FISCAL ANALYSIS

ASSUMPTION

Officials from the State Tax Commission and the Department of Revenue each assume the proposal will have no fiscal impact on their organization. Oversight does not have any information to the contrary. Therefore, Oversight will reflect a zero impact in the fiscal note for these agencies.

In response to the previous version, officials from the State Tax Commission assumed the notification requirements of the boards of equalization may create additional unknown administrative costs on local assessment officials.

Officials from the Lincoln County Assessor's Office assume the proposal will have no fiscal impact on their organization.

In response to the previous version, officials from the St. Louis County Assessor's Office stated there will be additional costs for postage, envelopes, paper and staffing as required to track and send verification of receipt of appeal applications. Note that more appeals are received in reassessment years. Appeals are received from the first week of May through the second Monday of July each calendar year. They calculated 5,000 appeals for both 2022 and 2024 and 27,000 appeals for 2023. Staff time is calculated at $20/hour for 100 hours in 2022 and 2024 and 350 hours in 2023. Envelopes cost $14.87 per 1,000. A case of paper with 10 reams of 500 sheets per ream costs $30.30 per case. Postage is $0.55 per stamp.

FY 2022: $4,854 FY 2023: $23,516 FY 2024: $4,854

If this proposal were to pass, this would increase costs and put more strain on the St Louis County Board of Equalization (BOE). The BOE already communicates with every individual that files an appeal by sending the notice of the appeal hearing date once scheduled. Taxpayers also can reach the BOE office by email, phone or in-person to inquire on the status of their appeal at any time.

In response to the previous version, officials from the City of St. Louis assume the proposal will have no fiscal impact on their organization.

In response to a similar proposal, HB 2451 (2020), officials from the St. Genevieve County Assessor's Office stated this responsibility is handled by the County Clerk, Secretary to the County Board of Equalization. They have confirmed with their office that notification is already being sent to a taxpayer filing an appeal with the BOE.

Oversight assumes this proposal could result in additional costs for some county assessors or county clerks; therefore, Oversight will show a potential unknown cost to local political subdivisions.

If passed Oversight notes this proposal would be effective August of 2021. Appeals are received May through July; therefore, Oversight will show costs beginning in FY 2022 (May 2022).

Oversight received a limited number of responses from county assessors and county clerks related to the fiscal impact of this proposal. Oversight has presented this fiscal note on the best current information available. Upon the receipt of additional responses, Oversight will review to determine if an updated fiscal note should be prepared and seek the necessary approval to publish a new fiscal note.

Oversight only reflects the responses that we have received from state agencies and political subdivisions; however, other county assessors and county clerks were requested to respond to this proposed legislation but did not. A general listing of political subdivisions included in our database is available upon request.
