

House Concurrent Resolution No. 13

94TH GENERAL ASSEMBLY

3874L.011

1 Whereas, the federal No Child Left Behind Act (NCLB Act), the 2002
2 reauthorization of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965, has valuable stated
3 goals of closing achievement gaps, reducing high school dropouts, proclaiming that every child 4 can learn, challenging every child to dream a bright future, and preparing all children to 5 contribute to society; and

6

7 Whereas, its implementation has, despite these laudable goals, in reality 8 undermined the capacity of public schools, especially those serving very poor children and 9 demographically complex populations; and

10

11 Whereas, the NCLB Act overemphasizes standardized testing as the sole indicator 12 of student achievement; and

13

14 Whereas, the NCLB Act forces schools to narrow curriculum and to focus on the 15 tested skills of reading and math, thereby reducing time spent on the arts, social studies, and the 16 humanities; and

17

18 Whereas, the Adequate Yearly Progress rankings in the NCLB Act fail to 19 acknowledge educational growth of particular children and instead measures whether subgroups 20 of children reach particular test score benchmarks; and

22 Whereas, the NCLB Act mandates that schools are labeled "in need of 23 improvement" on the basis that test scores fail to reach named benchmarks even when subgroup 24 list scores show significant progress; and

25

26 Whereas, the NCLB Act dictates that schools focus educational efforts on the 27 children whose scores are at grade level thresholds, leaving children who score at extremely low 28 levels even further behind; and

29

30 Whereas, the NCLB Act pushes low-scoring high school students into GED 31 programs where their scores will not count against the school or school district and leaves the 32 needs of gifted and talented students unmet; and

33

34 Whereas, English Language Learners are required to take tests in English after 35 only a year in the United States; and

36

37 Whereas, the testing requirements for special needs students are not coordinated 38 with their Individualized Education Programs (IEPs), placing these students at risk; and

39

40 Whereas, the NCLB Act sets reconstitution of staff, charterization, and state 41 takeover as the final sanctions for schools "in need of improvement" in the fifth year; and

42

43 Whereas, the NCLB Act remains underfunded by the federal government by over 44 $40 billion from what was authorized when the NCLB Act was signed in 2002; and

45

46 Whereas, each individual state is allowed to establish its own level of proficient
47 performance, resulting in a lack of consistency from state to state in terms of the required 48 standards for students to meet Adequate Yearly Progress; and

49

50 Whereas, the United States Constitution is silent on the subject of authorization, 51 funding, or organizing public education, while the Constitution of the State of Missouri explicitly 52 authorizes funds and organizes free public schools in the state; and

53

54 Whereas, the federal government, by its enactment of the No Child Left Behind 55 Act, has violated and remains in violation of the rights of the several states as protected by the 56 Tenth Amendment of the United States Constitution:

57

58 Now, therefore, be it resolved that the members of the House of 59 Representatives of the Ninety-fourth General Assembly, Second Regular Session, the Senate 60 concurring therein, hereby request that the Missouri Congressional delegation oppose the 61 reauthorization of No Child Left Behind in 2008; and

63 Be it further resolved that the Missouri General Assembly affirms that the 64 State of Missouri, our teachers, our schools, and our communities would be better served by a
65 return to the Missouri School Improvement Program and our commitment to increase capacity 66 in the Missouri Department of Elementary and Secondary Education to support district and 67 school leadership, assist teachers with effective ongoing staff development, and fully fund our 68 constitutional obligation to public education; and

69

70 Be it further resolved that the Chief Clerk of the Missouri House of 71 Representatives be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution for President 72 George W. Bush and each member of the Missouri Congressional delegation.
