FISCAL ANALYSIS

ASSUMPTION

Officials from the University of Missouri System assume the proposed bill allowing guns on campus would require additional investment in policing creating an annual impact greater than $100,000.

Officials from Missouri State University assume there is a negative fiscal impact of an undetermined amount.

Officials from State Technical College of Missouri and the University of Central Missouri each assume the proposal will have no fiscal impact on their respective organizations.

Based on the responses provided, Oversight will show a range of impact from $0 (the costs are minimal and can be absorbed) to an unknown cost to Colleges and Universities.

FISCAL DESCRIPTION

This bill authorizes those with proper endorsements or permits to carry concealed firearms to carry them on the premises of institutions of higher education. Such institutions may implement policies regarding permits to carry firearms, but these policies shall not extend to any general prohibition on carrying, chambering, active operation, or storage of concealed firearms. In addition, no contractual requirement or condition of employment regarding faculty, employees, or students shall generally prohibit the carrying, chambering, active operation, or storage of concealed firearms as such institutions. Higher education institutions shall not charge a tax, fee, or other monetary charge as a condition to lawfully possess and carry a firearm.

This legislation is not federally mandated, would not duplicate any other program and would not require additional capital improvements or rental space.
