Associated Industries of Missouri fully supports this bill that fixes a loophole in the Mo. unemployment law that currently allows people receiving severance pay and other termination payments to also collect unemployment benefits at the same time. The unemployment fund exists to help those that are unemployed through no fault of their own and to help provide a short bridge to their next job. When an employer has already provided that bridge, unemployment benefits should not be received until those payments have been exhausted. Even New York has fixed this loophole.
