

HB 2425 -- RURAL ELECTRIC COOPERATIVES

SPONSOR: Rone

This bill authorizes rural cooperatives in third and fourth class cities with a population of less than 5,000 inhabitants to supply electric power if the municipality and the current electric provider have created a transition plan that provides for the purchase or lease of the current transmission infrastructure and the residents have voted to transition from their current electric provider to a rural electric cooperative.