

HB 1437 -- WORKERS' COMPENSATION MINIMUM EMPLOYEE REQUIREMENTS FOR CONSTRUCTION INDUSTRY EMPLOYERS

SPONSOR: Cook

Currently, a construction industry employer that erects, demolishes, alters, or repairs improvements is considered an employer for purposes of the Workers' Compensation Act if they have one or more employees. This bill provides that construction industry employers must have five or more employees to be deemed an employer under this provision.