I am in Support of this Bill and its intension of providing a Minor Child Vlogger that produces and or appears in content on the internet is afforded Rights, Protections, Access To Records, Documents and that Income is Deposited and Provided in a Trust Account for the Minor Child. This is good Public Policy.

Missouri already has laws in place to protect traditional child entertainers. Social media has given rise to a new generation of child entertainers: child "influencers". These influencers need similar protections; namely the ability to prevent financial exploitation and to request content deletion from a social media platform. Many parents act in the best interests of their children. However, using Jackie Coogan and the subsequent introduction of "Coogan Laws" to protect a child's earnings as an example, sometimes laws are necessary to protect kids from exploitative actions. I sincerely hope that Missouri will join the growing number of states and codify this bipartisan bill to protect kids online.
