FISCAL ANALYSIS

ASSUMPTION

In response to a previous version, HB 1528 (LR 5087-01), officials from the Department of Higher Education assumed the proposal will have no fiscal impact on their organization.

Officials from Missouri State University assume there is a negative fiscal impact of an undetermined amount to the university.

Officials from the University of Missouri System assume the exact fiscal impact of this proposal is unable to be determined; however, it would be significant.

Officials from the Missouri Western State University assume the proposal will have no fiscal impact on their organization.

Officials from the State Technical College of Missouri assume the proposal will have no fiscal impact on their organization.

In response to a previous version, HB 1528 (LR 5087-01), officials from the University of Central Missouri assumed this proposal would have a negative impact on the university of approximately $75,000 per year.

Oversight notes this proposal requires a student pursuing an associate's or bachelor's degree from a public institution of higher education to take and receive a score of 70% or better on a basic civics test as a condition for graduation.

Oversight notes this proposal requires the civics test given by the institutions and to use similar questions as used by the United States Citizenship and Immigration Service (USCIS). Previously, Oversight contacted the USCIS about the availability of institutions using their existing test. Oversight received a response from the USCIS that stated institutions would not be allowed to use their test for free or for a fee. Oversight assumes institutions would be required to create their own tests.

Oversight will show a cost for all public institutions of higher education that could exceed $100,000 to create and administer this test yearly starting in FY 2019.
