I support the Missouri Constitution requiring every assessor to be elected and this exemption to the Missouri Constitution for Jackson County needs to go to a vote of all Missourians to be the same for all 114 counties.

THE INFORMATION ON THIS FORM IS PUBLIC RECORD UNDER CHAPTER 610, RSMo.

I am in favor of getting rid of all property taxes in the state of Missouri with HB1906. I have worked all my life to pay for my home and vehicles to then be taxed for continuing to own them. The ultimate effect is I really don't own my stuff, I rent it from the government. This is the hallmark of a communist state. For me to have my mortgage replaced by taxes makes me never out of debt. Now that I'm a senior, use less government resources makes it even more unfair. Then to pay 75% of my property taxes to the lavish wasteful spending of schools is more an insult. The local schools are taxing us out of our homes by spending 15.3 million on a high school theater, thousands for lap tops and 8 million for astro-turf. What is more outrageous is they use accounting tricks to circumvent the Hancock Amendment and then vote in their deception on the least attended election dates. To top that all off we have students not educated enough to obtain a decent paying job when they finish high school, can't look you in the eye, make change or show what 3 sixteenths is on a ruler. Many schools don't even teach cursive writing. All of this is unacceptable, senior citizens and veterans are paying the ultimate price when they have no income sources, sky rocketing inflation and medical bills. The solution as I see it is taxes are only due when you sell your property, all tax issues can only be placed on the most attended election date, the loop holes schools use to circumvent the Hancock Amendment must be plugged. As it stands now, I pay taxes when I earn money, when I buy something, when I use something, when I improve something, when I eat something. To have government to lavishly and wastefully spend money all the time is participation in the destruction of our country.

This is a path to skyrocketing property tax increases. When properties go down substantially there is no mechanism to equal these scales. When AI comes into access properties it will also price people out of their homes. Even the 2% a year increase over a ten year span increase property taxes by 20%. Increases in taxes are never a republican position.
