(2) Procedure on House Bills. If the regular standing committee shall so determine, the appropriate committee report shall include a request that a bill be placed on the House Consent Calendar for Perfection. Any bill so reported shall automatically be referred to the Committee on Consent and House Procedure. Any bill reported by the Committee on Consent and House Procedure with the recommendation that it be placed on the House Consent Calendar for Perfection may be placed on that calendar if the Speaker concurs with the recommendation. If the Speaker does not concur, he or she may place the bill on the Perfection Calendar. After such bill has remained on the House Consent Calendar for Perfection for five legislative days, it shall be ordered perfected and advanced to the House Consent Calendar for Third Reading and Final Passage without further action of the House, unless five members, with at least two from each political party, have filed written objection with the Chief Clerk. If such objections are filed, the bill shall be placed on the House Bills to be Perfected and Printed Calendar. An objection made by five members under this rule cannot be rescinded.

(3) Senate Bills - Consent. When the Senate passes a bill by its procedure for consent bills, such bill shall be considered for treatment as a consent bill by the House committee without further request; provided however, that the same committee procedures, votes, and requirements for House Bills being considered for consent shall be applied to Senate Bills being considered for consent. A Senate Bill may be considered by the committee for consent even if it was not a consent bill in the Senate.

(4) Procedure on Senate Bills. Senate Bills passed out of the appropriate House regular standing committee and the Committee on Consent and House Procedure with the request that the bill be placed on the Senate Bills for Third Reading and Final Passage - Consent Calendar are subject to the five member objection provision of this rule.

(5) Deadline for Placing Senate Consent Bills on the Calendar. No Senate consent bills shall be placed on the consent calendar after April 15.

(6) Amendments. House bills may be considered for consent after they are amended in committee but may not be amended on the floor of the House.

Senate consent bills may be amended in committee but not on the floor of the House unless the Senate Rules allow amendment of House consent bills on the floor of the Senate, in which case Senate consent bills may be amended on the floor of the House. House committee amendments to Senate consent bills shall be deemed adopted on the fifth legislative day.

AMENDMENTS AND SUBSTITUTES

Rule 49. (1) In Writing and Distributed in Advance.

(a) Proposed amendments shall be reduced to writing.

(b) Every amendment shall be distributed in advance of the time the bill is initially taken up for consideration. An amendment shall be considered to have been distributed if it has been either transmitted electronically and made available on each member's chamber laptop computer and a copy in paper form placed on the desk of the Majority Floor Leader and Minority Floor Leader or placed on the members' desks in paper form, except for the desk of any member who has waived receipt of amendments.

(c) The sponsor of an amendment that has been distributed may make technical corrections at the time the amendment is offered or under consideration. Any technical corrections shall be read in full by the clerk. Technical corrections shall be subject to a point of order that they are not truly technical in nature.

(d) The sponsor of an amendment shall not otherwise amend his or her own amendment.

(e) Every proposed amendment to the amendment and substitute amendment may be offered after the time a bill is initially taken up for consideration but shall be distributed prior to the offeror being recognized for a motion on such amendment.

(f) Amendments shall be prepared by House Research or House Appropriations and filed with the Chief Clerk.

(2) What Amendments and Substitute Amendments are in Order. When a bill, motion, or proposition is under consideration, a motion to amend and a motion to amend that amendment shall be in order, and it also shall be in order to offer a further amendment by way of substitute for the original motion to amend, to which one amendment may be offered. It shall not be in order to offer a substitute amendment to an amendment to an amendment. When an amendment is offered, a substitute for that amendment is offered, and an amendment to the substitute is offered, it shall not be in order to offer a substitute for the amendment to the substitute. Any proposed amendment in the third degree shall be out of order. Any motion to adopt an amendment may be withdrawn by the sponsor before decision thereon. Once a bill has been amended, it shall be in the possession of the House. If a proposed amendment has been defeated, the same amendment shall not be proposed again. An amendment identical to one previously decided on the same bill is not in order, except for amendments to appropriations bills.

(3) Committee Substitutes Treated as Original. A House Committee Substitute shall be considered as an original bill for purposes of amendment.

(4) House Substitute. No House Substitute will be in order. A House Substitute is an amendment which, in the opinion of the Speaker, is effectually replacing the underlying bill or committee substitute.

(5) When Federal Mandate Bills can be Amended. Amendments to House and Senate bills—Federal Mandate are permitted only within the scope of the federal mandate. Perfecting amendments are permitted to make technical amendments.

(6) Appropriations Bills.

(a) No amendment to the appropriations bills of the state budget shall be in order if it increases the total amount of general revenue or general revenue equivalent appropriated in the House appropriations bills. Any amendment that increases the amount of general revenue or general revenue equivalent appropriated in the House appropriations bills shall be required to be submitted with a separate amendment that makes an equal reduction in general revenue or general revenue equivalent in the same bill or any other of the bills still pending. If the reduction is in another bill, the decreasing amendment shall be taken up first, and the increasing amendment may be taken up only if the decreasing amendment is adopted. When a pair of amendments is submitted, the decreasing amendment shall be required to clearly identify the corresponding increasing amendment.

(b) If a member's decreasing amendment is adopted and the same member's increasing amendment is defeated, the decreasing amendment's adoption is void.

(c) The offering and adoption of an amendment decreasing the amount of general revenue or general revenue equivalent appropriated without a balancing increase creates no right of another member to offer an increasing amendment in any amount up to the amount of the decrease effected by the decreasing amendment, and no member may be recognized for the purpose of making such an amendment.

(d) For the perfection of the House appropriations bills of the state budget only, it shall be permissible to amend any line item as often as the House pleases, as long as prior adopted amendments to the line item are taken into account.

(e) Notwithstanding any rule to the contrary, neither substitute amendments nor amendments to amendments shall be in order for any appropriations bill other than technical corrections under Rule 49(1).

Committee Substitute Printed

Rule 50. When a committee recommends a substitute for a bill, the original bill will accompany the substitute. The substitute shall be handled on the floor of the House by the committee chair or any member designated by the committee chair. The Chief Clerk shall have an appropriate number of copies of the substitute printed. No committee substitute shall be called from the calendar of the House until the printed copies have been distributed for at least one legislative day. Amendments, if any, may be offered to the substitute before the vote on the motion to adopt the substitute is taken. If the substitute is defeated, the original bill shall be before the House for perfection and shall be considered and shall be handled on the floor by the original sponsor of the bill.

Order of Amendments

Rule 51. When amendments to any bill, motion, or proposition are pending, they shall be voted on in the following order:

(1) Amendments to the amendment are disposed of before the substitute is taken up. Only one amendment to the amendment is in order at one time; but as rapidly as one is disposed of by rejection or incorporation as a part of the amendment, another is in order as long as any member desires to offer one.

(2) Amendments to the substitute are next voted on, and may be offered, one at a time, and as rapidly as one is disposed of by rejection or incorporation as a part of the substitute amendment, another is in order as long as any member desires to offer one, until the substitute amendment is adopted.

(3) The substitute amendment, as amended, is next voted on. If the substitute amendment is adopted, the underlying amendment to which it was offered shall not be voted upon, but the substitute amendment shall become part of the bill.

(4) The amendment is voted on last. If any substitute has not been agreed to, the vote comes on the amendment as amended.

(5) The House Committee Substitute is next voted upon, after opportunity for amendment. If the House Committee Substitute is adopted, there shall be an additional vote for the perfection of the bill, as amended.

(6) If there is no House Committee Substitute, or if the House Committee Substitute is not adopted, the original House Bill is next voted upon, after opportunity for amendment.

Amendments Incorporated In Bill

Rule 52. All amendments adopted by the House to a bill originating in the House shall be incorporated in the bill as perfected, and the bill, as thus perfected, shall be printed for the use of the members before its final passage, provided that the bill shall be subject to a titling ~~motion~~ amendment before the vote on perfection is taken. For purposes of this rule, a titling amendment shall not count against the Rule 88 prohibition on speaking twice on the same question. The perfecting and printing shall be done under the supervision of the Chief Clerk who shall assure that the bill is truly perfected and the printed copies furnished to the members are correct.

Emergency Clauses

Rule 53. Any House bill which has been amended on the floor prior to being perfected or any Senate bill which has been amended on the floor prior to being third read and passed to contain an emergency clause shall be automatically referred to the Committee on Fiscal Review to consider whether the emergency clause is appropriate.

Repassage

Rule 55. When all Senate amendments to House Bills have been concurred in by a constitutional majority of the House, the question shall then be put: "Shall the bill as amended be passed?". On this question the ayes and noes shall be called for, and as on first passage, a constitutional majority shall be necessary to the final passage of the bill.

Rule 57. No bill shall be amended after being perfected and printed without a reconsideration of the vote by which it was ordered perfected and printed and if such bill be amended, it shall again be perfected and printed, except that a perfecting amendment to make technical corrections is in order after the bill has been ordered perfected and printed and before it has been read the third time.

Motion for Passage

Rule 58. When the Chief Clerk presents a bill as truly perfected and printed, it shall go upon the calendar to be agreed to and passed. When the bill is taken up in its order, the question shall then be: "Shall the bill be third read and passed?".

It shall require a constitutional majority to sustain the question.

Rule 59. When a bill or joint or concurrent resolution passes the House, it shall be certified by the Chief Clerk, noting the day of its passage at the foot thereof.

Perfecting Amendments on Bills Returned From the Senate

Rule 60. No bill or joint or concurrent resolution that has been returned from the Senate may be further amended without placing the bill in conference, except that a perfecting amendment to make technical corrections is in order in the house of origin when the bill is taken up for final passage as amended by the other house. The perfecting amendment may be directed to the bill or to amendments to the bill. If a perfecting amendment is adopted, the bill as finally passed with the perfecting amendment shall be returned to the other house for its concurrence in the perfecting amendment.

Conference Reports

Rule 61. (1) Signatures on a Conference Report. All conference committees shall be composed of five conferees from each house. No conference report shall be submitted to either house unless approved by a majority vote of the full committee with not less than three conferees from the House and two conferees from the Senate signing the report.

(2) Review for Correctness. Before a conference report is referred to the Regular Standing Committee on Fiscal Review, it shall be reviewed for the technical correctness of the report and of any amendments, bill, or substitute the report recommends for passage by the House.

(3) Notice Requirements. No conference committee report shall be taken up and considered unless the same has been distributed to the members, except members who have waived receipt of conference committee reports, at least one legislative day prior to consideration.

(4) Exceeding the Differences. Unless authority is granted by the House to exceed the differences, the conferees shall confine themselves to matters that are within the scope of the differences between the House position and the Senate position. When a report is offered for adoption, the point of order that the conferees have exceeded the differences shall be in order. The Speaker may rule on the point of order or may place the question of whether the conferees have exceeded the differences before the House for a vote. A majority of members voting prevails on the question.

Rule 62. All joint and concurrent resolutions designed to submit to the qualified voters of the state amendments to the Constitution of the State of Missouri, to be voted upon by such voters, shall be read on three separate days, and shall be reported upon by the committee of the House, and shall otherwise be proceeded upon in like manner as a bill.

It may be moved like any other question but it shall only prevail when supported by a constitutional majority and until decided shall preclude amendments and debate. If the motion is sustained, the proponent of the matter under consideration shall be allowed one minute in which to make a closing statement before the House votes on the question. MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, Article IV, Section 27, authorizes the Governor to control the rate at which any appropriation is expended by allotment and, further, authorizes the Governor to reduce the expenditures of the state or any of its agencies below their appropriations whenever the actual revenues are less than the revenue estimates upon which the appropriations were based; and

WHEREAS, in addition to the power to control the rate of expenditure established in Article IV, Section 27, three percent of each appropriation, with the exception of amounts for personal service to pay salaries fixed by law, shall be set aside pursuant to section 33.290, RSMo, as a reserve fund and not subject to expenditure except with the approval of the Governor; and

WHEREAS, Article IV, Section 27.2, provides that the Governor notify the General Assembly “whenever the rate at which any appropriation shall be expended is not equal quarterly allotments, the sum of which shall be equal to the amount of the appropriation”; and

WHEREAS, due to a variety of factors, including the three percent reserve that is legally required by section 33.290, RSMo, the rate at which most appropriations are expended is not in “equal quarterly allotments, the sum of which shall be equal to the amount of the appropriation”; and

WHEREAS, Article IV, Section 27.3, provides that the Governor notify the General Assembly “when the governor reduces one or more items or portions of items of appropriation of money as a result of actual revenues being less than the revenue estimates upon which the appropriations were based.”

NOW THEREFORE, I, Michael L. Parson, GOVERNOR OF THE STATE OF MISSOURI, pursuant to Article IV, Section 27, do hereby make the following notification to the Ninety-Ninth General Assembly of the State of Missouri:

I hereby notify the General Assembly, pursuant to Article IV, Section 27.2 of the Missouri Constitution, that through the first quarter of fiscal year 2019, the rate of expenditure for each of the appropriation lines in the fiscal year 2019 budget attached as Exhibit A is not in equal quarterly allotments, the sum of which shall be equal to the amount of the appropriation.

I further notify the General Assembly, pursuant to Article IV, Section 27.3 of the Missouri Constitution, that I have taken no action to permanently reduce one or more items or portions of items of appropriation of money as a result of actual revenues being less than the revenue estimates upon which the appropriations were based in the fiscal year 2019 budget.

(2) No bill shall be placed on the Federal Mandate Calendars unless it is federally mandated, immediate in nature, and reduces revenues or savings if not enacted. A federal mandate bill may only contain subject matter concerning the federal mandate. A member wishing for his or her bill to be considered for placement on the Federal Mandate Calendar shall request in writing to the chair of the committee where such bill has been referred. The written request shall state the deadline by which the state must comply with the federal mandate and what will happen if the state fails to take action by such date. A copy for each committee member of the federal statute or regulation mandating such action shall accompany the request. After the committee has voted "Do Pass" on a bill with such a request, it shall take a second recorded vote on whether to recommend that it be placed on the Federal Mandate Calendar. If said bill is reported "Do Pass" by a regular standing committee with a recommendation that same be placed on the Federal Mandate Calendar, the chair of the committee shall submit to the Speaker a copy of the original written request, along with a copy of the federal statute or regulation mandating State action. If the Speaker concurs with the committee that the bill complies with the requirements of this rule, he or she shall advise the Chief Clerk to place same on the Federal Mandate Calendar. If the Speaker does not concur, he or she may place the bill on the Perfection Calendar. Each bill placed upon the Federal Mandate Calendars shall have attached thereto a copy of the federal statute or regulation that mandates the bill, along with a copy of the request to place the bill on the Federal Mandate Calendar and shall be distributed to all members at least twenty-four hours prior to consideration by the entire House.

Revision Bills

Rule 42. Any bill denominated as a revision bill by the appropriate committee shall contain only that subject matter approved by the committee on legislative research, and additional material may not be amended thereto, unless needed as a technical correction.

Motion To Place On Calendar

Rule 43. If any bill is reported from committee with the recommendation that it "Do Not Pass" it shall not go on the calendar of the House unless ordered by a constitutional majority. At the same time the bill is reported to the House, the committee chair shall notify the sponsor or handler of the bill that such report is being made. A motion to have a bill placed upon the calendar shall be made within three legislative days after the bill is reported and when the sponsor of the bill is present or the motion is made by a member upon the sponsor's written request. If no such action is taken within such time, the bill shall lie on the table. If such a motion is sustained, the bill shall stand automatically referred to a Committee on Rules for further action thereon.

Timing of Placement on Calendar

Rule 44. No House bill shall be taken up for consideration by the House unless it has been upon the calendar for at least one legislative day.

Bills Laid Over Informally

Rule 45. When a bill is reached, in its order, to be perfected and printed, or to be third read and finally passed, it may, upon the request of the Majority Floor Leader or the sponsor or handler thereof if a House Bill, or upon the request of its handler in the House if a Senate Bill, hold its place on the calendar or be laid over informally and thereafter be called up at any time when otherwise in order.

To Appear In Order

Rule 46. All bills laid over informally and not taken up and disposed of the same day shall appear in order upon the calendar for the next legislative day following.

Ten Day Rule

Rule 47. If a bill laid over informally is not taken up for further consideration within ten legislative days after being laid over, it shall lie on the table and be dropped from the calendar of the House without further action of the House.

Consent Calendar

Rule 48. (1) Which Bills May Be Placed on the Consent Calendar. Each regular standing committee, after a favorable vote on a bill, may further determine by a second and affirmative vote of every member present whether ~~[or not] such bill is of a noncontroversial nature[. Any bill which increases net expenditures of the state, reduces net revenue of the state, or creates or expands a penalty provision shall not be considered by the committee for consent; provided however, any bill which specifically authorizes an easement or right-of-way involving state property may be considered by the committee for placement on the Consent Calendar.]~~ and qualifies for consent status. Bills that specifically authorize an easement or right-of-way involving state property shall qualify for consent status. A bill shall not be considered for consent status if it:

- (a) Is of a controversial nature;
- (b) Makes a substantial policy change;
- (c) Increases net expenditures of the state;
- (d) Reduces net revenue of the state; or
- (e) Creates or expands a penalty provision.

If it has been determined by the regular standing committee that such bill is of a noncontroversial nature and meets all consent requirements, the regular standing committee shall report the bill to the Committee on Consent and House Procedure as "Do Pass - Consent". The Committee on Consent and House Procedure may decide by a majority affirmative vote of those present whether to place the bill on the appropriate consent calendar.

(2) Procedure on House Bills. If the regular standing committee shall so determine, the appropriate committee report shall include a request that a bill be placed on the House Consent Calendar for Perfection. Any bill so reported shall automatically be referred to the Committee on Consent and House Procedure. Any bill reported by the Committee on Consent and House Procedure with the recommendation that it be placed on the House Consent Calendar for Perfection may be placed on that calendar if the Speaker concurs with the recommendation. If the Speaker does not concur, he or she may place the bill on the Perfection Calendar. After such bill has remained on the House Consent Calendar for Perfection for five legislative days, it shall be ordered perfected and advanced to the House Consent Calendar for Third Reading and Final Passage without further action of the House, unless five members, with at least two from each political party, have filed written objection with the Chief Clerk. If such objections are filed, the bill shall be placed on the House Bills to be Perfected and Printed Calendar. An objection made by five members under this rule cannot be rescinded.

(3) Senate Bills - Consent. When the Senate passes a bill by its procedure for consent bills, such bill shall be considered for treatment as a consent bill by the House committee without further request; provided however, that the same committee procedures, votes, and requirements for House Bills being considered for consent shall be applied to Senate Bills being considered for consent. A Senate Bill may be considered by the committee for consent even if it was not a consent bill in the Senate.

(4) Procedure on Senate Bills. Senate Bills passed out of the appropriate House regular standing committee and the Committee on Consent and House Procedure with the request that the bill be placed on the Senate Bills for Third Reading and Final Passage - Consent Calendar are subject to the five member objection provision of this rule.

(5) Deadline for Placing Senate Consent Bills on the Calendar. No Senate consent bills shall be placed on the consent calendar after April 15.

(6) Amendments. House bills may be considered for consent after they are amended in committee but may not be amended on the floor of the House.

Senate consent bills may be amended in committee but not on the floor of the House unless the Senate Rules allow amendment of House consent bills on the floor of the Senate, in which case Senate consent bills may be amended on the floor of the House. House committee amendments to Senate consent bills shall be deemed adopted on the fifth legislative day.

AMENDMENTS AND SUBSTITUTES

Rule 49. (1) In Writing and Distributed in Advance.

(a) Proposed amendments shall be reduced to writing.

(b) Every amendment shall be distributed in advance of the time the bill is initially taken up for consideration. An amendment shall be considered to have been distributed if it has been either transmitted electronically and made available on each member's chamber laptop computer and a copy in paper form placed on the desk of the Majority Floor Leader and Minority Floor Leader or placed on the members' desks in paper form, except for the desk of any member who has waived receipt of amendments.

(c) The sponsor of an amendment that has been distributed may make technical corrections at the time the amendment is offered or under consideration. Any technical corrections shall be read in full by the clerk. Technical corrections shall be subject to a point of order that they are not truly technical in nature.

(d) The sponsor of an amendment shall not otherwise amend his or her own amendment.

(e) Every proposed amendment to the amendment and substitute amendment may be offered after the time a bill is initially taken up for consideration but shall be distributed prior to the offeror being recognized for a motion on such amendment.

(f) Amendments shall be prepared by House Research or House Appropriations and filed with the Chief Clerk.

(2) What Amendments and Substitute Amendments are in Order. When a bill, motion, or proposition is under consideration, a motion to amend and a motion to amend that amendment shall be in order, and it also shall be in order to offer a further amendment by way of substitute for the original motion to amend, to which one amendment may be offered. It shall not be in order to offer a substitute amendment to an amendment to an amendment. When an amendment is offered, a substitute for that amendment is offered, and an amendment to the substitute is offered, it shall not be in order to offer a substitute for the amendment to the substitute. Any proposed amendment in the third degree shall be out of order. Any motion to adopt an amendment may be withdrawn by the sponsor before decision thereon. Once a bill has been amended, it shall be in the possession of the House. If a proposed amendment has been defeated, the same amendment shall not be proposed again. An amendment identical to one previously decided on the same bill is not in order, except for amendments to appropriations bills.

(3) Committee Substitutes Treated as Original. A House Committee Substitute shall be considered as an original bill for purposes of amendment.

(4) House Substitute. No House Substitute will be in order. A House Substitute is an amendment which, in the opinion of the Speaker, is effectually replacing the underlying bill or committee substitute. (5) When Federal Mandate Bills can be Amended. Amendments to House and Senate bills-Federal Mandate are permitted only within the scope of the federal mandate. Perfecting amendments are permitted to make technical amendments.

(6) Appropriations Bills.

(a) No amendment to the appropriations bills of the state budget shall be in order if it increases the total amount of general revenue or general revenue equivalent appropriated in the House appropriations bills. Any amendment that increases the amount of general revenue or general revenue equivalent appropriated in the House appropriations bills shall be required to be submitted with a separate amendment that makes an equal reduction in general revenue or general revenue equivalent in the same bill or any other of the bills still pending. If the reduction is in another bill, the decreasing amendment shall be taken up first, and the increasing amendment may be taken up only if the decreasing amendment is adopted. When a pair of amendments is submitted, the decreasing amendment shall be required to clearly identify the corresponding increasing amendment.

(b) If a member's decreasing amendment is adopted and the same member's increasing amendment is defeated, the decreasing amendment's adoption is void.

(c) The offering and adoption of an amendment decreasing the amount of general revenue or general revenue equivalent appropriated without a balancing increase creates no right of another member to offer an increasing amendment in any amount up to the amount of the decrease effected by the decreasing amendment, and no member may be recognized for the purpose of making such an amendment.

(d) For the perfection of the House appropriations bills of the state budget only, it shall be permissible to amend any line item as often as the House pleases, as long as prior adopted amendments to the line item are taken into account.

(e) Notwithstanding any rule to the contrary, neither substitute amendments nor amendments to amendments shall be in order for any appropriations bill other than technical corrections under Rule 49(1).

Committee Substitute Printed

Rule 50. When a committee recommends a substitute for a bill, the original bill will accompany the substitute. The substitute shall be handled on the floor of the House by the committee chair or any member designated by the committee chair. The Chief Clerk shall have an appropriate number of copies of the substitute printed. No committee substitute shall be called from the calendar of the House until the printed copies have been distributed for at least one legislative day. Amendments, if any, may be offered to the substitute before the vote on the motion to adopt the substitute is taken. If the substitute is defeated, the original bill shall be before the House for perfection and shall be considered and shall be handled on the floor by the original sponsor of the bill.

Order of Amendments

Rule 51. When amendments to any bill, motion, or proposition are pending, they shall be voted on in the following order:

(1) Amendments to the amendment are disposed of before the substitute is taken up. Only one amendment to the amendment is in order at one time; but as rapidly as one is disposed of by rejection or incorporation as a part of the amendment, another is in order as long as any member desires to offer one.

(2) Amendments to the substitute are next voted on, and may be offered, one at a time, and as rapidly as one is disposed of by rejection or incorporation as a part of the substitute amendment, another is in order as long as any member desires to offer one, until the substitute amendment is adopted.

(3) The substitute amendment, as amended, is next voted on. If the substitute amendment is adopted, the underlying amendment to which it was offered shall not be voted upon, but the substitute amendment shall become part of the bill.

(4) The amendment is voted on last. If any substitute has not been agreed to, the vote comes on the amendment as amended.

(5) The House Committee Substitute is next voted upon, after opportunity for amendment. If the House Committee Substitute is adopted, there shall be an additional vote for the perfection of the bill, as amended.

(6) If there is no House Committee Substitute, or if the House Committee Substitute is not adopted, the original House Bill is next voted upon, after opportunity for amendment.

Amendments Incorporated In Bill

Rule 52. All amendments adopted by the House to a bill originating in the House shall be incorporated in the bill as perfected, and the bill, as thus perfected, shall be printed for the use of the members before its final passage, provided that the bill shall be subject to a titling ~~motion~~ amendment before the vote on perfection is taken. For purposes of this rule, a titling amendment shall not count against the Rule 88 prohibition on speaking twice on the same question. The perfecting and printing shall be done under the supervision of the Chief Clerk who shall assure that the bill is truly perfected and the printed copies furnished to the members are correct.

Emergency Clauses

Rule 53. Any House bill which has been amended on the floor prior to being perfected or any Senate bill which has been amended on the floor prior to being third read and passed to contain an emergency clause shall be automatically referred to the Committee on Fiscal Review to consider whether the emergency clause is appropriate.

Repassage

Rule 55. When all Senate amendments to House Bills have been concurred in by a constitutional majority of the House, the question shall then be put: "Shall the bill as amended be passed?". On this question the ayes and noes shall be called for, and as on first passage, a constitutional majority shall be necessary to the final passage of the bill.

Amending After Perfection; Perfecting Amendments

Rule 57. No bill shall be amended after being perfected and printed without a reconsideration of the vote by which it was ordered perfected and printed and if such bill be amended, it shall again be perfected and printed, except that a perfecting amendment to make technical corrections is in order after the bill has been ordered perfected and printed and before it has been read the third time.

Motion for Passage

Rule 58. When the Chief Clerk presents a bill as truly perfected and printed, it shall go upon the calendar to be agreed to and passed. When the bill is taken up in its order, the question shall then be: "Shall the bill be third read and passed?".

It shall require a constitutional majority to sustain the question.

Perfecting Amendments on Bills Returned From the Senate

Rule 60. No bill or joint or concurrent resolution that has been returned from the Senate may be further amended without placing the bill in conference, except that a perfecting amendment to make technical corrections is in order in the house of origin when the bill is taken up for final passage as amended by the other house. The perfecting amendment may be directed to the bill or to amendments to the bill. If a perfecting amendment is adopted, the bill as finally passed with the perfecting amendment shall be returned to the other house for its concurrence in the perfecting amendment.

Rule 61. (1) Signatures on a Conference Report. All conference committees shall be composed of five conferees from each house. No conference report shall be submitted to either house unless approved by a majority vote of the full committee with not less than three conferees from the House and two conferees from the Senate signing the report.

(2) Review for Correctness. Before a conference report is referred to the Regular Standing Committee on Fiscal Review, it shall be reviewed for the technical correctness of the report and of any amendments, bill, or substitute the report recommends for passage by the House.

(3) Notice Requirements. No conference committee report shall be taken up and considered unless the same has been distributed to the members, except members who have waived receipt of conference committee reports, at least one legislative day prior to consideration.

(4) Exceeding the Differences. Unless authority is granted by the House to exceed the differences, the conferees shall confine themselves to matters that are within the scope of the differences between the House position and the Senate position. When a report is offered for adoption, the point of order that the conferees have exceeded the differences shall be in order. The Speaker may rule on the point of order or may place the question of whether the conferees have exceeded the differences before the House for a vote. A majority of members voting prevails on the question.

Rule 62. All joint and concurrent resolutions designed to submit to the qualified voters of the state amendments to the Constitution of the State of Missouri, to be voted upon by such voters, shall be read on three separate days, and shall be reported upon by the committee of the House, and shall otherwise be proceeded upon in like manner as a bill.

When a Senate Bill is reported from a Committee on Rules with the recommendation that it "Do Pass", or "Without Recommendation", it shall go upon the House Calendar for the third reading and final passage, provided that no Senate Bill shall be taken up for consideration by the House unless it has been upon the Calendar for at least one legislative day.

Senate Bills Reported "Do Not Pass"

Rule 67. If a Senate Bill is reported from the committee to which it was referred with the recommendation that it "Do Not Pass" it shall not go upon the calendar of the House for third reading and final passage, unless so ordered by a constitutional majority of the House. In such case, the motion to place the bill on the calendar shall be made within three legislative days of the report and by a member who has been requested by the Senate sponsor of the bill. When a question is under debate, no motion shall be entertained but to adjourn; to take a recess; to lay on the table; for the previous question; to postpone to a certain day; to recommit to committee; to postpone indefinitely; or to consider a veto or withhold override; which several motions shall have precedence in the order herein set forth.

Dilatory

Rule 75. When any motion has been made and lost, no similar motion shall be entertained until some other business is transacted by the House.

Privileged Motions In Order - When

Rule 76. Except as otherwise limited herein, and except when a member is speaking or the roll is being called, the privileged motions set forth in Rule 74 are always in order, and pending the result of such a motion, no member shall leave his or her seat in the House.

Previous Question

Rule 77. Any member may move the previous question. The motion shall be restated by the Speaker in this form: "Shall the question under immediate consideration be now put?". It may be moved like any other question but it shall only prevail when supported by a constitutional majority and until decided shall preclude amendments and debate. If the motion is sustained, the proponent of the matter under consideration shall be allowed one minute in which to make a closing statement before the House votes on the question. A failure to sustain the motion shall not take the matter under consideration from further consideration of the House; but the House shall proceed as if the motion had not been made.

Motion to Recommit to Committee

Rule 82. Any member may make a motion, at any time prior to the time such bill is third read and passed, that a bill be recommitted to the committee from which it was reported or that a bill be committed to another specifically named committee in the original form of the bill as it was referred to the committee of origin, which shall be sustained if a majority of the members present vote in the affirmative.

Procedure for Motion to Reconsider

Rule 84. A constitutional majority is required to sustain any motion to reconsider. If the motion to reconsider is sustained, the House shall proceed to the original question or motion immediately before proceeding to other questions; whereupon the original question shall be voted upon before any other business of the House is transacted. This shall not preclude further debate or amendment of the proposition, if otherwise appropriate. In the case of an appropriation bill, the motion to reconsider may be considered as many times as the House chooses.

Any member called to order shall immediately sit down, unless permitted to explain, and the House shall, if appealed to, decide the case.

Appeals

Rule 86. If there is no appeal, the decision of the Speaker is final. If the decision of the Speaker is in favor of the member called to order, he or she may proceed; if otherwise, and the case requires it, he or she shall be liable to the censure of the House.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 100th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

THIRD DAY, MONDAY, JANUARY 14, 2019

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Haahr in the Chair.

Prayer by Representative Kenneth Wilson.

Father, if ever we needed Your wisdom and guidance, it is now. As this legislative body begins this new session, at the beginning of this new year, a time of facing new and renewed challenges but also a time of new opportunities, we seek Your sovereign blessing on our state.

We pray, Father, that You will bless these men and women who have been chosen by the people of this great state as they begin this very important work. You know them, Father; You know their motives, their hopes and their fears. Father, wrap Your arms around them to give them strength and speak to them to give them wisdom, that they may hear Your voice and seek Your guidance in all that they do and say.

May they always remember that You are concerned about what is said and done here, this day and every day to come.

And the House says, "Amen!"

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

COMMUNICATIONS

January 14, 2019

Speaker Elijah Haahr
201 W. Capitol Ave.
Jefferson City, MO 65101

Mr. Speaker,

While I was re-elected to represent the 158th District in the Missouri House of Representatives at the November 6, 2018 general election, I did not subscribe to the oath of office on January 9, 2019. At 3:30 p.m. today, I was sworn in as State Treasurer, therefore I am no longer eligible to serve as State Representative and will not be seated in the 100th General Assembly.

It has been a pleasure to serve the citizens of my district and to serve as the Budget Chairman. I look forward to working with the General Assembly in my new role as State Treasurer.

Sincerely,

/s/ Scott Fitzpatrick

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 100th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

FOURTH DAY, TUESDAY, JANUARY 15, 2019

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Haahr in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Monsignor Robert A. Kurwicky, Chaplain.

O satisfy us early with Your mercy: that we may rejoice and be glad all our days. (Psalm 90:14)

Almighty and Eternal God, ruler of the heavens and the earth, yet who is mindful of a falling sparrow and a cup of cold water given to one in need, help us in this quiet moment to lift our hearts unto You, to feel Your presence near, and to make ourselves ready for the duties of this day in the People's House.

Give to each one of us a mind free from narrowness and ever open to the light of truth, a heart sensitive to human needs and always eager to do good, and a spirit of reverence before You, resolved to do Your holy will, seeking what is true, honorable, gracious and just.

We pray for our state, that our people may be free from hate and bitterness and fear. Then may we reap the abundant harvest of a common unity and a common peace.

And the House says, "Amen!"

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the third day was approved as corrected by the following vote:

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 100th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

FIFTH DAY, WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 16, 2019

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Haahr in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Monsignor Robert A. Kurwicky, Chaplain.

I had fainted, unless I had believed to see the goodness of the Lord in the land of the living. (Psalm 27:13)

Eternal God, whose strength undergirds those who trust in You and whose love gives understanding to those who walk in Your ways, amid the shifting scenes of this capitol, help us to look up and to see the shining truth of Your eternal presence. Forgive us when we forget that, above our pride and prejudice, You are calling us to higher principles; underneath our frailties and faults, You are offering us the strength of Your spirit; and around our failures and frustrations, You are summoning us to wider fields of human service.

Bless our governor and his family and cabinet, as he addresses us this afternoon. May his message reflect the fact that God is in control!

Make our state worthy of Your blessings and willing to be a channel through which the spirit of humility may flow into our world. Grant us grace to heal the broken relationships, to give light to those who sit in darkness, and to lead along the ways of peace.

And the House says, "Amen!"

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the fourth day was approved as printed by the following vote:

The Sergeant-at-Arms announced the approach of the Honorable Michael L. Parson, Governor of the State of Missouri. The Governor was duly escorted to the House Chamber and the Speaker's dais, where he delivered the following message to the Assembly in Joint Session.

STATE OF THE STATE
ADDRESS BY GOVERNOR MICHAEL L. PARSON

Thank you. Thank you very much.

Thank you, Lieutenant Governor Kehoe, Speaker Haahr, President Pro Tem Schatz, Judges of the Missouri Supreme Court, distinguished state officials, members of the 100th General Assembly, and my fellow Missourians.

I am honored and proud to stand before you this afternoon as the 57th Governor of the state of Missouri. And, one of the highest honors I have as Governor is to introduce the First Lady of the State of Missouri, Teresa Parson. I am so proud of her and the grace she brings to her position as First Lady. And I look forward to the days when we have more time to spend with each other, our family, and our grandchildren. But, until that time, our dedication will be to the people of the State of Missouri.

Months ago I came into office amid rare and unique circumstances, yet the focus from day one of my administration was putting the people of Missouri first, where they belong, ahead of partisan differences or personal gain.

We traveled to every corner of this great State. We listened, we heard, and we learned.

I stand before you today to share a vision. A vision that will chart Missouri's future into the next decade. Missouri is dear to my heart, and by working together, we can protect and build a Missouri that is successful for the next generation.

The more we listened, the more it became clear that the people of Missouri are ready for bold solutions.

Even when times are good, Missourians still face many issues and have a frustration with government that often works to protect the status quo and is unwilling to take bold steps. However, to move Missouri forward, we must take bold steps and tackle big issues.

I will commit to you that bold ideas and tough challenges will not be something we shy away from, but my administration is willing to work with this legislature in a disciplined and focused way, and together, we can achieve big results and lay a solid foundation for our state's future.

It's time to have an honest conversation about the challenges we face and the solutions we need.

The honest truth is that we have not been as efficient as we can be. We don't promote our state, our resources, and our people as best we should, and we have not prepared our state well enough for the future, and every Missourian deserves better.

Make no mistake about it, we have before us one of the greatest opportunities, by working together to improve Missouri and to be the BEST in the United States of America.

The longer we delay and avoid tough decisions, the bigger our problems become.

Many of us are willing to admit this, and I hope you can agree that we cannot afford to delay action any longer. I am asking for your help to move Missouri forward and deliver results because, after all, we are the Show-Me State.

What this means in practical terms is that we have to be honest about our priorities and united in our focus.

As elected officials, we are good at declaring priorities. While some of our priorities may not be the same, when we try to make everything a priority, the fact is, nothing is truly a priority. So let me be crystal clear, cultivating and training our workforce for high-demand jobs and investing in critical infrastructure are the priorities we must address this session. As I have traveled the state, I know these are issues important to every single one of your districts – whether republican or democrat, urban or rural, we have good reason to work together to achieve real results for all Missourians.

By addressing these issues now, we will make major investments for the next generations of the state of Missouri.

There of course will be other issues that are important, like passing tax credit reform, working to make government more efficient and more accountable, protecting freedoms and promoting a culture of life, and passing regulatory and venue reform. ALL of which must be done. But our focus for the state of Missouri to thrive both now and into the future is on two key priorities - workforce development and infrastructure.

Let me tell you a story about a young man with us today. Troy is an eighth grader from Eldon who has experienced some hardships in his life. Troy's struggles are NOT unlike many families across Missouri. Quaker Windows is a Missouri-based company that has developed a partnership with Eldon Schools to ensure students like Troy have a mentor all throughout high school, and to make sure that he not only receives a quality education and training, but he is also taught valuable life skills, like the importance of showing up on time and having a strong work ethic. Quaker Windows and Eldon Schools have a community partnership. This example should be a model of how we approach new efforts to train the next generation of workers. Please welcome Troy, who is with us here today.

We must consider making necessary changes to our education programs and update the training pipelines to ensure economic growth in Missouri.

Our true dedication should be to build and create wealth NOT REDISTRIBUTE IT.

For example, Missouri's high school graduation rate is higher than most states. This is something we should ALL be proud of; however, we fall behind other states when we look at post-secondary education. We are well into the 21st century, and yes, extra levels of education are needed to meet the demands of our workforce and these jobs are going to provide higher wages, which will benefit Missouri families.

This is why my budget calls for a total investment of nearly $75 million dollars into bold and innovative workforce development programs. Consider those programs that build off the many projects we already have in place, like NGA West, Boeing's TX, Nucor Steel, and many others. When combined with our current economic development tools, ALL can be tremendously successful. In today's world, a higher level of education should not simply mean getting college degrees. This is why I am advocating that we provide $22 million dollars to fund a program known as Fast Track. Fast Track will allow Missourians to receive advanced training in high-demand areas largely taught at our community colleges, technical schools, and colleges and universities. This will open the doors for Missourians to have opportunities to earn more money for their hard work. Fast Track will benefit tens of thousands of Missourians from every corner of the state. But, to have a laser-like focus, we can't stop there.

We must ALSO start integrating EMPLOYER and industry-led input into the needs and demands of the workforce, like increasing industry-recognized credentials as part of our high school curriculum.

To further workforce development, this focus must also extend into the economic development tools we use as well. As a result, we are going to consolidate, repurpose, and add flexibility to a series of incentives we currently offer into a more streamlined program called Missouri One Start. That is why I am adding $10 million dollars to the Missouri One Start program, to help place a greater emphasis on building out the workforce needs and for job creation projects, so companies who use them are forced to plant deeper roots here in Missouri and become longer and more substantial partners.

Also, we are providing $16 million dollars for Missouri Excels, a program for Missouri Higher Education Institutions to develop and expand employer-driven education, training programs, and initiatives to increase career readiness.

Finally, when looking ahead, we know that we are up against the clock, competing with every other state across the country. But Missouri will be ready, with the right tools in the toolbox. We'll be ready to ensure our state will move forward in workforce development, and ALL Missourians will prosper!

Not only is workforce development going to be a priority but, to ensure future success, we also need to take a serious look at long-term investments in Missouri's infrastructure. When we talk about infrastructure, we can no longer just think about bricks and mortar, roads and bridges, but also the location in which people look to invest capital and operate the economy of the future.

One of those areas in Missouri is high-speed broadband access. We currently have about ten school districts and many rural communities that lack access to high-speed broadband and that is unacceptable.

Most recently, thanks to the President and our federal delegation, Missouri secured $255 million dollars for the expansion of broadband to connect our state. With this exciting opportunity, it is also important we at the state provide funding to cover the gaps in delivering broadband. That is why my budget calls for an additional $5 million dollars in broadband funding to close the gap that exists in federal funds and truly give the highest impact for Missourians.

Another area of focus is to put a greater emphasis on our Missouri ports. Located in the heart of the country, we are at the center of major opportunities, especially with the expansion of the Panama Canal. Missouri's agriculture and manufacturing industries have no better route to global expansion than delivering our high-quality products to the world through our waterways.

In addition to our rivers, Missouri has one of the largest highway systems in the country, and since we sit at the nexus of east and west, this system receives a great deal of strain. Nonetheless, we maintain this system with one of the lowest levels of funding in the country.

Over the years, we have seen proposals go before the voters and fail, but this cannot and does not mean we are expected to do NOTHING. This is why I am asking you to consider an infrastructure plan. While funded through our budget savings, it will give us the ability to begin immediate work on nearly 250 bridges across the state of Missouri all in need of critical repair or replacement. By doing so, we will be freeing up nearly $350 million dollars in state and federal resources allowing us to accelerate MoDOT's current list of state infrastructure projects.

ALSO, we will be adding a $50 million dollar cost-sharing program to assist our cities and counties to help address the most serious infrastructure needs in our local areas.

In fact, this raises the challenge for each of us to find even more creative ways to locate savings to make more substantial investments in our infrastructure without a tax increase to the people of Missouri.

These priorities did not come without some tough decisions, but, as I said to you before, if we are to deliver on meaningful priorities to the people of Missouri, tough decisions must be made.

As many of you know, the Department of Corrections is faced with many challenges. And we will NOT shy away from these challenges.

As a former sheriff and law enforcement officer for over 22 years, I understand, firsthand, the importance of reentry programs and alternative sentencing. We need to be more efficient in these programs so we truly offer a second chance, AND, as Governor, I am NOT interested in building more prisons. In fact, we've identified a plan to consolidate the operations at Crossroads and Western Missouri facilities in Cameron, Missouri.

This decision is largely driven by our dedication to find efficiencies wherever we can in state government, and this can be done while ensuring safety, improving security, and delivering a much needed pay raise, ALL being done with no layoffs.

Not only are we making tough decisions within the Department of Corrections, but our budget recommends another major change to reorganize and streamline the efforts of the Departments of Economic Development and Higher Education, a plan which will make our government more efficient.

We have to start focusing more on the importance of OUTCOMES in state government and less on arguing over the inputs.

While this restructuring is important for the people of Missouri, I also want to be very clear that the problem is not our state workforce. To the contrary, I have found overwhelmingly that we have a remarkable and dedicated state workforce. But we as elected leaders MUST do a better job clearly identifying expectations and priorities, communicating and managing responsibilities, and providing better training to promote our success.

Many of us in this chamber have programs in state government we think are important to our people, but as time goes by, governors change and legislators return home, and these programs grow with little oversight or accountability. The result is an expanding bureaucracy which becomes less efficient for the people of Missouri.

Under my administration, we are going to fundamentally restructure state government, demand greater efficiency and accountability, AND improve our customer service to all Missourians. I'll admit this is going to take some time, but we are not going to put it off any longer. IT WILL START TODAY!

Just like families across Missouri, HAVING a responsible budget is important and a way of life.

For the first time in more than a decade, the Governor's budget does NOT plan to SPEND EVERY TAX DOLLAR. We have a business-smart budget that saves nearly $120 million dollars to ensure we are prepared for any unexpected expenses.

Our budget also proposes a reduction of nearly 430 government positions, all while maintaining our conservative approach to managing and streamlining government services.

In fact, our administration recently completed the state's largest deregulation effort, eliminating nearly one out of every five state regulations.

And, each of the initiatives I have laid out would not be possible without the drive, commitment, and dedication of the Cabinet because we will not be able to achieve the type of commonsense conservative reforms and restructuring Missouri needs without the remarkable talent and leadership in THIS administration.

Please join me in recognizing the entire Cabinet seated in the upper gallery.

It is important to understand that being a good leader is not about being the best, but rather about your ability to make those around you better. Every day my staff and Cabinet are committed and focused to making all of us better, pushing one another to make MISSOURI a better place.

Just weeks after I took office, quick decisions had to be made on over a hundred legislative items, and the 28-billion dollar state budget had to be approved. By working together, we were able to save millions of taxpayer dollars and implement the largest tax cut in Missouri's history.

After I took the oath of office this summer, Missouri faced some tough and difficult times. We experienced one of the worst droughts Missouri had witnessed for many years. I called the administration together, and we reviewed our options. To no surprise, we learned that the typical state government response was a series of requests to the federal government for assistance. We believed that was simply unacceptable for the farmers and families of Missouri. And instead of pushing paper it was time for us to do more.

Through the teamwork between the Departments of Natural Resources, Agriculture, and Conservation, we put Missouri state government to work for its people and delivered meaningful relief by working together.

Again, several weeks later we experienced tough times when 17 individuals tragically lost their lives in the Branson incident. It was through the efforts of both state and local officials, including nearly every state department, that Missouri was able to quickly respond, recover, and offer immediate assistance to those in dire need.

We had tough times when we lost three local law enforcement officers and six others were shot in the line of duty. Thankfully, by God's grace, three members of the Kansas City Police Department are with us this afternoon after being shot in the line of duty. Please welcome these officers: Matt Williams, Brent Cartwright, and Michael DeLaney. As a former sheriff, I understand what it's like to lose an officer in the line of duty, and we owe ALL these brave men and women a debt of gratitude for their dedication to public safety.

It's only a matter of time before we again face tough situations, but, by faith and working together, we can and we will move Missouri forward.

I was proud that we were able to come together during a special session to finish YOUR legislative priorities and pass meaningful reform to our drug courts and create opportunities for STEM education in our high schools. These are the successes I am confident we will be able to expect this legislative session because I am also willing to acknowledge no one person or party has a monopoly on good ideas, but the best ideas are those that will serve the people of Missouri.

A key part of our efforts to improve Missouri's workforce and infrastructure is improving our citizens' health and healthcare by developing better access to providers and hospitals. Almost 40 percent of Missourians live in rural areas, and we are committed to making sure they, too, have access to both preventive and emergency care. In addition, we will be providing a substantial increase to help those facing the challenges of mental health, expand telemedicine technology, fight the opioid crisis, and better serve those in need.

I'd also like to introduce another very special guest here this afternoon, my great niece Zoey, who is one of thousands living with the challenges of autism. The First Lady and I are deeply committed to doing all that we can to learn more about, to promote awareness, and to advance autism research. That is why we are advocating for $1 million dollars to ensure families and parents have access to the right resources and are equipped to deal with the challenges that come with caring for a loved one with autism. Please welcome my great niece Zoey and her family to the chamber.

And, while my focus this legislative session will be on workforce development and infrastructure, we have already started intense planning for next session because we must also curb Medicaid costs, which account for over 10 billion dollars of the state budget. That is the reason why I hired Director Todd Richardson to lead this charge. Safeguarding the integrity of the Missouri Medicaid program is vital to the state of Missouri. Nearly one-third of Missouri's entire budget is devoted to the Medicaid program. It must be run with the highest level of integrity to ensure every tax dollar is accounted for.

When I began this afternoon, I said it was time to have an honest conversation. A big part of that conversation had to revolve around all of us recognizing we can do better, and as your Governor, I am committed to trying to get better every day myself. I am willing to make the tough decisions that will put our state in a better position. If we truly care about the next generation, I am absolutely confident that, by focusing on the major issues of workforce development and infrastructure, together we will have a successful legislative session because these are the issues that will benefit all Missourians.

In closing, I will leave you with a story about a young student that lives by these ten 2-letter words: “If it is to BE, it is up to ME.” “If it is to BE, it is up to ME.” These words have stayed with me after hearing his inspirational story. This young man had reached rock bottom and considered ending his life but chose to overcome his obstacles and instead succeed in life. When asked what motivated him, he mentioned those ten 2-letter words, “If it is to be, it is up to me.” Even as someone with my share of gray hair, I have to say that is wise advice.

If the American dream is to live on, I challenge all of us to remember those ten 2-letters words, with one change:

“If it is to BE, it is up to US!”

“If it is to BE, it is up to US!”

It is an honor and privilege to be the 57th Governor of the State of Missouri.

God bless you, God bless the Great State of Missouri, and God bless the United States of America.

The Joint Session was dissolved by Senator Rowden.

Speaker Haahr resumed the Chair.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 100th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

SEVENTH DAY, TUESDAY, JANUARY 22, 2019

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Haahr in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Monsignor Robert A. Kurwicky, Chaplain.

My food is to do the will of Him who sent me and to finish His work. (John 4:34)

O God of truth and love, who is worthy of a nobler praise than our lips can utter and of a greater love than our minds can understand and our hearts can give, in Your presence we bow in all reverence and gratitude.

We thank You for good people, for warm homes where love and happiness live, for friends tried and true, for everyone who has urged us to seek public office, and for every example of confidence and courage, given us by persons in high places and low. Our gratitude to You for the goodness of life and the greatness of love.

We commend the Show-Me State to Your providential care. Guide our people, as they have chosen us; increase our fellowship with one another and make us one in spirit and one in purpose as we face the important days that lie ahead.

Through all of life make us mindful of Your presence and eager to do Your holy will.

And the House says, "Amen!"

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 100th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

EIGHTH DAY, WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 23, 2019

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Haahr in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Monsignor Robert A. Kurwicki, Chaplain.

Be thankful unto Him and bless His name. For the Lord is good. (Psalm 100:4-5)

O Lord our God, we bow in Your presence with full hearts overflowing with gratitude because You have been so wonderfully good to us. Your many mercies come with the morning light. They stay with us through the day and the evening hours and continue to be ours during the night. So we lift our hearts unto You in thanksgiving and love.

We thank You for food and clothing and shelter, for homes where love dwells, for churches where we can worship as we desire, for our country flying the flag of freedom, and for the opportunity to serve our people in these halls of our state capitol.

As You did lead our ancestors to found, on these shores, a free nation, so lead us in this day to keep our citizens great in spirit, good in purpose, and genuine in seeking for peace in our world, peace in our land, and peace in our own hearts.

In gratitude, we pledge our love and loyalty anew to You and to the spirit of God.

And the House says, "Amen!"

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the seventh day was approved as printed.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 100th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

TENTH DAY, MONDAY, JANUARY 28, 2019

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Haahr in the Chair.

Prayer by Representative Sara Walsh.

Dear Heavenly Father,

We thank You for the privilege of standing in this place of responsibility. We recognize that our election to this position is reflective of the people's choice but in a far greater way it reflects Your will for our lives. Help us; guide us as we represent our constituents. Help us to know Your will for our own personal lives, and give us wisdom in these difficult days to make good and proper decisions.

We thank You that You have placed us here. We confess our absolute need for Your guidance. May we do our duty with the diligence and faithfulness this office deserves. May we handle the business of the state with the understanding that it may affect generations to come.

Dear Lord, may we be a people united as one people under God. May our desire for the best possible Missouri lead us to unity across political parties as we seek the higher good.

You taught us to pray, "forgive us our trespasses as we forgive those who trespass against us." May the forgiven be forgivers, and lead us not into temptation but deliver us from evil. For Yours is the kingdom and the power and the glory forever.

May it be so. In Jesus' name. Amen

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, Article IV, Section 27, authorizes the Governor to control the rate at which any appropriation is expended by allotment and, further, authorizes the Governor to reduce the expenditures of the state or any of its agencies below their appropriations whenever the actual revenues are less than the revenue estimates upon which the appropriations were based; and

WHEREAS, in addition to the power to control the rate of expenditure established in Article IV, Section 27, three percent of each appropriation, with the exception of amounts for personal service to pay salaries fixed by law, shall be set aside pursuant to section 33.290, RSMo, as a reserve fund and not subject to expenditure except with the approval of the Governor; and

WHEREAS, Article IV, Section 27.2, provides that the Governor notify the General Assembly “whenever the rate at which any appropriation shall be expended is not equal quarterly allotments, the sum of which shall be equal to the amount of the appropriation”; and

WHEREAS, due to a variety of factors, including the three percent reserve that is legally required by section 33.290, RSMo, the rate at which most appropriations are expended is not in “equal quarterly allotments, the sum of which shall be equal to the amount of the appropriation”; and

WHEREAS, Article IV, Section 27.3, provides that the Governor notify the General Assembly “when the governor reduces one or more items or portions of items of appropriation of money as a result of actual revenues being less than the revenue estimates upon which the appropriations were based.”

NOW THEREFORE, I, Michael L. Parson, GOVERNOR OF THE STATE OF MISSOURI, pursuant to Article IV, Section 27, do hereby make the following notification to the One Hundredth General Assembly of the State of Missouri:

I hereby notify the General Assembly, pursuant to Article IV, Section 27.2 of the Missouri Constitution, that through the second quarter of fiscal year 2019, the rate of expenditure for each of the appropriation lines in the fiscal year 2019 budget attached as Exhibit A is not in equal quarterly allotments, the sum of which shall be equal to the amount of the appropriation.

I further notify the General Assembly, pursuant to Article IV, Section 27.3 of the Missouri Constitution, that I have taken no action to permanently reduce one or more items or portions of items of appropriation of money as a result of actual revenues being less than the revenue estimates upon which the appropriations were based in the fiscal year 2019 budget.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused to be affixed the Great Seal of the State of Missouri, in the City of Jefferson, this 28th day of January 2019.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 100th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

ELEVENTH DAY, TUESDAY, JANUARY 29, 2019

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Haahr in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Monsignor Robert A. Kurwicky, Chaplain.

The hand of our God is upon all of them for good that seek him. (Ezra 8:22)

O God, our heavenly creator, whose power is infinite and whose love is eternal, we pray for the leading of Your spirit as we work for the well-being of our state and endeavor to secure peace in our cities and farms. May Your wisdom so move our minds and Your love so motivate our hearts that, in the crises we face daily, we may think clearly, speak calmly, and act courageously. Unite us and our people in the principles of bipartisanship, upon which our founders created this nation, that, as responsible citizens, we may do our full part in seeking the good of all peoples.

Direct and prosper the deliberations of this body that truth, justice and good will may be established here and among all citizens.

And the House says, "Amen!"

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the tenth day was approved as printed by the following vote:

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 100th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

TWELFTH DAY, WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 30, 2019

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Haahr in the Chair.

Prayer by Representative Tommie Pierson, Jr.

Dear Heavenly Father,

Today, as we hear from the Judiciary, grant those given the authority to adjudicate, grant them wisdom to be just, fair, and merciful in their decisions. Lord, even on this frigid day we thank You! We thank You for the ability to bundle up in layers, to warm our cars, to come indoors, and to adjust a thermostat. Help us, O God, to be ever mindful of those who are not afforded these same opportunities. Lord, as You bless us, help us to be a blessing to others. And as we legislate, collaborate, mediate, and govern, may we remember the least of these who also call this great state home. Lord, may You be glorified in the things that we say and do today. In Christ's name, I pray.

And the House says, "Amen!"

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the eleventh day was approved as printed by the following vote:

The Sergeant-at-Arms announced the approach of the Honorable Zel M. Fischer, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Missouri. Chief Justice Fischer was duly escorted to the House Chamber and to the Speaker's dais, where he delivered the following message to the Assembly in Joint Session.

STATE OF THE JUDICIARY
ADDRESS BY
CHIEF JUSTICE ZEL M. FISCHER

Introduction

Thank you, Lieutenant Governor Kehoe, Secretary of State Ashcroft, President Pro Tem Schatz, Speaker Haahr, and members of this 100th General Assembly, the executive branch and the judiciary. On behalf of all of Missouri's state judges, I am pleased to present you with this 46th State of the Judiciary.

The framers of our Constitution divided the power of government among three separate but co-equal branches, intending them to serve different purposes. But this separation does not mean we cannot listen to one another.

We know our partners in the legislative and executive branches are committed to doing the best job possible to make Missouri better. We are no different. The state of the judiciary is good.

Constitutionally critical to our system of government, the judiciary is designed to be different from the political and policymaking branches of government. Chief Justice John Roberts of the Supreme Court of the United States explained it this way: “We wear black robes to convey the notion that our individual views [and] personality do not have anything to do with the function we have to play in terms of coming to the correct decision on the law.”

You may not know one of his colleagues on our nation’s high court, Justice Clarence Thomas, had his first legal job right here in Missouri, across the street in the red brick building, as an assistant attorney general under Jack Danforth. Justice Thomas has said, “Judicial independence is critical to liberty and to justice. In our great country, the judiciary is not a puppet of those in power, nor is it the engine for pioneering social change. Rather, it is a safeguard against tyranny and an assurance of neutral arbiters for those seeking the protection of law.”

Public opinion tends to galvanize behind particular outcomes. Judges have a duty to resist that temptation. Our duty and our oath is not to be popular but to be faithful to the law.

Treatment courts

As I was here a couple of weeks ago listening to Governor Parson give his address, it occurred to me there are at least a few things Governor Parson and I have in common – we both call rural Missouri home, we are both probably more comfortable in cowboy boots than dress shoes, and neither of us has been accused of being soft on crime. But I was pleased to hear him commit in his state of the state address he would not build another prison while he is governor.

When I began practicing law three decades ago, we were all told the proper answer was to be tough on crime. But, as time has proven, being tough on crime is not necessarily being smart on crime. Our national incarceration rates have ballooned – and for many nonviolent offenders, we have failed to address their underlying issues of substance abuse and mental illness. Let’s save our prisons for those we are afraid of, not just mad at.

Over-incarcerating nonviolent offenders – especially drug and alcohol offenders – costs millions and is not curing the problem. We need to spend public funds where we see proven results. Often, what they really need – and what we can provide without compromising public safety – is treatment for substance abuse and mental illness.

This is why it is no longer enough for the courts to simply resolve cases. Instead, you and our citizens expect your courts to help change lives by breaking the cycle of crime among our nonviolent offenders and making them more productive. Since Missouri’s first treatment court was founded more than 25 years ago, the Show-Me State has been showing everyone else how to do it ... and we continue to get better at it.

But as I explained in my address to you last year, citizens in some of our counties still lack access to a local treatment court. I thank Governor Parson for making treatment courts a priority of last fall’s special session – and I thank you for passing this important legislation.

Now, we need your help funding the vital services our treatment courts can provide. The governor included in his budget recommendations a restoration of the rest of the core funding to the treatment courts we asked for last year but did not receive, plus nearly $3.1 million in additional funding to help expand the reach of our treatment court services. Together, not only can we continue to be smart on crime, but, more importantly, we can continue to save money ... and lives.

Veterans courts

Some of our treatment courts focus on an offender’s underlying issue, but one focuses on a unique population – our veterans. As you know, one of the primary rules of battle is not to leave anyone behind. But that guiding principle is just as important off the battlefield.

Due in part to the stress of combat or adjusting to life at home, some of our military men and women suffer from mental illness or addiction, and they may find themselves on the wrong side of the law. It is incumbent on us to make sure the justice system for which they have sacrificed recognizes their unique challenges and does not leave them behind.

Missouri now has veterans treatment courts available in three dozen counties, plus the cities of St. Louis and Kansas City. These unique programs use volunteer veterans and active-duty soldiers as mentors. Research shows veterans benefit the most with help from others who understand the military experience.

Our veterans treatment courts are a win-win for all Missourians – in addition to helping those who have served our country regain their lives, crime is reduced, public safety is improved, and we are able to better protect those who have protected us.

Military spouse rule

We also are honoring military families by finding a way for spouses of military personnel stationed in Missouri to practice law while they are here.

The process to become licensed to practice law in any state is rigorous, and for good reason – it’s designed to protect the public. The bar exam is hard. But attorneys who are married to active duty military service members face the prospect of going through that process each time their spouses are relocated. You’ve heard the adage, “when one member joins, the whole family serves?” For some members of our active duty military, that means their attorney spouses must sit for a bar exam in every new state in which they find themselves ... or abandon their career ... or split up the military family. We realized this makes little sense.

So we created a pathway for military spouses who are licensed attorneys to practice law while they are in Missouri. Under the new rule – which took effect January 1 – lawyers with licenses in good standing from other jurisdictions, whose spouses are full-time active service members of the United States armed forces assigned to a duty station in Missouri or a contiguous state, can apply for temporary admission to practice law in Missouri.

Allowing these qualified attorneys to share their legal talents with our citizens while they are in our state will honor the sacrifice they make as military spouses and will serve Missourians well. This rule is already being utilized – just nine days after it took effect, we had an applicant. Her story exemplifies why we always need to look for ways to make our legal system better for those we serve.

Karen Towns is the daughter of a military service member and was born at an American air base overseas. She earned her law degree in North Carolina and was serving as associate chief counsel for the United States Food and Drug Administration when she married an officer in the United States Army. In fewer than a dozen years since then, he – and, therefore, she – have been relocated more than half a dozen times, to duty stations in Kansas, Kentucky, Maryland, Washington – and twice in Missouri.

Since July 2017, Karen’s husband – Colonel Eric Towns – has been stationed at Fort Leonard Wood, where he serves as garrison commander. When they arrived in Missouri, the only way for her to become licensed to practice law here was to sit for another bar exam. Instead, she has been working as a non-attorney compliance officer at the Missouri University of Science and Technology in Rolla. But our new rule cut through the red tape that had been preventing her from using her legal skills to their fullest.

I am pleased to announce Karen has been granted temporary admission to practice law in Missouri. She and Colonel Towns are with us today – please join me in thanking them both for their important service.

Retired lawyer pro bono rule

We also have recognized we need to do more to provide equal access to civil justice. One of the fundamental purposes of your courts is to ensure access to justice for all, regardless of background, wealth, power or ideology. This ideal works well on paper but is hard to achieve in reality. The law is complex, and many individuals and businesses perceive they lack access to affordable legal services.

A legal system that serves only the well-to-do is neither justice for all – nor justice at all.

Missouri lawyers try to help fill the need. Each year, hundreds volunteer their time, unpaid, to help those who otherwise cannot afford an attorney. And Missouri is part of a national program – like an online version of a walk-in clinic – allowing people who cannot afford a lawyer to get quick advice about a specific civil legal issue from a volunteer lawyer.

But by far the primary resource for those least able to afford an attorney comes from our state’s legal service organizations. Unfortunately, the justice gap is much wider than these volunteer lawyers and legal service organizations can bridge on their own.

They need help. Pursuant to a new rule and new pilot project, retired lawyers who agree to provide solely free legal help through one of our state’s legal aid organizations can apply annually to our Court to have their attorney enrollment fees waived.

As baby boomers enter retirement, many will be able to continue sharing their legal experience in meaningful and impactful ways. More importantly, our legal aid organizations will be able to help more low-income citizens throughout Missouri who need – but cannot afford – civil legal assistance.

Two people on the front lines of the battle to close the justice gap are here today. From Legal Aid of Western Missouri, its executive director, retired judge Joe Dandurand, and Latricia Scott Adams, who for 30 years has served as its volunteer attorney project director. Let’s thank them for their service.

Pretrial release

Some common-sense solutions are relatively simple, like our new military spouse rule and retired lawyer pro bono rule. Others are more difficult to achieve, and a few require tough conversations, like dealing with pretrial detention. The problem is real. Too many who are arrested cannot afford bail even for low-level offenses and remain in jail awaiting a hearing. Though presumed innocent, they lose their jobs, cannot support their families and are more likely to reoffend.

We all share a responsibility to protect the public – but we also have a responsibility to ensure those accused of crime are fairly treated according to the law, and not their pocket books.

Missouri law sets the framework for how pretrial detention should work. Under the circumstances of each case, a judge must balance two constitutional imperatives – one to afford the accused an opportunity for pretrial release, and the other to insist on “sufficient sureties” the defendant will appear in court. Judges also must balance statutory considerations for protecting a crime victim, a witness and the community from a defendant who poses a danger to them.

During the past year, the Court brought together a whole host of experts – judges, prosecutors, defense attorneys, law professors and court officials – they spent countless hours identifying ways for improvement and working to devise common-sense modifications to our criminal justice system. As a result of this hard work, the Court has ordered significant changes to its rules governing pretrial release.

These changes – which will take effect July 1 – are extensive ... and meaningful. Here are some highlights:

- The court must start with non-monetary conditions of release and may impose monetary conditions only if necessary and only in an amount not exceeding that necessary to ensure safety or the defendant’s appearance.
- The court may not order a defendant to pay any portion of the costs of any conditions of release without first considering how to minimize or whether to waive those costs.
- A court may order a defendant’s pretrial detention only if it determines – by clear and convincing evidence – that no combination of non-monetary and monetary conditions will ensure safety of the community or any person.
- The new rule also limits how long a defendant may be detained without a court hearing, and ensures a speedy trial for those who remain in jail.

This new rule helps ensure the determinations – and conditions – of pretrial release are made with the best information available. We believe these changes will improve our criminal justice system.

Investing in Missouri's courts

In his state of the state address, Governor Parson said being a good leader is about your ability to make those around you better. So I am here to ask for your help. I know revenues are tight, you have important priorities to consider . . . and I do not imagine you have very many constituents calling or e-mailing you begging for additional court funding.

But that does not mean your court system and the services we provide are not critical for the health of our state. Without the reliable availability of courts in our local communities, with fair and impartial judges who are well-versed in the law, and competent, professional court staff, your constituents' disputes might go undecided. Small business owners cannot afford undue delay in having their legal matters decided, and big businesses look for strong, stable courts when deciding where to employ large numbers of people.

Like so many others in state government, we in the Missouri courts have been streamlining our services, doing more with less for years, and we have proven we are a sound investment for Missouri tax dollars. To continue providing a high level of service – now and for future generations – we need additional investment in developing our workforce and improving our technological infrastructure.

Right now, our judicial education program operates on only 74 percent of the total amount of funding to which it is authorized by statute. But 74 percent does not allow us to offer as many in-person classes as we need, or to supplement those classes with as many web-based training sessions as we should. It will cost just less than a half-million dollars to close this gap between funding authorized and funding appropriated. Although Governor Parson did not include this item in his recommendations, I ask you to actually fund what you have authorized us to spend on judicial education. That amount would allow our judicial education program to function at full strength, as it has in the past.

Governor Parson encouraged us to be honest about the challenges we face. Here is one – technology has become the way we all do business and expect to do business, but your courts struggle to meet the public's 21st century expectations with 1990s resources.

The Missouri General Assembly in 1994 mandated the development of a statewide court automation system. But the $7 fee has not changed in a quarter-century and does not generate enough money to sustain current functions. In fact, the fee only pays for a third of the technology necessary to provide the services Missourians have come to expect.

Missouri courts have been virtually paperless since 2014, and you and your constituents have come to rely on the benefits that electronic system makes possible: Case.net, Track This Case, Pay By Web and the electronic filing of cases. But what happens if we cannot sustain the technology that has become the way people do business in their courts?

We may find out by July 2021, when we anticipate the Missouri courts' statutorily mandated system – built on 25-year-old technology – will be unable to receive critical system updates. We are building a replacement case management system, but at current funding levels, the new Show-Me Courts system – which includes municipal case processing – will not be finished in time.

Equal access to justice requires using technology to resolve disputes fairly and efficiently. We need to develop user-friendly, electronic systems to permit citizens to participate in routine court proceedings without missing work. We need to increase the functionality of Case.net to allow citizens to be fairly informed. Missourians expect your courts' technology systems to join the 21st century, which will require increased and sustainable funding from general revenue.

Nonpartisan court plan

Technology is not the only thing changing rapidly. How different the faces are in this chamber than just a year ago. Most of our state office holders are in new positions, and more than 60 of you are new to the legislature.

We have experienced change as well. Nearly 60 trial judges just attended new judge orientation last week. Our appellate judicial commission has sent two panels to Governor Parson. Last fall, Governor Parson made his first appellate appointment, selecting Tom Chapman – the presiding judge from the 43rd circuit (spanning five counties in northwest Missouri) – to a vacancy on the Missouri Court of Appeals, Western District. Earlier this month, Governor Parson selected Robin Ransom – the presiding judge in St. Louis city – to be the newest appellate judge in our Eastern District.

I remain steadfast that Missouri’s nonpartisan court plan is the best method for selecting judges to our urban trial courts, appellate court and supreme court. We have a plaque in our building across the street commemorating the courage of the people of Missouri in amending their constitution in 1940 to adopt the Missouri court plan, making ours the first state in the nation to embrace judicial merit selection. Our foresight looks brilliant today, as the entire Supreme Court of West Virginia – which has direct partisan elections – faced impeachment last year, and the confirmation process for Justice Brett Kavanaugh’s nomination to the Supreme Court of the United States looked nothing like the advice and consent of the senate our founding fathers intended.

As a supreme court judge, the idea of presenting oneself as pro-something or con-something else undercuts a system in which judges are meant to be neutral arbiters of our citizens’ disputes and, ultimately, undermines the public’s trust and confidence in their courts. To paraphrase Chief Justice Roberts, judges do not sit on opposite sides of an aisle. They do not caucus in separate rooms. They do not serve one party or interest. They serve one nation. Or, in our instance, one Missouri.

I will end where I began, by explaining the judicial branch is designed to be different from the political and policymaking branches of government. Our judicial code of conduct requires us to refrain not only from actual bias but to minimize even the appearance of partiality.

Conclusion

While I know you take your responsibilities here in the Capitol seriously, as do I, do not forget those at home who support, encourage and pray for you daily. In the balcony, with other family members, are Julie, my wife of more than 34 years, and my mother Nancy. Thank you for your infinite love, support, encouragement and prayers.

Providing the family security is my former courtroom bailiff, my best friend, the best man at my wedding – he is also my father, Bob Fischer.

Everybody who knows my dad has at least one story – but I’ll close with this one. In the fall of 2008, Dad drove me down for my interview with Governor Matt Blunt. Once back in his pickup truck after the interview, I told Dad I thought Governor Blunt might actually appoint me to the Supreme Court of Missouri. He said, “Well, he ought to, but are you sure you want the position? You’re already a judge, and this is a four-and-a-half-hour drive from your wife and three of your four children still in high school.” I explained to Dad this was a position where you not only could make a paycheck, you could also make a difference. I concluded, it is not like I would be joining the circus. Then Dad – with his humble trademark grin – replied, “Are you sure?”

Thank you all, and may God Bless you all.

The Joint Session was dissolved by Senator Rowden.

Speaker Haahr resumed the Chair.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 100th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

THIRTEENTH DAY, THURSDAY, JANUARY 31, 2019

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Haahr in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Monsignor Robert A. Kurwicki, Chaplain.

Where two or three are gathered together in My name, there am I in the midst of them. (Matthew 18:20)

O merciful God, give to us quiet minds and loving hearts, as we wait upon You in this our morning prayer in the people's house. Grant us wisdom, as we seek to solve the problems that confront us, courage to do what we believe to be right, and the faith to keep us faithful in the performance of our many duties.

In these days when the souls of some members are tried and tempted, when so much is demanded of those who would lead our state, grant us courage in serving this present age, that we may prove worthy of the positions we hold and ready for the tasks committed to us.

Guide our state and all states into the ways of justice and truth, and establish among us all that peace which is the fruit of righteousness: to the glory of Your holy name.

And the House says, "Amen!"

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the twelfth day was approved as printed by the following vote:

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 100th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

FOURTEENTH DAY, MONDAY, FEBRUARY 4, 2019

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Haahr in the Chair.

Prayer by Representative Jered Taylor.

Lord, we humbly come before You and give You praise and thanks for the many blessings in our life. Thank You for giving us the opportunity to serve You and the people of the state of Missouri.

We ask that You give us wisdom. Your word tells us in James 1:5-6, "Now if any of you lacks wisdom, he should ask God, who gives to all generously and without criticizing, and it will be given to him. But let him ask in faith without doubting." Lord, we ask for wisdom to make decisions that are right in Your eyes. We want to be used by You. We realize there are still many important issues that we face.

Lord, teach us humility and forgiveness. We pray that You mend broken relationships so that we can come together to move this state forward.

Thank You for loving us and sending Your son to be the sacrifice for our sins. Let us use that as an example of how to love one another and serve You.

In Your name we pray.

And the House says, "Amen!"

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the thirteenth day was approved as printed by the following vote:

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 100th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

FIFTEENTH DAY, TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 5, 2019

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Haahr in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Monsignor Robert A. Kurwicky, Chaplain.

Restore unto me the joy of Your salvation; and uphold me with Your free spirit. (Psalm 51:12)

O God of Peace, who has taught us that in rest we shall be saved, in quietness and confidence You shall be our strength: by the might of Your spirit lift us, we pray, to Your presence, where we may be still and know that You are God.

Strengthen and sustain us, that the tensions and trials of this tumultuous time may not break our spirits nor cause us to give up the struggle for life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness.

Bless these members of this House, who represent our people, who would serve You faithfully, and who would maintain service and peace in our districts. Grant that they may prove to be true to every task committed to their care.

And the House says, "Amen!"

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the fourteenth day was approved as corrected by the following vote:

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 100th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

SIXTEENTH DAY, WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 6, 2019

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Haahr in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Monsignor Robert A. Kurwicki, Chaplain.

Be strong, not in yourselves but in the Lord, in the power of His boundless resource. (Ephesians 6:10)

O God and creator of us all, out of the differences and divisions of this world we come humbly to worship You. From things that people are doing, we enter Your presence to think of what You are doing for us. As we pray, reveal to us Your glory, bestow upon us Your wisdom, make us equal to the tasks of these times and ready always to walk the path of goodness, truth, and love. As we pray, purify our affections, refine our ambitions, cleanse our minds and strengthen our spirits, that we may think clearly, plan wisely, and work diligently for the good of our beloved state during this Black History Month.

We pray for our governor, our speaker and every member of this House and their staffs. We pray for those who serve our country at home and abroad, particularly our wounded warriors and their families. May Your spirit steady them and strengthen them for every experience and trial.

Grant that Your mighty energy may surge through all peoples and governments so that we may learn the art of living together on this planet.

And the House says, "Amen!"

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the fifteenth day was approved as printed by the following vote:

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 100th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

SEVENTEENTH DAY, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 7, 2019

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Haahr in the Chair.

Prayer by Representative Kenneth Wilson.

Heavenly Father, we are the sheep of Your pasture; You are the shepherd. You alone are worthy of the deepest love of our souls, the highest praise of our lips, the greatest love of our hearts. Father, in this crazy world we often struggle with the things that go into our minds and hearts. We desire to be obedient to Your word, and we are also thankful that You forgive us of our many faults. Father, as we begin our day in this honored body, may we all be mindful of our thoughts and words, and may we be kind and understanding with one another as we go about doing the work that we have been called to do. Father, we ask for Your ever present protection as we leave today to return to our homes and families. For it is in Your name that we ask.

And the House says, "Amen!"

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the sixteenth day was approved as printed by the following vote:

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 100th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

EIGHTEENTH DAY, MONDAY, FEBRUARY 11, 2019

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Haahr in the Chair.

Prayer by Representative Doug Richey.

Most Holy God, You have revealed Yourself as the all powerful Creator, wonderful Counselor, gracious Redeemer, righteous Judge, King of kings, Lord of lords, and Friend to the powerless. We stand humbly before You, as imperfect people charged with a task of great consequence. We ought readily admit our limitations. We ought readily admit our struggles. We ought readily admit our temptations. We ought readily admit our needs. In this time of humble admission, we ask for Your kind provision of all that is required for the completion of our task.

Our task is complicated by the circumstances of our time. We are all aware of the growing mental health crisis, pervasive substance abuse, sickening accounts of sexual objectification of women and children. We know the reality of pain and loss within our communities. To these burdens are added the routine challenges of infrastructure, education, workforce readiness, and public safety. We acknowledge that the responsibility of governance is ours, regarding these and many other issues. Yet, this path of governance is precarious. Experiencing the weight of this responsibility, we plead for Your help in our decisions and actions. Our task is complicated, but with Your aid it is not impossible.

We have not asked for these times, but You have set us within them. By Your grace and direction, may we meet our time with reason, wisdom, and courage. Help us to pass these times to future generations without obligating them to clean up the messes that were ours to clean. In order for this to occur, we ask that You guide us as we think deeply in search of that which is true and right, debate vigorously for just and appropriate laws, and strive passionately for the preservation of freedoms You have prescribed.

In all our labor, we ask that You keep us, those standing here before You, mindful that we bear the responsibility of governance as diverse members of the one human race, of the one State of Missouri, and of the one Missouri House of Representatives. May we strive to honor You and serve “the people.” Help us to stand as examples that inspire people to greater respect and service to others, and greater devotion to those principles undergirding our freedom and liberty.

I pray that these words, here uttered, are not empty words of rhetoric, but rather words that capture the true desire of this body before me.

In light of my conscience before You, I ask all of this in the name of Christ Jesus. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the seventeenth day was approved as printed.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 100th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

NINETEENTH DAY, TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 12, 2019

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Haahr in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Monsignor Robert A. Kurwicky, Chaplain.

You, Lord, are good, and ready to forgive; and plenteous in mercy unto all them that call upon You. (Psalm 86:5)

O Lord, whose love surpasses understanding, whose wisdom is beyond our highest thought, and whose power strengthens us for every noble endeavor, open our eyes now, that we may see the guidance of Your spirit across our state.

In the present time, may we trust Your patient power and Your gentle goodness to bring us out of the strife between ideas and out of the bitterness that blights humanity. Confirm us in that greatness of mind which will make us united in purpose, elevated in our sympathies, wide in our outreach, and eager to minister to the needs of each other.

In the work of this day may we be attentive to Your voice and responsive to Your call, that we may walk the way of truth and love for the sake of our state and the peace of our country.

And the House says, "Amen!"

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as an Honorary Page for the Day, to serve without compensation: Izabella Uccello.

The Journal of the eighteenth day was approved as printed by the following vote:

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 100th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

TWENTIETH DAY, WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 13, 2019

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Haahr in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Monsignor Robert A. Kurwicky, Chaplain.

O praise the Lord, all you nations; praise Him all you people. For His merciful kindness is great toward us and the truth of the Lord endures forever. (Psalm 117)

Eternal God and Creator of us all, everywhere present and everywhere available, we wait upon You in this, our morning prayer. We come with humble hearts and in deep need, crying aloud for insight to see the way we should take, for courage to walk in it, and for the strength to endure even when endurance seems impossible.

As we face the trying tasks of these hurried hours, our thoughts are with those in the service of our state, particularly our citizens. Grant that the sacrifices they are making for us may never be in vain.

Guide Missouri, our leaders and our people through these winter times. May we learn the wisdom of the ages that only those who trust in You win the higher victories which will usher in the great day of justice and enduring peace.

And the House says, "Amen!"

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the nineteenth day was approved as corrected by the following vote:

House Amendment No. 1

AMEND House Bill No. 214, Page 5, Section 34.047, Line 12, by inserting after all of said line the following:

- "34.075. 1. For purposes of this section, the following terms shall mean:
- (1) "Department", the department of labor and industrial relations;
 - (2) "Director", the director of the department of labor and industrial relations or the director's designee;
 - (3) "Nonresident bidder", a person or entity who does not meet the definition of a resident bidder;
 - (4) "Public body", the state and any of its political subdivisions including, but not limited to, a school district or public utility;
 - (5) "Public improvement", a building or other construction work to be paid for in whole or in part by the use of funds of the state, its agencies, or any of its political subdivisions, including road construction, reconstruction, and maintenance projects;
 - (6) "Public utility", includes municipally owned utilities and municipally owned waterworks;
 - (7) "Resident bidder", a person or entity authorized to transact business in this state and having a place of business for transacting business within the state at which it is conducting and has conducted business for at least three years prior to the date of the first advertisement for the public improvement. If another state or foreign country has a more stringent definition of a resident bidder, the more stringent definition is applicable as to bidders from that state or foreign country;
 - (8) "Resident labor force preference", a requirement in which all or a portion of a labor force working on a public improvement is a resident of a particular state or country.

2. Notwithstanding this chapter, when a contract for a public improvement is to be awarded to the lowest and best bidder, a resident bidder shall be allowed a preference as against a nonresident bidder from a state or foreign country if that state or foreign country gives or requires any preference to bidders from that state or foreign country including, but not limited to, any preference to bidders, the imposition of any type of labor force preference, or any other form of preferential treatment to bidders or laborers from that state or foreign country. The preference allowed shall be equal to the preference given or required by the state or foreign country in which the nonresident bidder is a resident. In the instance of a resident labor force preference, a nonresident bidder shall apply the same resident labor force preference to a public improvement in this state as would be required in the construction of a public improvement by the state or foreign country in which the nonresident bidder is a resident.

3. If it is determined that this section shall cause denial of federal funds which would otherwise be available or would otherwise be inconsistent with requirements of any federal law or regulation, this section shall be suspended, but only to the extent necessary to prevent denial of the funds or to eliminate the inconsistency with federal requirements.

4. The public body involved in a public improvement shall require a nonresident bidder to specify on all project bid specifications and contract documents whether any preference as described in subsection 2 is in effect in the nonresident bidder's state or country of domicile at the time of a bid submittal.

5. The director and the department shall administer and enforce this section, and the director shall adopt rules for the administration and enforcement of this section.

6. The director shall have the following powers and duties for the purposes of this section:

- (1) The director shall hold hearings and investigate charges of violations of this section;
- (2) The director shall, consistent with due process of law, enter any place of employment to inspect records concerning labor force residency; to question an employer or employee; and to investigate such facts, conditions, or matters as are deemed appropriate in determining whether any person has violated the provisions of this section. The director shall only make such an entry in response to a written complaint;
- (3) The director shall develop a written complaint form applicable to this section and make it available in department offices and on the department's internet site;
- (4) The director shall sue for injunctive relief against the awarding of a contract, the undertaking of a public improvement, or the continuation of a public improvement in response to a violation of this section;
- (5) The director shall investigate and ascertain the residency of a worker engaged in any public improvement in this state;
- (6) The director shall administer oaths, take or cause to be taken deposition of witnesses, and require by subpoena the attendance and testimony of witnesses and the production of all books, registers, payrolls, and other evidence relevant to a matter under investigation or hearing;
- (7) The director shall employ qualified personnel as are necessary for the enforcement of this section; and
- (8) The director shall require a contractor or subcontractor to file, within ten days of receipt of a request, any records enumerated in subsection 7. If the contractor or subcontractor fails to provide the requested records within ten days, the director shall direct, within fifteen days after the end of the ten-day period, the fiscal or financial office charged with the custody and disbursement of funds of the public body that contracted for construction of the public improvement or undertook the public improvement, to immediately withhold from payment to the contractor or subcontractor up to twenty-five percent of the amount to be paid to the contractor or subcontractor under the terms of the contract or written instrument under which the public improvement is being performed. The amount withheld shall be immediately released upon receipt by the public body of a notice from the director indicating that the request for records as required by this section has been satisfied.

7. While participating in a public improvement, a nonresident bidder domiciled in a state or country that has established a resident labor force preference shall make and keep, for a period of not less than three years, accurate records of all workers employed by the contractor or subcontractor on the public improvement. The records shall include each worker's name, address, telephone number if available, Social Security number, trade classification, and the starting and ending time of employment.

8. Any person or entity that violates the provisions of this section is subject to a civil penalty in an amount not to exceed one thousand dollars for each violation found in a first investigation by the department, not to exceed five thousand dollars for each violation found in a second investigation by the department, and not to exceed fifteen thousand dollars for a third or subsequent violation found in any subsequent investigation by the department. Each violation of this section for each worker and for each day the violation continues constitutes a separate and distinct violation. In determining the amount of the penalty, the department shall consider the appropriateness of the penalty to the person or entity charged, upon determination of the gravity of the violations. The collection of these penalties shall be enforced in a civil action brought by the attorney general on behalf of the department.

9. A party seeking review of the department’s determination pursuant to this section shall file a written request for an informal conference. The request shall be received by the department within fifteen days after the date of issuance of the department’s determination. During the conference, the party seeking review shall present written or oral information and arguments as to why the department’s determination should be amended or vacated. The department shall consider the information and arguments presented and issue a written decision advising all parties of the outcome of the conference.

10. Any rule or portion of a rule, as that term is defined in section 536.010, that is created under the authority delegated in this section shall become effective only if it complies with and is subject to all of the provisions of chapter 536 and, if applicable, section 536.028. This section and chapter 536 are nonseverable, and if any of the powers vested with the general assembly pursuant to chapter 536 to review, to delay the effective date, or to disapprove and annul a rule are subsequently held unconstitutional, then the grant of rulemaking authority and any rule proposed or adopted after August 28, 2019, shall be invalid and void."; the police, sheriff, law enforcement officer or official, or any person having knowledge of such a death shall immediately notify the office of the medical examiner of the known facts concerning the time, place, manner and circumstances of the death. Immediately upon receipt of notification, the medical examiner or his designated assistant shall take charge of the dead body and fully investigate the essential facts concerning the medical causes of death. He may take the names and addresses of witnesses to the death and shall file this information in his office. The medical examiner or his designated assistant shall take possession of all property of value found on the body, making exact inventory thereof on his report and shall direct the return of such property to the person entitled to its custody or possession. The medical examiner or his designated assistant examiner shall take possession of any object or article which, in his opinion, may be useful in establishing the cause of death, and deliver it to the prosecuting attorney of the county.

2. When a death occurs outside a licensed health care facility, the first licensed medical professional or law enforcement official learning of such death shall contact the county medical examiner. Immediately upon receipt of such notification, the medical examiner or the medical examiner's deputy shall make a determination if further investigation is necessary, based on information provided by the individual contacting the medical examiner, and immediately advise such individual of the medical examiner's intentions.

3. Notwithstanding the provisions of subsection 2 of this section, when a death occurs under the care of a hospice, no investigation shall be required if the death is certified by the treating physician of the deceased or the medical director of the hospice as a natural death due to disease or diagnosed illness. The hospice shall provide written notice to the medical examiner within twenty-four hours of the death.

The coroner or medical examiner from the transferring county shall be responsible for investigating the circumstances of such and completing the Missouri certificate of death. The certificate of death shall be filed in the county where the deceased was pronounced dead.

(3) Such coroner or medical examiner, or the county where a person is determined to be dead, shall immediately notify the coroner or medical examiner of the county from which the person was originally being transferred of the death of such person and shall make available information and records obtained for investigation of death.

(4) If a person does not die while being transferred and is institutionalized as a regularly admitted patient after such transfer and subsequently dies while in such institution, the coroner or medical examiner of the county in which the person is determined to be dead shall immediately notify the coroner or medical examiner of the county from which such person was originally transferred of the death of such person. In such cases, the county in which the deceased was institutionalized shall be considered the place of death. If the manner of death is by homicide, suicide, accident, criminal abortion including those that are self-induced, child fatality, or any unusual or suspicious manner, the investigation of the cause and manner of death shall revert to the county of origin, and this coroner or medical examiner shall be responsible for the Missouri certificate of death. The certificate of death shall be filed in the county where the deceased was pronounced dead.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 100th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

TWENTY-FIRST DAY, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 14, 2019

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Haahr in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Monsignor Robert A. Kurwicki, Chaplain.

Come, let us go up to the mountain of the Lord, that He may teach us His ways and that we may walk in His paths.
(Isaiah 2:3)

Our Loving God, who has called us to take time for prayer, help us to pray that we may be conscious of Your presence as we face the tasks of this day and every day. May these daily moments of quiet meditation keep alive within us the higher virtues and the happier values without which we cannot live honorably with ourselves nor lead our state with honest motives nor learn to be harmonious in our relationship with each other.

Let the light of Your spirit shine upon us in such measure that the darkness of doubt and fear may be dispelled, and confidence and courage may come to new life in us. Increase our faith in You, deepen our love for You, broaden our sympathies with You, and lift our souls to You, that with the true spirit of collaboration in our hearts we may walk in Your ways and minister to the needs of the people in our state.

And the House says, "Amen!"

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the twentieth day was approved as printed by the following vote:

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 100th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

TWENTY-SECOND DAY, MONDAY, FEBRUARY 18, 2019

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Haahr in the Chair.

Prayer by Representative Herman Morse.

Our Father in Heaven,

We approach You today, mindful of all the many blessings that we enjoy: this day, our safe journey to this place, our lives, our health, our families, our homes, our jobs, our citizenship in this great country of the U.S. and this great state of Missouri.

We ask Your blessings on us as we deliberate regarding proposed legislation.

Give us wisdom and the desire to make government work for as many people as possible.

Help us to look beyond the differences among the disparate groupings that make us up and to see all the similarities that we share. And we are so much more alike than we are different. We all have dreams and aspirations, We all love our families and friends. We all want a better Missouri. We all have personal issues that from time to time slow us down and cause us to grieve or give us difficulty.

Help us to always remember the tremendous responsibility that has been entrusted to us and the incalculable opportunity afforded to us as we serve in this body.

We ask these blessings in Christ's holy name.

And the House says, "Amen!"

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the twenty-first day was approved as printed by the following vote:

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 100th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

TWENTY-THIRD DAY, TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 19, 2019

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Haahr in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Monsignor Robert A. Kurwicky, Chaplain.

The people who walked in darkness have seen a great light. (Isaiah 9:2)

Almighty God, who has given wonderful light to those who sit in deep darkness, love to those who would live with darkness in their hearts, and life to those who walk through the valley of the shadow of death: Grant that in Your powerful light we may see light clearly, in Your love may we possess love fully, and in Your life may we learn to live all our lives.

Guide and protect the citizens of our Show-Me State in the ways of righteousness and in the paths of peace. May good will live in all our hearts binding us together in the bond of true family, to the glory of Your holy name and the power of unity.

And the House says, "Amen!"

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the twenty-second day was approved as printed by the following vote:

House Amendment No. 1

AMEND House Bill No. 113, Page 1, Section A, Line 2, by inserting immediately after said section and line the following:

"558.019. 1. This section shall not be construed to affect the powers of the governor under Article IV, Section 7, of the Missouri Constitution. This statute shall not affect those provisions of section 565.020, section 566.125, or section 571.015, which set minimum terms of sentences, or the provisions of section 559.115, relating to probation.

2. The provisions of subsections 2 to 5 of this section shall be applicable to all classes of felonies except those set forth in chapter 579, or in chapter 195 prior to January 1, 2017, and those otherwise excluded in subsection 1 of this section. For the purposes of this section, "prison commitment" means and is the receipt by the department of corrections of an offender after sentencing. For purposes of this section, prior prison commitments to the department of corrections shall not include an offender's first incarceration prior to release on probation under section 217.362 or 559.115. Other provisions of the law to the contrary notwithstanding, any offender who has been found guilty of a felony other than a dangerous felony as defined in section 556.061 and is committed to the department of corrections shall be required to serve the following minimum prison terms:

(1) If the offender has one previous prison commitment to the department of corrections for a felony offense, the minimum prison term which the offender must serve shall be forty percent of his or her sentence or until the offender attains ~~seventy~~ sixty-five years of age, and has served at least thirty percent of the sentence imposed, whichever occurs first;

(2) If the offender has two previous prison commitments to the department of corrections for felonies unrelated to the present offense, the minimum prison term which the offender must serve shall be fifty percent of his or her sentence or until the offender attains ~~seventy~~ sixty-five years of age, and has served at least forty percent of the sentence imposed, whichever occurs first;

(3) If the offender has three or more previous prison commitments to the department of corrections for felonies unrelated to the present offense, the minimum prison term which the offender must serve shall be eighty percent of his or her sentence or until the offender attains ~~seventy~~ sixty-five years of age, and has served at least forty percent of the sentence imposed, whichever occurs first.

3. Other provisions of the law to the contrary notwithstanding, any offender who has been found guilty of a dangerous felony as defined in section 556.061 and is committed to the department of corrections shall be required to serve a minimum prison term ~~[of]~~ as follows:

(1) If the offender has no previous felony convictions, the offender shall serve fifty percent of the sentence imposed by the court or, if the offender attains sixty-five years of age, forty percent of the sentence imposed, whichever occurs first;

(2) If the offender has one previous felony conviction unrelated to the offense for which the offender is serving, the offender shall serve sixty-six percent of the sentence imposed by the court or, if the offender attains sixty-five years of age, fifty percent of the sentence imposed, whichever occurs first; or

(3) If the offender has two or more previous felony convictions unrelated to the offense for which the offender is serving, the offender shall serve eighty-five percent of the sentence imposed by the court or ~~until~~, if the offender attains ~~seventy~~ sixty-five years of age, ~~and has served at least forty~~ sixty percent of the sentence imposed, whichever occurs first.

4. For the purpose of determining the minimum prison term to be served, the following calculations shall apply:

(1) A sentence of life shall be calculated to be thirty years;

(2) Any sentence either alone or in the aggregate with other consecutive sentences for offenses committed at or near the same time which is over seventy-five years shall be calculated to be seventy-five years.

5. For purposes of this section, the term "minimum prison term" shall mean time required to be served by the offender before he or she is eligible for parole, conditional release or other early release by the department of corrections.

6. (1) A sentencing advisory commission is hereby created to consist of eleven members. One member shall be appointed by the speaker of the house. One member shall be appointed by the president pro tem of the senate. One member shall be the director of the department of corrections. Six members shall be appointed by and serve at the pleasure of the governor from among the following: the public defender commission; private citizens; a private member of the Missouri Bar; the board of probation and parole; and a prosecutor. Two members shall be appointed by the supreme court, one from a metropolitan area and one from a rural area. All members shall be appointed to a four-year term. All members of the sentencing commission appointed prior to August 28, 1994, shall continue to serve on the sentencing advisory commission at the pleasure of the governor.

(2) The commission shall study sentencing practices in the circuit courts throughout the state for the purpose of determining whether and to what extent disparities exist among the various circuit courts with respect to the length of sentences imposed and the use of probation for offenders convicted of the same or similar offenses and with similar criminal histories. The commission shall also study and examine whether and to what extent sentencing disparity among economic and social classes exists in relation to the sentence of death and if so, the reasons therefor, if sentences are comparable to other states, if the length of the sentence is appropriate, and the rate of rehabilitation based on sentence. It shall compile statistics, examine cases, draw conclusions, and perform other duties relevant to the research and investigation of disparities in death penalty sentencing among economic and social classes.

(3) The commission shall study alternative sentences, prison work programs, work release, home-based incarceration, probation and parole options, and any other programs and report the feasibility of these options in Missouri.

(4) The governor shall select a chairperson who shall call meetings of the commission as required or permitted pursuant to the purpose of the sentencing commission.

(5) The members of the commission shall not receive compensation for their duties on the commission, but shall be reimbursed for actual and necessary expenses incurred in the performance of these duties and for which they are not reimbursed by reason of their other paid positions.

(6) The circuit and associate circuit courts of this state, the office of the state courts administrator, the department of public safety, and the department of corrections shall cooperate with the commission by providing information or access to information needed by the commission. The office of the state courts administrator will provide needed staffing resources.

7. Courts shall retain discretion to lower or exceed the sentence recommended by the commission as otherwise allowable by law, and to order restorative justice methods, when applicable.

8. If the imposition or execution of a sentence is suspended, the court may order any or all of the following restorative justice methods, or any other method that the court finds just or appropriate:

(1) Restitution to any victim or a statutorily created fund for costs incurred as a result of the offender's actions;

(2) Offender treatment programs;

(3) Mandatory community service;

(4) Work release programs in local facilities; and

(5) Community-based residential and nonresidential programs.

9. The provisions of this section shall apply only to offenses occurring on or after August 28, 2003.

10. Pursuant to subdivision (1) of subsection 8 of this section, the court may order the assessment and payment of a designated amount of restitution to a county law enforcement restitution fund established by the county commission pursuant to section 50.565. Such contribution shall not exceed three hundred dollars for any charged offense. Any restitution moneys deposited into the county law enforcement restitution fund pursuant to this section shall only be expended pursuant to the provisions of section 50.565.

11. A judge may order payment to a restitution fund only if such fund had been created by ordinance or resolution of a county of the state of Missouri prior to sentencing. A judge shall not have any direct supervisory authority or administrative control over any fund to which the judge is ordering a person to make payment.

12. A person who fails to make a payment to a county law enforcement restitution fund may not have his or her probation revoked solely for failing to make such payment unless the judge, after evidentiary hearing, makes a finding supported by a preponderance of the evidence that the person either willfully refused to make the payment or that the person willfully, intentionally, and purposefully failed to make sufficient bona fide efforts to acquire the resources to pay.

13. Nothing in this section shall be construed to allow the sentencing advisory commission to issue recommended sentences in specific cases pending in the courts of this state."; and

"58.035. 1. There is hereby established within the department of health and senior services a "Coroner Standards and Training Commission", which shall be composed of eleven members, appointed by the governor, with the advice and consent of the senate. No more than two members of the coroner standards and training commission shall reside in the same congressional district as any other at the time of their appointments but this provision shall not apply to any state director. No two members of the commission shall be employees of the same county. Six members of the coroner standards and training commission shall be elected county coroners, two members shall be currently appointed medical examiners, one member shall be an elected county prosecutor, one member shall be the director of the department of public safety or his or her designee, and one member shall be the director of the department of health and senior services or his or her designee. Each member of the coroner standards and training commission shall have been at the time of his appointment a citizen of the United States and a resident of this state for a period of at least one year, and members who are coroners shall be qualified as established by chapter 58. No member of the commission, except the directors of state departments, serving a full term of three years may be reappointed to the coroner standards and training commission until at least one year after the expiration of his or her most recent term.

2. Three of the original members of the coroner standards and training commission shall be appointed for terms of one year, three of the original members shall be appointed for terms of two years, and three of the original members shall be appointed for terms of three years. Thereafter the terms of the members of the coroner standards and training commission, except the state department directors, shall be for three years or until their successors are appointed. The governor may remove any member of the coroner standards and training commission for misconduct or neglect of office. Any member of the coroner standards and training commission may be removed for cause by the governor but such member shall first be presented with a written statement of the reasons thereof, and shall have a hearing before the coroner standards and training commission if the member so requests.

3. Annually the commission shall elect one of the members as chairperson. The coroner standards and training commission shall meet at least twice each year as determined by the director of the department of health and senior services or his or her designee, the chairperson, or a majority of the members to perform its duties. A majority of the members of the coroner standards and training commission shall constitute a quorum.

4. No member of the coroner standards and training commission shall receive any compensation for the performance of his or her official duties.

5. The coroner standards and training commission shall establish training standards relating to the office of county coroner. These standards shall relate to the operation of the office, the legal responsibilities of the office, and the technical skills and knowledge required of the office. The commission shall establish the training standards by July 1, 2020. The Missouri Coroners' and Medical Examiners' Association shall begin providing such training by November 1, 2020.

6. Any rule or portion of a rule, as that term is defined in section 536.010, that is created under the authority delegated in this section shall become effective only if it complies with and is subject to all of the provisions of chapter 536 and, if applicable, section 536.028. This section and chapter 536 are nonseverable and if any of the powers vested with the general assembly pursuant to chapter 536 to review, to delay the effective date, or to disapprove and annul a rule are subsequently held unconstitutional, then the grant of rulemaking authority and any rule proposed or adopted after August 28, 2019, shall be invalid and void.

58.095. 1. The county coroner in any county, other than in a ~~[first classification chartered]~~ charter county, shall receive an annual salary computed on a basis as set forth in the following schedule. The provisions of this section shall not permit or require a reduction in the amount of compensation being paid for the office of coroner on January 1, 1997:

Assessed Valuation	Salary

3. The county coroner in any county, other than a ~~[first classification]~~ charter county, shall not, except upon two-thirds vote of all the members of the salary commission, receive an annual compensation in an amount less than the total compensation being received for the office of county coroner in the particular county for services rendered or performed on the date the salary commission votes.

4. For the term beginning in 1997, the compensation of the coroner, in counties in which the salary commission has not voted to pay one hundred percent of the maximum allowable salary, shall be a percentage of the maximum allowable salary established by this section. The percentage applied shall be the same percentage of the maximum allowable salary received or allowed, whichever is greater, to the presiding commissioner or sheriff, whichever is greater, of that county for the year beginning January 1, 1997. In those counties in which the salary commission has voted to pay one hundred percent of the maximum allowable salary, the compensation of the coroner shall be based on the maximum allowable salary in effect at each time a coroner's term of office commences following the vote to pay one hundred percent of the maximum allowable compensation. Subsequent compensation shall be determined as provided in section 50.333.

5. Effective January 1, 1997, the county coroner in any county, ~~[other than a county of the first classification with a charter form of government]~~ charter county, may, upon the approval of the county commission, receive additional compensation for any month during which investigations or other services are performed for three or more decedents in the same incident during such month. The additional compensation shall be an amount that when added to the regular compensation the sum shall equal the monthly compensation of the county sheriff.

58.208. 1. One dollar of the fee collected for any death certificate issued under section 193.265 shall be deposited into the Missouri state coroners' training fund established under subsection 2 of this section. Moneys in such fund shall be used by the Missouri Coroners' and Medical Examiners' Association:

(1) For in-state training, equipment, and necessary supplies; and

(2) To provide aid to training programs approved by the Missouri Coroners' and Medical Examiners' Association.

2. (1) There is hereby created in the state treasury the "Missouri State Coroners' Training Fund", which shall consist of moneys collected under subsection 1 of this section. The state treasurer shall be custodian of the fund. In accordance with sections 30.170 and 30.180, the state treasurer may approve disbursements. The fund shall be a dedicated fund and, upon appropriation, moneys in the fund shall be used solely for the administration of subsection 1 of this section.

(2) Notwithstanding the provisions of section 33.080 to the contrary, any moneys remaining in the fund over the amount of five hundred thousand dollars shall revert to the credit of the general revenue fund.

(3) The state treasurer shall invest moneys in the fund in the same manner as other funds are invested. Any interest and moneys earned on such investments shall be credited to the fund.

3. Local registrars may, during states of emergency or disaster, request reimbursement from the fund for copies of death certificates issued to individuals who are unable to afford the associated fees."; and

Further amend said bill, Page 6, Section 58.720, Line 87, by inserting immediately after said section and line the following:

"193.145. 1. A certificate of death for each death which occurs in this state shall be filed with the local registrar, or as otherwise directed by the state registrar, within five days after death and shall be registered if such certificate has been completed and filed pursuant to this section. All data providers in the death registration process, including, but not limited to, the state registrar, local registrars, the state medical examiner, county medical examiners, coroners, funeral directors or persons acting as such, embalmers, sheriffs, attending physicians and resident physicians, physician assistants, assistant physicians, advanced practice registered nurses, and the chief medical officers of licensed health care facilities, and other public or private institutions providing medical care, treatment, or confinement to persons, shall be required to use and utilize any electronic death registration system required and adopted under subsection 1 of section 193.265 within six months of the system being certified by the director of the department of health and senior services, or the director's designee, to be operational and available to all data providers in the death registration process. However, should the person or entity that certifies the cause of death not be part of, or does not use, the electronic death registration system, the funeral director or person acting as such may enter the required personal data into the electronic death registration system and then complete the filing by presenting the signed cause of death certification to the local registrar, in which case the local registrar shall issue death certificates as set out in subsection 2 of section 193.265. Nothing in this section shall prevent the state registrar from adopting pilot programs or voluntary electronic death registration programs until such time as the system can be certified; however, no such pilot or voluntary electronic death registration program shall prevent the filing of a death certificate with the local registrar or the ability to obtain certified copies of death certificates under subsection 2 of section 193.265 until six months after such certification that the system is operational.

2. If the place of death is unknown but the dead body is found in this state, the certificate of death shall be completed and filed pursuant to the provisions of this section. The place where the body is found shall be shown as the place of death. The date of death shall be the date on which the remains were found.

3. When death occurs in a moving conveyance in the United States and the body is first removed from the conveyance in this state, the death shall be registered in this state and the place where the body is first removed shall be considered the place of death. When a death occurs on a moving conveyance while in international waters or air space or in a foreign country or its air space and the body is first removed from the conveyance in this state, the death shall be registered in this state but the certificate shall show the actual place of death if such place may be determined.

4. The funeral director or person in charge of final disposition of the dead body shall file the certificate of death. The funeral director or person in charge of the final disposition of the dead body shall obtain or verify and enter into the electronic death registration system:

In the absence of the physician, physician assistant, assistant physician, advanced practice registered nurse or with the physician's, physician assistant's, assistant physician's, or advanced practice registered nurse's approval the certificate may be completed and attested to its accuracy either by signature or an approved electronic process by the physician's associate physician, the chief medical officer of the institution in which death occurred, or the physician who performed an autopsy upon the decedent, provided such individual has access to the medical history of the case, views the deceased at or after death and death is due to natural causes. The person authorized to complete the medical certification may, in writing, designate any other person to enter the medical certification information into the electronic death registration system if the person authorized to complete the medical certificate has physically or by electronic process signed a statement stating the cause of death. Any persons completing the medical certification or entering data into the electronic death registration system shall be immune from civil liability for such certification completion, data entry, or determination of the cause of death, absent gross negligence or willful misconduct. The state registrar may approve alternate methods of obtaining and processing the medical certification and filing the death certificate. If the death is determined to be of a natural cause, the medical examiner or coroner or local registrar shall refer the certificate of death to the attending physician, physician assistant, assistant physician, or advanced practice registered nurse for such certification. If the attending physician, physician assistant, assistant physician, or advanced practice registered nurse refuses or is otherwise unavailable, the medical examiner or coroner or local registrar shall attest to the accuracy of the certificate of death either by signature or an approved electronic process within thirty-six hours.

7. 8. If the cause of death cannot be determined within seventy-two hours after death, the attending medical examiner, coroner, attending physician, physician assistant, assistant physician, advanced practice registered nurse, or local registrar shall give the funeral director, or person in charge of final disposition of the dead body, notice of the reason for the delay, and final disposition of the body shall not be made until authorized by the medical examiner, coroner, attending physician, physician assistant, assistant physician, advanced practice registered nurse, or local registrar.

9. Such a death certificate shall be marked "Presumptive", show on its face the date of registration, and identify the court and the date of decree.

10. (1) The department of health and senior services shall notify all physicians, physician assistants, assistant physicians, and advanced practice registered nurses licensed under chapters 334 and 335 of the requirements regarding the use of the electronic vital records system provided for in this section.

(2) On or before August 30, 2015, the department of health and senior services, division of community and public health shall create a working group comprised of representation from the Missouri electronic vital records system users and recipients of death certificates used for professional purposes to evaluate the Missouri electronic vital records system, develop recommendations to improve the efficiency and usability of the system, and to report such findings and recommendations to the general assembly no later than January 1, 2016.

11. Notwithstanding any provision of law, if a coroner or deputy coroner is not current with or is without the approved training required under chapter 58, the department of health and senior services shall prohibit such coroner from attesting to the accuracy of a certificate of death. No person elected or appointed to an office of coroner can assume such elected office until the training requirements, as established by the coroner standards and training commission under the provisions of chapter 58, have been completed and a certificate of completion has been issued. In the event a coroner cannot fulfill his or her duties or is no longer qualified to attest to the accuracy of a death certificate, the sheriff of the county shall appoint a medical professional to attest death certificates until such time as the coroner can resume his or her duties or another coroner is appointed or elected to the office.

The money deposited in the public health services fund under this section shall be deposited in a separate account in the fund, and moneys in such account, upon appropriation, shall be used to automate and improve the state vital records system, and develop and maintain an electronic birth and death registration system. JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

TWENTY-FOURTH DAY, WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 20, 2019

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Haahr in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Monsignor Robert A. Kurwicki, Chaplain.

This is the day which the Lord has made; let us rejoice and be glad in it. (Psalm 118:24)

Almighty and Everlasting God, as we bow our heads in prayer, do breathe Your eternal spirit upon us, fill us with life anew, that we may love what You love and do what You would have us do.

While we pray for a better tomorrow, we especially pray for today, that this day may be so well lived that every yesterday may be a dream of happiness and every tomorrow be a vision of hope.

Therefore, keep us, O God, free from every temptation to greed, arrogance or power and may we walk humbly with You.

And the House says, "Amen!"

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Aiden Harr and Ainsley Harr.

The Journal of the twenty-third day was approved as printed by the following vote:

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 100th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

TWENTY-FIFTH DAY, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 21, 2019

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Haahr in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Monsignor Robert A. Kurwicki, Chaplain.

The law of God is in his heart: None of his steps shall slide. (Psalm 37:31)

Almighty God, we thank You for the open door of a new day which makes available to us once again the steps that lead to a better and a brighter life. Guide us, we pray, that in this generation we may find the way to good will toward all, freedom among all, justice between all and peace in the hearts of all.

Bless every lover of liberty, every effort for the growth of free institutions, and every endeavor to make democracy work in our state. This is our task and our mission. May we prove ourselves worthy of it and play our full part in climbing the steps toward this glorious achievement.

And the House says, "Amen!"

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the twenty-fourth day was approved as printed by the following vote:

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 100th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

TWENTY-SIXTH DAY, MONDAY, FEBRUARY 25, 2019

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Pro Tem Wiemann in the Chair.

Prayer by Representative Steve Lynch.

I invite you to bow and pray with me.

First of all, Father, we offer You our love, our praise and our gratitude. You are truly amazing.

Father God, we acknowledge that it's by Your authority that we are placed in this House body to serve.

We also acknowledge that You have created each member of this body as unique, some a little more unique than others.

Father, we see Your genius in showing us that our differences and diversity are not weakness, but as we deal with issues from different places and experiences of each of our lives, we will arrive at better and more meaningful solutions and ideas.

Just as You created our body that's made up of many members, like arms, legs, eyes, and ears, that look different, perform different tasks, and have different responsibilities, yet they are one in purpose and service to the whole body.

Which means that no member is greater or more important than the other, but all are valuable to the whole and vital in fulfilling our mission to our constituents, districts, state, nation and to You our God.

To this the House says, "Amen!"

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the twenty-fifth day was approved as printed by the following vote:

TWENTY-SEVENTH DAY, TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 26, 2019

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Haahr in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Monsignor Robert A. Kurwicki, Chaplain.

Lift up your heads, O you gates; and be you lifted up, you everlasting doors; and the King of Glory shall come in.
(Psalm 24:7)

As we bow our heads, our God, may we also open the doors of our hearts, that the glory of Your spirit may come in and dwell with us, helping us to render a true service to You and a faithful service to our fellow citizens. Working under the banner of truth, justice, and love, may we lead our people beyond the limits of differences and divisions to the heights of unity and peace. For Yours is the kingdom, the power, and the glory forever.

And the House says, "Amen!"

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the twenty-sixth day was approved as printed by the following vote:

(3) The transfer of the credit union to another state or country shall be subject to the approval of the director of the division of credit unions.

(4) After the application and approval, there shall be filed with the director of the division of credit unions a written certificate duly authenticated by the official of another state or country in charge of issuing credit union charters stating that upon cancellation of the charter of the Missouri credit union it will be organized as a credit union in the state or country with all of the rights of its members unimpaired.

(5) When the foregoing provisions are complied with the director of the division of credit unions may issue a certificate of cancellation of the credit union charter, a copy of which shall be filed with the secretary of state.";

PERFECTION OF HOUSE BILLS

HB 126, relating to abortion, was taken up by Representative Schroer.

On motion of Representative Schroer, the title of HB 126 was agreed to.

Representative Coleman (97) offered House Amendment No. 1.

House Amendment No. 1

AMEND House Bill No. 126, Page 1, Section A, Line 3, by inserting after said section and line the following:

"188.020. No person shall perform or induce an abortion except a physician. Except in cases of medical emergency, no physician shall perform or induce an abortion upon a woman presumed to be pregnant unless such physician first determines whether there is a detectable heartbeat or brain function of the unborn child. The method of determining the presence of a heartbeat shall be consistent with such physician's good faith understanding of standard medical practice. Such physician shall record in the woman's medical record the estimated gestational age of the unborn child if she is found to be pregnant, the method used to test for the presence or absence of a heartbeat, or brain function the date and time of the test, and the results of the test."; and

Further amend said bill and page, Section 188.026, Lines 1-3, by deleting all of said lines and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

188.026. 1. This section shall be known and may be cited as the "Missouri Stands for the Unborn Act".
2. In Roe v. Wade, 410 U.S. 113 (1973), certain information about the development of the unborn child, human pregnancy, and the effects of abortion was either not part of the record or was not available at the time. Since 1973, advances in medical and scientific technology have greatly expanded our knowledge of prenatal life and the effects of abortion on women. The general assembly of this state finds that:

- (1) During the fifth week of gestational age an unborn child's heart starts beating;
- (2) Depending on the ultrasound equipment being used, the unborn child's heartbeat can be visually detected as early as six to eight weeks gestational age;
- (3) Confirmation of pregnancy can be indicated through the detection of the unborn child's heartbeat, while the absence of the unborn child's heartbeat can be an indicator of the death of the unborn child if the child has reached that point of development;
- (4) The unborn child's heartbeat can be consistently made audible by about eight weeks gestational age, through the use of a handheld Doppler fetal heart rate device;
- (5) The detection of a heartbeat in an unborn child is a key indicator that he or she will likely reach viability and live birth;
- (6) Heart rate monitoring during pregnancy and labor is used to measure the heart rate and rhythm of the unborn child, at an average rate between 110 and 160 beats per minute, and helps determine the health of the unborn child;
- (7) The placenta begins developing during the early first trimester of pregnancy, and later in the first trimester and throughout the second and third trimesters of pregnancy performs a respiratory function making oxygen supply to and carbon dioxide removal from the unborn child possible;
- (8) By the fifth week of gestation, the development of the brain of the unborn child is underway; brainwaves have been measured and recorded during the eighth week of gestation;
- (9) It has been established under section 1.205 that the life of each human being begins at conception. Missouri law also identifies the presence of circulation, respiration and brain function and brain function as indicia of life under section 194.005 (legal definition of death), as the presence of circulation, respiration, and brain function indicates that such person is not legally dead, but is legally alive;
- (10) Vital Statistics Annual Report includes the annual statistical report on abortions performed for that year as required by Section 188.052.5, RSMo. Missouri Vital Statistics Annual Reports from 2017 include annual abortion statistics; sixty-five abortions took place after twenty-one weeks gestation (as defined by last menstrual date); fifty-four abortions took place during the twentieth week; one hundred ninety three abortions took place between seventeen and nineteen weeks gestation; one hundred eighty two abortions took place between thirteen and fourteen weeks gestation; four hundred ninety two abortions took place between weeks eleven and twelve gestation; nine hundred and fifty seven abortions took place between weeks nine and ten gestation; one thousand six hundred and seventy three abortions took place prior to week nine of gestation;
- (11) In Webster v. Reproductive Health Services, 492 U.S. 490 (1989), the Supreme Court noted in upholding a Missouri statute, "that there may be a 4-week error in estimating gestational age". Thus, an unborn child thought to be fourteen weeks gestational age might in fact be eighteen weeks gestational age, when the unborn child is considerably more developed;
- (12) A motor response in the unborn child can first be seen as a whole-body movement away from a stimulus and observed on ultrasound from as early as seven and a half weeks gestational age. The perioral area is the first part of the unborn child's body to respond to touch at about eight weeks gestational age, but by fourteen weeks gestational age, most of the unborn child's body is responsive to touch;
- (13) Peripheral cutaneous sensory receptors, the receptors that feel pain, develop early in the unborn child. They appear in the perioral cutaneous area at around seven to eight weeks gestational age, and later in the palmar regions at ten to ten and a half weeks gestational age, the abdominal wall at fifteen weeks gestational age, and then over all of the unborn child's body at sixteen weeks gestational age;
- (14) Substance P, a peptide that functions as a neurotransmitter, especially in the transmission of pain, is present in the dorsal horn of the spinal cord of the unborn child at eight to ten weeks gestational age. Enkephalins, peptides that play a role in neurotransmission and pain modulation, are present in the dorsal horn of the spinal cord of the unborn child at twelve to fourteen weeks gestational age;
- (15) For most women, by fourteen weeks gestational age their chance of miscarriage is less than one percent when a strong heartbeat is detected in the unborn child;
- (16) When intrauterine needling is performed on an unborn child at sixteen weeks gestational age and older, the reaction to this invasive stimulus is blood flow redistribution to the brain. Increased blood flow to the brain is the same type of stress response seen in a born child and an adult;
- (17) From sixteen weeks gestational age, pain transmission from a peripheral receptor to the cortex is possible in the unborn child;

(18) Physicians are providing anesthesia during in utero treatment of unborn children as young as sixteen weeks gestational age, such as to correct fetal urinary tract obstruction. Anesthesia is administered by ultrasound-guided injection into the arm or leg of the unborn child;

(19) A leading textbook on prenatal development of the human brain states: "It may be concluded that, although nociperception (the actual perception of pain) awaits the appearance of consciousness, nociception (the experience of pain) is present some time before birth. In the absence of disproof, it is merely prudent to assume that pain can be experienced even early in prenatal life (Dr. J. Wisser, Zürich): the fetus should be given the benefit of the doubt." O'Raahilly, Ronan & Müller, Fabiola. (2005). The Embryonic Human Brain: An Atlas of Developmental Stages, Third Edition;

(20) At around fourteen or fifteen weeks gestational age and later, the predominant abortion method in Missouri is dilation and evacuation (D & E). The D & E abortion method includes the dismemberment, disarticulation, and exsanguination of the unborn child, causing the unborn child's death;

(21) The D & E abortion method was found in Gonzales v. Carhart, 550 U.S. 124 (2007) to be "in some respects as brutal, if not more, than the intact D & E" partial birth abortion method banned by Congress and upheld as facially constitutional by the Supreme Court, even though the federal ban was applicable both before and after viability and had no exception for the health of the mother;

(22) Missouri's ban on the partial birth abortion method, section 565.300, is in effect because of Gonzales v. Carhart and the Supreme Court's subsequent decision in Nixon v. Reproductive Health Services of Planned Parenthood of the St. Louis Region, Inc., 550 U.S. 901 (2007) to vacate and remand to the appeals court the prior invalidation of section 565.300. Since section 565.300, like the congressional ban on partial birth abortion, is applicable both before and after viability, there is ample precedent for the general assembly to constitutionally prohibit the brutal D & E abortion method at fourteen weeks gestational age and later, even before the unborn child is viable, with a medical emergency exception;

(23) In Roper v. Simmons, 543 U.S. 551 (2005), the Supreme Court determined that "evolving standards of decency" dictated that a Missouri statute allowing the death penalty for a conviction of murder in the first degree of a person under eighteen years of age when the crime was committed, was unconstitutional under the Eighth and Fourteenth Amendments to the United States Constitution, in that it violated the prohibition against "cruel and unusual punishments".

(24) Evolving standards of decency dictate that Missouri should prohibit the brutal and painful D & E, Laminaria, and curettage abortion method at fourteen weeks gestational age and later, with a medical emergency exception, because if a comparable method of killing was used on:

(a) A person convicted of murder in the first degree, it would be cruel and unusual punishment;
and

(b) An animal, it would be unlawful under state law because it would not be a humane method, humane euthanasia, or humane killing of certain animals under chapters 273 and 578, RSMo;

(25) In Roper v. Simmons, the Court also found that "[i]t is proper that we acknowledge the overwhelming weight of international opinion against the juvenile death penalty ... The opinion of the world community, while not controlling our outcome, does provide respected and significant confirmation for our own conclusions." In its opinion, the Court was instructed by "international covenants prohibiting the juvenile death penalty", such as the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights, 999 U.N.T.S. 171;

(26) The opinion of the world community, reflected in the laws of the United Nation's 193-member states and six other entities, is that in most countries, most abortions are prohibited at fourteen weeks gestational age and later;

(27) The opinion of the world community is also shared by most Americans, based on polling since 1996, that most abortions in the second and third trimesters of pregnancy should not be legal;

(28) Abortion procedures performed later in pregnancy have a higher medical risk for women. Compared to an abortion at eight weeks gestational age or earlier, the relative risk increases exponentially at higher gestational ages. The relative risk of death for a pregnant woman who had an abortion performed or induced upon her at:

(a) Thirteen to fifteen weeks gestational age is almost fifteen times higher than an abortion at eight weeks gestational age or earlier;

(b) Sixteen to twenty weeks gestational age is almost thirty times higher than an abortion at eight weeks gestational age or earlier;

(c) Twenty-one weeks gestational age or later is more than seventy-five times higher than an abortion at eight weeks gestational age or earlier;

(29) In addition to short-term risks from abortion, some studies find that the long-term physical and psychological consequences of abortion for women include, but are not limited to, an increased risk of preterm birth, low birthweight babies, and placenta previa in subsequent pregnancies, as well as serious behavioral health issues. These risks increase as abortion is performed or induced at later gestational ages. These consequences of abortion have a detrimental effect on not only women, their children, and their families, but also on an already-burdened health care system, taxpayers, and the workforce;

3. The state of Missouri is bound by Article VI, clause 2 of the Constitution of the United States that "all treaties made, or which shall be made, under the authority of the United States, shall be the supreme law of the land". One such treaty is the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights, 999 U.N.T.S. 171, (entered into force March 23, 1976, adopted by the United States September 8, 1992). In ratifying the Covenant, the United States declared that while the provisions of Articles 1 through 27 of the Covenant are not self-executing, the United States' understanding is that state governments share responsibility with the federal government in implementing the Covenant.

4. Article 6, paragraph 1, U.N.T.S. at 174, of the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights states: "Every human being has the inherent right to life. This right shall be protected by law. No one shall be arbitrarily deprived of his life." The state of Missouri takes seriously its obligation to comply with the Covenant and to implement this paragraph as it relates to: the inherent right to life of unborn human beings; protecting the rights of unborn human beings by law; and ensuring that such unborn human beings are not arbitrarily deprived of life. The state of Missouri hereby implements Article 6, paragraph 1 of the Covenant by the regulation of abortion, as provided herein.

5. A large percentage of women who have an abortion performed or induced upon them in Missouri each year are at less than eight weeks gestational age. A prohibition on performing or inducing an abortion at eight weeks gestational age and later, with a medical emergency exception, does not amount to a substantial obstacle to a large fraction of women for whom the prohibition is relevant, which is pregnant women in Missouri who are seeking an abortion while not experiencing a medical emergency; and

(1) The burden that a prohibition on performing or inducing an abortion at eight weeks gestational age and later, with a medical emergency exception, might impose on abortion access, is outweighed by the benefits conferred on, including but not limited to:

- (a) Women more advanced in pregnancy who are at greater risk of harm from abortion;
- (b) Unborn children at later stages of development;
- (c) The medical profession, by preserving its integrity and fulfilling its commitment to do no harm;

and

(d) Society, by fostering respect for human life, born and unborn, at all stages of development, and by lessening societal tolerance of violence against innocent human life.

6. The state of Missouri has interests that include, but are not limited to:

(1) Protecting unborn children throughout pregnancy, and preserving and promoting their lives from conception to birth;

(2) Encouraging childbirth over abortion;

(3) Ensuring respect for all human life from conception to natural death;

(4) Safeguarding an unborn child who is eight weeks gestational age or older from serious harm of pain by an abortion method which would cause the unborn child to experience pain while she or he was being killed;

(5) Preserving the integrity of the medical profession and regulating and restricting practices that might cause the medical profession or society as a whole to become insensitive, even disdainful, to life. This includes regulating and restricting abortion methods that are not only brutal and painful, but if allowed to continue, will further coarsen society to the humanity of not only unborn children, but all vulnerable and innocent human life, making it increasingly difficult to protect such life;

(6) Reducing the risks of harm to pregnant women who obtain abortions later in pregnancy;

(7) Avoiding burdens on the health care system, taxpayers, and the workforce because of increased preterm births, low birthweight babies, compromised pregnancies, extended postpartum recoveries, and behavioral health problems caused by the long-term effects of abortions performed or induced later in pregnancy; and

(8) Notwithstanding any other provision of law to the contrary, no abortion shall be performed or induced upon a woman at eight weeks gestational age or later, such gestational age as the unborn child has detectable heart beat or measurable brain function except in cases of medical emergency. Any person who knowingly performs or induces an abortion of an unborn child in violation of this subsection shall be guilty of a class B felony, as well as subject to suspension or revocation of his or her professional license by his or her professional licensing board. A woman upon whom an abortion is performed or induced in violation of this subsection shall not be prosecuted for a conspiracy to violate the provisions of this subsection.

7. It shall be an affirmative defense for any person alleged to have violated the provisions of subsection 6 of this section that the person performed or induced an abortion because of a medical emergency. The defendant shall have the burden of persuasion that the defense is more probably true than not.

8. If any one or more provisions, sections, subsections, sentences, clauses, phrases, or words of this section or the application thereof to any person, circumstance, or period of gestational age is found to be unconstitutional or invalid by a court of competent jurisdiction, the same is hereby declared to be severable and the balance of the section shall remain effective notwithstanding such unconstitutionality or invalidity. The general assembly hereby declares that it would have passed this section, and each provision, section, subsection, sentence, clause, phrase, or word thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more provisions, sections, subsections, sentences, clauses, phrases, or words of the section, or the application of the section to any person, circumstance, or period of gestational age, would be declared unconstitutional or invalid. If the prohibition on performing or inducing an abortion at eight weeks gestational age or later is declared unconstitutional or invalid, then the prohibition on performing or inducing an abortion shall be at fourteen weeks gestational age or later.

9. A large majority, more than eight-seven percent, of women who have an abortion performed or induced upon them in Missouri each year are at less than fourteen weeks gestational age. A prohibition on performing or inducing an abortion at fourteen weeks gestational age and later, with a medical emergency exception, does not amount to a substantial obstacle to a large fraction of women for whom the prohibition is relevant, which is pregnant women in Missouri who are seeking an abortion while not experiencing a medical emergency; and

(1) The burden that a prohibition on performing or inducing an abortion at fourteen weeks gestational age and later, with a medical emergency exception, might impose on abortion access, is outweighed by the benefits conferred on, including but not limited to:

- (a) Women more advanced in pregnancy who are at greater risk of harm from abortion;
- (b) Unborn children at later stages of development;
- (c) The medical profession, by preserving its integrity and fulfilling its commitment to do no harm;

and

(d) Society, by fostering respect for human life, born and unborn, at all stages of development, and by lessening societal tolerance of violence against innocent human life.

10. The state of Missouri has interests that include, but are not limited to:

(1) Protecting unborn children throughout pregnancy, and preserving and promoting their lives from conception to birth;

(2) Encouraging childbirth over abortion;

(3) Ensuring respect for all human life from conception to natural death;

(4) Safeguarding an unborn child who is fourteen weeks gestational age or older from serious harm of pain by an abortion method which would cause the unborn child to experience pain while she or he was being killed;

(5) Preserving the integrity of the medical profession and regulating and restricting practices that might cause the medical profession or society as a whole to become insensitive, even disdainful, to life. This includes regulating and restricting abortion methods that are not only brutal and painful, but if allowed to continue, will further coarsen society to the humanity of not only unborn children, but all vulnerable and innocent human life, making it increasingly difficult to protect such life;

(6) Reducing the risks of harm to pregnant women who obtain abortions later in pregnancy; and

(7) Avoiding burdens on the health care system, taxpayers, and the workforce because of increased preterm births, low birthweight babies, compromised pregnancies, extended postpartum recoveries, and behavioral health problems caused by the long-term effects of abortions performed or induced later in pregnancy.

11. If any one or more provisions, sections, subsections, sentences, clauses, phrases, or words of this section or the application thereof to any person, circumstance, or period of gestational age is found to be unconstitutional or invalid by a court of competent jurisdiction, the same is hereby declared to be severable and the balance of the section shall remain effective notwithstanding such unconstitutionality or invalidity.

The general assembly hereby declares that it would have passed this section, and each provision, section, subsection, sentence, clause, phrase, or word thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more provisions, sections, subsections, sentences, clauses, phrases, or words of the section, or the application of the section to any person, circumstance, or period of gestational age, would be declared unconstitutional or invalid. If the prohibition on performing or inducing an abortion at fourteen weeks gestational age or later is declared unconstitutional or invalid, then the prohibition on performing or inducing an abortion shall be at eighteen weeks gestational age or later; then section 188.375 shall be in effect."; and

Further amend said bill, page, and section by renumbering subsequent subsections accordingly; and

"16. Further amend said bill and page, Section 188.027, Line 1, by deleting the words "the case" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "~~the case~~ cases"; and

Further amend said bill, Pages 8-9, Section 188.052, Lines 1-21, by deleting all of said section and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"188.052. 1. An individual abortion report for each abortion performed or induced upon a woman shall be completed by ~~her attending~~ the physician who performed or induced the abortion. Abortion reports shall include, but not be limited to, the estimated gestational age of the unborn child, the method used to test for the presence of a heartbeat or brain function, the date and time of the test, and the results of the test performed prior to the abortion under section 188.020.

2. An individual complication report for any post-abortion care performed upon a woman shall be completed by the physician providing such post-abortion care. This report shall include:

(1) The date of the abortion;

(2) The name and address of the abortion facility or hospital where the abortion was performed or induced;

(3) The nature of the abortion complication diagnosed or treated.

3. House Amendment No. 1

AMEND House Amendment No. 1 to House Bill No. 126, Page 8, Line 2, by deleting said line and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"performed or induced in the previous calendar year.

188.375. 1. This section shall be known and may be cited as the "Late-Term Pain-Capable Unborn Child Protection Act".

2. As used in this section, the phrase "late-term pain-capable unborn child" shall mean an unborn child at twenty weeks since the first day of the woman's last menstrual period, at which point an unborn child is capable of feeling pain.

3. Notwithstanding any other provision of law to the contrary, no abortion shall be performed or induced upon a woman carrying a late-term pain-capable unborn child, except in cases of medical emergency. Any person who knowingly performs or induces an abortion of a late-term pain-capable unborn child in violation of this subsection shall be guilty of a class B felony, as well as subject to suspension or revocation of his or her professional license by his or her professional licensing board. A woman upon whom an abortion is performed or induced in violation of this subsection shall not be prosecuted for a conspiracy to violate the provisions of this subsection.

4. It shall be an affirmative defense for any person alleged to have violated the provisions of subsection 3 of this section that the person performed or induced an abortion because of a medical emergency. The defendant shall have the burden of persuasion that the defense is more probably true than not.

5. When in cases of medical emergency a physician performs or induces an abortion upon a woman carrying a late-term pain-capable unborn child, the physician shall utilize the available method or technique of abortion most likely to preserve the life or health of the unborn child. In cases where the method or technique of abortion most likely to preserve the life or health of the unborn child would present a greater risk to the life or health of the woman than another legally permitted and available method or technique, the physician may utilize such other method or technique. In all cases where the physician performs or induces an abortion upon a woman carrying a late-term pain-capable unborn child, the physician shall certify in writing the available method or techniques considered and the reasons for choosing the method or technique employed.

6. When in cases of medical emergency a physician performs or induces an abortion upon a woman carrying a late-term pain-capable unborn child, there shall be in attendance a physician other than the physician performing or inducing the abortion who shall take control of and provide immediate medical care for a child born as a result of the abortion.

7. Any physician who knowingly violates any of the provisions of subsections 5 or 6 shall be guilty of a class D felony, as well as subject to suspension or revocation of his or her professional license by his or her professional licensing board. A woman upon whom an abortion is performed or induced in violation of subsections 5 or 6 shall not be prosecuted for a conspiracy to violate the provisions of those subsections."; and"; and

The previous sentence shall not apply to interest on obligations of the state of Missouri or any of its political subdivisions or authorities and shall not apply to the interest described in subdivision (1) of subsection 3 of this section. The amount added pursuant to this subdivision shall be reduced by the amounts applicable to such interest that would have been deductible in computing the taxable income of the taxpayer except only for the application of Section 265 of the Internal Revenue Code. The reduction shall only be made if it is at least five hundred dollars;

Any amount of net operating loss taken against federal taxable income but disallowed for Missouri income tax purposes pursuant to this subdivision after June 18, 2002, may be carried forward and taken against any income on the Missouri income tax return for a period of not more than twenty years from the year of the initial loss; and

(5) For nonresident individuals in all taxable years ending on or after December 31, 2006, the amount of any property taxes paid to another state or a political subdivision of another state for which a deduction was allowed on such nonresident's federal return in the taxable year unless such state, political subdivision of a state, or the District of Columbia allows a subtraction from income for property taxes paid to this state for purposes of calculating income for the income tax for such state, political subdivision of a state, or the District of Columbia.

3. There shall be subtracted from the taxpayer's federal adjusted gross income the following amounts to the extent included in federal adjusted gross income:

7. (1) As used in this subsection, "qualified health insurance premium" means the amount paid during the tax year by such taxpayer for any insurance policy primarily providing health care coverage for the taxpayer, the taxpayer's spouse, or the taxpayer's dependents.

(2) In addition to the subtractions in subsection 3 of this section, one hundred percent of the amount of qualified health insurance premiums shall be subtracted from the taxpayer's federal adjusted gross income to the extent the amount paid for such premiums is included in federal taxable income. 285.410. 1. (1) An employee shall establish eligibility for each uninterrupted family or medical care leave period by filing a first claim for benefits, supported by the certificate of a treating physician or health care provider that establishes the serious health condition of the family member that warrants the care of the employee or that establishes the serious health condition of the employee. For subsequent periods of uninterrupted leave after the period covered by the initial certificate or any preceding continued claim, a claimant shall file a continued claim for those benefits, supported by the certificate of a treating physician or health care provider.

The certificate shall contain all of the following:

3. The department shall develop a certificate form that is separate and distinct from the certificate required in subsection 1 of this section for an employee taking leave to bond with a minor child within the first year of the child's birth or placement in connection with foster care or adoption.

Any cost incurred for procuring additional medical evidence shall be paid by the employee. The department may require that the additional evidence include any or all of the following:

- (2) Identification of symptoms;

285.415. Employees shall provide at least thirty days' advance notice to their employer before family and medical leave is to begin if the need for the leave is foreseeable. If thirty days' notice is not practicable, notice shall be given to the employer as soon as practicable.

285.420. 1. Except as provided in subsection 4 of this section, an employee may file a notice of appeal from any determination of eligibility for benefits made by the department, by mail or in person, within thirty days after the date on which a copy of the department's decision was received by the employee. Upon receipt of the notice of appeal, the department shall request the assignment of an administrative law judge in accordance with chapter 536 to conduct a hearing and issue a proposed decision and order. The hearing shall be conducted in accordance with chapter 536.

2. The administrative law judge's proposed decision and order shall be final and not subject to further appeal unless, within thirty days after the decision is served on the interested parties, a party files a petition for judicial review as provided in chapter 536.

3. A determination of the amount of benefits payable under sections 285.400 to 285.440 shall not serve as a basis for appeal under this section. However, the determination shall be subject to request by the employee on family or medical leave for redetermination by the department at any time within one year from the date of delivery or mailing of such determination, or any redetermination thereof. A redetermination shall be furnished to the individual in writing.

4. A denial of benefits shall become final in the absence of timely appeal therefrom. The department may redetermine a denial of benefits at any time within one year from delivery or mailing of such denial to correct an error in identity, omission of fact, or misapplication of law with respect to the facts.

5. A determination of allowance of benefits shall become final in the absence of timely appeal therefrom. The department may redetermine such allowance at any time within two years following the application year in which such allowance was made in order to recover any benefits for which recovery is provided under this section.

6. A redetermination of benefits may be made at any time for any of the following reasons:

- (1) To conform to a final court decision applicable to either an initial determination or a determination of denial or allowance of benefits;
- (2) In the event of a back pay award or settlement affecting the allowance of benefits; or
- (3) In the case of misrepresentation or willful failure to report a material fact.

Written notice of any such redetermination shall be promptly given by mail or delivered to such interested parties as were notified of the initial determination of denial or allowance of benefits and any new interested party or parties who, under such rule as the department may adopt, would be an interested party.

285.425. 1. It shall be unlawful for any person to discharge or in any other manner discriminate against an employee because the employee has made a claim for, indicated an intent to make a claim for, or received Missouri earned family and medical leave benefits.

2. (1) Any person who violates the provisions of subsection 1 of this section shall be liable to any employee of such person who is affected by the violation for such equitable relief as may be appropriate including employment, reinstatement, or promotion and for damages equal to the sum of:

(b) The interest on the amount described in paragraph (a) of this subdivision, such interest rate being equal to the market rate as determined by the director of the division of finance under section 408.030; and

(c) An additional amount as liquidated damages equal to the sum of the amount described in paragraph (a) of this subdivision and the interest described in paragraph (b) of this subdivision, except that if a person who has violated subsection 1 of this section proves to the satisfaction of the court that the act or omission was in good faith and that the person had reasonable grounds for believing that the act or omission was not a violation, such court may reduce the amount of such liquidated damages.

(2) The court may additionally require reasonable attorney's fees, expert witness fees, and other courts costs to be paid by a defendant.

3. An action to recover the relief prescribed in subsection 2 of this section may be maintained against any person in any court of competent jurisdiction by the employee affected.

4. The department may bring an action seeking relief on behalf of an employee under this section. The right to bring an action provided under subsection 3 of this section shall terminate upon the filing of a complaint by the department. If any damages are recovered in such action, such damages shall be held in a special deposit account and paid directly to each employee affected.

5. An action may be brought under this section no later than three years after the date of the alleged violation for which the action is brought. An action brought under this section shall be considered to be commenced on the date when the complaint is filed.

285.430. 1. Outreach information shall easily explain eligibility requirements, the claims process, weekly benefit amounts, maximum benefits payable, notice and medical certification requirements, reinstatement and nondiscrimination rights, confidentiality, and the relationship between employment protection, leave from employment, wage replacement benefits, and other laws, collective bargaining agreements, and employer policies.

House Amendment No. 4

AMEND House Bill No. 126, Page 8, Section 188.027, Line 215, by adding immediately after said line, the following:

"188.028. 1. Except in the case of a medical emergency, no person shall knowingly perform or induce an abortion upon a pregnant woman under the age of eighteen years unless:

(1) The attending physician has secured the informed written consent of the minor and one parent or guardian, and the consenting parent or guardian of the minor has notified any other custodial parent or guardian in writing prior to the securing of the informed written consent of the minor and one parent or guardian. For purposes of this subdivision, "custodial parent" means any parent of a minor in a family in which the parents have not separated or dissolved their marriage, or any parent of a minor who has been awarded joint legal custody or joint physical custody of such minor by a court of competent jurisdiction. Notice shall not be required for any parent or guardian:

(a) Who has been found guilty of any offense in violation of chapter 565, relating to offenses against the person; chapter 566, relating to sexual offenses; chapter 567, relating to prostitution; chapter 568, relating to offenses against the family; or chapter 573, related to pornography and related offenses, if a child was a victim;

(b) Who has been found guilty of any offense in any other state or foreign country, or under federal, tribal, or military jurisdiction if a child was a victim, which would be a violation of chapter 565, 566, 567, 568, or 573 if committed in this state;

(c) Who is listed on the sexual offender registry under sections 589.400 to 589.425;

(d) Against whom an order of protection has been issued, including a foreign order of protection given full faith and credit in this state under section 455.067;

(e) Whose custodial, parental, or guardianship rights have been terminated by a court of competent jurisdiction; or

(f) Whose whereabouts are unknown after reasonable inquiry, who is a fugitive from justice, who is habitually in an intoxicated or drugged condition, or who has been declared mentally incompetent or incapacitated by a court of competent jurisdiction; ~~or~~

(2) The minor is emancipated and the attending physician has received the informed written consent of the minor; ~~or~~

(3) The minor has been granted the right to self-consent to the abortion by court order pursuant to subsection 2 of this section, and the attending physician has received the informed written consent of the minor; or

(4) The minor has been granted consent to the abortion by court order, and the court has given its informed written consent in accordance with subsection 2 of this section, and the minor is having the abortion willingly, in compliance with subsection 3 of this section.

2. The right of a minor to self-consent to an abortion under subdivision (3) of subsection 1 of this section or court consent under subdivision (4) of subsection 1 of this section may be granted by a court pursuant to the following procedures:

(1) The minor or next friend shall make an application to the juvenile court which shall assist the minor or next friend in preparing the petition and notices required pursuant to this section. The minor or the next friend of the minor shall thereafter file a petition setting forth the initials of the minor; the age of the minor; the names and addresses of each parent, guardian, or, if the minor's parents are deceased and no guardian has been appointed, any other person standing in loco parentis of the minor; that the minor has been fully informed of the risks and consequences of the abortion; that the minor is of sound mind and has sufficient intellectual capacity to consent to the abortion; that, if the court does not grant the minor majority rights for the purpose of consent to the abortion, the court should find that the abortion is in the best interest of the minor and give judicial consent to the abortion; that the court should appoint a guardian ad litem of the child; and if the minor does not have private counsel, that the court should appoint counsel. The petition shall be signed by the minor or the next friend;

(2) A hearing on the merits of the petition, to be held on the record, shall be held as soon as possible within five days of the filing of the petition. If any party is unable to afford counsel, the court shall appoint counsel at least twenty-four hours before the time of the hearing. At the hearing, the court shall hear evidence relating to the emotional development, maturity, intellect and understanding of the minor; the nature, possible consequences, and alternatives to the abortion; and any other evidence that the court may find useful in determining whether the minor should be granted majority rights for the purpose of consenting to the abortion or whether the abortion is in the best interests of the minor;

(3) In the decree, the court shall for good cause:

(a) Grant the petition for majority rights for the purpose of consenting to the abortion; ~~or~~

(b) Find the abortion to be in the best interests of the minor and give judicial consent to the abortion, setting forth the grounds for so finding; or

(c) Deny the petition, setting forth the grounds on which the petition is denied;

(4) If the petition is allowed, the informed consent of the minor, pursuant to a court grant of majority rights, or the judicial consent, shall bar an action by the parents or guardian of the minor on the grounds of battery of the minor by those performing or inducing the abortion. The immunity granted shall only extend to the performance or inducement of the abortion in accordance herewith and any necessary accompanying services which are performed in a competent manner. The costs of the action shall be borne by the parties;

(5) An appeal from an order issued under the provisions of this section may be taken to the court of appeals of this state by the minor or by a parent or guardian of the minor. The notice of intent to appeal shall be given within twenty-four hours from the date of issuance of the order. The record on appeal shall be completed and the appeal shall be perfected within five days from the filing of notice to appeal. Because time may be of the essence regarding the performance or inducement of the abortion, the supreme court of this state shall, by court rule, provide for expedited appellate review of cases appealed under this section.

3. If a minor desires an abortion, then she shall be orally informed of and, if possible, sign the written consent required ~~[by section 188.039]~~ under this chapter in the same manner as an adult person. No abortion shall be performed or induced on any minor against her will, except that an abortion may be performed or induced against the will of a minor pursuant to a court order described in subdivision (4) of subsection 1 of this section that the abortion is necessary to preserve the life of the minor."; and

First Regular Session, 100th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

TWENTY-EIGHTH DAY, WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 27, 2019

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Haahr in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Monsignor Robert A. Kurwicky, Chaplain.

You are my rock and my fortress; therefore for Your name's sake lead me and guide me. (Psalm 31:3)

O Loving God, in this quiet moment of morning prayer we lift our hearts unto You, who are from everlasting to everlasting. In this capitol of Missouri do You guide the spirit of understanding and good will of these members of this House. By their words and deeds, may they seek to bring healing to our state and peace to our hearts.

In these days when political parties are sharply divided, opinions differ, and civility is in danger, grant to us the wisdom, the power, and the love to overcome the barriers to unity, as we endeavor to do justly, to love mercy, and to walk humbly with You.

And the House says, "Amen!"

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Jesse Au, Nicholas Hill, Jenny Huynh, Nadir Malovic, Mike Sinamon, Kyanne Williams, Tyson Wilson, Hunter Womick, and Katherine Kincade.

The Journal of the twenty-seventh day was approved as printed by the following vote:

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 100th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

TWENTY-NINTH DAY, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 28, 2019

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Pro Tem Wiemann in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Monsignor Robert A. Kurwicki, Chaplain.

Do not worry over things, but always by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving let your requests be made known to God. (Philippians 4:6)

Almighty God, our heavenly creator, the source of all wisdom and the fountain of flowing love, bless, we pray, all who work under the dome of this glorious capitol and help them to do the work they have been given to do. Enable all of us to plan carefully, to labor confidently, to live creatively, and to lead our people courageously.

Keep us ever mindful of the fact that without You we can do nothing and that with You all great and good things are possible. Bless us with Your presence this day and lead us and our beloved state in the paths of righteousness, for Your name's sake.

And the House says, "Amen!"

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the twenty-eighth day was approved as printed by the following vote:

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 100th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

THIRTY-FIRST DAY, MONDAY, MARCH 4, 2019

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Haahr in the Chair.

Prayer by Representative Dirk Deaton.

Lord, today we pause to recognize the great need we have for You, for we have nothing and are nothing apart from You.

As Your prophet, Daniel, said, "Let the name of God be blessed forever and ever, for wisdom and power belong to Him."

Lord, we recognize that You are the grantor not only of our life and liberty but that all good things come from You. You are the maker of all and we owe our continued existence to Your very provision and sustainment of our lives.

Knowing that apart from Your sovereignty none of us would be members of this House, we humbly ask that You would give us wisdom and strength to complete the weighty task before us.

To this end, Lord, we ask that You would be gracious in granting us clarity, insight, and understanding, that we would do what is right and just for all Missourians throughout all of Missouri.

And to this the House says "Amen."

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as an Honorary Page for the Day, to serve without compensation: Lilith Jones.

The Journal of the twenty-ninth day was approved as printed by the following vote:

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 100th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

THIRTY-SECOND DAY, TUESDAY, MARCH 5, 2019

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Haahr in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Monsignor Robert A. Kurwicki, Chaplain.

You shall love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your might.
(Deuteronomy 6:5)

Almighty and ever-living God, by whose mercy we have come together for the beginning of another day, grant that we may enter it together with humble and grateful hearts. Confirm our resolutions, we pray, to walk more closely with You and to labor more faithfully for the good of our fellow citizens, according to the teaching of our law and the example of our God.

We invoke Your blessing upon this chamber. Enlighten with Your wisdom and sustain with Your power those whom the people have set in authority, our Governor, our Speaker, Members of this House, and all who are entrusted with our safety and our freedom. May peace and good will live in the lives of our citizens, and may charity spread its blessings among us, exalting Missouri in righteousness on this Mardi Gras!

And the House says, "Amen!"

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Reuben Anderson, Heidi Anderson, Brielle Anderson, Kaisa Anderson, and Hasan El-Amin.

The Journal of the thirty-first day was approved as printed by the following vote:

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 100th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

THIRTY-THIRD DAY, WEDNESDAY, MARCH 6, 2019

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Haahr in the Chair.

Prayer by Representative Doug Richey.

Oh God, today we stand before You, the author of life and the grantor of wisdom. Your word assures us that as we meet each new day, we shall also meet, by faith, the blessing of Your mercy.

Today, in this chamber, deliberation will occur. We ask that this day's deliberation will be superintended by Your merciful provision of wisdom. Proverbs tells us much about wisdom and foolishness, all of which should be heeded.

We know that fools take no joy in understanding; they take no joy in doing what is just; they take no joy in reserving judgement until a matter is heard fully; they take no joy in discretion; they take no joy in righteousness; they take no joy in acknowledging their errors. We ask that we may be found free of such foolishness. Instead, may You find us to be men and women of wisdom as we humbly seek truth, sound judgement, and the application of that which is right. In all of this, may we be quick to confess our arrogance and our trespasses when we find ourselves guilty of such offenses. We are confident that if we are faithful in the aforementioned, Missouri will be well served.

In light of my conscience before You, I ask all this in the name of Christ Jesus. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as an Honorary Page for the Day, to serve without compensation: Brianna Smith.

The Journal of the thirty-second day was approved as printed by the following vote:

REPORT

March 5, 2019

The Honorable Elijah Haahr
Speaker of the Missouri House of Representatives
201 W. Capitol Ave., Rm. 308
Jefferson City, MO 65101

Dear Mr. Speaker,

On February 20, 2019, your Committee on Internet Taxation held a hearing to receive public opinion on whether and how to impose an internet sales / use / transaction tax. The committee begs leave to report it has examined the issue and hereby submits its findings.

The hearing opened with Chair Eggleston outlining facts about the Supreme Court's Quill Decision and Wayfair Decision, the approximate 1400 local taxing jurisdictions that Missouri has, and the challenges lawmakers face to set up an internet tax given the current statutory and constitutional earmarks in place for sales tax spending.

Representative Justus discussed the approach of internet sales tax collection and remittance be based on where the purchased items are shipped from, rather than where they are shipped to.

Witnesses that testified were Director Joel Walters and Mark Siettman from the Department of Revenue; lobbyist Richard Sheets from Missouri Municipal League; Steven Conway representing the St. Louis mayor's office; and Betsy Peters representing the Columbia City Council.

Walters and Siettman confirmed the Chair's opening statements, and listed nine bills that have been filed in the House and Senate relating to internet taxation. Walters and Siettman also discussed details about the Streamline Sales & Use Tax Agreement (SSUTA).

Mr. Sheets testified in favor of adopting an internet use tax. Mr. Conway and Ms. Peters also testified in favor of adopting an internet use tax, and stated that by implementing a use tax instead of a sales tax, their city would benefit by not sharing the revenues with the various TDDs, CIDs, and other taxing districts. None of the three witnesses offered a method to offset the tax increase with a separate tax decrease elsewhere to achieve revenue neutrality for the citizens or their government entities.

A copy of this report has been submitted to the Committee on Ways & Means.

Respectfully Submitted,

/s/ J. Eggleston
Chair, House District 02

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 100th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

THIRTY-FIFTH DAY, MONDAY, MARCH 11, 2019

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Haahr in the Chair.

Prayer by Representative Becky Ruth.

Dear Heavenly Father, we come to You in prayer today as one body. We ask that You bless us, and give us wisdom and discernment as we are faced with the many difficult issues that are put in front of us. Let us remember to act in kindness to all that cross our paths and remember the teachings of Your Son, Jesus Christ, when tempted with anger, boastfulness, and pride. Help us to find inner strength and peace, and let our actions reflect that. Lord, we pray for the well-being of this body as well as our families back at home. All of this we ask in Your Son's name, Jesus Christ.

And the House says, "Amen!"

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the thirty-fourth day was approved as printed by the following vote:

There is hereby created in the state treasury the "Economic Development Grant Program Fund", which shall consist of moneys appropriated annually by the general assembly from general revenue and any gifts, bequests, or donations. The state treasurer shall be custodian of the fund. In accordance with sections 30.170 and 30.180, the state treasurer may approve disbursements. The fund shall be a dedicated fund and, upon appropriation, moneys in the fund shall be used solely for the administration of this section. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 33.080 to the contrary, any moneys remaining in the fund at the end of the biennium shall not revert to the credit of the general revenue fund. The state treasurer shall invest moneys in the fund in the same manner as other funds are invested. Any interest and moneys earned on such investments shall be credited to the fund.

The department of economic development shall develop a procedure for those eligible under this section to apply for grants under this section.

5. The department of economic development shall promulgate rules to implement the provisions of this section. Any rule or portion of a rule, as that term is defined in section 536.010, that is created under the authority delegated in this section shall become effective only if it complies with and is subject to all of the provisions of chapter 536 and, if applicable, section 536.028. 6. Each consumer who participates in the program is responsible for a monthly premium equal to the average premium required for the Missouri consolidated health care plan; provided that the total premium described in this section shall not exceed five percent of the consumer's and the consumer's spouse's adjusted gross income for the year involved.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 100th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

THIRTY-SEVENTH DAY, WEDNESDAY, MARCH 13, 2019

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Haahr in the Chair.

Prayer by Representative Steve Butz.

Almighty God,

We, Your sons and daughters, stand before You today seeking Your guidance and wisdom.

Please give to us a strong faith, a certain hope and sincere love as we attempt to serve each other and our fellow citizens of our state.

In this Lenten season we are reminded of our own failures, shortcomings and sins, so we ask that You give us the ability to look at ourselves and admit we need Your forgiveness, grace and mercy. May we also grant that same forgiveness, grace and mercy to our fellow brothers and sisters.

Lord, this morning I am sure there are some here who are sick and hurting: we pray for their healing. I am sure there are some here who have great sorrow back home: we pray for their consolation. There are those among us who have much joy in their hearts this morning: we share in that joy.

Help us love and serve each other as we begin our deliberations this morning.

Let the members of this House say, "Amen!"

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Emily Bounds, Kaitlyn Bounds, and Jaxon Wilson.

The Journal of the thirty-sixth day was approved as printed by the following vote:

An employer who employs or otherwise engages an individual whose criminal history record to which limited access has been applied under section 610.078 or 610.080 shall be immune from liability for any claim arising out of the misconduct of the individual if the misconduct relates to the portion of the criminal history record that has been provided limited access.

610.090. The official records pertaining to a case in which limited access has been granted under section 610.078 or 610.080 shall be considered closed records.

610.100. 1. As used in sections 610.100 to 610.150, the following words and phrases shall mean:

(1) "Arrest", an actual restraint of the person of the defendant, or by his or her submission to the custody of the officer, under authority of a warrant or otherwise for a criminal violation which results in the issuance of a summons or the person being booked;

(2) "Arrest report", a record of a law enforcement agency of an arrest and of any detention or confinement incident thereto together with the charge therefor;

(3) "Inactive", an investigation in which no further action will be taken by a law enforcement agency or officer for any of the following reasons:

(a) A decision by the law enforcement agency not to pursue the case;

(b) Expiration of the time to file criminal charges pursuant to the applicable statute of limitations, or ten years after the commission of the offense; whichever date earliest occurs;

(c) Finality of the convictions of all persons convicted on the basis of the information contained in the investigative report, by exhaustion of or expiration of all rights of appeal of such persons;

(4) "Incident report", a record of a law enforcement agency consisting of the date, time, specific location, name of the victim and immediate facts and circumstances surrounding the initial report of a crime or incident, including any logs of reported crimes, accidents and complaints maintained by that agency;

(5) "Investigative report", a record, other than an arrest or incident report, prepared by personnel of a law enforcement agency, inquiring into a crime or suspected crime, either in response to an incident report or in response to evidence developed by law enforcement officers in the course of their duties;

(6) "Mobile video recorder", any system or device that captures visual signals that is capable of installation and being installed in a vehicle or being worn or carried by personnel of a law enforcement agency and that includes, at minimum, a camera and recording capabilities;

(7) "Mobile video recording", any data captured by a mobile video recorder, including audio, video, and any metadata;

(8) "Nonpublic location", a place where one would have a reasonable expectation of privacy, including, but not limited to a dwelling, school, or medical facility.

2. (1) Each law enforcement agency of this state, of any county, and of any municipality shall maintain records of all incidents reported to the agency, investigations and arrests made by such law enforcement agency. All incident reports and arrest reports shall be open records.

(2) Notwithstanding any other provision of law other than the provisions of subsections 4, 5 and 6 of this section or section 320.083, mobile video recordings and investigative reports of all law enforcement agencies are closed records until the investigation becomes inactive.

(3) If any person is arrested and not charged with an offense against the law within thirty days of the person's arrest, the arrest report shall thereafter be a closed record except that the disposition portion of the record may be accessed and except as provided in section 610.120.

(4) Except as provided in subsections 3 and 5 of this section, a mobile video recording that is recorded in a nonpublic location is authorized to be closed, except that any person who is depicted in the recording or whose voice is in the recording, a legal guardian or parent of such person if he or she is a minor, a family member of such person within the first degree of consanguinity if he or she is deceased or incompetent, an attorney for such person, or insurer of such person, upon written request, may obtain a complete, unaltered, and unedited copy of a recording under and pursuant to this section.

3. Except as provided in subsections 4, 5, 6 and 7 of this section, if any portion of a record or document of a law enforcement officer or agency, other than an arrest report, which would otherwise be open, contains information that is reasonably likely to pose a clear and present danger to the safety of any victim, witness, undercover officer, or other person; or jeopardize a criminal investigation, including records which would disclose the identity of a source wishing to remain confidential or a suspect not in custody; or which would disclose techniques, procedures or guidelines for law enforcement investigations or prosecutions, that portion of the record shall be closed and shall be redacted from any record made available pursuant to this chapter.

4. Any person, including a legal guardian or a parent of such person if he or she is a minor, family member of such person within the first degree of consanguinity if such person is deceased or incompetent, attorney for a person, ~~or~~ insurer of a person, or creditor with a secured interest in the property, involved in any incident or whose property is involved in an incident, may obtain any records closed pursuant to this section or section 610.150 for purposes of investigation of any civil claim or defense, as provided by this subsection. Any individual, legal guardian or parent of such person if he or she is a minor, his or her family member within the first degree of consanguinity if such individual is deceased or incompetent, his or her attorney or insurer, involved in an incident or whose property is involved in an incident, upon written request, may obtain a complete unaltered and unedited incident report concerning the incident, and may obtain access to other records closed by a law enforcement agency pursuant to this section. Within thirty days of such request, the agency shall provide the requested material or file a motion pursuant to this subsection with the circuit court having jurisdiction over the law enforcement agency stating that the safety of the victim, witness or other individual cannot be reasonably ensured, or that a criminal investigation is likely to be jeopardized. If, based on such motion, the court finds for the law enforcement agency, the court shall either order the record closed or order such portion of the record that should be closed to be redacted from any record made available pursuant to this subsection.

5. (1) Any person may bring an action pursuant to this section in the circuit court having jurisdiction to authorize disclosure of a mobile video recording or the information contained in an investigative report of any law enforcement agency, which would otherwise be closed pursuant to this section. The court may order that all or part of a mobile video recording or the information contained in an investigative report be released to the person bringing the action.

(2) In making the determination as to whether information contained in an investigative report shall be disclosed, the court shall consider whether the benefit to the person bringing the action or to the public outweighs any harm to the public, to the law enforcement agency or any of its officers, or to any person identified in the investigative report in regard to the need for law enforcement agencies to effectively investigate and prosecute criminal activity.

(3) In making the determination as to whether a mobile video recording shall be disclosed, the court shall consider:

(a) Whether the benefit to the person bringing the action or the benefit to the public outweighs any harm to the public, to the law enforcement agency or any of its officers, or to any person identified in the mobile video recording in regard and with respect to the need for law enforcement agencies to effectively investigate and prosecute criminal activity;

(b) Whether the mobile video recording contains information that is reasonably likely to disclose private matters in which the public has no legitimate concern;

(c) Whether the mobile video recording is reasonably likely to bring shame or humiliation to a person of ordinary sensibilities; and

(d) Whether the mobile video recording was taken in a place where a person recorded or depicted has a reasonable expectation of privacy.

(4) The mobile video recording or investigative report in question may be examined by the court in camera.

(5) If the disclosure is authorized in whole or in part, the court may make any order that justice requires, including one or more of the following:

(a) That the mobile video recording or investigative report may be disclosed only on specified terms and conditions, including a designation of the time or place;

(b) That the mobile video recording or investigative report may be had only by a method of disclosure other than that selected by the party seeking such disclosure and may be disclosed to the person making the request in a different manner or form as requested;

(c) That the scope of the request be limited to certain matters;

- (d) That the disclosure occur with no one present except persons designated by the court;
 - (e) That the mobile video recording or investigative report be redacted to exclude, for example, personally identifiable features or other sensitive information;
 - (f) That a trade secret or other confidential research, development, or commercial information not be disclosed or be disclosed only in a designated way.
- (6) The court may find that the party seeking disclosure of the mobile video recording or the investigative report shall bear the reasonable and necessary costs and attorneys' fees of both parties, unless the court finds that the decision of the law enforcement agency not to open the mobile video recording or investigative report was substantially unjustified under all relevant circumstances, and in that event, the court may assess such reasonable and necessary costs and attorneys' fees to the law enforcement agency.
6. Any person may apply pursuant to this subsection to the circuit court having jurisdiction for an order requiring a law enforcement agency to open incident reports and arrest reports being unlawfully closed pursuant to this section. If the court finds by a preponderance of the evidence that the law enforcement officer or agency has knowingly violated this section, the officer or agency shall be subject to a civil penalty in an amount up to one thousand dollars. If the court finds that there is a knowing violation of this section, the court may order payment by such officer or agency of all costs and attorneys' fees, as provided by section 610.027. If the court finds by a preponderance of the evidence that the law enforcement officer or agency has purposely violated this section, the officer or agency shall be subject to a civil penalty in an amount up to five thousand dollars and the court shall order payment by such officer or agency of all costs and attorney fees, as provided in section 610.027. The court shall determine the amount of the penalty by taking into account the size of the jurisdiction, the seriousness of the offense, and whether the law enforcement officer or agency has violated this section previously.
7. The victim of an offense as provided in chapter 566 may request that his or her identity be kept confidential until a charge relating to such incident is filed.
8. Any person who requests and receives a mobile video recording that was recorded in a nonpublic location under and pursuant to this section is prohibited from displaying or disclosing the mobile video recording, including any description or account of any or all of the mobile video recording, without first providing direct third-party notice to each person not affiliated with a law enforcement agency or each non-law enforcement agency individual whose image or sound is contained in the recording, and affording, upon receiving such notice, each person appearing and whose image or sound is contained in the mobile video recording no less than ten days to file and serve an action seeking an order from a court of competent jurisdiction to enjoin all or some of the intended display, disclosure, description, or account of the recording. Any person who fails to comply with the provisions of this subsection is subject to damages in a civil action proceeding."; and

AMEND House Committee Substitute for House Bill No. 438, Page 2, Section 60.010, Line 23, by inserting after all of said line the following:

"105.035. No person shall be appointed to an elected public office in the state of Missouri who is delinquent in the payment of state income tax, personal property tax, or real property tax on the person's place of residence. A candidate for such appointed public office shall provide the appointing authority thereof with a signed and notarized affidavit stating that all state income taxes and property taxes, both personal property and real property, have been paid or the fact that no taxes were owed for the two fiscal years immediately prior to the filing deadline for the requisite elective public office.

115.306. 1. No person shall qualify as a candidate for elective public office in the state of Missouri who has been found guilty of or pled guilty to a felony or misdemeanor under the federal laws of the United States of America or to a felony under the laws of this state or an offense committed in another state that would be considered a felony in this state.

2. (1) Any person who files as a candidate for election to a public office shall be disqualified from participation in the election for which the candidate has filed if such person is delinquent in the payment of any state income taxes, personal property taxes, municipal taxes, real property taxes on the place of residence, as stated on the declaration of candidacy, or if the person is a past or present corporate officer of any fee office that owes any taxes to the state.

(2) Each potential candidate for election to a public office shall file an affidavit with the department of revenue and include a copy of the affidavit with the declaration of candidacy required under section 115.349. Such affidavit shall be in substantially the following form:

AFFIRMATION OF TAX PAYMENTS AND BONDING REQUIREMENTS:

I hereby declare under penalties of perjury that I am not currently aware of any delinquency in the filing or payment of any state income taxes, personal property taxes, municipal taxes, real property taxes on the place of residence, as stated on the declaration of candidacy, or that I am a past or present corporate officer of any fee office that owes any taxes to the state, other than those taxes which may be in dispute. I declare under penalties of perjury that I am not aware of any information that would prohibit me from fulfilling any bonding requirements for the office for which I am filing.

..... Candidate's Signature

..... Printed Name of Candidate

(3) Upon receipt of a complaint alleging a delinquency of the candidate in the filing or payment of any state income taxes, personal property taxes, municipal taxes, real property taxes on the place of residence, as stated on the declaration of candidacy, or if the person is a past or present corporate officer of any fee office that owes any taxes to the state, the department of revenue shall investigate such potential candidate to verify the claim contained in the complaint. If the department of revenue finds a positive affirmation to be false, the department shall contact the secretary of state, or the election official who accepted such candidate's declaration of candidacy, and the potential candidate. The department shall notify the candidate of the outstanding tax owed and give the candidate thirty days to remit any such outstanding taxes owed which are not the subject of dispute between the department and the candidate. If the candidate fails to remit such amounts in full within thirty days, the candidate shall be disqualified from participating in the current election and barred from refiling for an entire election cycle even if the individual pays all of the outstanding taxes that were the subject of the complaint.

3. In addition to the requirements of subsections 1 and 2 of this section, the election authority of any city, town, village, or township shall require proof that a candidate for elective public office within the city, town, village, or township is not delinquent in the payment of state income tax, personal property tax, or real property tax on the candidate's place of residence. A candidate for such elective public office shall provide the election authority thereof with a signed and notarized affidavit stating that all state income taxes and property taxes, both personal property and real property, have been paid or the fact that no taxes were owed for the two fiscal years immediately prior to the filing deadline for the requisite elective public office."; and

AMEND House Bill No. 278, Page 1, Section A, Line 2, by inserting after said section and line the following:

"288.100. 1. (1) The division shall maintain a separate account for each employer which is paying contributions, and shall credit each employer's account with all contributions which each employer has paid. A separate account shall be maintained for each employer making payments in lieu of contributions to which shall be credited all such payments made. The account shall also show payments due as provided in section 288.090. The division may close and cancel such separate account after a period of four consecutive calendar years during which such employer has had no employment in this state subject to contributions. Nothing in this law shall be construed to grant any employer or individuals in the employer's service prior claims or rights to the amounts paid by the employer into the fund either on the employer's own behalf or on behalf of such individuals. Except as provided in subdivision (4) of this subsection, regular benefits and that portion of extended benefits not reimbursed by the federal government paid to an eligible individual shall be charged against the accounts of the individual's base period employers who are paying contributions subject to the provisions of subdivision (4) of subsection 3 of section 288.090. With respect to initial claims filed after December 31, 1984, for benefits paid to an individual based on wages paid by one or more employers in the base period of the claim, the amount chargeable to each employer shall be obtained by multiplying the benefits paid by a ratio obtained by dividing the base period wages from such employer by the total wages appearing in the base period. Except as provided in this subdivision, the maximum amount of extended benefits paid to an individual and charged against the account of any employer shall not exceed one-half of the product obtained by multiplying the benefits paid by a ratio obtained by dividing the base period wages from such employer by the total wages appearing in the base period. The provisions of this subdivision notwithstanding, with respect to weeks of unemployment beginning after December 31, 1978, the maximum amount of extended benefits paid to an individual and charged against the account of an employer which is an employer ~~[pursuant to]~~ under subdivision (3) of subsection 1 of section 288.032 and which is paying contributions ~~[pursuant to]~~ under subsections 1 and 2 of section 288.090 shall not exceed the calculated entitlement for the extended benefit claim based upon the wages appearing within the base period of the extended benefit claim.

(2) Beginning as of June 30, 1951, and as of June thirtieth of each year thereafter, any unassigned surplus in the unemployment compensation fund which is five hundred thousand dollars or more in excess of five-tenths of one percent of the total taxable wages paid by all employers for the preceding calendar year as shown on the division's records on such June thirtieth shall be credited on a pro rata basis to all employer accounts having a credit balance in the same ratio that the balance in each such account bears to the total of the credit balances subject to use for rate calculation purposes for the following year in all such accounts on the same date. As used in this subdivision, the term "unassigned surplus" means the amount by which the total cash balance in the unemployment compensation fund exceeds a sum equal to the total of all employer credit account balances. The amount thus prorated to each separate employer's account shall for tax rating purposes be considered the same as contributions paid by the employer and credited to the employer's account for the period preceding the calculation date except that no such amount can be credited against any contributions due or that may thereafter become due from such employer.

(3) At the conclusion of each calendar quarter the division shall, within thirty days, notify each employer by mail of the benefits paid to each claimant by week as determined by the division which have been charged to such employer's account subsequent to the last notice.

(4) (a) No benefits based on wages paid for services performed prior to the date of any act for which a claimant is disqualified ~~[pursuant to]~~ under section 288.050 shall be chargeable to any employer directly involved in such disqualifying act.

(b) In the event the deputy has in due course determined ~~[pursuant to]~~ under paragraph (a) of subdivision (1) of subsection 1 of section 288.050 that a claimant quit his or her work with an employer for the purpose of accepting a more remunerative job with another employer which the claimant did accept and earn some wages therein, no benefits based on wages paid prior to the date of the quit shall be chargeable to the employer the claimant quit.

(c) In the event the deputy has in due course determined ~~[pursuant to]~~ under paragraph (b) of subdivision (1) of subsection 1 of section 288.050 that a claimant quit temporary work in employment with an employer to return to the claimant's regular employer, then, only for the purpose of charging base period employers, all of the wages paid by the employer who furnished the temporary employment shall be combined with the wages actually paid by the regular employer as if all such wages had been actually paid by the regular employer. Further, charges for benefits based on wages paid for part-time work shall be removed from the account of the employer furnishing such part-time work if that employer continued to employ the individual claiming such benefits on a regular recurring basis each week of the claimant's claim to at least the same extent that the employer had previously employed the claimant and so informs the division within thirty days from the date of notice of benefit charges.

(d) No charge shall be made against an employer's account in respect to benefits paid an individual if the gross amount of wages paid by such employer to such individual is four hundred dollars or less during the individual's base period on which the individual's benefit payments are based. Further, no charge shall be made against any employer's account in respect to benefits paid any individual unless such individual was in employment with respect to such employer longer than a probationary period of ~~[twenty-eight]~~ ninety days, if such probationary period of employment has been reported to the division as required by regulation.

(e) In the event the deputy has in due course determined ~~[pursuant to]~~ under paragraph (c) of subdivision (1) of subsection 1 of section 288.050 that a claimant is not disqualified, no benefits based on wages paid for work prior to the date of the quit shall be chargeable to the employer the claimant quit.

(f) In the event the deputy has in due course determined under paragraph (e) of subdivision (1) of subsection 1 of section 288.050 that a claimant is not disqualified, no benefits based on wages paid for work prior to the date of the quit shall be chargeable to the employer the claimant quit.

(g) Nothing in paragraph (b), (c), (d), (e), or (f) of this subdivision shall in any way affect the benefit amount, duration of benefits or the wage credits of the claimant.

2. The division may prescribe regulations for the establishment, maintenance, and dissolution of joint accounts by two or more employers, and shall, in accordance with such regulations and upon application by two or more employers to establish such an account, or to merge their several individual accounts in a joint account, maintain such joint account as if it constituted a single employer's account.

3. The division may by regulation provide for the compilation and publication of such data as may be necessary to show the amounts of benefits not charged to any individual employer's account classified by reason no such charge was made and to show the types and amounts of transactions affecting the unemployment compensation fund."; and

Further amend said bill by amending the title, enacting clause, and intersectional references accordingly.

On motion of Representative Lynch, House Amendment No. 1 was adopted.

On motion of Representative Andrews, HB 278, as amended, was ordered perfected and printed.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 100th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

THIRTY-EIGHTH DAY, THURSDAY, MARCH 14, 2019

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Haahr in the Chair.

Prayer by Representative Kenneth Wilson.

Heavenly Father, as we once again unite in prayer, we humbly ask for Your blessings upon the members of this body. We ask for strength and courage as we go about our duties this day. We are thankful that this land is still governed by the people's representatives. May we be seen at our best this day in this time of testing. Father, we confess that we know in our hearts how much we need You, yet our swelled heads and our stubborn wills keep us trying to do this important work without You.

Forgive us for making so many mountains out of molehills and for exaggerating both our own importance and the problems that confront us. May each one of us be willing to let You show us what a difference You could make in our work and in our own lives this day. Help us to not be swayed by emotion or ambition but by calm conviction.

Hear our prayer, Lord: may each one of us know that spiritual understanding is always better than political wisdom, that we may see our problems for what they are, and that we will have the will to work together as a team for the welfare of all the people. May our private lives and our public actions be consistent with our prayers.

And the House said, "Amen!"

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Leah Rene Dorum, Max Fishel, Millie Fishel, Aleah Kolkmeier, and Zoe Wilson.

The Journal of the thirty-seventh day was approved as corrected by the following vote:

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 100th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

FORTIETH DAY, MONDAY, MARCH 25, 2019

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Haahr in the Chair.

Prayer by Representative Ingrid Burnett.

Loving Creator, source of all wisdom, be among us now.

Enter into this chamber that we may allow You to enter and search our hearts. And for just this moment, lead us beside still waters and into peaceful pastures where we may know the power of Your loving presence.

Divine Creator, sometimes we wander through dangerous valleys, and we forget that You sent us Your love to guide us, to comfort us, and to give us courage. For Your love is patient and kind - not jealous or boastful. It is not proud, rude, self-seeking or angry - and it rejoices only in what is right and just.

Gracious Creator, You have set before us an offering of love to act in love and in service to our fellow humankind. You provide us bountiful resources and support. Help us to remember to be grateful. Grateful for all of the people who have come before us, for those who are with us now, and for those who will come after us. Grateful for our leaders, for those who follow, and for those who challenge us to be better.

Though the work may be heavy, Your yoke is light. And though we are flawed, yet we hope in Your vision for us. This we pray with humble hearts.

And the House says, "Amen!"

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Rylan Toberman and Carleigh Toberman.

The Journal of the thirty-eighth day was approved as printed by the following vote:

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Regular Session, 100th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

FORTY-FIRST DAY, TUESDAY, MARCH 26, 2019

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Haahr in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Monsignor Robert A. Kurwicky, Chaplain.

God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble. Therefore we will not fear. (Psalm 46:1)

Almighty God, in whose presence there is fullness of joy and at Your right hand there are pleasures forever, we humbly acknowledge You to be the only true God. Our praise and gratitude rise to You. In the light of Your love, the valleys of our experience have been exalted and the deep things have been illuminated. Save our people from floods and high waters we ask You.

O Creator, shine upon our weakness and press upon our deepest beings; diffuse them through and through with a consuming energy and devotion for our whole beloved land. Inspire us with the might of Your wisdom, the majesty of Your sacrifices and the glory of Your name. May we not be forced in our labors by the cold motive of duty, but by the urgency of love – love of God, love for this state and an appreciation for all humanity as we debate the budget.

Finally, for Representative Rebecca Roeber we offer prayers of healing.

And the House says, “Amen!”

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the fortieth day was approved as printed by the following vote:
