

HB 39 -- Missouri Southern State College

Co-Sponsors: Stevenson, Richard, Ruestman

Currently, statutes permit Missouri Southern and Missouri Western state colleges to offer master's degrees in accounting subject to conditions set by the State Board of Accountancy that are applicable to other institutions offering these degrees and subject to the approval of the Coordinating Board for Higher Education. This bill leaves in place the requirements for Missouri Western and specifies that at Missouri Southern master's programs in accounting, business, and teaching may be offered so long as state general revenue funds are not used. The prohibition on using general revenue will expire on August 28, 2008.
