FISCAL ANALYSIS

ASSUMPTION

Officials from the Department of Labor and Industrial Relations (DOLIR) assume the proposal would exempt public works projects in counties of the third and fourth classification from Sections 290.210 through 290.340. The DOLIR assumes this would reduce the number of public works projects that are subject to the prevailing wage requirement and thus, reduce the number of complaints received regarding prevailing wage issues.

Current statute requires the DOLIR to issue prevailing wage orders and to investigate complaints relating to prevailing wage. However, funding for these activities was eliminated in the FY 2018 budget. In order to assure that employers are able to comply with the law, the DOLIR has redirected some existing resources so that a new prevailing wage order can be issued by the March 2018 deadline.

Though the number of prevailing wage complaints is expected to decrease as a result of this legislation, current resources are inadequate to address any complaints received. DOLIR anticipates that, should this bill be approved, it would pursue additional resources via the appropriations process.

Officials from the Office of Administration-Facilities Management, Design and Construction (OA-FMDC) assume the proposal provides that "counties of the third and fourth classification shall be exempt from the requirements of sections 290.210 to 290.340." It is unclear whether this is intended to exempt all projects where the work is performed in a third or fourth class county or only projects that are performed on behalf of the government of a third or fourth class county. Assuming that the first interpretation is intended, this bill could potentially impact OA-FMDC. However, FMDC cannot calculate the impact for the reasons set forth below.

A review of scholarly articles shows that there is no generally accepted methodology for determining the cost savings, if any, that may result from legislation such as this. A number of factors would affect FMDC's cost savings, if any, from this proposal, including, but not limited to, how much contractors choose to pay their employees in the absence of prevailing wage and whether contractors choose to pass on any labor costs savings to FMDC. Any Facilities Maintenance Reserve Fund (FMRF) savings will be used to decrease other deferred maintenance projects.

This proposal could potentially affect the rental rates for future leases and improvements at leased facilities, as property owners are presently obligated to pay prevailing wage for alterations or improvements made to properties leased by the State. However, FMDC cannot calculate the impact of this legislation on rental rates for the reasons discussed above. Any savings from the elimination of prevailing wage will be used to offset increased costs for rental rates because of increases by the Lessor, or increases in janitorial and utilities.

Oversight assumes this proposal exempts counties of the third and fourth classification from the prevailing wage laws therefore, Oversight will reflect a $0 or unknown savings to the local political subdivisions.

Officials from the Office of Administration-Personnel and Office of Administration-Administrative Hearing Commission assume the proposal will have no fiscal impact on their respective organizations.

Officials from the following 3rd classification counties: Andrew, Atchison, Audrain, Barry, Benton, Bollinger, Carroll, Cooper, Davies, Dekalb, Dent, Holt, Knox, Laclede, Lawrence, Maries, Marion, McDonald, Miller, Moniteau, Monroe, Montgomery, New Madrid, Nodaway, Ozark, Perry, Phelps, Pulaski, Scott, Wayne, Webster and Worth did not respond to Oversight's request for fiscal impact.

Officials from the following 4th classification counties: Johnson and Pettis did not respond to Oversight's request for fiscal impact.

FISCAL IMPACT - Small Business

There could be fiscal impact to contractors and subcontractors who bid on public works projects, as a result of this proposal.

FISCAL DESCRIPTION

This proposal exempts counties of the third and fourth classification from the provisions regarding prevailing wages for the construction of public works projects.

This legislation is not federally mandated, would not duplicate any other program and would not require additional capital improvements or rental space.
