FISCAL ANALYSIS

ASSUMPTION

In response to a previous version, HB 1099 (2019), officials from the Department of Higher Education assumed the proposal would have no fiscal impact on their organization.

Officials from State Technical College of Missouri assume there will be a positive fiscal impact on the college. The proposal would allow the college the opportunity to avoid capital expenditures related to constructing and maintaining new buildings by shifting that cost and risk to the private sector.

Officials from University of Missouri System assume this proposal had no significant cost impact on the university.

Officials from the Missouri State University assume the proposal will have no fiscal impact on their organization.

Oversight notes the competitive bidding process in section 227.601 requires a request for proposal to be published once a week for two consecutive weeks in a local newspaper and construction industry trade publication. Oversight assumes the publication costs would be minimal and therefore will not show a fiscal impact from this provision.

Oversight received a limited number of responses from colleges and universities related to the fiscal impact of this proposal. Oversight has presented this fiscal note on the best current information available. Upon the receipt of additional responses, Oversight will review to determine if an updated fiscal note should be prepared and seek the necessary approval to publish a new fiscal note.

Oversight notes that one college stated the proposal would have a positive fiscal impact on their organization. Oversight does not have any information to the contrary. Therefore, Oversight will show a range of impact to $0 (no long-term concession agreements) to an unknown savings from reduced capital expenditures. Oversight notes this proposal is permissive.

Oversight only reflects the responses that we have received from state agencies and political subdivisions; however, other colleges and universities were requested to respond to this proposed legislation but did not. For a general listing of political subdivisions included in our database, please refer to www.legislativeoversight.mo.gov.
