

HB 128 -- LIABILITY INVOLVING CONCEALED CARRY OF FIREARMS

SPONSOR: Brattin

This bill specifies that although a private owner or other person or entity is authorized to post his or her premises as being off-limits to concealed firearms under Section 571.107, RSMo, those provisions cannot be construed to grant any type of immunity, in tort law or with regard to other civil actions, for the act of prohibiting the concealed carry of firearms.

The bill specifies that although certain persons may consent to the carrying of firearms in specified areas where it is otherwise prohibited under Section 571.107, those provisions cannot be construed to impose any type of duty, in tort law or with regard to other civil actions, on the person to consent to the carrying of firearms.
