No. 3 for Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill Nos. 509 & 496, which today's lawmakers have conveniently foisted off on future budgets for education, public safety and other vital public services, the fiscal impact of the special breaks I am vetoing today would begin impacting budgets in the fiscal year starting in less than 30 days. There are no delays, triggers, or other gimmicks that could be touted as shielding education, public safety, and other vital public services, at both the state and local level, from the projected $776 million in state and local revenue legislators voted to send to narrow special interests on the last day of session. While the General Assembly may have abdicated its fiscal responsibilities in failing to account for this budgetary impact, the resulting imbalance cannot be ignored and will have to be corrected through dramatic spending reductions.

Conference Committee Substitute for House Committee Substitute for Senate Substitute for Senate Bill No. 860 and the other measures I am vetoing today would add to the more than 260 sales tax exemptions and tax credits that litter Missouri's tax code without requiring the creation of a single new job. The continued erosion of the tax base through such individualized exemptions and credits violates well-established principles of sound tax policy calling for a broad tax base so that tax rates can remain low. The General Assembly has ignored repeated calls to reduce these costly and inefficient carve-outs and has instead rushed through many more, leaving Missouri families to pick up the tab for education and other vital public services.

The unabated growth of such special carve-outs and the fiscal irresponsibility of failing to budget for them are all the more troubling when the General Assembly is simultaneously seeking to raise taxes on all Missourians with what could be the largest tax hike in Missouri history. While the benefits of the more than one billion dollars in annual tax breaks passed by the legislature over the past two months will go disproportionately to the wealthy, the burden of this multi-billion dollar tax increase for transportation would fall disproportionately on Missouri's working families and seniors.

Throughout my time as Governor, I have worked with legislators on fiscally responsible ways to improve our tax code while protecting our state's fiscal health, including the four tax cuts that I have signed into law. Even during this legislative session, I worked directly with legislators to put forward a specific, concrete proposal that would have lowered taxes for Missourians and reined in costly and inefficient tax credits for special interests, broadening the overall tax base and reducing tax rates, while protecting our ability to invest in education and other vital public services. Unfortunately, the General Assembly refused to enact this broad tax relief in favor of narrow giveaways like those contained in Conference Committee Substitute for House Committee Substitute for Senate Substitute for Senate Bill No. 860 and the other bills I am vetoing today. For the reasons stated herein, this is an endeavor I cannot support.

Tax Refunds to Delinquent Taxpayers

Conference Committee Substitute for House Committee Substitute for Senate Substitute for Senate Bill No. 860 would modify the established process for obtaining a sales tax refund by allowing a refund even when a taxpayer currently has overdue taxes. This provision is projected to reduce state and local revenue by up to $10 million annually, although the General Assembly failed to account for any of this fiscal impact in the Fiscal Year 2015 budget they passed. As with many of the tax measures passed by the legislature on the last day of session, this provision was not the subject of a public hearing in any Senate committee.

This provision would enable a business with significant tax delinquencies to get a tax refund for an unrelated overpayment of tax, where under current law the refund could be offset by the amount of tax delinquency. For example, under this provision even a business that owes $100,000 in back taxes would be able to get a refund check from the state for a $100,000 unintentional overpayment, so long as the $100,000 tax delinquency is subject to appeal. Under current law, the $100,000 refund would be offset by the entire $100,000 tax delinquency, thereby eliminating the need to later engage in costly and inefficient collection efforts to recover the $100,000 in overdue taxes. Such a change to the established refund process would unfairly reward those who fail to pay their taxes and would result in costly inefficiencies borne by all law-abiding taxpayers. Accordingly, this provision does not receive my support.

Sales Tax Holiday Expansion

Conference Committee Substitute for House Committee Substitute for Senate Substitute for Senate Bill No. 860 expands the back-to-school sales tax holiday by adding graphing calculators to the list of items that can be purchased tax-free. This expansion is projected to reduce state revenue by as much as $200,000 annually, which the General Assembly failed to account for in the Fiscal Year 2015 budget they passed. Like many of the tax provisions passed during the final day of session, this provision was not the subject of a public hearing in any Senate committee. Because Conference Committee Substitute for House Committee Substitute for Senate Substitute for Senate Bill No. 860 expands the current sales tax holiday without the General Assembly accounting for the accompanying revenue reduction in the budget they enacted, this expansion does not receive my approval.

In accordance with the above-stated reasons for disapproval, I am returning Conference Committee Substitute for House Committee Substitute for Senate Substitute for Senate Bill No. 860 without my approval.

Jeremiah W. (Jay) Nixon

TO THE SECRETARY OF STATE OF THE STATE OF MISSOURI

Herewith I return to you Senate Substitute for Senate Bill No. 866 entitled:

AN ACT

To amend chapter 408, RSMo, by adding thereto one new section relating to installment loan lenders.

I disapprove of Senate Substitute for Senate Bill No. 866. My reasons for disapproval are as follows:

Senate Substitute for Senate Bill No. 866 would create a new term to describe a short-term lender not licensed as a bank or credit union—a “traditional installment lender”—and would restrict the authority of local governments with respect to such entities. Because this change would unduly interfere with local control, the bill does not receive my approval.

The new classification “traditional installment lenders” sought to be established in Senate Substitute for Senate Bill No. 866 would cover two types of consumer lenders licensed by the state—consumer installment lenders and small loan companies. Small loan companies can make loans of $500 and over, while consumer installment lenders can make loans of any amount, but the loans must be repaid in at least four installments over at least 120 days. There are no restrictions on the interest consumer installment lenders or small loan companies can impose and just last year the General Assembly increased the maximum amount of origination fees consumer installment lenders and small loan companies can charge. See Senate Committee Substitute for House Bill No. 329 (2013).

A number of Missouri municipalities have enacted ordinances that impose zoning, permitting, and other restrictions on short-term, small loan lenders.¹ For example, the City of Kansas City enacted an ordinance in 2007 regulating “short-term loan establishments” and broadened its ordinance in 2011 to specifically regulate consumer installment lenders. Kansas City was able to successfully defend this ordinance against court challenge brought by one of the regulated lenders. Perhaps recognizing this legislation as an assault on their authority to maintain this ordinance, the City of Kansas City was able to obtain a carve-out from the restrictions of this bill.

Unfortunately, the rest of Missouri’s political subdivisions were not so fortunate, since Senate Substitute for Senate Bill No. 866 would preempt any existing charter provision or ordinance that does not “expressly apply” to “traditional installment lenders” as of August 28, 2014. Because this bill would also be creating the new label of “traditional installment lenders,” it is highly unlikely that any current ordinances or charter provisions “expressly apply” to such newly-christened lenders. Moreover, Senate Substitute for Senate Bill No. 866 would also prevent communities from modifying current ordinances or charter provisions to address this type of lender in the future because such ordinances or charter provisions would not have been in effect prior to the effective date of the bill.

Because it would erode local control in areas such as zoning that fall squarely fall within the traditional police powers of local communities, Senate Substitute for Senate Bill No. 866 does not receive my approval.

In accordance with the above stated reasons for disapproval, I am returning Senate Substitute for Senate Bill No. 866 without my approval.

Respectfully submitted,
Jeremiah W. (Jay) Nixon

Herewith I return to you Senate Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 593 entitled:

AN ACT

To repeal section 115.124, RSMo, and to enact in lieu thereof two new sections relating to nonpartisan elections.

I disapprove of Senate Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 593. My reasons for disapproval are as follows:

Senate Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 593 would authorize municipalities with 1,000 or fewer residents to cancel an election if the number of candidates that initially filed for office is equal to the number of vacancies to be filled for the office. To take advantage of this authority, the municipality’s voters must approve a ballot measure and then renew the authority by a public vote every six years.

Like legislation I have vetoed in the past, Senate Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 593 would limit the rights of Missouri citizens to support write-in candidates and therefore does not receive my approval. The previously-vetoed Conference Committee Substitute for House Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 282 (2011) contained a provision cancelling elections in municipalities with populations of less than 35,000, which would have affected more than 900 Missouri municipalities. My veto message pointed out that cancelling an election when the number of candidates is equal to the number of available positions would preclude citizens from electing a candidate through the write-in process, which is particularly important when voters learn something negative about the declared candidate after the deadline for filing but before the election.

Although somewhat improved by virtue of the public vote to authorize and reauthorize the option to cancel elections, Senate Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 593 contains the same infirmity presented by Conference Committee Substitute for House Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 282 (2011) with respect to write-in candidates. Write-in candidates do not have to file until the Wednesday before the election, but they would no longer be able to do so in the more than 650 Missouri municipalities affected by this bill, even if negative information about the unopposed candidate came to light prior to the election but after regular candidate filing had closed. Moreover, the small municipalities covered by this provision are precisely the communities in which write-in candidates are the most likely to succeed. Because I support the rights of citizens to elect write-in candidates I do not support this bill.

In accordance with the above stated reasons for disapproval, I am returning Senate Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 593 without my approval.

Herewith I return to you Senate Bill No. 523 entitled:

AN ACT

To amend chapter 167, RSMo, by adding thereto one new section relating to the use of radio frequency identification technology in school districts.

I disapprove of Senate Bill No. 523. My reasons for disapproval are as follows:

Senate Bill No. 523 is the latest effort by the General Assembly to erode the ability of local school officials to determine what is best for their school districts, students and staff. This legislation would ban a school district from requiring a student to use an identification device that employs radio frequency identification technology “or similar technology” unless there is “physical contact between a card, badge, or tag and another device.”

Local school officials are in the best position to determine the appropriate use of this technology within their school districts. Indeed, the technology sought to be banned could be a significant public safety tool during emergency situations. Quickly identifying the location of students during a critical incident unfolding at a school or during a natural disaster is vitally important to law enforcement and first responders. Prohibiting the use of this technology would eliminate an important option for school districts to consider when analyzing measures to protect the safety and security of their students.

In addition, the vague language used in Senate Bill No. 523 fails to distinguish between active radio frequency identification technology, which continuously transmits information, and passive radio frequency identification technology, which does not, or to indicate whether such technology must be directly assigned to an individual student. As a result, the ban contained in Senate Bill No. 523 could prohibit tags placed in laptops, iPads, or other devices assigned to a student that would be tracked when brought through a fixed portal or a hand-scanning device. It is inappropriate for the state to impose restrictions such as those contained in Senate Bill No. 523 upon local education leaders. On issues such as this, local officials should be permitted to have open and robust discussions with school staff, parents and other interested stakeholders and implement programs determined to be the most appropriate for their districts. Local school officials are in the best position to make such decisions, and I will stand with them by not approving Senate Bill No. 523.

In accordance with the above stated reasons for disapproval, I am returning Senate Bill No. 523 without my approval.

AN ACT

To repeal sections 21.750, 84.340, 571.030, 571.101, 571.107, 571.111, 571.117, 575.153, 590.010, and 590.205, RSMo, and to enact in lieu thereof sixteen new sections relating to firearms, with penalty provisions.

I disapprove of Conference Committee Substitute for House Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 656. My reasons for disapproval are as follows:

Conference Committee Substitute for House Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 656 would allow Missouri school districts to designate teachers or administrators as “school protection officers,” who would be authorized to carry concealed firearms within those districts. I have consistently opposed the arming of teachers as a means to keep schools safe. It is simply the wrong approach, and one that I do not support.

The safety of Missourians – especially children – has long been a top priority of mine, both as Governor and as the former chief law enforcement officer of our state. I have supported, and will continue to support, the use of duly authorized law enforcement officers employed as school resource officers in schools. This bill, which would create a new mechanism for the arming of teachers, would not make schools safer. Consequently, I am returning it without my approval.

AN ACT

To repeal sections 144.010, 262.900, 265.300, 267.565, 275.352, 277.020, 277.040, 281.065, 304.180, 340.381, 340.396, 442.571, and 537.325, RSMo, and to enact in lieu thereof seventeen new sections relating to agriculture.

I disapprove of House Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 506. My reasons for disapproval are as follows:

House Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 506 would redefine the term “livestock” to include “captive cervids,” which are members of the deer family, including white-tailed deer. These changes would eliminate the role of the Missouri Department of Conservation in regulating white-tailed deer. Because doing so would be at odds with longstanding successful conservation practices and would violate the Missouri Constitution, this legislation does not receive my approval.

For more than 75 years, the Missouri Department of Conservation has restored and protected Missouri’s forest, fish, and wildlife resources. The Department has created countless opportunities for Missourians to enjoy the outdoors, while also making Missouri a national leader in conservation. In 1934, before Missourians voted by more than a two-thirds majority to establish the Conservation Commission in the Missouri Constitution, Missouri had less than 2,000 white-tailed deer. Today, Missouri has an estimated 1.3 million white-tailed deer. Each fall, half-a-million hunters go afield to harvest deer in Missouri, contributing $1 billion to our economy. Growing and managing our deer herd and fostering the hunting opportunities that we enjoy takes hard work and sound science, and the Department of Conservation should be commended for employing both to preserve this important part of our heritage, not stripped of its authority to do so in order to protect narrow interests. House Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 506 also does not receive my support because it very clearly violates the Missouri Constitution. Article IV, Section 40(a) of the Missouri Constitution vests the Missouri Conservation Commission with the exclusive authority for:

The control, management, restoration, conservation, and regulation of the bird fish, game, forestry and all wildlife resources of the state, including hatcheries, sanctuaries, refuges, reservations and all other property owned, acquired, or used for such purposes and the acquisition and establishment thereof.

White-tailed deer are wildlife, and they are also a game animal. Putting them behind a fence does not change that fact. The Constitution makes clear that the Conservation Commission has the sole authority to control, manage, restore, conserve, and regulate “game ... and all wildlife” (emphasis added). The citizen-supported, citizen-led effort to conserve our forests, fish, and wildlife through this constitutional provision has in its more than 75 years made Missouri a national leader in conservation. And in granting the Commission this broad constitutional authority, the 71% of Missouri citizens who voted to do so certainly did not countenance that a statutory enactment to simply redefine the term “livestock” could suffice to undermine that authority.

I note that it is unfortunate that the legislature insisted on amending this unconstitutional provision to two pieces of legislation that otherwise contain worthy provisions advancing Missouri agriculture.

In accordance with the above stated reasons for disapproval, I am returning House Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 506 without my approval.

Herewith I return to you Conference Committee Substitute No. 2 for House Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 693 entitled:

AN ACT

To repeal sections 99.845, 135.700, 143.041, 143.071, 143.191, 143.451, 144.030, 144.044, 144.610, 285.230, 285.232, 285.233, and 285.234, RSMo, and to enact in lieu thereof twenty-two new sections relating to taxation, with existing penalty provisions.

I disapprove of Conference Committee Substitute No. 2 for House Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 693. My reasons for disapproval are as follows:

Conference Committee Substitute No. 2 for House Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 693 would continue a damaging trend by the General Assembly to enact special tax exemptions and credits that pick winners and losers through the tax code and shift a greater proportion of the tax burden to the majority of Missourians unable to utilize such loopholes. Not a penny of the special breaks in this bill or in the others that I am vetoing today¹ was taken into account in the Fiscal Year 2015 budget passed by the General Assembly, leaving it significantly out of balance and requiring swift action to protect the State's fiscal well-being. This is fiscally irresponsible and cannot receive my support.

In enacting Conference Committee Substitute No. 2 for House Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 693 and its brethren in the final hours of the legislative session, the General Assembly disregarded the normal legislative process, slipping in costly provisions without public hearings and without fiscal notes reflecting the impact on the state budget. And just as legislators ignored the legislative process, so too did they disregard the budget process by passing a budget just a week earlier that failed to account for this final day spending spree. Unlike the fiscal impact of Senate Substitute No. 3 for Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill Nos. 509 & 496, which today's lawmakers have conveniently foisted off on future budgets for education, public safety and other vital public services, the fiscal impact of the special breaks I am vetoing today would begin impacting budgets in the fiscal year starting in less than 30 days. There are no delays, triggers, or other gimmicks that could be touted as shielding education, public safety, and other vital public services, at both the state and local level,² from the projected $776 million in state and local revenue legislators voted to send to narrow special interests on the last day of session. While the General Assembly may have abdicated its fiscal responsibilities in failing to account for this budgetary impact, the resulting imbalance cannot be ignored and will have to be corrected through dramatic spending reductions.

Conference Committee Substitute No. 2 for House Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 693 and the other measures I am vetoing today would add to the more than 260 sales tax exemptions and tax credits that litter Missouri's tax code without requiring the creation of a single new job. The continued erosion of the tax base through such individualized exemptions and credits violates well-established principles of sound tax policy calling for a broad tax base so that tax rates can remain low. The General Assembly has ignored repeated calls to reduce these costly and inefficient carve-outs and has instead rushed through many more, leaving Missouri families to pick up the tab for education and vital public

The unabated growth of such special carve-outs and the fiscal irresponsibility of failing to budget for them are all the more troubling when the General Assembly is simultaneously seeking to raise taxes on all Missourians with what could be the largest tax hike in Missouri history. While the benefits of the more than one billion dollars in annual tax breaks passed by the legislature over the past two months will go disproportionately to the wealthy, the burden of this multi-billion dollar tax increase for transportation would fall disproportionately on Missouri's working families and seniors.

The special breaks in Conference Committee Substitute No. 2 for House Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 693 and the other bills that I am vetoing today are not the mere clarifications that their supporters claim. Instead, they seek to overrule no fewer than twenty Missouri Supreme Court cases going back to 1977 that have been followed by the department of revenue over the course of previous and current administrations. In nearly every one of the cases sought to be overturned, the court ruled that the law enacted by the General Assembly required a tax to be collected, notwithstanding that a particular businesses had hoped to be excused from the legal obligations we all share. While it is well within the rights of a losing litigant to petition their elected representatives, it is wholly disingenuous to call doing so here anything other than what it is—seeking a special exemption from the law, as currently written and as confirmed by the courts.

Throughout my time as Governor, I have worked with legislators on fiscally responsible ways to improve our tax code while protecting our state's fiscal health, including the four tax cuts that I have signed into law. Even during this legislative session, I worked directly with legislators to put forward a specific, concrete proposal that would have lowered taxes for Missourians and reined in costly and inefficient tax credits for special interests, broadening the overall tax base and reducing tax rates, while protecting our ability to invest in education and other vital public services. Unfortunately, the General Assembly refused to enact this broad tax relief in favor of narrow giveaways like those contained in Conference Committee Substitute No. 2 for House Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 693 and the other bills I am vetoing today. For the reasons stated herein, this is an endeavor I cannot support.

Special Exemption for Used Cars

Conference Committee Substitute No. 2 for House Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 693 exempts used cars that are 10-years or older from sales tax when the sale price is less than $15,000. According to the legislature's own estimate, this provision would reduce state and local revenues by as much as $60 million annually, with more than $30 million annually in reduced revenue for highways and $26 million annually in reduced revenue for local jurisdictions.³ Not only would this revenue reduction impact the amount of state and local highway maintenance and construction that can be undertaken, it could also jeopardize matching federal highway funds and make it more difficult to cover debt service on previously issued bonds to finance state and local road and bridge projects. With the average age of vehicles on America's roads increasing to 11.4 years, the number of vehicles subject to this exemption and the corresponding impact to state and local revenue is likely to increase over time.⁴

I cannot support a new sales tax exemption that would drain funding for transportation at the very same time the General Assembly is asking Missourians to foot the bill on a $6 billion sales tax increase to fund transportation needs. By passing this legislation and voting to put a sales tax increase for transportation on the ballot, the General Assembly is with one hand doling out special breaks that would directly and permanently reduce funding for roads, while with the other hand reaching into the pockets of every Missourian for more road funding. This is poor fiscal policy and poor tax policy, and therefore does not receive my approval.

Conference Committee Substitute No. 2 for House Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 693 has a number of additional problems that prevent it from receiving my signature. First, it fails to treat similarly-situated taxpayers similarly, instead picking as winners the purchasers of certain used cars based on the age of the vehicle and its sale price, while leaving all remaining purchasers in the dust. In addition, the limitation to vehicles 10-years or older and with a sale price of $15,000 or less is an arbitrary cut-off that will lead to absurd results. For example, there is no sound economic or policy reason for why a nine year-old vehicle that costs $14,999 or an 11-year old vehicle that costs $15,001 is any more or less deserving of a tax exemption than the vehicles covered by this bill. These are precisely the kind of problems created with special carve-outs that pick winners and losers based on arbitrary distinctions rather than sound tax or economic policy.

In addition, as drafted this exemption is ripe for abuse and can easily be manipulated to avoid or reduce taxes on purchases not intended for the exemption. For example, current law allows the seller of a vehicle to use the vehicle's sales price as a credit toward the purchase price of a subsequent vehicle in determining the tax due on the purchase.⁵ With the new exemption in Conference Committee Substitute No. 2 for House Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 693, used car dealers could set up straw transactions to sell used cars older than 10 years to their customers and then take those same cars as trade-ins toward newer cars, which would allow their customers to reduce or avoid paying altogether the tax on the newer car purchase. That this may be an unintended consequence of the legislation does not make its impact on state and local budgets any less real or immediate.

⁵ Section 144.025, RSMo, provides:

Notwithstanding any other provisions of law to the contrary, in any retail sale . . . where any article on which sales or use tax has been paid, credited, or otherwise satisfied or which was exempted or excluded from sales or use tax is taken in trade as a credit or part payment on the purchase price of the article being sold, the tax imposed by sections 144.020 and 144.440 shall be computed only on that portion of the purchase price which exceeds the actual allowance made for the article traded in or exchanged . . . This section shall also apply to motor vehicles . . . sold by the owner or holder of the properly assigned certificate of ownership if the seller purchases or contracts to purchase a subsequent motor vehicle . . . within one hundred eighty days before or after the date of the sale of the original article and a bill of sale showing the paid sale price is presented to the department of revenue at the time of licensing. . . .

Special Exemption for Personal Seat Licenses

Conference Committee Substitute No. 2 for House Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 693 would exempt from tax a right of first refusal for tickets sold at the Sprint Center in Kansas City. As with the other new exemptions enacted in this and similar bills, the General Assembly failed to account for the fiscal impact of this exemption in the Fiscal Year 2015 budget they enacted. It is unclear why this activity should receive a new special tax exemption, and it is even more unclear why the General Assembly would pass a special law, potentially violating the Missouri Constitution, in order to effectuate it. Unfortunately, because this provision never received a public hearing, the answer remains as elusive as my support.

Expansion of the Wine & Grape Tax Credit

Conference Committee Substitute No. 2 for House Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 693 would expand the Wine and Grape Production Tax Credit by making purchases of used equipment eligible for the credit. The General Assembly failed to account for the estimated $125,000 reduction in state revenue from this expansion in the Fiscal Year 2015 budget they passed.

Beginning more than 160 years ago, Missouri's wine industry has grown to more than 120 wineries generating $1.6 billion annually in economic impact. It is difficult to believe that the continued success of this thriving industry depends on the expansion of this relatively modest government subsidy. While the wine industry has a tremendous positive economic impact for the state, the Wine and Grape Production Tax Credit fails to generate a positive return, with the most recent cost benefit analysis indicating that for every dollar in tax credits issued, the state could expect to receive just 3 cents in general revenue return. The lack of a positive return on investment is what prompted the bipartisan Tax Credit Review Commission to call for the outright elimination of the credit.

Unlike other tax credits enacted or reauthorized this legislative session, this expansion of the Wine and Grape Production Tax Credit would not make it subject to appropriation or restructure it in a way that would make it revenue-neutral. Instead, Conference Committee Substitute No. 2 for House Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 693 would simply broaden the activities eligible for the credit, thereby increasing the credit's cost and diverting additional funding from education and other vital public services, none of which was taken into account in the budget passed by the General Assembly. This is fiscally irresponsible and does not receive my support.

In accordance with the above-stated reasons for disapproval, I am returning Conference Committee Substitute No. 2 for House Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 693 without my approval.

Sincerely,
Jeremiah W. (Jay) Nixon

Herewith I return to you Conference Committee Substitute for House Committee Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bills Nos. 493, 485, 495, 516, 534, 545, 595, 616 & 624 entitled:

AN ACT

To repeal 160.011, 160.041, 160.400, 160.405, 160.415, 160.417, 162.081, 162.1250, 163.021, 163.036, 163.073, 163.410, 167.121, 167.131, 171.029, 171.031, 171.033, 177.011, 177.088, and 210.861, RSMo, and to enact in lieu thereof forty-seven new sections relating to elementary and secondary education, with an emergency clause.

I disapprove of Conference Committee Substitute for House Committee Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bills Nos. 493, 485, 495, 516, 534, 545, 595, 616 & 624. My reasons for disapproval are as follows:

Conference Committee Substitute for House Committee Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bills Nos. 493, 485, 495, 516, 534, 545, 595, 616 & 624 is the legislature's attempt to create transfer solutions for students attending schools in unaccredited districts. Unfortunately, not only would Conference Committee Substitute for House Committee Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bills Nos. 493, 485, 495, 516, 534, 545, 595, 616 & 624 not solve the school transfer problems it was intended to address, it would create new problems that exacerbate the hardships faced by the children who attend unaccredited schools.

Conference Committee Substitute for House Committee Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bills Nos. 493, 485, 495, 516, 534, 545, 595, 616 & 624 would authorize the expenditure of public funds for the tuition of students who transfer from an unaccredited school in an unaccredited district in St. Louis, St. Louis County and Jackson County to private, nonsectarian schools located in the students' district of residence. Although proponents of this provision claim that only local tax dollars would be expended and that they would be expended only if approved by the district's voters, no such vote would be required after a district has been unaccredited for three years. Either with or without a vote, the result would be the same—public money would be diverted to private schools, in clear violation of the Missouri Constitution.¹ In addition, through its enactment of Conference Committee Substitute for House Committee Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bills Nos. 493, 485, 495, 516, 534, 545, 595, 616 & 624, the General Assembly would extend this private school option without holding private schools responsible for how well they educate students. Unlike the accountability to taxpayers that locally elected school boards provide, this scheme for directing public funds to private schools would come with no such protection. Private schools do not have to answer to voters, their leadership does not have to stand for election or re-election, and their budgets are not transparent to allow public scrutiny. Accordingly, public funds should not be diverted to private schools.

In a particularly cruel reversal of existing law, Conference Committee Substitute for House Committee Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bills Nos. 493, 485, 495, 516, 534, 545, 595, 616 & 624 would also eliminate the current requirement that unaccredited districts pay for the transportation costs of transfers. This policy would be grossly unfair to the hundreds of families whose children transferred to accredited districts during the most recent school year with the understanding that their future transportation costs would be paid by the unaccredited, sending district. In this way, Conference Committee Substitute for House Committee Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bills Nos. 493, 485, 495, 516, 534, 545, 595, 616 & 624 would pull the rug out from under these families by eliminating the current obligation to pay for their school transportation costs.

Conference Committee Substitute for House Committee Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bills Nos. 493, 485, 495, 516, 534, 545, 595, 616 & 624 would also allow receiving districts to discount the tuition paid for transfers in exchange for not having to consider those students' performance data for accountability purposes for up to five years. Enshrining this cynical bargain in law shortchanges the very transfer students whose educational struggles this legislation was purported to help. This discount would allow districts to discard the transfer students they accept and not be held accountable for how they educate these students. As an example, consider transfers by high school students—a receiving district that accepted these students and extended a 30% tuition discount would never need to account for their academic performance on the district's Annual Performance Report.

Unrelated to the school transfer problem it purports to address, Conference Committee Substitute for House Committee Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bills Nos. 493, 485, 495, 516, 534, 545, 595, 616 & 624 also includes a provision very similar to the one I vetoed in Senate Committee Substitute for House Committee Substitute for House Bill No. 1789 (2012). This provision would deviate from the well-established procedure for assigning a student to another school district if the student's residence is located so as to create an unusual or unreasonable transportation hardship. A similar provision did not meet my approval in 2012 and neither does this one.

In accordance with the above-stated reasons for disapproval, I am returning Conference Committee Substitute for House Committee Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bills Nos. 493, 485, 495, 516, 534, 545, 595, 616 & 624 without my approval.

Herewith I return to you House Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 727 entitled:

AN ACT

To amend chapters 144 and 208, RSMo, by adding thereto three new sections relating to farmers' markets.

I disapprove of House Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 727. My reasons for disapproval are as follows:

House Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 727 would continue a damaging trend by the General Assembly to enact special tax exemptions and credits that pick winners and losers through the tax code and shift a greater proportion of the tax burden to the majority of Missourians unable to utilize such loopholes. Not a penny of the special breaks in this bill or in the others that I am vetoing today¹ was taken into account in the Fiscal Year 2015 budget passed by the General Assembly, leaving it significantly out of balance and requiring swift action to protect the State's fiscal well-being. This is fiscally irresponsible and cannot receive my support.

House Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 727 contains a number of provisions that could become law with my action on other legislation. However, I cannot support adding to the more than 200 sales tax exemptions in current law that divert funding from education, public safety, and other vital public services, particularly when the General Assembly has failed to account for it in the budget they passed.

House Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 727 would provide a new exemption from state and local taxes for sales of farm products at a farmers' market by entities who estimate that their annual farmers' market sales will be less than $25,000. This means that entities who estimate that their annual farmers' market sales will be $25,000 or more would be subject to state and local tax. The sale of agricultural products grown in Missouri as well as those grown in other states would be subject to the exemption.

This provision, as drafted, would create confusion among both sellers and customers at farmers' markets and lead to significant governmental intrusion into their affairs. First, the bill contains an arbitrary limitation as to who is eligible for the exemption and who would have to collect tax based solely on whether they estimate they will have more or less than $25,000 in farmers' markets sales. Thus, an individual who estimates sales of $24,999 would not have to collect tax, but an individual estimating a dollar more in sales would. This could result in a consumer paying sales tax on the corn they purchase at one booth, while buying the corn tax free at the booth right next door. In addition, whether the tax applies is based on estimated, rather than actual sales. This would mean that a seller with actual sales far in excess of the $25,000 limitation could continue to sell products tax-free, so long as they had previously "estimated" that their sales would be below the $25,000 threshold. For example, under the bill a seller who estimates $20,000 in sales but who actually has $30,000 would not have to collect taxes on any of their sales, while a seller who estimates their sales at $30,000 but has actual sales of just $20,000 would have to collect taxes.

The provision would also increase governmental intrusion in order to police the limitation for $25,000 in estimated annual sales. There is nothing in the bill directing how the estimated annual sales are to be derived, or to whom or how the required estimate is to be reported. Presumably, it will require all farmers' market sellers to complete paperwork and be subject to an audit of their sales information from at least the three previous years to determine the validity of the annual sales estimate. This would result in significant government access into otherwise private business information, which would appear inconsistent with the overall intent of this new exemption.

In accordance with the above-stated reasons for disapproval, I am returning House Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 727 without my approval.

Herewith I return to you Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 731 entitled:

AN ACT

To repeal sections 82.1025, 82.1027, 82.1028, 82.1029, and 82.1030, RSMo, and to enact in lieu thereof six new sections relating to property regulations in certain cities and counties.

I disapprove of Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 731. My reasons for disapproval are as follows:

Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 731 began as a well-meaning measure to provide additional tools for neighborhood organizations and property owners to hold negligent property owners accountable for diminished property values and unsafe conditions. However, an amendment added on the Senate floor would infringe upon private property rights by giving a broad new immunity for polluters creating environmental hazards and contamination that reduce nearby property values. For this reason, Senate Committee Substitute for Senate

Bill No. 731 does not receive my approval.

The Senate floor amendment to Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 731, added as section 1 to the bill, would provide:

No action shall be brought under section 82.1025 or sections 82.1027 to 82.1030 if the owner of the property that is the subject of the action is in good faith compliance with any order issued by the department of natural resources, the United States Environmental Protection Agency, or the office of attorney general.

(emphasis added). This broad immunity would bar statutory nuisance actions by private property owners and neighborhood organizations in the counties of Jefferson, Platte, Franklin, Cass, Clay, Cole, and Cape Girardeau, and the cities of Springfield, St. Louis and Kansas City in the circumstances outlined. This would diminish the rights of property owners under current law to hold someone accountable for actions that reduce property values and create hazards to health, safety and the environment. For example, assume private property owners in St. Louis County are attempting to bring a statutory nuisance action seeking damages from the owner of a landfill that is contaminating nearby properties, creating noxious fumes, and decreasing area property values. Although such an action might proceed under current law, this bill would prohibit it if the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), the Department of Natural Resources (DNR), or the Attorney General has ordered the landfill operator to clean up the contamination and the company is attempting to comply with that order.

Not only would this new immunity deprive private property owners of rights they enjoy under current law, its ambiguous wording would confer immunity even when the referenced government order does not apply to the property creating the nuisance. For example, assume DNR issues an order requiring a utility company to clean up contamination at a former facility in Randolph County. If the utility is complying with that clean-up order, this bill would also give the company immunity for operations creating a nuisance at its facilities in Franklin, St. Louis, Jefferson, Cape Girardeau, and Cole counties.

In addition, the ambiguous language of this immunity provision does not even require the party creating the nuisance to actually be in compliance with any of the referenced government orders. Instead, the immunity would be triggered upon “good faith,” as opposed to actual, compliance. This could prevent private property owners from bringing a statutory nuisance action even when the party creating the nuisance is currently violating a government order. For example, a quarry in Cape Girardeau could be violating a DNR order to control dust emissions contaminating nearby property, but under this bill adjoining property owners would be barred from bringing a statutory nuisance action to protect their property so long as the quarry is attempting, even if unsuccessfully, to comply with the DNR order. Similarly, a chemical company in Cass County attempting to comply with a DNR order to clean up hazardous waste on its property may be immune from suit even if contamination from the buried chemicals has migrated into the drinking water used by neighboring property owners.

Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 731 began with a noble purpose of strengthening the rights of property owners and neighborhood organizations, but the changes during the legislative process, particularly the Senate floor amendment providing a broad new immunity for those damaging the property of others, would move the state in the opposite direction. This I cannot support.

In accordance with the above stated reasons for disapproval, I am returning Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 731 without my approval.

Herewith I return to you House Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 508 entitled:

AN ACT

To repeal sections 43.530, 105.711, 208.631, 208.636, 208.640, 208.643, 208.646, and 376.2004, RSMo, and to enact in lieu thereof nine new sections relating to health insurance, with a penalty provision.

I disapprove of House Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 508. My reasons for disapproval are as follows:

House Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 508 contains a number of worthwhile provisions that can become law with my action on other legislation. However, this legislation does not receive my approval due to a significant drafting error.

House Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 508 would impose additional restrictions on the licensure of an individual as a “navigator,” one who provides information or services in connection with eligibility, enrollment, or the program specifications of any health benefit exchange operating pursuant to the Affordable Care Act. Section 376.2004.6 of the bill would require an applicant for a navigator license to submit two full sets of fingerprints to the Missouri State Highway Patrol “for the purpose of obtaining a state and federal criminal records check under section 43.540 and Public Law 92-554 [sic].”

The bill’s reference to Public Law 92-554 should be to Public Law 92-544. This mistaken reference to Public Law 92-554, which deals with alcohol abuse and prevention, instead of to Public Law 92-544, which deals with federal criminal records, was included in model legislation developed by the American Legislative Exchange Council (ALEC) entitled the “Navigator Background Check Act,” which provides, in relevant part:

(4) The {insert state department of insurance} shall submit a full set of fingerprints to the {insert state department of public safety} for the purpose of obtaining a state and federal criminal records check pursuant to {insert relevant state criminal history records statute} and Public Law 92-554 [sic]. The {insert state department of insurance} shall not issue the registration if the person has been convicted of a felony offense or a misdemeanor offense involving fraud or dishonesty.¹

It appears that in copying and pasting from this ALEC model act, the General Assembly failed to correct this incorrect reference to Public Law 92-554.² While some may believe that such an error is “close enough” for a model act, it cannot be allowed to become the law of this State. Particularly in an area of the law that is the subject of ongoing litigation, a glaring defect such as this cannot simply be ignored. Accordingly, this measure does not receive my approval.

In accordance with the above-stated reasons for disapproval, I am returning House Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 508 without my approval.

I disapprove of House Committee Substitute for Senate Substitute for Senate Bill No. 575. My reasons for disapproval are as follows:

House Committee Substitute for Senate Substitute for Senate Bill No. 575 contains a number of worthwhile provisions that can become law with my action on other legislation. However, this legislation does not receive my approval due to the inclusion of provisions limiting the requirement for actuarial analysis of health insurance benefit mandates and repealing the MO HealthNet Oversight Committee.

House Committee Substitute for Senate Substitute for Senate Bill No. 575 would repeal the current requirement that an actuarial analysis be conducted on any proposed legislation imposing a new health insurance benefit mandate and replace it with a more modest requirement to perform an actuarial analysis only on health insurance mandates actually enacted by the General Assembly. In so limiting the requirement for an actuarial analysis, House Committee Substitute for Senate Substitute for Senate Bill No. 575 thwarts the original intent of the law, which was to ensure that the General Assembly fully understood the fiscal impact of such mandates prior to their enactment. A measure such as this that would limit the information available to policymakers before they vote to impose a new mandate does not receive my support.

In addition, the MO HealthNet Oversight Committee consists of a bipartisan group of legislators and experienced Medicaid providers.

House Committee Substitute for Senate Substitute for Senate Bill No. 575 would repeal the MO HealthNet Oversight Committee, while making permanent the Joint Committee on MO HealthNet, which is composed exclusively of legislators. The elimination of the MO HealthNet Oversight Committee would leave future responsibility for oversight of Missouri's Medicaid system without the benefit of formal representation by individuals with specialized expertise in the committee's subject matter. Oversight of a program of this significance should draw from the full spectrum of available resources and perspectives, rather than being limited to a select group of public officials.

In accordance with the above-stated reasons for disapproval, I am returning House Committee Substitute for Senate Substitute for Senate Bill No. 575 without my approval.

AN ACT

To repeal sections 143.183, 143.451, 144.021, and 144.054, RSMo, and to enact in lieu thereof four new sections relating to taxation.

I disapprove of Conference Committee Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 612. My reasons for disapproval are as follows:

Conference Committee Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 612 would continue a damaging trend by the General Assembly to enact special tax exemptions and credits that pick winners and losers through the tax code and shift a greater proportion of the tax burden to the majority of Missourians unable to utilize such loopholes. This is fiscally irresponsible and cannot receive my support.

In enacting and its brethren in the final hours of the legislative session, the General Assembly disregarded the normal legislative process, slipping in costly provisions without public hearings and without fiscal notes reflecting the impact on the state budget. And just as legislators ignored the legislative process, so too did they disregard the budget process by passing a budget just a week earlier that failed to account for this final day spending spree. Unlike the fiscal impact of Senate Substitute No. 3 for Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill Nos. 509 & 496, which today's lawmakers have conveniently foisted off on future budgets for education, public safety and other vital public services, the fiscal impact of the special breaks I am vetoing today would begin impacting budgets in the fiscal year starting in less than 30 days. There are no delays, triggers, or other gimmicks that could be touted as shielding education, public safety, and other vital public services, at both the state and local level,² from the projected nearly $776 million in state and local revenue legislators voted to send to narrow special interests on the last day of session. While the General Assembly may have abdicated its fiscal responsibilities in failing to account for this budgetary impact, the resulting imbalance cannot be ignored and will have to be corrected through dramatic spending reductions.

Conference Committee Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 612 and the other measures I am vetoing today would add to the more than 260 sales tax exemptions and tax credits that litter Missouri's tax code without requiring the creation of a single new job. The continued erosion of the tax base through such individualized exemptions and credits violates well-established principles of sound tax policy calling for a broad tax base so that tax rates can remain low. The General Assembly has ignored repeated calls to reduce these costly and inefficient carve-outs and has instead rushed through many more, leaving Missouri families to pick up the tab for education and vital public services.

The unabated growth of such special carve-outs and the fiscal irresponsibility of failing to budget for them are all the more troubling when the General Assembly is simultaneously seeking to raise taxes on all Missourians with what could be the largest tax hike in Missouri history. While the benefits of the more than one billion dollars in annual tax breaks passed by the legislature over the past two months will go disproportionately to the wealthy, the burden of this multi-billion dollar tax increase for transportation would fall disproportionately on Missouri's working families and seniors.

The special breaks in Conference Committee Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 612 and the other bills that I am vetoing today are not the mere clarifications that their supporters claim. Instead, they seek to overrule no fewer than twenty Missouri Supreme Court cases going back to 1977 that have been followed by the department of revenue over the course of previous and current administrations. In nearly every one of the cases sought to be overturned, the court ruled that the law enacted by the General Assembly required a tax to be collected, notwithstanding that a particular businesses had hoped to be excused from the legal obligations we all share. While it is well within the rights of a losing litigant to petition their elected representatives, it is wholly disingenuous to call doing so here anything other than what it is—seeking a special exemption from the law, as currently written and as confirmed by the courts.

Throughout my time as Governor, I have worked with legislators on fiscally responsible ways to improve our tax code while protecting our state's fiscal health, including the four tax cuts that I have signed into law. Even during this legislative session, I worked directly with legislators to put forward a specific, concrete proposal that would have lowered taxes for Missourians and reined in costly and inefficient tax credits for special interests, broadened the overall tax base and reduced tax rates, while protecting our ability to invest in education and other vital public services. Unfortunately, the General Assembly refused to enact this broad tax relief in favor of narrow giveaways like those contained in Conference Committee Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 612 and the other bills I am vetoing today. For the reasons stated herein, this is an endeavor I cannot support.

Windfall Refunds and Retroactive Immunity

Conference Committee Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 612 would mandate governmental notification before a business is under any legal obligation to collect and remit sales tax under an administrative or judicial decision that modifies the items subject to tax. See Section 144.021.2. This ambiguously-worded provision is projected to reduce state and local revenues by up to $200 million annually.³ As with the various other tax measures the General Assembly rushed through on the last day of session, the Fiscal Year 2015 budget they enacted fails to account for any of the revenue reductions that would result from this provision.

Mandatory governmental notification before a law applies would turn on its head the long-standing principle of our democracy that individuals are presumed to know the law. It is one thing to require the government to provide information about recent developments in the law so that those affected can adjust their prospective conduct accordingly, but it is quite another to condition whether that law even applies based upon whether a person has received personal notification of the law's existence. This kind of governmental paternalism is unprecedented. This year alone the General Assembly passed nearly 200 bills modifying thousands of pages of Missouri law that apply to all manner of conduct. The General Assembly should not have to send a letter to every Missourian before this legion of new laws takes effect. Similarly, every potential criminal should not have to receive a notice describing this year's revisions to the state's criminal code before they can be prosecuted under it.

This provision in Conference Committee Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 612 also misunderstands tax law. Although a decision of the director of revenue is listed as an example of a "modification" triggering the duty to notify established by the bill, the director has no power to finally determine whether an item is taxable or not; that authority lies solely with those who write the tax laws—the General Assembly—and those that finally interpret them—the Missouri Supreme Court. See Mo. Const. Art. V, Sec. 3 (giving the Missouri Supreme Court exclusive appellate jurisdiction over the construction of the revenue laws of this state). Similarly, a decision of the administrative hearing commission is listed as something that can trigger notification. However, while the administrative hearing commission has the power to hear individual disputes, a decision of that body is not binding beyond the parties, and therefore it cannot finally "modify" what is taxable or not for other affected sellers.

Although a decision of the Missouri Supreme Court might "change[] which items of tangible personal property or services are taxable" within the meaning of the bill, the court decisions that purportedly prompted this provision and many of the new exemptions passed on the final day of the legislative session did not. In each of those cases, the Missouri Supreme Court found that the current law, as enacted by the General Assembly, required a tax to be paid, notwithstanding that a particular business had tried to get out of this legal obligation.⁴ The decisions did not newly subject an item to tax; instead, they simply confirmed that such items were and are taxable. However, there is nothing in this bill to prevent a business from arguing that court decisions like these are “modifications” triggering a notification to all affected sellers that what was always taxable continues to be taxable as confirmed by the Missouri Supreme Court.

³ A significant portion of the fiscal impact from this provision is due to its failure to prohibit a business that was properly collecting tax from claiming a refund for the taxes it paid prior to receiving the notification called for under the bill. Conference Committee Substitute for House Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 662, which I am also vetoing today, contains a similar provision but includes language that expressly prohibits refunds for businesses that had been correctly collecting the tax, thereby reducing its projected fiscal impact.

The bill provides far-reaching consequences for such a notification. Under the bill, a failure to notify an affected seller “shall relieve such seller of liability for taxes that would be due under the modification.” See Section 144.021.2. Accordingly, receiving a notification gives any business that was not collecting taxes prior to the notice retroactive immunity for taxes that the Missouri Supreme Court has confirmed should have been collected. Under this bill, even the specific business that had sought to avoid paying taxes, hired a lawyer to litigate the issue, and lost in court, could argue that it had no tax liability for any of the taxes the court ordered it to pay prior to being notified of the decision in its own case.

Even more problematic than retroactive immunity for businesses that had not been collecting and remitting the taxes required by the law would be the windfall for businesses that had been correctly collecting the taxes required prior to the court decision confirming their obligation to do so. Conference Committee Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 612 would waive any tax liability prior to receiving the required notification and, unlike a similar provision in Conference Committee Substitute for House Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 662, it does not expressly preclude a business that had been properly collecting the tax from this waiver of tax liability. Accordingly, there is nothing in this bill preventing a business that was properly collecting the tax from claiming a refund for the taxes it correctly collected prior to being notified of a Missouri Supreme Court decision confirming that the tax it had been correctly collecting was required under the law. Under this provision, the vast majority of businesses properly collecting tax could seek a windfall refund simply because a particular business had sought to avoid its legal obligation, litigated, and lost.

The problems with this provision extend beyond windfall refunds and retroactive immunity, to the additional governmental intrusion and burden on taxpayers that could result from the requirement to provide a personal notification to each and every affected seller. Such individualized notification would require the department of revenue to more closely and more frequently scrutinize sales data and other business information it obtains and to potentially require additional information in order to determine precisely which businesses might be affected by a given decision. In addition, because addresses, ownership and personal contact information change over time, the department would need to gather updated information more frequently and perhaps maintain a comprehensive database of such information to ensure cost-effective compliance with the personalized notification requirement of the bill. The need to continually maintain up-to-date sales and other business information would result in additional burdens for taxpayers that could be avoided with a less onerous, and likely more effective, method of providing generalized notice of updates in the law than the personal notification mandated by Conference Committee Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 612.

If it were to become law, Conference Committee Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 612 would create no shortage of work for tax attorneys and consultants. It provides a clear incentive for businesses to engage in otherwise unnecessary litigation in the hopes of obtaining a “decision” arguably constituting a “modification” in order to trigger individual notification and then either a windfall refund if they were complying with the law or retroactive immunity if they were violating it. Moreover, it will require all taxpayers to bear the cost of staffing and postage to comply with the personal notification mandate, while putting additional burdens on businesses through additional government intrusion into their affairs. While providing up-to-date information to taxpayers is a laudable policy, Conference Committee Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 612 fails to accomplish it and instead puts additional burden on taxpayers and significantly reduces state and local revenue. Accordingly, this measure does not receive my support.

Special Exemptions for Commercial Laundries and Dry Cleaners

Conference Committee Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 612 would exempt commercial laundries and dry cleaners from paying state and local sales and use taxes on their purchases of materials, goods, machinery, electrical energy and gas, chemicals, soaps, detergents, cleaning and sanitizing agents, and other ingredients used to treat, clean and sanitize textiles. These new tax exemptions would only be available for large commercial and industrial laundries and dry cleaners—facilities that process at least 500 pounds per hour and 60,000 pounds per week. There is no requirement that a benefitting business create any new jobs to take advantage of these broad new exemptions. Moreover, the General Assembly failed to account for the projected $2 million annual reduction in state revenue in the budget they enacted for the fiscal year starting July 1, as well as an additional $2 million reduction projected for local jurisdictions.

Like many of the exemptions and carve-outs rushed through on the last day of the legislative session, these new exemptions for laundries and dry cleaners are not mere clarifications of existing sales and use tax law. Instead, this provision would seek to overrule 25 years of legal precedent holding that cleaning dirty clothes is not the same as manufacturing. In 1989, the Missouri Supreme Court first “plumbed the sudsy depths of various sales and use tax exemptions and found no application to commercial laundry operations.” AAA Laundry & Linen Supply Co. v. Director of Revenue, 425 S.W.3d 126, 127 (Mo. banc 2014) (discussing Unitog Rental Services, Inc. v. Director of Revenue, 779 S.W.2d 568 (Mo. banc 1989)). Earlier this year, the court similarly rejected a commercial laundry's attempt to avoid paying its taxes, reiterating that, as in 1989, the laws enacted by the General Assembly did not provide a tax exemption. Id. at 127-29. Following this decision, the laundry league lobbied lawmakers for tailor-made exemptions that would treat ironing out the wrinkles as "processing" a shirt and getting out the grass stains as "manufacturing" a pair of pants, thereby abrogating a quarter century of law and relieving the laundries of their previous legal obligations.

⁴ This is true whether it was the court reaffirming this year the tax a laundry first sought to avoid in 1989, see AAA Laundry & Linen Supply Co. v. Director of Revenue, 425 S.W.3d 126, 127 (Mo. banc 2014) (discussing Unitog Rental Services, Inc. v. Director of Revenue, 779 S.W.2d 568 (Mo. banc 1989)), affirming that the General Assembly’s laws did not exempt the purchases claimed as tax free by convenience stores, restaurants, or grocery stores, see Aquila Foreign Qualifications Corp. v. Director of Revenue, 362 S.W.3d 1, 2 (Mo. banc 2012); Brinker Missouri, Inc. v. Director of Revenue, 319 S.W.3d 433, 435 (Mo. banc 2010); Union Elec. Co. v. Director of Revenue, 425 S.W.3d 118, 120 (Mo. banc 2014), or clarifying in 2008 that “tax is due for ‘fees paid to, or in any place of amusement, entertainment or recreation,’” see Michael Jaudes Fitness Edge, Inc. v. Director of Revenue, 248 S.W.3d 606 (Mo. banc 2008) (affirming denial of refund claim for taxes paid at fitness center based on Wilson’s Total Fitness Center, Inc. v. Director of Revenue, 38 S.W.3d 424 (Mo. banc 2001)).

Because these new exemptions were enacted without regard for the normal legislative process—slipped into the bill without ever being in an introduced bill, without ever being the subject of a public hearing, and without ever being included in a fiscal note that reflected their cost—it is not surprising that they promote poor tax policy. First, these exemptions draw a seemingly arbitrary distinction between the laundries and dry cleaners fortunate enough to gain this generous new benefit and the rest who are left out to dry. Under this provision, a laundry that processes 59,999 pounds per week would have to continue paying their taxes, but a laundry processing a single pound more would be entitled to broad new exemptions from state and local taxes. This distorts the free market and puts smaller laundries and dry cleaners (not to mention the Missouri families who are doing their own laundry) in the position of subsidizing the operations of the larger ones. The large commercial laundries might be getting their detergent tax-free, but the rest of Missouri taxpayers would be getting taken to the cleaners.

Moreover, this provision does not simply give commercial laundries and dry cleaners the same tax exemptions enjoyed by other businesses. It gives them more lucrative ones. Although some of the tax exemptions available to manufacturers are limited solely to state taxes, these new exemptions for laundries would apply to local taxes as well. With this provision, the General Assembly would be privileging washing dirty clothes over manufacturing new products, giving commercial dry cleaners and laundries a better deal than Missouri manufacturers without any clearly-articulated economic justification for doing so and without requiring the creation of a even a single new job. Particularly when coupled with the fiscal irresponsibility of failing to account for the fiscal impact in the budget, these exemptions represent poor tax policy and poor fiscal policy, and cannot receive my approval.

Corporate Income Allocation

Conference Committee Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 612 would enable additional businesses to reduce their corporate income taxes by utilizing an alternative method of calculating the amount of their income that is derived in Missouri. Legislation enacted last year authorized this alternative allocation method for manufacturers and other businesses selling tangible personal property. This provision would expand this alternative method to sellers of intangible personal property and service providers such as law firms, accounting firms, stock brokers, bond traders, real estate holding companies, and consultants.

Like many of the tax measures enacted during the final hours of the legislative session, this provision was never the subject of a public hearing and was not accounted for in the Fiscal Year 2015 budget passed by the General Assembly. A change to Missouri's tax policy that would reduce state revenues by up to $15 million annually according to the legislature's own estimate should be the subject of open debate, and the foregone revenue must be accounted for in the budget in order to receive my support.

In accordance with the above-stated reasons for disapproval, I am returning Conference Committee Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 612 without my approval.

Sincerely,
Jeremiah W. (Jay) Nixon

Herewith I return to you Conference Committee Substitute for House Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 615 entitled:

AN ACT

To repeal sections 49.272, 452.556, 476.056, 478.320, 478.437, 478.464, 478.513, 478.600, 483.140, 488.012, 488.014, 488.426, 488.607, 550.040, 550.060, 575.153, and 610.021, RSMo, section 476.385 as enacted by conference committee substitute for house committee substitute for senate bill no. 23, ninety-seventh general assembly, first regular session, and section 476.385 as enacted by conference committee substitute for senate substitute for senate committee substitute for house bill no. 683, ninety-fifth general assembly, first regular session, and to enact in lieu thereof twenty-one new sections relating to the administration of justice, with an existing penalty provision, and an emergency clause for certain sections.

I disapprove of Conference Committee Substitute for House Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 615. My reasons for disapproval are as follows:

Conference Committee Substitute for House Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 615 contains a number of worthwhile provisions that can become law with my action on other legislation. However, because this bill would reduce government transparency by exempting certain records of the Lieutenant Governor from disclosure under Chapter 610, RSMo, commonly known as the Missouri Sunshine Law, it does not receive my approval.

Conference Committee Substitute for House Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 615 would amend Chapter 610, RSMo, to authorize the closure of “[i]ndividually identifiable records submitted to the office of the Lieutenant Governor concerning or relating to reports of waste, fraud, and abuse of public resources.” However, as noted by the State Auditor in his most recent audit of the Lieutenant Governor’s Office, “the Lieutenant Governor lacks the statutory authority to investigate public concerns regarding the suspected misuse of taxpayer monies or to create a website or telephone hotline for that purpose.”¹ Moreover, the State Auditor recognized that “because state law already provides other elected officials and agencies, such as the State Auditor, the Attorney General, the Department of Social Services, and the Department of Labor and Industrial Relations, Division of Workers’ Compensation, with authority to investigate fraud and misuse of public funds, the Lieutenant Governor’s Missouri Waste Report may be a duplication of effort and a waste of state resources.”

Missouri law already provides confidentiality protections for individuals making reports or allegations of improper governmental activity to agencies that actually have the statutory authority to investigate such allegations. For example, just last year I signed legislation authorizing the State Auditor to receive reports or allegations of improper governmental activities and allowing reporting individuals to choose to remain anonymous. See Section 29.221, RSMo. Although maintaining confidentiality may be warranted where information is being provided to an agency with the legal authority to investigate the allegations, there is no sound reason for shielding from public scrutiny an office that lacks such authority. Accordingly, this bill does not receive my approval.

In accordance with the above stated reasons for disapproval, I am returning Conference Committee Substitute for House Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 615 without my approval.

Respectfully submitted,
Jeremiah W. (Jay) Nixon

Herewith I return to you Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 675 entitled:

AN ACT

To amend chapter 70, RSMo, by adding thereto one new section relating to the Missouri local government employees' retirement system.

I disapprove of Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 675. My reasons for disapproval are as follows:

Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 675 would allow a political subdivision to request that the Local Government Employees’ Retirement System (LAGERS) assume all duties and responsibilities related to the operation of the political subdivision’s prior, closed retirement plan. While there may be benefits for a political subdivision to have this option, it should not be provided without regard to the rights of plan participants and to local laws governing the administration of police and firefighter retirement plans. Because this is precisely what Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 675 would do, it does not receive my approval.

Proponents of this legislation have stressed that the bill merely provides the option to transfer the administration of a prior, closed police or firefighter retirement plan to LAGERS. However, the bill would place the authority to exercise this option solely in the hands of the political subdivision employer, even if the transfer was opposed by the plan trustees, who, unlike the political subdivision employer, have a fiduciary obligation to plan participants. Moreover, Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 675 would authorize the political subdivision to transfer plan administration to LAGERS even if the political subdivision’s own charter or ordinances would prohibit it, by authorizing the transfer “[n]otwithstanding any language to the contrary in any other statute, city ordinance or city charter. . .” Thus, in a charter city with a charter provision requiring a vote of the plan membership in order for there to be a change to the retirement plan for police officers and firefighters, this bill would nonetheless allow the political subdivision to transfer the retirement plan to LAGERS without the vote called for by the city charter.

Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 675 would also enable political subdivisions to ignore the wishes of local voters. Voters in a number of Missouri communities have approved dedicated sales taxes to fund public safety, including police and fire retirement plan obligations. Local voters did so with the understanding that such plan obligations would be managed by local trustees. By enabling a political subdivision to nonetheless transfer plan administration away from local trustees, Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 675 would undermine the will of local voters and should not become the law of the state.

In accordance with the above stated reasons for disapproval, I am returning Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 675 without my approval.

Respectfully submitted,
Jeremiah W. (Jay) Nixon

Herewith I return to you House Committee Substitute for Senate Substitute for Senate Bill No. 694 entitled:

AN ACT

To repeal sections 408.500, 408.505, and 408.506, RSMo, and to enact in lieu thereof three new sections relating to unsecured loans of five hundred dollars or less, with penalty provisions.

I disapprove of House Committee Substitute for Senate Substitute for Senate Bill No. 694. My reasons for disapproval are as follows:

House Committee Substitute for Senate Substitute for Senate Bill No. 694 provides false hope of true payday lending reform while in reality falling far short of the mark. This bill cannot be called meaningful reform and does not receive my approval.

Supporters point to the lower cap on interest this bill would impose, but allowing payday lenders to charge 912.5% for a 14-day loan is not true reform. Supporters point to the requirement that payday lenders offer extended payment plans, but in states where payday lenders are required to offer such plans they are seldom used by borrowers. Supporters point to the legislation’s requirement for payday lenders to comply with “restrictions and prohibitions applicable to creditors contained in the federal Fair Debt Collection Practices Act,” but the Fair Debt Collection Practices Act does not apply to creditors, which renders this requirement hollow. Supporters point to the prohibition on loan rollovers, but missing from the legislation is anything to address the unfortunately all-too-common situation where someone living paycheck-to-paycheck is offered multiple loans by multiple lenders at the same time or is encouraged to take out back-to-back loans from the same lender.

Although some may contend that House Committee Substitute for Senate Substitute for Senate Bill No. 694 is an improvement over the status quo, it fails to protect consumers and fails to prevent the cycle of debt that payday lending perpetuates. Instead, House Committee Substitute for Senate Substitute for Senate Bill No. 694 appears to be part of a coordinated effort by the payday loan industry to avoid more meaningful reform. This I cannot support.

In accordance with the above stated reasons for disapproval, I am returning House Committee Substitute for Senate Substitute for Senate Bill No. 694 without my approval.

Respectfully submitted,

RESOLUTIONS

Senator Dempsey offered Senate Resolution No. 3, regarding Carla Incerta, St. Charles, which was adopted.

Senator Schmitt offered Senate Resolution No. 4, regarding Jeffery Daniel Burke, which was adopted.

SENATE RESOLUTION NO. 5

Whereas, the members of the Missouri Senate occasionally pause in their diverse daily activities in order to acknowledge milestone events in the lives and careers of Show-Me State residents who have proven down through the years to be exemplary citizens in local communities;

and

Whereas, Bob Priddy of Jefferson City, Missouri, has attained considerable distinction as the former news director of KLIK radio and has been the news director of the statewide commercial radio network MissouriNet since its founding in November 1974; and

Whereas, in November 2014, Bob Priddy is drawing his leadership of MissouriNet to a close in well-deserved retirement after forty years of service; and

Whereas, Bob Priddy prepared for his diverse responsibilities in life by earning a degree in journalism from the University of Missouri and continuing his higher education through graduate studies in journalism and education; and

Whereas, no stranger to honors and accolades, Bob Priddy is the recipient of a Faculty-Alumni Award from the University Alumni Association, an Honor Medal from the School of Journalism, and a Gregory Stockard Distinguished Service Award from the Radio Television News Directors Association and the Radio and Television News Directors Foundation; and

Whereas, Bob Priddy is the author of five books, three of which are based on his popular daily radio program, “Across Our Wide Missouri”; one of which is a biography of Thomas Hart Benton, “Only the Rivers Are Peaceful: The Missouri Mural of Thomas Hart Benton”; and one of which is “The Art of the Missouri Capitol: History in Canvas, Bronze, and Stone”; and

Whereas, Bob Priddy is justifiably proud to be known as the beloved husband of Nancy, a loving father of Liz and Rob, a wonderful grandfather to Addison and Elena Priddy, and a devout member of First Christian Church/Disciples of Christ in Jefferson City:

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved that we, the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninety-seventh General Assembly, join to applaud the personal and professional accomplishments garnered thus far in the life and work of Bob Priddy and to convey to him this legislative body’s most heartfelt best wishes as he partakes in the special opportunities and pleasures traditionally associated with the golden years of retirement; and

Be It Further Resolved that the Secretary of the Senate be instructed to prepare a properly inscribed copy of this resolution for presentation to Bob Priddy of Jefferson City, Missouri.

NINETY-SEVENTH GENERAL ASSEMBLY of the
STATE OF MISSOURI
SECOND REGULAR SESSION

FIRST DAY, WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 8, 2014

Speaker Jones in the Chair.

Prayer by Msgr. Robert A. Kurwicki, Chaplain.

When you pray, say, Our Father. (Luke 11:2)

Loving and Eternal God who has set eternity in our souls, the spirit of love in our hearts, and a song of praise on our lips, in the quiet hush of this moment we bow to pray as we begin again. We come to labor for the people of Missouri. Pour out Your Spirit upon us and join us together in greater loyalty to our state, in greater justice to our fellow citizens and in greater faith in You. Keep us faithful in the defense of freedom, and with courage and confidence may we preserve and promote the blessings of liberty everywhere in the Show-Me State.

Enlighten the minds of these members and their staffs that we may work together to remove inequalities, to reduce friction, to renounce prejudice, and by the strength of Your Spirit may we foster an increasing good will in the hearts of all in the People's House of our state. Help us to take the law into our hearts and to respect the rights and dignity of all God's children.

And the House says, "Amen!"

The Missouri State Highway Patrol, Troop F Color Guard, presented the Colors.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

Representative Diehl suggested the absence of a quorum.

The following roll call indicated a quorum present:

ADDRESS BY SPEAKER TIMOTHY JONES

Friends and colleagues, family members and esteemed visitors who have made the trip to be here with us today, welcome to the Missouri State Capitol and the Opening Day of the 2014 legislative session.

Today, as we begin our vitally important work, we stand at a moment in our nation's and state's history that can only be described as challenging.

The federal government continues to spend money at an unsustainable rate, and Washington D.C. seems intent only on advancing policies that jeopardize the very liberties and the free market principles upon which this country was founded.

While these are challenging times, we must recall and remember that our nation has encountered historic divisions and conflicts, but has always risen to the occasion and always emerged stronger and more resolute from every battle and hardship.

President Ronald Reagan once said: “We speak with pride and admiration of that little band of Americans who overcame insuperable odds to set this nation on course 200 years ago. But our glory didn't end with them. Americans ever since have emulated their deeds.”

As I have traveled the state of Missouri over these past years, I have been impressed time and again by the undaunted spirit of the people of this great state. Even in the face of these challenging times, they continue to persevere and overcome.

Today, Missourians are looking for new leadership, new ideas and a new direction. The citizens of our nation and state have firmly declared that failed big government “solutions”, full of bureaucracy, spending and waste, are not the answer. The promise of a return to freedom, of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness is what people want. Government must stop taking, must stop erecting barriers, must cease its endless confiscation and redistribution of the hard earned fruits of our citizens’ labors. With the end of 2013, we saw people everywhere declare: more government is not the answer, it is the problem.

Missourians have carried on in spite of a lack of executive level leadership on both the national and state level. For over five years now, while poverty has been on the rise, while more Americans than ever before have been engulfed by the welfare state, while failed tax and spend policies have literally bankrupted several major urban cities in our country and threatened to bankrupt entire states, we have seen a president continue to blindly engage in efforts to grow the size of a failed government even larger - to make it more intrusive and more present in our day-to-day lives.

As the late, great Margaret Thatcher once observed, “The larger the slice taken by government, the smaller the cake available for everyone.” Her words have become reality here in America as we have witnessed disastrous policies like Obamacare, failed federal bailout plans, and a skyrocketing national debt that now exceeds 17 trillion dollars. As our federal government has grown hungry for a larger and larger slice, it has caused many of us to wonder what type of country we are leaving for our children and grandchildren.

In Missouri, our governor has stood in the way of significant legislation that would provide growth and opportunity for all Missourians. Our governor has said no to lower taxes and policies that would create a vibrant business environment. That is in large part why our state has lost 30,000 jobs during his tenure and ranks near the bottom of the entire country for job growth.

We stand at a crossroads. We stand at the epicenter of a great nation that has before it a generational choice. Here in the Heartland, we can look to the north and east, to states that have employed failed tax and spend policies of the past as their once promising urban areas floundered towards bankruptcy. Or, we can look to the south and to the west where bold leaders are enacting even bolder reforms of growth and opportunity that are leading to prosperity for all. Some of our neighbors here in the Midwest have moved boldly, have enacted significant policy changes of tax reductions and worker freedom and they are now seeing, for the first time in generations, positive growth.

There is no reason Missouri should be left behind. There is no reason that our neighbors should be experiencing healthy growth and recovery while our GDP ranks nearly last in the country. That is why this year, if our governor chooses to continue not to lead, the Missouri House is determined to forge ahead with a bold agenda that will bring the opportunity for prosperity to all Missourians.

Our agenda this year will focus on four major policy areas: Growth and opportunity for all Missourians, Guaranteeing access to a great education, Generating affordable and abundant energy and Guarding and protecting Missouri values.

Providing growth and opportunity for all Missourians means we will continue to consider any policy that gives our citizens, our workers, our employers, the opportunity for new jobs. This means creating a business-friendly and job-creating environment with a lower tax burden, reduced regulatory burdens and ending costly, frivolous litigation.

First and foremost, Missourians want us to pass the first significant tax reform our state has seen in nearly 100 years. Missourians need and want lower taxes. Missourians also want us to engage in significant reforms of our tax credit system and end our governor’s practice of picking winners and losers via some centralized planning authority. Missourians want tax breaks for all, not just the chosen few.

Missourians also want us to take on the true health care crisis in our state - much needed malpractice reform. Missouri stands at a huge disadvantage with nearly all of our neighboring states by having a punitive litigation culture that seeks to unfairly punish our hard working doctors and nurses, and encourages our health care industry to spend less on research, development and access to care and more and more on legal defense funds. It is time that we had a health care system that welcomed doctors and patients into our state instead of driving them out.

In the 21st century, one of the best policies we can promote is giving people the right to pursue their dreams and their own economic freedom, to be masters of their own destiny. In this day and age, every worker should have this right. As 24 states have now empowered their workers over entrenched union bosses and given their workers the ultimate freedom to make their own choices, we owe it to all Missouri workers to give them the same freedom. For true growth and opportunity Missouri should become the 25th state for worker freedom and choice.

States that have embraced worker freedom have experienced explosive growth as a result. Studies prove that states with worker freedom create more private sector jobs, enjoy lower poverty rates, experience more technology development, realize more personal income growth, and increase the number of people covered by employment-based private health insurance.

Across our country, jobs are created where the environment facilitates and encourages job growth. Companies large and small are relocating to states with lower tax burdens, less regulations and where worker freedom and choice reigns. The states that are creating the most jobs are low tax, low regulation, right-to-work states with equitable and fair legal systems.

As I have traveled our great State, I have heard the yearning for these policies echo in the words of many, many Missourians. Family farmers in northeast Missouri, entrepreneurs in St. Louis and Kansas City, manufacturers in southeast and southwest Missouri, builders in mid-Missouri, health care providers in northwest and south central Missouri...hard working Missourians all across our great state have spoken in unison: reduce the barriers that government throws before us, provide us relief from excessive taxation, reign in wasteful spending and job-destroying bureaucracy, level the playing field so all may compete fairly. Missourians know what will create growth and prosperity. We owe it to them to act.

A strong, effective education system is another key to ensuring prosperity for future generations of Missourians. We must continue to work toward a public education system that provides a truly excellent education to every young person regardless of their zip code or place of birth. We must provide every district in our state the tools to ensure that effective teaching, not bureaucracy, is the number one priority. And as we look at our failing school districts in St. Louis and Kansas City, we must see this crisis, which has lasted over forty years, as an opportunity to stop doing business as usual in our system of education and start embracing innovation that will lead to better educational outcomes. We must appropriately fund our public education institutions at all levels and then hold them accountable for the billions of taxpayer dollars that they receive each and every year. All individuals in our education system should be held accountable to our most important treasure: our children, who are our future.

To those who call the current open enrollment law a "crisis", many of us say, we are glad you finally noticed that there is a crisis in public education, one that has been going on for decades. Guaranteeing a great education for all children, no matter where they reside in the state, is, and always has been, one of my highest priorities. Removing the opportunity and choice for a great education that some children have now for the first time in generations is the height of cynicism and should not even be considered. Preserving the opportunity for every child to truly have the choice for a great education is what we should demand.

We must also work to ensure Missouri embraces responsible energy policies that will encourage affordable energy prices and technological development. We must ensure our regulatory framework is not impeding Missourians from using existing energy sources or pursuing new developments using sources like coal and natural gas. Only by using an "all of the above" energy framework can we hope to achieve energy independence. We must acknowledge that Missouri is a state that has more than 80 percent of its energy generated by coal, which means we must continue to do all we can to safeguard our natural resources. Our manufacturers, our farmers, our business owners and every family continue to rely on Missouri's abundant, affordable energy. We owe it to our future growth and prosperity to make sure that we can meet the ever-escalating energy demands of tomorrow.

Missouri is a state built on family values and steeped in common sense, and the legislature will continue to advance policies that support and bolster these ideals. The General Assembly as a whole has worked together to push back against the over-encroachment of the federal government and the continued attempts by our executive branch to violate the privacy rights of Missouri citizens in many aspects of our daily lives. Whether it is protecting our generational right to farm, pushing back against unlawful and egregious actions by our state departments and agencies and holding them accountable, or protecting our devotion to life and the rights guaranteed to us by all the amendments that we cherish in our country's and state's constitution, we owe it to all Missourians to protect the values, rights and freedoms that they hold dear.

These initiatives we have discussed today have been placed into effect with tremendous results in many other states in our nation. While states around us have cut taxes and produced positive economic growth as a result, our governor has denied Missourians a reduction in tax burdens and has instead advocated for a massive expansion in government spending and failed entitlement programs. As we have discussed removing barriers to job growth, education reform and placing reasonable medical malpractice limits in place, our governor has largely remained on the sidelines or vetoed bipartisan legislation in these key policy areas.

Missourians deserve better. The people deserve a government that wants to level the playing field and stay out of the way so workers and businesses can do what they do best, create growth and opportunity for all. As our great founding father Thomas Jefferson said, a wise and frugal government is one that leaves citizens "otherwise free to regulate their own pursuits of industry and improvement, and shall not take from the mouth of labor and bread it has earned. This is the sum of good government."

It is time for us to live up to the words of Jefferson and for the leaders in this Chamber to empower us to be the great state we can and should be. It is time to stop hemorrhaging jobs across our borders and failing to attract new business opportunities because our economic policies are flawed and unwelcoming. And it is time to get serious about empowering our young people to become the entrepreneurs, the family farmers, the small business owners, the innovators and leaders of tomorrow by providing them with an educational experience that is second to none.

We must empower Missourians to succeed and to grow, and we must do it now. May God continue to inspire us and to bless us all, across this great nation and here, in the great state of Missouri.

Pursuant to Section 9.141, RSMo, the Bill of Rights was read by Marilyn Seaton, Senior Legislative Specialist, Office of the Assistant Chief Clerk.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

Second Regular Session, 97th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

SECOND DAY, THURSDAY, JANUARY 9, 2014

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Jones in the Chair.

Prayer by Msgr. Robert A. Kurwicki, Chaplain.

Jesus said, "I am the light of the world: he that followeth Me shall not walk in darkness, but shall have the light of life." (John 8:12)

God of all, in the darkness of our snowy day we turn to You, the light of the world and the light our world needs this present hour. Amid the discontent and dissatisfaction of this age we come to You for guidance and direction.

Lead, kindly light, amid the encircling gloom of winter, lead us on. Keep our feet secure. Help us to see the future and to have the courage to accept it - that step by step we may move in the direction of more harmonious relationships among our people, greater cooperation among our citizens, and an ever increasing good will in the hearts of all.

And the House says, "Amen!"

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

Second Regular Session, 97th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

FOURTH DAY, TUESDAY, JANUARY 14, 2014

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Jones in the Chair.

Prayer by Msgr. Robert A. Kurwicki, Chaplain.

*Hear my prayer, O Lord, give ear to my supplications: in Thy faithfulness answer me and in Thy righteousness.
(Psalm 143:1)*

Breathe on us, breath of God, as in this moment we bow at the altar of prayer and offer unto You the devotion of our hearts. You have bound us together with our neighbors in a struggle for happiness and a striving for peace. Grant unto us the insight and the inspiration that we may continue on the path of harmony and together maintain peace, promote justice, and increase our fellowship with each other.

So rule over our hearts and prosper our endeavors that law and order, faith and good will may prevail between us forever. Thus may we be one in spirit as we face the events and the experiences of this week.

And the House says, "Amen!"

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the first day was approved as printed by the following vote:

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

Second Regular Session, 97th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

FIFTH DAY, WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 15, 2014

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Jones in the Chair.

Prayer by Msgr. Robert A. Kurwicki, Chaplain.

Our soul waiteth for the Lord: He is our help and our shield. (Psalm 33:20)

Eternal God, the sustainer of life and the Father of all, in Your presence we pause in silence knowing that with You all our labor is worthwhile. We pray that our lives and the life of Missouri may be built upon the rock of eternal truth and invincible good will. So we dedicate ourselves anew to You who are the way, the truth, and the life.

We thank You for our state, for our glorious heritage, for this challenging hour, and for the faith with which we can meet the days that lie ahead. Bless our representatives - give them wisdom as they lead our people and help them to look to You, the fountain of wisdom and the source of all good.

May Your mighty spirit surging through us and our people translate our principles into practices and our dedication to You into a greater devotion to truth and freedom.

And the House says, "Amen!"

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the fourth day was approved as printed by the following vote:

HOUSE BILLS FOR SECOND READING

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

Second Regular Session, 97th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

SIXTH DAY, THURSDAY, JANUARY 16, 2014

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Jones in the Chair.

Prayer by Msgr. Robert A. Kurwicki, Chaplain.

As many as are led by the spirit of God, they are the sons of God. (Romans 8:14)

O Lord Who is the source of all our strength and the refuge of those who put their trust in You, steady us with Your spirit lest the disagreements of this day hide Your presence from us. Within the shadow of our concern stands Your love waiting to cross the threshold of our need. As we pray may we receive Your love and thus led – step by step – be strengthened for the journey of this day.

We pray for those we love, whose faithfulness warms our hearts and brings joy to our spirits. We commend them to Your loving care, which shepherds their days with a wisdom and love greater than our own.

We pray for our state. Cleanse our hearts of all harsh misunderstandings and hostile ill will which are the seeds of strife. Make us quick to welcome every adventure in cooperation and every effort to strengthen our relationships with each other. Open the door of opportunity and give us courage to walk through it to a greater life together under the banner of freedom.

And the House says, “Amen!”

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as an Honorary Page for the Day, to serve without compensation: Wesley Arvin Gage Settle.

The Journal of the fifth day was approved as printed by the following vote:

The Doorkeeper announced the approach of the Honorable Jeremiah W. (Jay) Nixon, Governor of the State of Missouri. The Governor was duly escorted to the House Chamber and the Speaker’s dais, where he delivered the following message to the Assembly in Joint Session.

STATE OF THE STATE
ADDRESS BY GOVERNOR JEREMIAH W. (JAY) NIXON

Thank you, Lieutenant Governor Kinder, Speaker Jones, President Pro Tem Dempsey, judges of the Missouri Supreme Court, state officials, members of the legislature, members of my cabinet, and my fellow Missourians.

With us tonight are Missouri’s exceptional First Lady, Georganne, and our son, Will.

Tonight, we are honored to be joined by Missourians who put their lives on the line to protect the lives of others. Whether they fight our enemies abroad or protect our communities at home, these ordinary men and women do extraordinary things. They are real heroes.

On August 6, in the dark of night, deadly flash floods struck several Missouri communities without warning. In Pulaski County, creeks became raging rivers, rising by as much as 23 feet – inundating homes, washing out roads and, ultimately, claiming lives.

There were many acts of bravery that night, as state and local emergency personnel fanned out to look for folks who needed help.

Two local firefighters had been attempting to rescue a man and a young child, when their boat capsized in the rushing water, leaving all four of them clinging to a single guidewire.

Another local first responder had been holding two women above water for thirty minutes, never giving up on the rescue attempt, but tiring.

Fortunately, Corporal Lance DeClue and Lieutenant Justin McCullough of our Missouri State Highway Patrol were on duty that night.

Overcoming darkness and debris, pouring rain and treacherous floodwaters, and even a stalled rescue boat, troopers DeClue and McCullough got all seven of these individuals to safety.

Three years ago, when we worked together to merge the State Highway and Water Patrols, we knew this change would improve efficiency and reduce overhead. It has. But in the rushing waters that night, it was clear that the benefits of this reform went way beyond balance sheets. It saved lives.

I'd like us all to recognize Corporal DeClue and Lieutenant McCullough, who are with us tonight. Please join me in thanking them for their service and heroism.

These brave Missourians remind us that the true strength of our state cannot be measured in bricks or bushels, but in the talents and tenacity of our citizens.

Here in Missouri, folks don't shy away from challenges – they work together to tackle them. Getting up early...working hard... staying late... and looking out for one another.

And thanks to the people of Missouri, the state of our state is strong, and growing stronger with each passing day.

In every corner of our state, wages are up, personal income is up, and unemployment continues to fall.

In fact, since I took office in January 2009, Missouri's unemployment rate has dropped from 8.6 percent to 6.1 percent, and it's been below the national average for 51 straight months.

Since this time last year, Missouri has added nearly 44,000 jobs. And when you look at the pace of private sector job growth, Missouri was top 10 in the nation – better than every single one of our neighboring states.

Agriculture exports from Missouri have increased by more than a billion dollars over the past five years – 71 percent – thanks to Missouri farmers and ranchers.

Behind these impressive numbers are significant investments by companies that are hiring and growing all across our state – high-tech global brands like Monsanto, Expedia, Express Scripts and Cerner, to name just a few, along with small businesses and startups like CoFactor Genomics in St. Louis and Brewer Science in Rolla.

We all know that if you want to win, you've got to compete. That's why I want to thank this General Assembly for helping us make Missouri a finalist for the Boeing 777X. We didn't win the biggest prize – but we competed at the highest level.

It's important to remember, it was just three and a half years ago, that we came together in another special session that also had very high stakes.

Auto plants had closed. Jobs had gone overseas. And folks thought it wouldn't be long before the last Missouri-made vehicle rolled off the line.

But instead of giving up, we took action.

Together, we passed the Missouri Manufacturing Jobs Act, we upped our investments in workforce training, and we saved Missouri's auto industry.

Today, Missouri's automotive comeback continues to make headlines. Just look at last week:

On Sunday, GM unveiled the all-new Missouri-made GMC Canyon...

On Monday, Ford unveiled the all-new Missouri-made F-150...

Later that day, we welcomed a new automotive supplier – Janesville Acoustics – and over 150 jobs to Warrensburg.

And on Thursday, Ford announced the hiring of the 1,000th worker to build the Ford Transit van, previously built exclusively overseas.

Ask any autoworker in Claycomo or Wentzville about the pride they take in building the next-generation of American-made vehicles, and they'll tell you it means a lot more than just a paycheck.

For those autoworkers and their families, the work we do here is very real.

Our economic progress is no accident. It's the result of a clear and unwavering focus on strict fiscal discipline and smart investments.

We're the Show-Me State, so we developed a strategic plan, and we followed it.

Instead of engaging in Washington-style deficit spending, we kept our fiscal discipline – balancing budgets, cutting waste and keeping taxes low. This past year, all three major rating agencies reaffirmed Missouri's perfect AAA credit rating.

Tonight, as I have every year, I am proposing a balanced budget that holds the line on taxes – and continues to downsize government, cutting 81 more positions from state payrolls. By the end of this fiscal year, we will have reduced the state workforce by 4,600 full-time employees.

But we didn't just make government smaller – we made it smarter. We reduced energy use, sold off surplus property and put more state services online. My budget continues to invest in technology to provide Missourians with the efficient, effective, accountable government they deserve.

Keeping our fiscal house in order helped us protect our shared values. We made sure that as we moved our economy forward, we didn't leave folks behind: a young child with autism, a student working her way through college, a family rebuilding after a natural disaster, or a soldier returning from the front lines.

Four years ago, we launched Show-Me Heroes to help employers recruit and hire our men and women in uniform. Two years ago, we strengthened it by making sure these veterans also get the training they need. Today, Show-Me Heroes continues to change lives.

I recently visited one of the 3,400 Missouri companies that have taken the Show-Me Heroes pledge. At IBM in Columbia, we recognized the 5,000th veteran employed through this program.

Our veterans fought for us – so we're going to be there for them.

For every soldier serving our country overseas, there's a family back here at home – putting on a brave face each day for the kids. Families who, in soldiering on through the loneliness, lend their loved ones strength, lend us all strength – and so it's important that we honor their sacrifice as well.

Tonight we are joined by Heather Styles and her daughters, Paige and Payton. Heather's husband of 11 years, Maj. Matthew Styles, is a helicopter pilot on his second deployment to Afghanistan.

While he serves our country at war, Heather is holding down the fort at their home here in Jefferson City.

They represent thousands of military families all across our state who are counting down the days while their loved ones are in harm's way. Please join me in thanking the Styles family for their service and sacrifice, and wishing Major Styles a safe and speedy return home.

Together, we've laid a solid foundation that got us through some tough economic times, and has brought us to a defining moment for our state.

Now, with our economy picking up steam, how do we build on that foundation?

With Washington paralyzed by politics, what can we do here in Missouri to make a lasting difference for real people?

And when it's always easier to do the small things and then declare victory, how do we tackle the big challenges? The things that matter most: good schools, good jobs, and healthy communities for our kids to grow up in.

Missouri is a diverse state. Just here in this room, we've got farmers and small business owners; artists and outdoorsmen. There aren't many things every single one of us would agree on.

But here's one we can:

Our single greatest responsibility – as elected officials, as parents, as citizens of our state – is to make sure every child in Missouri has an opportunity to achieve his or her dreams.

And we all know, that opportunity starts with education.

For centuries, public education has been a value we cherish as Americans, a value we've reaffirmed time after time.

In the 1700s, Thomas Jefferson called for a public education system that would safeguard our young democracy from tyranny and oppression.

In the 1800s, we established the land grant university system, including the University of Missouri and Lincoln University.

By 1900, every state in the nation had free public elementary schools.

And when the Greatest Generation returned home from World War II – after literally saving the free world – a grateful nation honored them with something far more precious – and patriotic – than a ticker tape parade: the GI Bill.

Shepherded through Congress by Missouri Senator Champ Clark, the GI Bill gave millions of Americans an opportunity their parents never had: the chance to earn a college degree without going into debt.

Think of the impact that it had: between 1940 and 1950, the number of degrees awarded by U.S. colleges and universities more than doubled. Over the next half century, the percentage of Americans with a college degree quintupled.

They became engineers and small business owners; scientists and Supreme Court Justices; Presidents and preschool teachers.

They bought homes, started families, and launched companies – creating the modern middle class, and driving a postwar economic boom unlike anything the world had ever seen.

We're joined by one of them tonight.

Dr. Frank Fontana of St. Louis served in the Army during World War II, and followed the frontlines all the way to Berlin. When he came home, the GI Bill provided him the opportunity to get a degree in optometry, and later he started his own practice.

He married the love of his life, Dorris, and they had two sons who they put through school. The GI Bill gave Frank the opportunity to pursue his dreams, to support his family, and become a great optometrist. I should know – he was mine.

Please join me in thanking Dr. Frank Fontana for his service and for reminding us what the American dream is all about.

This nation's greatest generation made a commitment to education – and as a result, they made the United States the driver of the global economy and the undisputed leader of the free world.

Now, it's our turn to carry on that legacy.

Now, we must work to help every child start school ready to learn.

We must demand that every school is getting the job done.

And, we must make sure that every student can afford to get a college degree.

Together, let's resolve to give our children and grandchildren more opportunities, better opportunities than we had, and build the future they deserve.

We need to start early. Parents and teachers see it every day: the first few years of a child's development have an impact that lasts a lifetime.

A child who starts kindergarten ready to learn, is more likely to succeed in school, go to college, and get a good job.

Working together, over the last year, we've expanded access to early childhood education, giving more children the opportunity to go to high quality preschool in their communities.

But this year, it's time that we do much more. Kids grow up fast – so there's no time to waste.

We must work together to make sure our kids start smart.

And that's why my budget will nearly triple funding for the Missouri Preschool Program.

We will provide quality early learning opportunities to thousands more kids all across Missouri.

But that's just the beginning.

As many of you know, Georganne and I spend a lot of time at Missouri's schools – touring classrooms, talking to students, meeting with teachers and staff. Sometimes, I shoot a few hoops.

Our schools are the hearts of our communities. They're where we gather for picnics and dances, ball games and bingo – where lifelong friendships are made, and fundamental values are learned.

And in today's global economy, whether you root for the DeSoto Dragons, the Sikeston Bulldogs or the Mound City Panthers, our K-12 schools must also be rigorous, high-tech institutions of innovation.

More technology. Smaller class sizes. Well-prepared teachers. The tools our kids need to succeed.

Accomplishing that goal is going to take an unwavering commitment by all of us, and it's going to take money.

That's why my budget increases funding for our K-12 classrooms this year by $278 million, and will put us on a path to fully funding the foundation formula next year.

Every one of us has run for office. And when we knocked on doors and folks asked if we believed in public education – we all said yes. And at every town hall meeting, when someone raised their hand and asked what we'd do for teachers – we said we'd support them. And on the campaign trail, I'll bet almost all of us made a promise to invest in our students and our schools.

Well, you know what? It's time to put our budgets where our campaign brochures are.

Now it's time to decide whether we're merely going to talk about public education, or whether we're going to fund it.

This is the test – and this is the year – to get serious about fully funding our schools. Our local schools will put these dollars to work in a big way for our kids and communities.

Here are just a few of the priorities that school districts have already identified:

In Kennett, every student will have a computer.

In Fort Zumwalt, 50 additional teachers will reduce class sizes, and give kids the personal attention they need.

In Santa Fe, they'll bring back summer school, and establish the district's first early childhood education program.

Up in Kirksville, they will implement Project Lead the Way – the hands-on curriculum that helps students understand and excel in science.

And in Springfield, 4,000 more three- and four-year-olds will have the opportunity to attend high-quality preschool.

Tonight we are joined by teachers, administrators, and board members from across the state. I'd like you to stand. Please join me in thanking them for taking on the honorable challenge of educating our kids.

And with this commitment to fully funding the formula, we're going to demand accountability and measurable results: tougher classes, higher test scores, and higher graduation rates.

Our students need to be ready to compete worldwide – and that means they have to raise their game, and we need to raise ours too.

We've got to believe in education so much, that we commit to making it better.

And when we talk about education – there is something that always bears repeating: there is no more honorable profession than being a teacher.

None of us would be in this room today were it not for the extraordinary people who taught us – and believed in us – years ago.

We are blessed to have so many talented teachers across our state, selfless public servants who stay late to make sure our children don't fall behind, who often dig into their own pockets to make sure they have the materials they need to teach our kids.

And yet each year, there are some who believe the way to build up our schools is to tear down our teachers – trying to cut their pay, or reduce their retirement benefits or threaten their job security.

That simply needs to stop.

Now we can all support making smart reforms to our education system. And of course, we should hold educators accountable for the important job we entrust them to perform.

But instead of attacking public school teachers, we should make it our mission to recruit the best and brightest minds to take on the honorable work of teaching our kids. And that is exactly what this significant education investment will allow our local school districts to do.

Tonight we are pleased to be joined by Tobin Schultz. Ever since he was in the ninth grade, Mr. Schultz knew he wanted to be a teacher – and at Joplin High School, he continues to inspire and motivate students each and every day. Last October, Mr. Schultz won the prestigious Milken Family Foundation National Educator Award.

We were all inspired by how Joplin – even in its darkest hour – rallied behind its students and its schools. Just this month, 1,400 students in Joplin walked in to three brand new schools, marking another milestone in a remarkable recovery.

Mr. Schultz is joined by Joplin High School Principal Dr. Kerry Sachetta, A-Plus Coordinator Susan Day, and Superintendent Dr. C.J. Huff.

Please join me in thanking Mr. Schultz – and all of our teachers – for the vitally important work they do each day.

At Joplin High, Mr. Schultz works hard to make sure kids are prepared to take the next step, and pursue the higher education they need for the careers they want.

Many of us have probably had the same conversation with our kids around the dinner table: we tell them that no matter what they're interested in, the more education they get, the more financially secure they will be.

The numbers are stark: the unemployment rate among high school graduates is more than twice that of college graduates. And by the end of this decade, two-thirds of all jobs will require some kind of college credential.

Together, we've made great strides to make sure that a quality, affordable college education is an option for every family. In fact, over the past five years, Missouri's public universities have led the nation in holding down tuition increases.

Number one.

But we're not done yet. Working together, we're going to make sure students graduate from college with the skills to compete for good jobs, not a load of debt.

That's why I have called on our four-year institutions to once again freeze tuition for Missouri undergraduates.

That's right – under my budget, Missouri undergraduates at our public universities should not have to pay a penny more for tuition next year. Not a penny.

And no student should have to settle for less education, just because their parents make less money.

So we're doing something about that. My budget puts additional dollars behind our Access Missouri Scholarship program so that students from low-income families can get the financial aid they need.

And we'll make sure Bright Flight lives up to its original mission of keeping our best and brightest students here in Missouri during college and after they graduate.

Finally, I'm proud to report that we've taken our A-Plus Schools program statewide, adding 266 schools since 2009 – giving thousands more students the opportunity to earn an A-Plus Scholarship.

Today, all across Missouri, students who work hard, play by the rules and give back to their communities can attend two years of community college – tuition free.

But affordability is only part of the equation.

Once again, core funding for our colleges and universities will be awarded based on performance: on how well our institutions meet specific goals.

And in the high-tech global economy, we need to make sure the degrees students pursue match the skills that businesses need.

Over the next decade, the jobs that are in highest demand will require at least some background in science, technology, engineering or math – the so-called STEM fields.

We're talking about software programmers and scientists, mathematicians and machinists, coders and chemists.

The best way to attract more of these high-paying jobs is to make sure our workers have the skills to fill them – and that is exactly what our STEM initiative will do.

With an initial investment of $22 million, this initiative will help our universities purchase state-of-the-art equipment, expand lab space and – most importantly – produce more graduates in these fast-growing fields.

Investing in high-tech education will pack a huge punch for our economy.

Education must start early – but it can never stop.

With technology constantly advancing, we can't forget that learning needs to be a lifelong endeavor.

Every Missourian willing to work hard and learn something new – no matter what their age or education level – should have the opportunity to take that next step and move up the economic ladder.

I thank the legislature for working with us to strengthen our workforce training tools, and give more Missouri workers the opportunity to sharpen their skills, and get better jobs.

From preschool to graduate school, in total, my budget includes 493 million additional dollars for education.

Our growing economy, combined with our sound budget management, affords us this unique opportunity to invest in our students' future – our state's future.

It's our responsibility to do it.

But there are those who feel that instead of fully funding our schools, we should pull money out of our classrooms in order to experiment with our tax code.

Let's get something straight: I've held the line on taxes every year I've been Governor and will do so again this year.

Missouri's a low-tax state – sixth lowest in the nation – and we like it that way.

I've signed four taxcuts as your Governor – specific, targeted taxcuts that have helped our businesses expand and grow. For example, Missouri employers will save $70 million this year alone because we cut the corporate franchise tax.

But here's what I won't do: I will not support anything that takes money out of our classrooms.

As we saw last summer, in community after community in all corners of our state, parents, teachers, administrators, school board members, business leaders and concerned citizens spoke out with one united voice.

The people of Missouri said they expect their elected leaders to support public schools, because they know that education is the best economic development tool there is.

High paying jobs, growing businesses, thriving communities – these are goals we share, so let’s invest in the one thing we know will help us achieve them: a workforce that can compete worldwide.

This is the year to send a budget to my desk that puts us on track to fully funding our schools, and builds the Missouri our kids deserve.

We’ve shown that we can work together to create better opportunities for all Missourians. Just look at what we’re doing – together – to serve Missourians with disabilities and mental illness.

In 2010, we passed landmark legislation to require insurance companies to cover the diagnosis and treatment of Autism Spectrum Disorders – and what a difference it’s made for our kids.

Today, because of this law, 1.6 million Missourians have coverage for these proven treatments, and more than 2,500 Missourians were treated for autism spectrum disorders last year.

Our Partnership for Hope continues to be a tremendous and life-changing success for thousands of Missourians with developmental disabilities. My budget expands this vital program to even more Missourians, in more communities across the state.

For years, thousands of Missourians with developmental disabilities were forced to wait months – often years – to get the in-home Medicaid services they needed – people like Nate Huffman from St. Peters, who I met when we first launched the Partnership for Hope in 2010.

Back when he was in school, Nate had access to physical therapy and other services that helped him be more independent. He’d even gotten strong enough to walk around his high school track.

But when he graduated, those services ended.

For eight years, Nate’s condition and quality of life worsened while he was placed on a waiting list for in-home services. Eight years – it was heart-breaking. But that was before the Partnership for Hope.

Today, Nate is doing much better. His physical therapy is going well and he’s able to communicate through a new computer system. He told me that his goal was to someday be able to walk around that track again – and thanks to the Partnership for Hope, he’s getting closer to reaching that goal each and every day.

Because of Missourians like Nate, each year I’ve been in office, we’ve made it a priority to chip away at that waiting list.

And now I’m proud to report, this year that waiting list will no longer exist.

Our friends and neighbors will now get the life-changing services they need, when they need them.

On mental illness – as tragedies across the nation exposed dangerous gaps in our country’s mental health safety net – we took action here in Missouri:

We added new mental health liaisons at each of our 29 community mental health centers, so that our law enforcement officers can focus on being cops, not frontline caregivers.

We launched seven targeted emergency room response teams, to ease the burden on our doctors and nurses.

And we made a historic investment in Mental Health First Aid training, so that more teachers, clergy, first responders and ordinary citizens can identify the signs of mental illness and know what to do.

Together, we are training more than 1,000 Missourians on these proven, life-saving techniques.

And with your help this session, we’ll train thousands more.

But as any member of law enforcement can tell you, there are those for whom preventative services are simply not enough. Some mental illnesses are so severe that those suffering from them are a danger to themselves and others.

Since 1851, this care has been provided at Fulton State Mental Hospital, Missouri's only maximum security psychiatric facility – a facility that is crumbling and in desperate need of replacement.

It's inadequate to the needs of patients. It's dangerous for the staff who care for them. And it's an embarrassment to our state.

Now is the time to take action.

That's why I look forward to working with you to address this most urgent of needs and issue bonds to support the construction of a new mental hospital in Fulton.

Interest rates are low. Our credit rating is high. And the need is undeniable. Friends, let's roll up our sleeves, work together, and for the safety of all our communities, get it done this year.

And as we intensify our efforts to make sure that Missourians with mental illness and developmental disabilities get the appropriate care – it's clear that we need more qualified professionals to provide that care.

Just look at the numbers – 104 of Missouri's 114 counties are designated as mental health professional shortage areas; 72 counties lack even a licensed psychiatrist.

These are good jobs that are in demand now – we just need the qualified professionals to fill them. That is why my budget includes a $20 million investment to help our community colleges and universities train 1,200 more mental health professionals.

From teaching a child with autism how to interact with peers, to helping law enforcement respond to individuals in mental health crisis, these health professionals will help keep our communities safe – and make sure all Missourians have the opportunity to live up to their God-given potential.

The priorities I've just laid out are by no means the only issues that require our attention this session:

We need to restore the public's faith in what we do here by reinstating strict campaign contribution limits and passing comprehensive ethics reform.

We need to rein in the tax credit programs that don't deliver a solid return on our investment.

And we need to end discrimination against LGBT Missourians in the workplace. No Missourian should be fired because of who they are or who they love. Last year, the Missouri Nondiscrimination Act passed the Senate with bipartisan support, but failed to get to my desk. Let's get it done this year.

We need to fix the law that's led to so much stress and uncertainty for families and schools, as thousands of students are transported from one district to another.

We need to have a robust discussion about our state's long-term transportation infrastructure needs – and how to pay for them.

We need to develop a comprehensive energy plan for our state: one that balances the need for low-cost, reliable energy with our duty to be responsible stewards of the environment.

And we need to reauthorize the Missouri Rx program, to prevent more than 200,000 seniors and Missourians with disabilities from paying more for their prescription drugs. Let's work together, as we did just three years ago, to extend this essential help for Missourians in need.

But the most significant improvement we could make to the health and wellbeing of our state is Medicaid, and it needs to get done this year.

Since New Year's Day, Missouri taxpayers have spent $115 million and counting – $5.47 million a day – to improve and reform health care in other states, like Arkansas and Arizona, New Jersey and Iowa, Michigan and North Dakota. This adds up to $2 billion, or $500 for every Missouri taxpayer, every year.

Each day we don't act, these states use Missourians' taxdollars to implement innovative reforms, like rewards for making healthier lifestyle choices and penalties for missing doctors' appointments.

Each day we don't act, Missouri's Medicaid system continues as it has for years, without additional protections for taxpayers, or new measures to promote personal responsibility.

Each day we don't act, thousands of Missouri women aren't getting the preventive health care they need to detect breast or cervical cancer early – while there's still time to treat it.

And each day we don't act, nearly 300,000 working Missourians go another day without the treatment they desperately need, for no other reason than they live in Branson instead of Bentonville, in Cape Girardeau instead of Cairo, in Maryville instead of Muscatine.

And if you don't see these folks knocking on your doors or lighting up your phone lines, it's because they don't have time. They're working to pay the bills and make ends meet.

We all know there are problems with Obamacare, and Washington's implementation of it has been abysmal.

But rejecting Medicaid won't fix any of those things. It won't keep Missourians from having to pay federal taxes, or exempt our businesses from new requirements under the law.

Instead, by standing still, we're making the things we don't like about Obamacare even worse, forcing Missourians to bear all the costs of this law – and reap none of the benefits.

Think about that.

The people who are suffering now as a result of our failure to act don't work in the White House – they work the night shift in our factories. They wait tables and scrub floors. They drive snow plows and look after our kids.

Right now, hundreds of thousands of these working Missourians can't afford to get the basic health services they need to lead healthy, productive lives.

They're folks like Anita Sutherland from Van Buren. Anita was a home health care worker who now works part-time at Head Start.

Being uninsured has already taken a toll. A year ago, Anita was diagnosed with uterine cancer and had to leave her full time job. Since then, she's racked up over $100,000 in medical bills, and is suffering from complications of her cancer treatment. Today, buried in a mountain of debt and unable to afford the medical care she needs, Anita doesn't see a way out. She feels hopeless.

But when we strengthen Medicaid, Anita will be covered. She'll be able to get the treatment she needs and go back to working full time. She'll have hope.

Working Missourians like Anita aren't looking for a handout. They just want to get a checkup without wiping out their bank account.

I challenge each one of you to think of any other bill that would make this kind of real and immediate difference – the kind of difference Medicaid expansion would make – in the lives of the people we represent.

I challenge each of you to consider how history will judge those who had the power to help people like Anita – and chose not to.

I challenge each of you to explain why it makes more sense to pay for Medicaid in other states, than it does to reform it in ours.

The path before us is clear:

We can make sure working folks can access affordable health care coverage.

We can improve and reform Medicaid in Missouri.

We can help people.

As the book of Isaiah says: “If you satisfy . . . the needs of the afflicted, then your light shall rise in the darkness and your night will become like the noonday.”

At this time last year, the same Medicaid debate was taking place in state capitols across the country.

And since that time, we’ve seen Governors and legislators, Democrats and Republicans, in other states, come together to reform their health care systems. But here in Missouri we stood still. And now we’ve fallen behind.

This year, Missouri is paying the cost.

This year, Missourians are suffering the consequences.

I look forward to working with all of you to bring affordable health coverage to working families in Missouri and reform Medicaid the Missouri way.

One year ago, many of us gathered in St. Louis to mourn the loss of an icon – Missouri’s adopted son, Stan Musial.

Stan the Man was a member of the Greatest Generation who put his career on hold to serve in World War II – and went on to become the greatest hitter in baseball history.

Stan was called baseball’s “perfect warrior” – because while he swung a loud bat, he also carried himself with a quiet dignity – always a gentleman.

He was known to say, “Every day you put this jersey on, it’s a privilege.”

The same can be said for all of us in this room.

Every day when you put that pin on your lapel, and enter these doors to do the people’s business, it’s a privilege.

And with that privilege comes responsibility.

The people of Missouri count on us to look out for their families as if they were our families.
To focus on what matters: Better jobs. Better schools. Better opportunities for their children.

And it’s easy to get caught up in the political back and forth of the day. Or the controversy of the hour. Or the latest tweet.

But we must be bigger than that, because the work we do here is very, very real.

It’s real to the parents in Bolivar who didn’t go to college but save money every week so someday their children can.

It's real to the farmer in Trenton who nearly lost his crop during the drought of 2012, but has come charging back.

It's real to the child with autism in O'Fallon who's getting the ABA treatment he needs to learn and thrive.

And you better believe it's real to the family in Joplin who lost everything and could have moved away and started anew – but they chose to stay right there to rebuild the town they love.

And their state government has been with them every step of the way – because that's what we do. That's why we serve.

We're here to make a difference for those who work hard and need a hand – often times for people we'll never meet.

Because the legacy we leave will not be measured by votes on Election Day or back-slaps in these hallways – it will be measured by the lasting impact we have on the communities we serve.

The opportunity we've been given – to make this kind of difference in the lives of those we represent – is as rare as it is fleeting.

Ten years from now, when trucks are still rolling off the line in Claycomo, folks might not remember the Missouri Manufacturing Jobs Act.

Twenty years from now, when the mom whose insurance paid for the cancer treatment that saved her life attends her son's college graduation, she won't know the names of the lawmakers who voted for Medicaid expansion.

And 30 years from now, when the student who was the first in her family to go to college takes the reins of a Fortune 500 company, she probably won't credit the high quality preschool she attended.

But we will. And we'll know we focused on the right things. We'll know we made the right choices.

That's our call to action.

That's the sacred responsibility we hold.

In the short time we've been given, let's make it count.

Together, let's build the Missouri our kids deserve.

Thank you, and God bless.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

Second Regular Session, 97th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

EIGHTH DAY, WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 22, 2014

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Jones in the Chair.

Prayer by Msgr. Robert A. Kurwicki, Chaplain.

Blessed are they that hear the word of God and keep it. (Luke 11:28)

Eternal God, we thank You for the coming of another day and for the opportunity it provides to work with You in the service of our state. May these hours glow with the glory of Your presence and in everything we do may we be mindful of Your good spirit.

We come to You with regrets and high hopes, each one of us with a prayer of our own. If we are weary, strengthen us; if we are worried, grant us a peace that calms anxiety; if we are wayward in thought and deed, steady us; if we are wavering in our allegiance to high ideals, be our rock and our fortress; if we are forever seeking our own way, help us to see that there may be other ways and above all to see Your way.

Enable us to meet the tasks of this day with unwavering strength and unwearying endurance. May we continue our work with integrity of spirit and a steadfastness of purpose to Your glory and for the good of Missouri.

And the House says, "Amen!"

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the seventh day was approved as printed.

The Doorkeeper announced the approach of the Honorable Mary R. Russell, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Missouri. Chief Justice Russell was duly escorted to the House Chamber and to the Speaker's dais where she delivered the following message to the assembly in Joint Session.

STATE OF THE JUDICIARY
CHIEF JUSTICE MARY R. RUSSELL

Lieutenant Governor Kinder, Speaker Jones, President Pro Tem Dempsey, members of the General Assembly, the executive branch, my judicial colleagues and everyone gathered in this beautiful chamber: I am honored to have this opportunity to speak to you today.

I am especially pleased to be here, because the capitol building holds personal significance for me. It was here where I learned, first-hand, how the three branches of government work. I made my first visit as a high-school senior with Mr. Frank Brown's government class from Hannibal High School. Later, as a junior at Truman State University, I interned in the House, observing how laws were made. By the way, Rep. Chris Kelly was in the House back then too! I also worked part-time in the Senate president pro tem's office while working my way through law school at Mizzou.

I have had the good fortune to serve in the executive branch of government as well. I was appointed by Governors Ashcroft and Carnahan to several boards and commissions that helped carry out the laws adopted by the legislature.

And now I am in my 18th year serving in the judiciary, where we resolve disputes by interpreting what laws and constitutional provisions mean, when applied to a variety of situations – some foreseen, some not.

These collective experiences in all three branches of our government continue to convince me that all of us are truly “constitutional partners” – all equally sworn to uphold the constitutions of our state and nation – all equally entrusted by our fellow Missourians to make this state better for them, and their children, and their children to come.

Perhaps you are like me, having to pinch yourself that you have the privilege to work in the state capital. For me, it is the honor of working in the red brick building across the street. For you, it may be seeing the majestic dome of the capitol rising in the distance as you drive into town and knowing you have an office there. Our time to do good here is limited, and it will pass all too quickly. We must make the most of this unique opportunity. For we are all but temporary guardians of our system of government, and we must work together to ensure its legacy continues.

But there is another reason I am honored to be here today. This speech marks the 40th anniversary of the first state of the judiciary address in Missouri history, delivered by then-Chief Justice Robert T. Donnelly. In that speech to the General Assembly in 1974, he talked about the “exciting opportunities available” for “modernization of our operations.” He predicted that the impact of technology on government would “be profound.”

What a visionary Chief Justice Donnelly was. His statements about “the impact of ... technology” on the courts were made more than 40 years ago, long before desktop computers, e-mail and videoconferencing ... and maybe before some of you were even born.

Today, we in the courts continue to meet the challenge of being innovative in the services we provide, to maintaining prudent stewardship of public funds and to working in cooperation with all our “constitutional partners.”

On behalf of the 407 state judges and commissioners and the more than 4,000 court clerks and staff working diligently in each one of your local courthouses back home, I am proud to say that the state of Missouri's judiciary is strong. We have been working smarter by implementing innovative ideas. We are resolving as many cases as are filed each year in state court. And our judges and staff are working hard every day to make Missouri's courts better for everyone. They deserve our thanks.

Missouri courts continue to be innovative in providing services

As Chief Justice Donnelly predicted, incorporating new technologies has been an ongoing process for the courts. We spent more than a decade deploying our case management system statewide. It was complete by 2008, and it empowers you and the public to use Case.net to search for information about cases filed anywhere in the state. About two years ago, we began changing from paper filings to electronic filings. Today, the Missouri eFiling System is being used in every appellate court and 28 trial courts, with another 30 courts ready to come online later this year. We are rolling this system out as fast as our resources permit.

I am very proud of these achievements in increasing public access to the courts. They are examples of the kind of innovation in service that the public has come to expect from both the private sector and government. Like Case.net, our eFiling System is unique to Missouri. Thanks to an enhancement to Case.net that we implemented last fall, now you or any of your constituents can come into any courthouse and use a designated computer terminal to read the contents of any public document in the Missouri eFiling System. These range from pleadings and briefs to orders and judgments – no matter where in the state they were filed.

Building digital infrastructure into our court services helps all of government. For instance, our court technology allows the judiciary and various state agencies and county officials to share more information. This cooperation and coordination ensures that offenders can be apprehended more quickly, that people who are granted orders of protection can be kept safer, and that more child support payments and court fines can be collected. The bottom line is that sharing this vital court information helps to make all of government more efficient and more effective.

But we are not stopping there in expanding our services. After all, technology changes every day. And the public expects almost instant access to everything. So we are exploring ways to use technology to be more innovative in the services we provide to all Missourians. For example, we are determining how electronic tools can help jurors stay informed about when their services will be needed. We also are devising a way people can pay their fines online. A new and improved website about Your Missouri Courts is on the horizon as well.

It is also incumbent on the judiciary to help people understand the function that judges and the courts are assigned. Courts exist to protect people's rights and to give them a safe, civil environment in which to resolve their most pressing disputes. As judges, we are required to decide cases based solely on the facts and law, not on our personal beliefs or popular opinion. Like you, we take our oaths very seriously. We cannot promise any particular outcome in any case, but we do promise to support and defend our constitutions and to treat everyone with fairness, dignity and respect.

In our system of democracy, it is our duty to protect the rights and property of all Missourians and to be guardians of the constitution through which the people govern us all. But no matter how much compassion we might have for the people involved in legal disputes, judges simply are not in the "happiness business." For every decision we make, someone is unhappy, and sometimes everyone – including the judge – is unhappy.

In the past, judges have done their jobs well by staying in the courthouse. But more and more, we have found that people can better understand how the judiciary works by engaging with them in their communities.

One of my favorite parts of being a judge is the chance to accept as many invitations as my schedule will permit to speak with Missourians from all walks of life about how their courts work, taking the mystery out of the process. I have been in towns from Rockport to Kahoka to Caruthersville to Pineville, from Lebanon to Paris ... and Halfway in between ... and the same holds true for my "namesakes," Maryville and Russellville. But no matter where I go, I find that all Missourians share certain common expectations – to be treated equally and fairly, and to have justice administered the same no matter where they live.

This past fall, I was happy to accept Senator Doug Libla's invitation to travel to his district to visit some of the wonderful programs helping his constituents in the Bootheel. In fact, along with some of the program leaders, five of the young high school students I met in Caruthersville are here today – Amaud Bates, Tavauna Cobb, Nicole Davis, Shannon Gipson and Angela Wilhoit. Would you please join me in welcoming them to their state capitol? I hope that your first trip to the capitol will inspire you – as it did me when I was your age – to find a place in government service.

I am sure none of us, when we were in high school, imagined we would wind up here. But none of us should forget what led us to serve in the first place. That is why I never want to lose perspective of what it is like for the people who come to our courthouses, maybe for the first time, and who perhaps are overwhelmed by an unfamiliar legal process. Every case that comes before our courts is the most important one in the world to the people involved ... people who are worried about the potential impact on their lives, their families and their pocketbooks.

This is why we are implementing a program of customer surveys focusing on the people who use our courts – litigants, witnesses, jurors, lawyers, social workers and others – as one way to determine how we can do our jobs better and make the process more transparent.

Instead of a “suggestion box,” I wanted to go talk to people directly. So this past summer, I became an “undercover judge” by visiting two courthouses – in Osage and St. Louis counties. I talked with everyone there using the courts. Dressed in casual clothes and tennis shoes, I don’t think anyone knew who I was. I sat shoulder to shoulder with people in the courthouse hallways. I could feel their anxiety, their worry and their apprehension as they waited their turn to appear before the judge. For most, it was their first time in any courtroom, and they did not know what to expect. Many did not have lawyers to help them navigate the unfamiliar turf.

It is important for us to remember that the courts can be a confusing, daunting place for many who come there. But by listening to those we serve, we can make the court process a little more understandable and a little less scary for the average person.

As I told those courthouse visitors last summer – and as I will tell those in the counties I plan to visit later in the year – this is a focal point for me. It is not just one of those surveys where nothing happens. We already are using the information we are learning to see not only what we are doing well but also how we can improve as we chart our course for the future.

Missouri courts continue to work in cooperation with their “constitutional partners”

In 1974, Chief Justice Donnelly focused part of his remarks on criminal justice issues. He discussed a proposed revision of the criminal code, which he said at that time had “not been totally reviewed in [more than] a century.”

I remember that undertaking, although I had not yet even entered law school. It was about 1979, and I was a young cub reporter for the Hannibal Courier-Post, assigned to write about the new criminal code that was taking effect. I hate to date myself, but another 35 years have passed, and I am glad you are considering another update so that our criminal justice system may better serve the state.

Last year, there were 232 offenses that were charged only one time anywhere in the state and 130 other offenses that were charged only twice. I think we can all agree that some sensible efforts at streamlining our criminal code are warranted. Our current criminal code has some discrepancies calling into question the concept of “if you do the crime, you’ll do the time.” For instance, if a person drives a vehicle while intoxicated and kills someone, that person may be punished by up to seven years in state prison. But that is the same punishment for a person who writes a bad check for less than $500. Is that being smart on crime?

It is your prerogative to determine where the problems truly lie and what solutions are most appropriate. We appreciate your careful study – in which you have sought information from prosecutors, public defenders and other lawyers – of updating our criminal code, and we in the courts remain committed to help answer any questions you may have from our perspective. We know how difficult this issue is, and we know it may be hard to reach agreement. But we trust that all of your hard work will produce an improved criminal code that will be beneficial for our entire state.

Much has changed since Chief Justice Donnelly’s days on the Court. Today, our state and municipal courts handle more than 2.5 million cases each year. Much also has changed in the types of evidence we consider. It is not uncommon today to have evidence of DNA and Facebook entries, not to mention tweets and texts and selfies. And so the need for continuing judicial education is critical, and we are proud of the programs we have in place to keep our judges up to date about new laws and new procedures.

Missouri courts continue to be prudent stewards of public funds

But one thing that has not changed is our continued commitment to being prudent stewards of public funds. One example is a new effort underway to better manage adults awaiting trial for criminal charges, which can be a big relief for counties that are financially strapped because of jail overcrowding.

These innovative pretrial services programs are proving their worth. They keep potentially dangerous offenders off the street before trial but allow those who pose no known threat to be monitored outside of jail while awaiting their court appearance. These programs result in significant savings for counties and their taxpayers by reducing jail overcrowding.

Greene County has seen dramatic savings. In the last two years alone, its program resulted in a net savings of almost $4 million – even with the cost of the staff running the program included. With results like these, it should not surprise you that similar programs exist in Cole, Boone and Jackson counties as well and that several other counties are considering adding the program. I encourage you to partner with your local officials to determine whether a program like this might help your county save money. In Greene County, local judges worked with their county commission to establish the pretrial services program there. Those judges – Don Burrell, Mark Powell and Miles Sweeney – are here today along with one of their county commissioners, Roseann Bentley. Would you all please stand and be recognized?

Another illustration of how the courts are working with our partners throughout government to be prudent stewards of the public's resources is the increased use of videoconferencing. This technology, which replaces in-person hearings, results in reduced transportation costs for counties and the department of corrections alike. It also decreases the risk to law enforcement officers while increasing public safety. In addition, videoconferencing is useful in mental health cases, preserving the dignity of the person involved. As we develop more uses for this technology, these savings will continue to grow.

We have partnered with you to create several programs that improve our financial stewardship and aid the entire state. Income tax offsets, debt collection efforts and allowing litigants to pay court debts over time have resulted in almost $26 million in revenue to the state that otherwise would have gone uncollected. And this money goes not to the courts, but to the state and local entities you designate.

Through efforts like these, we in the courts are doing what we can – as one co-equal branch of government – to be efficient with the public's funding. We look forward to continuing to work with you and with all our government partners in the future to provide even more responsible stewardship.

We respect the work you do and the many tough decisions you face as you write the laws for our state. We also appreciate the sacrifices that you and your loved ones make so that you can serve in these majestic chambers. Family support is essential for any of us to do our jobs. Like you, I have enjoyed the support of a wonderful family along the way, and they have made even the toughest days of my career more meaningful. I'd like to acknowledge one of them now. Would you please welcome my husband, Jim, a former member of this House?

In honor of this 40th anniversary of the first state of the judiciary, I end with some of Chief Justice Donnelly's closing remarks: "We seek, as you do, to be a strong, contributing partner to our Missouri state government ... to serve our citizens in a responsive and responsible manner. ... [W]e can do it together."

As your constitutional partners, we look forward to working with you to make Missouri's courts better for everyone. Thank you.

The Joint Session was dissolved by Senator Richard.

Speaker Jones resumed the Chair.

NINTH DAY, THURSDAY, JANUARY 23, 2014

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Representative Bernskoetter in the Chair.

Prayer by Msgr. Robert A. Kurwicki, Chaplain.

My meat is to do the will of Him that sent me and to finish His work. (John 4:34)

Our God, we would begin the day conscious of Your presence and committing our lives anew to You. Sustain us with Your spirit and make us ready for our responsibilities, equal to our experiences, and adequate for every task. In the midst of the heat of daily duties let not our strength fail, nor our steps falter, nor our vision fade.

Make us patient with each other and understanding, remembering that each one of us walks a lonely road and each one has struggles no one else knows or understands.

Give to us a real reverence for holiness, a deep desire to speak the truth, and an unending enthusiasm for the reign of justice in Missouri and for all we love.

And the House says, "Amen!"

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

Second Regular Session, 97th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

TENTH DAY, MONDAY, JANUARY 27, 2014

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Jones in the Chair.

Prayer by Representative Caleb Rowden.

Our Father in Heaven, we thank You for today. We thank You for the opportunity You have given us to serve the people of Missouri. As we stand in these beautiful and historic chambers today, we are reminded of the gravity of the task before us. A task that is about much more than just policy or politics - but the well being of millions of Missourians in the present and many more in the future. May You grant us a wisdom we could never achieve on our own as we make these decisions.

Your word tells us in the book of Micah - O people, the Lord has told you what is good, and this is what He requires of you: to do what is right, to love mercy, and to walk humbly with your God. May the business of the Missouri House be known less for arrogance, pride, and egos...and more for humility. May we as legislators and we as human beings be marked by our desire to serve, and not to be served. This is the pattern You set as You walked the earth, and a pattern we would all be wise to follow.

Father, we pray for those Missourians who are in need today. For the single mom or dad working to make ends meet, the grandparents on a fixed income who are caring for their grandkids. The father who has lost his job and is having a hard time getting back on his feet. I pray that the decisions we make throughout this session would help lift them out of their trials and provide them with a long-term answer to the problems facing them today.

God...we ask for Your guidance this day and every day. We are unquestionably lost and ill-equipped to perform these important tasks without Your grace, wisdom, and mercy. We thank You for offering each of us those things and we accept them today as we do the people's work in the Missouri House.

We pray all of these things in the name of Your son Jesus. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

Second Regular Session, 97th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

ELEVENTH DAY, TUESDAY, JANUARY 28, 2014

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Jones in the Chair.

Prayer by Msgr. Robert A. Kurwicki, Chaplain.

I am ready for anything through the strength of the One who lives within me. (Philippians 4:13)

O Loving and AllKnowing God who gives us the day for work and the night for rest, grant us health of body, cleanness of mind, and courage of spirit that we may do our work this day with all our might. Deliver us from the bitterness that blights our lives, from the fears that frustrate our faith, and from the ill will which dampens our upward struggle.

Make us one in You that we may be open to the highest joys in life and thus be ready with new strength for a new day.

May we walk in straight paths until Your glory shall be revealed in our efforts to make the world a better place in which all can learn to live together and to work together and to pray together. To this end may Your will be done in us and in all.

And the House says, "Amen!"

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

Prayer by Msgr. Robert A. Kurwicki, Chaplain.

O man greatly beloved, fear not, peace be with you; be strong and of good courage. (Daniel 10:19)

Almighty God of our ancestors, Who has called forth the great State of Missouri and has bound us together in the struggle for liberty and justice for all, keep us one in spirit as we endeavor to provide order, to promote harmony, and to produce an enduring peace.

We are mindful of those who are now giving their lives for the defense of our nation and for free people everywhere. For them we pray with all our hearts. Grant that we may so live our lives, so use our influence, so conduct ourselves that their dedication shall not be in vain. By Your Spirit make us worthy of their devotions.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

Second Regular Session, 97th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

THIRTEENTH DAY, THURSDAY, JANUARY 30, 2014

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Jones in the Chair.

Prayer by Msgr. Robert A. Kurwicki, Chaplain.

Watch and pray, that ye enter not into temptation. (Matthew 26:41)

Please slow us down, Lord, slow us down until in our inmost being we bow quietly and reverently before You. For this moment deliver us from coldness of heart and wanderings of mind, that with steadfast thoughts and kindled affections we may worship You in spirit and in truth. Save us from the anxieties and confusion of the moment and strengthen the ties that bind us together and to You.

Grant us in all doubts and uncertainties the Spirit to seek what You would have us do, that the Spirit of wisdom may save us from false choices and lead us into all truth.

Guide us into the ways of justice and peace, and establish among us the joy which is the fruit of righteousness. In Your light may we see light and in Your straight path may we not stumble.

And the House says, "Amen!"

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

Second Regular Session, 97th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

FOURTEENTH DAY, MONDAY, FEBRUARY 3, 2014

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Jones in the Chair.

Prayer by Representative Diane Franklin.

Almighty God take us back to the very first time we saw Old Glory rippling in the breeze with red and white stripes and heavenly white stars on a field of magnificent azure.

That time, when at the core of our souls, we realized this is our flag; this is the symbol of a country where freedom rings.

We thank You and acknowledge it is freedom granted by Your hand. As representatives of the people of the state of Missouri, we are bestowed with a great responsibility and duty to carry out the patriotic ideals of our citizens.

Let us take time to remember when each of us first strived to enter the enigmatic world of politics. Our journeys are often arduous; however, the refrain "We the people..." shall guide us to absolution and serve as a beacon of hope to the people who have chosen us to govern as the legislators of the 24th state of the Union.

May God continue to inspire us all, across this great nation and here, in our great state of Missouri.

Bless us this day and every day. May all that is done here this day be for Your greater honor and glory.

Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the twelfth day was approved as printed by the following vote:

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

Second Regular Session, 97th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

FIFTEENTH DAY, TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 4, 2014

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Pro Tem Hoskins in the Chair.

Prayer by Msgr. Robert A. Kurwicki, Chaplain.

I will hear what God the Lord will speak: for He will speak peace into His people. (Psalm 85:8)

O Lord, All Seeing God, we are beginning to discover that without You we are never at our best. It has taken some of us a long time to realize it. We have been too proud, too stubborn, too determined to have our own way. Somehow You have caught up with us and we know that with You alone is life and love. May Your Spirit so come to life in us that we may truly live and triumphantly love.

We pray for the people of our beloved state as it is covered with a wintery mix, that they, too, may grow in spirit and by Your grace be made more than a match for the mood of this cold day. Help us to work together for reconciliation in our state, for justice among our citizens, for good will in the hearts of all and safety as we travel, labor and return home.

And the House says, "Amen!"

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the fourteenth day was approved as printed by the following vote:

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

Second Regular Session, 97th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

SIXTEENTH DAY, WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 5, 2014

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Jones in the Chair.

Prayer by Msgr. Robert A. Kurwicki, Chaplain.

The Lord is nigh unto all them that call upon Him, to all that call upon Him in truth. (Psalm 145:18)

We pause in this moment of prayer, O Lord, to lift our hearts to You during this Black History Month. May Your word speak to us and to the citizens of our state, and help us not only to hear it but to heed it; not only to receive it but to respond to it; not only to listen to it but to live by it.

May we be gentle with each other and generous; may we be rulers of ourselves and in so doing manage our relationships with good will; may we so live our lives that we can respect ourselves and thereby be worthy of the respect of others.

Minister to us in our prayers that we may be able to change what we can change, accept what we must accept, and do it all with grateful hearts and genuine faith.

Finally, protect this beautiful structure and all who labor here as we recall our history when on this date in 1911 a bolt from the heavens turned the old Capitol building into ashes. May this Chamber reflect only calmness and never storms.

And the House says, "Amen!"

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the fifteenth day was approved as corrected by the following vote:

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

Second Regular Session, 97th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

SEVENTEENTH DAY, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 6, 2014

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Representative Bernskoetter in the Chair.

Prayer by Msgr. Robert A. Kurwicki, Chaplain.

O give thanks unto the Lord; for He is good: for His mercy endureth forever. (Psalm 106:1)

Eternal God, creator and ruler of all, we come to You with humble and grateful hearts. You have been wonderfully good to us, Your presence has guided us, Your power has made us strong, and Your providence has surrounded us all our days. We pray that You would make us ever mindful of Your Spirit, ever eager to do Your will, and ever grateful for Your goodness.

We thank You for our state - for the freedoms we enjoy, for the rights which are ours, and for the future which beckons us to higher aspiration. We thank You for the men and women of our nation at the Winter Olympics who honor our flag of freedom; may it fly gloriously this day. Bless them with courage and strength and give them to know that we are with them and that they do not struggle alone.

We thank You for our warm homes and for the love and understanding they provide for us. Keep us from being impatient, impersonal, and impertinent. Make our hearts happy, our words kind, and our hands ready to help. By Your Spirit may we be generous to those we love. Accept our gratitude and make us worthy of Your many, many blessings.

And the House says, "Amen!"

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

Second Regular Session, 97th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

EIGHTEENTH DAY, MONDAY, FEBRUARY 10, 2014

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Jones in the Chair.

Prayer by Representative Steve Lynch.

Let us pray.

Our Father, we come humbly before You as we consider the honor it is to serve in this amazing place and to serve this great state. We recognize we are here because each one of us was chosen. As the people of my district chose me, every one of you was chosen by your people in your district to be their voice. We were chosen because people believe in the democracy of our state and nation. We were chosen because people are in need and they believe we understand. We were chosen because people believe we will look outside of ourselves and our own interests and see them and theirs. We were chosen because people believe we will work through our differences and will work together for the greater good. We were chosen because people believe, in spite of their anger and frustration with government, that they saw something in us that gave them hope. We were chosen, so may we serve in such a respectful and honorable way, that we are able to hold our heads high as we walk the halls of this Capitol, the sidewalks of our communities, and someday the streets of gold in Heaven. We were chosen, so Father may we be found worthy in our people's eyes, and most importantly, Your eyes. In Jesus' name we pray.

And the House says, "Amen!"

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

Second Regular Session, 97th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

NINETEENTH DAY, TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 11, 2014

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Jones in the Chair.

Prayer by Msgr. Robert A. Kurwicki, Chaplain.

If ye fulfill the royal law according to the scripture, thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself, ye do well. (James 2:8)

Our Good God, Whose light is above us, Whose love is about us, and Whose life is within us, grant unto us a joy of spirit and a courage of heart as we enter upon the tasks of another day. Give us to feel that we can meet every demand made upon us and manage every duty which comes our way because Your Spirit lives in our hearts. With You may we face our hard work in the high mood of integrity and the upward moving spirit of good will.

In this state we love with all our hearts, may there be a greater unity of purpose in this Chamber as we seek to remove evil and hatred and as we endeavor to promote purity and love for all.

And the House says, "Amen!"

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the eighteenth day was approved as printed by the following vote:

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

Second Regular Session, 97th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

TWENTIETH DAY, WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 12, 2014

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Pro Tem Hoskins in the Chair.

Prayer by Msgr. Robert A. Kurwicki, Chaplain.

Teach me Thy way, O Lord, and lead me in a plain path. (Psalm 27:11)

O Loving God Who is our refuge and strength, our help in trouble, we pray that You will lead us to a higher level of courage and faith and patience that the influence of our lives and the example of our spirits may always be for Your glory and for the good of Missouri.

Renew in us a deeper devotion to You, a greater love for our fellow citizens, and a stronger faith that is right and will ultimately prevail even in uncertain times.

To You we commend our state. Be the source of her strength and make her ever mindful of Your providence. Bless our Speaker, every member of this body, every officer, every clerk, every secretary, every honorary page and every reporter! As men and women selected for service to our state at this moment of history, may we keep our history glorious.

And the House says, "Amen!"

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Henry Borcharding, Isabelle Borcharding, and Eli Borcharding.

The Journal of the nineteenth day was approved as corrected by the following vote:

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

Second Regular Session, 97th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

TWENTY-FIRST DAY, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 13, 2014

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Jones in the Chair.

Prayer by Msgr. Robert A. Kurwicki, Chaplain.

Let Thy mercy, O Lord, be upon us, according as we hope in Thee. (Psalm 33:22)

Ancient and Eternal God, in this time of pressure and this day of demanding duties and persistent problems, we bow in Your presence praying that we may be calm and confident in the discharge of the responsibilities placed upon us. We would be true, for there are those who trust us; we would be pure, for there are those who care; we would be strong, for there is much to suffer; we would be brave, for there is much to dare.

Keep us ever faithful in the great office to which we have been elected and ever loyal in the grand adventure which seeks the high road of freedom and justice for all. Cleanse the thoughts of our hearts that we may live in good will with all and in good faith with You.

And the House says, "Amen!"

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as an Honorary Page for the Day, to serve without compensation: Lexi Armstrong.

The Journal of the twentieth day was approved as printed.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

Second Regular Session, 97th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

TWENTY-SECOND DAY, MONDAY, FEBRUARY 17, 2014

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Representative Bahr in the Chair.

Prayer by Representative Kurt Bahr.

(Originally delivered by House Chaplain Msgr. Robert A. Kurwicki on January 12, 2011.)

Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father who is in heaven. (Matthew 5:16)

O God our Father, Who is the source of light and life, Whose glory is in all the world, without Whom no one is strong, no one is good - make us one with You as we begin this day. May our faith in You make us strong, hold us steady and keep us serene as we face the responsibilities and the tasks which confront us.

May we always know that You are with us. May we always believe that You are leading us. Amid all our differences may we be one in spirit, one in purpose, and one in good will as we give ourselves in deep devotion to the welfare of our beloved State of Missouri and for the good of all citizens. May the light of Your Spirit shine forever in our hearts.

In God's name we pray. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

Second Regular Session, 97th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

TWENTY-THIRD DAY, TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 18, 2014

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Jones in the Chair.

Prayer by Msgr. Robert A. Kurwicki, Chaplain.

Beloved, if God so loved us, we ought also to love one another. (I John 4:11)

O Generous Lord, Who is from everlasting to everlasting, in Whose will is our peace, at the beginning of another legislative day we pause before You with reverent hearts and humble spirits. Make us realize that You are God, that this is Your world and that though the selfishness seems often so strong, You are the ruler yet.

Grant us the grace to repent, the courage to turn from our greedy ways and to look to You Who alone can forgive us and cleanse us and heal us. Bring us into fellowship with You that we may have good will in our hearts and through us may good will flow into the heart of our state and into the life of our fellow citizens. May love which is the light of life become the law of our lives. So may we grow in spirit and so may our people increase in faith, in fortitude and fellowship with You and with one another.

And the House says, "Amen!"

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Morgan Sullinger and Taylor Sullinger.

The Journal of the twenty-first day was approved as printed by the following vote:

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

Second Regular Session, 97th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

TWENTY-FOURTH DAY, WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 19, 2014

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Jones in the Chair.

Prayer by Representative Jeff Grisamore.

Praise be to the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of compassion and the God of all comfort, Who comforts us in all our troubles, so that we can comfort those in any trouble with the comfort we ourselves receive from God. (2 Corinthians 1:3-4)

Heavenly Father, we thank You that You are the Father of compassion and the God of all comfort. We ask You this day to comfort the family and friends of our former House colleague, Ron Casey.

We thank You for Your Word in Psalm 91:11 that says, "For He will give His angels charge concerning you. To guard you in all your ways."

Father, we thank You for Your angels to guard us in all of our ways. We pray for Your divine power and protection to guard all the members and staff - and their families - in the executive, legislative and judicial branches of our state government.

We thank You for the privilege and high calling of public service and pray for Your grace, mercy, wisdom, counsel and strength as we serve You through serving the citizens of Missouri.

In Your Name we pray, Amen.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

Second Regular Session, 97th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

TWENTY-FIFTH DAY, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 20, 2014

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Jones in the Chair.

Prayer by Representative Jeanie Lauer.

Trust in the Lord with all your heart, do not rely on your own understanding; think about Him in all your ways, and He will guide you on the right paths. (Proverbs 3:5-6)

Dear Father in Heaven, as we are here representing our Districts and the State, we look to You for Your wisdom and guidance. Help us to remember our purpose is first to honor You in all that we do.

As we ask for Your help in serving both in the Capitol and in the District, we also pray for Your support for those whom we serve. Provide peace for those who are troubled, comfort for those who struggle, healing for those who are in pain and faith for those who are lost. We are thankful for the blessings You have given to our State and to each of us who call this our home. We ask You to continue to care for our families who are so important in helping us stay on Your path.

Thank you for giving us the opportunity to be part of Your plan and to have this purpose in our life. At the end of each day we want to say we have trusted in You and have done what You want us to do, not what we feel is best. We pray that Your will be done through us on earth as it is in heaven.

And the House says, "Amen."

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Todd Masters, Wyatt Shadwick, Mason Murphy, Rylee Alden, Dayne Koch, Allison Murphy and Andrew Beaty.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

Second Regular Session, 97th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

TWENTY-SIXTH DAY, MONDAY, FEBRUARY 24, 2014

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Jones in the Chair.

Prayer by Representative Doug Funderburk.

Heavenly Father,

Your Word in 1 Peter 3:10 instructs those who want to enjoy life, to keep their tongues from evil, and further, Your word in 1 Timothy 3:7 instructs us to avoid what is profane and impure, and to express our disapproval when confronted by such, and to train ourselves toward Godliness.

Father, as we serve in the Missouri House this week, instill in us Your honest words of wisdom and truth, so that we may enjoy our work, which we do for You. And when we are confronted by the profane and untrue, give us the courage to abide also in Your Word by expressing our disapproval of these Godless fictions. Father, train us toward Godliness, so that those we serve shall also be happy in our truthfulness.

In the name of Your Son, Lord Jesus we pray, Amen!

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the twenty-fifth day was approved as printed by the following vote:

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

Second Regular Session, 97th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

TWENTY-SEVENTH DAY, TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 25, 2014

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Pro Tem Hoskins in the Chair.

Prayer by Msgr. Robert A. Kurwicki, Chaplain.

He that doeth the will of God abideth forever. (1 John 2:17)

Out of a deep sense of need, Lord, we come to You, praying that You will help us to be aware of Your presence as we bow at the altar of prayer and offer ourselves to You at the beginning of another winter day.

At times we seem to talk too much and think too little, we are heard professing loudly but practicing in such small ways, we worry often but worship so seldom. Forgive us, O Lord, and help us to think more, to practice more, and to pray more that Your Spirit may come to new life in us and through us come to new life in Missouri.

Grant unto us, the Representatives of our citizens, wisdom and faith as we meet in this hour. Help us to accept our responsibilities with courage, make our decisions with confidence, and plan for the future with creative hope.

We pray that You will awaken the faith of our people that our laws may be obeyed, order made to prevail and peace move in the hearts of all.

And the House says, "Amen!"

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the twenty-sixth day was approved as printed by the following vote:

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

Second Regular Session, 97th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

TWENTY-EIGHTH DAY, WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 26, 2014

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Jones in the Chair.

Prayer by Msgr. Robert A. Kurwicki, Chaplain.

If any man will come after Me, let him deny himself and take up his cross daily and follow Me. (Luke 9:23)

O God of grace and goodness, we acknowledge our dependence upon You, our need of Your mercy and our desire for Your guidance. We beseech You to make us more and more aware of Your presence, give us to know that You are ever with us and that with You we can face the day with confidence, do our work with fidelity, and be calm in the midst of trying experiences.

We do not pray for freedom from disappointment or defeat but we do pray that You would give us the faith and fortitude we need for these hours and such strength as will enable us to do the work we are called upon to do and to do it honorably and well.

Renewing our strength, reinvigorating our minds, and restoring our souls, send us out into this day to do what we can for others, to keep our state great, and to make it a better place where all can learn to live together in peace.

And the House says, "Amen!"

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the twenty-seventh day was approved as printed.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

Second Regular Session, 97th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

TWENTY-NINTH DAY, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 27, 2014

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Jones in the Chair.

Prayer by Representative Tommie Pierson.

We come this morning with bowed heads and humble hearts. We thank You for the privilege to gather here today. And as we gather, we ask that You would help us as we strive to do the people's business.

You are the One we turn to for help in moments of weakness and times of need. I ask You to be with Representative Lair in his illness. Psalm 107:20 says that You send out Your word and heal. So then, please send Your healing word to him and drive out all infirmity from his body.

Guide us today O Lord; let us not be distressed when others share their beliefs. Grant us the wisdom to understand that everyone has the right to their opinion, but every opinion is not right.

Come, Holy Spirit, fill the hearts of us to be faithful and understanding.

And the House says, "Amen!"

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as an Honorary Page for the Day, to serve without compensation: Sydney Welcher.

The Journal of the twenty-eighth day was approved as printed by the following vote:

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

Second Regular Session, 97th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

THIRTIETH DAY, MONDAY, MARCH 3, 2014

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Jones in the Chair.

Prayer by Representative John Mayfield.

Almighty God, we come before You today to say thank you. We are thankful for the blessings You have provided each of us and all of us. It is truly an honor from You to serve the people of Missouri.

Your servant Solomon asked You for a discerning heart to govern and for the ability to distinguish between right and wrong (I Kings 3:9). We come before You today to ask You for these attributes as well. This is not for the glory to shine on us but rather on You.

Please give us the strength and the peace we need to perform our duties in harmony.
And the House says, "Amen!"

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the twenty-ninth day was approved as printed by the following vote:

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

Second Regular Session, 97th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

THIRTY-FIRST DAY, TUESDAY, MARCH 4, 2014

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Pro Tem Hoskins in the Chair.

Prayer by Msgr. Robert A. Kurwicki, Chaplain.

The people who walked in darkness have seen a great light. (Isaiah 9:2)

Most mighty and most merciful God, we come to You now for insight and inspiration which You alone can give to the human mind and heart. In this moment of prayer we plant our feet on the higher ground of Your Spirit that we may find deliverance from thoughts that weaken us, from desires that worry us, and from a selfishness that closes the door to the needs of others in Missouri.

You who caused the light to shine out of darkness, shine upon our way, that we may see the road we should take, and by Your Spirit be given strength to walk on it - fulfilling Your will for us and for our state. Send us out into this day with the assurance that You are with us and by Your grace may we be made adequate for every activity, equal to every experience, and more than a match for every point of stress.

Kindle in the hearts of our people a love for justice, an enthusiasm for harmony and a joy in living that Missouri may turn from the low road of poverty and prejudice and take the high road that leads to the plains of peace and prosperity for all people on this Mardi Gras.

And the House says, "Amen!"

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Montana Hood and Josef Hood.

The Journal of the thirtieth day was approved as printed.

THIRTY-SECOND DAY, WEDNESDAY, MARCH 5, 2014

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Pro Tem Hoskins in the Chair.

Prayer by Msgr. Robert A. Kurwicki, Chaplain.

With God all things are possible. (Mark 10:27)

O Loving God, the light of the truehearted and the life of the wholehearted, strong in Your strength we greet the coming of another Lent. May the hours of Ash Wednesday be radiant with Your presence and the minutes reflect the glory of Your love. In everything we do and say may we be mindful of Your spirit, eager to do Your will, and ready to serve our state with all our hearts.

Make us great enough to face these legislative hours with courage, good enough to live through these days with confidence, and generous enough to share our faith that in these trying times we fail not our fellow citizens.

And the House says, "Amen!"

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

Second Regular Session, 97th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

THIRTY-THIRD DAY, THURSDAY, MARCH 6, 2014

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Jones in the Chair.

Prayer by Msgr. Robert A. Kurwicki, Chaplain.

Let the peace of God rule in your hearts. (Colossians 3:15)

O God of Peace, who is above us and yet within us, afar off yet very near, we pause in silence before You knowing that with You all of life glows with meaning and grows with purpose. Quiet the turmoil in our spirits: soothe the irritations in our hearts and in quietness and confidence may we open the inner doors of our being to You.

Speak to us through our consciences and help us to be more honest with ourselves and more friendly with others both in and out of this Chamber.

Speak to us through our wills and help us to choose the right way that the decisions made this day may make the days to come both useful and joyful.

Speak to us through the needs of our districts and help us to live in the confidence that justice can conquer injustice, peace can overcome pain, and that love is stronger than hate.

And the House says, "Amen!"

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as an Honorary Page for the Day, to serve without compensation: Maxx Cook.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

Second Regular Session, 97th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

THIRTY-FOURTH DAY, MONDAY, MARCH 10, 2014

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Jones in the Chair.

Prayer by Representative Tim Remole.

Our most gracious Heavenly Father, hallowed be thy Name. Creator of the heavens and earth You alone are worthy of our praise. We thank you for our freedoms we enjoy each and every day. Let us not take them for granted, they are a gift from You. Lord, thank you for the awesome privilege You have given each of us to serve our fellow man here in this House. Let us not forget how we felt the first time we stepped onto the floor of this place.

Lord, we need, desire, and ask that You give us the wisdom and knowledge we need as we face so many of the issues of the time in which we live. As the twelve disciples came to You and asked You to teach them to pray, teach us to pray. Teach us to trust. Teach us to believe. Teach us to serve as You would have us to. Watch over our families as we are away from them as we serve.

Father, watch over all the branches of our military wherever they may be across the world fighting for our freedom. Be with them and their families, we thank You for them. Be with those who have lost loved ones and comfort them as only You can. Be with the people of this great state and our nation, as we acknowledge You as our help, shield, and hope. It is in the name of Jesus we pray.

And the House says, "Amen!"

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the thirty-third day was approved as printed.

House Amendment No. 2

AMEND House Committee Substitute for House Bill No. 1192, Page 1, in the Title, Line 3, by deleting all of said line and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

Further amend said bill, Section 188.028, Page 3, Line 66, by inserting after all of said section and line the following:

"188.125. 1. It is the intent of the general assembly to acknowledge the rights of an alternatives-to-abortion agency and its officers, agents, employees, and volunteers to freely assemble and to freely engage in religious practices and speech without governmental interference and that the constitutions and laws of the United States and the state of Missouri shall be interpreted, construed, applied, and enforced to fully protect such rights.

2. A political subdivision of this state is preempted from enacting, adopting, maintaining, or enforcing any order, ordinance, rule, regulation, policy, or other similar measure that prohibits, restricts, limits, controls, directs, interferes with, or otherwise adversely affects an alternatives-to-abortion agency or its officers, agents, employees, or volunteers' assembly, religious practices, or speech, including but not limited to counseling, referrals, or education of, advertising or information to, or other communications with, clients, patients, other persons, or the public.

3. Nothing in this section shall preclude or preempt a political subdivision of this state from exercising its lawful authority to regulate zoning or land use or to enforce a building or fire code regulation, provided that such political subdivision treats an alternatives-to-abortion agency in the same manner as a similarly situated agency and that such authority is not used to circumvent the intent of this section.

4. In any action to enforce the provisions of this section, a court of competent jurisdiction may order injunctive relief, recovery of damages, or both, as well as payment of reasonable attorney's fees, costs, and expenses. The remedies set forth shall not be deemed exclusive and shall be in addition to any other remedies permitted by law.

5. As used in this section, "alternatives-to-abortion agency" means:

(1) A maternity home as defined in section 135.600;

(2) A pregnancy resource center as defined in section 135.630; or

(3) An agency or entity that has the primary purpose of providing services or counseling to pregnant women to assist such women in carrying their unborn children to term instead of having abortions and to assist such women in caring for their dependent children or placing their children for adoption, as described in section 188.325."; and

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS

SCR 19 - Wieland

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

Second Regular Session, 97th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

THIRTY-FIFTH DAY, TUESDAY, MARCH 11, 2014

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Jones in the Chair.

Prayer by Representative Don Phillips.

Most gracious Heavenly Father, I come to You asking for Your blessing over this body of Representatives and for the staff members that so ably support us.

I pray also for all the guests who have joined us today in this magnificent chamber!

Lord, allow our differences in this room to be only political in nature; that we respect each other, as Your creation, with none held in a loftier regard than the other.

Let us understand that our importance is not about us personally; but rather, our responsibility to You and our constituents is of utmost importance. Because, one day, before we know it, our existence, as legislators, will be evidenced by nothing more than a small picture that adorns the walls in the hallways of this capitol.

Psalm 6:3 says, "I have seen You in the sanctuary and beheld Your power and glory." Father, let us experience that power and glory in our lives today! For it's in Your name that I pray.

And the House says, "Amen!"

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Cassidy Bethune, Ashton Ings, Sarah Mejia, Phoenix Rudd, Sela Hubbard, Trent Bernskoetter, Julia Bernskoetter and Gage Wilde.

2. The office of administration shall promulgate rules and regulations to administer the provisions of sections 190.400 to 190.440. Any rule or portion of a rule, as that term is defined in section 536.010, that is promulgated pursuant to the authority delegated in sections 190.400 to 190.440 shall become effective only if it has been promulgated pursuant to the provisions of chapter 536. All rulemaking authority delegated prior to July 2, 1998, is of no force and effect and repealed; however, nothing in this section shall be interpreted to repeal or affect the validity of any rule filed or adopted prior to July 2, 1998, if it fully complied with the provisions of chapter 536.

This section and chapter 536 are nonseverable and if any of the powers vested with the general assembly pursuant to chapter 536 to review, to delay the effective date or to disapprove and annul a rule are subsequently held unconstitutional, then the grant of rulemaking authority and any rule proposed or adopted after July 2, 1998, shall be invalid and void.

8. This provision shall not apply to any municipality or county which operates an ambulance service established prior to August 28, 1998.

11. 13. 14. Upon the sale or transfer of any ground ambulance service ownership, the owner of such service shall notify the department of the change in ownership within thirty days of such sale or transfer. SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

Second Regular Session, 97th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

THIRTY-SIXTH DAY, WEDNESDAY, MARCH 12, 2014

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Jones in the Chair.

Prayer by Msgr. Robert A. Kurwicky, Chaplain.

Glory to God in the highest and on earth peace, good will among men. (Luke 2:14)

O God of all ages and seasons, who has taught us in Your word that we should always pray and never lose heart - we come to You for help which You alone can give us now, even in the chaos of scheduling conflicts.

Some of us are weary - may we find rest in You. Some of us are anxious and troubled about many things - may we find Your grace sufficient for every need. Some of us are tempted, sorely tempted - may we find in You strength not only to resist but to overcome.

Give us grace to put our trust in You and to go forth with the assurance that You are with us and amid the troubles and trials of daily living may we find strength for the day, rest for the night, and peace in our hearts.

Grant unto us and unto all the blessings of Your grace and the peace of Your Spirit. May good will live in all our hearts and the hearts of all Missouri citizens. May the Lord bless us and keep us; the Lord make His face to shine upon us; the Lord lift the light of His countenance upon us and give us peace.

And the House sings, "Amen!"

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Lucas Cozart, Erica Long, and William Andrew Cluver.

The director of the department of social services shall establish a procedure by which a taxpayer can determine if a facility has been classified as a maternity home, and by which such taxpayer can then contribute to such maternity home and claim a tax credit. Maternity homes shall be permitted to decline a contribution from a taxpayer. The cumulative amount of tax credits which may be claimed by all the taxpayers contributing to maternity homes in any one fiscal year shall not exceed two million dollars for all fiscal years ending on or before June 30, 2014, and two million five hundred thousand dollars for all fiscal years beginning on or after July 1, 2014.

7. The director of the department of social services shall establish a procedure by which, from the beginning of the fiscal year until some point in time later in the fiscal year to be determined by the director of the department of social services, the cumulative amount of tax credits are equally apportioned among all facilities classified as maternity homes. If a maternity home fails to use all, or some percentage to be determined by the director of the department of social services, of its apportioned tax credits during this predetermined period of time, the director of the department of social services may reapportion these unused tax credits to those maternity homes that have used all, or some percentage to be determined by the director of the department of social services, of their apportioned tax credits during this predetermined period of time. The director of the department of social services may establish more than one period of time and reapportion more than once during each fiscal year. To the maximum extent possible, the director of the department of social services shall establish the procedure described in this subsection in such a manner as to ensure that taxpayers can claim all the tax credits possible up to the cumulative amount of tax credits available for the fiscal year.

8. This section shall become effective January 1, 2000, and shall apply to all tax years after December 31, 1999."; and

(3) When the right half of a roadway is closed to traffic while under construction or repair;

(4) Upon a roadway designated by local ordinance as a one-way street and marked or signed for one-way traffic.

3. It is unlawful to drive any vehicle upon any highway or road which has been divided into two or more roadways by means of a physical barrier or by means of a dividing section or delineated by curbs, lines or other markings on the roadway, except to the right of such barrier or dividing section, or to make any left turn or semicircular or U-turn on any such divided highway, except at an intersection or interchange or at any signed location designated by the state highways and transportation commission or the department of transportation. The provisions of this subsection shall not apply to emergency vehicles, law enforcement vehicles or to vehicles owned by the commission or the department.

(4) Official signs may be erected by the highways and transportation commission or the highway patrol may place temporary signs directing slow-moving traffic to use a designated lane or allocating specified lanes to traffic moving in the same direction and drivers of vehicles shall obey the directions of every such sign;

(5) Drivers of vehicles proceeding in opposite directions shall pass each other to the right, and except when a roadway has been divided into traffic lanes, each driver shall give to the other at least one-half of the main traveled portion of the roadway whenever possible.

The term "truck" also includes a commercial motor vehicle as defined in section 301.010.]

The governing body of any city or county may grant authority by act or ordinance to the state highways and transportation commission to enact the limitations established in this section on those roadways within the purview of such city or county. Notice of the weight limits and speed limits established by the commission shall be given by posting signs at a conspicuous place at each end of any such bridge.

8. Notwithstanding the provision of this section to the contrary, the maximum gross vehicle limit and axle weight limit for any vehicle or combination of vehicles equipped with an idle reduction technology may be increased by a quantity necessary to compensate for the additional weight of the idle reduction system as provided for in 23 U.S.C. Section 127, as amended. In no case shall the additional weight increase allowed by this subsection be greater than five hundred fifty pounds. Upon request by an appropriate law enforcement officer, the vehicle operator shall provide proof that the idle reduction technology is fully functional at all times and that the gross weight increase is not used for any purpose other than for the use of idle reduction technology.

9. Notwithstanding subsection 3 of this section or any other provision of law to the contrary, the total gross weight of any vehicle or combination of vehicles hauling livestock may be as much as, but shall not exceed, eighty-five thousand five hundred pounds while operating on U.S. Highway 36 from St. Joseph to U.S. Highway 63, on U.S. Highway 65 from the Iowa state line to U.S. Highway 36, and on U.S. Highway 63 from the Iowa state line to U.S. Highway 36, and on U.S. Highway 63 from U.S. Highway 36 to Missouri Route 17.
