FISCAL ANALYSIS

ASSUMPTION

Officials from the Department of Elementary and Secondary Education (DESE) assume the proposal will likely result in costs for the department; but, DESE does not anticipate significant costs.

Local school boards may adopt and implement the training guidelines. Costs to local school districts would depend upon the level of participation; DESE defers to local school districts regarding the potential level of participation and the potential costs.

According to officials from the Office of Secretary of State (SOS), many bills considered by the General Assembly include provisions allowing or requiring agencies to submit rules and regulations to implement the act. The SOS's office is provided with core funding to handle a certain amount of normal activity resulting from each year's legislative session. The fiscal impact for this fiscal note to Secretary of State's office for Administrative Rules is less than $2,500. SOS recognizes that this is a small amount and does not expect that additional funding would be required to meet these costs. However, SOS also recognizes that many such bills may be passed by the General Assembly in a given year and that collectively the costs may be in excess of what their office can sustain with their core budget. Therefore, SOS reserves the right to request funding for the cost of supporting administrative rules requirements should the need arise based on a review of the finally approved bills signed by the governor.

Oversight assumes the SOS could absorb the costs of printing and distributing regulations related to this proposal with core funding. If multiple bills pass which require the printing and distribution of regulations at substantial costs, the SOS could request funding through the appropriation process.

Officials from the Special School District of St. Louis County (SSD) state that if a student has a health condition like diabetes, they already have one of their nurses provide any training that might be necessary for the teacher. SSD assumes this proposal requires a lot of specific topics which may add to the time and expense of the training.

Oversight assumes the proposal is permissive to school districts for the adoption and implementation of the guidelines and training; therefore, no fiscal impact will be assigned to local school districts.

ASSUMPTION (continued)

Officials from the Department of Health and Senior Services, Joint Committee on Administrative Rules, Department of Insurance, Finance and Professional Registration, Parkway School District, and University of Missouri System (Charter School Sponsors) each assume the proposal would not fiscally impact their respective agencies.
