Hey folks! My name is Aidan Derossett and, first and foremost, I'd just like to thank everyone for taking a moment to read and/or listen to my statement. To start I'd like to mention that I've been present, in one way or another, in local political spaces for at least half a decade. I started getting more involved while I was in college and would like to think that the Initiative Petition process is one of the MAJOR reasons that, as a young person, I'm still so engaged in our democratic process today. I've worked as a volunteer on a myriad of different ballot initiatives over the past few years and, thanks to those experiences, have a great appreciation for the extreme amount of effort that goes into engaging with our fellow voters and simply getting an initiative on the ballot (let alone passed). It takes thousands of volunteer hours, expansive state-wide efforts, and the full-time dedication of countless individuals; all just to reach what are already nearly unreachable signature qualification numbers. All that to say, the Initiative Petition process is already difficult enough to work with as it is. I firmly believe that adding any more barriers to this process, like those proposed in HJR25, would render it virtually UNUSABLE. These bills would effectively put an end to the rich direct democratic process that Missouri has protected since 1907. Not only that, but they would remove a critical avenue of engagement for local young voters—on all sides of the political spectrum—to have their voices heard and see the value of participating in the political process. Please stop trying to stifle our voices and evade the will of the people! We deserve a say in what issues make it on to the ballot. We deserve a legitimately usable process by which to promote and vote on issues important to us. We deserve better than HJR25.

No legislator should ever propose a standard for the general population of Missouri that the legislator refuses to hold for their colleagues in the general assembly. This amendment would hold legislator-initiated changes to a lower threshold than citizen-initiated changes. One positive aspect of this amendment is that it would reduce the signature gathering threshold from 8% of 2/3 of our Congressional districts to 7% of 2/3 of our Congressional districts. I would affirm that change, as it would likely reduce the amount of out-of-state money coming in to pay for signature collection.

I am against changing the initiative process. It works, (witness Hancock amendment, right to farm, the conservation department). Proposed attempts to increase necessary percentages will effectively kill the ability of citizens to directly participate in democracy. This is a transparent effort to subvert the will of the majority of the people of Missouri. Leave it alone.

HJR 24 and HJR 25 are the worst ideas of all. They:Are purposely deceptive.Require a majority of the registered voters to ratify an amendment proposed by petition. "Registered voters" would include every registered voter, even dead people and those who have moved out of state but not been purged from the database.Since we only have much more than a 50% turnout at the presidential general election, that's the ONLY time a constitutional amendment could be adopted.The governor gets to pick which ballot a proposed amendment goes on, so he or she would have ultimate veto power over the amendment.

To the Missouri House Election and Elected Officials Committee: The Missouri Sierra Club is in opposition to House Joint Resolution 25. The Missouri Sierra Club represents over 8,000 dues-paying members across the state who advocate for conservation, environmental, social justice, and democracy through grassroots efforts. We believe that every voter should have all the tools to exert their constitutional right to be involved in our democracy. Missouri's 115 year constitutional right to utilize the initiative petition to bring policy to the people of the state is a historic treasure and allows voters to participate in our democratic process. HJR 25 creates unnecessary and unwanted changes to our state's initiative petition process. HJR 25 increases the number of petition signatures needed before it even makes it to the ballot, raising the threshold to the petition to be signed by 7% of legal voters (U.S. citizens & residents who are registered to vote in MO), in each of the congressional districts in the state. This means campaigns will need to spend even more money, time, and resources for the people of Missouri to even be able to get an item to the ballot, which is already very difficult to manage under the current rules of our state's initiative petition process. This would effectively end possibilities of grassroots led petition campaigns and leave the door for only large money and special interests to utilize the system. Additionally, HJR 25 requires any constitutional amendment submitted via initiative to receive a number of votes greater than or equal to a majority of registered voters, not votes cast, in the state for approval, would make the passage of any amendment nearly impossible and impede on the people's ability to participate in this process. This is an attempt to make it harder for Missouri voters to pass legislation together, leads to minority rule, and is in direct opposition to our organization's values of an equitable and accessible democracy for all. According to research from the Missouri Scout, Missourians across the political spectrum want the initiative petition process to be made EASIER (40%) or LEFT ALONE (33%). The Sierra Club, Missouri Chapter has worked on numerous initiative petition campaigns over the past 50 years. This organization and our leadership understand how rigorous this process already is— you have to get hundreds of thousands of voters to sign on before a measure even gets considered for the ballot. Adding additional barriers does nothing more than censure the voice of the people. This is the people's tool to get things done. Adding additional barriers does nothing more than censure the voice of the people and thwart democracy. As Governor Ashcroft once said, "It is through the initiative process that those who have no influence with elective representatives may take their cause directly to the people. The General Assembly should be reluctant, therefore, to enact legislation which places any impediments on the initiative power which are inconsistent with the reservation found in the Constitution." The Missouri Sierra Club urges you to Vote NO on HJR 25.

Requiring a majority of registered voters to pass a constitutional amendment, rather than a majority of voters is absolutely ludicrous and go against common sense and precedent. The only result is to make it impossible to pass any initiative petition, conservative, liberal or neutral.

As a citizen of Missouri and an activist who has spent countless hours encouraging people to vote, I strongly oppose any legislation that makes it more difficult for Missouri citizens to get initiatives on the ballot and/or create higher thresholds for passing ballot initiatives. Missouri's initiative petition process has been used to represent the will of the people ON BOTH SIDES OF THE AISLE. This is the only recourse Missourians have when our public servants fail to address issues that are important to us. The current system which entails getting hundreds of thousand of votes to be considered for the ballot is already rigorous (as it should be). Have you ever stood on a street corner or knocked doors in an effort to get support for a cause or a candidate (or for yourself?) I imagine many of you have and thus you understand how hard you work for every issue, for every vote, for every signature. One can easily extrapolate that to the already complex and lengthy process it takes to obtain signatures for a statewide ballot initiative. In other words, it's already difficult- we don't need you to make it more so. If Republican legislators continue to support and eventually pass this legislation, they will reap what they sow. An electorate who will easily identify that their Republican legislators have upended the Missouri Constitution in an attempt to weaken the influence of the very people who put them in Jeff City.

The initiative petition process is amongst the purest forms of democratic participation. For more than a century, Missouri citizens across the political spectrum have been able to have their voices heard through the initiative petition process. The Missouri constitution guarantees: "The people reserve power to propose and enact or reject laws and amendments to the constitution by the initiative, independent of the general assembly." The process already requires a high threshold of signatures from registered voters to get a proposal on the ballot. Missourians across the political spectrum have used and benefited from the citizen initiative process. Measures passed by a majority - as is currently the case - reflect the will of the people. Making it more difficult - as these bills do - undermines the will of the people. Representatives should be supporting the will of the people - that's what we elected you for.

I oppose this change to the initiative petition process because it makes it more difficult for Missourians to engage in direct democracy. The recent legislature is notorious for not considering the will of the people and passing policy that harms Missourians in need of workplace protections, social services, and full and fair access to elections. These bills expand our long held practice of majority rule that is defined as 50% plus one. Placing higher thresholds for getting initiative petitions on the ballot and passing ballot measures into law limits the will of the people. It is already extremely difficult, time consuming, and costly to get initiatives on the ballot. Majority rule in Missouri should be maintained and defined as it always has, equal to or greater than half votes cast.

I support Concurrent Majority Ratification (CMR) for HJR 30, to require that two conditions be met before a proposed amendment is ratified or adopted: 1 Oppose HJR 43, 18, 24 & 25. Justification for HJR 30:1. A majority of voters, statewide with have to vote "yes" AND ALSO2. A majority of voters in each of more than half the 163 state House districts would have to vote "yes." This concurrent majority concept is actually the standard way of making public policy in America. States vote to ratify amendments to the U.S. Constitution – we don't take a national popular vote. The Electoral College – we don't elect the president by a national popular vote. Two U.S. Senators per state, no matter the size of the state. Bicameral legislatures. Members of the House of Representatives (both U.S. and state) represent geographic districts. Amending the state Constitution with merely a statewide popular vote is the exception – it is virtually the ONLY way we make "law" that is not by concurrent majority. (State statutes are sometimes also adopted by a statewide popular vote, but there remains a concurrent majority "check" on them, since the legislature can amendment them.)

THE INFORMATION ON THIS FORM IS PUBLIC RECORD UNDER CHAPTER 610, RSMo.

The state of Missouri has had a citizen initiative petition system for over 100 years, allowing regular folks to exercise the people’s power when lawmakers won’t. It’s a tried-and-true process that in recent years has led voters to raise Missouri’s minimum wage and expand Medicaid. But those who say it’s been a tool for liberal interests to bypass the Legislature – including some current state lawmakers who want to “reform” the process – should take a broader view beyond the recent past. Since 1907, Missourians have also used ballot measures to create the state’s nationally recognized Conservation Commission to manage fish, game and wildlife resources; enshrine the Right to Farm in the Missouri Constitution; and set constitutional limits on state and local taxation and spending, among other conservative efforts. The current requirement to pass an initiative petition is a simple majority, whether initiated by citizens or added to the ballot by lawmakers. No fewer than 20 different pieces of legislation in Jefferson City would make that more difficult, including one fast-moving bill which increases that threshold to 67 percent. This wouldn’t “reform” the process – it would effectively eliminate any chance of a successful citizen-led effort. So would increasing the minimum-signature threshold. The process is hardly the cakewalk critics describe. In the past 115 years, only 40 percent of citizen-initiated constitutional amendments succeeded (28 of 69). Thousands more proposed initiatives never received enough signatures to even qualify for the ballot. Thirty years ago, then-Gov. John Ashcroft, a Republican, rejected a similar effort by the Democratic majority in the General Assembly to drastically curtail citizen power to make laws. Here’s what Ashcroft – father of current Missouri Secretary of State Jay Ashcroft – had to say in his veto message of that attempt: “It is through the initiative process that those who have no influence with elected representatives may take their cause directly to the people.” “The General Assembly should be reluctant, therefore, to enact legislation which places any impediments on the initiative power which are inconsistent with the reservation found in the Constitution.” Adding these obstacles is unnecessary, unfair and should not be enacted. Our 100-plus years of citizen petition process has worked; please do not change what is NOT broken.

Madame Chairperson and Members of the Committee, Since 1907, Missouri voters from all sides of the political spectrum have used the ballot initiative process to advance their priorities. It is a cherished tool of direct democracy for the people of Missouri. Despite its popularity, the process has been used only rarely for major changes requested by the citizens when the state legislature has been unresponsive to their priorities. The changes to the initiative petition process that HJR25 proposes would, in essence, preclude any initiative petition from becoming law. To me, this bill is the most insidious of all of the bills proposing changes to the initiative process this session because it is the most devious. It sounds simple and, on the surface, perhaps even reasonable but, make no mistake, it would kill the initiative petition just as effectively as all the others. Why should lawmakers resort to counting votes in different ways in order to thwart the will of the people? Why not address the issues that matter to their constituents? Then they might see that the initiative petition process would be used even less frequently than it already is because the government would be responsive to the will of the people as it was designed. I respectfully urge the committee to deny this bill passage out of committee.

The Jewish Community Relations Council (JCRC), guided by Jewish values, advocates, educates, collaborates and mobilizes action on issues important to the Jewish community, 60,000 strong in St. Louis. We are committed to pursuing religious tolerance, civic discourse and social justice in St. Louis and beyond. The Sage Hillel taught "Al tifros min hatzibur," Do not separate yourself from the community (Pirke Avot 2:5). Moreover, it is our responsibility to play an active role in our community and in choosing its leaders. Rabbi Yitzhak taught that "A ruler is not to be appointed unless the community is first consulted" (Babylonian Talmud Berachot 55a). Rabbi Yitzhak further explained that in the Torah, Bezalel could be chosen to build the Tabernacle only with the community's approval. This deeply embedded ethic of political participation has guided Jews to enthusiastically participate in the American electoral process. These Resolutions make it difficult for our people and all people in our state to participate in the electoral process. Our state constitution gives us the right to initiate legislative action through the petition process. This already onerous and costly process, has helped our community achieve some of its policy objectives, including making health care available to more of our citizens. By making it more difficult to certify a petition both by increasing the number of signatures required, increasing the threshold for approval of the initiative from a simple majority to two-thirds of the voters, and limiting initiative petitions to only general election ballots, these changes will make the ballot initiative process too expensive and burdensome for many grassroots efforts - effectively removing power from the people. As people of faith, we oppose any efforts that challenge our ability to participate in the electoral process and ask you to oppose the bills.

We oppose this Resolution.HJR 25 is an insult to the intelligence of Missourians AND to the very notion of liberty and election integrity.HJR 25 is one of the worst proposals of all: It:It is purposely deceptive.Requires a majority of the REGISTERED voters to ratify an amendment proposed by petition. "Registered voters" would include every registered voter, even dead people and those who have moved out of state but not been purged from the database.Since we only have much more than a 50% turnout at the presidential general election, that's the ONLY time a constitutional amendment could be adopted.The governor gets to pick which ballot a proposed amendment goes on, so he or she would have ultimate veto power over the amendment.As such, we ask that this Resolution be OPPOSED.

I am against making it harder for the voters to pass initiatives These have been used to enact very important rights and laws. Sometimes these do not pass and sometimes I vote against them. Sometimes the legislature ignores the will of the people as expressed in the vote on an initiative. I understand that and understand that some of these items rejected by the legislature become better laws because of that rejection like happened with the puppy mills. But I want to continue to see my desires become reality. I vote for people for many reasons but I can vote for ideas independent of those reasons. I think the people make valid choices and should be able to continue to do so without a super-majority vote.

Stop trying to restrict the will of citizens to participate in the processes of government. We have a right and a duty to actively be involved in the function of legislation. I'm sorry that you can't have your own way without the interference of the citizens you pretend to represent.

The purpose of this bill and bills like are to take power away from the people, inching us closer and closer to authoritarian rule buy a group of individuals who are fuel their reelections with lies and disinformation. 170,000 in person signatures is more than enough of a challenge for any group or group of individuals to then have access to the will of the people. 27% of registred voters elected Eric Schmitt to the US Senate in the state of Missouri maybe we should also change our elctions to require a majority of voters like this bill would require for the initative processIf you, the politician, would do your job, bills like this would not be necessary. I strongly appose this bill and others like it.

I oppose any bill that will make it more difficult for the people of Missouri to participate and engage in government. The Initiative Petition process gives power to the people when the legislature refuses to listen. Because of blatant gerrymandering, many of us have no valid representation in the legislature or the senate. The IP is our only way forward. For the past 20 years, our voices have been diminished to the point of near silence. It is time to restore power to us, not further erode it. I urge you to oppose these bills. Let them die in committee.

Our current system of amending the state Constitution does a very poor job of protecting the rights of minority interests and preventing tyranny of the majority. In the last election Amendment 3 was ratified with just 16 of the 116 jurisdiction (counties, more or less) in mostly urban areas voting "yes". The other 100 said no! Concurrent Majority Ratification would require the two conditions be met before a proposed amendment is ratified: 1) a majority of voters statewide vote "yes" AND 2) a majority of voters in each of half the 163 state House districts vote "yes". This is actually the standard way of making policy in America. Stop this bad bill!

The Missouri Voter Protection Coalition (MOVPC) submits this testimony in opposition to HJRs 24 and 25. This resolution undermines Missouri’s long-standing and well-functioning citizen initiative process by making it harder for citizens to place measures on the ballot and by raising the threshold for passage to near impossible levels. This would effectively exclude all but the most well-funded efforts from participation, and silence the voices of Missouri’s citizens of all political persuasions, who have relied on the citizen initiative process to advance ideas across the political spectrum. We should be encouraging citizen participation, not limiting it. The Missouri Voter Protection Coalition is Missouri’s statewide nonpartisan network of voter advocates who work to advance the right to vote in Missouri through policy advocacy, strategic litigation, voter education and coordination of the statewide nonpartisan Election Protection program. Through the collective experience of our 50+ partner organizations and nationally recognized expertise of our leaders and partners, over the last 15 years, we have provided this Committee with analysis and assessment of how legislation before the committee stands to impact access to the ballot for Missouri’s voters. HJRs 24 and 25 strike at the heart of representative government. These resolutions: Proposes changing the signature requirements to place measures on the ballot by requiring signatures from 7% of voters (rather than 8% currently) in all 8 Congressional districts. Proposes dramatically (and confusingly) increasing the threshold for passage to require a majority of all registered voters in the state, not a majority of votes cast. This means that election that have a 50 percent turnout or less - no measure could pass, even if it received widespread majority support. This dramatically upends the will of the people. ?Sets forth a needless limiting definition of legal voter to “only” U.S. Citizens. Citizenship is of course already a requirement to be eligible to vote, and Missouri’s Constitution properly reflects the right to vote for “all” of Missouri’s citizens, reflecting the fundamental value we place on the right to vote for all our state’s citizens. It should remain so. We should not limit citizen participation as these resolutions propose. The initiative petition process is amongst the purest forms of democratic participation. About half the states have an initiative petition process. For more than a century, access to the citizen initiative process has allowed for a voter engagement on a range issues by Missouri voters across the political spectrum - conservative, progressive and everything in between. The citizen initiative process provides a manner for direct participation. It promotes civic engagement and encourages citizens to discuss issues with one another. It promotes accountability between the government and the governed. But for this potential to be realized, it must be actual — by not erecting undue barriers to participation. The First Amendment to the U.S. Constitution provides: “Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or abridging the freedom of speech, or of the press; or the right of the people peaceably to assemble, and to petition the government for a redress of grievances.” Creating a prerequisite for ballot measures that is too high for all but the wealthiest and paid supported measures, and establishing a passage threshold that ignores the will of a majority of Missouri’s voters belies the First Amendment’s promise. Missouri’s initiative petition process allows its citizens to effectuate the the Constitution’s guarantee and ensures the ability for all Missourians to have a voice in their government. Lawmakers should applaud Missouri’s initiative process that encourages participation across the political spectrum, and eschew efforts to make direct participation more difficult and elusive for Missouri’s citizens. Democracy only functions with robust citizen participation. Missourians deserve nothing less. Accordingly, we urge you to reject these and other resolutions that further constrict democratic participation in the state of Missouri.

HJR25 increases the threshold for passage of a constitutional amendment to require a majority of all registered voters in the state instead of a majority of votes cast. This is another attempt to diminish the voice of the voter as it would make it much more difficult for an everyday voter to affect real change. Lawmakers should reject efforts to make direct democracy more difficult.

I believe in the foundational principle of American democracy: Checks and balances. These bills would all weaken the check We the People have over our legislature. These bills expand the power of government, weaken the ability of Missourians to be civically involved, and would lead to the adoption of worse policy that many Missourians don't want. I share concerns that we are resorting to amending our state's constitution too often, but the solution to that problem is making the proposition process more effective and less subject to immediate changes pushed by the legislature, not effectively eliminating one of the most important constitutional checks we have on government power in Missouri. I ask you to vote no on all these bills.

My name is Elizabeth Franklin, Plattsburg MO and I am submitting the following regarding House Joint Resolution No. 25. I do not support this House Joint Resolution and am respectively submitting testimony in opposition. The ballot initiative process is rigorous. Currently only 40% of the constitutional amendments placed on the ballot via citizen petition initiative have passed, proof that the process is demanding and requires much thought by Missouri voters and exceedingly hard work by interest groups who want an initiative on the ballot. The proposed change for passage of citizen petition constitutional amendments from a majority of votes cast to a majority of REGISTERED voters is not realistic. This legislation could result in the following scenario: if 10,000 voters are registered when an initiative is placed on the ballot, 5001 must vote to pass this initiative. That means if 4000 total votes are CAST, the passage of the constitutional amendment is impossible even if 100% of those who CAST a vote support the measure. Moreover, the two-tier system whereby the General Assembly can place a constitutional amendment on the ballot and passage requires majority of votes CAST, NOT the majority of registered voters is simply despicable. This very clearly says to Missourians that the citizen-initiated constitutional amendments proposals need “more scrutiny”, and an unreasonably high level of votes as if citizen ideas are not as worthy as those of the General Assembly. The General Assembly should listen to our former Gov. John Ashcroft’s statement when he vetoed efforts to suppress the use of the ballot initiative: “It is through the initiative process that those who have no influence with elective representatives may take their cause directly to the people. The General Assembly should be reluctant, therefore, to enact legislation which places any impediments on the initiative power which are inconsistent with the reservation found in the constitution.” Moreover, Mr. Carl Bearden’s Opinion piece printed in the Kansas City Star on 20 February 2022, captures the “desperate power grab” by politicians in our state. Points from his excellent and relevant opinion piece are provided below and full article may be found on KC Star website. Mr. Bearden states the case in opposition to changes in the initiative petition process much more pointedly and is again provided for your information. By Carl Bearden Special to The Star Updated February 20, 2022 5:05 AM OPINION AND COMMENTARY – Partial Text “Attacks on the ballot initiative petition process in Missouri are not new — and usually arise after an issue passes that the party in power does not like. It happened in the late 1980s and early 1990s under Democratic majorities, and is happening once again under Republican majorities. Neither party was, or is, correct. The initiative process is a power and freedom that we the people have reserved to ourselves to check and be independent of the General Assembly. Elected lawmakers and wealthy special interests want to rig this system, preferring instead to keep all the power to themselves by making it harder for Missourians to place important reforms on the ballot. The freedom to have a say on important issues is a fundamental right — and Missouri’s 115-year-old ballot measure process allows voters to circumvent partisan divides and directly get things done for the people. Efforts to modernize the initiative petition process are perfectly acceptable, including digitizing the paperwork and avoiding superfluous submissions through a minimal refundable filing fee. But the legislature should resist further changes that would create massive roadblocks to access or inject politics into the people's use of their reserved power. For example, Senate Joint Res. 31 would raise approval and signature thresholds to practically unattainable levels. This would effectively cut off use of the process for in-state volunteer and grassroots efforts, reserving it only for those with money and resources from large national groups. What cannot change is the fundamental principle associated with an issue. Gov. Ashcroft laid out the principle of protecting and not impeding access to the initiative process by the people in his veto statement. That principle remains unchanged today."Former Rep. Carl Bearden, a Republican, represented part of St. Charles County (District 16) in the Missouri House of Representatives. Bearden served in a number of capacities during his tenure in the House. He was the Speaker Pro Tem and Chairman of the House Budget Committee. Thank you for the opportunity to submit testimony.

Since 1907, Missouri's constitution has guaranteed, "The people reserve power to propose and enact or reject laws and amendments to the constitution by the initiative, independent of the general assembly." The initiative petition process is an important tool of direct democracy that allows us to maintain our freedom to have a say on important issues. The Missouri legislatures' interest in making the initiative petition process more difficult is a power grab that evades the will of the people. For their personal gain, these elected officials and wealthy special interests seek to make it harder for citizens to place important issues on the ballot, more difficult to pass initiatives, and easier to overturn the public's vote.

I want the citizen's initiative process preserved. Although the description that appears on the petitions and ballots could be more objective. I worked for the Clean Missouri initiative to reform redistricting, but I noticed that the popular restrictions on lobbyists were listed first and the more important redistricting reform last. The ballot to repeal that initiative did the same thing, putting a token lobbyist restriction first. In both cases it looked like the description was manipulated to make it pass. Also, it might be good to have a modest limit to the percentage of paid initiative signature gatherers, to insure some popular support for the initiative, maybe 50%. Gerrymandering of districts has made the Legislature less representative of the people than it should be, The citizen's initiative returns some of the power to the people.

• It is purposely deceptive. • Require a majority of the registered voters to ratify an amendment proposed by petition. “Registered voters” would include every registered voter, even dead people and those who have moved out of state but not been purged from the database. • Since we only have much more than a 50% turnout at the presidential general election, that’s the ONLY time a constitutional amendment could be adopted. • The governor gets to pick which ballot a proposed amendment goes on, so he or she would have ultimate veto power over the amendment.

Good Day, I am a Golden Life member of both the NAACP and Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Inc., a public service sisterhood founded on Christian principles. I have visited the Missouri Capitol several times over the years. Specifically, I traveled from Kansas City as part of our Social Action Committee's annual Delta Days at the Missouri State Capital and more recently as an advocate of Medicaid Expansion. Delta was founded in 1913 at Howard University in Washington, DC. Our first social action was marching down Pennsylvania Avenue for women's suffrage soon thereafter. Communities Creating Opportunities and other faith-based and community organizations sponsored bus trips to the Missouri State Capital in Jefferson City in support of Medicaid Expansion for citizens caught in the Affordable Health Care gap. I was impressed with the historic art of the edifice and accessibility to the legislative process. The hallowed halls were lined with pictures of public servants I respect such as Senator Yvonne Wilson and Representatives Mary Groves Bland, Bill Gray, Jackie McGee and others. These and others live up to their title, The Honorable. Years before, I wrote to The Honorable Governor John Ashcroft who went on to serve as US Senator and US Attorney General. I urged him to sign the bill on his desk passed by a progressive Missouri House and Senate to divest Missouri funds in an international response to apartheid in South Africa and then enforce the law he signed when the MOSERS Board refused to comply almost 5 years later. I was surprised, both times, he did the honorable thing after I appealed to him citing Old Testament references in the name of Jesus. I supposed as a Republican, he would not sign the Democratic led divestment bill into law. Little did I know, he was the son of a Pentecostal preacher and was not Jewish as I assumed. I try to leave judging people to the Lord God Almighty now. Bishop Desmond Tutu visited UMKC and praised Missouri's forward thinking in this important fight for human rights. Divestment did not cost the state any money as was predicted. In fact, funds increased. Nelson Mandela was subsequently released from prison after 27 years and went on to vote for the first time in a presidential election he won. GLORY TO GOD. I still do not understand how Medicaid Expansion could not pass the Missouri legislature. How could a reasonable group of people refuse federal funding to comply with federal law? This was in deference to public health! Many have benefited from Affordable Health Care (aka, Obama Care) especially during the COVID-19 pandemic. Missouri is now one of 39 Medicaid Expansion states (39 as of 2021). THE PETITION INITIATIVE PROCESS MUST BE MAINTAINED AS IS. It is an important check to the partisan politics I saw evident in Medicaid Expansion. The failure of the Missouri legislature to act in the best interests of our citizenry that time was countered by this process to get the issue on the ballot and passed with the current percentage of signatures in the current number of Congressional Districts with the current simple majority. HJR18, -24, -25, 30 and 43 are not in the best interests of our democratic process. The process which already requires a high threshold of signatures has served us well. A two-thirds majority on any ballot decision or election is unrealistic. How many legislators could garner 2/3 of the vote from their home constituencies? Amazed by His

There is nothing wrong with the current initiative petition process in Missouri. In fact, it is a model for other states in the country. Place a ballot initiative is not an easy task. Raising the threshold for signatures makes this task even harder. For anyone who has seen the campaigns to collect signatures, these are massive undertakings and not easy to pull off. The current system works well and should not be made harder for Missouri citizens to participate in their government with little 'd' democracy.

An initiative proposal rises when the public senses that certain changes to Missouri’s laws are needed so that we can survive and surmount deep adversities. The United States has fine channels for evaluating and distributing information, and if a broad section of Missourians sees a problem and a feasible solution that the Legislature has not addressed and dealt with, then our present initiative process provides a way for Missourians to move us beyond an unacceptable bog-down. I have spent many hours as a volunteer gathering signatures on a busy shopping street. When I can get ten signatures an hour, that tells me that a good percentage of the public shares my sense that the proposed initiative needs to be on the ballot. The initiative process serves to reduce great disparities between the will of the public and the will of Legislators who can be excessively influenced by the money power of special interests. The initiative process is not a cakewalk that can clutter Missouri’s statutes with frivolous matters. In the past 115 years, only 40 percent of citizen-initiated constitutional amendments succeeded (28 of 69). Thousands more proposed initiatives never received enough signatures to even qualify for the ballot. Therefore I believe that the present features of Missouri’s initiative process are well in balance as part of government of, by, and for the people. In our present time of rising threats to broad-based liberties and prosperity, it would reflect poorly on the judgment of the 2023 Missouri Legislature if our initiative process were changed as the present bills propose to do.

This new IP process would make it nearly impossible for the average districts to get on the ballot due to certain districts being heavily leaning another way. Plus, it would require more signatures overall, which would make it prohibitive for groups who do not have the money to pay collectors, and would let the wealthy make the rules. Also, it should read: "US citizens registered and LIVING in Missouri." No dead people or out-of-state voters.

Voters from all sides of the political spectrum have used the ballot initiative process to advance their priorities. The ballot initiative process is the only recourse voters have when politicians fail to address the issues that matter to them. This tool has been used by conservatives, progressives, moderates, and independents. No reason to make it more difficult now.

This should be defeated/withdrawn because it doubles the signatures required to put a question on the ballot, so only the deep-pocket special interests, not grassroots efforts, will have a chance. It also raises the ratification threshold to a 2/3 vote. That means urban areas will have veto power over the amendment process, leaving no real check on the courts' powers.

Is purposely deceptive. Require a majority of the registered voters to ratify an amendment proposed by petition. "Registered voters" would include every registered voter, even dead people and those who have moved out of state but not been purged from the database. Since we only have much more than a 50% turnout at the presidential general election, that's the ONLY time a constitutional amendment could be adopted. The governor gets to pick which ballot a proposed amendment goes on, so he or she would have ultimate veto power over the amendment.

Each of the bills up for consideration in this committee today have one simple aim — to restrict the rights of Missourians to place initiatives on the ballot. Missouri has a strong initiative process, and (as you know) it works exceedingly well. The motivation for these bills is quite clear: the initiative process has led to policy outcomes not preferred by the legislative majority. It is appalling that the natural response to this is to essentially remove the single most democratic way to change the law in this state. I urge you to vote no on behalf of the vast majority of Missouri voters who still wish to have a voice in their government.

"We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness." One of these rights stated in our constitution is the Right to Petition. All of the above bills propose stricter regulations and requirements that would make our right to petition nigh impossible without the right connections or political standing. If you care at all for the values and rights of our country, of which the men and women of Missouri have graciously sacrificed their time, and often their lives, to protect- you must and will vote no on all of the above. As your constituents, we implore you to do so.

January 23, 2023 Dear Chairperson McGaugh and Members of the Elections and Elected Officials Committee, I am writing to you in opposition to the following Bills: HB's 43, 18, 30, 24 and 25. All five of these bills are an affront to one of the most precious parts of our Missouri Constitution – the right to use the initiative process as a means of participating in direct democracy. Each of these bills will make it harder to use the initiative petition process. Increasing the number of signatures required, increasing the number of congressional districts required for gathering signatures, increasing the number of votes required to pass, and tying the number of votes required to voter registration rather than votes cast in an election are just a few examples of the ways in which these bills interfere with our constitutional right to participate in direct democracy. Please don't use the excuse that it is too easy to get an initiative petition on the ballot. The historical data will show you that this is not true. It is already difficult to get a petition on the ballot. Please remember that every eligible voter in Missouri has an opportunity to vote in support of or in opposition to an initiative petition when an election occurs. You are denying the opportunity for these voters to have a voice in support of or against an initiative petition when you make it impossible to put a citizen initiated petition on the ballot. Joan Gentry Springfield, MO 65807

The initiative petition process is a check the voters have on political tyranny. That is not hyperbolic, its simple true. I understand that the Missouri legislature doesn't like being usurped but in some issues, it is required. I've heard your arguments about it being "too easy" to place something on the ballot that changes the Missouri constitution, but we all now that's hogwash. It's not "easy" to collect the mandatory 170,000+ signatures — by hand, not online — to get a proposal on the ballot. It's not "easy" to mount a grassroots campaign to educate voters about an initiative. You know what's easy? Passing legislation with a super majority in the legislature and party control in the governor's mansion. That's easy. People already often feel powerless and unheard by their representatives. Making it exceptionally harder for voters to directly address key issues, restraining their voices, is the wrong thing to do. Anyone paying attention sees for what it truly is, your attempt to wrestle even more power away from everyday Missourians so it can be consolidated into the hands of political elites. I urge you to vote this madness down.

Do not take away the right of Missourians to directly influence our government. This is supposed to be a small government state, beholden to the people. Have you strayed so far from that ideal, that you feel the need to remove public participation from government any way that you can? This is shameful behavior from people meant to represent us. You can and must do better, the voters are watching.

I am AGAINST HJR 25 to modify the Initiative Petition process or to amend the MO Constitution. A true Democracy encourages its voters to actively participate in voting. The effort to modify or amend the current Initiative Process for petitions and referendums makes it more difficult for residents of MO to have their opinions heard and laws created. The effort to amend the MO Constitution for this reason is reprehensible. Thank you. Judith Campbell

The Missouri constitution guarantees: "The people reserve power to propose and enact or reject laws and amendments to the constitution by the initiative, independent of the general assembly." The initiative petition and constitutional amendment process is sufficient as it currently exists and any attempt to change or further limit it is an attempt by the legislature to remove power and voice from the people of Missouri.

I am thoroughly confused as to why the MO legislators are trying to make it more difficult for us, the citizens you represent, to have our voices heard! Our MO constitution guarantees this right-don't you want to uphold our constitution?! It is already VERY difficult to go through all the steps required to get a citizen initiated petition on the ballot s an amendment-you don't need to lose the respect of your citizens by making it harder yet. YOU work for US, the people of Missouri. Show us that you want to know what is important in our lives, not just what you think should be important.

Need to leave the initiative process alone & let Missourians have their say. This has been an ongoing problem since the "puppy mill" bill. Legislature overturned the will of the people & we are again the worst State for bad dog breeders. These restrictions on the voter's use of the Initiative Petition would have to go to the voters to approve as a Constitutional Amendment. Can you imagine the strategy of the opposition? They would make a list of ballot issues passed recently by Initiative Petition. They will point out that these popular measures would not have passed if the proposed restrictions had been in place. People who supported any of these measures will band together and get out to oppose your restrictive measures. People over 30 remember the Legislature gutting the Puppy mill law they had passed and are willing to Amend the Constitution to keep the Legislature from negating their vote. Missouri Marijuana users know they owe it to the Initiative Petition process. The previously uninsured and their families know Medicaid Expansion came the same way. ANY Initiative Petition restriction will go down in defeat. The Legislature will be labeled as a pack of anti-democratic schemers. You don't want that backlash. Let these restrictions die here in committee. Respect the voters. Respect democracy.

This measure would require an affirmative vote by a majority of Registered Missouri voters. This is a nearly impossible hurdle. Let's do the Math. According to the MO Secretary of State's website, there were 4,338,133 registered voters in 2020, a Presidential Election year. A majority of all registered voters would then be 2,169,067 in 2020. Presidential Elections draw out the largest numbers of voters, and Donald Trump garnered 1,718,736 votes to beat Joe Biden with 56.8% of the vote. Since only 3,025,962 voters marked a Presidential ballot in 2020, getting half of all the register voters, 2,169,067, would mean you needed 2,169,066 / 3,025,962 or 71.7% of the turnout. That is a ridiculously high bar, exceeding even the 2/3 some other measures would require. Trump's win was 1,718,736 out of 4,338,133 all registered voters or 39,6 % of all the registered voters, and that was enough to elect a president. Requiring a majority of all registered voters for an initiative petition or any election is unreasonable.

This bill would require a majority of all registered voters to approve a constitutional amendment through an initiative petition. This is an impossibly high standard that is not applied to any other election in our state, or anywhere else I'm aware of. Perhaps we should require legislators and state officials to be elected by a majority of all registered voters.

House Elections and Elected Officials Committee ATTN: Chair Peggy McGaugh January 24th, 2023 Representative McGaugh, Thank you in advance for the opportunity to testify. On behalf of Action St. Louis Power Project, I would like to express our opposition to all bills submitted today that seek to limit democracy in our state. I offer this testimony to highlight the fundamental flaws of HJR 18, 24, 25, 30, and 43 and to strongly urge the legislature to vote no on the resolution which will make it more difficult for Missourians to enact change through our democratic process. Missouri was born from the depths of direct democracy. Since its conception in 1875, our state's constitution has reserved the right for people to "propose and enact or reject laws and amendments to the constitution by the initiative, independent of the general assembly." It is contradictory to our innately representative government for our state leaders to be focused on adding obstacles for Missourians to participate in the democratic process. Since its adoption in 1945, the current constitution has been amended more than 200 times. Each of these proposals has required 50% + 1 of the vote in order to pass. Each of the bills heard today proposes changing our long-established initiative petition rules by requiring a supermajority, or 2/3rds of the vote, setting a nearly impossible threshold for passage. Measures proposed and supported by a vast majority of Missourians would not pass into law, obliterating the very fundamentals that are enshrined in our state constitution. The ballot initiative petition process is about checks and balances and serves as an important part of our democracy by giving voters the freedom to have a say on the laws that govern us. Systematically denying voters the opportunity to use this tool is anti-democratic. Furthermore, the proposed changes are hypocritical in nature as they require citizen-proposed initiatives to obtain a supermajority to pass. At the same time, each chamber can refer a constitutional amendment to the ballot with a simple majority. HJR 24 & 25 seek to increase the threshold for passage from the majority of votes cast to the majority of registered voters. The Missouri Centralized Voter Registration list as of November of 2020 states that Missouri has 4,338,133 registered voters. The 2022 General Election showed a return of 2,069,130 voter turnout, which equates to about 47%. With less than half of all registered voters turning out to vote, this is a clear ploy to make sure that the will of the people is silenced. The bills heard in committee today threaten the independence of the initiative process. This resolution will silence Missourians by making direct participation more difficult. For these reasons, Action St. Louis Power Project firmly opposes HJR 18, 24, 25, 30, and 43 and urges members of the committee to vote no. Marcel R. Hagens Policy Coordinator Action St. Louis Power Project

Vote NO on ALL of these bills! These bills make it more difficult for YOUR constituents to issues on the ballot yet YOU get to maintain an easy way to do the same. Why are YOUR wishes more important than the collective voices of your constituents who voted for you to support their voices? The ballot initiative has allowed citizens to protect and increase our rights. Why do YOU want to take that away from your constituents? Stop making it more difficult to get issues on the ballot! Let the citizens of Missouri decide rather than not even being allowed to vote on what matters to them. Again, VOTE NO ON ALL THESE BILLS!!!

I disagree with the proposed legislation that would limit initiative petitions. MO's citizen initiatives have rigorous requirements that fairly allow individuals to vote and be represented with their choices. We have a voice now which is what we need. But legislators want that to change. If these proposed measures are passed it would make it harder for citizens to place a proposed measure on the ballot and make it nearly impossible for citizen initiatives to pass once they are on the ballot. Please vote against this.

We support the initiative petition process that has been in place and has promoted citizen participation in the democratic process in Missouri for the past century. We oppose the five bills that are scheduled to be heard at noon on January 24, all with language adversely impacting the initiative petition process. HJR 18 – would require signatures from all 8 Congressional districts rather than 2/3 currently and takes away the Governor’s right to call the election. To pass would require a 2/3 vote. HJR 25 – reduces to 7% the number of signatures needed, in all 8 Congressional Districts, BUT would require the initiative petition to be approved by a majority of ALL registered voters, not just those voting, an impossible task. HJR 30 – would require a simple majority BUT would need to pass in 51%, a majority of state House Districts. HJR 24 – reduces to 7% the number of signatures needed, in all 8 Congressional Districts, BUT would need to be approved by a majority of ALL registered voters, not just those voting, an impossible task. HJR 43 – would require 10% signatures in all 8 Congressional Districts for a Constitutional amendment, 5% of all 8 for a statutory change, requires the Secretary of State to have a period for review and comment from citizens, and require a 2/3 vote to approve. As you, representatives of the people of Missouri and members of the House Committee on Election and Elected Officials, hear testimony on these bills, please consider these points of importance to us:

- Initiative Petition gives citizens the opportunity to directly participate in democracy,
- Already requires a high threshold of signatures to get a proposal on the ballot,
- Citizens of all political parties have used and benefited from the citizen initiative process,
- These bills take away the rights of citizens as enshrined in the Missouri Constitution.

I DO NOT support making it more restrictive for the people of Missouri to place an amendment to the Constitution on the ballot, nor to place a statutory change on the ballot. I also DO NOT agree to make it more difficult for the people of Missouri to place an amendment to the Constitution on the ballot or place a statutory change on the ballot. I don't see why we have to make this more complicated! Why do we need to change the threshold, whether it's the % or the congressional districts. At the end of the day, this gets voted on by all the people of Missouri! I also DO NOT support making it more restrictive to pass any measure referred to the people, by initiative petition or by the General Assembly by changing it FROM simple majority. Elected officials are not elected by 2/3 of the vote! We also DO NOT require elected officials to receive approval from a number of votes greater than or equal to a majority of registered voters in order to pass. It seems to me there is a double standard here. I DO NOT agree with making it difficult for people of Missouri to be heard. What we have today works for the people of Missouri. This is a checks and balance process. We need a fair way for the people of Missouri to have a direct say in the governance process. I do not want to give up my right to propose changes and allow my fellow Missourians to weigh in. Please DO NOT make it more difficult for us.

This requires a majority of registered voters to pass; dead or alive registered voters. Since our voter turnout sometimes is 50% or less, it makes it impossible to ratify an amendment.

THE INFORMATION ON THIS FORM IS PUBLIC RECORD UNDER CHAPTER 610, RSMo.

Missouri House of Representatives Elections and Elected Officials Committee January 24, 2023 Testimony on Initiative petition process: HJR 18, HJR 24, HJR 25, HJR 30, HJR 43 The League of Women Voters believes responsible government should be responsive to the will of the people. The citizen initiative petition process is the most direct form of voter participation in our democracy. This process has been enshrined in the Missouri Constitution for more than 100 years. The people resort to the initiative petition, especially regarding changes to the Constitution, only because they feel their voice isn't being heard. Former Missouri Governor John Ashcroft said, "It is through the initiative process that those who have no influence with elected representatives may take their cause directly to the people." In 1913, legislators at that time didn't believe that women really wanted the right to vote. To prove that they did want that right, women in the Missouri suffragist movement used the new initiative petition process to get the question on the ballot, going through the very difficult process of traveling around the state collecting thousands of signatures for a ballot measure. This valuable and trusted process is not easy, and the citizens of Missouri have not abused it. In more than a century, only 29 of 70 citizen-initiated Constitutional amendments have ever been approved. Many more proposed initiatives never got enough signatures to make it to the ballot. It has always been, and is, a difficult process requiring hundreds of thousands of signatures by citizens and a majority vote at the polls, so it is not taken lightly. This is why the League of Women Voters of Missouri (LWVMO) is opposed to any efforts by the General Assembly to make this process even more difficult. Each of these five House Joint Resolutions proposes a change in the current rules on initiative petitions in different ways. For example, there may be a requirement for signatures from more congressional districts, or a higher percentage of signatures required, or require votes from at least 50% of all registered voters to pass it (probably impossible for any vote). But the overall objective is to make the process even more onerous than it currently is. The General Assembly can put an issue on the ballot with just a simple majority (wouldn't need much more than 100 votes), does not require the governor's signature, and can be approved by a simple majority vote of the people. There does not appear to be any effort in current legislation to increase that threshold. In the years between 1910 and 2022, a total of 322 amendments to the state Constitution were proposed to the voters. Of that total, 246 were proposed by the General Assembly and 70 were proposed by citizen initiative which demonstrates how difficult the process is to get a proposition on the ballot. 133 propositions from the General Assembly were passed by the voters (54%) and 29 proposed by citizen initiative were passed by the voters (41%). * What problem is being solved by making these changes? Legislators have stated they have concerns about the amount of money being used (and coming from outside the state) to support these measures, but by increasing the thresholds, even more funds will be needed, impeding efforts by grassroots organizations. The IP has worked for both conservative and liberal causes which shows that it is a valuable and valued part of our heritage and works for all Missourians of all different points of view. Legislators have said they have better understanding of the issues because they discuss them in their hearings. The implication is that “the people” won’t have the same knowledge when voting. Missouri citizens have shown that they are paying attention to the issues when they vote. Legislators also say that the Missouri Constitution has too many components added over the years to make this core document overburdened with extraneous matters, but the majority of the ballot issues that have been added to the Constitution were proposals by the General Assembly. Clearly, it would be preferable to use the citizen initiative process to make changes in Statute, rather than in the Constitution. However, in recent years, legislators have reversed some voter-approved ballot issues. Hence, the need was seen for the citizen initiative process to be used for additions to the Constitution rather than statute. Do not underestimate the voters. Proof of their knowledge was shown in the example of the November 2018 election when there were three separate items on the ballot about marijuana. The voters chose wisely and thoughtfully. If the legislature wants to improve the process, they should consider making the process more efficient for county clerks and election officials to check petition signatures. And – for measures proposed both by the General Assembly and by citizen initiative – it would be of great benefit for the voters to require that ballot language be clear and not misleading. Thank you. Marilyn McLeod, President, League of Women Voters of Missouri, January 2023* This data is from the Missouri Legislative Academy Report, Truman School of Government and Public Affairs, University of MO.

The standards for getting Constitutional Amendments on the ballot is already high. Requiring passage by a majority of registered voters will be nearly impossible, taking away our freedom to petition, to address our government. Only the wealthiest of national and international interests would be able to mount such a campaign. Making a standard so high that Missouri citizens cannot reach it subverts our freedom to speak and to address our own government. It is important to support our governmental checks and balances in order to continue to have a stable society, belief in democracy, trust in our government and representatives.

Changes to the Initiative Petition Process as endorsed by certain members of the Missouri General Assembly are completely unfair to all Missouri residents who care about their state government and how it conducts its business and decides who can petition the state government and in what manner. Currently the petition process is quite adequate and provides ordinary citizens the opportunity to change laws as they see fit when state elected officials don't respond to the desires of ordinary citizens. This is exactly why the State of Missouri has a petition process in place and any attempt to change that process and move ordinary citizens further away from that process is completely unfair and detrimental to the petition process, citizen engagement and involvement.

The IP process is citizens' method to participate in the legislative process. The requirements are already so lofty, a majority of petitions never make it to the ballot. Making it harder by raising the signatures needed to be from all 8 congressional districts, instead of the current 6, smacks of citizen suppression. Requiring signatures of a majority of registered voters also suppresses citizens' rights to participate in lawmaking process. I am part of a combined group of Missouri Republicans and Democrats who are working to oppose destruction of our current IP process. Most citizens do not want this. I am strongly opposed.

I vehemently oppose HJR 18, HJR 24, HJR 25, HJR 30, and HJR 43. I oppose all of these bills which are related to amending the Missouri Constitution to harm the Initiative Petition process. Each of these bills changes either the signature gathering requirements or the requirements for passing a ballot issue placed on a statewide ballot through an Initiative Petition. In either case, it is an effort to end the viability of ballot issues that are brought forth by registered voters. This will result in only ballot issues (very easily) brought forth by the legislation making it to the ballot box. Each of these bills is effectively an effort to kill the Initiative Petition in Missouri. I wish the proponents on these bills would be honest enough to simply state they want to end Initiative Petitions.

I do not think that any of the proposed changes to initiative petitions would benefit the voters. I think it has been shown to be the most effective means that citizens have to enact amendments that elected politicians are against or are unable to pass in the General Assembly for fear of reprisal from special interests. When I sign a petition to have an issue on the ballot, it is because I think it would benefit Missourians. Even if that ballot measure does not pass, I am thankful that I was able to directly vote on the issue. Please do not make raise the requirements for citizen-led initiative petitions nor for constitutional amendments to be placed on the ballot.

To the House Elections and Elected Officials Committee I am writing in opposition to HJR 18, HJR 24, HJR 25 and HJR 30, bills that will (1) modify the number of signatures or number of congressional districts needed to get a Citizens Initiative Petition on the ballot, or that (2) will increase the threshold of passage of a Citizens Initiative Petition to the point where passage is unobtainable. A 3rd issue may be an attempt to confuse voters regarding who is a "legal voter" in Missouri. Regardless of their stated purpose, all of the bills aim to restrict a Missouri voter's ability to directly amend our state's constitution. The Statement "Make Your Voice Heard" is on the front page of the MO Secretary of State's Website regarding the Initiative Petition Process. The website also goes on to explain that the initiative petition process "Gives MO citizens the opportunity to directly participate in our democracy." The question is why are republicans wanting to make it more difficult for citizens to participate in our democracy. Two arguments emerge: one, the process is too easy and two, keeping out big money. The current threshold is already difficult. It isn't easy getting a citizen's initiative proposal to the ballot. Getting signatures is hard. It's not "easy" to collect the mandatory signatures (by hand, not online) to get a proposal on the ballot. It's not "easy" to mount a grassroots campaign to educate voters about an initiative. Quite the opposite of what it takes to get a legislative amendment on the ballot: a simple majority of both house and senate, and a simple majority of voters. Another argument being offered is "keep the big money interests" out of Missouri when it comes to the initiative process. A hard concept for me to accept when I see "big money" being spent in many other ways around the state when it comes to lobbyists, campaign contributions, ads, 3rd party sources used to copy legislation to be introduced, etc. The initiative petition is also nonpartisan. It is not a republican versus Democrat issue. There is evidence to indicate that prior amendments that have passed, including medicinal marijuana, medicaid expansion and increase of minimum wages, all reflected the will of the people, not a political party. One must then conclude that those attempting to make the process more difficult are not doing so for the "will of the people" but for other political reasons. Yet when elected officials don't want to govern for the "will of the people", but for themselves, the ballot initiative process is the only recourse voters have when politicians fail to address the issues that matter to them.

The best part about our state is the ability for citizens to practice direct democracy through initiative petitions. When a majority of Missourians feel strongly about a particular issue, we have the opportunity to take action. I do NOT support any actions taken to usurp the rights of Missourians to enact change via initiative petitions, nor do I support any changes to the current process.

January 23, 2023 Chairman Peggy McGaugh Elections and Elected Officials Committee MO House of Representatives 201 W Capitol Ave., Rm. 402 Jefferson City, MO 65101 Dear Chairman McGaugh and Members of the Committee, The Missouri Coalition for the Environment is a statewide, advocacy nonprofit organization that works to empower Missourians to protect their environment and health. House Joint Resolution No. 25 seeks to change the initiative petition process of Missouri. It will make it harder to propose and approve constitutional amendments initiated by Missouri citizens who wish to improve their health and living conditions. For this reason, we respectfully ask that you oppose HJR 25. The constitutional amendment outlined in HJR 25 seeks to require initiative petition signatures to be lowered from 8% to 7% and to receive a number of votes greater than or equal to a majority of registered voters in the state. This modifies the current requirement that such petitions be signed by 8% of voters in two-thirds of the congressional districts. It adds the burden of requiring a majority of registered voters to approve constitutional amendments that arise from initiative petitions, which differs from the current requirement of a majority of votes cast. This will make the initiative process significantly more difficult for Missourians to pass amendments that can meaningfully improve their lives. We have our initiative petition structure to protect our democracy and create a balance between Missourians and their respective elected officials. Voters have confidence in this process because everyone gets an equal chance to vote and make a change. It empowers Missourians to collaborate and speak to issues that directly impact them and their communities. For these reasons, we are coming together to oppose any change to the initiative petition process. Once again, Missouri Coalition for the Environment respectfully urges you to vote "NO" on HJR 25 in order to protect Missouri's initiative petition process. Thank you for your time. Sincerely, Melissa Vatterott

I have drafted this statement to express my firm opposition to this slate of legislation. The initiative petition process is a necessary tool for making government work in Missouri. Regardless of which party is in power in Jefferson City, Missouri voters deserve the right to organize and petition for change on issues they deem important without interference. To move forward with any of these pieces of legislation sends a message that our voices aren't important, that the only voices that matter are those of people in Jefferson City. But that's not how Missouri works. The people of this state are the ones who send legislators to Jefferson City, and we should be the ones who decide if and how we amend the initiative process. It is how we ensure trust in our government and preserve the strength of our democracy. Please vote no on all of these measures. Thank you.

This is to urge you to vote NO on these bills (HJR18, HJR24, HJR25, HJR30 and HJR43) each of which seek to make the petition process more difficult. Passage of any one of these bills will diminish citizen rights to guide the rules and regulations under which we live and prevent needed changes favored by the majority. I have helped with a couple of initiative petition drives, always as a volunteer. There have been many that I have not participated in. Under current rules, It is difficult to secure the number of signatures needed to get a petition proposal on the ballot. To get one passed and into law is another very difficult step. It is only through the petition process that some important changes in law that are needed get passed into law. For all of them, previous attempts have been made to achieve change through the legislature and have failed. I will claim that there is not a problem with our petition process that needs attention; the problem is with you our legislators who refuse to tackle contentious issues and produce laws clearly desired by the majority of citizens — clear examples are Medicaid expansion and Marijuana legalization.

These bills are purposely deceptive. The requirement for a majority of "registered voters" to ratify an amendment proposed by petition is certainly an invitation for fraud, thus negating the votes of valid, living Missourians. Until voter rolls are cleaned up of dead people, those who have moved out of state but not been purged from the database, and multiple people listed at fraudulent or nonexistent addresses, this process will be fatally flawed before it begins. Please oppose HJR bills 24 and 25.

These bills that seek to require more than a simple majority to pass ballot measures placed by the people at large, and to increase the required signatures to even place measures on the ballot go against the basic 'let the people decide' democracy that we have in the USA. How is it that it takes only a simple majority to elect any of you, yet you want to require more than that to enact that which we also want? These bills are hypocritical to say the least. They are oppressive and totally unnecessary as it is already pretty tough to get enough valid signatures to place a measure on the ballot. This is our democracy. Do not rip it away from us.

This is another attempt to remove government from the people and leave it in the hands of elected officials who do not represent the views and ideas of the majority of Missourians. I am opposed to this bill and other attempts to make the Ballot Initiative process more difficult. I do not see any need to curtail it. The Ballot Initiative is true democracy which enables the will of the majority to be heard, voted on by all voters, and if a majority so chooses, to have it enacted into law. Any of the various proposed changes to increase the difficulty of the Ballot Initiative serve only to restrict the people's right to this democratic process. The proposed bills can only be coming from a desire to limit the people's ability to address issues they see as the priorities but which, unfortunately, are not being addressed by their elected representatives. The collection of signatures is simply a screening process so that frivolous petitions do not make it to the ballot. It is not necessary to collect signatures from all Congressional Districts just to get something on the ballot which ALL voters subsequently have an equal opportunity to vote for or against, as they choose. Currently, the vast majority of ballot initiatives do not make it to the ballot, which shows the current procedures effectively eliminate most initiatives, primarily those without broad support. The number of signatures now required is sufficiently large to keep unpopular initiatives off the ballot. Increasing the required percentage of votes cast for an initiative to "pass" is another way to block what voters want. Amendment 3 in 2020, which undid many of the reforms in the previous ballot initiative sometimes called "Clean MO", only received 51% of the vote. That was passed by a majority as small as can be, yet there was no uproar from the legislature about enacting that initiative into law. Requiring passage by a majority (or more) of registered voters for an initiative to pass is just a blatant attempt to effectively eliminate the Ballot Initiative. What is the logic to such a requirement? As we all know, total voter turnout over 50 percent is an extremely rare event, and to have anywhere near 50 of registered voters all vote the same way is not going to ever happen in the real world. Nothing would ever pass via the Ballot Initiative, which of course is why these types of requirements are being proposed. The truth is that if legislators are responding to what their constituents want, Ballot Initiatives would disappear. No one would spend the vast amount of time and money to complete the arduous process of getting something on the ballot, especially with a requirement that a majority of voters must be in favor of it for a Ballot Initiative to finally pass into law. I do not see a need to make the current Initiative Petition process any more exclusionary. The people have been using the Ballot Initiative for over one hundred years. Legislators do not have all the answers. Let the voice of the people be upheld. Thank you for listening.

I urge you to oppose bills that will make it more difficult for Missouri citizens to get initiatives on the ballot and create higher thresholds for passing ballot initiatives that are critical for Missourians. HJR 24 and HJR 25 increase the threshold for passage of a constitutional amendment to require a majority of all registered voters in the state. Currently, measures pass by a majority of votes cast. Given the fact that many registered voters don't choose to vote in all elections, these measures make it virtually impossible to pass a citizen initiated amendment. The majority of those who choose to vote in an election – and not a majority of those who are eligible to vote -- should determine the outcome. As our elected representatives, you should make it easier for Missourians to participate in the political process, not more difficult. You should listen to what voters want, not tell.

THE INFORMATION ON THIS FORM IS PUBLIC RECORD UNDER CHAPTER 610, RSMo.

Former U.S. Attorney General, Senator, and Missouri Governor John Ashcroft said in 1992, "It is through the initiative petition process that those who have no influence with elective representatives may take their cause directly to the people. The General Assembly should be reluctant, therefore, to enact legislation which places any impediments on the initiative power which are inconsistent with the reservation found in the Constitution." Missouri Health Care for All's supporters have used the initiative petition process to pass meaningful change for Missourians. The passage of HJR 25 would create significant roadblocks and hamper Missourians' ability to exercise their right to contribute directly to democracy and address important issues as voters. HJR 25 would increase the vote threshold beyond a simple majority to a majority of registered voters in order to pass a constitutional amendment. This creates an unfair standard to which no other elections are held. Each and every legislator is elected by a simple majority of votes cast, and this has historically been true of ballot initiatives as well. Ballot measures passed by the majority of votes cast already represent the will of the people, and by increasing the threshold, legislators are undermining the voters' will. This proposed change will make it harder for Missourians to stay engaged in the legislative process. It will effectively silence the voice of the people and render law-making in Missouri a practice for only those elite enough to be elected to the General Assembly. The principle laid out by John Ashcroft stands true to this day. The initiative petition process is a right reserved by the people, and it's one we must maintain. As representatives of people across the state of Missouri, it is your duty to empower the people and our voices. Supporting this legislation would do the exact opposite, undermining the power of all Missourians. Missouri Health Care for All is opposed to the proposed changes put forth in HJR 25 and strongly recommends that committee members vote 'no' on this proposal and any others that would obstruct the ability of Missourians to use the initiative petition process, to protect the right of all Missourians to exercise their voice and participate in the legislative process.

Making it more difficult to have successful initiative petitions, as well as making it harder to amend the constitution, is wrong. HJR25I speak in opposition of HJR25 because it would raise the number of votes needed to adopt a constitutional amendment via the initiative petition process from a simple majority of votes cast to require a majority of votes equal to a majority of registered voters in the state. Currently there are over 4.65 million registered voters in Missouri. If this law were in effect, a measure coming before the vote of the people via an initiative petition would require 2.371M votes (51% of 4.65M) in order to be deemed to have adopted. Of course, the turnout of voters on any election is far fewer than 4.65M. A high turnout, such as was experienced in 2020, saw a turnout of approximately 70% or 3.255M voters. Fifty-one percent of 3.255 is 1.66M votes. But we all know that a 70% is not the norm. It is much less. Nevertheless, there is a big difference in between 51% of 3.255M (1,660M votes) and 51% of 4.65M (2.371M votes) —a difference of 700,000 votes. Why should citizen initiative led campaigns be required to adhere to a higher standard than those measures that come to the the ballot box by other means? Measures passed by a majority of votes cast as is currently the case reflect the will of the people. Making it more difficult undermines the will of the people. I urge this committee to reject this proposed bill as an effort to make direct democracy more difficult.

I am strongly opposed to any bill that will change our current initiative petition process. This petition system has been in place for 115 years. It signifies a direct way that the people of Missouri have a say in our government. In more than a century only 28 of 69 citizen initiated constitutional amendments have been approved changing the current requirement from a simple majority to a 2/3 vote would be making Missouri's threshold the highest of any state in the country. Democracy embraces the idea of "other people, by the people, and for the people. " All these bills threaten the rights of all Missourians to have their voices heard and to be directly involved in our democracy. The initiative petition process should be protected and encouraged not attacked and made more difficult. We elect all of you to represent all of us and the people of Missouri want this process to remain the way it's been a very effective tool that allows us to make a difference, the way democracy is meant to work.

Like most Missourians, I work hard and have all my life. But also like most Missourians, I don't get paid enough for my hard work. I couldn't always put food on the table for my family because of how low the minimum wage was. But thanks to a ballot initiative, my wages have gone up, and now I can. I also never had health insurance, but thanks to a ballot initiative, now I do. I love that Missouri voters saw my struggle and voted to support me. Now, some politicians want to make it harder for us to support one another through ballot initiatives. They want to take our power and silence our voices. We can't let them. We must stop this power grab and keep power where it belongs, with the people. Tell politicians to stop attacking the ballot initiative process

I strongly disagree with increasing the percentage of voters required for a petition and the higher percentage to pass petitions in the legislative body. This bill would limit and discourage voter participation in the legislative process. The initiative petition process is a very important tool and required for direct democracy. It allows us to maintain our freedom and have a say in important issues. Let's keep ordinary people engaged in politics to make Missouri a better place to live.

Are purposely deceptive. Require a majority of the registered voters to ratify an amendment proposed by petition. "Registered voters" would include every registered voter, even dead people and those who have moved out of state but not been purged from the database. Since we only have much more than a 50% turnout at the presidential general election, that's the ONLY time a constitutional amendment could be adopted. The governor gets to pick which ballot a proposed amendment goes on, so he or she would have ultimate veto power over the amendment.

I oppose making changes to the Initiative Petition process. Since 1907, Missouri’s constitution has guaranteed, “The people reserve power to propose and enact or reject laws and amendments to the constitution by the initiative, independent of the general assembly.” The initiative petition process is an important tool of direct democracy that allows us to maintain our freedom to have a say on important issues. The Missouri legislatures’ interest in making the initiative petition process more difficult is a power grab that evades the will of the people. For their personal gain, these elected officials and wealthy special interests seek to make it harder for citizens to place important issues on the ballot, more difficult to pass initiatives, and easier to overturn the public’s vote. A majority is 50% plus 1. Since when does “majority rule” mean 60%? Changing the threshold just makes it harder for the public to make decisions. The process is already rigorous - you have to get hundreds of thousands of voters to sign on before a measure even gets considered for the ballot. Adding additional barriers does nothing more than censure the voice of the people. Voters from all sides of the political spectrum have used the ballot initiative process to advance their priorities. The ballot initiative process is the only recourse voters have when politicians fail to address the issues that matter to them. This tool has been used by conservatives, progressives, moderates, and independents. Please do not pass this bill.

My name is Ruth Ehresman. I have been a volunteer collecting signatures on initiative petitions for the last 40 years. I have worked on campaigns that won, and on campaigns that lost. But I would say that all my work has been successful in that it promoted citizen voter awareness of issues and provided an opportunity for voters to have a direct voice about policies that affect them. I highly value the fact that since 1907 the Missouri Constitution has guaranteed the power of the people to propose and "enact or reject laws" independent of the General Assembly. This House Joint Resolution seeks to weaken that power. Voters from across the political spectrum: conservatives, progressives, moderates and independents have used this important tool of direct democracy. Collecting the required number of signatures is already a difficult undertaking. I have collected signatures in blistering heat and biting cold. I (along with hundreds of others) have spent hours talking to voters outside grocery stores, churches, fish fries, schools, elections, at parades and sports events. I say this not to ask for sympathy, but to underscore how important the tools of direct democracy are to me and to all Missourians. Creating more rigorous standards regarding the numbers of signatures needed, and raising the bar for what constitutes a majority, weaken the voices of the people. These proposed changes shift power toward elected officials and the special interests who court their favor. This is taking Missouri in the wrong direction. I urge you to protect the Constitutional rights of Missourians and vote NO. Thank you for this opportunity to share my perspective.

My name is Sarah Starnes. I've lived in Kansas City my entire adult life and worked for Missouri and federal governments and nonprofit organizations. I've gathered hundreds of signatures on ballot initiative petitions, as a volunteer. I've also notarized the signatures of other signature-gatherer affiants. While it has been exceedingly difficult to obtain 200,000-350,000 signatures, as required of ordinary citizens--which is MUCH more challenging than a limited number of lawmakers putting something on the ballot--with enough everyday citizens doing the work over a sufficient period of time, we can petition our government through the ballot box. We don't talk about party affiliation when gathering signatures. Republicans, Libertarians, Democrats, and people with other party affiliations have used the citizen ballot initiative process to engage in direct democracy. Signature gatherers must inform the voters signing a petition what it is they are signing and I encourage them to read the ballot language—which accompanies the petition forms. WE MUST MAKE IT EASIER, NOT HARDER, TO ENGAGE VOTERS IN THE PROCESS OF CONTINUOUSLY MAKING THIS A BETTER STATE. PLEASE VOTE "NO" ON ALL OF THE CITIZEN BALLOT INITIATIVE BILLS THAT WOULD PUT UP BARRIERS TO THIS PROCESS. THESE BILLS WOULD LIKELY BE CHARACTERIZED BY FORMER GOVERNOR JOHN ASHCROFT AS REPRESSING CITIZEN INVOLVEMENT, based on his statement in 1991, when he vetoed a bill in this regard: "It is through the initiative process that those who have no influence with elective representatives may take their cause directly to the people. The General Assembly should be reluctant, therefore, to enact legislation which places any impediments on the initiative power which are inconsistent with the reservation found in the Constitution." I RESPECTFULLY ENCOURAGE YOU TO VOTE "NO" on the bills that would put up barriers to the ballot initiative process, radically changing our state's 150 year history of making government accessible to our citizens. Thank you.

Please vote no on this. No Missourians want these bills to pass. Time to stop pushing harmful legislation and start trying to help the people of our state. Missourians are struggling to afford homes, medicine, transportation. Focus on making our lives better (which is your job) instead of these culture issues that only cause harm to an already disadvantaged group of people in our state. VOTE NO ON ALL OF THESE BILLS.

The initiative petition process in Missouri is an important check and balance to be sure our elected officials are actually acting in the interests of the majority of Missourians. It is pure, one voice/one vote democracy in action. For it to be effective, constituents have to actually put aside party and express their personal feelings on a single issue -- especially since there's such a high threshold of signatures to get a proposal on the ballot. The process is difficult enough, and is working well. Don't fix what isn't broken. It is also important to note that the process is reserved to us by our State constitution. Please reject any effort to "reform" a direct democracy process that is actually working!

I oppose efforts to weaken Missourians' right to petition. This is an essential right because of legislator's frequent negligence of issues important to citizens and their discouraging efforts to overturn the will of the voters. Missourians understand that it is already extremely difficult to get an issue on the ballot via the petition process, so it does not need to be made more difficult. It is also important to recognize how few votes it takes for legislators to make a law or propose a constitutional amendment in comparison to the thousands and thousands of signatures and votes from citizens to accomplish the same.

I am a resident of Joplin, Missouri and I brought my family up here and they are all bringing up their children (my grandchildren) here. I have a keen interest in their future which depends on Missouri being a diverse state with a thriving economy with a functioning democracy in our state. Every act by our representatives in Jefferson City should be about making it EASIER for voters to express their needs and concerns, and this proposal would only make that harder. I have volunteered collecting signatures for ballot initiatives and the number of hours and difficulty in reaching people and getting signatures is a huge hurdle to jump and if anything the process should be made easier for the people to be heard. I do not support any of the bills put forward to make the initiative petition process more difficult. As a constituent I strongly urge a no vote on all five bills that limit the power of the people to participate in democracy.

Respectfully:Where is the demand for this change to the Missouri citizens' right to petition? Is it the "Political Donor Class" that demand total control of the Missouri Legislature? It's hypocritical of the General Assembly to try to limit the citizens' right to petition to get something on the ballot when 100 of our 197 legislators can approve ballot language to reverse a change to our Constitution that was approved by voters.Amendment 3 clearly reversed the will of the larger majority of Missouri voters who supported Clean Missouri reforms.Missouri's initiative petition system has been in place for 115 years. This critical tool, that allows citizens to put an issue on the ballot for a statewide vote used through the years by citizens from all political persuasions, is under attack by lawmakers who want to curtail the people's power!Thirty years ago, when faced with a similar effort by a different set of party politicians, then-Gov. John Ashcroft said: "It is through the initiative process that those who have no influence with elected representatives may take their cause directly to the people."Ballot measures are the people's power! Each citizen can choose to add their signature to a petition and ultimately have the right to vote on the issue.This valuable and trusted process is not easy, and the citizens of Missouri have not abused it!. In more than a century, only 28 of 69 citizen-initiated Constitutional amendments have ever been approved. Many more proposed initiatives never got enough signatures to make it on the ballot.

I have knocked on doors, spoken to voters about various issues and petitioned over decades on issues I feel strongly about, always as a volunteer. I can assure you that it is not easy to find people who have the time and/or interest to talk, explain an issue to them, and get them to sign a petition. This legislation is attempting to fix a fictitious problem. In our democracy, Missouri citizens have the constitutional right to put issues before fellow voters only if they can complete a difficult, time consuming petition process. If successful, there is a campaign by both sides ending with a vote of our citizens. The right to petition for a direct vote of Missourians on important issues should not be amended so as to make it impossible to utilize. Rather than fearing the voice of the people we should celebrate our democracy!

Please oppose this initiative as it amplifies the voice of the majority concentrated in relatively small areas of the state and snubs the voices of those in smaller districts. Furthermore, the propensity for voter fraud in larger districts enables a single voice to become many by submitting multiple fraudulent ballots giving the appearance that it's the will of "proxy" voters who are either dead or would otherwise not have voted. I ask for your opposition to this initiative.

THE INFORMATION ON THIS FORM IS PUBLIC RECORD UNDER CHAPTER 610, RSMo.

My name is Steve Reed. I am opposed to this bill because it would injure the initiative petition process and obstruct citizens existing rights to direct democracy. I have worked as an unpaid volunteer to gain signatures to pass ballot measures here in Missouri. For example, I gained signatures for Medicaid expansion and talked to many people who volunteered their personal medical issues and explained how Medicaid expansion would greatly help them. Acquiring signatures takes significant time and effort on my part. I am opposed to every one of these extreme bills under consideration. They would create new signature or petition passage requirements, or both, and create large obstacles to the constitutional right to direct democracy that Missouri citizens have had for some 120 years. Missouri's constitution has long guaranteed, "The people reserve power to propose and enact or reject laws and amendments to the constitution by the initiative, independent of the general assembly." And this power, this people power, has required only a simple majority of votes cast statewide. It's clear the will of the people would be thwarted by raising the signature requirement threshold, and particularly by schemes on initiative passage that require more than a simple majority of votes cast statewide. This power is also "independent of the General Assembly". Therefore, schemes hatched by the General Assembly by any Party that would attempt to wrest from or diminish this power of the people clearly violate the intent of the constitution. Such schemes are beneath the dignity of this legislature and violate the trust voters have given to it. To each of you. What is the need for such proposed bills? Missouri current signature requirements to get on the ballot are comparable to many states with an initiative process. Existing signature and other requirements already weed out vast majority of initiatives from appearing on the ballot. It's not as if Missouri's citizens have abused the petition process. The number of citizen-initiated petitions that appear on the ballot is much in line with other states. Our petition process works. These bills' increased requirements on the front end (getting on the ballot) or back end (ballot approval) place an unacceptable burden on citizens' rights to directly petition the state. Enactment of new requirements and passage as a ballot measure would reduce the future number of ballot measures which pass, possibly to zero. Does this legislature really intend to consider bills this session to strengthen civics education in our schools, at the same time it maneuvers to effectively deprive Missouri citizens of one of their basic constitutional rights? Passage of this bill or any of these bills for placement on a future ballot would send a message to the public that the Missouri legislature doesn't want their voices heard. That Missouri legislators distrust them. As a voting Missouri citizen I ask that these bills not be supported. Thank you.

HJR 25 is TERRIBLE. It:1) Is purposely deceptive.2) Requires a majority of the registered voters to ratify an amendment proposed by petition. "Registered voters" would include every registered voter, even dead people and those who have moved out of state but not been purged from the database.3) Since we only have much more than a 50% turnout at the presidential general election, that's the ONLY time a constitutional amendment could be adopted.4) The governor gets to pick which ballot a proposed amendment goes on, so he or she would have ultimate veto power over the amendment.

I am writing in regard to the proposed legislation HJR 43 - Henderson - INITIATIVE PETITION, HJR 30 - Lewis - CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT, HJR 18 - Lewis - CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT, HJR 24 - Davidson - INITIATIVE PETITION, HJR 25 - Davidson - INITIATIVE PETITIONS that will make it harder for the citizens of Missouri to place an initiative on a ballot and then pass that initiative. The initiative petition process is an important activity allowed to non-legislators that is the closest to a true form of democratic participation. There have been several initiatives recently passed overwhelmingly by Missouri voters that allowed their beliefs to be truly heard. As stated in the Missouri constitution: "The people reserve power to propose and enact or reject laws and amendments to the constitution by the initiative, independent of the general assembly." Currently, the initiative process in Missouri already requires a high threshold of signatures from registered voters to get a proposal on the ballot. Measures passed by a majority - as is currently the case - reflect the will of the people, something that needs to remain in a strong democracy. Making it more difficult undermines the will of voters such as myself. Lawmakers should reject efforts to make direct democracy more difficult.

My name is Susan Turk. I am co-chair of Missouri Progressive Action Group and have been authorized to express MOPAG's opposition to this bill to HJR's 43, 30, 18, 24 and 25 because they would injure the initiative petition process and obstruct citizens existing rights to direct democracy. MOPAG is opposed to every one of these resolutions under consideration. They would create new signature or petition passage requirements, or both, and create large obstacles to the constitutional right to direct democracy that Missouri citizens have had for some 120 years. Missouri's constitution has long guaranteed, "The people reserve power to propose and enact or reject laws and amendments to the constitution by the initiative, independent of the general assembly." And this power, this people power, has required only a simple majority of votes cast statewide. It's clear the will of the people would be thwarted by raising the signature requirement threshold, and particularly by schemes on initiative passage that require more than a simple majority of votes cast statewide. This power is also "independent of the General Assembly". Therefore, schemes hatched by the General Assembly by any Party that would attempt to wrest from or diminish this power of the people clearly violate the intent of the constitution. Such schemes are beneath the dignity of this legislature and violate the trust voters have given to it. To each of you. What is the need for such proposed bills? Missouri current signature requirements to get on the ballot are comparable to many states with an initiative process. Existing signature and other requirements already weed out vast majority of initiatives from appearing on the ballot. It's not as if Missouri's citizens have abused the petition process. The number of citizen-initiated petitions that appear on the ballot is much in line with other states. Our petition process works. These bills' increased requirements on the front end (getting on the ballot) or back end (ballot approval) place an unacceptable burden on citizens' rights to directly petition the state. Enactment of new requirements and passage as a ballot measure would reduce the future number of ballot measures which pass. Does this legislature really intend to consider bills this session to strengthen civics education in our schools, at the same time it maneuvers to effectively deprive Missouri citizens of one of their basic constitutional rights? The ballot initiative process allows citizens to fill in the blanks regarding public policy that is not prioritized by the legislature. The ballot initiative process is not broken. The ballot initiative process does not need to be fixed or reformed. Passage of any of these bills for placement on a future ballot would send a message to the public that the Missouri legislature doesn't want their voices heard. That Missouri legislators distrust them. As a voting Missouri citizen, I ask that these bills not be supported. Thank you.

If someone chooses not to vote, they are choosing not to have a voice in the legislative process. This bill would give them a voice by default, and they would likely have no idea that their will and voice were being hijacked by the Missouri legislature as their choice NOT to vote would BECOME a vote. In addition, it would water down the power of those people who take the time to educate themselves on ballot issues who actually DO cast their vote. This bill is a hoax. It's a way to oppress the citizenry of our state. It's unconscionable! It must NOT pass!

In an Open Society there is freedom of expression. But years of one party domination are producing the effort to suppress the direct free expression of Missouri citizens. A right that has existed for more than 100 years in the form of the initiative petition. This bill directly proposes a revision to the Missouri constitution that assures Missourians the right to directly propose and enact or reject laws and amendments to the constitution by the initiative, independent of the general assembly.??The initiative process already requires a high threshold to get on the ballot. The initiative process is pure democracy. What do we call opponents of democracy???I urge opposing any effort to thwart the voice of Missouri citizens.

The game plan of #1 making it harder to get initiatives on a ballot THEN #2 making it harder to pass them after they're on the ballot AND FINALLY #3 overturning the initiatives that do pass despite winning approval from a majority of voters demonstrates a complete attack on the freedom people exercise to vote on what's important to them. It's worked for 100+ years. Leave it alone.

Advocates of Planned Parenthood of the St. Louis Region and Southwest Missouri opposes House Joint Resolutions 18, 24, 25, 30, and 43 because they impose additional, unnecessary burdens on Missourians' right to directly petition one another. The current process to qualify a measure for the ballot through initiative petition is already extremely difficult, requiring hundreds of volunteers to devote thousands of hours. Missourians have had the right to directly petition one another for changes to our laws and constitution for nearly 150 years. This measure is an attack on our history and constitution. Missourians of all political persuasions have used the process, oftentimes using it together to overcome legislative roadblocks. Initiative petitions require the signatures of between 200,000 and 350,000 Missourians — one of the highest signature requirements in the nation — while the Legislature can put items on the ballot with a simple majority vote of politicians. Whether by raising the signature requirements or the vote margin for passage, each of these proposals makes it more difficult — in some cases, impossible — for Missourians to engage in direct democracy through the initiative petition process. It's plain to see that these measures are about silencing, not empowering, Missouri voters. Lawmakers should focus on making voting more accessible for Missourians rather than pursuing unnecessary, expensive and unconstitutional burdens on the right to vote in our state.

I write expressing my opposition to this legislation. I strongly urge a no vote on it. This is a direct attack on our democracy. It is clearly intended to eliminate majority rule and allow a minority to dictate on critical matters in our state. This is such a radical proposal it should be discarded out of hand. One of the outstanding facets of Missouri government has been the Initiative Process. It allows for the most direct participation of all citizens in the decision making process. A vote for this legislation is simply a vote for autocracy and rule by the minority. A No Vote is a vote for democracy and protection of majority rule.

Ronald Reagan once said, "Government exists to protect us from each other. Where government has gone beyond its limits is in deciding to protect us from ourselves." It is in this moment that the Missouri legislature has devoted itself to protecting the people of Missouri from themselves. My name is Glenn Winfrey, I am a life-long Missourian, and I am writing in opposition to this resolution. It demeans the people of Missouri and prevents voters from having their voices heard. I believe it will also have disastrous unforeseen consequences. The initiative petition is a critical tool for Missourians. Without it, we would have little or no recourse in directly affecting the laws of the state, and we would be at the mercy of a richer, whiter, older minority than the general population. This resolution severely impedes the ability of Missourians to propose and successfully reach the ballot with an initiative petition, and to vote for it would be an act of treason against your constituency. Treason because your power as elected officials is derived from the people. You were chosen by your district to represent your district, not to act as an individual distinct from it. To support this resolution, then, would be to cut off your nose to spite your face, and disempower your electors as you delegitimize yourself. I ask every representative in this committee to consider carefully the consequences of making initiative petitions more difficult to file and pass. Vote no on this resolution, and do not deign to protect Missourians from themselves.

HJR 24 and HJR 25 are the worst ideas of all. They are purposely deceptive. Require a majority of the registered voters to ratify an amendment proposed by petition. "Registered voters" would include every registered voter, even dead people and those who have moved out of state but not been purged from the database. Since we only have barely a 50% turnout at the presidential general election, that's the ONLY time a constitutional amendment could be adopted. The governor gets to pick which ballot a proposed amendment goes on, so he or she would have ultimate veto power over the amendment. HJR 25 is BAD for Missouri!

Missouri's constitution guarantees, "The people reserve power to propose and enact or reject laws and amendments to the constitution by the initiative, independent of the general assembly." The initiative petition process is an integral tool of direct democracy that allows us to maintain our freedom to have a say on important issues. The Missouri legislatures' interest in making the initiative petition process more difficult is a power grab that ignores the will of the people. For their own personal gain, these elected officials and wealthy special interests seek to make it harder for citizens to place important issues on the ballot, more difficult to pass initiatives, and easier to overturn the public's vote. A majority is 50% plus 1. A majority does not mean 60%. The process is already challenging, as you have to obtain hundreds of thousands of voter signatures before a measure even gets considered for the ballot. Adding additional barriers does nothing more than prevent the voice of the people being heard. The ballot initiative process is the only opportunity voters have when politicians ignore their will. This tool has been used by conservatives, progressives, moderates, and independents.

I oppose all bills that aim to restrict Missouri citizens' rights established in the Missouri Constitution. The citizen initiative process is one of the purest forms of direct democracy. Missouri law already sets high bars for registered voters to get a proposal on the ballot. This bill would make it significantly more difficult.

Keep initiatives as an option for citizens! Grass roots initiatives are government at its best. It is very difficult to pass them so lawmakers should not be threatened. In fact, they should wholeheartedly support initiatives. The essence of small government.
