

HB 2042 -- COMPUTER PROGRAMMING COURSEWORK

SPONSOR: Rowden

This bill requires computer programming coursework to be treated as a mathematics course when offered by a public school, for which a student may earn academic credit by completing with a passing grade. Public higher education institutions must accept the course as meeting their entrance requirements. The bill does not affect the ability of schools to offer nonacademic computer programming classes or higher education institutions to impose departmental requirements.