FISCAL ANALYSIS

ASSUMPTION

Officials from the Public Service Commission (PSC) state the bill will allow companies to file a request with the Commission to either not reduce rates when the Consumer Price Index (CPI) adjustment is negative or to apply CPI adjustments to certain exchanges or calling scopes. The PSC will have to review these requests, potentially hold a hearing to gather evidence, and determine whether the request is reasonable.

The PSC states this proposal will directly affect Total State Revenues because tax revenues are determined based on a customer's total bill amount for telecommunications services. If basic local rates are not reduced, or are targeted to a specific exchange or calling scope, tax revenues will be impacted.

The PSC assumes the proposal will impact small businesses since the proposed legislation states that when the CPI index is negative, basic local rates do not have to be reduced upon a finding of just cause by the Commission. To the extent small businesses have basic local service, rates will not decrease. Also, for telecommunications companies that are classified as small businesses, the companies will not see a decrease in revenues if it is determined that rates do not have to be reduced consistent with CPI adjustments. Small businesses may also be impacted by CPI adjustments that are targeted to specific exchanges or calling scopes as opposed to applied to all customers throughout the incumbent's service area.

The PSC assumes no fiscal impact from the proposal.

Officials from the Department of Economic Development - Office of Public Counsel assume the proposal will not fiscally impact their agency.

Oversight assumes this proposal may result in prices of exchange access and basic local telecommunications service not being reduced if the Consumer Price Index - Telephone Service for the preceding twelve months is negative. Oversight is not aware if this has ever occurred or if it is expected to occur within the time frame of the fiscal note. Oversight assumes this would not increase prices, but would allow for the possibility of some prices not being reduced. Therefore, Oversight will not reflect a fiscal impact from the proposal.

FISCAL IMPACT - Local Government	FY 2007	FY 2008	FY 2009

FISCAL IMPACT - Small Business

Small telecommunications businesses and possibly even all small businesses that have telephone service (when the CPI-TS for the previous twelve months has been negative) could be fiscally impacted as a result of this proposal.

DESCRIPTION

This proposed legislation modifies one of the options for setting the maximum allowable charges for exchange access and basic local telecommunications services for incumbent local exchange telecommunications companies. If the change in the telephone service component of the federal Consumer Price Index is negative for the previous year, companies may request a waiver from the Missouri Public Service Commission to allow the existing maximum allowable charges to remain in place until the next annual adjustment. Any savings from a reduction waiver must be used for purposes which have been approved by the commission.

DESCRIPTION (continued)

This legislation is not federally mandated, would not duplicate any other program and would not require additional capital improvements or rental space.
