FISCAL ANALYSIS

ASSUMPTION

§67.5500 – Legal Contracts of Local Political Subdivisions

Officials from the Attorney General’s Office (AGO) assume this proposal will increase personnel costs. The AGO will need two Assistant Attorney Generals (AAG) and one Paralegal to handle the increased caseload.

Oversight does not have information to the contrary and therefore, Oversight will reflect the estimates as provided by the AGO.

Officials from the City of Kansas City assume a negative fiscal impact of an indeterminate amount as it will delay contracts and the Attorney General may not approve the contract.

Oversight assumes there could be costs involved for municipalities if the contracts are delayed by the AGO’s review. Oversight does not have the information on how many contracts could be sent to the AGO from municipalities. Therefore, Oversight assumes a $0 or unknown cost for municipalities for this proposal.

Officials from the Office of Administration assume the proposal will have no fiscal impact on their organization. Oversight does not have any information to the contrary. Therefore, Oversight will reflect a zero impact in the fiscal note for this agency.

Oversight only reflects the responses that we have received from state agencies and political subdivisions; however, other cities were requested to respond to this proposed legislation but did not. Upon the receipt of additional responses, Oversight will review to determine if an updated fiscal note should be prepared and seek the necessary approval to publish a new fiscal note. A general listing of political subdivisions included in our database is available upon request.

FISCAL IMPACT – Small Business

No direct fiscal impact on small businesses would be expected as a result of this proposal.

FISCAL DESCRIPTION

This bill regulates contingent fee contracts used by political subdivisions for legal services.

To enter a contract, the governing body must hold a public meeting with a notice detailing the reasons for pursuing the matter, the qualifications of the attorney or firm, any existing relationships between the political subdivision and the attorney or firm, why internal resources or hourly contracts are inadequate, and how the arrangement benefits residents of the political subdivision.

The governing body must also make a written finding that there is substantial need for the legal services, that they cannot be adequately performed internally, and that they cannot be reasonably obtained from attorneys under a different type of payment structure. The contract must then be approved in an open meeting.

A contingent fee contract must ensure that the political subdivision maintains ultimate control over the case, that final approval is reserved by the political subdivision, and that contingency fees have the same limits set for state contingency fee legal services contracts.

Before becoming effective and enforceable, the political subdivision must obtain approval of the contract from the Attorney General (AG). The political subdivision must provide relevant documents related to its decision to enter into the contract to the AG.

Within 45 days after the political subdivision provides this information to the AG, the AG must approve or refuse to approve the contract. Reasons the AG may refuse to approve the contract are provided in the bill.

For enforcement, the AG may intervene in judicial or quasijudicial proceedings involving non-compliant contracts to request dismissal without prejudice. If the court or quasi-judicial body concludes the contract for legal services does not comply with this section, then the court must dismiss the matter without prejudice.

Ongoing cases are grandfathered and will proceed unless the AG intervenes.

This legislation is not federally mandated, would not duplicate any other program and would not require additional capital improvements or rental space.
