9 extent; and

10
11 WHEREAS, the federal government has ceased to live under a proper interpretation of 12 the Constitution of the United States; and 13

14 WHEREAS, it is the solemn duty of the states to protect the liberty of their people -

17 government's abuses of power; and

18
19 WHEREAS, under Amendment XVI of the Constitution of the United States:

21 source derived, without apportionment among the several States, and without regard to any 22 census or enumeration.”; and

23
24 WHEREAS, the states and the people they serve would be better protected from 25 governmental abuse and better served if the federal government was forced to reign in its

29 of the Constitution of the United States and without the power to tax incomes for one hundred 30 twenty-four years; and

38 of such State shall issue writs of election to fill such vacancies: Provided, That the legislature 39 of any State may empower the executive thereof to make temporary appointments until the 40 people fill the vacancies by election as the legislature may direct.

45 representatives to the federal government were accountable to the state’s government; and
