

SCS HB 1601 -- EMERGENCY MEDICAL TREATMENT

This bill specifies that informed consent is not required for research programs or experimental medical procedures for certain patients subject to a life-threatening emergency when conducted in accordance with certain federal regulations and when the institutional review board has approved the research activity.

The bill contains an emergency clause.