I am a birth mother who fought hard to uncover resources for me and my baby. This bill is long overdue and much needed for women like me who wanted the best resource for the child in our womb. I received only abortion clinic locations and appointment times from my local health agency and planned parenthood facility. I had to dig and find a doctor and an attorney and resources to educated and acceptable parents for my baby! It was through many tears and fights and demands and prayer that I received the best for my son! God truly guided me and provided resources when none were available! How wonderful to see a bill that supports the need for a woman to feel worthy enough to seek the best for her child when she understands that she cannot! I pray by the grace of God that this bill will give other women the dignity of available and respectable resources that were not financially or emotionally available before! I support your bill

Please add clarity in the bill. I could not find the following:
No clear opt-in process: The bill does not state that an expectant mother must explicitly request to be added to the registry.
No clear opt-out process: It does not say whether an expectant mother can decline to be included in the registry.
Unclear criteria for "at risk" designation: The bill does not define who determines that a woman is "at risk" for seeking an abortion. It does not clarify how or why an expectant mother would be placed on the registry without her direct request.

The importance of a streamlined and efficient process for adoption cannot be overstated. This bill helps facilitate an option for a woman facing an unplanned pregnancy, that option being adoption, which does not involve the killing of her unborn child. It also helps connect expected mothers with prenatal care and other services to help bring them assistance and comfort in what can often be a very trying and emotional time. We often hear from women that they would not have aborted their child if they had known all about the services, assistance and options that were available. Bills like this continue to disprove the false narrative advanced by pro-abortion advocates that the pro-life movement does not care about women, or care about children after they are born.

THE INFORMATION ON THIS FORM IS PUBLIC RECORD UNDER CHAPTER 610, RSMo.

As a resident of the State of Missouri, I cannot overstate how tired I am of this. How scared I am of my own government, of the people who claim to represent me. The people that would sooner see me bleed out on an operating table than receive medical care necessary to save my life. To the Representatives of the people of Missouri, many of who I have no doubt will disregard my testimony entirely, I am begging you not to pass HB 807. I am begging you to, for once in your lives, think about how your actions affect your own constituents. I am 24 years old, and I have never felt more unsafe in this country or in this state than I do now. I was a senior in high school when I participated in the March For Our Lives, in response to the mass-murder of 17 people at Marjory Stoneman Douglas High School in 2018. I marched to demand that my representatives care enough about me to pass stricter gun safety regulations. And they did nothing. I did my duty and I voted for Amendment 3, and in return, I am forced to keep screaming into the endless void of the political machine, pleading with them to stop punishing women, to stop taking our choices and our rights away from us. A pregnancy registry is one of the most invasive, terrifying, and unconstitutional proposals I have seen put forth by any modern politician. I was raised in a Catholic home and attended Catholic school up until college. I was told everything that many of you may have been told by the Church. I was told that only monster have abortions, that it is a woman's responsibility to engage in smart sexual behavior, and that her worth as a person is dependent upon her sexual history. I was taught lies about what an embryo or a fetus looks like in each stage of pregnancy, including what organs they've developed or whether or not they can feel pain. They didn't want to talk about how often survivors of rape become pregnant with their rapist's child. They didn't want to talk about how dangerous pregnancy can actually be, how quickly something can go wrong. They didn't talk about how, the younger the mother, the more likely it is that she'll die in childbirth. They lied to me, and I know they lied to me because I learned the truth years later, when I dared to question the idea that the pro-choice movement was filled with cartoon characters who wanted nothing more than to murder babies. It is the truth that abortion is a much more nuanced issue than the Church wants to admit, and that it is much easier to convince congregations to ignore the impact anti-choice legislation has on women and on society if they claim that abortion is nothing more than murder. Do not pass HB 807, because it is a terrifying glimpse of a dystopian government. Do not pass HB 807, because the government has no right to make personal health choices for us. If you can't find it in your heart to empathize with women, then do not pass HB 807, if only for one reason: it is a clear overturning of the will of the people. The people of Missouri passed Amendment 3, enshrining in the state's Constitution the right to make choices about reproductive healthcare free of government interference. And by God, if there's one thing that many of you who call yourselves "pro-life" oppose, it's government interference.

As a Missouri voter, mother of two, and staunch advocate for bodily autonomy, I vehemently oppose HB 807. This bill aims in part to establish a registry of people considered 'at risk' of seeking abortion services, vital medical care which received resounding approval from the state's voters last November. I cannot determine from the bill's language how this 'risk' is assessed, let alone the necessity of maintaining a database around it. It also appears later in the bill that much of this information may be provided to law enforcement agencies at the discretion of the department - whose staff I have personally interacted with on a number of occasions, and I believe are vastly more concerned with the near impossibility of navigating their existing records using outdated and incorrigible systems. Abortion is medical care which the people of our state have a right to access, regardless of the religious leanings of many of our elected officials. This registry would do little good to connect women with potential adopters of their unborn children - and far more to provide data which could be weaponized against these registrants for nefarious purposes. The language in this bill is morally reprehensible, and I suspect the creation of such a registry is designed to act as a deterrent against persons seeking reproductive care, particularly those doing so using state subsidized programs. The people of Missouri voted to allow abortion access to its people, and the construction of any deterrent is a cowardly attempt to force the people to confirm to the wishes of legislators who disagree with the will of the people.

The creation of a central registry for each expecting mother who is "at risk" of seeking an abortion is a gross invasion of privacy and genuinely disturbing. The voters have already chosen to PROTECT the right to reproductive care, including abortion. There is no constitutionally valid reason to start tracking pregnant women for ANY reason, let alone for the purpose of denying them the right to reproductive Healthcare of their own choosing, which this is clearly intended for. This is extremist government overreach, and as a Missouri resident I wholeheartedly oppose it. Furthermore, I seriously call into question the motives and qualifications of any and all government officials who have drafted or support this nonsense.

First and foremost, fuck off with this blatant big brother bullshit. You have no right to start tracking people down to the very minute detail of their period. This is dangerous and is blatantly more about civilian control than it is about improving the adoption / foster program. This seeks to establish a precedent for threatening women who just want to make their own choices about their body and future. You should resign in shame for submitting a proposal that misses the mark so completely and in such bad faith.

I'm sharing this because I have a daughter, and care about all of yours. Tomorrow in the Missouri House of Representatives, the Committee on Children and Families will discuss a bill that's being branded as a reform to the adoption system. In reality, HB 807 would require the state to TRACK PREGNANT WOMEN in a database. I imagine even conservative Missourians would be horrified by this idea. This is an extreme government overreach and a creepy, draconian measure aimed at scaring our fellow citizens. This is unacceptable.

This bill constitutes a huge violation of HIPPA for people who are pregnant. It fails to define who is "at risk" for abortion and how that is quantitatively measured. Surely it's not based on the opinion of just any one person, right? By any real standard, any person who is pregnant could be at risk for abortion because things go wrong in pregnancies all the time. This bill also inadvertently incentivizes impregnating a woman (maybe even against her will) for purposes of having a baby to give to potential adoptive parents. This bill also opens the door for a bit of government oversight of people who are pregnant. This creates an unfair burden specific to only one population (pregnant women). It's almost as if someone is looking for a reason to allow the government to know and monitor pregnant women against their will. This bill raises significant ethical red flags and I firmly oppose it.

The language in this bill is upsetting and invasive. Stop wasting time discussing things that are none of a politician's business, like how and what a woman can do with her own body, and focus your attention on the insane overreach of the current administration's DOGE as they systematically dismantle our entire system of checks and balances and set public services and programs back decades.

I am writing to express my strong opposition to HB 807, which is currently under consideration in the Committee on Children and Families. This bill, under the guise of adoption reform, would create a state database to track pregnant women—a dangerous government overreach that has no place in a free society. This bill raises serious concerns about privacy, bodily autonomy, and government intrusion. Regardless of political affiliation, Missourians should be alarmed by the idea that the state would monitor pregnancies in this way. Such tracking could set a dangerous precedent, one that opens the door to further surveillance and control over personal medical decisions. I urge you to oppose HB 807 and any legislation that infringes on the rights of individuals under the guise of so-called “reforms.” The government should be focused on supporting families and children—not invading the private lives of its citizens. Please stand up for personal freedom and privacy by rejecting this extreme and unnecessary proposal. I look forward to your response and hope you will take a firm stand against HB 807.

This is just creepy and weird. It seems like the objective is to discourage women from getting pregnant because they'll be tracked by unknown creeps. My name is Alex Erickson and I reside in Lees Summit. Please oppose HB 807. This bill raises significant concerns regarding privacy and government overreach. The lack of clarity on how women would be identified as "at risk" poses a threat to personal freedoms and could lead to potential discrimination and stigmatization. Additionally, the bill's focus on preventing abortions rather than addressing the root causes of why women may seek them undermines the autonomy and rights of individuals to make personal healthcare decisions. This approach could also divert resources from more comprehensive and supportive measures that genuinely address the needs of expectant mothers.

As a woman of child bearing age who is also the mom of a young daughter, I would like to express my deep concern about women's pregnancies being recorded and monitored by the state government. Personally identifiable health information should remain private under the law, and this is a gross overreach of the government. There are many other ways to support women who opt for adoption and families seeking to adopt without infringing on the privacy and liberty of women.

As a foster parent and pediatric nurse, this bill does not do anything to protect and support children and the next generation. I have not been able to have my own children, not by choice, and have desired to adopt. I empathize with couples who have faced similar struggles. I do NOT empathize with couples desperate enough to selfishly go through with this option if passed. After professional and personal experience with adopted children, I've seen the trauma that comes from this. There are so many children out there who need homes now. Why not focus more on the foster children in Missouri? Do they not matter because they aren't infants? What about the women who decide to keep their children when faced with difficulties in life-how are you helping them? These need to be the focus, the quality of life. As a woman, pregnancy already comes with enough struggles. Especially as someone who has experienced multiple pregnancy losses-everyone of them is filled with grief and anxiety on the next possible pregnancy. Why implement more stress onto a woman's body? Isn't growing a human enough? Women need to have freedom over OUR bodies, our healthcare. Tracking women's bodies is barbaric and what is done to ANIMALS. I do not see the purpose or benefit in this bill. This is not the answer to less abortions. The outcomes to this passing include mental illness/crisis at an all time high, increased risk of maternal/infant mortality rates due to not being able to receive health due to fear of tracking, and further decline on the quality of life to children. Do better, Missouri.

As a Women's Health Nurse Practitioner for the last 13 years, this registry is ridiculous and not feasible. What constitutes and "at risk" pregnancy? Many married women and women in committed relationships seek abortion care. This bill is an absolute violation of privacy. How would this be HIPAA compliant even? I strongly disagree with the premise of this proposal. It is a violation of privacy and gross overreach by the government of Missouri and is unconstitutional. There is no other state registry for Missouri citizens that is kept "just in case" certain healthcare decisions may be made. The "adoption" element of this bill is a distraction from the real intent which is an underhanded approach to building a registry of pregnant people for the purposes of targeting for harassment and grossly unconstitutional.

This is appalling. I genuinely don't see how anyone can think this is acceptable. Keeping a state registry of vulnerable pregnant people and essentially inviting potential adoptive parents to prey on them and bully or bribe them into taking part in arrangement they did not willingly seek out on their own? This is so far outside the scope of what the government's role should be in people's personal lives. Treating pregnant women and the child they may bear as inventory is despicable. Missouri is moving in a dangerous direction. Stop treating humans as property or commodities.

For absolutely no reason whatsoever should pregnant women be forced to assert or testify to the extent they're pregnant in any way that is recorded and/or reported to a governing body or official. Do not use the idea of adoption as a means of placating women's fertility.

This is DISGUSTING. Women are NOT incubators meant to breed children for those who cannot have their own. Perhaps we should first take a look at the foster system in Missouri and mandate that adoptive parents adopt a child that's been passed from home to home. I am writing to express my strong opposition to HB 807, currently under consideration in the Committee on Children and Families. While this bill purports to be adoption reform, it would create a state database to track pregnant women, a dangerous government overreach that has no place in a free society. The author of the bill claims participation is voluntary but that language is not included within the bill, thus providing a potential mechanism by which women might be unwilling participants. I have serious concerns about privacy, bodily autonomy, and government intrusion as a result of the text of this bill. No matter their political affiliation, Missourians should be alarmed by the suggestion that the state could or would monitor pregnancies in this way. I am concerned about where it might lead, as this type of tracking could set a dangerous precedent, opening the door to further surveillance and control over personal medical decisions. I urge you to oppose HB 807. The government should be focused on supporting families and children, not infringing upon the rights of individuals.

Women are not farms to produce children! I am an adoptive parent and have had an abortion that saved my life so that I could be a mom. I wouldn't wish what my child has been through on anyone. There are thousands of children in foster care and not enough foster/adoptive families to house them. Why would you make women carry to term for that child to end up in foster care? Or do you only care until the child is born? Shame on you! Focus on improving the broken foster care system.

As a physician, a women and a mother, I would like to forcefully opposed HB 807. The proposal is a blatant infringement of women's basic rights. It violates bodily autonomy and compromises health care privacy. Surveillance of pregnant woman would open women up to discrimination and offer no benefit to the vulnerable patients subject to this invasion of privacy. Missouri ranks 44th for maternal mortality and 40th for women's reproductive care in the US. Efforts to improve access to care, including access to OB care, education around women's and reproductive health, and resources to improve care for mother's and babies is a much more logical and economical alternative than the invasive surveillance of women. This bill would no doubt discourage women of reproductive age from wanting to live and work in this state. risks

We will donate in droves to your opponents, regardless of party affiliation, and ensure you do not get re-elected. You want women as livestock but you do NOTHING to provide for mothers forced to have babies. Need we remind you of the unlawful manner in which you all refused to fund medicaid expansion? I can go on - but we all know you have no concern over the unborn. This is an absolutely terrifying prospect that treats pregnant women as nothing more than broodmares to farm out children to “approved” adoptive families. I’m guessing the only approved families will be white, heterosexual married Christian couples? What happens if a woman has a miscarriage, but it is deemed to be suspicious? What about the women who already have children and are making the incredibly difficult choice to abort so they can focus on their children? What about the rape victims who don’t want to have to go through the incredibly traumatic experience of birthing a child that was conceived in violence? What about the long term victims of domestic violence whose abusers are using pregnancy as a way to control them? This isn’t even getting into the fact that many adoptees have stated adoption was a traumatic experience for them, especially those adopted by extremely religious and controlling families. This bill is nothing more than a way for a group of men to exert control over women and enforce cruelty. It is despicable.

THE INFORMATION ON THIS FORM IS PUBLIC RECORD UNDER CHAPTER 610, RSMo.

This is a dissenting response to House Bill No. 807. The objective should not be to prevent abortions, but rather to reduce their number by ensuring that pregnant individuals have access to options and resources that facilitate a more affordable adoption process. This bill requires the Division to create and maintain a central registry of expecting persons who are deemed at risk of seeking an abortion. However, this plan is unacceptable. Pregnant individuals considered at risk for abortion should not be placed in any database or tracking system until they have confirmed their intention to proceed with adoption. Furthermore, their information should be removed if they choose to terminate the pregnancy. Any tracking of pregnant individuals, except for those who actively consent to be placed in the adoption registry, should be strictly prohibited. In this case, the entire bill should be nullified. The people of Missouri have made their voices heard through Amendment 3, and the legislature does not have the authority to circumvent the will of the people. While expanding resources for those seeking adoption and for those wishing to adopt is a positive initiative, tracking pregnant individuals in Missouri for any reason is unacceptable. The issues with this bill are further outlined below.

Definition of "Child": The bill defines "child" or "children" as any offspring of a man and a woman existing upon first detection of the mother being pregnant up to and after birth. This definition is highly controversial as it grants legal recognition to a fetus from the moment of conception, which could have significant implications for reproductive rights and access to abortion services. It may be seen as an attempt to undermine established legal precedents regarding a woman's right to choose, which was supported by Missouri residents through the passage of Amendment 3. Where does this law prevent pregnant individuals from being charged with neglect or abuse if they choose not to pursue adoption and instead opt for an abortion to terminate their pregnancy? Additionally, how does this safeguard against the sharing of information that could lead to the prosecution of a pregnant person who decides to terminate their pregnancy? Impact on Women's Rights: By focusing on reducing the number of abortions and facilitating adoptions, the bill may be perceived as prioritizing the rights of the unborn over the rights of women to make decisions about their bodies. This could lead to increased restrictions on abortion access and potentially criminalize certain reproductive health decisions.

Privacy Concerns: The bill mandates the creation of a central registry for expectant mothers at risk of seeking an abortion and prospective adoptive parents. This raises significant privacy concerns, as sensitive personal information would be collected and shared among various agencies and individuals. The potential for misuse or unauthorized dissemination of this information could jeopardize the privacy and safety of those involved.

Resource Allocation: The bill requires the establishment of a comprehensive system to support expectant mothers and facilitate adoptions. While the intent is to provide support, it may divert resources from other critical social services. The financial and administrative burden of implementing and maintaining such a system could strain the state's budget and impact the effectiveness of existing programs.

Qualified Immunity for Private Contractors: Granting qualified immunity to private contractors providing services under this bill could reduce accountability and oversight. If these contractors are not held to the same standards as state employees, there is a risk of substandard care and potential harm to expectant mothers, fathers, and children.?

Potential for Coercion: The bill's emphasis on preventing abortions through adoption services may inadvertently pressure expectant mothers into making decisions that are not in their best interest. The focus should be on providing comprehensive, unbiased support and information to allow women to make informed choices about their pregnancies. Many "crisis pregnancy centers" across the state trick those who are seeking abortion services into their facility, then provide false images and information to them under extremely high-pressure situations and have been reported to prevent them from leaving. This is unacceptable for pregnant persons already in vulnerable states. This bill seems to protect the places that do this over protecting the rights and choices of pregnant persons.?

Legal and Ethical Implications: The bill's provisions could lead to legal challenges based on constitutional rights and ethical considerations. The broad definition of "child" and the extensive measures to prevent abortions conflict with established legal protections for reproductive rights. In summary, while the bill aims to support expectant mothers and promote adoption, it raises significant concerns regarding women's rights, privacy, resource allocation, accountability, potential coercion, and legal and ethical implications. These issues warrant careful consideration and debate before moving forward with such legislation.

I am asking the committee to vote no on HB 807. The bill is lacking in details and those details could be misinterpreted in significant ways. The most offensive part is maintaining a central registry of each expectant mother who is at risk for seeking an abortion of her unborn child. This particular type of registry makes people cattle. It is morally wrong and not the way to fix adoption issues.

This bill is a gross governmental overreach. I am a family physician who has practiced 25 years in Missouri. If you want to see more people choose adoption the state should provide financial, housing, and vocational support for pregnant people who plan to choose adoption. Creating a registry of pregnant persons will only frighten people into keeping their pregnancies secret therefore preventing them from receiving prenatal care (a scenario which was common in the 1960s and 1970s when there was more stigma around unplanned pregnancy).

A person's medical and health status are protected under HIPAA; HB 807 is in direct assault on the right to privacy and is in clear violation of the law. HB 807 aims to further curb a woman's autonomy and interfere with the sovereignty of her relationship with her medical provider. The idea that the government thinks it has has the right (or the ability!) to "maintain a central registry of each expecting mother who is at risk for seeking an abortion" is utterly chilling. I strongly urge opposition to HB 807!

I'm Amanda Stovall of Jasper County Missouri inOpposition Testimony Against Missouri House Bill I am furious that I even have to submit this in order to speak against this dystopian, government-overreach nightmare of a bill. House Bill 807 is a disgusting, Orwellian attempt to invade the private medical lives of pregnant Missourians. It is nothing short of state surveillance—an insidious, authoritarian move to monitor and control people’s bodies under the guise of “data collection.”Let’s cut through the nonsense: this bill is not about protecting anyone—it is about fear, intimidation, and control. The government has NO business tracking pregnancies. None. Who the hell do you think you are to demand that kind of personal information? This is the kind of law that belongs in a dictatorship, not in a country that claims to value freedom.What happens next? A knock at the door if a pregnancy doesn’t result in a birth? Investigations for miscarriages? Forced monitoring of medical decisions? This is not some far-fetched paranoia—this is the inevitable next step when the government starts keeping lists of who is and isn’t pregnant.And let’s talk about the danger this bill creates. It will terrify pregnant people into avoiding medical care, fearing that their names will be entered into some creepy state registry. It will put doctors in impossible positions, forcing them to choose between their oath to care for patients or compliance with an unhinged, oppressive law. This is not just an invasion of privacy—it is a direct threat to people’s lives.HB 807 is disgusting, unconstitutional, and a terrifying step toward government control of people’s bodies. You are not “protecting life.” You are creating a surveillance state where pregnancy is policed. Shame on every single legislator supporting this nightmare.This bill needs to be shredded, burned, and thrown into the trash where it belongs. We will not comply. We will not stand by while you try to turn Missouri into some kind of dystopian nightmare where the government watches over our bodies like property. If you pass this, you will be remembered for the rest of your political career as the people who tried to build the Pregnancy Police State.Do the right thing. Kill this bill. NOW.Respectfully (but barely),Amanda L Stovall

Good afternoon, I am writing to you to voice my opposition to Bill 807. The bill states that there will be a government registry of pregnant women, "at-risk" for abortion. My opposition is two-fold: first and foremost, women and their significant others have a right to privacy and bodily autonomy. Women should not be required to report their pregnancy, doubts about said pregnancy, or thoughts about their own healthcare to our government. It's a great over reach to keep a registry of pregnant women in the state. It is up to each woman what information she shares with the government, and what decisions she and her partner make about the pregnancy. Second, who would decide if someone is, "at-risk" for abortion? What criteria is used? Will women be asked invasive questions which are then reported to the government? Do doctors judge it? On what merits? This seems rife for confusion, judgement, and accusations. While I understand there is a desire to link prospective parents (via adoption) to women with unwanted pregnancies, there are other ways to accomplish this goal that don't compromise the privacy of pregnant women. Please vote no on this Bill if it comes to a vote. Thank you, Amanda Smart

A pregnancy is a medical condition to be discussed between a woman and her doctor and when applicable, her partner. It is an invasion of a woman's privacy to put her on any list because she is pregnant. I am ashamed of the men who want to make important life decisions for women instead of letting and trusting women to choose how to live their lives.

Abortion is now, due to the constitutional amendment passed last election, legal in Missouri. You have no right and no legal basis for tracking women's pregnancies. I am writing to express my strong opposition to HB 807, which is set to be discussed in the Committee on Children and Families. While this bill is being framed as a reform to the adoption system, its provision to track pregnant women in a state database is an alarming overreach of government power. This measure raises serious concerns:

- Violation of Privacy: Requiring the government to collect data on pregnant individuals sets a dangerous precedent and undermines personal medical privacy.
- Government Overreach: Missouri has long valued limited government and individual freedoms. Tracking pregnant women contradicts these principles and places undue burdens on private citizens.
- Chilling Effect on Healthcare: This bill could discourage pregnant individuals from seeking necessary medical care, out of fear that their personal health choices are being monitored by the state.

Regardless of political affiliation, Missourians should all agree that this level of governmental intrusion is unacceptable. I urge you to oppose HB 807 and instead focus on policies that truly support pregnant individuals, such as increasing access to prenatal care, maternal health resources, and adoption support services. Please stand against this invasive and extreme proposal. I appreciate your time and look forward to your response.

I am sorry, but what in the actual heck is this even about? Are you trying to make a database of pregnant women? This feels like government overreach, and a massive invasion of individual privacy. What is this information for? You're tracking women who are pregnant? What's next - teaching us in our homes? Personal lives? I don't want to have the government keep my name or information on a list. This is incredibly wrong - on so many levels. How is this not government surveillance? As a woman, and a mother of three, I am completely against sharing any of this personal information with government officials (or anyone). I have gone through three pregnancies and three childbirths, and love my children, and being a mom, more than anything in the world. And yet - I am completely against this idea of the government keeping tabs on me or any woman throughout her pregnancy. This should absolutely be illegal. It is not anyone's business in the government to monitor me or my pregnancies. You should be ashamed of yourself for even suggesting such an insane concept of government overreach and a massive invasion of personal privacy. Who gets to determine if someone is at risk of having an abortion? Who makes that call? Does this mean when I get pregnant I have to submit something to the government who gets to determine if I'm at risk of having an abortion? Does my doctor decide? Do I? Why would anyone think this invasion of privacy should be allowed?

There is absolutely no reason whatsoever for the state to be tracking pregnancy and pregnant women. This is unnecessary and a violation of HIPPA and privacy in general. This is a direct violation of pregnant people's civil rights. Regardless of the nonsensical reasoning behind this legislation, there is no good reason for it. I am a woman who in the past has had difficulty carrying pregnancy to term. I can't imagine being harassed and possibly held criminally responsible for a miscarriage that occurred naturally, due to no fault of my own. No matter what the intent of this is, this bill would be used as a tool to target women already dealing with the trauma of pregnancy and miscarriage by weaponizing the state against them for whatever reason. I am writing to strongly oppose HB 807, which would require the state to track pregnant women in a government database. This bill is a blatant invasion of privacy, a government overreach, and a direct attack on Missourians' rights. Even those who oppose abortion should find this measure disturbing. I am the mom of two wonderful boys who both attend college in Missouri and deeply love this state. But if there had been legislation to track pregnancies at the state level when I was planning to become a mom, there is no way I would have stayed in Missouri -- which already faces a dearth of births compared to deaths. This bill will have an even more detrimental effect, and I strongly oppose it.

This bill requires the state to create and maintain a registry and database of expectant mothers that are "at risk for seeking abortion". How does this bill plan to decipher which pregnant women this fits? Or is it ALL pregnant women in MO? It states the goal is to protect them and aid in adoption. This bill is disgusting and disguised to help with adoptions but in fact is criminalizing women and their choices that we voted for. There are 13,000 children in the foster system in MO. I suggest we write bills helping find them good homes instead of criminalizing women and making their bodies government property. Our bodies Our choice.

I am writing you today to implore you to deny HB 807. The tracking of pregnant women is a gross overreach of government and a waste of precious State resources. As of August 2023, there were nearly thirteen thousand children waiting to be adopted in Missouri. If a person is so eager to have a child, then surely they would be grateful for the opportunity to pursue adoption with any of those children. Tracking anyone without criminal cause is unconstitutional and an attack on personal freedoms. You can protect freedom and privacy by denying HB 807. Thank you,

I am writing to express my strong opposition to HB 807, which is currently under consideration in the Committee on Children and Families. This bill, under the guise of adoption reform, would create a state database to track pregnant women—a dangerous government overreach that has no place in a free society. This bill raises serious concerns about privacy, bodily autonomy, and government intrusion. Regardless of political affiliation, Missourians should be alarmed by the idea that the state would monitor pregnancies in this way. Such tracking could set a dangerous precedent, one that opens the door to further surveillance and control over personal medical decisions. I urge you to oppose HB 807 and any legislation that infringes on the rights of individuals under the guise of so-called “reforms.” The government should be focused on supporting families and children—not invading the private lives of its citizens. Please stand up for personal freedom and privacy by rejecting this extreme and unnecessary proposal. I look forward to your response and hope you will take a firm stand against HB 807.

Any bill which requires a registry of pregnant women should not even be considered. The voters of Missouri have spoken, and they have said that women get to choose what happens to their bodies. Adoption can of course be offered as an option, but that is all it is, an option which a woman--not the state may choose I for one don't want to see state funds used for expanding adoption when we rank at or near the bottom of maternal mortality and teacher pay. The state should take care of mothers and educate the children we have before forcing more children to be born in the state.

I grew up in a religious family. Conservative. At the age of five the man that adopted me after marrying my mom began to molest and abuse me. Sexual abuse of children was rampant in his family. There was no safe space. In my teen years my biggest fear was being raped by the man I called dad. I missed my youth. I missed being free and safe. I was tortured. I was almost destroyed. I am still being treated for PTSD from the effects of the abuse I survived. There's no other way to put it...it was a daily battle to survive. In my late 20's I became a secretary on a labor and delivery unit at the local hospital. I saw the miracle of life...the joy...the beauty of human existence. I also saw death, tragedy, and devastation that left you breathless. Women who were experiencing the very thing that haunted me. Abortion isn't black or white. It's not a flippant decision. Its not women with no morals or heart. Sometimes it's a life that's unsafe. Sometimes it's incredible fear. Sometimes it's medical. Regardless of the reasons, it's not my business or your business...and it's profoundly disturbing that our government would consider tracking women like animals. I beg you, please allow what we as a citizen voted for and oppose this bill.

Maintaining a database of women "at-risk" of having an abortion is a gross overstep in privacy. First it is no one's business if a woman is pregnant and reporting all pregnant woman to a tracking database will deter many woman from seeking prenatal healthcare. Second, tracking pregnancies opens all miscarriages to investigation. Miscarriages are devastating physical and mental health events for women and families. Subjecting a woman to questioning on the status of her pregnancy is cruel and invasive and is against her rights to not disclose health information. This is an obvious attempt to inflict a religious anti-abortion agenda in a state that has already legalized abortion access. As written this bill will cause severe harm to women, children and families. I'm further concerned about the lack of details on how a woman is to be considered "at-risk" for abortion. Sounds like profiling based on race, socioeconomic status, religion, age, marital status, etc. Any such criteria would indicate this is not about preventing abortion but controlling and isolating those populations. I feel sympathy for the many women facing infertility and wanting to adopt a healthy baby, but no one has a right to another woman's womb. Women's bodies are not incubators for people wanting to adopt healthy white babies. As written, this is very dangerous to women.

To the Members of the Missouri House Committee on Children and Families, I am submitting this testimony to vehemently oppose HB 807, a bill that represents an alarming overreach of government power and an egregious violation of personal privacy. Requiring the state to track pregnant women in a database is deeply intrusive, unethical, and unacceptable. This proposal is not a reform—it is state surveillance over private medical matters and personal health decisions. Such a measure is draconian and should be unthinkable in a free society. Regardless of political ideology, Missourians should be outraged by the implications of this bill. It sets a dangerous precedent for government interference in personal and medical autonomy, creating an environment of intimidation and fear. I strongly urge this committee to reject HB 807 in its entirety. The government should not be in the business of tracking pregnancies, and lawmakers must respect the fundamental right to privacy that all Missourians deserve. Thank you for your time and consideration. Sincerely, Andrea Backowski

It's inappropriate for the state to track or have access to personal, private medical histories of individual Missourians, including whether they have had abortions. HB 807 seeks to create a registry for those who "may seek an abortion." Who has the right to dictate who this includes? Does it include any person with a uterus? Does it include only lower income individuals who have a uterus? This bill seeks to be an additional measure of control over the women and individuals with biologically female reproductive organs. Individuals seeking any form of healthcare INCLUDING ABORTION should not have to worry about the government making any decisions within that doctor's office for them. This is between the doctor and patient ONLY. If Missouri truly would like to end abortion and unwanted pregnancies in our state, we would mandate vasectomies when a young man reaches puberty age. Vasectomies are non-invasive, relatively painless and reversible. A woman can only be responsible for carrying a single child per year (with the exception of twins, triplets, etc) whereas a man can potentially impregnate hundreds of women a year. Stop trying to pass laws that only seek to control anyone who isn't a cis-het man.

I'm a family medicine physician and I oppose HB 807 as it threatens the privacy and autonomy of pregnant women. Tracking women during pregnancy infringes on their basic rights and undermines their ability to make personal decisions free from government interference. The proposal raises significant concerns about privacy violations and the potential for discrimination. Instead of focusing on surveillance, efforts should be directed toward supporting women with access to healthcare, education, and resources to ensure healthy pregnancies and outcomes. This bill risks stigmatizing and punishing vulnerable individuals rather than offering compassionate, effective solutions.

My name is Andrea Stueck, and I live in Wentzville, MO. our state cannot keep up with the existing number of children in foster, kinship, and guardianship care. Social service agents have high case loads and often, it's the rural areas that have the largest need and longest back logs. It makes me sick to think they are still attacking reproductive freedom AND threatening to limit/end Medicaid when our kids in state care depend on it, all while introducing bills like this! Our state does a horrible job at keeping track of and protecting the existing children in its care. Family court has a huge backlog of families waiting for resolution. I could go on...but all of this to say, introducing bills like this, given the current shortcomings of the system, is nothing more than witch hunts aimed at hurting women and it's obvious, they don't care about the kids at all.

"I am writing to strongly oppose HB 807, which would require the state to track pregnant women in a **government database**. This bill is a **blatant invasion of privacy, a government overreach, and a direct attack on Missourians' rights**. Even those who oppose abortion should find this measure disturbing. As a Missourian in good standing I would like to say that the idea of the government tracking me or my daughters if/when they become pregnant is scary. At what point will we look at women in the same way as men? If you are willing to track me will you also track my spouse or my daughter's boyfriends through out the pregnancy? I think it goes wildly against our constitution and our own autonomous right as U.S. citizens for our government to be able to further strip our privacy away from Missouri women by using private medical information to make a list of expecting mothers. What would even qualify for an at risk for abortion mother, and why is it anyone's business, especially when missouri chose to overthrow the abortion ban? It feels very much like an attempt to further strip women of their rights, even after Missouri has spoken and said that the state and government have no right to tell a woman what to do with her body. It's even further insulting to go back on our decision as a state in favor of more conservative politicians who lost the precious vote for the ban. Woman deserve their privacy and the state has no right to put un-consenting expecting mothers in a database for adoption purposes, and the government has no right to go back on the vote of the people.

I would like to submit testimony against the pregnancy registry bill. This bill is invasive to the privacy of the citizens of Missouri, and in particular, women. To disclose private health information regarding pregnancies to "prospective adopters" would pit citizen against citizen in our state, compromising safety, and forcing the citizenry into a state of fear and paranoia of those who should be called our "neighbors" in every sense of that word.

I do NOT support a registry of pregnant women for the purpose of tracking if they are potentially getting an abortion. My sister found out at her obstetricians appointment that for babies was dead when she was 4 1/2 months pregnant. Since she is diabetic, she had to have the baby surgically removed to protect protect her health. The procedure was called a late term abortion. However, this was not an abortion since the baby was already dead. The legislation being proposed has the potential to falsely accuse women of having an abortion and then caused them to defend themselves and incur legal fees and negative publicity. Again, I do not support this legislation.

I first and foremost believe that under any circumstance a woman is entitled to decide whether or not pregnancy is right for her. While I see the ideals behind this measure, I don't believe it is right for our state. There are already so many children in the Missouri foster care system - an average of 12,764 based on the last five years of data I gathered from HHS.gov. According to the same source over the same time span (2018-2022) only an average of 1,625 children were adopted. I believe it to be more prudent to find families for these children that are already here rather than any potential children that may be born in the future. I believe this measure would put not only pregnant women in harm's way but also any resulting children, as it is known that upwards of 60,000 children each year are subject to investigation of maltreatment in Missouri (data also gathered from HHS.gov).

To Whom it May Concern,I am an adoptive parent and I vehemently oppose this bill. I believe that adoption should focus on birth mothers first, as this reduces trauma to the child placed for adoption. By creating this registry, we are robbing expectant mothers of their privacy and right to consider their options without pressure or judgement. Many birth mothers feel coerced into adoption, and this registry would only exacerbate the issue. Please do not allow such a dangerous bill to pass in our state.Sincerely, Anne Brod

This proposed registry is a gross violation of my right to privacy, my medical information, and my duly established right to choice. Why not make a registry to track which men in the state have gotten vasectomies or not? I'd hope that the answer would be that we should have a government so small it can't concern itself with private matters of this nature. Shouldn't it be the same for women? Why does the gentleman who proposed this bill want to track women's bodies, but not those of men? Women are not livestock. Please don't treat us as such.

THE INFORMATION ON THIS FORM IS PUBLIC RECORD UNDER CHAPTER 610, RSMo.

I am against HB 807 because it does not include key points around this issue, is an invasion of privacy, puts the government in the middle of what should be a personal and medical decision, and tracking "expecting mothers at risk of seeking abortion" is a waste of tax payer money. I would support an optional program that made it easier for expecting mothers to voluntarily seek adoption resources and services. My biggest concern with this bill is that "The Division is required to make and maintain a central registry of each expecting mother who is at risk for seeking an abortion" - I strongly encourage great caution when considering tracking individuals in this way, it can quickly escalate from optional to required without explicit call outs. I would suggest the following edits to keep Missourians safe: A) Explicitly state that the database only contains expecting mothers who are receiving services from this division and that the expecting mother can be removed from this database/registry at any time at her request. B) Explicitly state that expecting mothers do not have to receive services from this division, all services are completely optional and can be stopped at any time. C) Explicitly state that medical providers do NOT have to report expecting mothers to this division. D) Explicitly state that the division will not try to stop or prevent an expecting mother from receiving medical care around the pregnancy including premature birth or abortion when the mother and/or babies life is in danger. E) Explicitly state that the division will not provide the expecting mothers with text against or for abortion and that the division will not provide any medical advice regarding the pregnancy. F) Change verbiage "expecting mother who is at risk for seeking an abortion" to "expecting mother seeking adoption resources and services".

As a native Missourian, a passionate Christian, and one half of an infertile marriage, I am gravely concerned with the purview, language and approach of HB 807. While sensitive to the need for restoration of families, and even the need for adoptive families when all else has failed, to propose a registry of “at risk” pregnant women with the stated goal of marketing their pregnancies To potential adoptive couples commodifies children in an egregious way, and dehumanizes pregnant women by subjecting them to a human judgement regarding their fitness to parent or chose their own life path. Both are grievous approaches to human life that will foster a predatory approach to pregnancy and adoption that have no place in our civil, free, and dignified society. The idea of legally assessing “at risk of abortion” pregnancies is dangerously partisan and subjective. I see no mention of programs to support these women, only a way to capitalize on their vulnerable positions and fear. It flagrantly opens to the door to unfairly profile who would be “at risk for abortion.” It does not demonstrate any commitment to bolstering the social programs that are needed by pregnant women and it strips away the choice of a pregnant woman to freely determine her course of action. You may not be aware-not living in women’s bodies yourselves- how easily a pregnancy can end naturally. It is particularly chilling to me that your bill does not deal with the ramifications of miscarriage or complication in pregnancy and it is currently implied that a registered pregnant woman would be failing a social or truly legal contract if she were to lose her pregnancy by natural means. What is more, the language of this bill is manipulative, suggesting an easy, legal approach to something as spiritually profound as pregnancy that I personally find to be profane. Such a registry has NO PLACE in our free society. This entire bill screams eugenics and I vehemently oppose it. For pregnant women, for families, for Missourians, HB 807 would be a horribly misguided, despicable misplacement of priority and a failure to the sanct human life it claims to protect. There is nothing pro life about taking advantage of one woman to give her baby to another. No woman is owed a baby. Children are gifts- they are not promised and not a single one of us is inherently worthy of a child. To suggest otherwise proves our unworthiness. To suggest one woman would owe her baby to another because the state seems it so is derogatory. It is disgusting to proffer this registry as an antidote to abortion- which is statistically on the decline- when it is proven that normal, civil social measures long under Republican attack are the way to reduce abortions: access to birth control, access to healthcare and stable housing, opportunities for housing and other social assistance. This bill is a pithy substitute for effective, substantive care for “at risk” pregnancies. Do not pass this bill and strip a woman of the choice to keep her own baby. Do not normalize preying on our neighbors who we deem “unfit” for Something as priceless as a human life. Do not pass HB 807.

I am writing to express my strong opposition to HB 807, which is set to be discussed in the Committee on Children and Families. While this bill is being framed as a reform to the adoption system, its provision to track pregnant women in a state database is an alarming overreach of government power. This measure raises serious concerns:

- Violation of Privacy: Requiring the government to collect data on pregnant individuals sets a dangerous precedent and undermines personal medical privacy.
- Government Overreach: Missouri has long valued limited government and individual freedoms. Tracking pregnant women contradicts these principles and places undue burdens on private citizens.
- Chilling Effect on Healthcare: This bill could discourage pregnant individuals from seeking necessary medical care, out of fear that their personal health choices are being monitored by the state.

Regardless of political affiliation, Missourians should all agree that this level of governmental intrusion is unacceptable. I urge you to oppose HB 807 and instead focus on policies that truly support pregnant individuals, such as increasing access to prenatal care, maternal health resources, and adoption support services. Please stand against this invasive and extreme proposal. I appreciate your time and look forward to your response. Sincerely, Aren Ginsberg

This bill would be a serious overreach into women's privacy. What kind of far reaching effects might this have down the line? Are we going to threaten birth control next? I need birth control in order to be on my arthritis medication, and that's none of the state's business. There is no world where creating a registry of women who 'might be at risk' of having an abortion is anything but nefarious. Why do you need a registry? What will you do with that information? Amendment 3 is the law of Missouri. Restricting that goes directly against the will of the people who elected you. We will remember.

I do not support a central registry of expectant mothers. This is personal information and should only be shared with a medical professional. This is a disgusting overreach by the Republicans in this state to further control the woman. An overwhelming majority of the state voted in favor of Amendment 3, voting to protect reproductive rights and access to healthcare. Children's Division is understaffed and underfunded as it is, not to mention the number of children that are already placed in the system. Opening up an agency that is meant to protect our children to lobbying and placing women who "are at risk for an abortion" on a registry is the opposite of pro-life.

As a woman and a mother, I oppose this bill and find it revolting that anyone would want to create a registry, a Scarlet Letter, for pregnant individuals. This is another means to make reproductive Healthcare frightening to women and prevent them from accessing the care they need. By creating a registry of pregnant people and threatening them with this registry with the foster care system (which is already over burdened with a huge lack of respectable and safe foster parents), you will force women to die, to stay in domestic violence, to ruin their lives and that of their already living children. You show no compassion or care for the people of Missouri with this bill. You only show your desire that women and girls are seen as property and nothing but brood mares. I refuse to stay quiet about this. I refuse to allow you to strip my daughter's rights before she's even old enough to exercise them. I am writing to express my strong opposition to HB 807, which is currently under consideration in the Committee on Children and Families. This bill, under the guise of adoption reform, would create a state database to track pregnant women—a dangerous government overreach that has no place in a free society. This bill raises serious concerns about privacy, bodily autonomy, and government intrusion. Regardless of political affiliation, Missourians should be alarmed by the idea that the state would monitor pregnancies in this way. Such tracking could set a dangerous precedent, one that opens the door to further surveillance and control over personal medical decisions. I urge you to oppose HB 807 and any legislation that infringes on the rights of individuals under the guise of so-called “reforms.” The government should be focused on supporting families and children—not invading the private lives of its citizens. Please stand up for personal freedom and privacy by rejecting this extreme and unnecessary proposal. I look forward to your response and hope you will take a firm stand against HB 807.

This bill is discussing and egregious. Making and maintaining a registry of this kind is against the Constitution and HIPPA."The Division is also required to consider immediate actions that are in the best interests of expecting mothers, fathers, and children that include, but are not limited to, placing agencies on corrective plans, halting new referrals, transferring cases, or terminating provider contracts." And this would mean what?, Inprisoning of pregnant women and stealing of new born babies. This is sick. There will be no services to offer that will help. No Snap, No Housing benefits, No Medicaide. All of these services will be disconnected if the current administration has their way.

As a Missouri resident and parent of two children adopted in Missouri at birth I oppose this bill. The resources already exist through out Missouri. The idea that only "at risk of seeking an abortion" pregnant women will be identified is government overreach. A list kept of pregnant women is government overreach. Who will be identified as at risk? The poor expectant mother? The brown skinned expectant mother? I have the utmost respect the birth parents of my adopted children. They had to make a very difficult choice that was heartbreaking. Yet there choice was done without the pressure placed on them by the government. My husband and I choose to maintain contact with our children's birth families, because it is in the best interest of our children. HB 807 takes away the autonomy of the birth mother to make a choice that is best for the child and themselves. This bill reduces a woman and her pregnancy to a mere transaction. I have seen adoption agencies, including ones supported by the state government, negate the humanness of the birth parents. This leaves lasting trauma on everyone involved. Adoption should always be a mutual decision and one based on love and care. Identifying and tracking pregnant women is not a way to create a loving and caring process for children. HB 807 is not a save the babies bill; it is government overreach and will cause more harm to children. Instead create more resources to help mothers and children throughout their lifespan.

This bill does not state how the government would identify “at risk” pregnancies, meaning it would need to require a registry for all pregnancies. Adoption is not always the best or right answer for an unwanted pregnancy. Tracking and monitoring pregnant women is not only a breach of privacy, but is disgusting. Women are people and women deserve to make their own choices for their own bodies. This state passed a constitutional amendment - even if you do not agree. If you don't agree with having an abortion, don't have one, but treat women as human beings, not data to be tracked. As a woman who lives and votes in this state, I'm embarrassed, horrified, and disgusted by this bill.

THE INFORMATION ON THIS FORM IS PUBLIC RECORD UNDER CHAPTER 610, RSMo.

This is a dissenting response to House Bill No. 807. The objective should not be to prevent abortions, but rather to reduce their number by ensuring that pregnant individuals have access to options and resources that facilitate a more affordable adoption process. This bill requires the Division to create and maintain a central registry of expecting persons who are deemed at risk of seeking an abortion. However, this plan is unacceptable. Pregnant individuals considered at risk for abortion should not be placed in any database or tracking system until they have confirmed their intention to proceed with adoption. Furthermore, their information should be removed if they choose to terminate the pregnancy. Any tracking of pregnant individuals, except for those who actively consent to be placed in the adoption registry, should be strictly prohibited. In this case, the entire bill should be nullified. The people of Missouri have made their voices heard through Amendment 3, and the legislature does not have the authority to circumvent the will of the people. While expanding resources for those seeking adoption and for those wishing to adopt is a positive initiative, tracking pregnant individuals in Missouri for any reason is unacceptable. The issues with this bill are further outlined below.

Definition of "Child": The bill defines "child" or "children" as any offspring of a man and a woman existing upon first detection of the mother being pregnant up to and after birth. This definition is highly controversial as it grants legal recognition to a fetus from the moment of conception, which could have significant implications for reproductive rights and access to abortion services. It may be seen as an attempt to undermine established legal precedents regarding a woman's right to choose, which was supported by Missouri residents through the passage of Amendment 3. Where does this law prevent pregnant individuals from being charged with neglect or abuse if they choose not to pursue adoption and instead opt for an abortion to terminate their pregnancy? Additionally, how does this safeguard against the sharing of information that could lead to the prosecution of a pregnant person who decides to terminate their pregnancy? Impact on Women's Rights: By focusing on reducing the number of abortions and facilitating adoptions, the bill may be perceived as prioritizing the rights of the unborn over the rights of women to make decisions about their bodies. This could lead to increased restrictions on abortion access and potentially criminalize certain reproductive health decisions.

Privacy Concerns: The bill mandates the creation of a central registry for expectant mothers at risk of seeking an abortion and prospective adoptive parents. This raises significant privacy concerns, as sensitive personal information would be collected and shared among various agencies and individuals. The potential for misuse or unauthorized dissemination of this information could jeopardize the privacy and safety of those involved.

Resource Allocation: The bill requires the establishment of a comprehensive system to support expectant mothers and facilitate adoptions. While the intent is to provide support, it may divert resources from other critical social services. The financial and administrative burden of implementing and maintaining such a system could strain the state's budget and impact the effectiveness of existing programs.

Qualified Immunity for Private Contractors: Granting

qualified immunity to private contractors providing services under this bill could reduce accountability and oversight. If these contractors are not held to the same standards as state employees, there is a risk of substandard care and potential harm to expectant mothers, fathers, and children. ?Potential for Coercion: The bill's emphasis on preventing abortions through adoption services may inadvertently pressure expectant mothers into making decisions that are not in their best interest. The focus should be on providing comprehensive, unbiased support and information to allow women to make informed choices about their pregnancies. Many "crisis pregnancy centers" across the state trick those who are seeking abortion services into their facility, then provide false images and information to them under extremely high-pressure situations and have been reported to prevent them from leaving. This is unacceptable for pregnant persons already in vulnerable states. This bill seems to protect the places that do this over protecting the rights and choices of pregnant persons. ?Legal and Ethical Implications: The bill's provisions could lead to legal challenges based on constitutional rights and ethical considerations. The broad definition of "child" and the extensive measures to prevent abortions conflict with established legal protections for reproductive rights. In summary, while the bill aims to support expectant mothers and promote adoption, it raises significant concerns regarding women's rights, privacy, resource allocation, accountability, potential coercion, and legal and ethical implications. These issues warrant careful consideration and debate before moving forward with such legislation.

Well, that ought to discourage women from seeking prenatal care. Just what we need. Even worse maternal/child outcomes in Missouri. Years ago (1990s?), there was a bill introduced to incarcerate women who were using drugs while pregnant. The groups for and against abortion rights came together in a rare moment of agreement as we fought that and won. I suspect the same thing is going to happen with this bill, and the same reason.

I absolutely oppose this proposed bill as it's a violation of doctor/patient privacy. A woman should not be forced to carry a baby for possible adoption by "fit & proper adoptive parents". Passing this bill will cause women to avoid getting proper prenatal care which will jeopardize both the mother's and baby's health. Please stop mandating women's bodies without also mandating men's bodies since they can impregnate more women faster than a woman can carry a baby. The voters passed a constitutional amendment to allow abortions and yet the lawmakers have intensified efforts to challenge abortion rights. Now this proposal wants a list of women who are expecting, but that could be possible abortion risks so the government can prevent them from doing what is right for the

There is no such thing as an "unborn child." A child by definition, is a living, breathing human being outside a mother's womb. These idiots never stop lying and destroying the English language in their effort to control women's rights and bodies. Second, the department of Health and Social Services has a hard enough time monitoring foster homes and care for children in their care that are breathing 'born' children. Perhaps authorize more staffing and funding to the DHHS. Help them set up a database of qualified adoptive parents for children already in the foster care system. Abortion option is not for me, I got pregnant at 17 and gave the child up for adoption. The thing was, my mom allowed me to make the decision. My body, my choice. I love her for allowing me to live with my consequences, and choose the option I could live with over my lifetime. I have known women who have had early stage abortions, and many as they get older seem to have a regret that I do not have in my life. Instead of all of this 'protect the unborn', our society needs to come along side of a woman who finds herself with an unwanted pregnancy and help 'HER' find her life answer. God will take care of the fetus that cannot live on its own outside of the woman's body. Question for all please, why is it that there are no campaigns or consequences for men who impregnate women? It can't be no sex before marriage either, because I would be hard pressed to find a man who didn't have sex before marriage. Why not free birth control pills for women? Why not free condoms for men? It was hard back in the 90's paying $30/month living on minimum wage for birth control, in case I found a potential life partner or was ever sexually assaulted. There is a lot that could be done with education, resources and support of option plans for men and women who could impregnate or be impregnated. I live in Missouri. I voted for pro-choice on the last ballot. I hear now how it was misleading somehow. I did not find that, I did however find the Rank Choice vote ABSOLUTELY misleading. The proposition began with: 'Should only U.S. Citizens be allowed to vote'. That is already written in the constitution, so it had nothing to do with the deeply hidden rank choice voting initiative. I think that proposition should be overturned. Back to my initial point. We need to come along side people in difficult times, not MANDATE their options for them. Also, men need to be held more accountable for the creation of life, it takes two. Leave to God what is still in his control. Take care of God's children who were 'born' already and are breathing by giving them lunches to learn better. Assistance for child-care for those struggling to make ends meet. Provide birth control options to reduce pregnancies in the first place. Thank you for your time.

Making and maintaining a list of pregnant women in MO is an invasion of privacy and is simply an effort to intimidate and scare women as the creators of this bill well know. This will have the effect of keeping women from seeking healthcare. The government has NO business in these private matters. None whatsoever. My name is Bernadette Gronborg and I am a 77 year old resident of Festus, MO. My husband and I have four grown sons and eight grandchildren. I respectfully submit my strong opposition to this bill for the reasons that follow:--This bill will establish an entire bureaucracy meant to create a registry of pregnant females in the state of Missouri, and apparently find them so that they can be matched with prospective adoptive parents who will also have a registry. On the face of it, promoting adoption is a good thing. But establishing a registry of pregnant females is a VIOLATION OF THEIR PERSONAL PRIVACY. One has to wonder if all males of age to reproduce would protest if their privacy was violated by creating a registry of males who have had or are considering vasectomies. After all, if pregnant females are a "resource" then it would seem that fertile males can also be a "resource".--The bill states it will "identify expecting mothers that are considered (by whom) to be "at risk for seeking abortion services." Really? Who will make this determination? Someone poking themselves into the exam room with pregnant females? It appears that THIS is simply an effort to provide anti-abortion propaganda to pregnant females under the cover of caring about adoptions.--PREGNANT FEMALES SHOULD NEVER BE CONSIDERED "RESOURCES" FOR THOSE WHO CANNOT BEAR CHILDREN. Do you not see that this places pregnant females under the same category as simple animals serving to procreate?? This is worse than insulting. This is dystopian and a clear effort to keep females as they were in the "good old days"...in their proper place.---This bill also states that it will prevent abortions through adoption of children by "fit and proper adoptive parents." Exactly what bureaucrats will be assigned to determine what adults are "fit and proper"? My guess is "fit and proper" will probably exclude same sex couples or couples who are not Christians in good standing. For DECADES private adoption agencies have screened couples seeking to adopt. THIS IS NOT THE ROLE OF THE STATE. ---The bill states it will promote the safe and healthy birth of children. Admirable. Physicians and hospitals do that job. And if lawmakers are really serious about promoting safe and healthy births, make certain that all insurance policies provide care. Make sure rural Missouri once again has hospitals, clinics and doctors. Make sure pregnant females have ready access to education and job training. Make sure pregnant females have access to affordable housing. Make sure that DOGE doesn't eliminate Medicaid. Make sure that pregnant females have access to good NUTRITION by eliminating food deserts in our urban and rural communities. MAKE SURE THAT FOOD STAMPS are a priority for pregnant females and mothers of newborns. Or is all of that too hard for you legislators to accomplish? It shouldn't be. Our states has a surplus according to the governor. I STRONGLY OPPOSE THIS BILL FOR ALL THE REASONS STATED ABOVE. Respectfully submitted, Bernadette Gronborg

This bill will do the opposite of what it intends. A registry of expectant mothers is a violation of FERPA.If you want to prevent abortions, then it should be free to give birth, no tens of thousands of dollars in medical debt.If you want to prevent abortions, then supplement childcare so everyone has affordable care.You could create a child tax credit with Missouri income tax. To reduce abortions, reduce the horrendous child poverty rate.If you want to prevent abortions, then provide free IUDs to teens the way Colorado did. That reduced the abortion rate by 60%. This bill is about invading privacy and scaring women into not seeing a doctor because they will get put on a registry.That will encourage abortion more than anything.

I oppose HB 807 because it involves creating state-run registries to track pregnant individuals, which is an extreme invasion of privacy. This level of government oversight is unnecessary, harmful, and undermines personal autonomy. Tracking pregnancies could discourage individuals from seeking essential medical care out of fear. Instead of promoting adoption, this bill risks stigmatizing and isolating expectant mothers. I urge you to vote against HB 807 to protect privacy and individual rights.

It is shocking that the Children and Families Committee would be hearing HB 807. I did watch most of the hearing this morning and listened to the sponsor and his informational expert walk back the language contained in the bill of a mandatory registry. The bill states, "The Division is required to make and maintain a central registry of each expecting mother who is at risk for seeking an abortion and a central registry of each prospective adoptive parent who has successfully completed certain screenings, background checks, home studies, and other investigations to ensure the fit of the prospective parent to adopt a child." There are so many problems with this bill, too numerous to list. But expecting pregnant individuals to hand over their medical information to the state of Missouri is a complete and egregious overreach of government. Another attempt by extremist lawmakers to guilt or perhaps criminalize women who have a right to an abortion is this state with the passage of Amendment 3.

I am against this bill. This is very disturbing and digging too deep into the personal lives and matters of the citizens of Missouri. If you want to help, provide the necessary resources for newborn children, especially those of underprivileged mothers. The government does not need to know every last detail of someones life to provide helpful options. Keep your nose out of the personal lives of the citizens of Missouri. If you want to be helpful, make contraception materials and teachings readily available.

THE INFORMATION ON THIS FORM IS PUBLIC RECORD UNDER CHAPTER 610, RSMo.

I strongly oppose HB 807, the so-called "Save MO Babies Act," because it establishes government overreach into deeply personal reproductive decisions, undermines privacy rights, and imposes a coercive adoption framework that prioritizes political ideology over the well-being of expecting mothers and children. This bill creates a state-run system that tracks and monitors pregnant individuals deemed "at risk" of seeking an abortion, which raises serious concerns about privacy, consent, and bodily autonomy. The requirement to maintain a central registry of these individuals is invasive and could deter people from seeking necessary medical care, especially in vulnerable situations. Furthermore, linking these individuals to pre-screened adoptive parents without clear protections against coercion or undue influence risks turning adoption into a state-mandated alternative rather than a freely chosen path. Rather than providing comprehensive, unbiased support for expecting mothers, HB 807 explicitly seeks to prevent abortion rather than ensuring that individuals have access to a full range of options. This narrow focus ignores the real economic, healthcare, and social barriers that lead people to consider abortion in the first place. Instead of forcing adoption as the preferred outcome, the state should prioritize expanding healthcare access, affordable childcare, paid family leave, and economic security for all families. Additionally, the bill grants broad authority to a newly created Division of Maternal and Child Resources, while allowing private contractors and service providers to operate with limited accountability. This structure opens the door for inefficiency, misuse of state funds, and potential ethical concerns regarding how these private entities influence the adoption process. Moreover, the bill provides qualified immunity to certain private contractors, reducing their accountability for any harm that may result from their services. Ultimately, HB 807 fails to respect the rights of expecting mothers, lacks necessary safeguards against coercion, and diverts resources away from initiatives that would truly support families. I urge lawmakers to reject this bill and instead focus on policies that provide real support for Missouri families—ensuring that all individuals can make informed and autonomous decisions about their pregnancies.

This is an incredibly dangerous way to ensure women go without prenatal care that could save her and baby's life. Many women already go without the mental health services they need when pregnant and postpartum for fear of what might happen to them and/or their baby, this is another sure-fire way to put women AND children at risk. If we are the pro-life state we claim to be, this is in direct opposition to that.

Establishing a publicly available list of pregnant women is a violation of privacy. There is no provision for consent to share this information to any group or individual in the bill as written. As such it implies that the information will be shared without the woman's consent. This is in and of itself a violation of HIPPA.

This bill will “create and maintain a data base of expectant mothers” AND the Division can share records, information and findings with...LAW ENFORCEMENT (capitulation is mine)”. This is an illegal breach of HIPPA laws, is capricious, harmful and ignorant. In my 30 year career as a social worker I, at one time, worked at an agency facilitating adoptions, working both with expectant mothers and prospective parent. This proposed law will be harmful to the already emotionally difficult process and will create emotional trauma for a vulnerable population. Supporting adoptions in the state of Missouri means funding adoption agencies not registering “baby makers” and threatening their privacy rights. Women are people too.

I adamantly oppose HB 807, mainly 207.102, part 3. There should not be any interference from State government when it comes to a families choice to abort or adopt. Moreover, the centralized databases and registries being proposed are egregious and outside the scope of what State gov't should be doing. Furthermore, we already passed Amendment 3 to legalize abortion, and I feel that this is bill is a way to side step the will of the voters, which is dispicable and shameful. No one should be suseptible to having their government intervene on such private matters, whether the pregnant woman or adoptive family. i do not support this bill. It does not represent me, my values, or how I expect my State gov't to be.

I am against this bill. I am concerned that some women will avoid seeking prenatal care to make sure their right to their bodies is respected. I am concerned that using this tactic will make women seek abortions in unsafe manners and lead to a loss of more lives. If the pro-lifers truly cared for children, they would work on policies that make the lives of our CURRENT children easier. Helping the ones in the foster system get all their physical and mental needs met. Helping the parents pay for daycare so that they can work and provide for their children. This bill will do nothing but put more lives at risk.

A list of individual considering or “at risk” of abortion, a legal medical procedure in Missouri, is a violation of privacy and medical privilege. It is a gross overstep to manage a list of this nature. And also could be misused to cause harm to women if they choose abortion rather than abortion. Which is again private and fully legal.

Every pregnancy is a pregnancy that is “at risk of seeking abortion.” So then, to me, this reads as if all pregnant mothers would be in this “tracker.” Then, who is to say that if a pregnancy is lost, the mother would be blamed. As a child-bearing Missourian, the fear of losing a pregnancy is already great. Then to have the added stress of being blamed for that heartbreak is inhumane. On top of that, the wording of how they will facilitate adoptions to those deemed fit is also a slippery slope. Who is deeming someone fit? What will be the follow up? This seems like the vague wording leaves room for someone to take a woman’s child if they decide someone else would be a better fit. This is wrong and has been poorly thought through. It would be a better use of time and resources to work to fix the foster and adoption system we currently have rather than trying to add more children to an already broken system.

I'm sorry what? We can't be serious about a registry of pregnant woman likely to seek an abortion? Aside from the HUGE government over reach especially considering limited abortion is legal in MO has anybody thought about the logistics of this? What is the definition of "likely to seek abortion"? How would the state find out who is pregnant? Not from doctors. This is medical data so all HIPPA laws would apply as well. Anybody considered that? You want to set up a whole new department without figuring out if said department could legally complete its mandate. Instead of spending our budget surplus on tracking pregnant women how about we spend it on educating the children we already have?

Creating a registry of women based on their private medical data/fertility to attempt to punish them for something they have not even done blatantly breaks the constitutional right to privacy, lays the groundwork for a surveillance state, and is very similar to sexist, hyper-religious laws in the middle-east against women. Ask yourself if this is the America we want to stand for, and if you would be ok with the government tracking the fertility and private medical data of your wife and daughters to attempt to punish them.

I oppose Missouri House Bill 807, while the goal of aiding adoption is commendable, the bill overlooks critical issues surrounding maternal and child health. Additionally, the creation of a central registry of expecting mothers is deeply concerning. This approach raises serious privacy issues and could lead to unnecessary government surveillance of vulnerable individuals. Instead of tracking expecting mothers, Missouri should focus on providing them with the resources and support they need to maintain healthy pregnancies and stable home environments.

This bill is an absolute intrusion into the lives of Missouri residents. There are so many issues in the state to focus on, and by choosing this issue you are alienating half your constituency. You are not regulating men's bodies. You are not addressing men's actions. You are not bringing harsher penalties for rape, assaults and crimes against women. You are trying to make all women with a working uterus criminals. It takes two people to create a pregnancy, but this bill only focuses on one. It's morally and criminally wrong. To continue to attack women, try to regulate women's health and personal choices is to fall out of the boat and miss the whole ocean. What bills like this do is drive women to choose not to have children at all, to not enter into relationships for fear of male aggression, control and reprisals, and to not seek proper healthcare should we find ourselves pregnant. By proposing legislation like this you are driving the population of the United States down, instead of encouraging it to grow. When the population shrinks so does the economy. There is a shortage of people entering the workforce, paying taxes, and reproducing. By driving women to make the choice not to have children, especially in a hateful male driven states like Missouri you are hurting the entire US, it's economic growth, and the wellbeing of its citizens.

As a lifelong Missourian, reading this bill is appalling. Creating and maintaining a registry of pregnant women? That sounds like the government being involved in people's everyday lives for no reason, and not even people who would be qualified to be involved with a pregnancy. This violates pregnant people's freedoms to their pursuit of happiness. This is outrageous to even suggest that this is constitutional. You can paint this as an adoption bill, but that is not what this is. As an adoptee, I know that there are currently WAY more children that could use help currently than this would actually "protect". This is unimaginable to even put this out there. Listen to the will of the people, we want abortion rights. We want our freedom of choice.

Dear Committee Members: I am writing to express my strong opposition to HB 807, a bill that, under the guise of adoption reform, would create a state-run database to track pregnant women. This bill is a deeply troubling invasion of privacy and a misguided approach to addressing Missouri's already overburdened foster and adoption system. First and foremost, HB 807 raises serious privacy concerns. Requiring medical professionals and others to submit information about pregnant individuals—potentially without their consent—amounts to government surveillance of private medical decisions. Pregnancy is a deeply personal experience, and the idea that the state could track and target individuals for pro-adoption messaging is an egregious overreach. It is not the role of the government to interfere in such intimate matters. Second, Missouri's foster and adoption system is in crisis. Children are being housed in hospitals, office buildings, and other temporary placements because there are simply not enough homes to care for them. Overwhelmingly, the children in Missouri's system are not infants surrendered for adoption but older children who have experienced neglect, abuse, and trauma. Instead of focusing on pressuring more people into relinquishing infants for adoption, the legislature should be working to ensure that the children already in the system have safe, stable, and loving homes. Encouraging adoption should not come at the expense of pregnant individuals' rights or personal autonomy. Those who wish to pursue adoption have every right to do so, but they should not be subject to state-sponsored tracking and pressure. If the goal is truly to support pregnant individuals and improve the adoption process, the legislature should focus on expanding access to comprehensive healthcare, ensuring pregnant individuals have the resources they need to make informed decisions, and addressing the severe deficiencies in Missouri's foster care system. For these reasons, I urge you to vote NO on HB 807. Sincerely, Carrie Hewitt

To Missouri Representatives regarding HB 807, I am a concerned constituent writing in strong opposition to HB 807. This is in direct violation of HIPAA- a federal law that guarantees US citizens right to privacy when it comes to health care matters. This includes pregnancy. Taken from HHS.gov "On April 22, 2024, OCR issued a Final Rule, entitled HIPAA Privacy Rule to Support Reproductive Health Care Privacy. The Final Rule strengthens the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996 (HIPAA) Privacy Rule by prohibiting the disclosure of protected health information related to lawful reproductive health care in certain circumstances. HHS issued this Final Rule after hearing from communities that changes were needed to better protect patient confidentiality and prevent medical records from being used against people for providing or obtaining lawful reproductive health care. This Final Rule bolsters patient-provider confidentiality and helps promote trust and open communication between individuals and their health care providers or health plans, which is essential for high-quality health care"

I am writing to express my strong opposition to HB 807, which is set to be discussed in the Committee on Children and Families. While this bill is being framed as a reform to the adoption system, its provision to track pregnant women in a state database is an alarming overreach of government power. As an adoptive parents and a Missouri resident I oppose this bill. This measure raises serious concerns:

- Harm to children: Adoption trauma occurs for every child who is separated from their mother no matter their age. This affects their decisions and relationships their entire lives. Adoption should not be a line of defense against abortion, it should be an absolute last resort.
- Preventing abortion and child abuse: Evidence is clear that supporting pregnant women with healthcare, affordable housing and childcare, and a living wage leads to a massive reduction in both abortions and adoptions. If your goal is to care for a child before it is born (by preventing an abortion) as well after, a strong social safety net is the best way to do it.
- Violation of Privacy: Requiring the government to collect data on pregnant individuals sets a dangerous precedent and undermines personal medical privacy.
- Government Overreach: Missouri has long valued limited government and individual freedoms. Tracking pregnant women contradicts these principles and places undue burdens on private citizens.
- Chilling Effect on Healthcare: This bill could discourage pregnant individuals from seeking necessary medical care, out of fear that their personal health choices are being monitored by the state. Regardless of political affiliation, Missourians should all agree that this level of governmental intrusion is unacceptable. I urge you to oppose HB 807 and instead focus on policies that truly support pregnant individuals, such as increasing access to prenatal care, maternal health resources, and adoption support services. Please stand against this invasive and extreme proposal.

In no uncertain terms should pregnant women or people that are deemed at risk of abortion be tracked. Who will decide if a pregnant woman is at risk? What are the qualifications? I understand if a pregnant person wants to voluntarily join such a registry, but there is no wording for this. This bill leaves wide open the ability of this state to track any pregnant woman or person. Tracking pregant people is a violation of privacy rights and I am against this bill as it stands.

While helping expectant mothers find adoptees is nice, it is NOT the governments place to track expectant mothers. Also, it is not clear as to how you would identify a mother who would perhaps want an abortion. It would be better if you did this for all mothers who are potentially wanting to give their child up for adoption through their choice of coming to the government agency, not just those seeking abortion that the government has tracked. Furthermore, there are many reasons for abortion, such as the child will not live. The government has no place in a women's reproductive choices, especially when under the disguise of "helping." Last, the fact that this information would be allowed to be shared with federal government and law enforcement is just encouragement to track and punish women.

I strongly oppose this bill. As an adoptee and former foster youth, I am opposed to pre-birth matching and creating a data base of "at risk of abortion" expectant mothers and expectant mothers. Pre-birth matching puts tremendous pressure on mothers to follow through with relinquishing their children for adoption when they might really want to change their minds and keep their children. Birth mothers frequently share feelings of obligation to provide a baby for prospective adoptive parents. They feel guilt for wanting to parent their own children. My own mother was coerced into relinquishing me to LDS Social Services, now LDS Family Services, before I was even born. This was devastating for her and traumatic for me as a newborn separated from my mother. Mothers need space and support to make private decisions about pregnancy and parenting. Decisions about choosing adoptive parents should be done after birth.

I support adoption, but I can in no way condone the tracking of pregnant people. This opens the door to dangerous territory that should not be permitted. This is something to be offered in a different capacity and those wanting to undergo adoption as a route can learn about it in another way that doesn't violate their right to medical privacy and bodily autonomy. HB807 is not a bill about adoption. It is a bill designed to control & track women. SJR5, SJR23, HJR54, and HJR31 are other such bills. Each of these bills seek to OVERTURN the will of the people of Missouri who voted "Yes" on Amendment 3 on November 5, 2024. As a reminder, Amendment 3 is to "establish a right to make decisions about reproductive health care, including abortion and contraceptives, with any governmental interference of that right presumed invalid". Plainly, Amendment 3 gave Missouri women back the fundamental right to reproductive freedom. On December 23, 2024, a state circuit court held that the state's trigger ban and other abortion restrictions were UNCONSTITUTIONAL and enjoined those laws. HB807 is a plan to "create a central registry of each expectant mother who is at risk for seeking an abortion of her unborn child..." Who determines which expectant mother in Missouri needs to be put on any such registry? Would race determine risk for abortion? Would age? Would number of previous children? How about income, will a person's income determine risk for abortion? Or maybe, every expectant Missourian will be put on this registry? It is chilling that this bill also proposes to "Maintain a record that contains the services provided to an expectant mother". Stop interfering in the rights of Missouri women! Stop trying to overturn the will of Missourians!

THE INFORMATION ON THIS FORM IS PUBLIC RECORD UNDER CHAPTER 610, RSMo.

Testimony in Opposition to HB 807 Submitted to the Missouri House of Representatives Dear Members of the Missouri House of Representatives, I am writing to express my strong opposition to HB 807. This bill represents a wasteful use of taxpayer dollars, an egregious infringement on women’s right to privacy, and an unacceptable overreach of government authority. First and foremost, HB 807 misuses public funds on a matter that does not serve the interests of Missouri’s citizens. Our tax dollars should be allocated to addressing pressing issues such as improving education, healthcare, infrastructure, and public safety—not to creating unnecessary government interference in private medical decisions. At a time when fiscal responsibility should be paramount, it is irresponsible to divert resources to policies that do not serve the public good. Additionally, this bill is a direct assault on women’s fundamental right to privacy. Decisions about reproductive healthcare are deeply personal and should remain between a woman and her doctor. The government has no place in dictating or monitoring such choices. HB 807 sets a dangerous precedent by granting the state intrusive power over private medical decisions, violating the constitutional protections that ensure personal autonomy and bodily integrity. Finally, HB 807 represents an unacceptable government overreach. It imposes excessive regulations and surveillance that contradict the conservative principle of limited government. The very lawmakers who advocate for reducing government interference in personal lives should recognize the hypocrisy of supporting a bill that grants the state disproportionate control over women’s healthcare decisions. I urge this committee to reject HB 807. Missouri’s government should focus on policies that uplift and empower its citizens rather than enacting intrusive, unnecessary legislation that erodes personal freedoms and wastes valuable resources. Thank you for your time and consideration. Sincerely, Caty Patterson cc.patterson10@gmail.com

As far as I can determine, this bill provides no clear statement of who exactly determines or identifies "each expecting mother who is at risk for seeking an abortion". Without this clarification, one can only assume that the state will document, track, and harass ALL pregnant women. This bill also creates new bureaucratic levels at the same time as the majority in office seeks to dismantle government agencies at all levels. The bill sets the stage for 'official' harassment of citizens without due process of any kind, and risks being an excuse for an invasion of privacy on a grand scale. What about legislation that tracks those men who get the women pregnant to be sure they are helping pay the costs involved?

I disagree with this wholeheartedly. This violates both the 4th and 14th amendments and only increases the government's power over the people. This also could be a potential pipeline for sex traffickers who don't have prior offenses.

I oppose HB 807 because it involves creating state-run registries to track pregnant individuals, which is an extreme invasion of privacy. This level of government oversight is unnecessary, harmful, and undermines personal autonomy. Tracking pregnancies could discourage individuals from seeking essential medical care out of fear. Instead of promoting adoption, this bill risks stigmatizing and isolating expectant mothers. I urge you to vote against HB 807 to protect privacy and individual rights.

The provisions in this bill represent an extreme government overreach and should be reconsidered by the legislative body. There is no legal, legislative, or moral reason the government should be monitoring or cataloging a women's pregnancy, and by doing so, the government is exhibiting a breach of confidentiality between her and her doctor. As a constituent of this state, I wholeheartedly oppose this measure.

tracking pregnant women who are "at risk" of abortion??? are we using the handmaid's tale as a literal textbook now? This bill implies that the government can just decide to take away someone's baby and sell it to someone else because it is deemed "in the best interest" of the mother, if she has considered abortion in the past??? The language of this bill is incredibly vague and therefore incredibly dangerous. Also what about HIPA? There is already a department and agency that handles adoption. How much will this cost? How much will it cost to maintain this registry? This is INEFFICIENT.

Face your own problems before delving into what your narrow mind thinks is a problem created for you by someone who is none of your business. You're not solving anything. The database for "at risk" pregnancy is a set up for a HUGE privacy breach. There is no reason our government needs to track any pregnancy. There are too many reasons a pregnancy doesn't always end in a live birth but instead a miscarriage. The last thing a woman needs is a government agency questioning on what happened. A pregnancy is only the business of the woman and her doctor.

I strongly oppose HB 807, as it represents an extreme violation of privacy, bodily autonomy, and basic human rights. The idea of a government registry tracking pregnant individuals based on the presumption that they may seek an abortion is deeply invasive and authoritarian. This bill does not support pregnant individuals; it surveils and coerces them. Rather than offering real solutions, such as access to healthcare, financial support, or comprehensive prenatal care, HB 807 treats expectant mothers as mere vessels for adoption, disregarding their autonomy and personal circumstances. Forced pregnancy surveillance is not pro-life; it is state overreach and government control at its worst. I urge you to reject HB 807 and instead focus on policies that provide genuine support for pregnant individuals and families.

I'm concerned that this bill will not improve adoption rates. It seems like it will likely put more women and children at risk since pregnant women will be less likely to seek medical care if they know they are going to be put on a registry. I am also curious what incentive there is to adopt when the federal government is slashing assistance programs. These adoptive families could be less likely to adopt if they know they will have zero government assistance such as Healthcare, WIC, etc.

Why do we want or need a registry of pregnant women who may be at risk of having an abortion? In no way is the a good idea. This is the beginning of a police state where everything is monitored and controlled by the government much like China. Is this what we want for our country? Our people? This is the beginning of the end if this bill passes as stated and is completely unacceptable to me.

I am writing to express my strong opposition to HB 807, which is currently under consideration in the Committee on Children and Families. This bill, under the guise of adoption reform, would create a state database to track pregnant women—a dangerous government overreach that has no place in a free society. This bill raises serious concerns about privacy, bodily autonomy, and government intrusion. Regardless of political affiliation, Missourians should be alarmed by the idea that the state would monitor pregnancies in this way. Such tracking could set a dangerous precedent, one that opens the door to further surveillance and control over personal medical decisions. I urge you to oppose HB 807 and any legislation that infringes on the rights of individuals under the guise of so-called “reforms.” The government should be focused on supporting families and children—not invading the private lives of its citizens. Please stand up for personal freedom and privacy by rejecting this extreme and unnecessary proposal. I look forward to your response and hope you will take a firm stand against HB 807.

Am I a person at risk of abortion? What qualifies? Wouldn't providing this information be against HIPPA? How can someone be identified as being at risk without possibly exposing additional health information? What makes strangers in a database privvy to personal information just because of adoption,prescreened or not? I am fighting for my friends, colleagues, and strangers who have had abortions, my children who may be in need of one in the future, or their sigificant other. The government asked for our vote on abortion. We voted and it moved forward. It's time for Missouri and the US to listen to the people and accept what we chose. Stay out of our bodies- separate church and religion from state and government decisions.

Maintaining a registry of "expecting mothers identified to be at risk for seeking abortion services" goes against the very idea of personal freedom we enjoy in our democratic republic. It is unconscionable to start developing registries of citizens against their will or knowledge! It sounds like women of lower socio-economic status will be targeted first since they are the ones having the most contact with the Department of Social Services. But where does it end? Will my daughters end up on your registry if they get pregnant because we signed the initiative petition to put Amendment 3 on the ballot? Does that put them in the "at risk" category? Keep government out of our personal reproductive choices! Offer robust support (food assistance, medical care, child care, education) to women and children AFTER birth if you want to help support Missouri families.

My husband, Pat & I respectfully request that you vote against HB 807 for the following reasons:Creates a Maternal and Child Resources division in the Department of Social ServicesRequires the Division to create and maintain a database of expecting mothers at risk for seeking an abortion and prospective adoptive parents for the purposes of identifying children who may be suitable for adopting Interferes directly with a pregnant woman's fundamental right to make their own decisions about health careCreates increased costs for unadopted babies that move into foster care and/or institutionsWe believe that public policy in a pluralistic society must affirm the constitutional right to privacy of the individual to make reproductive choices.

This is a complete invasion of privacy and is big government. Government should not be involved in private healthcare matters. This law would also cause many expectant mothers to not go to the doctor throughout their whole pregnancy to avoid being put on the registry. This will lead to more deaths of mothers and their unborn babies that could have been prevented with routine care.

This bill is an egregious overreach into the personal lives of pregnant women, particularly those already in vulnerable situations. Establishing a government registry that tracks expecting mothers who may seek abortion is a blatant invasion of privacy and a dangerous precedent for state control over personal medical decisions. Instead of providing genuine support and resources that empower women to make their own choices, this bill coerces them into a system that treats them as little more than statistics in an anti-abortion agenda. The idea of cataloging pregnant women who might consider abortion—effectively marking them for government monitoring—is a dystopian infringement on personal freedoms, reminiscent of authoritarian control rather than compassionate governance. Furthermore, this bill assumes that adoption is the only acceptable alternative to abortion without considering the complex, deeply personal, and often difficult circumstances that lead a woman to consider terminating a pregnancy. Forcing women into a bureaucratic system that prioritizes adoption over their autonomy ignores the root causes of why women seek abortions in the first place—such as financial instability, lack of healthcare, or an unsafe home environment. Instead of addressing these systemic issues, the state seeks to funnel women into an adoption pipeline that prioritizes the interests of prospective adoptive parents over the well-being and rights of the mothers. The bill effectively strips pregnant women of their agency, reducing them to mere vessels for childbirth while granting disproportionate authority to the state and private adoption agencies. The creation of a central registry of pregnant women is not only a massive privacy violation but also an open door for abuse, discrimination, and coercion. The bill claims to protect confidentiality, yet it allows the sharing of personal information with law enforcement and child welfare agencies, potentially subjecting women to surveillance, legal consequences, or pressure to comply with the state’s preferred outcome. This measure disproportionately impacts low-income and marginalized women who may already be struggling with limited healthcare access and systemic discrimination. If Missouri truly wanted to support expecting mothers, it would invest in expanding access to comprehensive healthcare, childcare assistance, and economic support, rather than tracking them in a database and pushing them toward adoption. This bill is not about saving babies—it is about controlling women.

My name is Christy. I live in Park Hills, MO. I am submitting my testimony against this bill. The people of this state have spoken. As of 2023, there were 12,970 children in the foster care system in Missouri. People paying attention, such as myself, know this bill is NOT about foster care; it is about controlling women. Who do you think you are to push women to put their own babies into foster care when there are so many children in the foster care system right now? At the same time, you are removing programs that help infants and pregnant women have access to baby formula, healthy food, and insurance that literally keep women and babies healthy and alive. The Trump administration is attempting to dismantle every single program helpful to infants and make women breeders. If you continue to attack social programs that benefit women, infants, and children and say you are "pro-life" you are hypocrits and you KNOW IT. What happens to you when you force women to hand over their babies? What do you think is going to happen to You when people can not afford to feed their families? Do you believe Missourians are going to be fine with this? Do you believe the people have no power to take back their lives? This is in NO way a threat; there is historical evidence to back my claim, such as the French Revolution, for starters. Listen to the will of the people. Leave women alone and do your job. You can start by focusing on helping the children in classrooms terrified they will be murdered by someone with a gun, children being affected by abuse, children freezing to death because of homelessness, children who go hungry, children in the foster care system, children with special needs, children dying of cancer, if you care so much for children. Our daughters will NEVER be forced into bearing children. Period. Thank you for allowing my voice to be heard.

In no way shape or form should pregnant women be catalogued in a data base solely for the purpose of the government overseeing said woman or pregnancy details. Adoption agencies should be vetted and overseen to encourage women who so choose to seek out. But in no way facilitate the meeting. NO WOMAN SHOULD HAVE TO WORRY ABOUT THE GOVERNMENT THROWING HER IN JAIL OVER ANY MEDICAL ISSUES BETWEEN HER AND HER DOCTOR!! How about throwing the male who started the pregnancy in jail for creating an unwanted pregnancy!! This bill would open the door for government over reach in women's health rights!!!

As a pediatric provider, I can attest that Children's Division is so taxed that they cannot adequately protect the at risk and underserved children already in our state. Asking this same division, to somehow fulfill the requisites in this bill is unreasonably optimistic. There was no mention where the extra money, training, resources, and staff will come from to fulfill these requirements. Has anyone obtained input from the department that will be tasked with implementing and maintaining this program? This "program" will end up being an easy way for abusers and sex traffickers to obtain young children, because once they are adopted these children are no longer monitored. Without the resources (which acquisition of this is not mentioned in this bill) to adequately vet the "prospective" families these children will become easy targets for predators; because anyone with first hand experience with our "system," already know the huge pitfalls and shortcomings within the system; It won't be hard for predators to realize this as well. Do you know that even when abuse or neglect is reported, if the child moves a few miles across the river, the allegations practically go away, because state agencies don't speak to each other? There is no central database for allegations and abuse when it comes to children. Families simply have to move and start over, so these "prospective parents" could easily be under investigation in other states for crimes or abuse against children, but if they haven't been charged with anything, there is no way to know of the abuse. Look at the Hart Murders, these people adopted children only to subject them to neglect and abuse and every time they were reported, they simply moved to another state, before they ended it all with murder-suicide. How many children have you hotlined? How many have you fostered or adopted from the foster system? How often have you interacted with children's division, what was your experience? Did your calls go unanswered for days at a time for urgent matters? Have you been told "that case worker is no longer here, so I don't know what's going on with that case or what has happened?" Have you ever had a child in state custody in IL in which the guardian died and the family moved to MO, so they were given back to the family that IL already deemed wasn't safe, but MO practically said " we don't have any of that information?" Trying to "save MO babies" is noble and all, but this isn't the way to do it; especially if you don't have first hand experience with our current system. Fix our broken children and family services division first, then talk about ways to expand services. Expanding services on a understaffed, underfunded, and overworked system is only going to result in more children being hurt. How many children are currently in the foster system? Many of those children are eligible for adoption, so why haven't been adopted yet? Trying to simply a complex social situation by playing "match up" is an act of hubris in which children will suffer.

I strongly object to any sort of registry of pregnant women for any purpose. Further I object to this information being made available to a registry of those wishing to adopt. This is ludicrous. Accept that abortion is a right in MO as established by the will of the people. Those choosing to explore this option should not be monitored and or tracked. This is an envision of their privacy and quite possibly a HIPPA violation. I AM IN OPPOSITION TO YOU TRACKING WOMEN. This is absurd. That I must take time out of my day to submit this testimony is additionally insulting. Please use your time wisely in the Capitol.

It's none of the state's concern if I am pregnant. It's only the state's concern when I actually have a baby for the birth certificate and other legal things. The people spoke during November's election and voted to keep abortion rights. Don't get your panties in a bunch because it didn't turn out your way. I proudly have a child but things did not go well when we were trying to have a second child. I had a miscarriage early on and it was devastating. Do the male elected officials understand that a doctor won't see you until you are 8 weeks pregnant? I lost my second child at 4 weeks. How is the government supposed to enforce pregnant women to register? How early would you have to register? How will the government respond when someone loses their baby? President Trump is cutting frivolous government spending so why is Missouri going against him and adding a costly registry to maintain? The state of Missouri can't even combat temporary license plate tags and is losing revenue over that, so how is that less important than this? Will the register be free? I would like to start a registry of all the men with erectile disfunction so we can collect data on them and keep track of the cost of their medicine.

It is not up to the state to decide whether personal private matters with a mother and their doctor. The idea that the party of small government wants to maintain a list of eligible women is insane and violates all women's in our states right to privacy regardless of intent to birth. This is Fascism disguised behind the guise of protecting and helping babies when it's actually removing individuals personal privacy and individual rights which goes against both the US Consitution and our great State of Missouri's Constitution. If you want to control women so badly try to be mask off about it instead of hiding your intent in this matter, you should be ashamed of yourselves and your inability to ACTUALLY help mothers and babies in our state. This bill should be struck down purely on the direct intent to hide their actual goal of creating lists of women for the state to monitor. It is thinly veiled Authoritarian law that is intended to oppress and hurt our states population. You want to suck a boot so bad how about you restrict your own personal rights first before you impose on others, if you can't do that first then just proves the point that your goals are both Un-American, Un- Missourian and personally Un-Self Liberty which our country and state were founded on the principals of. Go home you Fascist wannabes nobody asked you to stick your head where it clearly has no idea where it belongs. You will not win, as your goals are not Morally right and you will be judged by your God for the hatred you try to put into the world day in and day out. I implore you to reconsider your current trajectories and instead focus on ACTUALLY helping mothers and babies in our state by funding initiatives that can help instead of this insane drivle.

To whom it may concern: This bill, if we're to pass, would be detrimental on multiple fronts to the people of Missouri. Creating and maintaining a registry of pregnant citizens is an absolute violation of personal health and privacy. The State of Missouri does not have any business in the wombs of its inhabitants. Women deserve to have the privacy of their pregnancies kept between themselves and their medical providers. It is a known and recognized fact that 10-20% of pregnancies end in miscarriage naturally. Does the state plan to keep tabs on every single pregnancy, pestering and re-traumatizing every mother who has lost their child? Such a behavior would be cruel and unusual punishment. I suggest that if prospective adoptive parents are so desperate to take in someone else's child, they should consider becoming foster parents and form bonds with one of the over 10,000 children who are currently in the Missouri foster care system. I find the suggestion of the bill to be abhorrent to common sense as well as decent morality. There is no decent reason to track pregnancies and violate privacy simply for the sake that a wishful adoptive parent "may" be able to find someone willing to give up their newborn. The value in privacy of women's healthcare far supersedes any desires of someone to take another person's child. This bill must not be passed.

Passing this completely takes away any women's right and autonomy of their own body. I have had two miscarriages, where at 11 and 15 weeks gestation I lost the heartbeat. Because I lost the heartbeat, I had to take medication to medically induce an abortion. These were the most heartbreaking times I've ever had to go through. I didn't choose to have an abortion, I NEEDED to have an abortion to have my dead babies leave my body. I am now the proud mom of a 3 year old boy, and a 9 month old daughter. It still breaks my heart when my due dates of my two miscarriages passes. Creating a registry for women who are pregnant takes away privacy of sharing it or keeping it a secret. Because of my miscarriages I didn't tell anyone about my pregnancy with my daughter until past 20 weeks. Imagine being in a situation where you're put on a registry and then you lose the heartbeat of your child, and have to worry about being arrested or whatever you want with this registry for punishing women. I felt like a failure, that I was the problem, that I wasn't good enough, and so many more emotions with my miscarriages. Add on top of that now this registry, you are endangering women and putting them through more stress for unnecessary reasons.

I am very opposed to this bill. It is a blatant invasion of privacy, and invasion of human rights. It basically forces a woman to give birth to a child, against her will. The large majority of abortions occur very early in pregnancy. This bill would force the woman to maintain the pregnancy for the full 9 months, against her will. If men do not want women to become pregnant, then they should always wear a condom. This also prevents pregnancy, and is much less invasive than an abortion.

This bill is incredibly dangerous and offensive. Creating a list of “pregnant women who are likely to have abortions” is an antiseptic way of profiling. Exactly how will that list be created? How will those women be identified? It creates a list of “fit and proper” adoptive parents. What exactly is “fit and proper”? The bill also duplicates adoption services and processes already in place within MO Children’s Division. This bill will violate individual privacy. The bill makes no mention of placing the thousands of children languishing in foster in “fit and proper” adoptive homes. It also presumes that the government knows better than pregnant women. It implies that pregnant people aren’t capable of making decisions that are in their best interests. This bill is demeaning and offensive.

HB807 is an affront to pregnant people and it's right out of Gilead. How is it determined that a pregnant woman is likely to have an abortion? Who determines that. How will that be tracked and by whom? This bill targets poor women and women of color. What are "fit and proper" adoptive parents? White and straight? The bill duplicates adoption processes already in place within the Children's Division. The bill also ignores the health risks involved with pregnancy and delivery. There is no mention of trying to prevent unwanted pregnancies through medically accurate sex education and contraception. This is merely an anti-abortion bill. There is no mention of safely adopting the thousands of Missouri children languishing in foster care who are eligible for adoption. There is no mention of tracking the men who irresponsibly ejaculations and cause unwanted pregnancies. This bill is horrendous, insists that pregnant women give birth in order to receive services, and is essentially bribing women to give up their babies for adoption. I strongly oppose this bill and it's insistence on forced birth.

This legislation would directly infringe on the Ninth and Fourteenth Amendment rights of Missourians. Pregnant persons should have a right to privacy for the sake of safety for themselves, their families, and their potential pregnancy. Who is to say an individual couldn't find out how to access the kind of registry suggested and harass or stalk an individual out of personal, religious, or political motivations? Hello, my name is Corinne and I am a Missouri woman from Columbia. While this bill may have good intentions it is removing pregnant Missouri women of HIPAA rights. I oppose the potential dangerous outcomes that could happen by keeping a list of pregnant Missourians. Please vote for safety and privacy for pregnant Missouri women!

The people of Missouri have spoken, time and time again. Yet, Rep Amato, Mayhews, and Oehlerking have decided that their whims should come regardless of what the people of Missouri have voted for. Not only that, but the language contained in this bill is unhinged. A registry of expectant mothers? In other countries that have these types of opinions that these three Reps are attempting to implement here; it only starts with a registry, and soon turns into a limitation on personal freedoms and bodily autonomy that should NEVER have a home in the United States of America. These bills targeting only the female half of the population clearly shows that Missouri Reps hold some level of disdain for their mothers, wives, sisters, daughters, colleagues, and friends. This bill shouldn't even be entertained. If this bill passes, or other bills like it passes, I will be moving my business out of Missouri. Our friends who own businesses that support the farmlands up near Albany, friends who provide services to the demographics that the Reps supporting this bill need in order to stay in office - will all be moving out of Missouri. Many of mine and my husband's friends and family have already voiced their desire to move elsewhere, to spend their money elsewhere, and to lend their support elsewhere - because of bills like this, that keep getting pushed despite the people of Missouri voting otherwise.

This is a gross violation for expectant parents and their children. Pre birth matching is a shameful practice not utilized in any other country. Additionally adding this task in to an already underfunded and understaffed department is reckless. There is no evidence that the home study process is safe or effective and leads to positive outcomes for adoptees. Furthermore, we should look at the outcomes for all people who are adopted. They have more mental health concerns, a higher rate of suicide, and poorer health outcomes as compared to their peers. Not to mention the public health concern created by increasing the amount of termination of parental rights. It strips children on not just parents but siblings, grandparents and other relatives. Commodifying children to replace the lowering supply of infants available for the private adoptive industry is not an act I want my tax dollars funding.

This is a blatant attempt to track women who are pregnant and "at risk for abortion" and push them to adoption. This is a violation of HIPPA. It is unethical and honestly disgusting. The constituents of Missouri voted YES on Amendment 3 and that is us saying that we want to be able to choose for ourselves what is best for us. There is supposed to be a separation of Church and State, but you have all allowed the "Church" to intervene and spread lies about late term abortions. These are not women that woke up at 8 or 9 months pregnant and decided they've changed their minds. These are women that have put together the baby's room and had baby showers and are so excited to meet their baby and a catastrophic medical issue emerges, and it comes down to the baby or the mother's life. These are lifesaving procedures for the mother. Just a side note, if more women are dying during birth, then they can't be around to produce more babies. Which that's all this is really about; controlling women and forcing us back to traditional roles and have lots of babies. You have no right to track pregnant women and it's morally wrong and illegal. We voted YES on Amendment 3, so stop doing everything in your power to undermine our vote.

..."the function of which is to promote safe and healthy birth....Promoting safe and healthy birth has NOTHING to do with maintaining a pregnancy registry and everything to do with providing pregnant women with adequate nutrition, transportation to and from prenatal visits, child care so that women can keep said visits, educating women in signs and symptoms of pregnancy complications so that early intervention might mitigate the severity of any complications that arise, reminding women during prenatal visits that each pregnancy is different and, just because they have had one, two, or twelve healthy babies doesn't mean that this pregnancy will result in a healthy, term infant, maintaining adequate Medicaid funding so the approximately 40% of Missouri women whose pregnancies are covered by Medicaid can even receive prenatal care, and including, but not limited to, assuring that women will not lose their jobs or even a day's worth of wages when going to a prenatal visit."The Division is required to make and maintain a central registry of each expecting mother..."This single portion of one provision in the bill is in direct violation of HIPPA and may result in the prosecution of health care providers for violation of patient privacy. Approximately 42% of Missouri counties are already experiencing a shortage of obstetricians. Increasing the risk of litigation is likely to drive even more OB/GYN's from the state. The rate of application for OB/GYN residencies in the state has dropped 25% since 2022. How will increasing the possibility of litigation and, quite probably, further reducing the number of graduate physicians wanting to practice obstetrics in Missouri "promote safe and healthy birth?"

The government needs to refrain from continuing to interfere with women's reproductive health and decisions. It is up to the woman whether or not to carry a fetus to term or to put it up for adoption after birth. Tracking women's pregnancies for the purpose of determining if she is at risk for abortion (which is legal or may be needed for health reasons) and supplying that information to potential adoptive parents violates HIPAA and so your bill would be illegal. Additionally, there are many resources women have to find adoptive parents if that is their choice and so the governmental intervention you're proposing is not needed nor should be forced upon them. It is a person choice regardless and the State needs to refrain from interfering.

HB807 raises numerous constitutional and ethical concerns. The collection of sensitive medical data in a government database poses serious risks to personal privacy and bodily autonomy. The idea that the state would monitor pregnancies in this manner is deeply intrusive and opens the door to potential misuse, discrimination, and government overreach into the most personal aspects of an individual's life. Furthermore, this bill would have a chilling effect on healthcare access, deterring individuals from seeking necessary medical care for fear of government surveillance. This is particularly concerning for marginalized communities who already face significant barriers to healthcare. Physicians and healthcare providers should not be forced into a role of government informants, as it erodes the trust that is fundamental to the doctor-patient relationship. Additionally, Missouri has no business interfering with the private reproductive decisions of its residents. The creation of such a database sets a dangerous precedent for government overreach, potentially leading to restrictions, criminalization, or undue scrutiny of personal medical choices. This bill does nothing to support maternal health or improve healthcare outcomes—it simply enforces unnecessary government intrusion. I urge this committee and the Missouri House of Representatives to reject HB807 in its entirety. Instead of pursuing invasive policies that compromise privacy and autonomy, the legislature should focus on expanding access to healthcare, improving maternal health outcomes, and supporting families in ways that respect individual freedoms.

I am entering my opposition to this bill. This particular part of the bill "Maintain a central registry of each expectant mother who is at risk for seeking an abortion of her unborn child..." is extremely scary. No government person or entity should be tracking the pregnancy of any woman. This is one of the most invasive and horrible things I have ever seen introduced in the Missouri legislature. In America, we are supposed to be respecting the rights and privacy of people, according to our constitution.

I am horrified to learn that the state of MO is considering the creation of a database of pregnant women that must be made available to anyone thinking about adoption to query. This is a shocking violation of privacy for the women of MO when they are at their most vulnerable. If there is a specific problem with the current adoption system, let's fix that problem. I am sure requiring children raped by family members who become pregnant will not benefit from being listed in a public database.

The Committee on Children and Families is discussing bill that's being branded as a reform to the adoption system. In reality, HB 807 would require the state to TRACK PREGNANT WOMEN in a database. We have to imagine even conservative Missourians would be horrified by this idea. Please focus on introducing bills that will actually help the people of Missouri and not infringe on people's freedom and personal choices. This is a horrible bill and the fact that it includes a provision to make a central registry for expecting mothers seeking abortion is an invasion of privacy. God forbid your daughters/granddaughters/or great granddaughters get raped and then are subjected to be monitored for seeking an abortion. Is it going to take personal instances/experiences on your family members to get you all to stop attacking a women's right to choose? It is dispicable and Missouri voters have had enough. I am writing to express my strong opposition to HB 807, which is currently under consideration in the Committee on Children and Families. This bill, under the guise of adoption reform, would create a state database to track pregnant women—a dangerous government overreach that has no place in a free society. This bill raises serious concerns about privacy, bodily autonomy, and government intrusion. Regardless of political affiliation, Missourians should be alarmed by the idea that the state would monitor pregnancies in this way. Such tracking could set a dangerous precedent, one that opens the door to further surveillance and control over personal medical decisions. I urge you to oppose HB 807 and any legislation that infringes on the rights of individuals under the guise of so-called “reforms.” The government should be focused on supporting families and children—not invading the private lives of its citizens. Please stand up for personal freedom and privacy by rejecting this extreme and unnecessary proposal.

I have several concerns: 1.                    Privacy Issues: The bill mandates the collection and centralization of personal information about pregnant women, which raises significant privacy concerns. The criteria for determining who is “at risk” of seeking an abortion are not clearly defined, leading to fears of potential misuse or overreach in data collection.                    2. Government Overreach: By monitoring and potentially intervening in the personal decisions of expectant mothers, the bill is seen by some as an overextension of government authority into private lives. This level of involvement in personal health decisions is viewed as intrusive and unwarranted.                    3.                    Lack of Clarity and Definitions: The bill does not specify the factors that would classify a woman as “at risk” of seeking an abortion. This ambiguity could lead to inconsistent or biased identification processes, further complicating the ethical and practical implementation of the registry. These concerns highlight the potential ethical, legal, and social implications of implementing such a registry, contributing to opposition against HB 807.

The creation of a registry of “each expectant mother who is at risk for seeking an abortion of her unborn child” is an example of government overreach and a threat to individual privacy. The statute would allow the state to define who is “at risk for seeking an abortion”, opening the possibility that any woman suspected of missing a menstrual cycle or displaying some other possible indicator of pregnancy could end up on the list. While this may seem to be a broad interpretation of the statute, the legislation does not preclude such an interpretation. In addition, the statute allows for the possibility of this registry being shared with officials in other states, as well as local and federal governments. This is an unacceptable breach of personal privacy and should not even be considered in a state that claims to value individual rights, personal privacy, and limited government.

This bill is meant to police women and keep them from exercising their newly restored right to reproductive healthcare in MO. Pregnant people aren't "at risk" of seeking an abortion. It's a healthcare procedure. Certainly maintaining a registry of pregnant people is a violation of privacy. There are already systems in place for people who WANT to choose adoption. They don't need state intervention, read bullying. We are moving closer to making dystopia future lit a reality. Just. No.

The people of Missouri voted to ensure abortion rights were made available to all Missouri residents so that women are free to make choices about their own health without governmental interference. It is disgusting that an elected official seeks specifically to fight against the will of the people and to implement a system of control over Missouri women in direct opposition to the established wishes of his constituents throughout the state. The idea that women who are pregnant need to be carefully monitored by the powers that be is a draconian tactic that threatens the very freedoms this country was established upon. Specifically, I hope that those supporting this scheme can at the very least be transparent about what they are doing as I suspect instead they will seek to cover up and obscure their true purpose in monitoring women and seeking to punish those who exercise their full rights and instead try to pretend this is somehow not directly in opposition to the wishes of their voters. Because in any sort of open and honest discussion, these measures would be laughed out of the room and soundly rejected. Your punitive anti-woman political machinations are not welcome here as the voters of this state clearly stated. In short, learn to mind your own business and stop trying to interfere in the lives of those you are supposed to be elected to serve, not control.

I wish to express my staunch opposition to this bill, and specifically section 207.102.3.(1) referencing a "central registry of each expectant mother who is at risk for seeking an abortion.....". As a woman and a resident of Missouri, as well as a nurse of over 36 years, I have seen all too often the dangers of too much government interference in women's healthcare. Not only is this proposed rule a terrifying attempt to yet again circumvent the will of the voters, but is a blatant violation of privacy laws, to include HIPAA, which specifically protects reproductive health information. This is overreach at its worst in the guise of assistance.

Under no circumstances is it acceptable that the government should be privy to the personal medical records of any person regardless of their medical condition. Maintaining a list of women who are pregnant by tracking what prenatal care they have sought is a reprehensible abuse of power and a disgusting act of sexual discrimination. The state of Missouri cannot move backward in time and treat women with such disrespect and disregard for the basic sanctity of bodily autonomy. The fact that this is even a consideration is beyond sickening and disgraceful.

Here's another bill aimed at keeping pregnant mothers from choosing what they want to do with their own bodies. Educating women about choices is important; including sex education, birth control, abortion options and adoption options. But keeping a State Registry of expectant mothers with the goal of restricting abortion choices is going WAY TOO FAR!

This is a direct violation of HIPAA. It is neither the state of MO nor any agency to have access to health information about any person without consent of that person. This would impede personal privacy and is a strangulation to any expectant mother. This is neither the will of the people at large nor in the best interest of anyone. This seems to be a violation of the first amendment, fourth and fifth amendments . We still have a constitution in this country .

I believe part of this bill is an obvious overreach of our personal rights. The state should not be allowed to track all pregnant women that are not seeking to use adoption for their unborn child. This will undoubtedly give personal information to people that do not need that information. If this bill is to move forward, I understand it helping speed up the adoption process, so expectant mothers should have the option to be tracked if adoption is a path/potential path for them, but they should NOT be required by law to do so.

This is extreme government overreach. It's also a creepy, draconian measure aimed at scaring pregnant people, people wanting to become pregnant, accidental pregnancies, pregnant women who have been raped, etc. If the goal is to reduce the birth rate significantly in Missouri, then a database of pregnant people will certainly contribute to that goal. What happened to privacy? Pregnant people deserve the same rights to privacy as any other citizen. Additionally, such a database would require considerable resources to create, populate, and sustain which would be yet another waste of taxpayer dollars. Where is the money going to come from?

Are we living in the Hand Maid's Tale? There are so many things wrong with this legislation. If I were not in menopause I'd promptly see the doctor for a permanent solution to keeping the government out of my uterus. If you think this is going to increase the population, you are wrong. Women of child bearing years won't respond well to the government being involved in their healthcare. As a mother of an adult daughter I'll be encouraging my daughter to have the one child she and my son-in-law have planned and then seek permanent birth control to avoid ever having the government in her uterus. As women we are entitled to bodily autonomy and privacy regarding our healthcare.

I am writing to express my strong opposition to HB 807, which is currently under consideration in the Committee on Children and Families. This bill, under the guise of adoption reform, would create a state database to track pregnant women—a dangerous government overreach that has no place in a free society. This bill raises serious concerns about privacy, bodily autonomy, and government intrusion. Regardless of political affiliation, Missourians should be alarmed by the idea that the state would monitor pregnancies in this way. Such tracking could set a dangerous precedent, one that opens the door to further surveillance and control over personal medical decisions. I urge you to oppose HB 807 and any legislation that infringes on the rights of individuals under the guise of so-called “reforms.” The government should be focused on supporting families and children—not invading the private lives of its citizens. Please stand up for personal freedom and privacy by rejecting this extreme and unnecessary proposal. I look forward to your response and hope you will take a firm stand against HB 807.

THE INFORMATION ON THIS FORM IS PUBLIC RECORD UNDER CHAPTER 610, RSMo.

To whom this may concern, I don't even know where to begin, if I'm being quite honest. The fact that elected officials in our government are wasting time and funds to design and sponsor appalling and draconian drivel such as this is laughable at best. Upon greater reflection, however, I laugh not because the situation is humorous, but because it is truly a sad state of affairs this country has found itself in. Found. Terrible word choice if I'm being quite frank. Found implies we accidentally stumbled upon this destructive and divisive path our country is quite happily goosestepping towards. But that's not the case. No, no, no. It is all moving along quite swimmingly, isn't it? It's what the oligarchs demand, right? Basic morals can go to the wayside, as long as you, the politicians, get some crumbs, right? But I digress. Let's focus on HB 807. The second paragraph from the proposed bill states: "The Division is required to establish a Missouri Adoptive Resources Services System for the entire state, the function of which is to promote the safe and healthy birth of children in the state through the utilization of existing resources; coordinate community resources and provide assistance or services to expecting mothers identified to be at risk for seeking abortion services; and prevent abortions through the adoption of children by fit and proper adoptive parents." This whole section reeks of implied coercion towards expectant mothers with what I can only assume is manipulative intent. Targeting women that are "identified to be at risk for seeking abortion services" is disgustingly vague. Phrasing that, if open to interpretation and enforcement, places an unjust target on the backs of pregnant women statewide. Women who may be at a crossroads in their lives, just trying to make important and informed decisions in regard to their own bodies. I will repeat that again. THEIR. OWN. BODIES. As an added bonus, HB 807 has this horrific little concept in mind as well: "The Division is required to make and maintain a central registry of each expecting mother who is at risk for seeking an abortion and a central registry of each prospective adoptive parent who has successfully completed certain screenings, background checks, home studies, and other investigations to ensure the fit of the prospective parent to adopt a child." We are requiring expectant mothers to register themselves with the state, now? Like they are property? What's next, taxing them for being pregnant? I mean, I'm sure that seems logical to whomever supports these brain-dead ideas. If women are property—well—we will just have to tax them, won't we? And this is all dependent on what the state decides is a "risk"? I served in the United States Air Force for nearly seven years, receiving an honorable discharge in 2021. I served under three separate administrations. I did so while living abroad for the entirety of my military service, doing my best to represent the United States and its Air Force while cooperating with various host nations. I did so while watching the world's approval of our nation rapidly degrade. I also served while my acting Commander in Chief incited an insurrection. While my Commander in Chief happily spread disinformation to the American people during a time of global crisis. While my Command in Chief promoted violence toward peaceful protests; protests that are supposed to be a constitutional right. Peaceful protests, need I remind you, that justifiably reiterated a commonly ignored fact in this country. That wanton police brutality and systemic racism is ever prevalent in our country, weaved inexorably into every institution that helps keep the American machine churning. I'm embarrassed to have served this country. I'm embarrassed that our political representatives are actively and willingly guiding us towards authoritarianism. Actively pushing to strip away the rights of people living all throughout this beautiful country, whether they are American citizens or not. We are on a xenophobic path of self-destruction and isolation, guided by elected officials such as yourself who do not have the courage to do what's right. Stop being selfish and do your fucking jobs. Do your fucking jobs before democracy is dismantled before our very eyes. This current administration, and those that support it, are deliberately and maliciously trying to strip away the livelihoods of the American people and those seeking refuge here. Instead of fucking over the American people while you greedily suckle on the teats of robber barons, let's try doing our jobs, yeah? Warmest regards. -Devin Mason

I am writing to express my strong opposition to HB 807, which is currently under consideration in the Committee on Children and Families. This bill, under the guise of adoption reform, would create a state database to track pregnant women—a dangerous government overreach that has no place in a free society. This bill raises serious concerns about privacy, bodily autonomy, and government intrusion. Regardless of political affiliation, Missourians should be alarmed by the idea that the state would monitor pregnancies in this way. Such tracking could set a dangerous precedent, one that opens the door to further surveillance and control over personal medical decisions. I urge you to oppose HB 807 and any legislation that infringes on the rights of individuals under the guise of so-called “reforms.” The government should be focused on supporting families and children—not invading the private lives of its citizens. Please stand up for personal freedom and privacy by rejecting this extreme and unnecessary proposal.

For a party that used to stand for wanting smaller government, being against wasteful spending, and being pro-life, to propose a bill that does is contrary to all three is impossible to understand. This would put more government into the lives of women, cost more money, and cost lives. Too many women already don't have access to or can't afford healthcare when expecting. If this bill were to pass, women would be less likely to get and receive care. And an already overwhelmed adoption and foster care system would be unable to help and more will suffer. This bill does not align with the will of MO voters and that is who the members of this committee are sitting here to represent. Please dismiss this bill and instead focus on ensuring that the constitution of this state and this country are upheld.

I oppose HB 807 because it involves creating state-run registries to track pregnant individuals, which is an extreme invasion of privacy. This level of government oversight is unnecessary, harmful, and undermines personal autonomy. Tracking pregnancies could discourage individuals from seeking essential medical care out of fear. Instead of promoting adoption, this bill risks stigmatizing and isolating expectant mothers. I urge you to vote against HB 807 to protect privacy and individual rights. For a political party that opposes government overreach, it is becoming increasingly clear that this overreach is only for topics opposed by the party. Absolutely reprehensible.

I am writing my testimony in serious opposition to HB 807. Women's health and their privacy are paramount. The state does not have a right to track pregnancy related to anything. This is a clear attempt to infringe upon the privacy rights of women, their bodies, and their children. This bill's language which suggests this is about adoption reform is equally concerning. I demand the state of Missouri to protect privacy and keep themselves out of a women's pregnancy.

This bill, masquerading as an effort to facilitate adoption, is in fact a way to keep track of every pregnant woman in the state deemed “at risk” of seeking an abortion. Allow me to give some insight, as a millennial who has avoided pregnancy and the joy of motherhood because of a fear of this exact type of bill. Many in the republican party verbalize a lack of understanding as to why women of child-bearing age are not getting pregnant. It’s as simple as this: we don’t feel safe to be pregnant in this state and under this regime. My husband and I want a child and I want to be a mother, however I know you all would leave me to die, even if the fetus were not viable to satiate your need to feel that you are a protector of babies, we have witnessed this occur on multiple occasions. I have a doctorate degree in nursing yet you would still feel it appropriate to dictate my medical care, knowing relatively nothing of the matter. This bill is authoritarian, anti-freedom, and quite frankly a ploy to control the women of this state. Bills like this and attitudes like this toward my body and my physical well-being, as well as a fear of literal death, are the reasons I am choosing not the become pregnant, despite a very strong desire to be a mother.

As an OB/GYN, I am strongly against mandating a state registry of pregnancies at risk for abortion as this is a violation of women's privacy and health information. Refusing women access to healthcare is a tragedy that Missouri needs to oppose. Pregnancy is a health risk and women with health concerns may not be safe for pregnancy. Additionally there are multiple fetal conditions that are either not compatible with life or quality of life. This bill is misleading, suggesting it is helping with adoptions when it is another effort to prevent access to reproductive health care.

I am writing to express my strong opposition to HB 807, which is set to be discussed in the Committee on Children and Families. While this bill is being framed as a reform to the adoption system, its provision to track pregnant women in a state database is an alarming overreach of government power. This measure raises serious concerns:

- Violation of Privacy: Requiring the government to collect data on pregnant individuals sets a dangerous precedent and undermines personal medical privacy.
- Government Overreach: Missouri has long valued limited government and individual freedoms. Tracking pregnant women contradicts these principles and places undue burdens on private citizens.
- Chilling Effect on Healthcare: This bill could discourage pregnant individuals from seeking necessary medical care, out of fear that their personal health choices are being monitored by the state.

Regardless of political affiliation, Missourians should all agree that this level of governmental intrusion is unacceptable. I urge you to oppose HB 807 and instead focus on policies that truly support pregnant individuals, such as increasing access to prenatal care, maternal health resources, and adoption support services. Please stand against this invasive and extreme proposal. I appreciate your time and look forward to your response. Sincerely, Dulce Tredway

Dear Committee Members,I write today as a concerned citizen to express my strong opposition to House Bill 807.While I deeply value adoption as a beautiful way to build families and provide loving homes for children in need, I must speak against the creation of a registry that would track expectant mothers considering abortion. Such a registry represents an alarming expansion of government power into the most private aspects of citizens' lives.As an individual who values freedom, I am troubled by the precedent this bill would set. The American tradition of personal liberty has always included the right to make one's own medical decisions without government surveillance or intervention. This registry would create a dangerous precedent where women are tracked and monitored by the state during one of the most vulnerable periods of their lives.I ask you to consider: Is it the proper role of government to create a database of citizens based on their private medical considerations? Would you want your daughter, sister, or wife entered into a government database simply for having a confidential conversation with her doctor about all available options?While we can all support efforts to make adoption more accessible, this registry crosses a line that should concern anyone who values freedom from government overreach. There are many ways to support adoption without compromising fundamental liberties or privacy rights.I respectfully urge you to protect the personal freedoms upon which our nation was founded by opposing HB807.Sincerely,

I strongly oppose this bill. It's SO invasive; I'm sure most women (and men) don't need bigger and more intrusive government. This bill claims it will provide assistance or services to expecting mothers identified to be at risk (undefined) for seeking abortion services; and prevent abortions through the adoption of children by "fit and proper persons." However, during the hearing, the sponsor knew precious little about the bill and had to bring in another person to answer specific questions. Moreover, the sponsor had not even talked to the Department of Social Services, the agency charged with caring for and placing adoptive and foster children. This seems quite deliberate. The sponsor must prefer to create an entirely new government agency instead of work within the current agency to assist them and help them accomplish their mission. In fact, one representative stated, "I know the state does do adoption through foster care and all that kind of stuff and they do not do a very good job at it." The success or performance of the current agency can be credited to the party who has been in power for ~20 years. Creating another agency will not solve the issue of placing babies and children with 'fit and proper persons' nor help the current agency. This bill is NOT needed; what IS needed is for this sponsor to advance legislation to assist with adoption of children currently in foster care and make the current Department more successful. Interfering with a woman's right to reproductive health care under the guise of saving babies for adoption is insincere.

You have lost your minds and want to take all of us back to the 1800's where women have no choice, but you idiots do? This is one of the lowest things that you all, as our elected officials could even possibly think about doing. We enshrined abortion into the Constitution of our state when, WE THE PEOPLE, of Missouri voted to have it enshrined. NOT for you all to try and invent a way to have it repealed. And to try and cover the whole thing up by stating that it is for adoption. And you wonder why Republicans get a bad rap? This right here would be the reason why. You all have no reason at all to track ANY women for anything. You are not an omnipotent being and never will be and you cannot push YOUR will onto us voters. Bunch of hypocrites

Dear representative, I am writing you today to implore you to deny HB 807. The tracking of pregnant women is a gross overreach of government and a waste of precious State resources. As of August 2023, there were nearly thirteen thousand children waiting to be adopted in Missouri. If a person is so eager to have a child, then surely they would be grateful for the opportunity to pursue adoption with any of those children. Tracking anyone without criminal cause is unconstitutional and an attack on personal freedoms. You can protect freedom and privacy by denying HB 807. Thank you, A Missouri Mother of a Daughter

Greetings. I am somewhat of a libertarian and I am greatly concerned about government overreach here. All individuals, even women, deserve a right privacy. I do not support this bill as it infringes on the public's right to privacy of protected health information by way of a central registry. There is also no specification for instances of a pregnancy termination for medically necessary reasons leaving MO women at risk for undue harm in the instance of needing a termination to protect their lives. Furthermore, there are no clear definitions for who is deemed fit or unfit for parenthood, who is deemed high risk, and whom is determined to be fit for adoption or MO children in need of adoption. I do not support this bill in its current iteration.

Dear Committee Members, I write today as a concerned citizen to express my strong opposition to House Bill 807. While I deeply value adoption as a beautiful way to build families and provide loving homes for children in need, I must speak against the creation of a registry that would track expectant mothers considering abortion. Such a registry represents an alarming expansion of government power into the most private aspects of citizens' lives. As a mother and an individual who values freedom, I am troubled by the precedent this bill would set. The American tradition of personal liberty has always included the right to make one's own medical decisions without government surveillance or intervention. This registry would create a dangerous system where women are tracked and monitored by the state during one of the most vulnerable periods of their lives. I ask you to consider: Is it the proper role of government to create a database of citizens based on their private medical considerations? Would you want your daughter, sister, or wife entered into a government database simply for having a confidential conversation with her doctor about all available options? While we can all support efforts to make adoption more accessible, this registry crosses a line that should concern anyone who values freedom from government overreach. There are many ways to support adoption without compromising fundamental liberties or privacy rights. I respectfully urge you to protect the personal freedoms upon which our nation was founded by opposing HB807. Sincerely, Elizabeth Finley

I am writing to express my opposition to HB 807, which is set to be discussed in the Committee on Children and Families. While this bill is being framed as a reform to the adoption system, its provision to track pregnant women in a state database is an alarming overreach of government power. It raises serious concerns:??1) Violation of Privacy: Requiring the government to collect data on pregnant individuals sets a dangerous precedent and undermines personal medical privacy.??2) Government Overreach: Missouri has long valued limited government and individual freedoms. Tracking pregnant women contradicts these principles and places undue burdens on private citizens.??3) Effect on Healthcare: This bill could discourage pregnant individuals from seeking necessary medical care, out of fear that their personal health choices are being monitored by the state.Regardless of political affiliation, Missourians should all agree that this level of governmental intrusion is unacceptable. I urge you to oppose HB 807 and instead focus on policies that truly support pregnant individuals, such as increasing access to prenatal care, maternal health resources, and adoption support services.

In the future, I hope to have a child. When I have a child, I do not want the government of the State of Missouri involved in my pregnancy or healthcare decisions. Those decisions are between me, my family, and my physician. I do not trust the State of Missouri to maintain my right to private medical information, which is protected under HIPPA, nor do I trust them with my personal data and that of my family. I support making it easier for adoptive parents, but supporting adoptive parents should have absolutely no bearing on the right to privacy for individuals.

This bill violets the health privacy of every pregnant woman. It is none of the state's business who is pregnant and who isn't. That information is PHI. This bill creates more government in our personal lives. We don't need anymore bureaucracy. The state of Missouri should be known for an individual's right to liberty and privacy. What would be achieved besides acquiring personal health information? This isn't going to protect children. This is going to use tx payer dollars that could be going to improve the foster care situation in the state. Monitoring pregnant women is an expansion of big government in women's lives.

As a Missouri resident, I am very opposed to this bill. Making a registry and list of pregnant women for tracking purposes is wrong. Allowing anyone who is wanting to adopt to also have access to this list is a scary violation of privacy. I fear it could lead to desperate people who want to adopt to resort to harassment and possibly even violence towards pregnant women in order to get them to give their baby up for adoption. Who decides which pregnant women are "at risk of an abortion"? The decision of whether to continue with a pregnancy is between a women and her doctor. Stop trying to subvert the will of voters. This is another obvious attempt to intimidate Missouri women and limit their reproductive healthcare rights.

HB 807, which proposes the tracking of pregnant women on a government registry, raises serious concerns regarding privacy, bodily autonomy, and individual rights. First and foremost, such a policy infringes on the fundamental right to privacy, as it would mandate the collection and storage of personal health information without clear, justified consent from the individuals involved. This could lead to an unnecessary and intrusive surveillance system that treats pregnant women as subjects to be monitored rather than respecting them as individuals with control over their own bodies. Moreover, the establishment of such a registry could disproportionately affect marginalized groups, including low-income women and women of color, potentially leading to further stigmatization and discriminatory treatment within healthcare systems. This policy risks creating an environment of mistrust between patients and healthcare providers, especially if the data were to be used in a punitive manner or for purposes beyond the health and safety of the individual. Furthermore, tracking pregnant women on a government registry could set a dangerous precedent for government overreach into private medical matters, setting the stage for future policies that violate bodily autonomy and undermine personal freedoms. Instead of focusing on tracking and surveillance, resources should be directed toward ensuring access to quality healthcare, prenatal education, and social support for pregnant women, so that they can make informed decisions about their health and well-being without undue government interference.

I am writing to strongly oppose HB 807, which would require the state to track pregnant women in a GOVERNMENT DATABASE. This bill is a **blatant** invasion of privacy, a government overreach, and a direct attack on Missourians' rights. Even those who oppose abortion should find this measure disturbing and invasive. The government has no place monitoring pregnant women, and such a database could easily be weaponized to intimidate, harass, or punish people based on their personal medical decisions. I am horrified at our leadership's consistent attempt to harm women and to spend time, energy, and resources doing things that harm Missourians.

I am writing to express my strong opposition to HB 807, which is currently under consideration in the Committee on Children and Families. This bill, under the guise of adoption reform, would create a state database to track pregnant women—a dangerous government overreach that has no place in a free society. This bill raises serious concerns about privacy, bodily autonomy, and government intrusion. Regardless of political affiliation, Missourians should be alarmed by the idea that the state would monitor pregnancies in this way. Such tracking could set a dangerous precedent, one that opens the door to further surveillance and control over personal medical decisions. I urge you to oppose HB 807 and any legislation that infringes on the rights of individuals under the guise of so-called “reforms.” The government should be focused on supporting families and children—not invading the private lives of its citizens. Please stand up for personal freedom and privacy by rejecting this extreme and unnecessary proposal. I look forward to your response and hope you will take a firm stand against HB 807.

Tracking pregnant people is NOT OKAY and is a vile invasion of privacy. When I had a miscarriage 9 years ago, I was devastated, and cannot imagine needing to make my pregnancy and miscarriage public record. I cannot imagine a good use for this in an adoption reform. This bill also seems to require facilitation of services other than abortion, which goes against the spirit of the abortion amendment Missourians voted in favor of last November. Please vote no on this bill.

I oppose this bill as the idea of a registry to document pregnant women "at risk" of abortion could be construed to mean all pregnant women as all pregnant women are possibly at risk for seeking an "abortion." My pregnancy nor the pregnancy of anyone is no business of the government. If someone decides to put their child up for adoption that is their decision and allowing an agency to apply pressure to vulnerable families is despicable. Adoption can be a great thing but it can also be a horrible and barbaric thing. This bill is disgusting, discriminatory, and a huge violation of privacy. It should not even be considered.

Please do not approve this bill. I am pro life, but it goes too far. US citizens have a right to privacy. And the MO voters passed Amendment 3 November 5, 2024. Though I did not personally vote for Amendment 3, elected officials have a mandate to represent the desires and decisions of their constituents. Missouri voters will not allow our rights to be trampled on.

My name is Emily Stoinski. I am a registered voter in Ballwin, Missouri. I am writing today in opposition to this bill. Missouri, for decades, has had awful maternal mortality rates, particularly for Black women. While I am absolutely for discussing and exploring potential programs to lead to safer births, I am disturbed by the inclusion of a central registry of pregnant individuals. The choice to be pregnant and continue a pregnancy should not be monitored by the state of Missouri. As a former advocate for domestic violence survivors, I know this bill will make survivors unsafe as they could be registered and unable to safely leave their relationship if they are being monitored. Medical confidentiality should be for all people regardless of their sex and pregnancy status. The state does not monitor men for their infertility, so why are women and other pregnant individuals being monitored? I am also concerned about who has access to this information, as this bill has left it broad as to who would have access to this medical information. I am strongly opposed to this bill, and I hope that our elected officials will see how deeply this bill violates privacy and freedom of Missourians.

I oppose this bill. This bill would be a gross overstep and invasion of privacy by putting pregnant people seeking abortion care on a registry. People who do not wish to be pregnant should not be coerced into continuing a pregnancy and going through the adoption process. Adoption can often be traumatic for the birth parent as well as the child by creating attachment trauma. Our foster care system is already overrun with many children needing care and adoption. Adding more children to this is not going to solve problems. The government should not be involved with a person's decision to seek abortion care.

Missouri voters have already spoken on this matter with a legal ballot vote. Missouri citizens will not stand for government dictating women's health care choices. Reproductive medical choices are between a woman and her doctor. Pregnancy is a medical condition and medical privacy is protected by HIPAA. If Missouri is seeking effective ways to prevent pregnancy, then I counter-propose a bill to have all sperm producing males registered as possible impregnators.

THE INFORMATION ON THIS FORM IS PUBLIC RECORD UNDER CHAPTER 610, RSMo.

I am writing to express my strong opposition to HB 807, which is set to be discussed in the Committee on Children and Families. While this bill is being framed as a reform to the adoption system, its provision to track pregnant women in a state database is an alarming overreach of government power. This measure raises serious concerns:

- Violation of Privacy: Requiring the government to collect data on pregnant individuals sets a dangerous precedent and undermines personal medical privacy.
- Government Overreach: Missouri has long valued limited government and individual freedoms. Tracking pregnant women contradicts these principles and places undue burdens on private citizens.
- Chilling Effect on Healthcare: This bill could discourage pregnant individuals from seeking necessary medical care, out of fear that their personal health choices are being monitored by the state.

Regardless of political affiliation, Missourians should all agree that this level of governmental intrusion is unacceptable. I urge you to oppose HB 807 and instead focus on policies that truly support pregnant individuals, such as increasing access to prenatal care, maternal health resources, and adoption support services. Please stand against this invasive and extreme proposal. I appreciate your time and look forward to your response. Sincerely, Erin Petrov

Dear representative, I am writing you today to implore you to deny HB 807. The tracking of pregnant women is a gross overreach of government and a waste of precious State resources. As of August 2023, there were nearly thirteen thousand children waiting to be adopted in Missouri. If a person is so eager to have a child, then surely they would be grateful for the opportunity to pursue adoption with any of those children. Tracking anyone without criminal cause is unconstitutional and an attack on personal freedoms. You can protect freedom and privacy by denying HB 807. Thank you, Eugene Reisinger

I oppose to this proposal because it is an intrusion of rights and women should not be tracked in a database. Adoption statistics and rates are already high unless it is a newborn baby. Let's help these children in the systems and utilize more baby boxes in cities with high rates adding to these statistics and offer resources to these women and families who have inadequate resources to care for these children. Food stamps denied to families who can use it because disability payments are knocking them out of their bracket when they didn't ask for a disabled child or to have to work 60+ hours a week to not be able to keep food in the house and provide meals at school. The qualifications and standards are already high for single income families who are just trying to make it work and can't make ends meet. That is a small percentage of these children being stripped from homes and adding to these statistics. There are better resources to provide than tracking women in a database which will only be another unresolved statistic.

I am submitting this testimony in opposition to HB 807. This bill creates a central registry of pregnant women, but does not provide any means for women to opt out of this registry. Besides the central registry, there are a number of other issues: How is "at risk of an abortion" defined? How do you know that potential adoptive parents are going to want to be on a registry? The Central Missouri Foster Care & Adoption Association is an active participant in the adoption process in this area - How does this agency fit into this process? How is confidentiality going to be maintained not only within the new division, but across other entities? Why should the new division be allowed to have legal representation at proceedings and insert itself into an adoption process? Can other divisions provide names of pregnant women to the new division for inclusion on the registry? Creating a new division is not an inexpensive task. In fact, the fiscal note estimate costs in excess of $40 million in general revenue in 2026 and an additional 259 FTE. This is contrary to what Republicans are constantly preaching about smaller government and reduced spending. The creation of a new division would be irresponsible from a fiscal perspective in addition to the other issues noted above. This bill needs to die in committee.

I am writing this testimony to express my deep dismay that I may never be able to return and start a family in my hometown in Missouri, due to the real concerns this bill perpetuates. Putting women on a watchlist for abortion risk would lay groundwork to punish women and doctors. Fear of repercussions prevents doctors from performing life-saving procedures—in this country, we have already seen women die in cases where medically necessary abortions would have saved them. Women dying in this manner is a loss of many unborn innocent babies, wonderful families on top of her own life. If this bill passes, I will not be returning to Missouri, because I cannot risk losing my future family due to bills that criminalize necessary procedures.

My name is Gina Meyer. I live in HB30. Please oppose HB807. No one wants the state making and maintaining a central registry of each expecting mother who is at risk for seeking an abortion. How do you establish they are at risk for seeking an abortion? What is the criteria? Do they know they are in that registry and are being tracked by the state? This is one of the creepiest things the Missouri legislature has ever tried to do, and I advise you to reconsider. Thank you.

You cannot force someone to carry a child to term that does not want to. The people voted and our voices must be heard. A women had the right to an abortion for whatever reason she chooses. You will have more deaths on your hands, if abortion is made illegal & esp if you start tracking/monitoring pregnant women. This is such an invasion of privacy and if I remember correctly, the GOP is all for less government. This bill should not be allowed to move forward.

I would like to voice my strong opposition to HB 807, which would require the state to track pregnant women. This bill raises serious concerns regarding privacy, bodily autonomy, and government overreach, and I urge this committee to reject it. First and foremost, this bill infringes on the fundamental right to privacy. The government should not be in the business of monitoring individuals based on their reproductive status. Pregnancy is a deeply personal matter, and requiring the state to track pregnant individuals opens the door to unnecessary surveillance, potential discrimination, and an erosion of personal freedoms. Additionally, this bill sets a dangerous precedent for government intervention in medical decisions. Trust between a patient and their healthcare provider is essential for quality care. If pregnant individuals fear being tracked by the state, they may delay or avoid seeking medical care altogether, leading to worse health outcomes for both the parent and child. This legislation also disproportionately impacts marginalized communities, including those with lower incomes and people of color, who already face significant barriers to healthcare access. Instead of investing in policies that promote better maternal healthcare, support services, and voluntary resources for pregnant individuals, this bill diverts attention toward unnecessary and intrusive government oversight. Finally, the enforcement of this bill raises numerous logistical and ethical concerns. How will the state collect and store this sensitive information? Who will have access to it? What safeguards will be in place to prevent misuse or breaches of confidentiality? These questions remain unanswered, and they highlight the unacceptable risks this legislation poses. For these reasons, I urge you to oppose HB 807. We should focus on policies that empower and support individuals, not those that strip them of their privacy and autonomy. Thank you for your time and consideration.

This bill is putting a target on the backs of all women and girls in the state of Missouri. This bill is the stepping stone for something much more serious, yet house Republicans will attempt to masquerade it as an attempt to "help families". Have the courage to call this what it is: making a list of pregnant people butts a target on the back of women who chose to exercise their state given right (which, we the people of Missouri, voted to uphold) to an abortion. This is a dangerous and calculated attempt by the Republican's to make America The Republic of Gilead (Margaret Atwood, 1985). This is not only an idiotic attempt by house Republicans to control women, but is an obvious breach of privacy. This is not freedom. This is not choice. This is weaponizing the system. Don't be fooled by the mirage that is the attempt to make this about "helping families".

The creation of a registry of pregnant women is a step too far toward the erasure of women's status as sovereign citizens. The promotion of adoption is based in positive intent. But, the means of implementation set out in this bill would be nothing but an exercise of abusive power and coercive control. Any casual reading of either the Missouri or U.S. Constitutions highlights the flaws in this bill with regard to individual sovereignty and personal liberty. It must not pass.

I strongly oppose HB 807. Women are not cattle to be tracked and farmed. We do not need a database of pregnant women, nor should the government be tracking pregnancy or flagging women "at risk for abortion" as stated in the bill. As a mother myself I know more than anyone the difficulty of pregnancy and it is a human right to have autonomy of your own body. Women get abortions for a wide variety of reasons, none of which should the government have a say in. Missouri made our position on abortion clear, and Bill after Bill has been introduced attempting to undermine the will of the people. We will not be silenced, and I will remind you, WE elected YOU to represent OUR interests, and swore to do that duty. Every bill introduced concerning abortion is a slap in the face to your constituents.

THE INFORMATION ON THIS FORM IS PUBLIC RECORD UNDER CHAPTER 610, RSMo.

I am writing to express my strong opposition to HB 807, which is currently under consideration in the Committee on Children and Families. This bill, under the guise of adoption reform, would create a state database to track pregnant women—a dangerous government overreach that has no place in a free society. This bill raises serious concerns about privacy, bodily autonomy, and government intrusion. Regardless of political affiliation, Missourians should be alarmed by the idea that the state would monitor pregnancies in this way. Such tracking could set a dangerous precedent, one that opens the door to further surveillance and control over personal medical decisions. Which leads me to question the authenticity of this bill and its true intent. How will an “At-Risk Mother” be identified? Where will the data come from to populate this database? What will you do when women refuse to seek medical help during pregnancies for fear of if they miscarry they may be accused of “abortion.” Where will the funds come for this when the State of Missouri chooses to not provide dire funding to already existing programs to aid in existing children/and foster care? Who will assist the social services workers that are already underfunded and understaffed to aid in this potential “database?” I read comments from the author of the bill, Jay Harm, from the past 24 hours and he has stated this will be like “baby-harmony.” Women are not meant to be government baby makers to promote a database that is being referenced to as “baby-harmony”. Will there be a bill for men who ejaculate without intent of reproduction to be also placed in the database? Expecting fathers are at-risk of abortion as well. Sperm is alive at ejaculation and without the intent of fertilizing a female egg, the sperm dies and with the current thought process of Missouri’s government officials, then that would be considered an “abortion.” Jay Harm also admitted that he did not realize the wording of his bill would be taken in this sort of “context” when the bill itself lacks the fundamental wording that he claims it has. He also admitted that the bill has oversights on his end that he will be proposing changes too. Jay Harm’s public comments further promotes my concerns on this that this bill is a poorly written bill, aimed to target women and to force control on their private lives. I urge you to oppose HB 807 and any legislation that infringes on the rights of individuals under the guise of so-called “reforms.” The government should be focused on supporting families and children—not invading the private lives of its citizens. Please stand up for personal freedom and privacy by rejecting this extreme and unnecessary proposal. I hope you will take a firm stand against HB 807.

Missouri passed abortion rights when we voted. A woman should not be forced to put her body through pregnancy, and delivery, only to give the baby to a family who wants to adopt a newborn baby. There are hundreds of children in foster care that these families could adopt. Bringing more children into that system when it is already overwhelmed is not in the best interest of Missourians, the families, or the pregnancy. I should not have to worry about myself or my daughters losing bodily autonomy simply because another family wants to adopt a newborn.

I strongly oppose any legislation that would allow Missouri to track pregnant women. Such a measure is an unacceptable invasion of privacy, violates fundamental rights, and could be used to intimidate and control individuals seeking reproductive healthcare. Government surveillance of pregnancy status sets a dangerous precedent, eroding personal freedom and discouraging people from seeking necessary medical care. I urge lawmakers to reject this bill and instead focus on policies that protect, rather than undermine, the rights and dignity of Missouri residents.

The gross over reach of Missouri lawmakers is so outrageous and disgusting. Tracking pregnancies is such a disgusting violation of privacy. There is no law that specifically applies to men and men wouldn't tolerate it for one minute. Do you remember how men behaved in the spring of 2020 because they weren't able to get a haircut? Because I do. When will you stop fighting these ridiculous culture wars and start actually improving the lives on Missouri citizens. Why don't you focus your efforts on taxing the billionaires instead of working for them? Stop being on the wrong side of history.

Hello, I am writing to State my opposition for House Bill 807. Missouri has a long way to go to improve our family support services and the foster care system as a whole. However, our state's failure to provide for the young people in its care, does not justify treating women like incubators. This bill proposes to create a database of pregnant women perceived to be at risk for abortion. What will the criteria be? Who will have access to this information? Texas has already flirted with paying people bounties for reporting abortions, what happens when they access the database under the guise of perspective adoptions? Women are not incubators. We are not meat. We are whole human people. Bills like this which falsely claim to aim to protect children, are little more a little more than an excuse to treat women like animals. This bill must be stopped. It's pathetic that it has received any serious consideration at all when it is so clearly illegal, unethical, and unhinged.

I am writing to express my strong opposition to HB 807, which is set to be discussed in the Committee on Children and Families. While this bill is being framed as a reform to the adoption system, its provision to track pregnant women in a state database is an alarming overreach of government power. This measure raises serious concerns:

- Violation of Privacy: Requiring the government to collect data on pregnant individuals, and requiring that the registries of pregnant women and hopeful adoptive parents be shared with each other, sets a dangerous precedent and undermines personal medical privacy.
- Government Overreach: Missouri has long valued limited government and individual freedoms. Tracking pregnant women contradicts these principles and places undue burdens on private citizens.
- Chilling Effect on Healthcare: This bill could discourage pregnant individuals from seeking necessary medical care, out of fear that their personal health choices are being monitored by the state. Regardless of political affiliation, Missourians should all agree that this level of governmental intrusion is unacceptable. I urge you to oppose HB 807 and instead focus on policies that truly support pregnant individuals, such as increasing access to prenatal care, maternal health resources, adoption support services, and affordable child care. Please stand against this invasive and extreme proposal. I appreciate your time and look forward to your response. Sincerely, Heather Langlois

This wording in this bill is an invasion of privacy. Expectant mothers should not have to register with anyone. Their pregnancies are the business of themselves and their medical practitioners only. The Dangers of Tracking Pregnant Women While the stated intention of Missouri House Bill 807 may be to offer support and alternatives to women facing unintended pregnancies, the proposal to create a registry to track pregnant women raises serious concerns, especially in light of historical precedents where such tracking has led to the violation of personal freedoms and civil rights. Historical Lessons on Tracking and Registries Throughout history, tracking individuals through government-led registries has often resulted in discrimination, stigmatization, and abuse. For example, during the Holocaust, Jewish populations were tracked and recorded in registries, leading to systemic persecution and genocide. More recently, registries have been used to target marginalized groups, such as those in ethnic or religious minorities. The act of tracking individuals—especially vulnerable populations—can easily lead to violations of privacy and rights, often without proper safeguards. Privacy and Autonomy A registry tracking pregnant women places unnecessary scrutiny on individuals' personal lives and decisions, fundamentally violating their privacy. Pregnant women already face difficult societal pressures, and tracking their pregnancies can create a system of surveillance that could be misused or abused. Not only does this diminish a woman's autonomy over her own body and reproductive choices, but it also opens the door to potentially harmful interventions by the state in the private decisions of families and individuals. Potential for Misuse and Overreach With the creation of such a registry, there is an inherent risk of data misuse or overreach. Information could easily be weaponized or used to monitor women in ways that extend beyond the initial purpose of helping those "at risk" of seeking an abortion. This opens the door for tracking, criminalizing, or penalizing women for personal reproductive choices that are not in line with the state's ideals. Historically, the creation of such registries has often led to further state control, and once initiated, it can become difficult to control how the data is used. Impact on Trust in Healthcare and Government The establishment of a registry to track pregnant women could erode trust in healthcare providers and government institutions. People who are already skeptical about the motivations of the state may feel further alienated, reluctant to seek necessary medical care or engage with health professionals for fear of being monitored or reported. This undermines the effectiveness of public health initiatives, which rely on the trust and participation of the people they aim to serve. The Slippery Slope of Social Control Once a registry like this is put in place, it sets a dangerous precedent for further surveillance and control over private matters. While it may be framed as a well-intentioned effort to reduce abortions or encourage adoption, the underlying principle of tracking individuals could lead to greater government involvement in other private decisions. This could extend to areas like reproductive health, relationships, and family planning, further eroding personal freedom and individual choice. In conclusion, the creation of a registry to track pregnant women, even with the best of intentions, poses a significant risk to personal privacy, autonomy, and trust in public institutions. History has shown that when governments track and control individuals, it rarely ends well for those being tracked. We must be cautious not to repeat these mistakes and protect the fundamental rights of all individuals, especially women facing difficult decisions during pregnancy.

I am angered and appalled that this bill was created, let alone being considered to be made law. For a party (Republican) that subscribes to less government, this bill is sickening and disgusting. No government has any business to keep track of how many and which women are pregnant. Women do not deserve to have their bodies up for grabs by politicians. It is unconstitutional and an infringement on personal liberty and freedom. Missourians deserve better than this fascist proposal.

Good afternoon, I am writing to you to voice my opposition to Bill 807. The bill states that there will be a government registry of pregnant women, "at-risk" for abortion. My opposition is two-fold: first and foremost, women and their significant others have a right to privacy and bodily autonomy. Women should not be required to report their pregnancy, doubts about said pregnancy, or thoughts about their own healthcare to our government. It's a great over reach to keep a registry of pregnant women in the state. It is up to each woman what information she shares with the government, and what decisions she and her partner make about the pregnancy. Second, who would decide if someone is, "at-risk" for abortion? What criteria is used? Will women be asked invasive questions which are then reported to the government? Do doctors judge it? On what merits? This seems rife for confusion, judgement, and accusations. While I understand there is a desire to link prospective parents (via adoption) to women with unwanted pregnancies, there are other ways to accomplish this goal that don't compromise the privacy of pregnant women. Please vote no on this Bill if it comes to a vote.

I am writing to express my strong opposition to HB 807, which is currently under consideration in the Committee on Children and Families. This bill, under the guise of adoption reform, would create a state database to track pregnant women—a dangerous government overreach that has no place in a free society. This bill raises serious concerns about privacy, bodily autonomy, and government intrusion. Regardless of political affiliation, Missourians should be alarmed by the idea that the state would monitor pregnancies in this way. Such tracking could set a dangerous precedent, one that opens the door to further surveillance and control over personal medical decisions. I urge you to oppose HB 807 and any legislation that infringes on the rights of individuals under the guise of so-called “reforms.” The government should be focused on supporting families and children—not invading the private lives of its citizens. There are thousands of children actively waiting for adoption without persecuting women facing unwanted pregnancy. Please stand up for personal freedom and privacy by rejecting this extreme and unnecessary proposal. I look forward to your response and hope you will take a firm stand against HB 807.

I used chat gpt to create a brief summary I oppose HB 807 as it threatens the privacy and autonomy of pregnant women. Tracking women during pregnancy infringes on their basic rights and undermines their ability to make personal decisions free from government interference. The proposal raises significant concerns about privacy violations and the potential for discrimination. Instead of focusing on surveillance, efforts should be directed toward supporting women with access to healthcare, education, and resources to ensure healthy pregnancies and outcomes. This bill risks stigmatizing and punishing vulnerable individuals rather than offering compassionate, effective solutions. Dr. Henri Larson, PT, DPT

As a woman who hopes to start a family in the coming years, this bill is scary and sets a precedent that would keep women from going to the doctor in the first place. You will see women loosing out on vital early stage pregnancy care because they fear being vilified or interrogated for every first term miscarriage they have. 20% of all pregnancies end in miscarriage naturally and legislating in the fashion proposed in this bill puts women in the position to receive undo stress and interference in their very personal lives during what is already a vulnerable time. I personally, do not feel like Missouri is a safe place to start a family under the current representations intent on removing access to medical care required for healthy and safe family planning. If you want people to have babies, don't make it something that is a terrifying and stressful experience for women. Women deserve to feel safe, and secure that not only their BODIES, but their MENTAL HEALTH is respected. How about you put out a bill like Conception Begins at Erection and really nip the problem in the bud.

Are you people out of your fucking minds? What does a registry of women “at risk for seeking an abortion?” mean to you? Is that a registry of every pregnant woman? Where is this list of criteria? And then you’re adding in coercion of women to seek other options except abortion. Stop with this nonsense, the general citizenship of the state voted for legalized and SAFE abortion access and you plan to undermine the will of the people at every opportunity just to sit on a moral high horse. This is batshit crazy and done for no other reason than to track and control women. Nobody supporting this actually cares about children other than their own, unborn or not.

I am writing to express my strong opposition to HB 807, which is set to be discussed in the Committee on Children and Families. While this bill is being framed as a reform to the adoption system, its provision to track pregnant women in a state database is an alarming overreach of government power. This measure raises serious concerns:

- Violation of Privacy: Requiring the government to collect data on pregnant individuals sets a dangerous precedent and undermines personal medical privacy.
- Government Overreach: Missouri has long valued limited government and individual freedoms. Tracking pregnant women contradicts these principles and places undue burdens on private citizens.
- Chilling Effect on Healthcare: This bill could discourage pregnant individuals from seeking necessary medical care, out of fear that their personal health choices are being monitored by the state.

Regardless of political affiliation, Missourians should all agree that this level of governmental intrusion is unacceptable. I urge you to oppose HB 807 and instead focus on policies that truly support pregnant individuals, such as increasing access to prenatal care, maternal health resources, and adoption support services. Please stand against this invasive and extreme proposal. I appreciate your time and look forward to your response. Sincerely, IS

The government does not need to track pregnant women. These is appalling and an unacceptable overreach of power. I'd like to believe that what happens in our wombs is a on a need to know basis to any form of government. If you want to make any part of adoptions better why don't you get the birth certificates processed faster !!! My daughter was adopted by my husband and it took months and almost messed up her being accepted into college and any sort of scholarship because of how long it took. THAT needs looked at.

I am writing to you to voice my opposition to Bill 807. The bill states that there will be a government registry of pregnant women, "at-risk" for abortion. My opposition is two-fold: first and foremost, women and their significant others have a right to privacy and bodily autonomy. Women should not be required to report their pregnancy, doubts about said pregnancy, or thoughts about their own healthcare to our government. It's a great over reach to keep a registry of pregnant women in the state. It is up to each woman what information she shares with the government, and what decisions she and her partner make about the pregnancy. Second, who would decide if someone is, "at-risk" for abortion? What criteria is used? Will women be asked invasive questions which are then reported to the government? Do doctors judge it? On what merits? This seems rife for confusion, judgement, and accusations. While I understand there is a desire to link prospective parents (via adoption) to women with unwanted pregnancies, there are other ways to accomplish this goal that don't compromise the privacy of pregnant women. Please vote no on this Bill if it comes to a vote. Thank you,

Representative Amato, I demand that you rescind this bill (HB 807). This information is personal medical and health information that no one has the right to with the exception of a woman and her doctor. Are you willing to share your personal medical information with a state registry?? This bill if passed will also lead to a higher infant and mother mortality rate. It will drive people to avoid going to their doctors and getting the necessary care they need. In addition this is creating a police state. The fact that you believe anyone has the right to this information is infuriating!!!!!! If a woman chooses to go through an adoption there are plenty of other avenues for doing so. It should not be the purview of any government entity. In addition, Missourians voted in the majority to reinstate the right to an abortion in this state. How dare you violate the will of the people. This is a thinly veiled way of tracking women and using that information against them. I would end this email with respect, but I have very little of that for you. I frankly am not sure why anyone would need to track a woman's pregnancy aside from her and her doctor unless there were some nefarious and dark motives behind doing so (I.e tracking failed pregnancies where women would need an abortion). I believe this to be a huge overreach by the government and do NOT believe this to be in the best interest of Missourians.

This bill would be a serious violation of privacy and might keep people from seeking healthcare during pregnancy in order to avoid having their personal information put into a government database and possibly shared with strangers. This is straight up dystopian stuff. If the state wants to encourage adoption, scrap this nonsense and write a different bill that will offer financial support to make the adoption process more affordable for families who want to adopt.

This is a horrifying violation of personal and medical privacy masquerading as an attempt to boost adoption. The term "at risk for seeking abortion services" is used multiple times without any clarification or definition. What method will be used to determine "risk", and who makes that determination? Without clear guidelines and restrictions, this becomes an Orwellian registry of all pregnancies.

I have served as a social worker for 15 years in the state of Missouri and have been actively involved in the lives of Missouri children and families at all levels during that time as a government child welfare employee, volunteer and therapist. I have been licensed as a foster parent for the past 8 years. I share this experience with you for context and to justify my expertise in this area. I am greatly opposed to this House Bill. Missouri's child welfare agency is already overburdened and understaffed. Mechanisms to support women and families wishing to surrender their infants at birth are already in place through the Safe Haven Act, foster care policies and private adoption agencies. To task the state system with yet another registry to run is a waste of resources. My foster children have been in care for over four years with the youngest entering care at birth. Due to the lack of resources, time and staff turnover, these children have lingered in foster care for more than twice the time that they should have under the federal Adoption and Safe Families Act. Their story is not the same exception to the rule as this is common for many foster children in Missouri. I could go on and on about the ways that the system is overtaxed and how social worker turnover has been a chronic issue for years. How about instead of chasing potential babies that *may need placement, we invest constituent tax dollars to care for the thousands of children already involved in the foster care system?

Lifelong Missouri woman here to say emphatically NO to 807. The government has no right interfering in a woman's healthcare decisions. Those decisions are solely made between a woman, her family and healthcare provider. A quality provider would provide ALL options to a woman and said woman would decide her best options without bullying from the government. Only the mighty arrogant would suggest a womans personal healthcare information be shared into a database. The audacity of Republicans believing they know another woman's heart, her best interests better than she, is a sin. (What the hell is an "at risk woman"?) As I have suggested to this committee previously a useful bill would be funding public schools and finding homes for every single kid in foster care. There are hungry, homeless kids in this State right this minute! Women want, women deserve a right to private healthcare decisions. We will resist any effort to squash our rights. This bill is straight up overreach.

Missouri is months behind on daycare payments for adopted children. This causes chaos for both parents and day care businesses. Promises have not been kept. Now, the adoption stipends are in danger. When parents choose birth and foster care and/or adoption, the state should honor their promises. This makes pro-life choices work. These promises are a true measure of family values. I know people who have stepped up to adopt who are now suffering from these delayed promises. Please honor your promises.

I believe assisting people in the adoption process is commendable, however, the creation of a registry of every expecting mother in the state "who is at risk for seeking an abortion" is government overreach. The bill makes no mention of how the "at risk" would be identified. Reading between the lines, it is obvious ALL pregnant women in Missouri would be required to be on the list. The State of Missouri has no business monitoring women's healthcare. If the real goal was to reduce abortions they'd be funding free birth control and comprehensive sex ed.

I am writing to you to voice my opposition to Bill 807. The bill states that there will be a government registry of pregnant women, "at-risk" for abortion. My opposition is two-fold: first and foremost, women and their significant others have a right to privacy and bodily autonomy. Women should not be required to report their pregnancy, doubts about said pregnancy, or thoughts about their own healthcare to our government. It's a great over reach to keep a registry of pregnant women in the state. It is up to each woman what information she shares with the government, and what decisions she and her partner make about the pregnancy. Second, who would decide if someone is, "at-risk" for abortion? What criteria are used? Will women be asked invasive questions which are then reported to the government? Do doctors judge it? On what merits? This seems rife for confusion, judgement, and accusations. While I understand there is a desire to link prospective parents (via adoption) to women with unwanted pregnancies, there are other ways to accomplish this goal that don't compromise the privacy of pregnant women. Please vote no on this Bill if it comes to a vote. Thank you

Buried in this bill is the tracking of pregnant women who the government believes might be seeking an abortion. This is abhorrent oversight into the private lives of citizens. Any decision for a woman to have an abortion is a PRIVATE medical decision between a woman and her doctor. And insofar as adoption suitability, who exactly would be the people making the decision as to who is "suitable" and who is not? I vehemently oppose the passage of this bill.

I vehemently oppose this bill, which reads as a proposal to surveil all pregnancies and overpower women's right to choose. The MO GOP needs to honor the majority's vote on Amendment 3, which keeps our state government out of our OBGYNs' offices, their professional medical practices, and our personal lives. How does one even determine "each expecting mother who is at risk for seeking an abortion"? Stand down, Republicans. Enough already.

I worked in children and family services for 30 years. this process would be a terrible idea. This would deter women who are pregnant from getting prenatal care for fear they are being tracked. It is a violation of their civil rights.. also cruel to give perspective, adoptive parents hope of a child that they may never receive. I worked with numerous parents trying to make the decision what to do in their situation and they needed genuine support . it would be much more productive to put resources towards actually helping people than to harass them and taking their medical resources away.

The tracking of expectant mothers, with or without risk, without their permission is in direct opposition to the principles of shared decision making and private health information. There many reasons why one may consider termination of a pregnancy, none of which should be the responsibility of a political or governmental agency to track. These are discussions best to be had between a pregnant person, her healthcare team, and her support team. If adoption is a consideration, then the pregnant person may reach out to register herself on her own free will.

I dislike the idea of giving private information to the state about mine and my daughters' reproductive health. Issues like make them consider living in a state that is more friendly to women after they graduate from college. Additional questions and concerns I have: Who determines who is at risk of seeking an abortion? How much of an additional burden will be placed on our doctors that are already overworked? Who will have access to this information? What right does the state have to track more and more of a woman's reproductive health information? Who much funding is going to teach sex education in school and allow cheaper access to birth control methods for both men and women?

I oppose HB 807 because it involves creating state-run registries to track pregnant individuals, which is an extreme invasion of privacy. This level of government oversight is unnecessary, harmful, and undermines personal autonomy. Tracking pregnancies could discourage individuals from seeking essential medical care out of fear. Instead of promoting adoption, this bill risks stigmatizing and isolating expectant mothers. I urge you to vote against HB 807 to protect privacy and individual rights.

I strongly oppose the violation of a woman's privacy issued by this bill. Tracking a normal citizen violates the civil liberties protected by the Constitution of the United States. With this bill, the state legislature undermines the responsibility of the government to protect the rights of its citizens. One can see the damage that a government that strives for authoritarian rule will create in a private decision between a woman and her doctor. Next the legislature will determine if a woman can take birth control pills.

I am opposed to HB 807. The state of Missouri should not be involved in tracking pregnant women, especially for the purposes of promoting birth over abortion. A woman's private health decisions is not the business of the government. Missourians voted for the right to abortion in the constitution in 2025. This vote was a clear indication that we, the people, do not want the government forcing women to give birth against their own desires and choice. Moreover, HB 807 has serious, very concerning implications for health care privacy. The bill reads: "The Division is required to make and maintain a central registry of each expecting mother who is at risk for seeking an abortion and a central registry of each prospective adoptive parent who has successfully completed certain screenings, background checks, home studies, and other investigations to ensure the fit of the prospective parent to adopt a child. The registries must be made available to the party or parties of the other registry." In other words, the state of Missouri is going to maintain a list of pregnant women who it deems is "at risk of seeking an abortion." First of all, the state has no business maintaining lists of pregnant women for any reason. Second, who gets to decide which woman is "at risk" of having an abortion?! The bill contains no language to clarify or define who makes this decision, how it will be made or if a woman has a right to remove her name from this list. This is incredibly concerning and dystopian. Third, the bill says that information will be shared with prospective adoptive parents. That is a gross violation of a woman's right to privacy with respect to her medical decisions. This provision serves no purpose beyond significantly increasing the prospect of harassment of a woman into carrying a pregnancy that she does not wish to carry. For these reasons, I'm strongly opposed to HB 807.

My name is Jennifer Heffern and I live in St. Louis. I vehemently oppose this bill that would create a state registry of pregnant women. All women deserve privacy and freedom regarding reproductive issues. Women who become pregnant deserve access to all options, including abortion, to make the best decisions for their own lives. Pregnant women are not a means to providing babies to prospective adoptive parents solely because they do not have the resources or desire to continue a pregnancy. This bill creates a pathway to human trafficking of babies from unwilling pregnant women to adoptive parents who want babies no matter the cost. I've read and seen the Handmaid's Tale, and I don't want to experience a real-life version. Shame on those who wrote this bill and all who support it.

My name is Jennifer and I have had an abortion. I was 20 years old and in an abusive relationship. The reason that I chose to end my pregnancy is personal. I have also gone through treatments for fertility issues and had the right to decide with my doctor what was right for me. The fact that I had to right to chose what happened to me and my body was crucial. I know there are probably other women in your life that may have gone through something similar or may in the future. I think adoption is wonderful and while I support it, I think having a data base to track women who are pregnant is only to punish women who need to or choose to end their pregnancy. It is their body and should be their choice. Women should be able to decide with their doctor what is best for them. The government should not be involved. Please vote against this until the language is changed and stand up for women's rights!

This bill aims to institute “Big Brother” and “The Handmaids Tale” all at the same time. It’s an invasion of privacy at the very least and truly, no one’s business except the mother’s. What purpose is there in this other than to track women, and what is private and personal for them?
Are your intentions to arrest women who terminate their pregnancies or the ones who lose theirs due to complications such as miscarriages and ectopic pregnancies? This is an invasion of the privacy of women and is unconscionable.

As a human services professional subject to the requirements of the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act (HIPAA), I oppose this bill because it creates a sweeping invasion of privacy, potentially subjecting every pregnant Missourian and every Missourian wishing to become an adoptive parent to being tracked and "introduced to each other" against their will through the use of protected health information (PHI) as defined in HIPAA. PHI includes not only medical conditions and diagnoses (such as pregnancy or conditions leading to infertility), but also names and other personal identifying information such as the type that would be recorded in the proposed registries. This bill creates a framework for large-scale HIPAA violations.

I am voicing my opposition to Bill 807. The bill states that there will be a government registry of pregnant women, "at-risk" for abortion. First and foremost, women and their significant others have a right to privacy and bodily autonomy. Women should not be required to report their pregnancy, doubts about said pregnancy, or thoughts about their own healthcare to our government. It's a great over reach to keep a registry of pregnant women in the state. It is up to each woman what information she shares with the government, and what decisions she and her partner make about the pregnancy. Second, who would decide if someone is, "at-risk" for abortion? What criteria is used? Will women be asked invasive questions which are then reported to the government? Do doctors judge it? On what merits? This seems rife for confusion, judgement, and accusations. While I understand there is a desire to link prospective parents (via adoption) to women with unwanted pregnancies, there are other ways to accomplish this goal that don't compromise the privacy of pregnant women. Please vote no on this Bill if it comes to a vote.

The people of Missouri voted for women's right to reproductive healthcare, not to be tracked and harassed by our state leaders. This bill will authorize tracking of pregnant women, human trafficking and force women to have babies and adopt them out against their will. Women of Missouri are not your breeding stock! I am shocked by this bill. Less government is supposed to be the goal, right? However this very bill and so many other things happening in this state and our country are alarming. I have been pro life as far as a can remember, but we can't do this. First of all the people voted in November in support of abortion up to 20 weeks. I realize this is longer than many would like, but I was glad to have third trimester abortions off the table. Politicians have to listen to will of the people and this matter has been settled. Please stop this and don't make conservatives look like those child breeders and Handmaids Tale people. I've never watched it, but heard it referenced enough I feel like this would be a good use of that insult. An insult I always thought was unfounded. Until now

I strongly urge you to consider the negative consequences of this bill, which I believe could have far-reaching and harmful effects on the well-being of our communities. HB 807 seeks to impose significant restrictions that I believe undermine the rights and liberties of Missourians, especially in the areas of public safety, education, and individual freedoms. This bill poses a direct challenge to the values we hold dear in a democratic society, where individuals are free to make personal decisions without undue governmental interference.

1. Threat to Personal Rights and Freedoms One of the most concerning aspects of HB 807 is its potential to limit the rights of Missouri citizens, particularly in areas where personal autonomy should be respected. The bill attempts to impose unnecessary government control over matters that should be left to individual choice, including but not limited to healthcare, education, and privacy. A government that intrudes too deeply into these areas risks eroding the fundamental freedoms we cherish as Americans.

2. Harmful Impact on Public Health and Safety The restrictions proposed in HB 807 may have unintended consequences for public health and safety. By limiting access to certain services, education, or resources, this bill could disproportionately affect vulnerable communities who rely on these services. Instead of fostering a safer, more inclusive society, the bill would create divisions, making it harder for individuals and families to access the support they need in times of crisis.

3. Undermining Public Education HB 807 also appears to interfere with the education system in Missouri, which should be a space for critical thinking, diverse perspectives, and the development of informed citizens. By imposing restrictions on educational materials, teachers, and school boards, this bill will limit the quality and freedom of education for Missouri students. It is essential that our schools remain places of open dialogue, where students are equipped with the tools to think critically and engage with the world around them in an informed and responsible manner.

4. Economic Consequences If passed, HB 807 could have significant economic ramifications for the state. Restricting access to services, limiting freedoms, and fostering an environment of uncertainty can discourage businesses from investing in Missouri. A thriving economy depends on a stable and fair environment that allows innovation, inclusion, and opportunity for all. This bill undermines that foundation and could ultimately harm Missouri's economic prospects.

5. A Step Backward for Equality and Civil Rights Finally, HB 807 risks rolling back hard-won progress in civil rights. The bill appears to be motivated by a desire to restrict the rights of certain groups, creating unnecessary barriers to equality. We cannot afford to turn back the clock on civil rights in Missouri. We must continue to build a society that embraces diversity, inclusion, and respect for all citizens.

In conclusion, Missouri HB 807 represents an overreach of governmental power that would harm individuals, families, and communities across the state. Instead of promoting the well-being of our citizens, it places unnecessary and harmful restrictions on their rights and freedoms. I respectfully urge you to oppose this bill and consider the long-term consequences it could have on the future of Missouri. Thank you for your time and consideration.Sincerely,

Dear Committee Members: I am writing to express my strong opposition to HB 807, a bill that, under the guise of adoption reform, would create a state-run database to track pregnant women. This bill is a deeply troubling invasion of privacy and a misguided approach to addressing Missouri's already overburdened foster and adoption system. First and foremost, HB 807 raises serious privacy concerns. Requiring medical professionals and others to submit information about pregnant individuals—potentially without their consent—amounts to government surveillance of private medical decisions. Pregnancy is a deeply personal experience, and the idea that the state could track and target individuals for pro-adoption messaging is an egregious overreach. It is not the role of the government to interfere in such intimate matters. Second, Missouri's foster and adoption system is in crisis. Children are being housed in hospitals, office buildings, and other temporary placements because there are simply not enough homes to care for them. Overwhelmingly, the children in Missouri's system are not infants surrendered for adoption but older children who have experienced neglect, abuse, and trauma. Instead of focusing on pressuring more people into relinquishing infants for adoption, the legislature should be working to ensure that the children already in the system have safe, stable, and loving homes. Encouraging adoption should not come at the expense of pregnant individuals' rights or personal autonomy. Those who wish to pursue adoption have every right to do so, but they should not be subject to state-sponsored tracking and pressure. If the goal is truly to support pregnant individuals and improve the adoption process, the legislature should focus on expanding access to comprehensive healthcare, ensuring pregnant individuals have the resources they need to make informed decisions, and addressing the severe deficiencies in Missouri's foster care system. For these reasons, I urge you to vote NO on HB 807. Sincerely, Jessica DeVoto

Missouri voters PASSED abortion protection in the last election. We want women to make their own health care decisions! "At risk of seeking abortion"--who is determining this? How would this be evaluated? Women or girls with unwanted pregnancies do NOT need to be pressured and coerced and put on a registry when they are already terrified. It's insane and cruel and NOT what the voters of Missouri want.

As a pregnant woman currently living in Missouri, this bill is absolutely terrifying, and causing undue stress to pregnant women is something that this committee should be against. What possible purpose could this have other than to prosecute women who have miscarriages? I fought for years to overcome my infertility and my first pregnancy ended in a miscarriage at just 9 weeks. I cannot possibly emphasize enough how excited we were for that child or how much despair it caused our family. I cannot imagine going through what we went through in a jail cell because of a malicious prosecution for something that happened naturally and completely beyond my control. Since then, I've learned just how common my story is: the vast major of women have suffered a miscarriage at some point in their lives. Is that the true aim of this bill? To imprison as many pregnant people as possible? You are sending a clear message is you vote for this vile bill: pregnant people are not safe here. The end result of which is that it's not safe for us to seek prenatal care, meaning maternal and infant mortality rates will skyrocket. That's right: more babies will die because of this, not less. If you truly support life, please vote no on HB 807.

As a woman who wants children and is unable to have them, due to medical reasons and who went through several miscarriages, I find it absolutely appalling to make women register pregnancies in order to pressure them to make a decision that might not be best for them. This will cause immeasurable harm and unnecessary pain for so many women. This is not to "save babies" this is to control women.

THE INFORMATION ON THIS FORM IS PUBLIC RECORD UNDER CHAPTER 610, RSMo.

My name is Jessica Moore, and I want to share my deeply personal experience as someone who has faced the painful reality of pregnancy loss. I have had two miscarriages, and my sister endured a life-threatening ectopic pregnancy that required emergency surgery. These experiences have shaped not only my understanding of reproductive health but also my belief in the sanctity of personal autonomy and the need for compassionate, informed healthcare. I stand in opposition to the proposed bill that seeks to create a list of “at-risk” mothers, aiming to prevent abortions by increasing oversight and intervention. As someone who has walked through the unimaginable heartbreak of miscarriage, and watched my sister fight for her life due to an ectopic pregnancy, I urge you to consider the profound emotional and physical toll such legislation could have on individuals like me and my family. Pregnancy loss is a painful, personal experience that no one can fully understand unless they’ve lived through it. It is a trauma that no law can shield us from, no matter how well-intentioned it may seem. To be placed on a list simply because of a presumed risk—without consideration for the many complexities of individual circumstances—is to further strip away a person’s control over their own body. It is to ignore the deeply personal nature of these decisions, made in consultation with healthcare professionals who understand the unique challenges of each pregnancy. This bill would not provide the support, comfort, or care that people facing pregnancy loss or complicated pregnancies need. Instead, it would create additional stress, anxiety, and shame for individuals already navigating the most difficult decisions of their lives. I fear that such a measure would only add to the isolation and confusion that many of us already feel—forcing us into a system that views us as a statistic, rather than as human beings in need of compassion and support. In my own experience, every miscarriage was an emotional and physical battle. The uncertainty, the fear, the heartbreak—it all made the healing process longer and harder. And my sister’s emergency surgery for an ectopic pregnancy—her life hanging in the balance—was a reminder of how precarious and personal reproductive health can be. No one should have to navigate these challenges under the looming threat of government intervention, feeling as though their most personal medical decisions are subject to public oversight. The right to make choices about our own bodies is fundamental. The decisions we make regarding pregnancy and reproductive health should be between us and our trusted healthcare providers. It is critical that we maintain the privacy and autonomy to make these deeply personal decisions without the fear of being monitored or controlled by the state. In conclusion, I ask you to consider the human impact of this bill. It is not just a matter of policy, but of real lives—real people who have already faced unimaginable challenges. Instead of increasing surveillance and restrictions, let us focus on providing support, understanding, and resources for those who are in need. Every person facing a difficult pregnancy deserves respect, dignity, and the right to make the best decision for themselves and their families. Thank you for your time and consideration. Sincerely, Jessica Moore

Hello, I am all for the revision of adoption in Missouri and the need to ensure the safety of our children. Policing women and putting them on a list is the type of stuff you find in dystopian novels and should not be implemented. As a woman who had many many difficulties with my wanted pregnancy and was terrified that something terrible would make me unable to carry my child to term, how could you want to keep me on a list? How does this list maintain the health and safety of pregnant women? If you truly cared, you would be making sure pregnant women had access to care, had multiple weeks of paid leave, were taken care of during and after birth. I want to tell you my story of pregnancy and birth but you would not listen. Please listen to me now when I tell you, this bill would do no good for the women of Missouri.

My name is Jillian Rose and I am writing to strongly oppose HB 807, which would require the state to track pregnant women in a "government database". This bill is a blatant invasion of privacy, a government overreach, and a direct attack on Missourians' rights. Even those who oppose abortion should find this measure disturbing. The government has no place monitoring pregnant individuals, and such a database could easily be weaponized to intimidate, harass, or punish people based on their personal medical decisions.

Are you kidding me? How dare you keep a registry of pregnant women. What an invasion of privacy. How about you track all men who engage in sex and have gotten the woman pregnant. Investigate the man on whether or not he pulled out in time or used contraception which failed. Ask the questions to the men. It takes two and you are targeting women. This bill is disgraceful. Do we live in a democracy? Or is this the beginning of Nazi Germany? Unbelievable

I am vehemently opposed to the proposed bill, HB 807. The tracking of a pregnancy is outside the purview of MO govt. My tax dollars should be used for helping those children already in foster care or feeding children in school who cannot afford lunch. Creating a registry of pregnant individuals violates those individuals right to privacy with their personally identifying medical information. That right to privacy would be further violated by allowing the State to share that information with federal, state, and local agencies and law enforcement. Finally, giving the state the right to place minors for adoption removes the right of the parent to make decisions regarding their family. This would be a dangerous law that prevents pregnant individuals from seeking care for fear of having their personal and parental rights taken away.

This bill is an invasion of privacy. Women have a right to keep their medical information to themselves, this includes pregnancy. If you want to increase births in Missouri continue to focus on medical care for pregnant women through postpartum for a year, use state funds to end the child care deserts in Missouri, make sure there are no federal cuts to SNAP and WIC.

a bill that's being branded as a reform to the adoption system. In reality, HB 807 would require the state to TRACK PREGNANT WOMEN in a database. We have to imagine even conservative Missourians would be horrified by this idea. The elected Republicans in Jefferson City need to hear from us loud and often that this is an extreme government overreach and a creepy, draconian measure aimed at scaring our fellow citizens.

“Maintain a central registry of each expecting mother who is at risk for seeking an abortion” is too vague and could be interpreted to the affect that ALL expecting mothers will be placed on the registry. There are so many things wrong with the idea of a registry of women who are "at risk" for terminating a pregnancy. I am a USAF Veteran, a retired civil servant, someone who is very educated in the Christian Bible, a father of two boys and married for 38 years, I'm not necessarily the demographic you'd expect to agree with you but the proposed bill should be killed immediately. Let Prop 3 alone - your constituents in this state have voted and there's more important business for the elected officials in Missouri to attend to.

This not only infringes on the rights of a woman's body, but also is going full well against the will of the people that voted to overturn our abortion ban back in November. This bill is caked in religious propaganda and has no business to put a woman on a list just because she is "at risk" of seeking an abortion. Whatever "at risk" may entail. We are getting dangerously more and more close to The Handmaiden's Tale, and becoming a fascist nation that Adolf would be proud of.

Testimony Opposing Missouri House Bill 807 Dear Members of the Children and Families Committee, I am writing in absolute outrage and disgust at House Bill 807, a deeply invasive and authoritarian attempt to control pregnant women under the guise of “helping” them. This bill is nothing short of government surveillance on private medical decisions, and it is appalling that such a dystopian overreach is even being considered. Government Surveillance Disguised as “Help” HB 807’s proposal to create a registry of pregnant women is not just intrusive—it’s downright Orwellian. What kind of government thinks it has the right to track and monitor people based on their pregnancy status? This is a blatant attempt to intimidate and control women, particularly those who might consider abortion. No one should have to worry that the state is watching them while making personal medical decisions. A Direct Attack on Healthcare and Bodily Autonomy This bill will have an immediate chilling effect on women seeking healthcare. Imagine being too afraid to visit your doctor because the government might be tracking you. That is exactly what HB 807 will do—scare women away from seeking necessary care, leading to worse health outcomes, more complications, and unnecessary suffering. This is not about “saving babies.” It’s about controlling and punishing women. A Disgusting Target on Marginalized Women Let’s be clear: this bill will hit poor women, women of color, and already vulnerable populations the hardest. Those who already struggle to access healthcare will now have the added threat of government surveillance looming over them. This is not just unethical; it is cruel and dehumanizing. Enough is Enough HB 807 is a disgraceful violation of privacy, a direct attack on reproductive healthcare, and an insult to every woman in Missouri. The government has NO place tracking pregnancies or inserting itself into medical decisions. I strongly urge you to reject this appalling bill and stop wasting time on legislation designed to control and punish rather than support and empower. Sincerely, Jonah Warfield, RN6715 Cherry St Kansas City, MO 64131 (816)506-5544

It is absolutely unacceptable for ANY woman for ANY reason to be "tracked." The people of Missouri voted to allow abortion. This is another way for legislators who think they know better than the people what should be done and an attempt to circumvent our vote. It is also a clear attempt to rob women and their families of their autonomy. Would it require doctors to report pregnant woman? Unacceptable and horrifying and truly a page from the Handmaid's Tale. Our state has many issues that need to be addressed. Focus on those and vote NO on this.

This bill is a absolute non-starter for me. 1. Who decides what Women are "at risk of getting an abortion"2. A claim of this being a voluntary process is not good enough. People, especially those vulnerable, have a deep history of being coerced into agreement that limits their choices a. Could a POA for a pregnant woman make this decision? b. Could a doctor deem a pregnant woman incapable of making sound decision and lobby a court to appoint a custodian that could then make this decision? c. Is there any way possible that a pregnant woman could become part of this program in a negative consent structure. For example, by signing up for one benefit or program she is automatically registered in you database2. Violates 14th Amendment 3. Violates 4th Amendment4. This is a potential pipeline of children for sex traffickers that aren't flagged for prior offenses 5. This grows government and would massively expensive6. There is already many apparatus that exist they simply need more support, not a whole new government agency 7. Respectfully, the author and sponsor of this bill are ill prepared to defend it, not for lack of understanding, but because this bill on its very surface is indefensible, as written, and with Mr. Harms proposed substitutions.

A tracking system for pregnant people is a violation of their privacy. HIPAA's Privacy Rule, which took effect in 2003, establishes national standards to protect "protected health information" (PHI). PHI includes a patient's name, address, medical data, and more. Pregnant people's health is only the business of themselves and their doctors.

Julia Wilson?6010 Bayou Bend Ct.?St. Louis, MO 63129?juliaccwilson@icloud.com?2/18/2025To: The Missouri State Legislature?Subject: Opposition to HB 807 – A Direct Violation of Constitutional RightsDear Missouri State Lawmakers,I am writing to express my strong opposition to HB 807, the so-called "Save the Babies Act." As a woman, a mother, and a veteran who has dedicated my life to defending the Constitution, I take the protection of our fundamental rights seriously. This bill is not only an egregious overreach of government power but a direct violation of women's constitutional rights, particularly their right to privacy, bodily autonomy, and equal protection under the law as protected by the Fourteenth Amendment.Government Overreach and Violation of PrivacyA particularly alarming provision of HB 807 requires the Division of Maternal Child Resources to create and maintain a central registry of "each expecting mother who is at risk for seeking an abortion." This mandate represents an unconstitutional invasion of privacy, potentially subjecting every fertile woman in Missouri to government surveillance and scrutiny. The state has no right to track, monitor, or interfere with private medical decisions, and such a registry sets a dangerous precedent of government intrusion into personal health matters.The U.S. Supreme Court has long recognized a right to privacy in reproductive healthcare. In Griswold v. Connecticut(1965), the Court established that decisions regarding contraception fall within the constitutional right to privacy. Additionally, in Lawrence v. Texas (2003), the Court reaffirmed that the government cannot interfere with private, personal decisions without a compelling state interest. HB 807 blatantly disregards these precedents and imposes undue governmental control over women's reproductive health.Circumventing the Will of the PeopleMissouri's voters have expressed clear support for abortion services through recent legislative and electoral actions. HB 807 appears to be a direct attempt to undermine the democratic process by imposing restrictive policies that contradict the will of the people. Such legislative overreach not only erodes public trust in government but also raises serious concerns about the erosion of democratic principles.Unjust Criminalization and Punitive MeasuresHB 807 does not merely establish a registry—it paves the way for legal action against women and medical providers who seek or perform abortion services. The bill's language suggests potential punitive consequences for those suspected of seeking reproductive healthcare, effectively criminalizing a constitutionally protected medical procedure. This approach disproportionately impacts marginalized communities, low-income individuals, and victims of sexual violence, exacerbating existing inequalities in healthcare access.Furthermore, the imposition of criminal penalties for seeking an abortion contradicts established Supreme Court precedent that the government cannot place undue burdens on reproductive decision-making, as reaffirmed in Whole Woman's Health v. Hellerstedt (2016).A Call to Uphold Constitutional ProtectionsAs a veteran, I swore an oath to defend the Constitution, which guarantees freedom from government overreach into personal medical decisions. HB 807 constitutes an unconstitutional assault on women's autonomy and privacy, and I urge you to reject it. Instead of punitive and invasive policies, Missouri should invest in evidence-based solutions such as comprehensive maternal healthcare, increased access to contraception, and economic policies that empower families. I implore you to uphold the constitutional rights of Missouri's women and protect their freedoms from unwarranted government intrusion. I expect your leadership to reflect respect for the rule of law and the will of the people. Sincerely, Julia Wilson

I'm having a hard time believing that anyone with any level of common sense thinks that this bill is a good idea. It's like something straight out of Handmaiden's Tale. While I'm quite sure that the sponsors have good intentions, the fact is that it's a horrific violation of privacy, and it treats women as little more than breeding stock. Please spend time focusing on fiscal issues that are front and center. Congress is busy trying to pass on more financial responsibility to the states, and our state legislators need to figure out how to deal with that.

Requiring pregnant women receiving social services be listed in a registry for any purpose is a grave mistake and overstep of private health information, as I do not see it noted anywhere that this is done with the expecting woman's consent. The intent may be to improve adoption rates, but there MUST be other methods of doing so as this is a violation of a woman's privacy and certainly seems to be encouraging adoption over aiding a mother in keeping her child with her, which should always be the primary goal of the state. As a healthcare provider I am appalled at this suggestion.

This bill will only track poor women. This bill will need to be funded with a large sum of money to put a person in EVERY county to do the tracking. It's unreasonable and gross. Why don't we just help the poor have food, shelter, clothing, medical coverage instead of tracking them like cattle to sell their babies when they're born?

I find this bill extremely offensive to women. First and foremost, a woman has the right to make decisions for herself about her own body. I do not understand how someone could determine a woman is "at risk for" having an abortion. This bill is a manipulation to try force women to give birth because someone may want to adopt the baby. Women are not vessels who serve other people by providing them with children. If a woman chooses to continue a pregnancy and give the baby up for adoption, then that is her choice. This cannot be mandated or coerced. I cannot think of a similar situation that would be imposed on men. We have economic, environmental, and healthcare issues that our legislators could be tackling. How they decided this issue is what they should focus on is beyond me. They are out of touch with the people of Missouri and what they need.

These are private matters to be decided by individual families and the only company or government involvement there should be before an adoption contract is created and/or legal adoption papers have been filed is whatever those individuals and families decide to do, themselves. Compelling anyone to register on a list prior to formal adoption paperwork having been filed and/or private contracts having been signed is gross government overreach.

This bill lacks clarity on the exact method for data collection on expecting mothers. Participating in this system should be fully elective, but the language as written appears to require that potentially all expecting might be required to register. This bill also creates a government office that does not seem fully staffed to handle adoption matching. There are already agencies in Missouri such as Gift of Hope Adoptions and Lighthouse Adoptions who have long histories of providing adoption services and matching expectant mothers with adoptive families. It is also unclear in this bill if all types of parents would qualify as fit and proper adoptive status. I fear that given the current political climate that this bill could be used to discriminate against non-white and LGBTQ+ families. This bill needs to be updated with language that protects from discrimination all families who wish to participate in the matching system. Please reconsider this bill as worded and make necessary updates as outlined.

I find this bill to be deeply concerning. As a woman who has experienced multiple miscarriages, this bill and it's purpose to "track" pregnant girls has the ability to do more harm than good. If an individual chooses to work with an adoption clinic, they should be allowed that choice without interference from the government. The added threat and pressures to have a perfect pregnancy and to allow for the removal of all choice will only endanger participants. This bill has such dangerous language and should absolutely not be passed.

The idea of a state registry of women considering the use of abortion. Say that out loud, read it. Surely, anyone can see the privacy concerns. Let alone the way in which being on a list under the eyes of the state government could have some tremendously coercive forces applied to the expectant mother? It's yet again an overreach into the private lives of Missouri citizens. Please do not consider HB807 beyond this point, it's wrong for Missouri.

To the Members of the Missouri House Committee on Children and Families, I am writing to express my strong opposition to HB 807. While I support efforts to improve the adoption process in Missouri, I have serious concerns about the bill's provision to create a registry of expectant mothers deemed "at risk for abortion." This language is alarming for several reasons. First, the bill does not specify whether inclusion in this registry is voluntary or not. The bill appears to distinguish between records kept for women actively seeking adoption services and a separate registry for those deemed "at risk for abortion." This raises major concerns about privacy and the potential for women to be tracked and included in this database without their knowledge or consent. How is this data being collected? Furthermore, the existence of this registry could be used to intimidate or pressure women facing difficult personal decisions. Second, the phrase "at risk for abortion" is vague and undefined. What does that entail, and who determines which women meet this criteria? This ambiguity opens the door to discrimination, potential harassment, and even punitive measures against those who consider or seek abortions—despite the fact that Missouri voters recently affirmed their right to reproductive healthcare. At the very least, this provision appears designed to dissuade or delay individuals from accessing abortions. Could this lead to additional barriers to reproductive healthcare, or even the collection of information from healthcare providers in ways that compromise patient confidentiality? The lack of clarity in the bill leaves these questions unanswered, and that is unacceptable. I urge you to reject HB 807. Inclusion in a registry for adoption services should be voluntary only, and this bill does not reflect that. Rather, it seems to undermine the rights that Missouri voters have affirmed. No woman should have to fear that her personal healthcare decisions will be tracked or used against her. Thank you for your time and consideration. Sincerely, Kara Filbeck Cape Girardeau

I am 100% opposed to this bill. It says, "This bill requires the Division to create and maintain a database of expecting mothers and prospective adoptive parents for the purposes of identifying children who may be suitable for adopting." It's all well and good to have a database of prospective adoptive parents for when an expectant mother wishes to put a child up for adoption, but it is NOT ok to maintain a registry of pregnant women. This is a violation of women's privacy and must not be allowed.

I was amazed that the Children and Families Committee would be hearing HB 807. The bill states “The Division is required to make and maintain a central registry of each expecting mother who is at risk for seeking an abortion and a central registry of each prospective adoptive parent who has successfully completed certain screenings, background checks, home studies, and other investigations to ensure the fit of the prospective parent to adopt a child.” This is such an atrocious idea to require pregnant individuals to give their medical information to the state of Missouri. It's a complete overreach of government, and flies in the face of HIPAA rulings. This is an example of extremist lawmakers trying to criminalize women who have a right to an abortion in this state with the passage of Amendment 3. Thank you for the opportunity to provide my testimony,

I am firmly against this bill. There are more than enough children in foster care if someone truly wants to be a parent. This is for those who want a mint-in-box white baby. This bill is for people who go to breeders for the perfect puppy, passing by all the pets waiting to be adopted. It's selfish and gross. I strongly oppose this legislation. The creation of a DATABASE of "...expecting mothers of expecting mothers at risk for seeking an abortion and prospective adoptive parents for the purposes of identifying children who may be suitable for adopting..." is a heinous invasion of privacy. How would one identify "expecting mothers at risk for seeking..."? Are we now going to round women of child-bearing age up and check them periodically to see if they are pregnant? I can't believe any sane person would seriously consider this. Please dispense with this so-called legislation and do something for the poor people of this state who can barely make ends meet - and there are a lot of them or fix the disastrous roads or help our failing schools or something, anything that is productive.

The people of Missouri voted to retain abortion. The state needs to honor the people's vote. Secondly, for a party that wants to decrease government, doesn't enlisting a tracking of women increase government oversight? Third, this will serve to decrease women's usage of prenatal services leading to greater risks to mother and potential children, likely resulting in an increase of natural "spontaneous abortions" aka miscarriage.

I am writing to express my strong opposition to HB 807, which is currently under consideration in the Committee on Children and Families. This bill, under the guise of adoption reform, would create a state database to track pregnant women—a dangerous government overreach that has no place in a free society. This bill raises serious concerns about privacy, bodily autonomy, and government intrusion. Regardless of political affiliation, Missourians should be alarmed by the idea that the state would monitor pregnancies in this way. Such tracking could set a dangerous precedent, one that opens the door to further surveillance and control over personal medical decisions. I urge you to oppose HB 807 and any legislation that infringes on the rights of individuals under the guise of so-called “reforms.” The government should be focused on supporting families and children—not invading the private lives of its citizens. Please stand up for personal freedom and privacy by rejecting this extreme and unnecessary proposal. I look forward to your response and hope you will take a firm stand against HB 807.

THE INFORMATION ON THIS FORM IS PUBLIC RECORD UNDER CHAPTER 610, RSMo.

When I was 20 I found myself pregnant with my oldest child. One of my uncles came back to Missouri from California to try to convince me to give my unborn child to someone from his church. To this day, 24 years later, I refuse to speak to him. I probably would have ended up on your list of "at risk for abortion" - I was young, and unemployed as I had just moved back after finding out I was pregnant and single. However I wanted my daughter, and I changed my entire life to be a good mom to her. When I first read this I was horrified by the potential HIPAA and general privacy violations in the text. You have no mention of if this would be an opt-in registry or if pregnant people would be added without their knowledge. To release someone's pregnancy status to an unknown third party would be a huge violation if they did not sign up to be on the list. If pregnant people are added without signed, prior consent - I hope they sue the pants off every member of this committee and the State. My suggestion if you want to create this online registry is to: 1. Amend the verbiage to "pregnant individuals interested in pursuing adoption" 2. Ensure the Department has a signed consent from each person on the site 3. Create extra security around the login and registry site to ensure it cannot be breached 4. Have a defined, and clearly outlined process for pregnant people to change their minds and be removed from the site 5. Do not allow the adoptive parents to view the ones giving birth, but instead, the ones having the baby can browse through the people who are interested in adopting. If you do anything other than the above, you are at risk of setting up a system that is very close to baby trafficking disguised as adoption. Maybe you should look up Georgia Tann and what she did to the adoption industry before you vote.

HB 807 is an extreme government overreach that is being branded as a reform of the adoption system. Whether pro-choice or pro-life, Missourians should be horrified by the idea that there would be a database to track pregnant women. As stated in HB 807 : "The Division is required to make and maintain a central registry of each expecting mother who is at risk for seeking an abortion..."Does HIPAA not apply to women any longer?With adoptions agencies having databases in place if an expectant woman wishes to join, this would be redundant and forcing government involvement into programs that already exist?How many millions of dollars would this cost the state to create and maintain such a database? Where would funding for workers come from? I would suggest that politicians do better to serve their populations by focusing on family strengthening programs and working towards quality education for all and not bringing forth such grossly overreaching bills to the table.

I am writing to express my strong opposition to House Bill 807, which proposes the creation of a database to track pregnant women in the state of Missouri. As a concerned citizen and a mother raising daughters in this state, I find this bill to be an extreme and intrusive form of government overreach that severely compromises personal privacy and civil liberties. This proposal is not, as some might claim, a measure to improve adoption reform. Instead, it embodies a draconian and alarming step toward unnecessary surveillance of women and families. I am horrified at the idea of the state tracking and monitoring pregnant women, an action that would have no positive impact on our communities and would only serve to fuel fear and division. The fundamental rights of women in Missouri to make their own decisions about their bodies and their lives should not be subject to invasive and unjustified government oversight. This bill undermines the trust and autonomy that every person deserves in such deeply personal matters. I urge you to stand against HB 807 and reject any legislation that seeks to infringe upon the privacy and freedom of Missouri women. Please do not allow this harmful and unwarranted overreach to pass.

This is a disgusting invasion of privacy and government overreach. This will lead to the deaths of more women (which to you all may be a bonus, considering the hate and contempt you hold for women) and deaths of more babies, as pregnant women will be scared to receive prenatal care for fear of being put on a list for forgive control of their bodies. This is government-sanctioned human trafficking and is shameful.

Dear Committee Members, I write today in opposition to House Bill 807. I have numerous close friends who have personally experienced miscarriage, or the unexpected ending of very wanted pregnancies. The experience of losing a pregnancy was truly one of the most traumatic experiences for them. This bill proposes tracking expectant mothers who would be "at risk" for having an abortion. My concern is any tracking or list would necessarily require unprecedented collection of personal medical data by the government. The American tradition of personal liberty has always included the right to make one's own medical decisions without government surveillance or intervention. This registry would create a dangerous system where women are tracked and monitored by the state during one of the most vulnerable periods of their lives. Most Missourians value small government, and preparing a list based on the most private medical information is the opposite of that. Furthermore, since 1 in 4 pregnancies ends in miscarriage, any registry of pregnancies will risk adding traumatic questioning of parents going through miscarriage. I support efforts to make adoption more accessible, but this bill with a registry of pregnancies is not the best way to do that, and constitutes unprecedented government over reach. If you listen to children who have been adopted, our current adoption system increases trauma both for birth mothers and adoptees. Beginning an adoption under undue influence will only compound the trauma for all involved. There are many ways to genuinely lower barriers to support adoption, while avoiding government over reach. I respectfully urge you to protect the personal freedoms upon which our nation was founded by opposing HB807. Sincerely, Katherine Gastler

A public registry of pregnant persons seems to be an invasion of privacy. HB 807 seems punitive and an invasion of privacy. Who is a person that might be a candidate for abortion? This is not specified in the bill. How do you define that person? How would you implement this statute? Will this be a voluntary registry or mandatory? What is the purpose of tracking a pregnant person? Will there be more specifics outlined in the future along with the true purpose of the bill?

I am a licensed clinical social worker who has worked with pregnant women for 12+ years. I oppose this bill. I believe it's a violation of privacy for women, it's illogical, and a waste of resources. Women have a right to privacy and the right to self agency. The government does not need to pre-emptively collect information before a woman makes a decision for herself. Adoption is also well advertised in MO. I know this, as adoption agencies drop their information by my office twice a year. Anyone contemplating adoption just has to google "Adoption MO" and they can be connected to a reputable agency. Alternatively, they can talk to their doctor - all OBGYN offices have resources to make these referrals (usually through social workers like myself!). Adoption rates are down because women, when faced with an unwanted pregnancy that they continue, overwhelmingly choose to parent their child - and that is their decision to do so. Further surveillance by the state of Missouri will not change that trend.

To Missouri Representatives regarding HB 807, I am a concerned constituent writing in strong opposition to HB 807. This is in direct opposition to Missouri Amendment 3, Right to Reproductive Freedom Initiative, which Missouri voters passed in November 2024. Missourians have a right to their own decisions regarding reproductive healthcare and a right to privacy regarding that healthcare. This bill seeks to dangerously violate that privacy and those rights by creating a registry of expectant mothers. I urge the Missouri legislature to do right by its constituents and do not allow this bill to pass.

I am writing to express my strong opposition to HB 807, which is set to be discussed in the Committee on Children and Families. While this bill is being framed as a reform to the adoption system, its provision to track pregnant women in a state database is an alarming overreach of government power. This measure raises serious concerns:

- Violation of Privacy: Requiring the government to collect data on pregnant individuals sets a dangerous precedent and undermines personal medical privacy.
- Government Overreach: Missouri has long valued limited government and individual freedoms. Tracking pregnant women contradicts these principles and places undue burdens on private citizens.
- Chilling Effect on Healthcare: This bill could discourage pregnant individuals from seeking necessary medical care, out of fear that their personal health choices are being monitored by the state.

Regardless of political affiliation, Missourians should all agree that this level of governmental intrusion is unacceptable. I urge you to oppose HB 807 and instead focus on policies that truly support pregnant individuals, such as increasing access to prenatal care, maternal health resources, and adoption support services. Please stand against this invasive and extreme proposal. I appreciate your time and look forward to your response. Sincerely, Katherine Fischer

The contents of this bill alone are astonishingly absurd. The sponsor's comments, particularly the comment that the point of this is to create an "e-harmony for babies", take the absurdity to a new level. This bill is premised on the assumption that adoption is a "solution" to a "problem" - the problem being the right to reproductive freedom that is now enshrined in Missouri's constitution. The conservative platform is purportedly one of limited government interference and yet this bill is the antithesis. The sponsor himself expressed hesitancy regarding the role of the government as he was promoting the bill. Ultimately, the purpose of this bill is to create a registry of pregnant people in Missouri to surveil and interfere with their ability to make decisions about their own lives and families. This bill allows the agency to share records, information and findings with federal, state, or local child welfare agency personnel and law enforcement agencies, including those outside of the state. It is not difficult to see how easily the state could abuse the information provided by a pregnant person considering an abortion by threatening them with CPS or law enforcement to coerce them into an adoption. If I lived in a state where politicians respected the will of the voters, who have clearly spoken, I would be less skeptical of this bill. However, I was born and raised in Missouri, where instead of passing legislation that would support pregnant and parenting people, the General Assembly spends its time scheming on how to chip away or outright deny the rights of its residents. I urge you to vote in opposition of this bill.

THE INFORMATION ON THIS FORM IS PUBLIC RECORD UNDER CHAPTER 610, RSMo.

This bill is an affront to everything we claim to care about in the state of Missouri. My opposition has many reasons, but I wish to focus on the practicality of this bill, as that is a non-partisan issue. Every Missourian wants to know that their government is working for them efficiently, and this bill just doesn't cut it. This is a waste of government resources. My tax dollars should not be going towards tracking someone else's pregnancy, as it is not my concern. How is it anyone's concern outside of the immediate family and their doctor? Furthermore, imagine the resources it would take to actually accomplish this task. Tracking every pregnancy from every woman who can possibly get pregnant? That's asking to track the health of approximately half of the population at any given moment. DHSS, nor any state entity would have the capacity to do this level of public health monitoring. We do not have enough time, money, or personnel to accomplish this, period. The current federal administration has created DOGE to cut back on unnecessary governmental work, this all seems antithetical to that sentiment. Secondly, it's just a solution to a non-problem. We are the "Show Me" state and in reading this bill I have not been shown any benefits of implementing it, only performative partisan busywork to make Missouri look Pro-Life when in fact Amendment 3 passed just fine. Regardless of one's personal feelings, it is daft to create bills to "solve" the problem of abortion when the people already spoke and deemed it a non-issue. Again, tell us how this needs government effort towards it? Are the people actually asking for this? I hope you take the time to reflect on this and how it reflects on your work as a government official. Are you actually interested in the wellbeing and outcome of all those pregnancies, or is it just Pro-Life pagentry? If you are sincerely concerned, I suggest you invest in already established adoption and maternal health organizations. There are so many ways to help improve the lives of mothers and children in Missouri, tracking pregnancies doesn't seem like one of them.

I disagree with the need to track all pregnant women in the state of Missouri. Even as an adopter myself, knowing how difficult it can be to match babies with adoptive families, this is NOT the way to go about doing so.

This bill including a sentence including the idea of keeping a record of pregnant women in the state is draconian and disgusting. The state has already voted and spoken in regards to a woman's right to choose what's best for her and her health. The fact that this is a thinly veiled attempt to track and persecute pregnant woman is appalling. I am in staunch opposition.

I as a mother myself am opposed to this legislation. The government should not be tracking pregnant women in general, this is medical information that should be private. This bill is paternalistic and undermines the autonomy of the pregnant women. There are already a myriad of resources available for women who can't, for whatever the reason, keep their babies to set up adoptions. I am opposed to this bill!

I am testifying today in opposition to HB 807 because I believe it represents government overreach, misallocates state resources, and could have unintended consequences for maternal healthcare and reproductive rights in our state. While I appreciate efforts to support maternal and child health, I am concerned that this bill does not address the root causes of maternal and infant health disparities in Missouri. Instead of creating a new division within the Department of Social Services, we should be focusing on expanding access to healthcare, improving maternal leave policies, and addressing systemic issues like poverty and healthcare inequities. Furthermore, the language of HB 807 raises concerns about its potential impact on reproductive rights. Given Missouri's already restrictive abortion laws, it is critical that any legislation aimed at maternal health does not further limit individuals' ability to make private medical decisions. The best way to support Missouri families is to ensure they have access to comprehensive healthcare, not through government-led intervention that could prioritize adoption services over a full spectrum of reproductive care. Additionally, as a taxpayer, I question the necessity of creating a new government division when Missouri already struggles to adequately fund existing social services. We should be investing in evidence-based programs that have a proven track record of improving maternal and child health outcomes, rather than duplicating efforts through additional bureaucracy. For these reasons, I respectfully urge the committee to vote against HB 807. Instead, I encourage you to consider policies that truly uplift Missouri families by expanding access to healthcare, improving social safety nets, and protecting the rights of individuals to make their own reproductive choices. Thank you for your time and consideration. I would be happy to answer any questions.

I hope this letter finds you well. I am writing to express my deep concern regarding your support for Missouri’s HB807, the “Save MO Babies Act,” and the impact it could have on vulnerable mothers in our state. As a Christian and a concerned citizen, I believe that the values we hold should reflect a profound commitment to compassion, justice, and the dignity of every human life. Unfortunately, I feel that your stance this issue does not align with these values and fails to protect those who are most at risk: the mothers who are navigating difficult and complex situations. While I understand and respect the importance of advocating for the rights of the unborn, I believe it is equally crucial to consider the well-being of the mothers who are facing these difficult decisions. Your support of HB807, which places restrictive limits on abortion access, fails to address the broader needs of vulnerable women in Missouri. Instead of offering resources like healthcare, mental health services, financial support, and proper counseling, this bill offers a punitive approach that overlooks the nuanced and often desperate circumstances many women face. In my understanding, Christian teachings emphasize love, grace, and support for those who are suffering. Rather than further marginalizing and stigmatizing vulnerable mothers, we should be prioritizing comprehensive care, providing them with the tools and support they need to thrive, not just survive. The idea that such legislation would be effective in “saving” children while leaving their mothers without the necessary resources to support them does not reflect the heart of Christian values. I implore you to reconsider your position on HB807 and instead champion policies that uplift and empower both women and children. I also urge you to listen to the voices of your constituents—those who may not share your political views but whose lives are directly affected by these decisions. As a leader in our state, it is your responsibility to ensure that policies reflect not only your personal beliefs but also a compassionate approach to the realities faced by the people of Missouri. I ask that you reconsider your support for HB807 and seek out alternative approaches that truly reflect the values of care, support, and love that are central to both our faith and our shared humanity. Our most vulnerable deserve more than laws that push them to the margins; they deserve a future filled with hope, dignity, and real opportunities to flourish. I myself am considering starting a family in Missouri and it makes me second guess what a future would look like carrying a pregnancy to term in fear for mine and my unborn’s safety, and I can unequivocally say that it would be unsafe to be in a state carrying a pregnancy in fear of retribution from my government should there be a complication. Thank you for your time and consideration. I look forward to hearing your thoughts on this critical matter and hope that you will take steps to ensure that the interests of vulnerable mothers and families are fully represented in our state’s policies. God bless you.

I oppose HB807 because it is an unconstitutional attack on reproductive rights in Missouri. This bill would further restrict access to abortion care by criminalizing providers and imposing unnecessary restrictions. Instead of protecting the well-being of Missourians, HB807 would force individuals into dangerous and traumatic situations by limiting their ability to make private medical decisions. As a Missouri resident, I believe that healthcare decisions should be made between a patient and their doctor—not politicians. Laws like HB807 disproportionately harm low-income individuals, people of color, and those in rural areas, where access to healthcare is already severely limited. Additionally, research shows that banning or restricting abortion does not stop people from needing it—it only makes it less safe. HB807 is out of step with the rights and freedoms Missourians deserve. I urge you to oppose this bill and protect the bodily autonomy and healthcare rights of all people in our state. Please vote NO on HB807.

I believe it is not the government's right to private healthcare information, including but not limited to woman's menstrual cycle, pregnancy status, births, termination of pregnancy, or any other health condition. The "tracking" of pregnant women is inappropriate and none of the business of the city, state or federal authorities. I am writing to express my strong opposition to HB 807, which is set to be discussed in the Committee on Children and Families. While this bill is being framed as a reform to the adoption system, its provision to track pregnant women in a state database is an alarming overreach of government power. This measure raises serious concerns:

- Violation of Privacy: Requiring the government to collect data on pregnant individuals sets a dangerous precedent and undermines personal medical privacy.
- Government Overreach: Missouri has long valued limited government and individual freedoms. Tracking pregnant women contradicts these principles and places undue burdens on private citizens.
- Chilling Effect on Healthcare: This bill could discourage pregnant individuals from seeking necessary medical care, out of fear that their personal health choices are being monitored by the state.

Regardless of political affiliation, Missourians should all agree that this level of governmental intrusion is unacceptable. I urge you to oppose HB 807 and instead focus on policies that truly support pregnant individuals, such as increasing access to prenatal care, maternal health resources, and adoption support services. Please stand against this invasive and extreme proposal. I appreciate your time and look forward to your response. Sincerely, KH

Who is to determine “who is at risk for abortion” and are you implying those seeking an abortion or someone who may suffer spontaneous miscarriage? I'm a physician and mother to three children via adoption and two via birth, and I oppose this legislation. This bill objectifies women and violates their privacy. Women will not seek prenatal care for fear of loss of privacy with will increase both maternal and infant mortality. Qualified obstetricians will leave the state rather than practice under these conditions. This is clearly a violation of HIPAA. Children are not commodities and should not be "selected" from registries by prospective adoptive parents. If an expectant mother has not made an adoption plan, having her information available to prospective adoptive parents creates an environment filled with coercion. Adoption must have ethical safeguards in place for the protection of the expectant parent and the child.

In the last year, I have had 2 pregnancies that ended in a miscarriage. This is not something that I would like ANYONE to track other than myself and my doctor. A woman's pregnancy and health decisions should not be information made public or even reported to a government entity. I severely oppose! Stay out of my doctor's office, appointments, and my life. Making the decision to term a pregnancy is not your business nor anyone not involved in carrying said pregnancy or raising that which is born! Such a bill is more than an invasion of privacy, it causes a major ick factor in families. If you want to save MO babies, start with health care for the mom (including safe abortion if necessary), food and diapers for the baby, paid FMLA, better schools, free daycare, and free college! THAT will save MO babies after they are born and not just before. You disconnected political body seem to forget about the MO babies in foster care or those killed by parents due to mental health issues caused by carrying an unwanted pregnancy or raising a child with a nightmare partner. And for the record, You do NOT "represent" the people of Missouri! You're an embarrassment to this State and if you think wasting our tax money and salary hours of all those who had to work on this idiotic bill is justified, you and those of like minds need to leave Jefferson City and go home.

I am writing to express my strong opposition to HB 807, which is currently under consideration in the Committee on Children and Families. This bill, under the guise of adoption reform, would create a state database to track pregnant women—a dangerous government overreach that has no place in a free society. This bill raises serious concerns about privacy, bodily autonomy, and government intrusion. Regardless of political affiliation, Missourians should be alarmed by the idea that the state would monitor pregnancies in this way. Such tracking could set a dangerous precedent, one that opens the door to further surveillance and control over personal medical decisions. I urge you to oppose HB 807 and any legislation that infringes on the rights of individuals under the guise of so-called “reforms.” The government should be focused on supporting families and children—not invading the private lives of its citizens. Please stand up for personal freedom and privacy by rejecting this extreme and unnecessary proposal. I look forward to your response and hope you will take a firm stand against HB 807.

I am writing to express my strong opposition to HB 807, a bill that includes a provision to establish a registry of pregnant women in Missouri. This bill is an alarming overreach of government power, violating fundamental rights to medical privacy and autonomy. First and foremost, HB 807 appears to directly contradict the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act (HIPAA), which safeguards individuals' private medical information. Creating a state-controlled registry of pregnancies would set a dangerous precedent, eroding the trust between patients and healthcare providers and exposing personal medical decisions to potential government scrutiny and interference. Additionally, I am deeply concerned that this bill could be weaponized to punish or harass individuals who seek a legal abortion. Given the current political climate surrounding reproductive rights, it is not difficult to see how such a registry could be misused to track or intimidate individuals making deeply personal healthcare choices. No one should have to fear government surveillance when making decisions about their own body. While HB 807 is framed as a measure to support pregnant individuals, and assist with adoption, its implications suggest a far more sinister purpose. Instead of empowering individuals and families, it seeks to control them under the guise of assistance. This kind of government intrusion is reminiscent of the dystopian world depicted in Margaret Atwood's The Handmaid's Tale, where reproductive autonomy is systematically stripped away. Missouri must not follow such a path. I urge you to reject this bill and instead focus on policies that genuinely support reproductive healthcare, such as expanded maternal healthcare access, better parental leave policies, and protections against workplace discrimination for pregnant individuals. Respect for privacy, bodily autonomy, and personal freedom must remain a cornerstone of our democracy.

I am strongly opposed to this bill, as currently written, as it creates new privacy concerns for individual citizens that previously did not exist. The creation of any registry of pregnant individuals is suspicious on it's face, and the sharing of that list with other private citizens should be deeply concerning to anyone who cares about privacy or freedom. Even if the bill contains language outlining how privacy will be maintained, it is still enabling the sharing one's personal information with another private citizen without their knowledge or permission. The bill needs - at minimum - to be rewritten to include language that notifies that person of their inclusion on the list, and that seeks to obtain that person's consent before sharing their name and/or contact information with other private citizens. Furthermore, the current language of the bill opens the door to potential cases of unwanted soliciting by prospective adoptive parents. In a worst case scenario, this could lead to harassment. This bill does not deserve further consideration until those shortcomings are addressed.

THE INFORMATION ON THIS FORM IS PUBLIC RECORD UNDER CHAPTER 610, RSMo.

This is a dissenting response to House Bill No. 807. The objective should not be to prevent abortions, but rather to reduce their number by ensuring that pregnant individuals have access to options and resources that facilitate a more affordable adoption process. This bill requires the Division to create and maintain a central registry of expecting persons who are deemed at risk of seeking an abortion. However, this plan is unacceptable. Pregnant individuals considered at risk for abortion should not be placed in any database or tracking system until they have confirmed their intention to proceed with adoption. Furthermore, their information should be removed if they choose to terminate the pregnancy. Any tracking of pregnant individuals, except for those who actively consent to be placed in the adoption registry, should be strictly prohibited. In this case, the entire bill should be nullified. The people of Missouri have made their voices heard through Amendment 3, and the legislature does not have the authority to circumvent the will of the people. While expanding resources for those seeking adoption and for those wishing to adopt is a positive initiative, tracking pregnant individuals in Missouri for any reason is unacceptable. The issues with this bill are further outlined below.

Definition of "Child": The bill defines "child" or "children" as any offspring of a man and a woman existing upon first detection of the mother being pregnant up to and after birth. This definition is highly controversial as it grants legal recognition to a fetus from the moment of conception, which could have significant implications for reproductive rights and access to abortion services. It may be seen as an attempt to undermine established legal precedents regarding a woman's right to choose, which was supported by Missouri residents through the passage of Amendment 3. Where does this law prevent pregnant individuals from being charged with neglect or abuse if they choose not to pursue adoption and instead opt for an abortion to terminate their pregnancy? Additionally, how does this safeguard against the sharing of information that could lead to the prosecution of a pregnant person who decides to terminate their pregnancy? Impact on Women's Rights: By focusing on reducing the number of abortions and facilitating adoptions, the bill may be perceived as prioritizing the rights of the unborn over the rights of women to make decisions about their bodies. This could lead to increased restrictions on abortion access and potentially criminalize certain reproductive health decisions.

Privacy Concerns: The bill mandates the creation of a central registry for expectant mothers at risk of seeking an abortion and prospective adoptive parents. This raises significant privacy concerns, as sensitive personal information would be collected and shared among various agencies and individuals. The potential for misuse or unauthorized dissemination of this information could jeopardize the privacy and safety of those involved.

Resource Allocation: The bill requires the establishment of a comprehensive system to support expectant mothers and facilitate adoptions. While the intent is to provide support, it may divert resources from other critical social services. The financial and administrative burden of implementing and maintaining such a system could strain the state's budget and impact the effectiveness of existing programs.

Qualified Immunity for Private Contractors: Granting

qualified immunity to private contractors providing services under this bill could reduce accountability and oversight. If these contractors are not held to the same standards as state employees, there is a risk of substandard care and potential harm to expectant mothers, fathers, and children. ?Potential for Coercion: The bill's emphasis on preventing abortions through adoption services may inadvertently pressure expectant mothers into making decisions that are not in their best interest. The focus should be on providing comprehensive, unbiased support and information to allow women to make informed choices about their pregnancies. Many "crisis pregnancy centers" across the state trick those who are seeking abortion services into their facility, then provide false images and information to them under extremely high-pressure situations and have been reported to prevent them from leaving. This is unacceptable for pregnant persons already in vulnerable states. This bill seems to protect the places that do this over protecting the rights and choices of pregnant persons. ?Legal and Ethical Implications: The bill's provisions could lead to legal challenges based on constitutional rights and ethical considerations. The broad definition of "child" and the extensive measures to prevent abortions conflict with established legal protections for reproductive rights. In summary, while the bill aims to support expectant mothers and promote adoption, it raises significant concerns regarding women's rights, privacy, resource allocation, accountability, potential coercion, and legal and ethical implications. These issues warrant careful consideration and debate before moving forward with such legislation.

I am writing to express my strong opposition to House Bill 807, the “Save MO Babies Act.” While I acknowledge the importance of supporting expectant mothers and promoting adoption, this bill raises significant concerns regarding privacy, autonomy, and the potential for government overreach. The proposed creation of a central registry tracking expectant mothers deemed “at risk for seeking an abortion” is particularly troubling. Such a registry could lead to invasive monitoring and deter women from seeking necessary medical care or counseling, fearing they may be surveilled or stigmatized. This approach undermines the trust between patients and healthcare providers and could have unintended negative consequences on maternal health. Furthermore, the bill lacks clear guidelines on how women would be identified as “at risk,” raising concerns about subjective or discriminatory criteria. The absence of explicit protections for the confidentiality of the information collected exacerbates the potential for misuse or unauthorized disclosure. While the promotion of adoption is a commendable goal, it should not come at the expense of women’s rights to privacy and autonomy over their own bodies. I urge you to consider alternative measures that support expectant mothers through voluntary resources and comprehensive healthcare services.

I oppose a state registry of pregnant women “at risk of seeking abortion” so that those pregnant women will be matched with prospective adoptive mothers. This is a real-life Handmaid’s Tale scenario. Refusing to let women and girls who have experienced rape and incest get an abortion, and instead requiring them to maintain that pregnancy and then hand off that baby to a registered adoptive mother who wants a baby is inhumane and horrific for the pregnant woman.

I stand in strong opposition to this bill. While I understand the stated intent of this legislation is to support adoptive families and children in need of loving homes, I believe it represents a significant and unacceptable overreach of government power into the personal medical decisions of women. This bill, under the guise of family support, infringes upon a fundamental right to privacy. A woman's medical history, including any pregnancy-related information, is a deeply personal matter. It is a matter between a woman, her family, and her doctor. It is not the business of the government. HB 807 creates a dangerous precedent by allowing the state to intrude into these private medical decisions. This is a clear violation of a woman's personal and medical privacy and should not be tolerated. Furthermore, I am concerned about the potential unintended consequences of this legislation. Rather than encouraging adoption, this bill may have the opposite effect. The intrusive nature of the proposed requirements could deter women from considering adoption as an option, ultimately harming the very children this bill purports to protect. I urge the committee to reject HB 807. We must protect the privacy rights of women and ensure that medical decisions remain in the hands of individuals and their healthcare providers, not the government. Thank you.

As a concerned citizen and advocate for reproductive rights, I strongly oppose HB807, the “Save MO Babies Act,” which threatens the privacy, autonomy, and dignity of Missourians under the guise of promoting adoption and reducing abortions. This bill is a dangerous overreach that weaponizes government systems to surveil and control pregnant individuals, while undermining the will of Missouri voters who enshrined abortion rights in the state constitution through **Amendment 3** . 1. The “At-Risk” Registry Is Invasive and Unethical The bill’s central registry of pregnant individuals “at risk for seeking abortion” lacks clear criteria for determining “risk,” opening the door to arbitrary profiling and discrimination . While proponents claim participation is voluntary, the legislation does not explicitly state this, and its vague language risks coercing vulnerable individuals into a surveillance system. Worse, the registry allows data sharing with law enforcement agencies—even those outside Missouri—which could lead to criminalizing pregnancy outcomes or targeting individuals seeking reproductive care . This echoes Missouri’s history of tracking patients’ menstrual cycles, a practice condemned as invasive and unconstitutional . 2. The Bill Prioritizes Anti-Abortion Politics Over Real Support Rather than addressing systemic barriers like healthcare access or economic instability, this bill funnels resources into a bureaucratic system that pressures pregnant people into adoption. It ignores the reality that abortion restrictions disproportionately harm low-income, rural, and marginalized communities. Missouri already forces patients to travel out-of-state for care due to its draconian laws , yet this bill doubles down on punitive measures instead of expanding support for families. 3. It Undermines Voter-Approved Reproductive Rights HB807 is part of a broader effort by Missouri lawmakers to subvert **Amendment 3**, which voters passed to protect abortion access up to fetal viability . By creating barriers to abortion under the pretext of “preventing” it, this bill contradicts the will of Missourians and perpetuates a pattern of legislative interference in personal medical decisions . 4. Privacy and Safety Risks Are Unacceptable The registry’s lack of robust data protections exposes sensitive health information to potential breaches or misuse. Even with claims of confidentiality, the bill’s provisions for sharing records with law enforcement and third-party contractors create avenues for abuse . No one should fear that seeking pregnancy resources could result in surveillance or coercion. 5. The Bill Fails to Address Root Causes True support for pregnant individuals requires affordable healthcare, paid family leave, and childcare—not a registry that treats them as subjects to be monitored. Missouri’s existing child welfare system struggles with foster care and adoption services; diverting $32 million annually to this flawed initiative wastes resources that could directly aid families . HB807 is a dangerous escalation in Missouri’s campaign to control reproductive choices. It violates privacy, perpetuates stigma, and disregards the electorate’s mandate for bodily autonomy. I urge lawmakers to reject this bill and focus on policies that genuinely support families—not surveil them.

THE INFORMATION ON THIS FORM IS PUBLIC RECORD UNDER CHAPTER 610, RSMo.

I strongly oppose Missouri HB 807, the so-called “Save MO Babies Act,” due to its dangerous implications for the privacy, safety, and bodily autonomy of pregnant Missourians. This bill not only undermines fundamental medical privacy rights but also risks criminalizing individuals for pregnancy outcomes beyond their control. A core concern is the establishment of a state-run registry for expectant mothers “at risk” of seeking an abortion. This unprecedented government surveillance of pregnant individuals creates a chilling effect, potentially deterring people from seeking necessary medical care for fear of being monitored, reported, or even prosecuted. No pregnant person should have to weigh the risks of criminal investigation before seeking medical advice. Furthermore, the bill’s intersection of health data with law enforcement raises the alarming possibility of criminalizing pregnancy complications such as miscarriages or stillbirths. Medical experts have long cautioned that laws like this can and do lead to the wrongful prosecution of people for circumstances beyond their control. A pregnancy that ends unexpectedly should be treated as a medical event, not a criminal case. Rather than investing in coercive policies that violate privacy, Missouri should focus on expanding real support for parents and children. If lawmakers are truly committed to improving adoption outcomes and maternal health, they should prioritize policies that ensure affordable healthcare, paid parental leave, and accessible childcare—not government surveillance of pregnant individuals. I urge Missouri legislators to reject HB 807 in the interest of protecting medical privacy, reproductive freedom, and human dignity.

This bill is unconstitutional. It does not help at risk pregnant women. It is a way to track females in order to, once again, control their bodies for them. This state has been trying to strip the people who live here of their rights. We do not want a dictatorship. America is considered the Free World. This is just another attempt to try to control a woman's right to an abortion. Our state does not even want to help fund education for the children who are already here. This is a bill that should absolutely die on the floor.

As a mother of 5 babies, 2 only living earth side, I do not support this bill. What is your definition of "abortion"? If anyone would like to see what a medical abortion looks like on a medical bill, I'd be happy to bring one in. A miscarriage that needs intervention (the woman's body hasn't passed the fetus naturally) is referred to as an abortion. I don't agree with that terminology either but that's a topic for a different day. We, men and women, are all entitled to our privacy. Especially when it comes to our health. Everyday someone is battling some sort of medical issue, but that doesn't give anyone the right to ask about it or read about it just because they're in charge or serving on a medical committee and/or a medical department. This isn't China, we don't need to be kept track of for our pregnancies.

I am writing to express my strong opposition to HB 807, which is currently under consideration in the Committee on Children and Families. This bill, under the guise of adoption reform, would create a state database to track pregnant women—a dangerous government overreach that has no place in a free society. This bill raises serious concerns about privacy, bodily autonomy, and government intrusion. Regardless of political affiliation, Missourians should be alarmed by the idea that the state would monitor pregnancies in this way. Such tracking could set a dangerous precedent, one that opens the door to further surveillance and control over personal medical decisions. I urge you to oppose HB 807 and any legislation that infringes on the rights of individuals under the guise of so-called “reforms.” The government should be focused on supporting families and children—not invading the private lives of its citizens. Please stand up for personal freedom and privacy by rejecting this extreme and unnecessary proposal. I look forward to your response and hope you will take a firm stand against HB 807.

I have been a foster parent in the state since 2015. This is not necessary or reasonable. The department is constantly understaffed and under resourced. How will this be funded? Will department staff be pulled away from current responsibilities to do this job? Leaving kids who are currently in danger without access to resources? Leaving foster parents without necessary support? We are so short on licensing workers that this program won't have referral sources anyhow. Finally, the foster system is broken in this state and many others. Asking to track pregnant women to encourage them to relinquish their child to foster care is another form of trauma for the woman and the baby.

I strongly oppose the creation of a central registry of expecting mothers in the State of Missouri. The voters of Missouri have spoken and are in favor of women having a choice when it comes to their own bodies and their healthcare. These decisions are between them, their families, their doctors and their God. The Missouri government and the community at large have no place in this decision.

The people of the state have spoken and have agreed that a woman should have a say in their own body autonomy. The government has NO SAY in how a woman reproduces, and should not require a pregnant woman to register for anything except baby gifts should she choose to keep the pregnancy. Men need to stay out of our uterus & politicians need to actually start caring about their constituents instead of forcing their beliefs and bible worshipping on other people. Please just listen to the people in this state and please just stop with all of this. It's not funny. It's very scary thinking that if I get pregnant - I will be forced to carry a pregnancy that could ultimately kill me and take me away from my living, breathing, child. Not everyone gets pregnant by sleeping around. I'm married and have had miscarriages, which states in my medical record that I've had "spontaneous abortions" and as a politician - you have absolutely no say or right to anything regarding any of my medical care. Just leave us alone, and step down off your pedestal. You're not funny. You don't care about women, and you just want your 5 minutes of fame. Be prepared for a fight from women in this state, because you will not win.

As a supporter of smaller government, I cannot help but be appalled at this bill. The creation of a database of pregnant women is abhorrent and screams of similarity to "The Handmaid's Tale"--the assessment of fertile women as a commodity to be tracked by the government is disgusting. And, to spend $100 million dollars in implementing this database and "PetFinder for Babies" is the height of fiscal irresponsibility. There are currently over 12,000 children in the Foster Care system in Missouri. I would highly recommend increasing support for these children, walking and breathing among us, instead of funding a government surveillance state.

The tracking of pregnant persons in an online registry is not going to support those individuals. Harassment and discrimination will pursue those in an already stressful time. I oppose this bill and all that it stands for. Tracking those that are legally able to choose what is best for their health and family should only be between doctors and that person. Government needs to stay out of the family planning of pregnant persons. Thank you for hearing this plea of individual autonomy and choice. Laila Hassan-Meyer

This bill is supposedly intended to prevent abortions; however, it could easily be used to hunt down and punish women who miscarry their pregnancies. In addition, it could be weaponized to take children away from parents deemed "at risk" to sell them to parents deemed more acceptable. Our nation's for-profit infant adoption industry is not healthy for pregnant persons or their children. This bill will undoubtedly do more harm than good, and I ask that you oppose it. This bill is preposterous. I am a conservative person and I am HORRIFIED at the thought of tracking pregnant women. Who determines they are "at risk?" What is the criteria? How do you intend to circumvent HIPPA? This draconian control of women's bodies is appalling. Please focus on problems that affect us all, and leave women to govern their own bodies.

This bill represents an incredible violation of women's rights in the state of Missouri. It is both unnecessary and frightening that the government would ever consider forming a registry of expectant mothers. Further, the people of Missouri clearly showed that they wish to keep abortion safe and legal in Missouri when they passed Amendment 3 just this November. I strongly urge all members of this House to stop wasting our time and money by seeking to overturn the will of the voters who elected them. Instead, I implore you to focus on the issues that I, and all other Missourians, truly care about: for example, providing affordable housing and safe and affordable health care.

I am writing to express my strong opposition to HB 807, which is set to be discussed in the Committee on Children and Families. While this bill is being framed as a reform to the adoption system, its provision to track pregnant women in a state database is an alarming overreach of government power. This measure raises serious concerns:

- Violation of Privacy: Requiring the government to collect data on pregnant individuals sets a dangerous precedent and undermines personal medical privacy.
- Government Overreach: Missouri has long valued limited government and individual freedoms. Tracking pregnant women contradicts these principles and places undue burdens on private citizens.
- Chilling Effect on Healthcare: This bill could discourage pregnant individuals from seeking necessary medical care, out of fear that their personal health choices are being monitored by the state.

Regardless of political affiliation, Missourians should all agree that this level of governmental intrusion is unacceptable. I urge you to oppose HB 807 and instead focus on policies that truly support pregnant individuals, such as increasing access to prenatal care, maternal health resources, and adoption support services. Please stand against this invasive and extreme proposal. I appreciate your time and look forward to your

I want you to vote NO on HB 807, the bill that would create a Maternal and Child Resources division in the Department of Social Services. Requires the Division to create and maintain a database of expecting mothers at risk for seeking an abortion and prospective adoptive parents for the purposes of identifying children who may be suitable for adopting. This would interfere directly with a pregnant woman's fundamental right to make their own decisions about health care, a fundamentally private decision. Creates increased costs for unadopted babies that move into foster care and/or institutions

I've dealt with 7 pregnancies and 2 births, it was hell experiencing loss after loss but thankfully I had the freedom to experience them without government overreach into my vagina and uterus as that is me and my spouses business. The fact that anyone better yet MEN who could never comprehend the work and strength it takes to bring life into this world, took the time to write a bill to essentially track our fertility about what is the most intimate and personal experience of our lives isn't just disgusting it's disturbing. I am a healthcare provider who has worked in hospitals, hospice education, foster care, and as an in-home service provider to folks with special needs for decades. I have extensive experience working with women and families throughout my entire career, and I hold them in a high place of concern regarding this bill. I submit this statement out of concern for all humans with uteruses, as well as children, who stand to be greatly harmed by this widespread HIPAA violation that has no clear evidentiary support in providing a greater benefit than it would to harm. This legislation is an incredible overreach of governmental influence that only stands to steal sensitive information regarding personal decision making without consent, and to use it with ignorant and inappropriate intent. My experience from working in foster care, healthcare, education, and in home care has taught me that the constituents of any state, especially Missouri, need more financial support and less governmental tracking, regulation, and constrictions. Most women and mothers come across my path due to incredible fallacies in our society that cause them to seek help via outreach at the hands of our local hospitals, schools, clinics, and tax-funded public assistance. Please focus your time and efforts, and our tax dollars, toward funding women and children's existing benefits and resources instead of intruding upon their personal data and autonomy.

I am writing to express my strong opposition to HB 807, which is currently under consideration in the Committee on Children and Families. This bill, under the guise of adoption reform, would create a state database to track pregnant women—a dangerous government overreach that has no place in a free society. This bill raises serious concerns about privacy, bodily autonomy, and government intrusion. Regardless of political affiliation, Missourians should be alarmed by the idea that the state would monitor pregnancies in this way. Such tracking could set a dangerous precedent, one that opens the door to further surveillance and control over personal medical decisions. I urge you to oppose HB 807 and any legislation that infringes on the rights of individuals under the guise of so-called “reforms.” The government should be focused on supporting families and children—not invading the private lives of its citizens. Please stand up for personal freedom and privacy by rejecting this extreme and unnecessary proposal. I look forward to your response and hope you will take a firm stand against HB 807.

You have got to be kidding me. If it wasn't Missouri, I would not believe what I am reading. HB807 requires the Division (of Social Services) to create a centralized registry of each expecting mother. This sounds like Nazi Germany in the 1930's and 40s. This isn't just wrong, it is despicable. I do not care what HB 807 SAYS the information will be used for, there is no doubt in my mind that the legislature will use it to intimidate expectant mothers, and to track those who have a legal abortion under rights conveyed by the Missouri constitution. This bill should be dead on arrival, and should absolutely not go to the full House for consideration. I object on moral and ethical grounds to giving the state this kind of authority.

I, Linda Marie Grawl, registered Republican, 55 year old, never been married, have never been pregnant and obviously have no children of my own am in opposition to the ridiculous bill being put forward. The voters settled this issue in November. We are a majority in favor of a woman's right to choose! If you want to make the adoption system better, by all means address that but leave abortion out of it. We voted, it is over! Keep insisting we are too stupid to know what we want and we will vote every one in favor of this bill!

Republicans used to be the party that cared about privacy and their constituents - what in the world is happening? Subject: Opposition to HB807 – Concerns Regarding the "Save MO Babies Act" I am writing to express my strong opposition to House Bill 807, known as the "Save MO Babies Act," which proposes the establishment of a Division of Maternal and Child Resources within the Department of Social Services to assist with child adoptions. While the bill's intent to support adoption is commendable, I have serious concerns about its potential implications and the dangerous precedent it could set. One of the most alarming aspects of HB807 is the provision for tracking and creating a registry of expecting mothers who are considered "at risk" for seeking abortions. Such a measure is a gross invasion of privacy and bodily autonomy, and it places vulnerable women and families under unjustified surveillance. The idea of cataloging pregnant individuals in this way is not only dystopian but also creates a chilling effect, discouraging women from seeking necessary prenatal and healthcare services for fear of being monitored or coerced. This level of government overreach is deeply troubling and sets a dangerous precedent for the erosion of personal freedoms. Pregnancy is a deeply personal journey, and no woman should have to fear being watched or judged for her healthcare decisions. The bill aims to enhance the state's adoption processes by tightening regulations and ensuring accountability among child services providers. However, without adequate funding and resources, these measures may overburden the existing system, potentially leading to delays and reduced quality of care for children awaiting adoption. Moreover, the bill's focus on adoption does not address the root causes that lead to unplanned pregnancies. Comprehensive sex education and accessible family planning services are essential components in reducing the number of children entering the adoption system. By not including these preventive measures, HB807 may inadvertently overlook effective strategies that could decrease the need for adoption services. Additionally, the bill's emphasis on adoption raises concerns about the potential for coercive practices, where individuals may feel pressured to choose adoption over other viable options. It is crucial that expectant parents receive unbiased counseling to make informed decisions that are in the best interest of both the child and themselves. In light of these concerns, I urge you to oppose HB807 and consider a more holistic strategy that includes preventive measures, adequate funding, and safeguards against coercion and government surveillance. Missouri's children and families deserve compassionate and ethical solutions that respect personal autonomy and privacy. Thank you for your attention to this critical matter.

I am writing you today to implore you to deny HB 807. The tracking of pregnant women is a gross overreach of government and a waste of precious State resources. As of August 2023, there were nearly thirteen thousand children waiting to be adopted in Missouri. If a person is so eager to have a child, then surely they would be grateful for the opportunity to pursue adoption with any of those children. Tracking anyone without criminal cause is unconstitutional and an attack on personal freedoms. You can protect freedom and privacy by denying HB 807.

As a Mom, and having to help someone that I know get outta state to GET an abortion, I OPPOSE HB-807!!! What about the "man" that impregnated this woman, a man, who already had NINE CHILDREN, by as many different women and did NOT pay child support of any kind, to ANY OF THOSE WOMEN!! It should be a woman's RIGHT to decide what is best for her, and her body. Every situation is different, but, this one is personal for me!Also, I have an adult daughter and daughter in law, with FIVE DAUGHTERS between them!! I FEAR, I mean FEAR, for the future healthcare of my daughters and most of all my granddaughters!! I would like to see you stand FOR women's healthcare! Thank you!!

As a woman, this bill is HORRIFYING. While I understand the intention is to facilitate voluntary adoptions, the language of "Maintain[ing] a central registry of each expectant mother who is at risk for seeking an abortion of her unborn child" indicates that this is NOT an opt-in system. WOMEN ARE NOT COMMUNITY PROPERTY, despite what the author of this bill seems to think. Adding pregnant women to a "registry" without their knowledge and consent violates her privacy and peace of mind, and is clear intimidation. This bill would be detrimental to the lives of pregnant women in this state, and I urge you to reject it.

That this bill is even being considered in its current form is alarming. Tracking and keeping a registry of all pregnant women who might seek an abortion? Could there be a more nefarious invasion of people's privacy? Let me make this perfectly clear: women are not the property of the state, this state or any other state. Their bodies are their own. Their medical decisions are not the state's business. This bill is frankly horrifying and creepy and reminds me of the Handmaid's Tale. Vote no on HB 807.

My name is Lisa Williams. I live in HD80. I am writing in opposition to HB 807. I am appalled that our legislature is even considering such a draconian measure. I am a strong supporter of abortion rights and voted in favor of Amendment 3 as did the majority of Missourians. This tracking of pregnant people under the guise of "promoting the safe and healthy birth of children" is horrifying. Thousands of children currently languish in foster care and half of children available for adoption are not adopted. Meanwhile, the legislature is looking for ways to provide fewer people with paid sick leave and limit the minimum wage. Please spend MO's resources on better supporting working families not tracking and harassing pregnant people. I urge you to vote no on HB 807.

I respectfully ask this committee to oppose HB 807 and, in particular, the provision requiring a central registry of expecting mothers. This measure does not serve the best interests of mothers, children, or the adoption process. Instead, it introduces significant risks and undermines trust in the adoption system. Current best practices in adoption prioritize the empowerment and autonomy of birth mothers, as well as the confidentiality of the adoption process. A central registry undermines these principles by introducing a level of oversight that is both unnecessary and counterproductive. Requiring a central registry of expecting mothers intrudes on their right to privacy and confidentiality. Pregnancy and the consideration of adoption are deeply personal matters, and mandating the inclusion of personal information in a government-managed registry may discourage mothers from seeking support or even exploring adoption as an option. Such a registry could expose expecting mothers to unwarranted scrutiny, stigmatization, or coercion. While the intent may be to track or facilitate adoption processes, the reality is that centralizing this sensitive information creates risks of misuse or inadvertent harm to vulnerable individuals. Thank you

I'm defiantly opposed to the State keeping a database of mothers as stated in this bill. I have the perspective of both sides of this issue. When I placed a child at birth up for adoption, I was terrified. A database would have made me run and hide. Later when adopting a child, such a database would have made me extremely anxious and again want to run to Canada. There were enough hoops to jump through as it was that my husband and I actually formed a plan to leave the US if anything went awry. You may have good intentions but unless you've walked the path, you really have no idea what this process is like. Vote NO and rewrite this bill. I'd be happy to assist.

I write today in opposition to this misguided bill. Creating a registry of pregnant Missourians is government overreach. Who decides who goes on the list? How many women will avoid seeing a doctor for fear of being put on the list and potentially having their baby taken from them and put up for adoption? This committee should be looking at ways to feed hungry Missouri families, ensuring that they have access to quality affordable health care, and access to jobs that provide living wages. Not creating registries of pregnant women.

Chair, Vice-Chair, members of the committee, thank you for the opportunity to submit testimony on behalf of Abortion Action Missouri in opposition to HB 807. The proposed surveillance in this bill is a gross violation of the basic right to privacy expected by all Missourians. Missouri has a history of misusing the power of the State to track and surveil pregnant Missourians, such as when former Health Director Randy Williams admitted to keeping a detailed spreadsheet with the menstrual cycles of patients at the St. Louis Planned Parenthood Health Center. Beyond bringing national attention and embarrassment to our state, Williams turned the Department of Health and Senior Services into a weapon of abuse targeting pregnant women – a tactic we see again with HB807. There are no salient details in this bill, how will “expectant mothers identified to be at risk for seeking abortion services” be defined? How will the State identify Missourians supposedly “at risk for seeking abortion services”? Who manages or has access to this registry? Who adds to the registry– state agencies? State law enforcement? Using taxpayer dollars to support the constant surveillance of all 1.2+ million Missouri women of reproductive age who could theoretically become pregnant is a blatant abuse of state funding and power. This bill also effectively turns the State’s Department of Social Services into a state-funded adoption agency, another waste of state funding and means. Critically, adoption is an alternative to parenting– not pregnancy. Studies show pregnant women who choose abortion are aware of adoption, and yet overwhelmingly do not consider it. A 2017 study out of the ??Jacobs Institute of Women’s Health within the Institute School of Public Health at George Washington University found that people considering abortion infrequently consider or choose adoption. People considering abortion are generally considering between abortion or parenting. The political framing of abortion vs. adoption does not accurately reflect the realities of the real people making those considerations. Missourians do not support political or government interference in access to abortion, or any pregnancy care. 1,538,600 Missourians turned out to the polls and VOTED YES to putting decisions about abortion, pregnancy, and all sexual and reproductive care back where they belong, in the hands of the people and families of our state. As the dually elected representatives of those very same voters it is your job to uphold and defend the promise of Amendment 3. Rather than attempt to coerce pregnant women into adoption, ensure access to the supports families need to raise their children in safe environments, such as access to childcare, food and housing security, and access to maternal and infant healthcare. Abortion Action Missouri, representing more than 80,000 Missourians across the state, opposes the advancement of HB 807 and urges you to vote NO. Thank you. Abortion Action Missouri works to protect and expand every Missourians’ right to bodily autonomy, to access essential reproductive healthcare including abortion care, to access accurate information to make the best decisions for ourselves and our families, and to parent our children in safety and dignity.

This is a dystopian bill that will kill women, and i'm not being dramatic. A registry of expectant mothers who are at risk of getting an abortion, that could be any expectant mother, and will only serve to persecute women unjustly. Women are dying because of abortion bans, because not every pregnancy is viable and doctors are afraid to give them lifesaving care for fear of getting their license taken away or being persecuted for trying to save a woman's life. The last thing Missourians want or need is more government intervention in their lives.

This bill would establish a database to track pregnant women. Not only could this be used as a tool of Big Government to target individuals, it is an invasion of privacy. This is a disgusting example of how lawmakers hide nefarious measures within seemingly well-intended legislation. Those who proposed and support this are reprehensible and should be ashamed. This is infuriating and YOU do not deserve tue trust of the people you serve.

It is incredibly concerning that the Missouri Legislature is even considering a registry of all pregnant women. This is our personal health information and this would be an abuse of HIPAA exceptions for local government. You already had Missouri Republicans trying to track women's periods and you got in trouble. You think you can do this end run around our right to privacy you are insane. The state has no right to my medical information and the voters of Missouri enshrined my right to reproductive healthcare. You will NOT violate my personal rights like this. If you manage to pass this travesty with your gerrymandered supermajority I remind you that good men and women are under no obligation to follow evil laws. And this is an evil fascist attempt to give the government power the voters of Missouri said you don't have. What is wrong with you?

I am writing to express my strong opposition to HB 807, which is set to be discussed in the Committee on Children and Families. While this bill is being framed as a reform to the adoption system, its provision to track pregnant women in a state database is an alarming overreach of government power. This measure raises serious concerns:

- Violation of Privacy: Requiring the government to collect data on pregnant individuals sets a dangerous precedent and undermines personal medical privacy.
- Government Overreach: Missouri has long valued limited government and individual freedoms. Tracking pregnant women contradicts these principles and places undue burdens on private citizens.
- Chilling Effect on Healthcare: This bill could discourage pregnant individuals from seeking necessary medical care, out of fear that their personal health choices are being monitored by the state.

Regardless of political affiliation, Missourians should all agree that this level of governmental intrusion is unacceptable. I urge you to oppose HB 807 and instead focus on policies that truly support pregnant individuals, such as increasing access to prenatal care, maternal health resources, and adoption support services. Please stand against this invasive and extreme proposal. I appreciate your time and look forward to your response. Sincerely, Margaret Walters

I oppose this entire bill. I oppose the idea of a registry of expectant mothers. All maternal care should be decided by the individuals involved and their choice of medical professionals. I am a 36-year old Missouri resident who is currently pregnant with a baby who was very much desired and planned for. The idea of a central registry by the state of expecting mothers is a horrifying invasion of privacy, a blatant HIPAA violation, and will surely be weaponized by those with no understanding of the female reproductive system. As a woman of "Advanced Maternal Age," my chance of miscarriage is higher than the already common 1 in 4 pregnancies for the average woman. This bill will stereotype women who are "identified as at risk for seeking abortion services" and falsely accuse those who have suffered a tragic loss. It will also create a list of women who do exercise their right to choose abortion services - a right which was voted into law by the people of Missouri mere months ago. I oppose this bill in the strongest terms possible.

The local, state, and federal governments have no right to try to force any woman to do anything with her body that she does not want to. It's a woman's private decision to: become pregnant; have a baby; have an abortion; raise a baby; place a child for adoption; have no children and/or pregnancies. This is a violation of HIPPA. The League of Women Voters of Missouri opposes this bill. It creates a Maternal and Child Resources division in the Department of Social Services and requires the Division to create and maintain a database of expecting mothers at risk for seeking an abortion and prospective adoptive parents for the purposes of identifying children who may be suitable for adopting. It interferes directly with a pregnant woman's fundamental right to make their own decisions about health care and their right to privacy. For decades, the League of Women Voters has a position that believes that public policy in a pluralistic society must affirm the constitutional right to privacy of the individual to make reproductive choices. The League recently reaffirmed its commitment to fight for reproductive rights and justice, including bodily autonomy, privacy, reproductive health, and access to contraception and abortion.

This is a dissenting response to House Bill No. 807. The objective should not be to prevent abortions, but rather to reduce their number by ensuring that pregnant individuals have access to options and resources that facilitate a more affordable adoption process. This bill requires the Division to create and maintain a central registry of expecting persons who are deemed at risk of seeking an abortion. However, this plan is unacceptable. Pregnant individuals considered at risk for abortion should not be placed in any database or tracking system until they have confirmed their intention to proceed with adoption. Furthermore, their information should be removed if they choose to terminate the pregnancy. Any tracking of pregnant individuals, except for those who actively consent to be placed in the adoption registry, should be strictly prohibited. In this case, the entire bill should be nullified. The people of Missouri have made their voices heard through Amendment 3, and the legislature does not have the authority to circumvent the will of the people. While expanding resources for those seeking adoption and for those wishing to adopt is a positive initiative, tracking pregnant individuals in Missouri for any reason is unacceptable. The issues with this bill are further outlined below.

Definition of "Child": The bill defines "child" or "children" as any offspring of a man and a woman existing upon first detection of the mother being pregnant up to and after birth. This definition is highly controversial as it grants legal recognition to a fetus from the moment of conception, which could have significant implications for reproductive rights and access to abortion services. It may be seen as an attempt to undermine established legal precedents regarding a woman's right to choose, which was supported by Missouri residents through the passage of Amendment 3. Where does this law prevent pregnant individuals from being charged with neglect or abuse if they choose not to pursue adoption and instead opt for an abortion to terminate their pregnancy? Additionally, how does this safeguard against the sharing of information that could lead to the prosecution of a pregnant person who decides to terminate their pregnancy? Impact on Women's Rights: By focusing on reducing the number of abortions and facilitating adoptions, the bill may be perceived as prioritizing the rights of the unborn over the rights of women to make decisions about their bodies. This could lead to increased restrictions on abortion access and potentially criminalize certain reproductive health decisions.

Privacy Concerns: The bill mandates the creation of a central registry for expectant mothers at risk of seeking an abortion and prospective adoptive parents. This raises significant privacy concerns, as sensitive personal information would be collected and shared among various agencies and individuals. The potential for misuse or unauthorized dissemination of this information could jeopardize the privacy and safety of those involved.

Resource Allocation: The bill requires the establishment of a comprehensive system to support expectant mothers and facilitate adoptions. While the intent is to provide support, it may divert resources from other critical social services. The financial and administrative burden of implementing and maintaining such a system could strain the state's budget and impact the effectiveness of existing programs.

Qualified Immunity for Private Contractors: Granting

qualified immunity to private contractors providing services under this bill could reduce accountability and oversight. If these contractors are not held to the same standards as state employees, there is a risk of substandard care and potential harm to expectant mothers, fathers, and children. ?Potential for Coercion: The bill's emphasis on preventing abortions through adoption services may inadvertently pressure expectant mothers into making decisions that are not in their best interest. The focus should be on providing comprehensive, unbiased support and information to allow women to make informed choices about their pregnancies. Many "crisis pregnancy centers" across the state trick those who are seeking abortion services into their facility, then provide false images and information to them under extremely high-pressure situations and have been reported to prevent them from leaving. This is unacceptable for pregnant persons already in vulnerable states. This bill seems to protect the places that do this over protecting the rights and choices of pregnant persons. ?Legal and Ethical Implications: The bill's provisions could lead to legal challenges based on constitutional rights and ethical considerations. The broad definition of "child" and the extensive measures to prevent abortions conflict with established legal protections for reproductive rights. In summary, while the bill aims to support expectant mothers and promote adoption, it raises significant concerns regarding women's rights, privacy, resource allocation, accountability, potential coercion, and legal and ethical implications. These issues warrant careful consideration and debate before moving forward with such legislation.

THE INFORMATION ON THIS FORM IS PUBLIC RECORD UNDER CHAPTER 610, RSMo.

Good afternoon,I am writing to you to voice my opposition to Bill 807. The bill states that there will be a government registry of pregnant women, "at-risk" for abortion. My opposition is two-fold: first and foremost, women and their significant others have a right to privacy and bodily autonomy. Women should not be required to report their pregnancy, doubts about said pregnancy, or thoughts about their own healthcare to our government. It's a great over reach to keep a registry of pregnant women in the state. It is up to each woman what information she shares with the government, and what decisions she and her partner make about the pregnancy. Second, who would decide if someone is, "at-risk" for abortion? What criteria is used? Will women be asked invasive questions which are then reported to the government? Do doctors judge it? On what merits? This seems rife for confusion, judgement, and accusations. While I understand there is a desire to link prospective parents (via adoption) to women with unwanted pregnancies, there are other ways to accomplish this goal that don't compromise the privacy of pregnant women. Please vote no on this Bill if it comes to a vote.Thank you,Marvin Aggeler

It is nice that the state is wishing to assist people in adoption. That is something that can be helpful in decreasing the amount of children in foster care in Missouri. However, the plan to monitor pregnancies of women who 'might' be considering an abortion is outrageous. Women have the right in this state to an abortion since the passage of the Amendment for Reproductive Rights. This is a blatant attempt to influence women in a highly personal decision- one that is not the business of lawmakers, especially males lawmakers. To further invade a woman's privacy by monitoring the highly personal gestational period of women is an invasion of a woman's freedom. Mark me as a opposing opinion.

This bill is horrifying. Allowing pregnant women to be tracked in a database so they can be monitored to see if they might get an abortion. It's no one's business except the woman and her doctor if that is something they need or decide to do, This is NOT anything that is needed or necessary for someone who is in the adoption process. I am a Birthmother. I am very familiar with what it is like to be pregnant with a child, give birth to that child, and relinquish that child to adoption. When I lost my daughter to adoption, it broke me. I spent years lost in grief and hopelessness. I've spent every single day of my life lying when people ask me if I have any children. I've lied on job applications. I've lied on insurance forms. I've lied to my own friends. My mental health suffered greatly. To this day I am suicidal and must remain vigilant to protect myself from self harm. This bill is dangerous. This bill is discriminatory. The fact a "response, evaluation and legal team comprised of 10 members would be appointed between the director of the Department of Social Services, Missouri Gov. Mike Kehoe (R) and the state Supreme Court" makes this bill even more onerous. This involves the government in the private decisions of individuals, the absolute opposite of what Republicans stand for. In addition This bill does not address sexually active males who impregnate females. They should be required to sign up to a registry to track their activities and hold them accountable for the pregnancies they cause. If you wish to prevent abortions you need to address the males who impregnate women, leading to abortions.

After reading, the bill is perceived to be a blatant attempt to undo what the people of Missouri have voted for: access and protections for the right to choose. The language is posed as "protective" for pregnant women seeking adoption, when in reality it: - Has vague language around when a pregnancy is "detected" and criminalizes any doctor or agency that keeps women's information private and unshared. - Creates state infrastructure specifically aimed at discouraging abortion, which goes against what Missourians voted for and passed in 2024's election.- Establishes government tracking of pregnant women considered "at risk" for seeking abortion, which is a privacy violation for women.- Allocates state resources toward steering women away from abortion and toward adoption, which appears to use government and taxpayer funds to force religious views on others.- Creates pressure on vulnerable pregnant women to choose adoption over other optionsIt should not be passed.

While I am all for adoptions and preventing abortions whenever possible, HB 807 specifically states that someone will "Maintain a central registry of each expectant mother who is at risk for seeking an abortion of her unborn child and make the same available to a prospective adoptive parent who has completed screenings." This violates HIPPA and overreaches privacy rights for expectant mothers throughout the state. Furthermore, those "at risk of seeking abortions" will be less likely to seek medical care to avoid such tracking, which will likely increase the chance of abortion rather than decrease it since there will be no opportunity for intervention and support that could encourage otherwise, at the same time penalizing those who do not want an abortion but find themselves in life-threatening situations (such as diagnosis of tubal pregnancy), already mourning the loss of a fetus that cannot survive to birth, for something they never wanted nor sought, the loss of their unborn child.

I am writing to express my strong opposition to HB 807, which is set to be discussed in the Committee on Children and Families. While this bill is being framed as a reform to the adoption system, its provision to track pregnant women in a state database is an alarming overreach of government power. This measure raises serious concerns:

- Violation of Privacy: Requiring the government to collect data on pregnant individuals sets a dangerous precedent and undermines personal medical privacy.
- Government Overreach: Missouri has long valued limited government and individual freedoms. Tracking pregnant women contradicts these principles and places undue burdens on private citizens.
- Chilling Effect on Healthcare: This bill could discourage pregnant individuals from seeking necessary medical care, out of fear that their personal health choices are being monitored by the state.

Regardless of political affiliation, Missourians should all agree that this level of governmental intrusion is unacceptable. I urge you to oppose HB 807 and instead focus on policies that truly support pregnant individuals, such as increasing access to prenatal care, maternal health resources, and adoption support services. Please stand against this invasive and extreme proposal. I appreciate your time and look forward to your response. Sincerely, Matthew Petrov

I am a registered voter and mother of three living children. I stand opposed to HB807, specifically the so called "Division of maternal and child resources." I object to the use of the term "child" in reference to an embryo and/or fetus. A religious opinion like that has no place in our laws. Further, I object to the language under the section defining "Children's services providers and agencies" which would allow religious institutions to be included, thereby violating the principle of separation of church and state. And I most adamantly oppose section 207.102, especially subsection (1) "Maintain a central registry of each expectant mother who is at risk for seeking an abortion for her unborn child..." We will not stand for this back door attempt to legislate fetal personhood. We will not stand for being registered like breeding animals for the State to try to control. We know the Republicans are trying to undo the will of the people of Missouri in regards to Amendment 3, and we will not stand for it. Setting up this kind of surveillance targeting women is two of the steps to fascism, and we will not stand by for it. You should not stand for it either as our representatives.

THE INFORMATION ON THIS FORM IS PUBLIC RECORD UNDER CHAPTER 610, RSMo.

Right now our current state feels like an oppressive attack on women. It is significant government overreach to create pregnancy registries based off women's private health information. It is frightening to even do so. Pregnancies are complicated, miscarriage and a million other things can go wrong naturally. No woman should fear persecution for the loss of pregnancy. This bill only serves as a stepping stone to policing and restricting travel of pregnant women, investigating and criminalized them for miscarriage. There is no similar legislation that creates registries for fertile men who have fathered such pregnancies, or requires their physician to register information about their fertility. This violates our right to privacy. I have had 3 children. I have miscarried twice. I know women that have gone into have their check ups and found that their baby had no heart beat at 27 weeks. Unless you have lost a pregnancy, you cannot fathom the grief and pain. I cannot imagine having to also have to report those to a registry and worrying instead of grieving the loss of my baby. Its dehumanizing, like we are brood mares and have no emotional consequences. Creating a registry is a dangerous first step that leads to investigation, persecution, and criminality over women's god given reproduction and all of its potential mishaps. This legislation creates fear and I feel it will actually cause women to not seek prenatal care, which will cause infant and maternal mortality rates to rise. It will lead to physicians and medical providers leaving obstetrical practices for fear of investigations, etc. If they have pregnant patients. It is unethical, intrusive, and harmful to create registries of women's information. I fear this legislation will only add to more women choosing not to have families out of fear of their safety. Moreover, pregnant women aren't some sort of store for people looking to adopt to just shop from. You want to create a registry and list so we can what, be used like Amazon to order infants from? It's ludicrous. Protect women. Protect their privacy. Protect the health and safety of them and any child they may be carrying. Please treat us as humans. We are wives, mothers, aunts, sisters, daughters. We aren't just wombs on a list. Thank you for your consideration.

It does not make sense to spend time and money to create a list or database to track pregnant people who "may be at risk of an abortion". That is a vague and reckless use of words, time, manpower. If you are going to put effort into adoption and the foster care system then do that, but focus on THAT. A simple google search shows that there are roughly 13,000 children in the foster care system in Missouri, where is the focus and empathy for those children? Put together the database and screening procedures for prospective adoptive parents, families and the lawyers and instead of including pregnant people who are "at risk of abortion" just make it a readily available resource. Put the funding and effort into the children who exist currently who are suffering and struggling on their own. We need to work on updating and refining the systems we already have in place and spending money on instead of creating more policies and departments that will be underfunded and overworked.

Absolutely NO. Perhaps you would like to make and maintain a central registry of each man's ejaculate which may result in a pregnancy? Testimony in Opposition to HB 807 – "Save MO Babies Act" To the Members of the Missouri Legislature, My name is Megan Schiller. I am a voter in Springfield, and I am submitting this testimony in strong opposition to HB 807, the so-called "Save MO Babies Act." As a concerned citizen and a firm believer in personal freedoms, reproductive rights, and the importance of comprehensive support for mothers and children, I find this bill deeply troubling. At its core, HB 807 is an intrusion into the deeply personal and complex decisions that expecting mothers must make. Rather than providing unbiased, holistic support, this bill creates a state-run system designed to pressure women into adoption by maintaining a registry of those "at risk for seeking an abortion." This approach is paternalistic, invasive, and an overreach of government authority into private medical decisions. If the goal is truly to support expecting mothers and children, Missouri should focus on expanding access to healthcare, prenatal care, childcare assistance, paid family leave, and economic resources that empower parents to make choices that are best for their families. Instead, this bill appears to prioritize adoption as the state's preferred alternative while failing to address the root causes of why some women seek abortions in the first place—financial instability, lack of healthcare access, and systemic barriers to raising a child. Moreover, the establishment of a centralized registry of expecting mothers deemed "at risk for seeking an abortion" raises serious privacy concerns. The potential for misuse, stigma, and coercion is significant. No government agency should have the authority to track and intervene in such an intrusive manner when it comes to a woman's personal medical choices. I urge the members of the Missouri Legislature to reject HB 807. If we truly care about families and children, we must invest in policies that offer real support—not coercion. We must trust women to make the best decisions for their lives and their futures. I call on our lawmakers to shift their focus to policies that enhance healthcare access, economic opportunity, and social support for all Missouri families. Sincerely, Megan Schiller

Tracking the status of a Missourian's private health is a drastic overreach contrary to core Missouri values of freedom and autonomy. This information will have a chilling effect on patients in need of medical care and medically-sound information, essentially ensuring more maternal and fetal deaths. The only outcome of this type of tracking is stripping Missourians of their privacy and violating their Constitutional rights. If Missouri's men were required to submit semen samples regularly so the State could track the viability of their reproductive system, legislators would recoil in outrage yet they are proposing Missouri women submit to similar reproductive tracking. It is un-American and unconstitutional and violates every ideal of privacy guaranteed by the government. Keep Missouri government officials out of the doctors' offices of the people of this State.

I am writing to express my whole hearted opposition to HB 807. I have given birth to three children and I am also strongly supportive of adoption. However, in no way is a database of pregnancies needed to support adoption programs in Missouri. This is a direct violation of a woman's personal health information, that should only ever be between the individual and their doctor. This bill does nothing to indicate who is at risk for an abortion or who will or will not be required to be tracked. It is not clear what will be done with this information. If women choose to be a part of a database to find an adoption match that should always be a personal decision and not something that any politician or bill dictates. And certainly should never be something that is punishable. How dare anyone suggest that my, or anyone else's, personal health information be required to be shared with anyone other than their doctor.

Testimony: I am writing to express my strong opposition to HB 807, which is currently under consideration in the Committee on Children and Families. This bill, under the guise of adoption reform, would create a state database to track pregnant women—a dangerous government overreach that has no place in a free society. This bill raises serious concerns about privacy, bodily autonomy, and government intrusion. Regardless of political affiliation, Missourians should be alarmed by the idea that the state would monitor pregnancies in this way. Such tracking could set a dangerous precedent, one that opens the door to further surveillance and control over personal medical decisions. I urge you to oppose HB 807 and any legislation that infringes on the rights of individuals under the guise of so-called “reforms.” The government should be focused on supporting families and children—not invading the private lives of its citizens. Please stand up for personal freedom and privacy by rejecting this extreme and unnecessary proposal. I look forward to your response and hope you will take a firm stand against HB 807.

I am writing to express my strong opposition to HB 807, which is set to be discussed in the Committee on Children and Families. While this bill is being framed as a reform to the adoption system, its provision to track pregnant women in a state database is an alarming overreach of government power. This measure raises serious concerns:

- Violation of Privacy: Requiring the government to collect data on pregnant individuals sets a dangerous precedent and undermines personal medical privacy.
- Government Overreach: Missouri has long valued limited government and individual freedoms. Tracking pregnant women contradicts these principles and places undue burdens on private citizens.
- Chilling Effect on Healthcare: This bill could discourage pregnant individuals from seeking necessary medical care, out of fear that their personal health choices are being monitored by the state.

Regardless of political affiliation, Missourians should all agree that this level of governmental intrusion is unacceptable. I urge you to oppose HB 807 and instead focus on policies that truly support pregnant individuals, such as increasing access to prenatal care, maternal health resources, and adoption support services. Please stand against this invasive and extreme proposal. I appreciate your time and look forward to your response. Sincerely, Melissa Imo-Moffitt

I vehemently oppose this bill. While on the surface it sounds lovely to coordinate adoption services, it is abhorrent to track pregnant women in this state under the guise of "support." You are seeking to include private health information in a registrar available to non-healthcare providers, a significant HIPPA violation. As a woman of child-bearing age and as the stepparent to teen daughters, I am outraged. Further, there is no language in this bill that describes what "at risk for seeking abortion" means and who/how such a determination will be made. My supposition is that this is coded language for young, poor, women of color. This is not a bill that supports life - this bill is pro-birth and is another attempt to subvert the will of the people who voted in favor of Amendment 3 and the right to choose. This bill will take advantage of those already marginalized. If you truly cared about increasing the rate of adoptions in this state and support of children with loving, capable parents, then you would not have language that specifically singles out a few. Where does the line get drawn? This is a slippery slope that is 100% NOT right for Missourians.

This is nothing more than a way to control women and their bodies. Missouri citizens already voted in November 2024 their approval and desire to allow women to have bodily autonomy with the legalization of abortion. This is nothing more than a way to pressure women into giving birth and preventing them from gaining access to information and resources to obtain an abortion. Are woman to be treated as livestock and their offspring catalogued?

Pregnant women put on a registry for prospective adoptive parents? Aside from the giant HIPPA violations this would entail, women are not brood mares and should not be treated as such. The same God that made couples unable to have babies has provided a great place to adopt kids who need parents: foster care. There are thousands of foster children who age out of the system every year. If these prospective adoptive parents want children so badly, maybe you can put those kids on a registry for people to adopt. You know, existing kids who need homes. We have no business encouraging more unwanted children when we have plenty at our fingertips to supply these people who "want to be parents" so badly. I think you'll find they don't really want to be parents, they just love the idea of it. A lot of kids adopted as babies end up cut off from their families around the teen years. I took in two teen girls when I was in my mid twenties. One was adopted at birth and the second, as a toddler. They were 16 and 15 when their adoptive parents washed their hands of the girls. They lived with me until the older one was in her twenties. Unwanted children do not have nice lives. I know firsthand--I was also an unwanted child. We struggle and have no one to turn to. We rarely get decent childhoods, let alone have any support as we navigate adulthood. Pushing for more kids to be born so adoptive parents can later reject them for not being exactly like the adoptive parents is insane. Are we an insane state? An insane country? I encourage our representatives to remember the people in this state voted to retain abortion rights. You are supposed to be representing us, not trying to undo what we want as our rule of law. We do not want prospective parents to be pressured by zealots who think they're entitled to other people's reproductive systems. They should adopt available children who need homes. Harassing people who don't want to be pregnant shouldn't EVER be an option.

I appreciate the efforts made to improve the adoption process and experience on both sides of the exchange. However, this bill raises red flags to me because of its very obvious priority to reduce abortion over all else. When we lead and write these bills with abortion reductions as the priority, we lose focus on what should be the real goal, which is to help women, children and families adopt and be adopted. I agree that we need more resources for women who are pregnant and ways to communicate to women who may be interested in those solutions. I agree that we should be providing more services that help families who are interested in adopting children. There are many children who are already born who just waiting to be adopted. Children who don't have birthday parties, who don't own baby photos or have a book of firsts/memories, and who live out of a trash sack that carries everything they own. Those children should be the focus and priority for any legislation written to help improve the adoptive process in MO. In addition to the misguided priorities of this bill, I vehemently disagree with the idea of making a registry of women who are at risk for seeking an abortion.

As an adoptive parent, I wish to register my strong opposition to HB 807. Despite assertions otherwise, this bill is not about improving the efficiency and success of the adoption process; it is about exploiting whomever is arbitrarily deemed "at-risk" as well as denying a right to patient privacy and autonomy -- a right, coincidentally, the people of this state upheld. Adoption rates are not a metric to be increased and should not come at the cost of someone's reproductive autonomy. This bill was clearly not written with any consideration for birth parents or adoptees, and I urge supporters to reconsider what this would mean for individuals and families. Thank you for your time.

THE INFORMATION ON THIS FORM IS PUBLIC RECORD UNDER CHAPTER 610, RSMo.

This is a dissenting response to House Bill No. 807. The objective should not be to prevent abortions, but rather to reduce their number by ensuring that pregnant individuals have access to options and resources that facilitate a more affordable adoption process. This bill requires the Division to create and maintain a central registry of expecting persons who are deemed at risk of seeking an abortion. However, this plan is unacceptable. Pregnant individuals considered at risk for abortion should not be placed in any database or tracking system until they have confirmed their intention to proceed with adoption. Furthermore, their information should be removed if they choose to terminate the pregnancy. Any tracking of pregnant individuals, except for those who actively consent to be placed in the adoption registry, should be strictly prohibited. In this case, the entire bill should be nullified. The people of Missouri have made their voices heard through Amendment 3, and the legislature does not have the authority to circumvent the will of the people. While expanding resources for those seeking adoption and for those wishing to adopt is a positive initiative, tracking pregnant individuals in Missouri for any reason is unacceptable. The issues with this bill are further outlined below.

Definition of "Child": The bill defines "child" or "children" as any offspring of a man and a woman existing upon first detection of the mother being pregnant up to and after birth. This definition is highly controversial as it grants legal recognition to a fetus from the moment of conception, which could have significant implications for reproductive rights and access to abortion services. It may be seen as an attempt to undermine established legal precedents regarding a woman's right to choose, which was supported by Missouri residents through the passage of Amendment 3. Where does this law prevent pregnant individuals from being charged with neglect or abuse if they choose not to pursue adoption and instead opt for an abortion to terminate their pregnancy? Additionally, how does this safeguard against the sharing of information that could lead to the prosecution of a pregnant person who decides to terminate their pregnancy? Impact on Women's Rights: By focusing on reducing the number of abortions and facilitating adoptions, the bill may be perceived as prioritizing the rights of the unborn over the rights of women to make decisions about their bodies. This could lead to increased restrictions on abortion access and potentially criminalize certain reproductive health decisions.

Privacy Concerns: The bill mandates the creation of a central registry for expectant mothers at risk of seeking an abortion and prospective adoptive parents. This raises significant privacy concerns, as sensitive personal information would be collected and shared among various agencies and individuals. The potential for misuse or unauthorized dissemination of this information could jeopardize the privacy and safety of those involved.

Resource Allocation: The bill requires the establishment of a comprehensive system to support expectant mothers and facilitate adoptions. While the intent is to provide support, it may divert resources from other critical social services. The financial and administrative burden of implementing and maintaining such a system could strain the state's budget and impact the effectiveness of existing programs.

Qualified Immunity for Private Contractors: Granting

qualified immunity to private contractors providing services under this bill could reduce accountability and oversight. If these contractors are not held to the same standards as state employees, there is a risk of substandard care and potential harm to expectant mothers, fathers, and children. ?Potential for Coercion: The bill's emphasis on preventing abortions through adoption services may inadvertently pressure expectant mothers into making decisions that are not in their best interest. The focus should be on providing comprehensive, unbiased support and information to allow women to make informed choices about their pregnancies. Many "crisis pregnancy centers" across the state trick those who are seeking abortion services into their facility, then provide false images and information to them under extremely high-pressure situations and have been reported to prevent them from leaving. This is unacceptable for pregnant persons already in vulnerable states. This bill seems to protect the places that do this over protecting the rights and choices of pregnant persons. ?Legal and Ethical Implications: The bill's provisions could lead to legal challenges based on constitutional rights and ethical considerations. The broad definition of "child" and the extensive measures to prevent abortions conflict with established legal protections for reproductive rights. In summary, while the bill aims to support expectant mothers and promote adoption, it raises significant concerns regarding women's rights, privacy, resource allocation, accountability, potential coercion, and legal and ethical implications. These issues warrant careful consideration and debate before moving forward with such legislation.

As a concerned citizen and advocate for reproductive rights, I strongly oppose HB807, the “Save MO Babies Act,” which threatens the privacy, autonomy, and dignity of Missourians under the guise of promoting adoption and reducing abortions. This bill is a dangerous overreach that weaponizes government systems to surveil and control pregnant individuals, while undermining the will of Missouri voters who enshrined abortion rights in the state constitution through **Amendment 3** . 1. The “At-Risk” Registry Is Invasive and Unethical The bill’s central registry of pregnant individuals “at risk for seeking abortion” lacks clear criteria for determining “risk,” opening the door to arbitrary profiling and discrimination . While proponents claim participation is voluntary, the legislation does not explicitly state this, and its vague language risks coercing vulnerable individuals into a surveillance system. Worse, the registry allows data sharing with law enforcement agencies—even those outside Missouri—which could lead to criminalizing pregnancy outcomes or targeting individuals seeking reproductive care . This echoes Missouri’s history of tracking patients’ menstrual cycles, a practice condemned as invasive and unconstitutional . 2. The Bill Prioritizes Anti-Abortion Politics Over Real Support Rather than addressing systemic barriers like healthcare access or economic instability, this bill funnels resources into a bureaucratic system that pressures pregnant people into adoption. It ignores the reality that abortion restrictions disproportionately harm low-income, rural, and marginalized communities. Missouri already forces patients to travel out-of-state for care due to its draconian laws , yet this bill doubles down on punitive measures instead of expanding support for families. 3. It Undermines Voter-Approved Reproductive Rights HB807 is part of a broader effort by Missouri lawmakers to subvert **Amendment 3**, which voters passed to protect abortion access up to fetal viability . By creating barriers to abortion under the pretext of “preventing” it, this bill contradicts the will of Missourians and perpetuates a pattern of legislative interference in personal medical decisions . 4. Privacy and Safety Risks Are Unacceptable The registry’s lack of robust data protections exposes sensitive health information to potential breaches or misuse. Even with claims of confidentiality, the bill’s provisions for sharing records with law enforcement and third-party contractors create avenues for abuse . No one should fear that seeking pregnancy resources could result in surveillance or coercion. 5. The Bill Fails to Address Root Causes True support for pregnant individuals requires affordable healthcare, paid family leave, and childcare—not a registry that treats them as subjects to be monitored. Missouri’s existing child welfare system struggles with foster care and adoption services; diverting $32 million annually to this flawed initiative wastes resources that could directly aid families . HB807 is a dangerous escalation in Missouri’s campaign to control reproductive choices. It violates privacy, perpetuates stigma, and disregards the electorate’s mandate for bodily autonomy. I urge lawmakers to reject this bill and focus on policies that genuinely support families—not surveil them.

This is barbaric. The fact that this is even being considered makes me physically ill. Tracking anyone for reasons that relate to their personal health and lives, brings us one step close to being Nazi Germany. Treating our pregnant women like they're fucking cattle is beyond the pale and no sane person should be in favor of this. A woman's health, a family's decision to start or NOT start a family, is not the business of anyone but them and their doctors. Who will be tracked next? Women who are fertile? Women who have not yet had a child? Are we going to start having laws that demand a woman have a child simply because she is capable of it next? Where do we draw the line? I say the line has already been drawn. HB807 crosses it. Do not do this. Do not do this to your wives, your mother's, your sisters, your friends - do not do this to people you do not know whose lives you have no right interfering with or monitoring. We demand our continued private medical autonomy. Fuck this Nazi regime that is sweeping over our country and our state. I will never submit.

How dare you, after Missourians voted to codify the right to abortion in our state, how dare you suggest we establish a register of pregnant women?! This is absolutely outrageous, and Missourians will not stand for it. Get OUT of our business and stop being creepy. And Mr. Amato, I will personally do whatever I can within the bounds of the law to make sure you lose your seat and never have the opportunity to do this to our women again. Creep.

Chairperson, Members of the Committee, I write to you today as a woman, a mother, and a citizen deeply concerned about the overreach of government power that would be established by HB 807. While this bill is presented as a reform to Missouri’s adoption system, one provision in particular should alarm every person in this room—establishing a government registry of pregnant women. Let’s be clear about what that means. This bill seeks to track and monitor pregnant women in Missouri. It does so under the guise of facilitating introductions between expectant mothers and prospective adoptive families. But the reality is this: women are not commodities to be cataloged and matched like inventory. Women neither want nor need Big Brother keeping tabs on their pregnancies. The idea that the state would compile a list of pregnant women is nothing short of an invasion of privacy and a dangerous precedent for government overreach. It is a violation of bodily autonomy and a fundamental intrusion into the doctor-patient relationship. If Missouri lawmakers, and particularly our republican brothers and sisters, support the idea of small government, then they must recognize that the government has no place in cataloguing and monitoring women’s pregnancies. Tracking pregnant women via government registry is a chilling prospect, one that suggests the state sees us not as autonomous individuals but as vessels to be managed and directed – as property of the state. It is reminiscent of the way farmers track livestock—not how a free society treats its women. Missourians should not stand for this. Women should not stand for this. If our state wants to reform our adoption system, we must do so without treating our own citizens as inventory to be catalogued. I urge this committee to reject HB 807 in the strongest possible terms. If you truly believe in individual liberty and the right to privacy, then there is no justification for this bill. Thank you.

I am fully against anyone needing to track a pregnant woman and what healthcare she chooses. The people of Missouri voted to have the option for legal abortion. According to adoptuskids.org there are currently 13,000 in missouri foster care, with 1,500 of these children with "no identified adoptive parents". Perhaps the lawmaker bring this forth could focus on the children currently sitting in foster care, wondering why they aren't worthy of being loved and cared for.

This bill is preposterous on its face. No expectant mother should be tracked like a felon on probation during what is a very stressful time in her life. You keep forgetting that the Missouri citizens with all their knowledge and power voted to create a CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT to make and keep abortion legal in this state. Tracking expectant mothers is a gross violation of privacy and tantamount to illegal intimidation. Is this what you took away from the vote to keep abortion rights? That we now want Missouri expectant mothers tracked and followed? SPEND YOUR TIME DOING SOMETHING VALUABLE FOR OUR STATE, like finding solutions to the gross lack of education in our rural areas. This is an open door to so many issues. Why do we need to monitor pregnant women? It is a HUGE privacy invasion. With the miscarriage rate of 10-20% it is scary that those women may have to explain why their body self aborted the baby when they themselves don't know, nor do their doctors. I don't understand why people without medical degrees try to make laws regarding the human body. As well as why are we worried about the abortion rate when their are so many kids in our foster care system that need the money that you will spend on implementing this bill? The money for this could be used for education, infrastructure, and things we actually need. This is an blatant abuse of power and anyone who votes for this should rethink their values.

Dear Members of the Missouri House, I am writing to express my strong opposition to HB 807, which seeks to establish government surveillance and tracking of pregnant individuals. This bill represents a dangerous overreach of government power, violating fundamental rights to privacy, bodily autonomy, and medical confidentiality.

1. Violation of Privacy and Bodily Autonomy HB 807 intrudes upon the most intimate aspects of a person's life by allowing government oversight of pregnancy outcomes. The Constitution guarantees the right to privacy, which extends to reproductive health decisions. Tracking pregnant individuals sets a precedent for unprecedented government interference in personal medical matters.

2. Criminalization and Discrimination This bill disproportionately endangers marginalized communities, including people of color, low-income individuals, and those in rural areas with limited access to healthcare. The fear of being surveilled may deter individuals from seeking prenatal care, increasing medical risks for both pregnant individuals and their babies. Additionally, pregnancy outcomes are complex—criminalizing miscarriages or stillbirths would lead to wrongful prosecutions, as seen in other states with similar laws.

3. Erosion of Doctor-Patient Confidentiality Medical professionals take an oath to provide care without bias or political interference. HB 807 undermines this by forcing doctors to act as informants rather than trusted caregivers. This erosion of trust between patients and healthcare providers could lead to worse health outcomes and discourage open communication about pregnancy complications.

4. Misuse of Government Resources Missouri faces real issues, including maternal mortality, lack of rural healthcare access, and economic hardship. Instead of surveilling pregnant individuals, lawmakers should focus on policies that expand healthcare access, improve maternal health outcomes, and support families through paid leave and affordable childcare.

Conclusion HB 807 is a dangerous step toward excessive government control over private medical decisions. It would not protect life—it would harm pregnant individuals, disproportionately impact marginalized communities, and undermine fundamental constitutional rights. I urge you to reject this harmful and invasive legislation.

Respectfully,
 Michelle Warfield
 Jackson County MO

Hello, my name is Mikaela Junkans from Wildwood. I am 100% opposed of tracking and monitoring a woman's pregnancy. The idea of tracking a woman's pregnancy is an extreme example of government interference & overreach. It's absurd. Stay out of our private lives, stay out of our doctor's offices, stay out of our personal lives. If you expect women to turn over their personal health data, I expect our representatives to do them same. If I ovulate between the 17-19th of every month I think it should be public knowledge to know how often our male representatives ejaculate. Thank you for your time.

Every Missourian should be horrified at the section I quote below from this bill. HB 807 would created a registry to track private health information and share that information with parties who have no reason to access it. This is a truly dystopian proposal that would create a government database of pregnant women. This bill must be opposed by any official who has the smallest amount of respect for personal freedom and right to privacy. "In furtherance of the Missouri adoptive resources services system, the division 11 shall: 12 (1) Maintain a central registry of each expectant mother who is at risk for 13 seeking an abortion of her unborn child and make the same available to a prospective 14 adoptive parent who has completed screenings as provided in subdivision (2) of this 15 subsection;"

As a Missouri resident and woman who could become pregnant in the state, I strongly oppose HB 807 in its current form. Although I would be in favor of additional resources to help support expectant mothers and facilitate adoption where desired, the language of this bill is vague and concerning in key areas. It fails to define what is meant by a person "at risk of seeking abortion services," which could potentially encompass all pregnant women in the state or open the door to biased targeting. Moreover, it does not explicitly state that inclusion in the "registry" it describes would be optional for these "at-risk" mothers--data which could then be shared without her consent not only to potential adoptive parents but also a broad range of agencies, providers and officials. Finally, the stated goal of the bill--to reduce the number of "preventable abortions" in the state--is at odds with the right to these services recently enshrined in the state Constitution by Missouri voters. Although I personally share a desire to provide better alternatives for crisis pregnancy, that can be accomplished without creating unnecessary conflicts of interest within state government, or comprising the freedom and privacy of Missouri women. I ask that you reject HB 807 and instead support less intrusive measures that address the root causes of crisis pregnancy, support pregnant women, and support working families. Thank you.

No one should be tracking anyone's medical conditions other than themselves and their doctor. Even high risk pregnancies or other outlying situations should, again, be monitored by and discussed with an individuals doctor, then consulting with an adoptive parent or couple as necessary. The biological parent's health should be first and foremost in order to provide a healthy pregnancy for the child. This bill would be a gross invasion of privacy.

Women of Missouri, myself included, should not be coerced into putting children up for adoption or keeping unwanted pregnancies. I do not want my menstrual cycle, or any potential pregnancy I may have, to be tracked by the government. The only parties involved in monitoring and tracking any pregnancy I may have, and the decisions made about it, are myself and my doctor. This proposed bill is invasive, coercive and, quite frankly, creepy. The state should not have a registry of pregnant women, particularly not one designed to farm babies out to prospective adopters. How would the registry be tracked? How would the list be determined? What conditutes "at risk?" Who would track it? Who would have the available information? Could the list be used by abusers to locate the person they've abused? What security threats would Missouri women be open to bevause of this type of registry? This bill has more questions than answers and there are too many holes in it for me, as a Missouri woman, to consider it to be a good-faith effort to protect the state's women and children. I do not support this bill passing.

Dear representative, I am writing you today to implore you to deny HB 807. The tracking of pregnant women is a gross overreach of government and a waste of precious State resources. As of August 2023, there were nearly thirteen thousand children waiting to be adopted in Missouri. If a person is so eager to have a child, then surely they would be grateful for the opportunity to pursue adoption with any of those children. Tracking anyone without criminal cause is unconstitutional and an attack on personal freedoms. You can protect freedom and privacy by denying HB 807. Thank you.

This is an over reach bill straight out of Project 2025. We already support pregnant women with millions of dollars budgeted for "pregnancy resource centers" that urge adoption. We already keep lists of people wanting to adopt at DSS. The adoption process was streamlined recently. Pregnant women do not need to be singled out & judged as at a high risk for abortion! Are you going to make them wear a star on their clothes too like the Jews were forced to wear in WWII by the Nazis? Or decide the state can force them to have a baby because one of your rich constituents wants to adopt a blonde blue eyed baby? It is simply forced birth & singling out people for abuse by the system. What is next, limiting adoption to only married white male/female that go to a church you approve of? No more single parent adoptions? Improve the economics of pregnancy & birth. Offer free prenatal & delivery care at every County health department. Provide adequate paid family leave for good family bonding for the mother. Provide accessible childcare after parental family leave is up..make MO trade schools, tech schools & college affordable like it was in the 79s & 80s. This is a dangerous over reach bill that has huge potential for abuse of women. I urge a big NO vote on this disaster of a bill.

A woman's body belongs to her. Human women are not livestock. Missourians voted to restore abortion rights, a woman's right to choose. Keeping track of her private medical information on a government data base is a horrendous violation of her right to privacy and self determination. I thoroughly reject the idea of keeping a registry of expectant mothers “considered at risk for seeking abortion”. This is a gross intrusion into my individual rights. Who is determining “at risk”. Why do we need to track expectant mothers. While I laud the idea of providing support for those women who choose adoption as a method, the citizens of Missouri have spoken and want abortion as an option, giving women autonomy over their bodies. Please don’t take us down the road to making The Handmaid’s Tale a reality

I am a Missouri constituent and voter and I strongly oppose HB 807 and any similar efforts that aim to track pregnancies. This is an appalling plan that, in its own words, would “maintain a central registry of each expectant mother who is at risk for seeking an abortion” under the guise of a “Missouri Adoptive Resources Services System.” I ask our representatives to please oppose and reject this bill and the inappropriate governmental intrusion that it seeks to authorize.

I am in opposition to HB 807 for the following reasons.1.                      The bill is incongruent with the summary. The disparity suggests it may have a “self-serving agenda” that does not align with the stated goal of improving the department’s services and outcomes. It presents an idealistic view of the potential benefits, while the actual provisions fail to deliver on these suggestions/promises. The incongruence undermines trust and raises questions about the motives behind the bill.2.                      It contains language that could be viewed as misleading and suggestive of a desire to interfere with fundamental rights. It appears to infringe on privacy, confidentiality, and healthcare privacy. 3.                      It purports to enhance adoptive services, yet it risks building a more complex and burdensome system for an already overregulated agency. The additional layers could hinder rather than help the agency’s efforts to manage its uncontrollable caseload. This could have a detrimental effect to serve the adoptive families. 4.                      The provision of this bill reflects a lack of understanding of the agency’s purpose, caseload and nuanced geographic struggles. It appears to impose solutions that do not take into account the realities of the agency’s operations and challenges. Effective legislation should be informed by the experiences and expertise of those who work within the system otherwise it introduces measures that are out of touch with the practicalities of the work.In conclusion, HB 807, particularly Section 3, 2-6, presents several concerns that warrant opposition.

I am in adamant opposition to bill HB 807. A portion of this bill states that a, "Division is required to make and maintain a central registry of each expecting mother who is at risk for seeking an abortion..." In the past such registries have been utilized to horrifying effect in classist and racist ways to harm the poor and minorities. Instead I think it a better use of the State's resources to allocate the funds that would be used on such a division towards supporting families currently keeping their child. Furthermore, the creation of such a division will only establish opportunities for individuals that will abuse that division in the future in order to take advantage of the State. In other words, a cycle will manifest wherein the State places an expectant mother "at risk of abortion" on a registry when that mother is not at risk of abortion at all and in doing so, the State will waste funds and time on stable mothers instead of providing for those mothers in ways that will prevent abortions. Instead: food stamps, maternal leave, prenatal support, Medicaid, post partum support, and pre-birth privacy should be at the top of the list for the state of Missouri in order to increase birth rates, the general health of the family environment, and the welfare and common good of all people residing here. This bill is in direct contradiction to Amendment 3, an amendment voted on by the people of our state. To act like this bill reflects the opinions of the people of Missouri is in a word, "Abortive," and perhaps, "Repugnant," but it will never be what the supporters of such a bill believe it to be; it will never be necessary.

As an adopted child this bill horrifies me and worse frightens me to my core. As the child of a mother who selflessly gave me life: on her terms, I am writing to express my strong opposition to HB 807, which is set to be discussed in the Committee on Children and Families. While this bill is being framed as a reform to the adoption system, its provision to track pregnant women in a state database is an alarming overreach of government power. This measure raises serious concerns: • Violation of Privacy: Requiring the government to collect data on pregnant individuals sets a dangerous precedent and undermines personal medical privacy. • Government Overreach: Missouri has long valued limited government and individual freedoms. Tracking pregnant women contradicts these principles and places undue burdens on private citizens. • Chilling Effect on Healthcare: This bill could discourage pregnant individuals from seeking necessary medical care, out of fear that their personal health choices are being monitored by the state. Regardless of political affiliation, Missourians should all agree that this level of governmental intrusion is unacceptable. I urge you to oppose HB 807 and instead focus on policies that truly support pregnant individuals, such as increasing access to prenatal care, maternal health resources, and adoption support services. Please stand against this invasive and extreme proposal. I appreciate your time and look forward to your response. Sincerely, NF

This is a clear violation of civil rights. How would the state determine which women are "at risk of seeking abortion"? Women are well aware of their options and should not be tracked or coerced into any decision they make. A medical decision between a woman and her doctor needs to remain just that, without outside influence. Women are still equal citizens at this time and need to remain that way.

The proposed legislation is demoralizing to all women and a definite governmental overreach. The fact that a Missouri legislator proposed this archaic and misogynistic bill when there are Missourians suffering from job loss, gun safety, lack of educational resources and lack of housing is despicable behavior. The healthcare of a human being (man and woman, respectively) is between that human being and their medical professional, not a government body who will use this information for cruel and unusual punishment solely for a demonstration of power. Blanketing this bill under "adoption" makes it even more transparent the goal of this bill is to drive Missouri toward a real life Handmaid's Tale. I am not only directly affected as a female, but I have two elementary aged daughters I'm fighting for bodily autonomy for as well as strength against predators in legislation that infringe on their rights.

In general I am in support of providing assistance to prospective parents of unwanted children. However, we as a state passed amendment 3; asserting a woman's right to make her own health decisions, including having an abortion. And even now, though that was passed, there is another piece of legislation aimed at significantly limiting that right by placing severe restrictions on when an abortion can be performed. In addition to that, this piece of proposed legislation wants to create a list of "at risk" women who may or may not decide to have an abortion. Women who have not committed any crime, and do not deserve to have their privacy invaded by an agency representative pushing them into something they don't want to do. This list would also make these women immediate suspects if the legislation criminalizing abortion were to pass. Effectively putting them at risk for committing what may or may not be a crime in the future. If you want to aide prospective parents and the expectant mothers whose children they will be adopting, that's fantastic. But to pass this legislation with a requirement to create a "registry" of possible abortion seeking women is irresponsible at best, and unimaginably dangerous at worst.

I don't believe such a bill would influence people to adopt children from mothers who would have otherwise had an abortion as there are many children already in the foster care system as is, by mothers who did not choose abortion. This is an overreach of government that is trying to cross yet another line where government is not meant to be inserted. Furthermore, this bill will have more risk of ensuring no pregnancies ever happen more so than pregnancies being prevented from being terminated. Women/families/spouses/people should not be scared to create life or add to their family in fear of being under surveillance by the government. Pregnancy, birth, abortion, isn't a government matter.

I am a private adoption social worker, who has worked in the field of private adoption for Christian adoption agencies for 20 years. I am also an adoptive mother to a child who my husband and I adopted through a private Christian agency. Supporting the faith-based, pro-life adoption movement is all I have ever known or worked for. However, I am in strong opposition of this bill for many reasons, two of which I would like to share with this committee this morning. One, the goal of private adoption is to empower the expecting parent to make the decision that is right for her and her baby. The provisions in this bill will result in the coercion or forcing someone to make an adoption plan, which we have worked so hard to ensure does not happen in a private adoption. And two, the provisions in this bill with the additional database and oversight groups will only add more work to an already overburdened Children's Division. We, the private adoption agencies, are licensed through the Children's Division and audited by their department on a routine basis. Most agencies have been licensed more than 20 years, and some for over 100 years. We do good work and our work provides a small sliver of relief from work from the state adoption system. Adding more back onto the Children's Division is not best practice and shouldn't be required. Thank you.

I am writing to express my strong opposition to HB 807, which is currently under consideration in the Committee on Children and Families. This bill, under the guise of adoption reform, would create a state database to track pregnant women—a dangerous government overreach that has no place in a free society. This bill raises serious concerns about privacy, bodily autonomy, and government intrusion. Regardless of political affiliation, Missourians should be alarmed by the idea that the state would monitor pregnancies in this way. Such tracking could set a dangerous precedent, one that opens the door to further surveillance and control over personal medical decisions. I urge you to oppose HB 807 and any legislation that infringes on the rights of individuals under the guise of so-called “reforms.” The government should be focused on supporting families and children—not invading the private lives of its citizens. Please stand up for personal freedom and privacy by rejecting this extreme and unnecessary proposal. I look forward to your response and hope you will take a firm stand against HB 807.

The show me state has once again shown over half of its population that they do not matter. If this bill passes women are not seen as thinking breathing individuals. But as inventory for the state to keep tabs on. How dehumanizing. Especially for the gender that has historically raised the next generation and has arguably been the reason why we are an advanced society. A list that your daughter's, sisters, mother's and wives will be on. Are probably already on since there is a snitch line that gets flooded constantly. What makes the house think this will be any different? You truly want adoption to be easier for Missouri children? Let LGBTQ individuals adopt. If they are a living family that can and will take care of a child. Why not? If you want to decrease the amount of children in adoption or foster care. The best way to do that is to not have any children. But that isn't Christian so... Maybe get parents the help they need so they can keep and raise their children. But yeah. A list of every fertile woman across the state. Doesn't seem creepy at all. We are not the spoils of the war against the woke. I want to know the doctors and physicians that were consulted when drafting this bill. I want their testimonials on how this insult of a bill will positively effect the safety of women and children. Show me why this is important. Show me that you all deserve your seats in the house. Show me that you are not the shadow government... Because shadow governments keep lists of people and their fertility. They keep people down under the guide of helping. Do not become the enemy

In reality, HB 807 would require the state to TRACK PREGNANT WOMEN in a database. This is extreme government overreach and a creepy, draconian measure aimed at scaring our fellow citizens. Women's bodies and their pregnancies are no one's business but their own. This is an infringement and an attack on women's rights.

There seems to be a component of this bill that is setting up a baby mill. This bill is designed to coerce women to provide a slave labor, labor that involves a sexual component. Human trafficking. Government sanctioned human trafficking. Government run human trafficking. Government funded human trafficking. I don't doubt there are married couples in Missouri who cannot have children of their own and would love to have the opportunity to adopt. Perhaps pair those people with the foster care system. Those children are already here and needing stable homes. If the spirit of this bill is to be pro life, please start with the life that has actually been born. If you are pro life, stop risking the lives of women. Focus on reducing the maternal mortality rate. Focus on feeding hungry children. Focus on funding the education system that us about to be returned totally to the states. Be pro about making the life of every child better. Government has no place in guessing a women's intent regarding her pregnancy. This is a matter between the mother and her doctor. Such determinations should not be a part of a women's record or agency's record, unless requested. Our health statistics for MO regarding maternal care are already poor. This will further drive women away from care.

I believe this entire bill is an effort to control women and that the government should have no ability to insert themselves into a woman's reproductive life whatsoever. Every woman is "at risk" of abortion. She may medically need an abortion to survive. No one is "pro" abortion but pro choice AND the availability of abortion is paramount to the health and well being of a woman and of society. I know several women who medically had to end pregnancies that were not viable. I know several women who chose to abort for a variety of reasons—None of which are any one's business. Missouri voted and passed abortion access. Follow the will of the people and stop this relentless legislation.

I am writing to express my strong opposition to HB 807 which proposes tracking pregnant individual in a database. This bill represents a dangerous overreach of government power, an invasion of medical privacy, and a threat to personal autonomy. First and foremost, this legislation raises significant privacy concerns. Medical decisions, including pregnancy-related healthcare, should remain confidential between patients and their providers. Tracking pregnant individuals in a government database could lead to misuse of personal health information, potential discrimination, and unwarranted government surveillance. Additionally, this bill could have severe consequences for maternal healthcare. The fear of being monitored may discourage individuals from seeking prenatal care, leading to worse health outcomes for both parent and child. At a time when maternal mortality remains a serious concern in the United States, policies should prioritize access to care rather than surveillance and control. Furthermore, this proposal sets a dangerous precedent for government intrusion into personal medical decisions. No other group of individuals is subject to this level of tracking based on their reproductive status. Singling out pregnant individuals in this manner is discriminatory and undermines fundamental rights. I urge you to reject HB 807 and instead focus on policies that support maternal and infant health, protect patient privacy, and uphold personal freedoms. Thank you for your time and consideration. Sincerely, Patricia Bagsby

I am in opposition to HB 807. We do NOT need to create a Maternal and Child Resources division in the Department of Social Services. It is against privacy laws to require the Division to create and maintain a database of expecting mothers at risk for seeking an abortion and having a list of prospective adoptive parents for the purposes of identifying children who may be suitable for adopting. Who is going to define "suitable"? This proposed law interferes directly with a pregnant woman's fundamental right to make her own decisions about health care. And, finally, creates increased costs for unadopted babies that move into foster care and/or institutions. This bill is poorly written, interferes with the right to privacy of the individual to make reproductive choices, and wastes money forming a new division in government that could go to better use helping families with housing, food and social services. All you are doing is putting a target on a pregnant woman's back. I urge you to vote no on this bill.

I am vehemently opposed to HB807. The very idea that the state of Missouri is requiring pregnant women to be a part of a "registry" is ludicrous and an invasion of that woman's right to privacy. The State has absolutely no business keeping a list of pregnant women to determine if there is a chance a woman would opt for abortion. A woman who is interested in adoption can work with her doctor, a hospital, an attorney or other social service organizations in her community. The State does not need, or should it be, involved. What are you going to do, follow her around to see where she s going and who she is seeing? What a blatant invasion of privacy! Government needs to stay the hell out of women's private lives!!

To the Honorable Members of the Missouri Legislature, I write to express my strong opposition to HB807, a bill that proposes the creation of a mandatory registry for pregnant women in the state of Missouri. This bill, if passed, would have far-reaching consequences that violate fundamental rights guaranteed by both the U.S. Constitution and the Missouri Constitution. Specifically, this bill undermines the rights to privacy, bodily autonomy, and equal protection under the law.

- 1. Violation of Privacy Rights: HB807 would require pregnant women to register with the state, forcing them to disclose intimate and personal information about their pregnancies. This requirement is a clear violation of a woman's right to privacy, as enshrined in the due process protections of the Fourteenth Amendment. Privacy is a fundamental right, and the government should not be permitted to track or interfere in an individual's private, personal decisions unless there is a compelling and specific state interest that justifies such intrusion. The personal and medical data that would be collected could be used inappropriately or lead to unnecessary surveillance, fostering a culture of distrust between pregnant women and their healthcare providers.
- 2. Violation of Bodily Autonomy: Bodily autonomy, the right of an individual to make decisions about their own body without government interference, is central to a person's dignity and self-determination. This bill directly infringes on that autonomy by requiring women to submit themselves to state control and oversight during one of the most private and intimate periods of their lives. Pregnancy is a deeply personal experience, and the decision to register or disclose one's pregnancy to the government should be entirely voluntary, not mandated by the state. This bill essentially treats women as subjects of state control rather than respecting their autonomy to make decisions about their bodies and healthcare.
- 3. Violation of Equal Protection Under the Law: HB807 unfairly targets a specific group of individuals—pregnant women—creating a discriminatory registry that does not apply to other citizens. This singling out of pregnant women violates the principle of equal protection under the Fourteenth Amendment, which guarantees that no state shall deny any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws. By mandating a registry solely for pregnant women, this bill reinforces gender-based discrimination and unfairly burdens women with government intervention during a naturally occurring condition. It imposes an unequal burden on women compared to those who do not experience pregnancy, leading to a societal and legal imbalance.
- 4. Potential for Discrimination and Harms to Vulnerable Communities: This registry, if enacted, could disproportionately impact already vulnerable and marginalized communities. Low-income women, women of color, and those in rural areas may face greater barriers to accessing resources or facing invasive surveillance and monitoring, further exacerbating disparities in healthcare, economic opportunities, and social outcomes. The state's involvement in intimate, personal decisions could contribute to stigmatization, discrimination, or retaliation in various aspects of life, including healthcare, employment, and public services.
- 5. Undermining Trust in Healthcare: Mandatory registration with the state could also undermine the trust that women have in their healthcare providers. The foundation of effective healthcare is a strong, confidential relationship between patients and providers. If women believe that their medical information will be shared with the state or tracked by the government, it could lead to a hesitancy to seek care or disclose necessary health information. This could harm both the individual's health and the public health infrastructure by discouraging women from accessing prenatal care, seeking advice, or reporting important medical concerns. HB807 represents an overreach by the government into the private lives of pregnant women and would set a dangerous precedent by compromising fundamental constitutional rights. The bill undermines privacy, bodily autonomy, and equal protection, and could lead to harmful discrimination, particularly among marginalized communities. I strongly urge the legislature to reject HB807 and protect the personal freedoms and rights of all citizens, especially those who are pregnant. Thank you for your time and consideration. Sincerely,

While I applaud efforts to improve Missouri's adoption system, I have grave privacy concerns around certain portions of this bill. The proposed 207.102.3.(1) proposes we "Maintain a central registry of each expectant mother who is at risk for seeking an abortion of her unborn child." Who decides who is "at risk"? This new agency? The doctor? The controlling partner who wants to keep the baby when mom doesn't? Nobody's name should be involuntarily put on a watchlist simply because they are pregnant, and the lack of definition and controls here leave too much to the imagination. This is especially concerning when combined with 207.105 which allows this information to be shared with other government entities -- including federal and out-of-state ones -- based solely on a "reasonable belief" that they are protecting someone. Sharing records of this nature should require a warrant, subpoena, or specific legal exception -- not somebody's feelings. It would be nice if this bill focused solely on improving adoption services and left the abortion aspects out, as they are not necessary for the mission of the agency. While perhaps not intentional, the specific language aimed at those "at risk" of seeking an abortion -- and defining a "child" including "first detection of the mother being pregnant" -- feels like an attempt to start scooping out exceptions to the will of the voters expressed in 2024. Under the current language of this bill, I stand opposed.

As I read this bill, I am concerned about “making and maintaining” a registry of pregnant women at risk of seeking an abortion. Where would this information come from? How would it be determined that a woman was at risk for seeking an abortion? Would women have a right NOT to be included in such a list? This reeks of the Handmaid’s Tale and couching it as an adoption bill is misleading at best. Please do not carry this bill forward.

This is wrong on so many levels. There are better ways to facilitate adoptions than tracking pregnant women. A registry such as this sounds like a fascist government trying to control a certain section of the populace. Or that you're trying to chip away at the voters's approval of Amendment 3. This bill to ESTABLISH a REGISTRY of pregnant women is an attempt to intimidate women. I am COMPLETELY OPPOSED to this bill in ANY FORM, now or in the future. Women are capable of making their own PRIVATE decisions regarding their pregnancy. The GOP wants Mo. taxpayers to believe in LESS govt in their personal lives, start here with this bill say NO. These registries serve only to acquire personal data, attempting to INFLUENCE a women's decision, or even pursue her for possible future retribution. The government is NOT entitled to know, influence, or pursue pregnant women in ANY form. This bill is an outrage.

I am OPPOSED to HB 807, in its entirety today, and any future bills submitted to establish a PREGNANCY REGISTRY. These bills are designed to give states and or federal govt access to personal/private information to be used against pregnant women. These databases can, and in all likelihood WILL be used to track, harass, contact, manipulate and possibly put pregnant women in danger. Pregnant women are not state property, we do not give up our rights to privacy when we become pregnant. Women are capable of determining what, if any additional resources they may need without a STATE database. This is a NO, this bill should be abandoned now, never to be brought again.

This bill is a farce and a trick. I am writing to express my strong opposition to HB 807, which is set to be discussed in the Committee on Children and Families. While this bill is being framed as a reform to the adoption system, its provision to track pregnant women in a state database is an alarming overreach of government power. This measure raises serious concerns:

- Violation of Privacy: Requiring the government to collect data on pregnant individuals sets a dangerous precedent and undermines personal medical privacy.
- Government Overreach: Missouri has long valued limited government and individual freedoms. Tracking pregnant women contradicts these principles and places undue burdens on private citizens.
- Chilling Effect on Healthcare: This bill could discourage pregnant individuals from seeking necessary medical care, out of fear that their personal health choices are being monitored by the state.

Regardless of political affiliation, Missourians should all agree that this level of governmental intrusion is unacceptable. I urge you to oppose HB 807 and instead focus on policies that truly support pregnant individuals, such as increasing access to prenatal care, maternal health resources, and adoption support services. Please stand against this invasive and extreme proposal. I appreciate your time and look forward to your response. Sincerely,

I am writing in opposition to HB 807, the "Save MO Babies Act". This bill, as I understand it, is intended to create a list of expecting "at risk" mothers in the state in order to "reduce the number of preventable abortions." I have myriad privacy and autonomy concerns regarding this bill. It would supposedly be voluntary for pregnant people to join this list, but who exactly decides if a pregnant person is "at risk for abortion"? What does that mean and how will it be quantified? Will personal data be inappropriately used to inform this classification? How will this list be protected and how will those listed know their inclusion in the list will not "come back to bite them" at a later date? First of all, most Missourians support the right to abortion as healthcare, so I disagree with the main point of this bill as "reduc[ing] the number of preventable abortions". That is not for the legislature to work towards. The citizens who sent you to Missouri's Congress did not ask you for this. Second of all, data shows that the best way to prevent abortions (which have already decreased sharply over the past 20 years) is to provide comprehensive sexual education, ensure access to contraception, and increase the stability of citizens. Third of all, this measure is too costly. $1.5 million to create a LIST that TRACKS Missourians against their will?! How about you just send each potentially pregnant Missourian a portion of that money and vastly improve their futures, and leave it to them to choose whether or not to have children. Oh, but this bill is also about adoption, right? Because so many people are clamoring to adopt the children already in the foster care system in Missouri. Fourth, and related to that last point, this bill turns fetuses and infants into a commodity, things to be acquired (with the help, and retainer fee, of the private lawyer who "wrote" this bill with the help of AI, not even using his own legal acumen to do so). It commodifies pregnant people as well, ignoring the myriad of reasons pregnant people elect to have abortions. Many people who choose abortion do so because they cannot financially support themselves over a pregnancy. Perhaps the Missouri Representative body should focus more on improving the financial stability of our state's citizens if it wishes for those citizens to produce more children. In conclusion, for MANY reasons, I object to this bill and stand in opposition to it.

While I can see how some of the measures presented in HB 807 could be beneficial to supporting pregnant people and child, the state has NO business or right in having access to a list of people who are "at risk" for seeking an abortion. We have long lobbied for the government to omit themselves from the choices people make with their own bodies, which a majority of MO voters agree with based on the results from the passing of Amendment 3. Creating such a list is extremely dangerous and puts pregnant Missourians at an even greater risk. Please vote NO on HB 807 to protect the rights and privacy of pregnant Missourians.

I strongly oppose this bill. I was raised in a republican family that led me to believe the Republican Party stood for small government and fiscal responsibility. This bill violates both of those ideals. Not only would this cost tax payers, it is also a major overstep of the government to impose tracking citizens. For any reason but especially based on pregnancy status. This sets a dangerous precedent for the women of MO. Please vote no this bill. The people made their voice clear this past election cycle when we voted to regain our stolen reproductive rights, passing this bill is a direct slap in your constituents faces.

The implications of this bill are deeply concerning, evoking parallels to dystopian narratives. While I acknowledge that the sponsors may have good intentions, this legislation constitutes a severe invasion of privacy and undermines the autonomy and dignity of women. Rather than advancing policies that erode fundamental rights, I urge lawmakers to prioritize the critical fiscal challenges facing our state. With Congress shifting greater financial responsibilities to the states, our focus should be on developing sustainable economic solutions, not restricting individual liberties.

I am against this bill due to the requirement to create a registry to track pregnant women. This is an invasion of our privacy and health confidentiality as women. This information should stay between a woman and her doctors. We have more important issues in Missouri than tracking women's pregnancies. We overwhelmingly passed the right to an abortion in Missouri. The state legislature needs to respect the vote of the people.

A registry of pregnant women is a blatant invasion of privacy. Medical records and information should not be given to the government, ESPECIALLY not something as sensitive as child bearing. The voters were VERY CLEAR about how we want legislators to stay out of women's bodies. The votes are there. Do your jobs, listen to voters, obey the laws. And maybe work on supporting the children we already have, with childcare assistance and enhancing food security for all Missourians.

I am writing to express my strong opposition to HB 807, which is currently under consideration in the Committee on Children and Families. This bill, under the guise of adoption reform, would create a state database to track pregnant women—a dangerous government overreach that has no place in a free society. This bill raises serious concerns about privacy and government intrusion. Regardless of political affiliation, Missourians should be alarmed by the idea that the state would monitor pregnancies in this way. Such tracking could set a dangerous precedent, one that opens the door to further surveillance. I urge you to oppose HB 807 and any legislation that infringes on the rights of individuals under the guise of so-called “reforms.” The government should be focused on supporting families and children—not invading the private lives of its citizens. Please stand up for personal freedom and privacy by rejecting this extreme proposal. I look forward to your response and hope you will take a firm stand against HB 807.

Dear Committee Members, I write today as a concerned citizen to express my strong opposition to House Bill 807. While I deeply value adoption as a beautiful way to build families and provide loving homes for children in need, I must speak against the creation of a registry that would track expectant mothers considering abortion. Such a registry represents an alarming expansion of government power into the most private aspects of citizens' lives. As a mother and an individual who values freedom, I am troubled by the precedent this bill would set. The American tradition of personal liberty has always included the right to make one's own medical decisions without government surveillance or intervention. This registry would create a dangerous system where women are tracked and monitored by the state during one of the most vulnerable periods of their lives. I ask you to consider: Is it the proper role of government to create a database of citizens based on their private medical considerations? Would you want your daughter, sister, or wife entered into a government database simply for having a confidential conversation with her doctor about all available options? While we can all support efforts to make adoption more accessible, this registry crosses a line that should concern anyone who values freedom from government overreach. There are many ways to support adoption without compromising fundamental liberties or privacy rights. I respectfully urge you to protect the personal freedoms upon which our nation was founded by opposing HB807. Sincerely, Rebecca M. Roesch

I am deeply troubled by the language of this bill, which includes tracking the pregnancy of women in our state. This is a violation of privacy for the citizens of this state and could lead to government tracking of menstrual cycles. If it is the intention of the State to contact people whose pregnancies are no longer progressing, you would be introducing immense trauma for those that have lost a pregnancy, already in grief. All Physicians treat their patients the same, whether they plan to place the child for adoption or not. There is no reason for the State to have access to medical records or to track pregnancies.

I am horrified that Rep. Amato is proposing keeping a list of pregnant women. Such a law would be an abuse of women's privacy on par with the forced registries Hitler used to keep track of Jewish people. As proposed, this law would keep track of women "at risk" of getting an abortion. Not at risk of maternal mortality, but "at risk" of making a health care decision that is nobody's business. But yet there is no criteria in the bill to determine what makes a woman "at risk." Should there also be criteria to track men who are "at risk" of creating a pregnancy? No, because such a list would immediately be seen a huge violation. Every Representative with a conscience must vote down this horrible legislation.

The United States is supposed to be a country of free people. We are supposed to have certain basic human rights such as life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness. This bill would be more appropriate for a dystopian teen novel than an actual real life modern day bill. To whoever reads this, I sincerely hope that you or someone you love never have to suffer a loss like a miscarriage. Statistically though, 1 in 5 women who know that they are pregnant WILL have a miscarriage. Why does the government need to know the state of any individual citizen's uterus? Besides more control, what do lawmakers hope to gain from this? Ask yourself this: If men were the ones who gave birth, would men still want this bill to pass? Why do we as a society not value women enough to grant them the basic decency of privacy regarding their reproductive system? This bill is rooted in misogyny and would be a tremendous step back for human rights.

THE INFORMATION ON THIS FORM IS PUBLIC RECORD UNDER CHAPTER 610, RSMo.

Testimony: I am writing to express my strong opposition to HB 807, which is currently under consideration in the Committee on Children and Families. This bill, under the guise of adoption reform, would create a state database to track pregnant women—a dangerous government overreach that has no place in a free society. This bill raises serious concerns about privacy, bodily autonomy, and government intrusion. Regardless of political affiliation, Missourians should be alarmed by the idea that the state would monitor pregnancies in this way. Such tracking could set a dangerous precedent, one that opens the door to further surveillance and control over personal medical decisions. I urge you to oppose HB 807 and any legislation that infringes on the rights of individuals under the guise of so-called “reforms.” The government should be focused on supporting families and children—not invading the private lives of its citizens. Please stand up for personal freedom and privacy by rejecting this extreme and unnecessary proposal. I look forward to your response and hope you will take a firm stand against HB 807.

It is unreasonable and a violation of privacy for the state to maintain a registry of expectant mothers who are "at risk" of receiving an abortion. Missouri Amendment 3 secures each person's right to receive an abortion regardless of the circumstances. It is not the place of the State to track it.

I am writing to express my strong opposition to HB 807, the “Save MO Babies Act.” While I understand the importance of maternal and child welfare, I believe this bill is deeply flawed and could have unintended negative consequences. First, HB 807 appears to prioritize adoption over providing comprehensive support for pregnant individuals and families in need. Rather than addressing the root causes of maternal and infant health disparities—such as lack of access to quality healthcare, paid parental leave, and financial assistance—this bill redirects efforts toward adoption services. Many pregnant individuals face systemic challenges, and they deserve a full range of support, including access to healthcare, housing, and childcare assistance, not just encouragement toward adoption. Second, this bill may disproportionately impact vulnerable communities. Low-income individuals and people of color are more likely to experience barriers to healthcare, and policies that prioritize adoption rather than comprehensive care could lead to coercive practices or limit reproductive choices. Missouri should focus on policies that empower individuals to make informed decisions about their pregnancies rather than steering them toward a single outcome. Lastly, HB 807 could divert state resources from essential public health initiatives. The establishment of a new division within the Department of Social Services may lead to unnecessary bureaucratic expansion instead of strengthening existing programs that directly support maternal and child health. Investing in Medicaid expansion, prenatal care programs, and postpartum support would have a far greater impact on reducing maternal and infant mortality rates. For these reasons, I respectfully urge you to vote against HB 807 and instead support legislation that truly protects and uplifts Missouri families. Thank you for your time and consideration. Sincerely, Renee Jenkins

As a Missourian who is a pastor to those who are pregnant or have the possibility to become so, I find the idea of state government maintaining a database of those who are pregnant to be a reprehensible invasion of privacy and the right of women to bodily autonomy. This view is only reinforced by my being a husband to a wife who has been pregnant and a father of children who may one day when they are older decide to become so. There is no good or necessary reason for state government to track the embodied realities experienced by those who have uteruses, and any bill seeking to enable such invasive action opens the door to abuse of such private information. I stand in opposition to this bill.

The portion of this bill that speaks to "preventative aortions" is really about "spying" on pregnant women who they think might want to get an abortion. If a woman wants to access her right to abortion vs adopting her child out, that is her decision and not that of a department of services in the government. If a woman wants her newborn child to be adopted she can reach out for these services. This part of the bill needs to be struck.

We the people voted to amend our constitution under Amendment 3. This bill is another twisted Republican trick to put females under their thumb. How will Republicans know about a pregnancy? More bounty hunters? Violations of HIPAA law? Or is this another of AG Bailey to increase teen births again? Where are the laws restricting, regulating and punishing the males violating our females? I propose an alternative to war by Republicans on females...all males must, by state law, required to have vasectomy at 12 years of age. Reversible only at age 30 with permission by petitioning the courts. Said male shall have proof of income, have lived in own residence for minimum of 3 years, and family support. Much easier to regulate.

Having the state track expectant mothers borders on tyranny and has no place in a free society. We have the freedom to choose how to live without being subjected to the will of a few. This bill proposes to "Maintain a central registry of each expectant mother who is at risk for seeking an abortion of her unborn child". This bill does not provide for any mechanism to determine which expectant mothers are 'at risk' for seeking an abortion. Nor does it specify who would be making that assessment. Does it mean that every pregnant woman in Missouri will be added to this registry and some unidentified government person or persons will be making this determination? This is WRONG in so many ways. Missouri already has a program for pregnant women that are interested in putting their child up for adoption - "Alternatives to Abortion Program". So why is this new government program needed. This is a waste of taxpayer money and this 'pregnant women' registry is something you'd think you would find in a communist country.

Besides being an egregious violation of personal rights, this bill, most certainly would violate HIPAA laws. No government agency, or private citizen, that is not involved in an individual's medical care has a right to their identifying private medical information. Perhaps the person submitting this bill should review current HIPAA law, including when and how exceptions can be made as the language is clear. To provide the private medical and personal information of pregnant women to "prospective adoptive parents" sets the stage for harassment of pregnant women and non-consensual contact. Ridiculous at its core, this bill is also poorly written as it contains no language, addressing how this information would be obtained, how a pregnancy would be assessed to be "at risk for termination", and does not outline in any way how the information would be used to those provided it. In addition, it would serve to cause pregnant women to avoid seeking necessary, medical treatment, further endangering, their unborn children and their own lives. Missouri should be working to improve maternal health and fetal outcomes, not causing needless harm and increasing the already abysmal maternal and fetal mortality rates.

The creation of a Central Registry to identify pregnant women who are at risk for adoption is an intolerable violation of privacy. Who determines this? Who reports this? Reading the entire bill - language is non-specific, too ambiguous, too subjective, and not too much potential for a pregnant woman's medical records to be shared inappropriately. Try a different way to create a breeding farm for parents who want to adopt.

Collecting personal medical information is illegal. The bill discusses utilizing community resources, these services will likely be diminished with the current impacts happening at a federal level. Federal funding for medical support and ongoing support is going to be impacted as well. How will these forced birthers be able to afford having children for the state to adopt out? Local funding has already been pulled in some areas of Missouri. If these "services" are through churches, that is a conflict of interest as people per the constitution have freedom from religion. And who makes the determination as to who is at risk? What happens when an abortion is medically necessary or occurs organically? This wording and the bill overall is discriminatory. MO has one of the worst mortality rates for expectant humans. This bill will only worsen that for an already under represented population. This bill will kill more women and fetuses than it will help. It's barbaric and reduces women to nothing more than breeding stock. Any person who wrote this bill or agrees with it needs a psychiatric evaluation and is unfit to serve.

I do not believe women should be required to be registered as “at risk” of adopting their child. This is a personal decision and is not a government function to decide who is “at risk” and keep a record. For what benefit? Are these women who actually chose an abortion and were counseled out of their decision by the state? Why do we continue to layer on more ways to take away the rights of women? Who decides what adoptive parents will be in the pool? How will confidentiality be upheld? Why are we not implementing the bill passed by the people of state of Missouri to honor legalizing abortion and women’s reproductive rights? Why?

This bill poses as a way to promote adoption. But MO has more than 12,000 children in foster care and 2,500 ready to be adopted. Only about half of these children (about 20% entered as newborns) are every adopted; the rest are emancipated often with little resources. Because we have way more children needing adoption than adoptive parents (child welfare folks will tell you that), this bill is really about tracking and pressuring women who need abortion care because of choice, medical complications, or fetal anomalies. This rings of SS officers under the Nazi regime keeping data on women and then using that data to prosecute women. Shame on you!!

I'm writing to express my strong opposition to HB 807. Sharing women's private medical data with other individuals is a flagrant violation of HIPPA. The bill is also frighteningly vague. Who decides if a woman is "at risk" of seeking an abortion? Can a woman who is so identified opt out? What information about these women is to be shared besides their names? These women are highly likely to be targeted and harassed. Some will be assaulted or worse. I ask all legislators to oppose this bill.

This HB 807 appears to seek to establish a database of pregnant persons in order to interfere in their decision about their own body. Missouri already has a process for a pregnant person wishing to place their baby for adoption. To create a database of pregnant people "who are at risk for seeking an abortion" is nothing but a tracking and surveillance tool that is a complete violation of a citizen's right to privacy and a harassment tool for the state. I am vehemently opposed to such legislation.

Dear Members of the Committee, I am writing to express my strong opposition to HB 807, which proposes changes to Missouri’s adoption policies. While I recognize the importance of ensuring a fair and transparent adoption process, I believe this bill represents significant concerns that could negatively impact prospective adoptive parents, birth parents, and most importantly, the children in need of stable and loving homes. First and foremost, HB 807 appears to impose unnecessary barriers that could deter potential adoptive families. Adoption is already a complex and emotionally taxing process, and additional bureaucratic hurdles may discourage well-intentioned individuals from pursuing adoption, thereby reducing the number of available homes for children in need. Instead of facilitating adoptions, this bill risks creating delays that prolong a child’s stay in the foster care system. Additionally, the bill raises concerns about restrictions that may limit adoption eligibility based on arbitrary or overly rigid criteria. Children deserve to be placed in nurturing and supportive families regardless of factors that do not directly impact the child’s well-being. This bill could unintentionally discriminate against capable, loving families who would otherwise provide a stable and caring environment. Moreover, HB 807 could negatively affect birth parents’ rights and options. The adoption process should be structured in a way that respects and supports birth parents’ choices while prioritizing the best interest of the child. Any legislation that complicates or restricts those rights without clear benefits should be carefully considered. I urge the committee to reject HB 807 and instead focus on policies that streamline the adoption process, support prospective adoptive families, and prioritize the best interest of children above bureaucratic inefficiencies or restrictive eligibility requirements. Thank you for your time and consideration. I appreciate your commitment to Missouri’s children and families and urge you to vote against this harmful legislation.

The Missouri GOP has a sick obsession with women’s reproductive systems. They refuse to accept that healthcare should be between an individual and their health care provider - end of story. The state, and especially the christofascists in the Missouri GOP are not entitled to any information regarding a woman’s menstrual cycle - nor should they be. This is absolutely preposterous and it would be laughable if these sickos weren’t so persistent with their desire to control every aspect of a woman’s healthcare. It’s especially pathetic considering that men like Phil Amato have repeatedly shown their inability to grasp even the most basic aspects of biology - and it’s 100% clear that the female reproductive system scares and mystifies them. Leave healthcare to doctors. You want to track something? How about we start with gun sales in this state? Or track down which Missouri Republicans support the proud boys and other traitorous groups of cretins. Those are things that would make people in this state much safer - especially the women and children the liars in the GOP say they care so much about.

Missouri House Bill 807 is an absolutely draconian measure that represents a blatant example of extreme government overreach. This bill infringes on the privacy and autonomy of Missouri citizens, which is something that republicans claim to be against. Under the guise of supporting adoption, this bill seeks to establish a Division of Maternal and Child Resources within the Department of Social Services, which would involve tracking women deemed “at risk” for seeking certain medical services. This egregious intrusive surveillance is an alarming violation of personal privacy! Creating registry without EXPLICIT consent paves the way for unprecedented government monitoring of private health decisions. Also, is this very registry not a HIPPA violation??The bill’s focus on adoption, to the exclusion of other essential maternal and child health resources, reveals a toxic, coercive agenda that pressures individuals toward a predetermined outcome. This bill strips women of their right to make fully informed decisions about their bodies and futures. It undermines the principle of personal choice and neglects the importance of comprehensive support systems, including prenatal care, mental health services, and postnatal assistance for all parents, regardless of their reproductive choices. Additionally, the creation of this new division within an already resource-strained Department of Social Services diverts critical funding and personnel away from existing social safety nets. At a time when essential services are already underfunded, this bill proposes an expensive and invasive bureaucracy that prioritizes ideological objectives over the well-being of Missouri’s families. House Bill 807 is NOT about supporting women or children—it is about expanding government control over private lives. It is a regressive piece of legislation that undermines individual freedoms, imposes state surveillance on personal medical decisions, and manipulates vulnerable populations. You must reject this draconian overreach! Enact policies that genuinely empower individuals with the full spectrum of healthcare options and support they deserve!!

It is a gross violation of privacy and basic human rights to track expecting mothers, or, to say, legally target them for any reason. As grossly prejudiced as this bill reads, allowing the government to assume who might be more likely to have an abortion is simply disgusting. Bills like this put more lives at risk than they protect, a fact that has been proven, painfully, throughout history. Make this a truly safe state for women. Respect their right to autonomy, safety, and privacy. And, for God's sake, allow women the decency of basic human rights. If any woman chooses or needs an abortion, allow her to make that decision and, at all costs, protect her and her privacy. I am strongly opposed to the government tracking pregnant women whom they presume to be at risk of having an abortion. Regards, Sabrina Hayes

There is no medical reason to have a list of anyone, with any medical condition, without their consent. This is private medical information, and does not belong to the state, it belongs solely to the individual. Missouri currently has many children in foster care, if someone wants to adopt, start there. The creation of such a list amounts to coercion, and baby selling, it is disgusting.

Have you read A Handmaid's Tale? This is not an appropriate way to reduce abortions. Certainly, provide supports for expectant mothers in order to make choosing to carry the baby to term a preferable option. Reducing roadblocks for potential adoptive parents, also a great idea. But a DATABASE to TRACK WOMEN? Absolutely not.

I oppose HB 807. Missouri legislators' attempt to create a central registry—an "e-Harmony for babies"—to surveil pregnant Missourians while also sharing information from that database with law enforcement agencies, including those outside of this state, is wrong. HB 807 is intrusive and entirely subjective in determining who is monitored. It strips away our right to privacy. I am also concerned that a lack of insurance, transportation, and money could prevent those on the registry from accessing care altogether. Nearly 42% of Missourians live in counties considered maternity deserts. Instead of intrusive surveillance, invest in keeping families together. Adoption is not an alternative to abortion—it is an alternative to pregnancy. No one should be forced to remain pregnant if they do not want to.

Creating a registry for expectant parents at risk for abortion is in direct violation of Amendment 3 passed by the People of Missouri. It is the duty of the legislature to uphold the will of citizens, not to undermine it. This type of registry is a violation of privacy, bodily autonomy, and the safety of pregnant people. Abortion access is necessary health care in many cases and should not be hindered in any way. This is inserting the legislature into doctors offices and making pregnancy even more dangerous. Please vote against this bill.

As a supporter of smaller government, I cannot help but be appalled at this bill. The creation of a database of pregnant women is abhorrent and screams of similarity to "The Handmaid's Tale"--the assessment of fertile women as a commodity to be tracked by the government is disgusting. And, to spend $100 million dollars in implementing this database and "PetFinder for Babies" is the height of fiscal irresponsibility. There are currently over 12,000 children in the Foster Care system in Missouri. I would highly recommend increasing support for these children, walking and breathing among us, instead of funding a government surveillance state.

Missouri House Committee on children and family RE: OPPOSITION to HB 807 – “Relating to the protection of unborn children” Dear Chairperson and Members of the Committee, As a mother, a Missourian, and someone who has endured the heartbreak of losing a deeply wanted pregnancy, I urge you in the strongest terms to oppose HB 807. This bill is not only a cruel disregard for the will of Missouri voters, who overwhelmingly supported protecting abortion access, but it is also a direct attack on the dignity, safety, and humanity of women and families. My Story: Loss, Grief, and the Sanctity of Choice At 38 weeks, I lost my baby to an unexpected stillbirth. Months later, I suffered a miscarriage. These experiences left me shattered, but they also taught me this: no one understands the weight of pregnancy more than those who have desperately wanted it. To imply that women like me—or any woman—would make decisions about their pregnancies carelessly is insulting. We do not need lawmakers to legislate our grief, our morality, or our choices. HB 807 is a slap in the face to every person who has faced the complex realities of pregnancy. It dismisses our trauma and ignores the fact that outlawing abortion does not stop abortions—it stops SAFE abortions. History and data are clear: restricting access forces desperate women into dangerous, unregulated procedures. Is that the “pro-life” future Missouri wants? If this legislature truly cared about “protecting life,” it would focus on policies that uplift living children and families. Where are the bills to guarantee free school lunches, expand Medicaid coverage, or ensure access to vaccines that prevent deadly diseases? Why are we criminalizing healthcare instead of addressing Missouri’s maternal mortality crisis, which disproportionately harms Black women? HB 807 does nothing to support life. It only punishes women. I am not “pro-abortion.” I am pro-reality. I trust women to make deeply personal decisions about their bodies, families, and futures. Abortion access is a **human right**, inseparable from the right to privacy, bodily autonomy, and self-determination. By pushing this bill, you are telling Missourians that their voices—and their votes—do not matter. Do not use my grief as a political weapon. Do not override the will of Missourians who have already rejected these cruel restrictions. Honor the families you serve by investing in policies that *actually* protect life: healthcare, economic support, and trust in women. **Vote NO on HB 807.** Respectfully, Sara Devoto Kansas City, Missouri

Tracking the pregnancy status of every woman in Missouri not only violates HIPPA, but also reduces us to the status of broodmares, whose only value as per the state is their ability to reproduce. There is literally no equivalent tracking proposal for men and their reproductive status. This Bill subjugates women, placing them into a formal and subservient legal status. The further implications are also alarming. What follows a bill like this? A puberty tracker? State mandated menstruation reporting? Restrictions on medically necessary surgery on reproductive organs that do not preserve fertility? The list goes on and on and leads to a very Handmaid's Tale future, which I'm sure is the goal of this extremely misguided and discriminatory bill.

Mr. Amato and Committee Members, I strongly urge you to reject this heinous piece of legislation. Once again, the Republican party is disguising their disgusting agenda like dog's vitamin wrapped in cheese, trying to make it look all wholesome when, in fact, this legislation would TRACK American CITIZENS "at risk of seeking abortion," which can be interpreted as widely as "anyone who could ever have an abortion," so about half of the population. Y'all want LESS government in our lives, right? You claim it every single day. So WHY are you creating legislation to track half of your constituents? I am writing this to vehemently voice my opposition to this bill. This is government overreach at its highest point! Why on earth would the government need a database of this nature? First of all, the citizens of Missouri voted to codify reproductive rights, including the right to abortion, in 2024. Stop trying to circumvent the will of the people! Whether or not a woman wants an abortion is no one's business but the party or parties directly involved. Whether or not people are looking to adopt is no one's business but the party or parties involved. No one needs to be "tracked". For the party of "small government" you sure are sticking your nose into a lot of people's business. Please stop looking for solutions to problems that don't exist & get back to actual governing!

Dear Members of the Missouri Legislature, I am writing to express my strong opposition to House Bill 807, which proposes the establishment of a central registry for tracking pregnancies of expectant mothers deemed "at risk" for seeking abortions. This bill raises severe ethical, legal, and constitutional concerns that warrant immediate reconsideration. At its core, HB 807 represents a significant invasion of personal privacy. The right to privacy is a fundamental aspect of individual liberty protected by the Constitution, particularly under the Fourteenth Amendment. This amendment guarantees that no state shall "deprive any person of life, liberty, or property, without due process of law." The establishment of a central registry that monitors and tracks expectant mothers undermines this essential right, creating a chilling effect on women's autonomy and decision-making regarding their own bodies and pregnancies. Moreover, the bill's vague language regarding who qualifies as "at risk" for seeking an abortion introduces the potential for discrimination and profiling. The criteria for being deemed "at risk" are not specified, leaving room for arbitrary judgments that could disproportionately affect marginalized communities. Such profiling could lead to stigmatization, further exacerbating existing inequalities and perpetuating systemic injustices in healthcare access and reproductive rights. The bill's intent to facilitate adoptive proceedings by targeting expectant mothers seeking abortions is deeply concerning. It commodifies human life and reduces the complex decision of carrying a pregnancy to term to a mere transactional process. Adoption should be a loving, voluntary act, not an outcome driven by state intervention or fear of punitive measures for women exercising their reproductive rights. In conclusion, HB 807 poses a direct threat to the privacy, autonomy, and constitutional rights of women in Missouri. It is imperative that we reject this bill in favor of policies that support and empower women, rather than surveil and control them. I urge you to consider the implications of this legislation and to stand against any efforts that further erode the rights and freedoms guaranteed by our Constitution. Thank you for your attention to this critical issue. Sincerely, Sarah Gaffney

I am writing to express my strong opposition to HB 807, which is currently under consideration in the Committee on Children and Families. This bill, under the guise of adoption reform, would create a state database to track pregnant women—a dangerous government overreach that has no place in a free society. This bill raises serious concerns about privacy, bodily autonomy, and government intrusion. Regardless of political affiliation, Missourians should be alarmed by the idea that the state would monitor pregnancies in this way. Such tracking could set a dangerous precedent, one that opens the door to further surveillance and control over personal medical decisions. I urge you to oppose HB 807 and any legislation that infringes on the rights of individuals under the guise of so-called “reforms.” The government should be focused on supporting families and children—not invading the private lives of its citizens. Please stand up for personal freedom and privacy by rejecting this extreme and unnecessary proposal. I look forward to your response and hope you will take a firm stand against HB 807.

I am writing to strongly oppose Missouri House Bill 807, which proposes a government-run database to track expectant mothers and prospective adoptive parents. This bill is an alarming case of government overreach, violating personal privacy and medical confidentiality under the guise of supporting adoption. No government entity should be collecting, storing, or monitoring deeply personal information about pregnant individuals. This kind of surveillance sets a dangerous precedent, allowing the state to interfere in private medical decisions and potentially restrict reproductive rights. Furthermore, the vague privacy protections in the bill do little to prevent misuse, raising serious concerns about compliance with HIPAA and other confidentiality laws. Missourians deserve policies that protect their rights, not expand government power into their most personal decisions. I urge you to reject HB 807 and stand against this invasive and authoritarian measure.

I am writing in opposition of this bill. Missouri voters decided to allow abortion. We do not need government involvement and tracking of pregnant women. There are currently over 12,000 children in the Foster Care system in Missouri, I recommend increasing support for these children and spending money on child care and benefits for families.

As a woman who doctors believed would have difficulty getting pregnant, and as a mom to both biological and adopted children, the idea of keeping a registry of this sort of thing is insulting and inhumane. Women have enough struggles without the government tracking our pregnancies. Prospective birth parents and adoptive parents have been finding each other for decades. I'm a fan of less government in this case. Less government in my doctor's office, my adoption file, and in my personal records. We are adults and can make these decisions without government interference. Trust your mom, your sister, your daughter, your wife, and yourself. I encourage everyone to vote against this registry bill.

I am completely against this bill. As someone who has had three wanted pregnancies and only one child, I would never want another woman to have to deal with this kind of monitoring. I have tracked my cycle for 22 years (I am 38 and first menstruated at 9). It would be completely unclear how people are tracking and surveillance would be such an added stressor. This is not about abortion / adoption, this is about controlling women's bodies. Please do not make this a reality in MO.

Dear representative, I am writing you today to implore you to deny HB 807. The tracking of pregnant women is a gross overreach of government and a waste of precious State resources. As of August 2023, there were nearly thirteen thousand children waiting to be adopted in Missouri. If a person is so eager to have a child, then surely they would be grateful for the opportunity to pursue adoption with any of those children. Tracking anyone without criminal cause is unconstitutional and an attack on personal freedoms. You can protect freedom and privacy by denying HB 807. Thank you,

Given that the "The Division is required to make and maintain a central registry of each expecting mother who is at risk for seeking an abortion" I would like to know who is deciding if a woman is at risk for seeking an abortion, and what happens to the privacy of the women during such a deeply personal time of her life and the sensitive nature of a pregnancy. I would not want my own name on such a list, despite me not having or wanting an abortion. How is this decided and how do we ensure that these women would not be persecuted by others, or that this list is safe. Missouri has voted for women to have the right to abortion and that is the will of the people. I believe that a woman's pregnancy is her own story to tell and she does not need to be on some "list" because she is pregnant. I would hope that my state would allow me that personal privacy to remain between myself and my doctor.

I, in the strongest possible terms, oppose this bill. The idea of creating a registry of pregnant women is ridiculous and antithetical to the privacy that should be expected by all citizens of this state. Women, pregnant or not, are entitled to confidentiality and HIPAA protections related to medical care, including pregnancy and, if they wish to seek it, abortion care. Abortion was made legal again in this state by decision of the voters, in November 2024, whether the opposition likes it or not. Tracking pregnancy to intimidate and track women is not what sane Missourians like myself want. This bill must be voted down.

THE INFORMATION ON THIS FORM IS PUBLIC RECORD UNDER CHAPTER 610, RSMo.

Dear Chair and Members of the Committee, My name is Sandra Cox, and I writing to express my strong opposition to HB807, the so-called "Save MO Babies Act." While I appreciate efforts to support expectant mothers and children, this bill raises serious concerns about government overreach, privacy, reproductive rights, and the effectiveness of the proposed adoption system. First, the creation of a state registry tracking "at-risk" pregnant individuals is a severe invasion of privacy. Requiring the government to monitor and maintain a list of individuals who may be considering abortion is not only an alarming intrusion but could also discourage people from seeking medical care for fear of being placed in such a database. Medical decisions should remain private between a patient and their healthcare provider, not subject to state surveillance. Second, HB807 prioritizes adoption as a state-mandated alternative to abortion, rather than addressing the root causes that lead people to consider abortion in the first place. Instead of coercion, Missouri should focus on policies that genuinely support maternal and infant health—such as expanding access to healthcare, paid family leave, childcare assistance, and economic support for parents who wish to raise their children. Third, the bill assumes that adoption is a universally viable or desirable alternative to abortion, disregarding the complex realities that expectant mothers face. Adoption is not a simple solution; carrying a pregnancy to term has significant physical, emotional, and financial consequences, especially for those already struggling with economic instability or lack of healthcare access. Many individuals seeking abortion do so because continuing a pregnancy is not a feasible or safe option for them. Additionally, the bill does not address critical issues within the existing foster care and adoption systems. Before creating a new division, Missouri should focus on improving the care and placement of the thousands of children already in the system. The state struggles with overburdened caseworkers, a shortage of foster homes, and children aging out of the system without permanent families. Redirecting funds to improve foster care and provide comprehensive social services would be a more effective use of resources. Finally, this bill does not offer real reproductive choice—it is designed to pressure individuals into adoption by limiting access to abortion and reproductive healthcare. True reproductive freedom means ensuring that people can make informed choices that are best for their lives, whether that is parenting, adoption, or abortion. For these reasons, I urge you to vote NO on HB807. Instead of focusing on restricting reproductive rights, Missouri should invest in policies that support all families, respect individual autonomy, and strengthen existing child welfare programs. Thank you for your time and consideration. Sincerely, S. Cox

The section of this bill stating a registry of all pregnant women is beyond government over reach. As a woman with three daughters I am outraged that any governing body would wish to track this personal data. This should never be written into legislation in any state. All matters of a pregnancy should be an issue between the woman and her doctor and her family. There is no time the government should be involved. This is shameful and makes me ashamed to be a resident of this state. Reject this bill.

I am writing to express my strong opposition to HB 807, which is set to be discussed in the Committee on Children and Families. While this bill is being framed as a reform to the adoption system, its provision to track pregnant women in a state database is an alarming overreach of government power. This measure raises serious concerns:

- Violation of Privacy: Requiring the government to collect data on pregnant individuals sets a dangerous precedent and undermines personal medical privacy.
- Government Overreach: Missouri has long valued limited government and individual freedoms. Tracking pregnant women contradicts these principles and places undue burdens on private citizens.
- Chilling Effect on Healthcare: This bill could discourage pregnant individuals from seeking necessary medical care, out of fear that their personal health choices are being monitored by the state.

Regardless of political affiliation, Missourians should all agree that this level of governmental intrusion is unacceptable. I urge you to oppose HB 807 and instead focus on policies that truly support pregnant individuals, such as increasing access to prenatal care, maternal health resources, and adoption support services. Please stand against this invasive and extreme proposal. I appreciate your time and look forward to your response. Sincerely, SG

Keeping a state list and record of pregnant women is a massive invasion of privacy. As a woman that has had two children, I would feel violated fo have my name on a list. Only my doctors, my employer (when ready for leave purposes), and my husband should have records of such an intimate state of being. This bill leaves women equivalent to brood mates. As a voter, I am strongly against this bill.

As we saw with the deaths of several women and many more that weren't reported after abortion was not federally protected, the government shall have no say over what a woman does with her body. The only actionable time the government can step in is after birth if the fetus is in distress. Abortion is unfortunate and I am personally not able to do it, but it is deeply personal. It is never the purview of the government. Ever. Leave a woman's body alone.

I am in opposition to this proposed law. It flies in the face of the directive given to our governmental representatives in the November 2024 Amendment 3 vote. Keeping a registry of "each expectant mother who is at risk for an abortion..." [Ref paragraph 207.102.3.(1)] is an invasion of privacy, unnecessary and an expensive burden for our state offices Further, the purpose of the system as stated (i.e. to prevent abortions through the adoption of children...) is also contrary to vote on Amendment 3. Missouri voters expressed their desires and you are deliberately choosing to ignore the citizens of Missouri.

HIPAA protects citizens from disclosure of private health information. There's no need to have a master list of pregnancies at government level short of your need to take rights away from women. If you are going to track that information, you should also create a list of the number of ejaculations by men in the state, how many resulted in pregnancy and if said ejaculator has committed to parental responsibilities for the lifetime of result of the ejaculation. I strongly object to this oversight of women's health and conditions. This falls squarely under NONE OF YOUR DARNED BUSINESS. Missouri citizens resoundingly voted to make abortion legal in our state. You don't get to decide my or any other women's rights. If you don't approve of abortion, don't get one.

I am writing to express my strong opposition to HB 807, which is currently under consideration in the Committee on Children and Families. This bill, under the guise of adoption reform, would create a state database to track pregnant women—a dangerous government overreach that has no place in a free society. This bill raises serious concerns about privacy, bodily autonomy, and government intrusion. Regardless of political affiliation, Missourians should be alarmed by the idea that the state would monitor pregnancies in this way. Such tracking could set a dangerous precedent, one that opens the door to further surveillance and control over personal medical decisions. I urge you to oppose HB 807 and any legislation that infringes on the rights of individuals under the guise of so-called “reforms.” The government should be focused on supporting families and children—not invading the private lives of its citizens. Please stand up for personal freedom and privacy by rejecting this extreme and unnecessary proposal. I look forward to your response and hope you will take a firm stand against HB 807.

I am writing to formally oppose Missouri House Bill 807, also known as the "Save MO Babies Act." While the bill is framed as a compassionate initiative to reduce the number of preventable abortions by promoting adoption, it raises several significant concerns that should not be overlooked.

1. Privacy and Security Concerns The creation of registries for expecting mothers and prospective adoptive parents raises serious privacy issues. By establishing a central registry that identifies women "at risk" for seeking abortions, the bill risks breaching the confidentiality and autonomy of women facing challenging and private decisions regarding their pregnancies. Such a registry could stigmatize women, violate their rights to privacy, and subject them to unnecessary pressure or coercion to carry a pregnancy to term. Additionally, the sharing of sensitive information with various state, local, and federal agencies—including law enforcement—raises concerns about how such data could be misused or mishandled. The potential for unauthorized disclosure of personal information constitutes a dangerous precedent and warrants concern for the safety and dignity of individuals involved.

2. Potential for Coercion and Involuntary Adoption While adoption can be a positive option for some women, the manner in which the bill positions adoption as a primary alternative to abortion could lead to undue pressure on vulnerable women, especially those who may not feel equipped to make an independent and informed decision about their pregnancies. The bill does not sufficiently safeguard against the possibility of coercion, and there is a risk that women may be subtly or overtly encouraged to place their children for adoption even if they are not fully committed to that choice. Every woman deserves the right to make her own reproductive decisions without feeling manipulated or forced into a specific outcome.

3. Financial and Ethical Issues Regarding Adoption Providers The bill mandates that the Division of Maternal and Child Resources work with private adoption agencies and contractors, but fails to provide sufficient transparency on how these agencies will be held accountable or evaluated. The bill states that agencies must provide reasonable costs for services, but it does not adequately address concerns about the quality or ethical standards of these private providers. A system that depends on private contractors to handle sensitive child welfare cases could lead to profit-driven practices that prioritize financial interests over the well-being of mothers and children. Without stringent oversight and clear, enforceable standards, the bill leaves too much to the discretion of private contractors who may not be fully aligned with the state's ethical obligations in child welfare.

4. Inadequate Focus on Comprehensive Support for Women The bill places too much emphasis on the adoption process as the sole solution to the issue of abortion, while failing to sufficiently address the underlying reasons why women might seek abortions in the first place. These reasons often include financial instability, lack of healthcare, inadequate family support, and other systemic barriers. While the bill mentions coordinating services for expecting mothers, it does not provide a comprehensive, robust framework for addressing the root causes that might lead women to consider abortion. Rather than focusing narrowly on the adoption system, Missouri should invest in social safety nets, healthcare access, and programs that support women in making empowered, informed decisions about their pregnancies.<sup>5</sup> Risk to the Well-Being of Children and Families The bill allows the Division of Maternal and Child Resources to facilitate the placement of minors for adoption, which could raise concerns regarding the sufficiency of safeguards to ensure the well-being of children. The process of adopting a child should be guided by thorough, careful consideration of the child's best interests. A system designed to address adoption outcomes without adequate attention to the needs and circumstances of children may result in unintended harm. This is especially concerning in the absence of clearer standards for monitoring the fitness of adoptive parents beyond the basic screening described in the bill. While the bill's goals are framed in terms of protecting the unborn and providing alternative options for women, its execution could lead to numerous ethical, practical, and legal concerns. The risks associated with compromised privacy, potential coercion, the involvement of private contractors, and an insufficient focus on comprehensive support for women cannot be overlooked. Rather than offering a one-size-fits-all solution, Missouri should prioritize meaningful, accessible support for all women, empowering them to make informed choices and ensuring their privacy and autonomy are protected. For these reasons, I respectfully urge the members of the Missouri House to reconsider and oppose the provisions of House Bill 807.

Adoption is a worthy cause, but HB807 has elements that cause great concern. If a division of Maternal and Child Resources were to be created and required to create and maintain a database of expecting mothers at risk for seeking an abortion, this could dangerously interfere with a pregnant woman's fundamental right to privacy in making their own decisions about health care. Also, what would be the increased costs for such legislation and how would it be financed?

I am very opposed to HB 807! It is none of the state's business whether a woman is pregnant or not, nor whether she is at risk of an abortion or not. We are not breeding vessels. The state of a pregnancy is between the woman and her doctor, who have the best interest of the woman and child at heart. Politicians, especially those who don't have a uterus, get no say in the matter. You don't legislate anyone else's worthiness of any other medical treatment. Keep your amateur medical opinions and second guessing to yourselves. There are so many other issues you need to addressing for the residents of Missouri — pregnancy care is NOT one of them.

I am for the limited role of government in the personal lives of the citizenry. A "central registry of each prospective mother" is a gross invasion of privacy and certainly governmental overreach. Focus on the issues that Missouri cares about, not the private lives of its citizens.

As a mother raising 2 children of my own and 3 step children I believe I need to make a statement. I am worried for my daughters and future women of this country. Producing a baby is absolutely NOT one person act however the responsibility of growing a human being, raising, and supporting a child is too often left in the hands of a single individual. Is there a database of men that have impregnated women? Unless accountability is going to be equal and that momentous task of raising a human being is going to be fully distributed then a pregnancy is no one's business but the mothers until the child is born. I would encourage for anyone that thinks otherwise to think harder, the ONLY way to 100% prevent a child is abstinence so as an adult reading this, remember that every time you had SEX there was a possibility of producing a child and creating a pregnancy....no matter what age, gender, or position in life. What would you want for yourself and your children and grandchildren? There are many areas that require government intervention and resources and this is not one of them. The health, safety, and education of the children that have come into this world is where our resources should be right now.

The “central registry” is nothing but another ploy to try to track women’s reproductive status and harass them into giving up their right to choose. The women of Missouri deserve to be treated like individual humans who can make their own decisions about what is right for them and their life.

Why would I be in opposition to this bill? It:-incentives women to not seek medical care. -is a HIPPA violation.-may open the discussion to assumption rather than fact (i.e. if a woman intends to fully have a baby, but she is put on the list... because someone ASSUMED she would have an abortion.)-goes against what Missouri voted for, which is the right to have an abortion. Why would you punish people for what they rightly voted for in such a manner?-does not seem to fulfill its intended purpose. How, exactly, do you plan on forcing these women who voted for their right to an abortion to follow through with the adoption process? It's contradictory. -does not hold the man accountable at all. After all, the sperm and the egg comes together to create a baby, right? Where is the man in this list, the other 50% of the child that someone may adopt? Short sighted. -is creepy. -does not help children who are already in the adoption process. Why focus on something that hasn't been born yet when there are plenty of children out of the womb begging to be adopted? The list goes on.Thank you.

I urge you to OPPOSE HB 807. This bill directly interferes with a woman's right to make her own healthcare decisions while pregnant. The bill would create a Maternal and Child Resources division within the Department of Social Services. Such a division is an unnecessary expense for our government. This division would be tasked with creating a database of pregnant women who might seek an abortion and of prospective adoptive parents in an effort to identify children who may be available for adoption. A database of pregnant women, on its face alone, is repulsive, disgusting, and disgraceful. All people have a basic right to privacy, and women do not forfeit that right when they become pregnant. To create a database of women who might be at risk for seeking an abortion is even more repulsive, disgusting, and disgraceful. Who would make the determination as to which women are "at risk" and which are not? How would that determination be made? How would the database and its information be used? Would someone at this new division be called upon to place pressure on the pregnant women to give up their children for adoption to the potential parents on the other database? Would this database record abortions, stillbirths, and live births, and to what end? The idea that a list of pregnant women would be connected to a list of possible adoptive parents sounds like a brokerage and reeks of creating a "domestic supply of infants" maintained by the government. Women in the State of Missouri currently have a constitutional right to seek an abortion if they choose to do so. This right was guaranteed by a vote of the people in November 2024. The decision is between a woman and her healthcare provider. The Missouri state government has no business getting involved. I oppose this bill, and I urge the Assembly not to pass it. Thank you.

My name is Stephanie Lane. I am 30 years old and I am the daughter of parents who are 48 years old. Quick math there, both my mother and my father were 17 when I was born and turned 18 within the first 10 weeks of my birth. When my mother found out she was pregnant with me, she wasn't sure what she wanted to do. She was a junior in high school, and she and my father had already broken up at that point. She considered all of her options, abortion, adoption, and having and keeping me. She had the freedom to make a choice. She's told me that she didn't personally want to have an abortion, and she used her free will to make that choice. She also told me that multiple family members and neighbors reached out to her to offer to adopt me. She stated that she didn't think she could have me that close. She couldn't have me grow up as a secret niece or as the little girl at the end of the block. So she chose to raise me. My mother was given the freedom to make the choice that was best for her, and every pregnant person has the God-given inalienable right to do the same. The government should not be involved in the decisions people make related to parenthood. These decisions are highly personal and have the highest of stakes. Every individual has the right to do what they believe is best and their freedom needs to be respected.

It is horrifying and disgusting the amount of big brother oversight you are trying to place on citizens of this state. This is not "freedom" nor is it "small government" which is what I thought were supposed to be conservative values. If you cared about children and were in fact "pro life" you would support programs that help actual living human children like nutrition programs, funding for education, health care for all, and common sense gun reform. Missouri voters have spoken. Amendment 3 was passed in the most recent election because the people of this state made their voices clear—they want abortion access restored. The entire premise behind "leaving it to the states" was to ensure that voters could decide. Well, they did. Now, instead of respecting their decision, some officials are attempting to overturn it. This is an outright betrayal of democracy and a complete waste of taxpayer dollars. The same voters who supported Amendment 3 are the ones who elected you. If you, as a Republican, attempt to override their decision, does that mean they should have the right to overturn their vote for you? Perhaps it's time to propose an amendment allowing for an elected official's removal through a statewide vote if they attempt to override the will of the people. Additionally, if we are legislating bodily autonomy, maybe it's time to consider tracking emissions through a "male tracking system." That sounds ridiculous, doesn't it? Well, so does disregarding a free and fair election. Enough is enough. Our state has far more pressing issues that require your focus. Stop beating a dead horse, respect Missouri voters, and do the job you were elected to do—serving the people, not overriding them. If you can't respect their will, you shouldn't be in office.

I am writing to express my vehement opposition to HB 807, which is currently under consideration in the Committee on Children and Families. This bill, under the guise of adoption reform, would create a state database to track pregnant women—a dangerous government overreach that has no place in a free society. This bill raises serious concerns about privacy, bodily autonomy, and government intrusion. Regardless of political affiliation, Missourians should be alarmed by the idea that the state would monitor a woman's private health information in this way. Such tracking is absolutely unacceptable and sets a dangerous precedent, one that opens the door to further surveillance and control over personal medical decisions. I urge you to oppose HB 807 and any legislation that infringes on the rights of individuals under the guise of so-called "reforms." The government should be focused on supporting families and children—not invading the private lives of its citizens. There are some things that are public matters and some things that are private matters ; and it would be good for both governments and individuals to know the difference. As a person who has adopted a child, it is challenging enough to be a good parent without someone who knows nothing about you playing armchair quarterback. To govern doesn't mean to control everything, it just means keeping things from going too fast so that someone doesn't get hurt. Privacy is still important.

I oppose HB 807 because it involves creating state-run registries to track pregnant individuals, which is an extreme invasion of privacy. This level of government oversight is unnecessary, harmful, and undermines personal autonomy. Tracking pregnancies could discourage individuals from seeking essential medical care out of fear. Instead of promoting adoption, this bill risks stigmatizing and isolating expectant mothers. I urge you to vote against HB 807 to protect privacy and individual rights.

Putting a list of pregnant women on a registry is against Hipa law. That has nothing to do with the health of the mother or the baby. If you want healthy babies to adopt take care of the pregnant women. Make it easier for them to take off work for their appointments, don't put doctors at risk for litigation. There is already a shortage of obstetrics in Missouri. Tracking women's periods and pregnancy is an outrageous attack on women's privacy

I am against passing such a Bill as HB 807. This is a direct invasion of privacy and creates a situation in which safeguards for the expectant mothers' privacy are not protected. This bill is intended to pressure expectant mothers who are contemplating abortion, not help them. This bill provides a tracking system that I believe can and will be used against women who want to pursue and abortion. This is a type of entrapment and also leaves the door open for prosecution of those women and/or others who try to assist. This Bill is NOT in the best interest of Missourians.

How can anyone think that tracking a woman's pregnancy is anything but Draconian?? In what universe is a women's pregnancy the government's business? Adoptions have functioned for decades without bureaucratic interference. Adoptions do not need this oversight and intrusion. It's ridiculous. I will lose all faith in any elected official who supports this abhorrent idea. I will never vote for them in any capacity. Stand up for what is right. Stand up for keeping a woman's pregnancy and adoption a private matter as it should be! NO ONE wants Big Brother watching their every move. This whole concept is insane. I am writing to implore you to deny HB 807, which is currently under consideration in the Committee on Children and Families. This bill, under the guise of adoption reform, would create a state database to track pregnant women—a dangerous government overreach that has no place in a free society. This bill raises serious concerns about privacy, bodily autonomy, and government intrusion. Regardless of political affiliation, Missourians should be alarmed by the idea that the state would monitor pregnancies in this way. Such tracking could set a dangerous precedent, one that opens the door to further surveillance and control over personal medical decisions. I urge you to oppose HB 807 and any legislation that infringes on the rights of individuals under the guise of so-called “reforms.” The government should be focused on supporting families and children—not invading the private lives of its citizens. Please stand up for personal freedom and privacy by rejecting this extreme and unnecessary proposal. I look forward to your response and hope you will take a firm stand against HB 807. Pregnancies do not need to be tracked by the government. It's honestly none of your business. Let women and their doctors make the appropriate decisions on the health of the baby and the mother. In fact, tracking pregnancies is going to have the opposite effect than your goal. There are many women who just won't seek prenatal care and you're going to have a much higher infancy death rates a result. The state legislature needs to stay in their own lane and out of medical decisions. Unless it's a requirement to have a medical degree to serve in our legislature, you need to stay out of the business of making medical decisions. Leave it to the professionals who spent a huge portion of their lives learning to make good, sound medical decisions. Just as an FYI, I'm an adoptive mom and understand the beauty of adoption. I have had my fair share of miscarriages. Both were extremely difficult journeys. If I had thought that the state was monitoring my failed pregnancies, it would have made the whole thing that much harder and would have felt like such an invasion of my privacy. It's hard enough to deal with between you, your spouse and your doctor. Give women the same privacy that you expect in your life.

I am appalled at the lack of respect this bill shows for pregnant women. Basically, pregnant women who don't score "favorably" on the assessment will be tracked to ensure she doesn't exercise her right to the healthcare services of her choice. This is not only denying women free choice but it is also psychological warfare against women who wish to terminate her pregnancy within her legal rights. Women should not be harassed and manipulated to make a different choice. This is violence against women. I say vote no!

I strongly oppose Missouri HB 807, the so-called “Save MO Babies Act,” due to its dangerous implications for the privacy, safety, and bodily autonomy of pregnant Missourians. This bill not only undermines fundamental medical privacy rights but also risks criminalizing individuals for pregnancy outcomes beyond their control. A core concern is the establishment of a state-run registry for expectant mothers “at risk” of seeking an abortion. This unprecedented government surveillance of pregnant individuals creates a chilling effect, potentially deterring people from seeking necessary medical care for fear of being monitored, reported, or even prosecuted. No pregnant person should have to weigh the risks of criminal investigation before seeking medical advice. Furthermore, the bill’s intersection of health data with law enforcement raises the alarming possibility of criminalizing pregnancy complications such as miscarriages or stillbirths. Medical experts have long cautioned that laws like this can and do lead to the wrongful prosecution of people for circumstances beyond their control. A pregnancy that ends unexpectedly should be treated as a medical event, not a criminal case. Rather than investing in coercive policies that violate privacy, Missouri should focus on expanding real support for parents and children. If lawmakers are truly committed to improving adoption outcomes and maternal health, they should prioritize policies that ensure affordable healthcare, paid parental leave, and accessible childcare—not government surveillance of pregnant individuals. I urge Missouri legislators to reject HB 807 in the interest of protecting medical privacy, reproductive freedom, and human dignity.

I am very concerned with the state violating HIPAA by making a list of pregnant women, under the guise of making adoption matches. How much money will this cost and where is that money coming from? Is this an actual need in the state as there are plenty of places for people that want to give their child up for adoption can. Please vote NO.

It is inconceivable that this is even being considered. In no way should anyone, let alone government, be tracking pregnant women for any purpose. This is beyond overreach; it is unethical and breaches every right to privacy. Stop wasting taxpayer money on this ridiculous agenda and figure out how you are going to deal with things of actual importance. If you really need a starting point, how about child care, education and the cost of health care. I'm exhausted simply trying to keep up with the ridiculous efforts being made to control women and our reproductive health. It's simply disgusting and misguided.

This bill specifically states that a registry should be compiled of every expectant mother at risk of seeking an abortion. How would you define "at risk"? There is no definite marker that says a woman would seek an abortion; therefore, there would be no way to make this "registry" without adding every pregnant person in the state. This "registry" is completely invasive and contrary to doctor-patient privilege. This should no way, shape, or form be a part of a bill regarding adoption.

Way to encourage pregnant women to not seek out any healthcare and hide it. This will cause more deaths. Just a way to also pressure and be predatory to get their ideal families the newborns they want. Infertile conservative families prey on the vulnerable because they care about children soooo much but only if it's a newborn they can get young enough to deny their identity and groom up like them. This bill is misleading in its title alone, this is insulting to your citizens and manipulative. Fertile people are not incubators for the infertile. They need to try therapy and not using other human beings as their solution.

As a woman, I do not want the state to monitor whether I am pregnant. It is truly, none of your business what happens with my body and whether or not I choose to have children. I am a mother of 3 young girls, a wife, and a registered nurse. The fact that myself or my children could be tracked in a database due to the medical condition of pregnancy is appalling. I am not in favor of abortions, but that does not give the state a right to play "big brother" and watch our every move. This is a violation of HIPAA and human rights, as everyone deserves the right to privacy. I do not want myself, my children, or any of my patients to be tracked like animals. This is NOT the 'work around' for the publics passing/legalization to the right to abortion. All mothers should be outraged that this idea even exists.

Please OPPOSE HB 807. There is no need for a registry of pregnant people in Missouri, ever. It is a huge invasion of privacy by government. I thought the lawmakers in Missouri want less government intrusion into the lives of Missourians? I guess not when it comes to Missourians with uteri. In my opinion, this registry component of HB 807 is a step toward tracking and punishing pregnant people who choose abortion and/or abortion providers, in the guise of providing adoption services. If adoption is the goal of this bill, making adoption services more accessible to all Missourians can be accomplished without a registry of pregnant people. If reducing abortion is the goal, try advocating for universal healthcare, paid family leave, affordable daycare with well paid employees, and a higher living wage for all Missourians. Please OPPOSE HB 807.

I am very concerned that Missouri is considering "maintain[ing] a central registry of each expectant mother who is at risk for seeking an abortion ...." Section 207.102.3(1). You do not define what constitutes "risk". Considering the fact that every pregnancy is technically at risk of an abortion, you subject all pregnant women to this morass. This is shoddy drafting that will result in unnecessary, unwanted, and costly government oversight into women's health care. Setting aside the issue of poor drafting, this provision should be rejected in full. I will not accept being put on a registry. I will not allow my daughter to be put on a registry. This is government overreach of the highest order. Women will avoid medical care for fear of being placed on a registry. Women will move out of state rather than risk being placed on a pregnancy registry. This provision will harm women, cause an increase in avoidable birth defects, reduce the state's population, and make it more difficult for Missouri's businesses to recruit out of state candidates. I do, however, appreciate the effort to provide resources for pregnant women who cannot afford to care for their future children. Instead of maintaining this distasteful registry and substituting your judgment for women, consider providing information to women about available resources and ensuring that women who want help can receive it. Note, however, that Section 207.103 is unclear as to whether agencies are providing resources for all people with financial need, or just those who are willing to put their children up for adoption. You should clarify the language so that it clearly provides help to all expectant mothers living in poverty, rather than just those who will agree to put their children up for adoption.

Good afternoon, I am writing to you to voice my opposition to Bill 807. The bill states that there will be a government registry of pregnant women, "at-risk" for abortion. My opposition is two-fold: first and foremost, women and their significant others have a right to privacy and bodily autonomy. Women should not be required to report their pregnancy, doubts about said pregnancy, or thoughts about their own healthcare to our government. It's a great over reach to keep a registry of pregnant women in the state. It is up to each woman what information she shares with the government, and what decisions she and her partner make about the pregnancy. Second, who would decide if someone is, "at-risk" for abortion? What criteria is used? Will women be asked invasive questions which are then reported to the government? Do doctors judge it? On what merits? This seems rife for confusion, judgement, and accusations. While I understand there is a desire to link prospective parents (via adoption) to women with unwanted pregnancies, there are other ways to accomplish this goal that don't compromise the privacy of pregnant women. Please vote no on this Bill if it comes to a vote. Thank you

I am writing to express my strong opposition to HB 807, currently under review by the Committee on Children and Families. As currently written, this proposed bill reads as an anti-abortion bill that is disguising itself as a pro-adoption bill. If the goal of the bill is to make adoption easier for pregnant women and prospective families, there is no need to mention or focus on abortion at all. Instead, as it currently reads, this sounds like it will use the pretense of helping women to create a statewide database of all pregnant women which would absolutely be a violation of privacy and likely HIPPA (where is the info for the database coming from?). That interpretation will certainly lead to more women avoiding the very help that the bill purports to provide, which will ultimately threaten the health of those women and their potential babies. The implications of this bill are deeply troubling, raising serious concerns about privacy, bodily autonomy, and government interference in personal medical decisions. Regardless of political affiliation, all Missourians should be alarmed by the potential for state surveillance of pregnancies. This bill could set a dangerous precedent, paving the way for further invasions into private medical matters. I urge you to oppose HB 807 and any similar legislation that undermines individual rights under the pretense of reform. The government's focus should be on supporting families and children—not controlling or invading the private lives of its citizens.

I am writing to express my strong opposition to HB 807, which is currently under consideration in the Committee on Children and Families. This bill, under the guise of adoption reform, would create a state database to track pregnant women—a dangerous government overreach that has no place in a free society. This bill raises serious concerns about privacy, bodily autonomy, and government intrusion. Regardless of political affiliation, Missourians should be alarmed by the idea that the state would monitor pregnancies in this way. Such tracking could set a dangerous precedent, one that opens the door to further surveillance and control over personal medical decisions. I urge you to oppose HB 807 and any legislation that infringes on the rights of individuals under the guise of so-called “reforms.” The government should be focused on supporting families and children—not invading the private lives of its citizens. Please stand up for personal freedom and privacy by rejecting this extreme and unnecessary proposal. I look forward to your response and hope you will take a firm stand against HB 807.

I oppose this bill and the intrusion of the government into women's body autonomy and invasion of privacy. This bill would require the sharing of personal health information, a direct violation of HIPAA, to people other than a woman's doctor or health provider. The 'tracking' of a pregnant woman is tantamount to treating her as a piece of property.

This bill is vague and permits families to be separated on frivolous causes. This is no different from deciding to take a baby for one's own unhealthy interest, including trafficking. This assumes another home is better than the original family, which is not necessarily case and could statistically be worse, lowering the quality of life for the child, and our next generation. What documentation supports this as a safe alternative that produces healthy environments for everyone involved?

Testimony: I am writing to express my strong opposition to HB 807, which is currently under consideration in the Committee on Children and Families. This bill, under the guise of adoption reform, would create a state database to track pregnant women—a dangerous government overreach that has no place in a free society. This bill raises serious concerns about privacy, bodily autonomy, and government intrusion. Regardless of political affiliation, Missourians should be alarmed by the idea that the state would monitor pregnancies in this way. Such tracking could set a dangerous precedent, one that opens the door to further surveillance and control over personal medical decisions. I urge you to oppose HB 807 and any legislation that infringes on the rights of individuals under the guise of so-called “reforms.” The government should be focused on supporting families and children—not invading the private lives of its citizens. Please stand up for personal freedom and privacy by rejecting this extreme and unnecessary proposal. I look forward to your response and hope you will take a firm stand against HB 807.

Tracking a pregnant woman's choice to keep or abort a fetus is a horrifying overreach of Missouri government. It does not take into account the health of the woman or fetus; how the pregnancy occurred; or what best benefits each woman. Reducing women to an animal is abhorrent and fails to properly protect and represent 50% of Missouri's population.

This is an infringement on every woman's right and had no place in a state law. "The Division is required to make and maintain a central registry of each expecting mother who is at risk for seeking an abortion." Really? I thought we were the party that believed in smaller government, not one that intruded in citizen's private lives. This bill would violate every Missourian's right to privacy and the right to a safe abortion that WE PASSED ON THE BALLOT LAST YEAR. Solve real problems please, this is not one of them.

The state has no right to be involved in personal decisions made by women, and therefore there is no need for a central database of all pregnant women in Missouri. It's clear this is not about adoption but about abortion, and Missouri voters have already spoken on that subject. I oppose this bill.

Dear MO legislators, I'm opposed to this bill due to the fact that it violates biological females rights in this state, of birthing ages. This is utterly absurd and disgusting to force these extreme measures on to women of this state. This is not a way to attract people to move to this state in the future, but the opposite; drive many away from this state. Please stop using women's bodily autonomy as a weapon against them! When a penis ejaculates it's sperm into a vagina and that sperm connects with an egg, dividing cells form a zygote. The clump of cells dividing within the womb of an already-born person, programmed by DNA, cannot survive outside the womb before 24 weeks. At-will abortions aren't provided after 24 weeks. Abortions after 24 weeks are due to negative medical reasons to maintain health of the already-born person. The already-born person holds the cards, and their rights should be respected as they are the host whose life is at risk immediately at conception. The government tracking pregnant women in an effort to control and/or punish them is an invasion of privacy, doesn't fall under a special circumstance for HIPAA, infringes on their inalienable rights as born persons whom have the right to liberty - something those right wingers have abandoned - LIBERTY FREE FROM OPPRESSION AND RESTRICTION - leave women alone, forcing birth is neo nazi natalism

Government tracking of pregnant people for any reason is absolutely abhorrent. Pregnancy should be between a pregnant person, her partner, and her doctor only. THE INFORMATION ON THIS FORM IS PUBLIC RECORD UNDER CHAPTER 610, RSMo.

I'm a woman and live in Missouri. My name is Tracy Williams and I live in Raymore. HB 807 is an offense to every woman in this state. This state has no business being part of my reproductive choices OR status. You also clarify in your bill you want a database of people 'at risk' of getting an abortion. What discriminatory tactics will you use to determine this? Women in poverty? Women who are part of a minority group? Women who are unmarried? Women who are in abusive relationships? Women who don't want children? White women who are pregnant since we are the largest group of women who get abortions each year? Women who are on certain necessary medication that may harm an unborn child? Women who have AIDS? Women who have mental health conditions? Women who have cancer? Women who have a driver's license who can drive to an abortion clinic? Would I be on your list being 50 years old, being pregnant, and not wanting to be a mom at my age? Let's put all men on this list too since they put women at risk of seeking an abortion.

I am writing to express my strong opposition to HB 807, which is set to be discussed in the Committee on Children and Families. While this bill is being framed as a reform to the adoption system, its allowance of tracking pregnant women in a state database is an extreme overreach of government power. This measure raises serious concerns:

- Violation of Privacy: Requiring the government to collect data on pregnant individuals sets a dangerous precedent and undermines personal medical privacy.
- Government Overreach: Missouri has long valued limited government and individual freedoms. Tracking pregnant women contradicts these principles and places undue burdens on private citizens.
- Adverse Effect on Healthcare: This bill could discourage pregnant individuals from seeking necessary medical care, out of fear that their personal health choices are being monitored by the state.

Regardless of political affiliation, Missourians should all agree that this level of governmental intrusion is unacceptable. I urge you to oppose HB 807 and instead focus on policies that truly support pregnant individuals, such as increasing access to prenatal care, maternal health resources, and adoption support services. Please stand against this invasive and extreme proposal.

I am a constituent in Missouri and am strongly against this bill. Pregnancy is a medical condition and covered under HIPAA. It should be between a woman, her husband, and her doctor. I urge you to listen to the women in your state and not pass this bill. Women deserve privacy and should not be added to a pregnancy list!

I oppose HB 807 as it is currently written. It is inappropriate for the state to keep records of every pregnant person to target them with adoption marketing material and coercive tactics. I support efforts to make adoption a more attractive option for people who are pregnant. I can support much of what is included in this bill but not if it includes a centralized registry of expectant mothers and manipulative tactics to entice them into adoption if it is against their will.

I oppose this bill. Because women have a right to their own bodies and the right to make choices involving their own body without the government telling them what to do or tracking them. If this is to truly promote adoption, please use the funding for this bill to support children that are currently in foster care awaiting adoption instead of children that aren't even a thought or single cell yet.

THE INFORMATION ON THIS FORM IS PUBLIC RECORD UNDER CHAPTER 610, RSMo.

As an adoptive parent of two young adult daughters, as well as a citizen concerned about justice and quality of life in the State of Missouri, I oppose HB807. This proposed measure poses a serious threat to the privacy and well being of patients who are pregnant and puts their health care providers and potential service providers in such related fields as social work in ethically problematic situations. Health care privacy is a basic civil right. Adoption in a society that values human rights is a complex process that should never rely on a "baby supply" provided by people without choices. Bodily autonomy and coerced adoptions are not up to Missouri lawmakers to dictate in this case. Measures that would seek to pressure pregnant people to opt for adoption without full consideration of their needs and rights are not ethical adoption practices; many Missouri families adopted from countries that have had policies that restricted adoptions of people who faced situations in which they had little choice, only to see our own states in the US restrict choices in this extremely private aspect of health and family relationships and life. Proposed measures such as HB807 are a disgrace to the State of Missouri, which is fast joining a list of Red states that people who value liberty seek to avoid--as individuals, health care professionals, concerned citizens who are not going to accept state-mandated restrictions on reproductive choice. No to HB807. Keep the State of Missouri out of personal decisions such as pregnancy. Legislate ethical adoption practices--which HB807 is not. If Representative Amato and company seek to encourage adoption, start working on tax breaks and subsidies for a process that can be quite involved and expensive. If "Save Missouri Babies" is indeed the goal, try working on health care, parent leave policies, and early childhood services.

THE INFORMATION ON THIS FORM IS PUBLIC RECORD UNDER CHAPTER 610, RSMo.

I am writing in opposition of Rep. Amato's HB 807. I bring my experience as a foster parent and as someone who experienced childhood abuse, neglect, and trauma. At a bird's-eye level, I take issue with this bill as I fear it leads to the preying upon of low-income expectant mothers by the more financially fortunate. At best, it seems to be an attempt at virtue signaling by someone (not necessarily Rep. Amato, but certainly whoever wrote this bill) who obviously doesn't have a clear understanding of the majority reasonings behind abortions or the trauma caused by separation from birth parents. At worst, it's an attempt to engage in human trafficking for those willing to purchase someone else's child. To start with, any effort to expand adoption should focus on the children already waiting for adoptive homes (<https://moheartgallery.org/search-the-kid/> ; <https://www.ccaoinstitute.org/resources/fact-sheets>). These are children currently living and breathing whose parents' rights have been terminated. When I've talked to those unwilling to adopt non-infants, I often hear "I don't want baggage;" "I want to raise children my way;" "I can't deal with those behaviors;" "They won't feel like they're mine;" and similar reasonings. However, I would remind us that we still don't fully understand the way genetics determine behavior; adoptive children—even those adopted the day of birth—exhibit trauma from separation from their birth mother, even in cases where the child is unaware they were adopted; there's no guarantee that ANY child will be disability-free; and if a person is unsure if a child will 'feel like' the child is their's, I would caution against adopting at all. Adoption and abortion are not interchangeable. Pregnancy causes permanent changes to the expectant's physiology. In addition, not all women can safely carry to term. This may be due to physical makeup, chronic illnesses, or necessary medications that cannot be safely taken while pregnant. Adoption doesn't solve any of these issues. In addition, studies show almost half of abortions are sought because of financial difficulties (<https://pmc.ncbi.nlm.nih.gov/articles/PMC3729671/>). This finding mirrors other research on the level of satisfaction with adoption for birth mothers (<https://journals.sagepub.com/doi/full/10.1177/1044389418768489>)—birth mothers with minimal income were the least satisfied with their decision to adopt. This suggests that if they were provided with the financial means to succeed, they would want to raise their children themselves. If we truly want to care for these children and ensure the best outcome, we have to recognize that the best place for an infant, psychologically, is with their birth parent. As such, I would recommend using the time and effort wasted on this bill to instead invest in programs focused on providing financial stability to expectant mothers. Mandating maternity leave for businesses over a certain size, providing for the costs of prenatal and postnatal medical care, and creating more programs for the distribution of child supplies such as diapers, breast pumps, and formulas, would do a lot more toward preventing abortions and raising a generation of children without inherent psychological trauma. Finally, I want to address concerns with specific sections of the bill: "(18) To accept gifts and grants of any property, real or personal, and to sell such 62 property and expend such gifts or grants not inconsistent with the administration of this 63 chapter and within the limitations imposed by the donor thereof." —This increases my concern that this bill is a thinly veiled attempt at trafficking babies to the elite. As written, it seems to allow bribes to specific members so long as that is the will 'imposed by the donor.'"(6) Resources and efforts shall be committed to pursue the best possible 22 opportunity for a successful outcome for each expectant mother and child. Successful 23 outcomes may include assisting expectant mothers with accessing available resources for 24 daily needs and prenatal care, identifying resources and preparing expectant mothers, 25 fathers, and prospective adoptive parents for the adoption process, and the provision of 26 continued assistance to expectant mothers, fathers, and prospective adoptive parents 27 during the children's first year of life." —This section showcases the limited knowledge of the bill's author on the real-world outcomes of adoption. Much like with foster care, the "best possible opportunity for a successful outcome" for the child is to stay (or in the case of fostering, reunify) with the bio mother. This has been repeatedly studied, and holds true even for cases of children who return to absentee and neglectful (but not abusive) parents. Anything following this part of the bill that doesn't reinforce supporting mothers to keep their children comes from a place of ignorance. We shouldn't be preparing expectant mothers for the adoption process, we should be helping them access state and federal resources so that they can feel confident and supported in their decision to keep their baby. "207.105. The division may share any records, information, and findings with 2 federal, state, or local child welfare agency personnel and law enforcement agencies, 3 including those from outside the state, or any agent of such agencies, in the performance 4 of the division's duties, upon a reasonable belief that such information is needed to 5 protect an expectant mother, father, or child from abuse or neglect or to assist such 6 agency in providing child welfare services." —If the Missouri government considers abortion abuse or neglect of the child (though that seems inconsistent with the view of Missouri constituents, considering the recent vote on Amendment 3), this section seems to give the division to share the personal information of mothers 'at risk' of abortion, effectively doxxing them. The last thing these women need is would-be child kidnappers unexpectedly knocking on their doors, offering to adopt their baby. "4. Nothing in this section shall preclude the release of findings or information 58 regarding cases that resulted in a child fatality or near fatality. Such release is at the 59 sole discretion of the director of the department of social services, based upon a review 60 of the potential harm to other children within the immediate family." — Again, this seems to support the idea that we should dox women for exercising their (constitutional!) right to an abortion and reproductive healthcare, which could endanger them. Thank you for your time and consideration on this matter. I encourage the House to refocus efforts on empowering women to care for their children. While it is terribly unfortunate when a woman struggles with infertility, that does not give her a right to another person's child.

This is not an acceptable use of our personal health information. Missouri voters haven't asked for our local/state government to get more involved in our medical choices. The idea of keeping a list like this seems rather Un-American. As someone who nearly died from an ectopic pregnancy that caused enough stress I developed broken heart syndrome. The idea of being put on a list like this for a medical procedure that saved my life so I could continue raising my kids that were successfully born is appalling.

As a constituent, I find this bill draconian. Tracking pregnant women who may seek abortion? What kind of circumstantial evidence will this be based on? How creepy will that be?! What a woman decides to do is up to her, and she doesn't need outside pressure from the government tracking her. Missouri has no right. Decisions about abortion and adoption should be kept between the woman, her doctor, and any agency(ies) of her choice. I ask you not to approve this bill in the name of privacy and respect for your constituents.

Republicans talk about less government but i see this as quite opposite. You all are losing support awfully fast, especially looking back the past 2 years you all can't even agree amongst yourselves. Always trying to down play the popular vote in many cases and making childish pony shows of legislation against so called wokeness in society.DON'T TRACK MY DAUGHTER!Sincerely, concerned citizen

For consideration, the intent of the bill to promote adoptions is a good thing. I cant in good conscious agree with the idea of establishing and maintaining a database of women that are at risk for abortion and/or sharing that with prospective parents looking to adopt. That is in violation of healthcare privacy acts and in conflict with the ballot decision to allow for abortions within Missouri.

207.102.3 (1) Maintain a central registry of each expectant mother who is at risk for seeking an abortion of her unborn child...The phrase "at risk for seeking an abortion" could be used to describe every pregnant woman, since any woman may legally seek an abortion. Therefore, this registry could be used to compel all pregnant women to register with the State, since all are technically "at risk". This is language is eerily Orwellian in its lack of clarity. The phrase "at risk" needs to be more clearly defined.
