FISCAL ANALYSIS

ASSUMPTION

Officials from the Department of Labor and Industrial Relations (DOLIR) assume the Missouri Commission on Human Rights (MCHR) could absorb the increase in complaints with existing resources. However, if the number of additional cases was significant or additional legislation was enacted which increased other types of MCHR complaints, the impact could be substantial enough that the MCHR could not absorb additional work without additional resources and would request such through the appropriations process.

Officials from the Office of the Secretary of State (SOS) assume many bills considered by the General Assembly include provisions allowing or requiring agencies to submit rules and regulations to implement the act. The SOS is provided with core funding to handle a certain amount of normal activity resulting from each year's legislative session. The fiscal impact for this fiscal note to the Secretary of State's Office for Administrative Rules is less than $2,500. The SOS recognizes that this is a small amount and does not expect that additional funding would be required to meet these costs. However, SOS also recognizes that many such bills may be passed by the General Assembly in a given year and that collectively the costs may be in excess of what our office can sustain with our core budget. Therefore, we reserve the right to request funding for the cost of supporting administrative rules requirements should the need arise based on a review of the finally approved bills signed by the governor.

Oversight assumes the SOS could absorb the costs of printing and distributing regulations related to this proposal. If multiple bills pass which require the printing and distribution of regulations at substantial costs, the SOS could request funding through the appropriation process.

Officials from the Office of State Courts Administrator assume the proposal may have some impact but there is no way to quantify that currently. Any significant changes will be reflected in future budget requests.

Officials from the City of Columbia have had protections in place for both sexual orientation and gender identity for quite a while. If the law passes, the Missouri Commission on Human Rights might receive some complaints that may have been filed with the City. However, the impact really depends upon where a person chooses to file their complaint. The number of complaints traditionally has been quite low, so any impact is minimal.

ASSUMPTION (continued)

Officials from the University of Central Missouri assume the language change in and of itself does not pose a fiscal impact. However, if they are in a position to need to make modifications to public facilities to support anti discrimination policies, they may end up with significant fiscal impact in the re-purposing of facilities and programs.

Officials from the Summersville R2 School District assume the proposal will have an unknown fiscal impact.

Oversight assumes the local political subdivisions and schools would be compliant and would not be fiscally impacted by this proposal.

Officials from the Office of Administration-Personnel, Department of Transportation, and Missouri Department of Conservation each assume the proposal will have no fiscal impact on their respective organizations.

Officials from the St. Louis County Board of Election Commissioners, Jackson County Election Board, Platte County Board of Elections, St. Louis County, Boone County, and City of Kansas City each assume the proposal will have no fiscal impact on their respective organizations.

Officials from the University of Missouri, Missouri Western State University, and State Technical College of Missouri each assume the proposal will have no fiscal impact on their respective organizations.

Officials from the Kirkville R-III School District and West Plains Schools each assume the proposal will have no fiscal impact on their respective organizations.

FISCAL IMPACT - Small Business

Adding two new protected classes and expanding the definition of discrimination, this proposal could result in additional claims against businesses.

FISCAL DESCRIPTION

The proposed legislation appears to have no direct fiscal impact.

This legislation is not federally mandated, would not duplicate any other program and would not require additional capital improvements or rental space.
