FISCAL ANALYSIS

ASSUMPTION

Officials at the Department of Elementary and Secondary Education (DESE) assume there would be no additional cost to the state. There will be a loss to those charter schools which cannot include as local revenue those funds designated by taxpayers as early childhood education funds.

DESE defers to the urban school districts regarding the extent of any funds that will remain in the district of residence rather than being distributed to the charter schools.

Officials at the City of Kansas City assume there is no fiscal impact from this proposal.

In response to a similar proposal from 2017 (HB 254), officials at Kansas City Public Schools assumed this may have a positive fiscal impact by allowing all funds earmarked for early education to flow into the district and be used solely for early education purposes.

Oversight assumes this proposal would not fiscally impact the State. However, this would result in some school districts retaining additional money while the charter schools would lose the money. This transfer of money would be offsetting. Currently, per §160.400.2 (2), a charter school may be operated in an urban school district containing most or all of a city with a population greater than 350,000 inhabitants (Kansas City Public Schools).

FISCAL IMPACT - State Government	FY 2019	FY 2020	FY 2021

ESTIMATED NET EFFECT ON SCHOOL DISTRICT FUNDS	$0	$0	$0

FISCAL IMPACT - Small Business

No direct fiscal impact to small businesses would be expected as a result of this proposal.

FISCAL DESCRIPTION

This bill excludes funds designated by taxpayers in an urban district as local early childhood education funds from the local tax revenue calculation used to provide funding to charter schools that have declared themselves as a local educational agency.

This bill contains an emergency clause.

This legislation is not federally mandated, would not duplicate any other program and would not require additional capital improvements or rental space.
